Morrow Estate Has Paid City $461,192

Sale on Tuesday of $395,000 debentures to complete the financing of the City Hall suggests the publishing of the items of receipts and expenditures as they were finally listed. The Examiner obtained this information from Mayor Hugh Waddell who said it was complete except for one outstanding item, payment for the Best property which was incorporated in the site. When expropriation proceedings commenced $10,000 was paid into court and this amount has been included in the $161,123.75 item for purchase of properties. The total expenditure as itemized is $995,512.88.

"City council passed on Monday an item of $329.63 to Barry Seabrooke which was also for the purchase of property in that block," Mayor Waddell said.

This item was in addition to payments already made and itemized in the statement. In explanation of the expenses re Seabrooke expropriation deputy treasurer Donald Hill, who prepared the statement, said the figure, $2,529.-50 was composed of expenses the city had in presenting its case at the hearing and that the costs of the judgment and legal fees were included in the purchase of properties item.

The Best bill is the last detail of expense in the buying of land, furnishings and paying for the erection of the building. It is a comparatively small item and will be reported when payment has been directed.

The statement provided by Mayor Waddell is a copy of the list of expenditures and receipts which was submitted to the Ontario Municipal Board when the council applied for permission to issue the $395,000 debentures.

TWO ADDITIONAL ITEMS

Since then there have been two additional items, one the Seabrooke payment of $329.63 and the other the further receipt of $9,-192.36 from National Trust Co., executors of the estate of the late W. G. Morrow whose gift to the city will eventually amount to approximately $500,000.

DETAILS OF EXPENDITURES

Purchase of properties, $161,-123.75.

That item refers to the site in the Murray-George block as required in the will of Mr. Morrow. Ctiy had to provide the land and also the furnishings for the City Hall.

Payments to tenants to vacate, $1,275.

Legal costs and transfer fees, $350.05.

W. H. Bosley & Co., evaluating of property, interviews for purchase, etc., $6,837.14.

Expenses re Seabrooke expropriation, $2,529.50.

Tax adjustment, year of purchase of property, $2,947.16.

Judgment and costs, Murney Howe vs. city in the matter of demolishing the buildings, $1,-597.75.

Curtis Brothers, cost of levelling the site, work that was ordered to enable the contractor to get ahead with his responsibility, after the Howe delay, $1,572.40.

Eastwood Construction Company: settlement re delay of possession of the property, $2,256.

Marani & Morris, architects' fees and disbursements—$42,181.73.

Ronald Winter, consulting engineer—$3,999.28.

LARGEST ITEM

Eastwood Construction Co., contract—$678,330.85.

W. F. Orr, superintendent of works, salary and expenses—$6,-168.32.

Peterborough City Trust, interest on money advanced—$3,574.72.

Curtis Bros., grading upon completion—$107.50.

Board of Works department, sidewalks, street widening and paving, etc.—$20,159.48.

Furnishings—new and refinishing old furniture—$37,847.47.

Freight on new furnishings—$330.50.

Miscellaneous expense—$1,633.59.

Total expenses to May 31, 1952—$995,183.25.

RECEIPTS

W. G. Morrow Estate—$452,000 plus the additional and later $9,-192.63, amounting to $461,192.36.

Some personal bequests were also included in the will, and it is understood that principal will some day be payable to the city..

Peterborough City Trust—$125,000

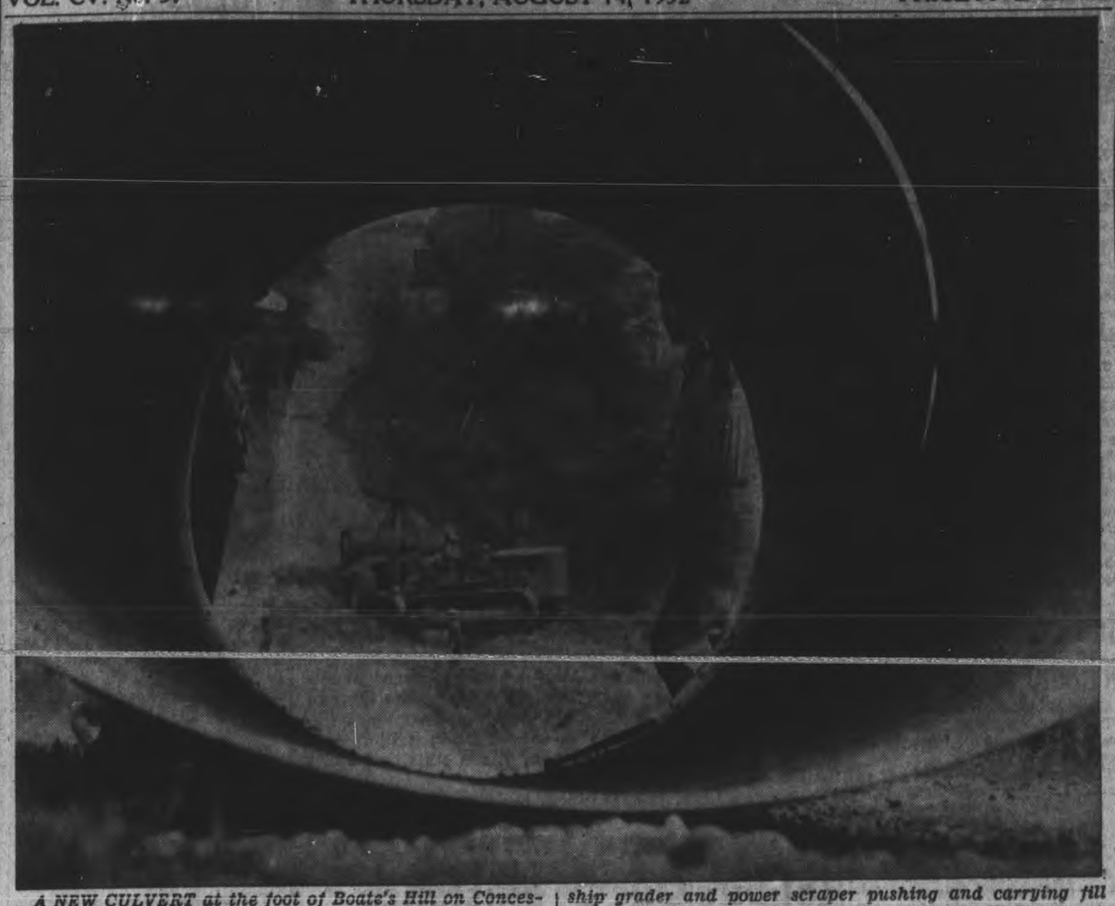
Proceeds from the sale of the Nashua Paper building—$30,000.

Howe wreckers, razing buildings—$1,498.12..

Connections with police burglar alarm system—$227.80..

Total receipts—$618,267.88.

ADD FINAL ITEM



The final Seabroke item should be added to the expenses.

So, total expenditure... including that $329.63 item is $995,512.88; and the total receipts—$618,267.88.

That is the whole story as it was presented to the Ontario Municipal Board, and is the financial statement with the exception of the one remaining item pertaining to the purchase of the Best property.

The difference between expenditure and receipts is $377,245.

Amount of the debentures earmarked for the City Hall is $395,000.

A NEW CULVERT at the foot of Boate's Hill on Concession 6, Emily Township, is being put into place these days. Looking down the 30 feet of the six-foot "pipe", Road Superintendent Walter Herlihey and a workman watch the township grader and power scraper pushing and carrying fill from the hill to its base where the culvert will be placed. C. of C. Asks To Move To Turner House

Property committee of the council of which Ald. H. S. Longhurst is chairman, will probably consider this afternoon a proposal from the Chamber of Commerce for its accommodation in the former Turner house on the City Hall block.

F. Gordon McGavin, president of the Chamber, supporting the letter received by the council from James Fraser, manager, says the ground floor could be used by the Chamber, and some of the other community services could be allotted to the second floor.

Council could obtain a revenue from the building, and also further centralize organizations which are engaged in various phases of community work.

Oakville Mayor Denies Town 'Lousy'

OAKILLE (CP)—A lousy idea, says Mayor J.C. Black, to say his town is infested with fleas. He claims they are suburban fleas.

Last night William Corcoran, township humane society inspector, said flea-infested cats and 40 to 50 dogs have been destroyed. One woman was covered with flea bites.

Mayor Black said today that those reports must have come "from parts of Trafalgar Township."

No fleas in Oakville, said the mayor.

Barrie Man Wins Top Award In Fine Showing Of "Glads"

The usually-drab interior of the Market Hall was alive with color Wednesday night as the Peterborough and District Gladiolus Society held their 10th annual gladiolus and flower show. Recognized as the largest district show in Canada, it was officially opened by Mayor Hugh Waddell. D. H. MacMillan, president of the Canadian Gladiolus Society, complimented the local society on the quality of the blooms and size of the meet.

A Barrie man, Larry Whitby, won the T. Eaton Trophy, for obtaining the most number of points in the show. Mr. Whitby won six firsts, 14 seconds and 10 thirds.

Though a victim of chronic hay fever, Mr. Whitby is not troubled by the pollen from flowers. He is a bookkeeper and his favorite hobby is raising prize gladiolus.

Last year he set a record at the Canadian National Exhibition, winning 28 firsts in his 28 entries.

He has been exhibiting prize gladiolus since 1931, a hobby he picked up from his father, Lt.-Col. A. E. Whitby.

Competition was particularly keen in the seedling class. In the "large" variety entry, won by the Rev. V. Zufelt, of Omemee, there were 40 competitors; 18 in the medium, 14 in the small, and 16 in the grouping of three seedlings of the same variety.

Herbert Taylor, Toronto judge, also singled out the class of whites and creamy whites for special mention.

"The entries were of very good quality and the competition was stiff," he said.

Mr. Taylor was also enthused over the way the junior section was packed with entries.

"They crowd around and eagerly await every verdict," he said. "It's a good sign for the Peterborough Society to have so many interested young folks."

Bud Lloyd of Peterborough was in charge of arranging the junior section.

The show will continue tonight and four more door prizes will be handed out.

During the evening the Kawartha Four entertained with barbershop quartet vocal arrangements. James Weyer was master of ceremonies.

Following is the prize list as awarded by the judges Wednesday afternoon.

Survey Ordered Of Defence, Check Progress

OTTAWA (CP)—The defence department has been ordered to make a survey of Canada's three-year, multi-billion-dollar defence program so the government can see where it stands at this halfway stage.

The survey, just launched by Defence Minister Claxton, will enable the cabinet to assess the strengths and weaknesses of the program and to tell Canada's Atlantic Pact partners how she is getting along in her drive to be ready to defend herself and help defend the West by 1954.

It is expected to show that Canada — unlike some other pact countries — will be able to live up to her commitments in Europe to field an army brigade and, above all, a 12-squadron air division by 1954.

ARMING MORE COSTLY

The brigade is already there. Half the air commitment will be met within two months when the fourth, fifth and sixth squadrons, as the second R.C.A.F. fighter wing, cross the Atlantic as a formation.

The rearmament program has been reported lagging in some respects, notably in production of arms, and it now is broadly accepted that it will cost substantially more than the original estimate of $5,000,000,000.

The survey is expected to give the government a clear picture of just what the situation is.

It fits into a broad pattern laid down by the Atlantic Pact countries last year when they decided there should be annual reviews of the individual national programs so the pact council could map its over-all plans accordingly.

District Soldiers On Way Home

Three district soldiers will be among a group of Korean veterans who will be arriving home Sunday on rotation leave.

Sgt. V. H. Shaw, 25 Field Dental Unit of Campbellford, will be arriving sometime Sunday in Toronto on his way home, while the names of Gnr. W. J. Lubben, R.C.H.A., 47 Croft St., Port Hope and Gnr. V. O. Griffiths, R.C.H.A., R.R. 3, Brighton are included in a draft that will be arriving in Kingston The names were released by Army Headquarters today.

MAYOR WINS AWARD

Lester A. Miller mayor of New Albany, Ohio, Wednesday won the Order of the Kawartha Muskie when he caught a 16-pound muskie in Rice Lake. Mayor Miller, a visitor to the district for many years and strictly a muskie fisherman, caught a 25 pound lunge two years ago and is back fishing today after some more big ones.

Barn Of Hardluck Family Destroyed By Fire Oats Lost; Horse, Pigs Saved

Two Toronto Holidayers Save Horse, Two Pigs Try To Put Out Fire; Grandson, Daughter Died Within Month

BANCROFT—The barn and most of its contents of oats owned by Roy Sears, about two and a half miles north of Bancroft on the Wilberforce highway were destroyed by fire about 11:30 a.m. today. Two holidayers in the district saved a horse and two pigs as well as a loaded wagon with the help of farmers and motorists who arrived on the scene. But by the time the Bancroft fire department arrived the barn had collapsed.

The family has been dogged by bad luck. On July 19 the grandson of Mr. Spears, Jimmy Woodcox, 17-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Woodcox, who live in a trailer on the farm, strangled to death when he slipped feet first through slats of his improvised crib in the trailer on the Sears farm. Tuesday a daughter, Mrs. Irma Johnston, was buried.

Ralph Greenhill, former reporter for The Examiner and R. W. Lambert, both of Toronto, saw the fire from the road and rushed to help.

Mr. Greenhill, a photographer, was taking a picture on the road and noticed smoke. When they arrived at the farm, three girls were trying to throw buckets of water on the fire.

SAVED ANIMALS

The two men went into the smoke-filled barn and with the help of a farmer who arrived, led out the horse and pigs. Cattle were out in a pasture.

The fire appeared to be burning mostly in one of the top corners of the barn and the two men climbed a ladder to the fire. Others carried buckets of water to them and they threw them up to the fire.

But then the fire began to burn around the foot of the ladder and they had to abondon their attempt. Mr. Sears himself was not at home when the fire started.

When the members of the Bancroft fire department arrived, they concentrated on saving a nearby driving shed in which there was some farm machinery.

A small creek was the only source of water for the volunteer fire brigade and it dried up quickly when the pump was turned on.

Gift Of Wheat To Queen Lands In Greece

MONTREAL (CP)—A gift of 500 bushels of Canadian wheat for the children of Greece, donated to the Canadian Save the Children Fund by Queen Elizabeth was shipped to Athens last night aboard the freighter Montcalm.

The wheat was presented to the Queen by the city of Regina when she toured Canada last fall as Princess Elizabeth. Before leaving this country, she donated it to the fund.

The wheat then was sold by the fund on a token basis at $10 a bushel to organizations, groups, schools and individuals who redonated it to the fund. Some of the wheat was re-sold on the same basis and the proceeds totalled more than $7,000. Most of the money was used to support a hospital for crippled children in Hermagor, Austria.

The wheat was brought to Montreal from Port Arthur free of charge by a shipping firm and loaded last week aboard the Montcalm.

Minden Registry Office Torn Down

MINDEN.—Wreckers are finishing the job of demolishing the 78-year-old building that housed this Haliburton village's jail and registry office. Soon after the elderly landmark has disappeared, workmen will start construction of an $85,000 public building.

The Ontario Department of Public Works plans to include in the new building a modern provincial police station, court room, prison cells, and offices for the county clerk and treasurer.

In the clerk's office, Haliburton County Council will meet.

The old building, started in 1874, was more than merely the jail and registry office. To the people of Minden, it provided a hall for political campaigns and community dances.

BUILT FOR $300

By way of contrast with the cost of the proposed building, the old one was bought in 1880 by the county for $300. Estimates of the cost of the new building run as high as $100,000.

After a period of indecision, the department of public works finally decided to construct a modern building to consolidate the needed services.

The land itself is coming full circle. It was nominally the property of the Crown until 1951, when the county finally gained title to it. Now, the county will deed the land to the province, and obtain its new building at no cost to the county except the land rights.

Charges Of Theft Laid Against Pair

ST. CATHARINES (CP) — Charges of shopbreaking and theft have been laid against two men following the theft Tuesday of several hundred dollars from a tire service firm's safe.

Arrested were Peter Wiebe, 18, former employee of the firm, and Henry Klassen, 35. Wiebe was arrested yesterday and Klassen today in Grimsby, 15 miles west of here. They were remanded in custody to Aug. 21.

Bear And Cubs

Leonard Dunford, Indian River mail carrier, Wednesday afternoon saw a mother black bear walking along the Westwood road north of Highway 7, with three frisky young cubs. Mr. Dunford was delivering mail in Asphodel township when he saw the four bears. Miss Sarah Barnes of Westwood was a passenger and saw them too. The bears didn't seem bothered by the presence of the car and the stares of the two curious witnesses; they played along the road for about 10 minutes and when last seen were heading south toward Highway 7.

Humidity Control Can Save Damage

Moisture condensation has become a distressing problem to owners of the new, well-insulated and vapor-proofed houses.

Moisture, checked by vapor barriers and unable to escape through walls and ceilings or through cracks around windows and doors, as it does in older homes, settles inside.

Whereas older homes are liable to damage from condensation within the walls and behind siding —where it may cause paint to peel and interior materials to rot — properly vapor-proofed and insulated homes aren't affected in this way.

Just the same, condensation forms near windows and other cold surfaces—moisture that may ruin draperies, walls below windows and rugs on floors. It may warp doors, drawers and window sash.

This moisture originates during cooking, laundering, bathing, clothes drying, dishwashing, etc. It is contained in invisible vapor which condenses upon being cooled rapidly.

The problem is to cut down the humidity generated within the house and to let it escape. A certain amount of humidity is necessary for health and comfort, but beyond that amount damage will result.

Relative humidity for 70 degrees F. inside temperatures should be maintained at not over 40 per cent if outside temperature is above 10 degrees; not over 35 per cent when outside temperature is 10 to 0 degrees; not over 25 per cent at 0 degrees to — 10; not over 20 per cent at —10 to —20 degrees; and not over 15 per cent at —20 degrees or below.

Home owners can buy inexpensive humidity indicators to keep up with humidity changes within their homes.

Here are some other measures to take in control of humidity, to prevent damaging condensation:

1. Control artificial humidification, if such a system is used, by maintaining relative humidity at less than 40 per cent.

2. If clothes are washed and dried inside the house, open windows to allow the moisture to escape.

3. Open windows to give moisture from boiling, cooking or bathing a chance to escape.

4. Since gas liberates much water, be sure gas-burning appliances are properly vented.

5. Open all basement, attic and crawl-space windows, or provide such ventilation if there is none. Minimize moisture in other ways if extreme cold prohibits this precaution.

6. It may be necessary to open bedroom windows or fireplace damper for additional ventilation, even in the winter. But this should be done at night.

7. Fall and spring rains saturate basement walls if proper drainage or water-proofing precautions aren't taken. This moisture will seep into the basement in the winter.

8. Install storm windows if they are not used.

IF YOU HANG CLOTHING TO DRY in the house, prevent damaging condensation by maintaining humidity at the proper level.

New Zealand Trying To Tax Rabbits Out Of Existence

By G.S. ROYDHOUSE

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (Reuters)—After years of unsuccessfully battling the prolific rabbit, New Zealand now is trying to "tax" them out of existence.

The maneuver has been resorted to because the old-fashioned "bounty" system made the rabbit business profitable.

In the 80 years since rabbit skins were first exported to Europe 760,000,000 pelts have earned more than $70,000,000 but the rabbits from which the skins came caused a loss of wool, lamb and mutton revenue estimated at more than $1,000,000,000.

Rabbits were introduced into New Zealand from Australia before 1838. By 1842 a Baron Ortsdorff was running a lucrative business near Wellington breeding rabbits and selling them to all parts of the country at $5 a pair.

That was before it was realized that the progency of one pair of rabbits, if left undisturbed for three years, could increase to a colony of 13,000,000.

COSTLY BUSINESS

In recent years, rabbits have cost New Zealand an estimated $45,000,000 annually.

The rapid breeding of the rabbit population resulted in their taking hold in various parts of the Dominion long before the turn of the century. By the time it was realized that action would have to be taken to check the pest it was too late.

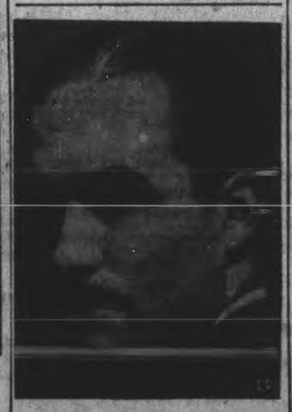
On millions of acres the stock-carrying capacity of the land had been seriously reduced, despite attempts to stem the rabbit invasion. One ranch alone had to reduce its carrying capacity from 120,000 sheep to 45,000.

Some farmers were bankrupted by rabbits, and some even abandoned their properties rather than continue the unequal struggle.

Widespread importation of weasels, stoats and ferrets was not a success.

Hundreds of miles of "rabbit-proof" fences failed to arrest the onward march of the scourge.

For years, rabbit control was hampered by efforts of interested parties to introduce more foreign breed to improve the strain and pelts.



A £3 cash value of rabbit carcases and skins, together with a system of bonus payments introduced by the government did more to stabilize the rabbit population in New Zealand than anuthing else.

Today, rabbit boards, whose aim is eradication without commercialization, undertake the destruction of rabbits in the whole area under board control. Some 170 rabbit board are now functioning successfully in New Zealand. They control 26,000,000 acres.

A government tax levy on rabbit skins, together with the energetic measures taken by the rabbit boards, have today helped greatly to "devalue" the rabbit. From the beginning of June, the government levy has been fixed at 6d 2-3 per cent of the market value of skins. The levy is returned to the boards for further eradication work.

Union President Praises Hospital Supt.

WINDSOR (CP)—Earl R. Watson, a member of the board of East Windsor hospital since 1948, said yesterday he thinks that hospital superintendent Dr. F. J. G. Morgan's $18,000 annual salary is "little enough" for the work he is doing.

Mr. Watson, who is president of (C.I.O.), was testifying before a provincial government commission which is investigating the hospital's affairs.

He said the superintendent is a "phenomenal man" who is performing excellently a very strenuous job as administrator and medical superintendent of the 350-bed institution.

William Stewardson, who represents the Windsor Trades and Labor Council on the hospital board, said he thought the institution was justified in sending Dr. Morgan on a $2,000 vacation to Nassau in the Bahamas. Dr. Morgan "needed a rest."

Expect 1952 Wheat Crop To Be Highest Recorded

By HAROLD MORRISON

OTTAWA (CP)—Wheat fever is running high in government agricultural circles here. It likely will culminate in a historic Bureau of Statistics announcement tomorrow.

Excitement mounts as thousands of reports from Prairie farmers and elevator men pour into the bureau, indicating the prospects of a record wheat crop in Canada this year.

But what a record. At first there were indications the golden money crop may reach an unprecedented 600,000,000 bushels, a boost of 34,000,000 bushels over the previous high of 566,000,00 in 1928. This compared with last year's 562,00,00-bushel crop.

But now optimism is even more glowing. There's talk in the government back-rooms of a 625,000,000-bushel crop or possibly even a 650,000,000-bushel harvest.

OFFICIAL TOMORROW

That of course would make agricultural history. But so far all the talk is unofficial. Tomorrow, at about 3 p. m., EDT, the bureau will go out on an official limb, and make its forecast of what the wheat crop will be.

At the same time, it will make an estimate of other principal field crops, such as oats, barley, rye and flaxseed, but the main centre of interest is in wheat, for wheat is one of Canada's leading export items and a mainstay of the country's economy.

The bureau's announcement likely will quicken the heart of many a Canadian, but it will mean a big headache for the country's transportation men.

For it if turns out that Canada has the biggest crop in history, it likely will mean another tremendous drive by Transport Controller Roy Milner and his staff to prevent a Great Lakes shipping bottleneck such as that which threatened Canada last year.

STORAGE PROBLEM

It may mean also that the government may have to requisition every inch of storage space available on the prairies. For besides this big crop expected, Canada also may have a large carryover from the last crop year which ended July 31. And there's a question in official quarters whether there is suficient storage space to carry all that grain.

But anything can happen between the time the official estimate is made and the wheat is harvested and shipped to market. Rain, rust, hail and frost all can interfere and reduce the harvest drastically.

The bureau's initial estimate will be followed by another in a month's time and by a third in November. Not until the final estimate is made will Canada be absolutely sure of how much wheat she actually got in 1952.

Baseboard Heating Systems Gain Favor

Home building, modernization and repair being at its height now, in the warmest days of summer, it is far from incongruous to be thinking of heating systems.

Coming into high favor is baseboard heating, introduced just after World War II. It eliminates the standing radiator and provides an even heat from an unseen source, which extends the length of cold exterior walls at the baseboards.

Baseboard heating equipment can employ either forced circulation hot water or vapor heating systems, but manufacturers generally recommend forced hot water, because temperature control is more accurate.

This equipment can be installed to replace existing baseboards, and in some cases can be fastened on the face of existing baseboards, since it is particularly adaptable to home remodeling and modernization, as well as to building.

Manufacturers claim that temperature variance between floor and ceiling is maintained at less than three degrees, since the systems throw a blanket of rising heat over exterior walls and windows.

With baseboard heating systems, carpeting can be laid wall-to-wall and the baseboard enclosures may be painted to harmonize with the rooms' decor.

Many systems have heating elements of copper or steel pipe with steel, copper or aluminum fins attached to increase heat radiation from the pipe. This is faced with sheet steel topped with a molding.

Other systems are of cast iron facing molded to resemble baseboards and the back finned, to heat rising air, or plain. Both types have openings at top and bottom for passage of air-circulated heat.

Rapidly increasing in popular favor, says a manufacturer, baseboard heating has as its main competitor wall or floor panel heating among the new systems, and hot air remains as the contending favorite of the older systems.

UNOBTRUSIVE and attractive baseboard heating equipment throws a curtain of heat over windows, maintaining even temperatures.

Farmers Move To End Strike At Leamington

LEAMINGTON (CP)Farmers of Essex and Kent counties have moved to bring a settlement between a canning company and its employees before a $1,000,000 tomato crop starts to rot in the fields.

The growers, who will be picking their peak tomato crops in another week or 10 days, want action now. A meeting of the Kent Federation of Agriculture Tuesday authorized its marketing committee to seek the assistance of the Ontario Vegetable Growers Marketing Board to bring the disputing parties together.

The strike started last Friday when 1,000 workers here and another 100 in Wallaceburg walked out of the H.J. Heinz Company plants in a demand for pay increases. The workers, members of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) are seeking an increase of 21 cents an hour and union security.

From Leamington a union request went direct to Andy Fulton of Hamilton, secretary of the growers, suggesting a meeting be arranged between company and union. Now plans are reported under way for a three-way meeting, possibly Friday, between the two disputants and farmers groups.

Italian Gov't Investigating Unemployment Problem

By ALBURN WEST

ROME (AP)—Young men who never had a payday and jobless fathers with hungry babies are telling the sad story of Italy's economic ailment — unemployment — in the first parliamentary investigation of its kind in this country.

Tragic word pictures of this weakening national disease, which has baffled dictatorial and democratic governments alike, are being painted on the official record. But how the whole story will help Premier Alcide de Gasperi's government to eradicate unemployment the Communists' biggest ally—remains to be seen.

Alongside the sad stories of the jobless is tragic testimony of their incapacity for jobs, crying to be filled.

CAN'T FILL JOBS

Rome and its province has 47,326 unemployed. Yet building contractors need and can't find 2,000 carpenters and bricklayers.

Almost all the jobless get government unemployment payments, but these fall far short of providing food and lodging for a family. Manual workers get about 64 cents a day and trained or white-collar workers get 93 cents.

Thousands of unemployed throughout Italy depend on their wits to supplement their subsidy.

How they do this is one of the big stumbling blocks of the committee. Workers young and old are reluctant to tell about what one Italian reporter described as their "secret acrobatics" in living without a pay cheque.

Two Barns Lost In Aylmer Fire

AYLMER (CP).—Close to $20,000 loss was caused by fire here Wednesday night when two large barns and other properties on the farm of Harold Ackert, just north of town on No. 73 Highway were destroyed.

Included were two barns, a piggery, several hen houses, two silos, a manure spreader, a forage blower, tools, 1,500 to 2,000 bushels of wheat, oats and barley, 50 to 60 tons of hay, and a few loads of straw which was put into one of the barns earlier in the day.

Mr. Ackert was blowing straw into one of the buildings when he observed flames about 40 feet away. Within two minutes the whole area was on fire. He backed a tractor and wagon containing straw into a field, and unhooked the tractor as the wagon went up in flames.

—says one housewife

* Here's an amazing fact . . . just revealed by a survey of housewives: Women who shop at Dominion regularly say they believe that prices in general are lower at Dominion.

In other words, women who do all their shopping at Dominion . . . week after week . . . find savings that add up to something really worthwhile. Of course, women who have not shopped at Dominion regularly are not aware of these savings.

Here's the way one housewife puts it: "I don't expect to save on every item at Dominion . . . nor to make a whopping big saving on any one thing. But in the long run the many little savings I make add up to a big saving . . . enough to splurge on a new pair of shoes . . . or something else I really need."

Have YOU tried DOMINION lately?

Do it today! Do all your shopping at Dominion for a month. You, too, will discover what many other women know: "You can cut food costs at Dominion!"

DOROTHY DIX

He Won't Live With Family But Doesn't Want Divorce

DEAR MISS DIX: I was married fifteen years ago at the age of 18. Our marriage got off to a bad start because we were so young. We were married secretly for two years. When finally we did make it known, we made another mistake by moving in with his parents. Three years later, our baby was born and, upon my insistence, we set up our own little home. We had lived by ourselves for a year when my husband asked for a divorce because he was in love with someone else.

It was a terrific shock, as we had always been close companions, hunting and fishing together, enjoying the same friends, etc. I didn't grant the divorce, and he joined the service. After the war, we decided to try again and, there being nothing else available, went to live with my folks. We never seemed to get the money for a home, though my husband denied himself no pleasure. He had a new car, went fishing, hunting and had lots of fun.

Then I had a chance to work elsewhere, and took it, hoping to earn enough money for our home. My husband was quite content to let me go—which hurt me a lot. Now I find there is someone else again. However, he doesn't want a divorce, but neither does he want me to go back to live with him. Yet he says he loves me. I simply am so bewildered I don't know what to do.

FLORENCE V.

ANSWER: You married a man too immature, at 21, to accept the responsibilities of his marital state and, in the fifteen ensuing years, he still hasn't grown up enough to accept them. He is willing to stay married to you as long as the condition entails no obligations, but leaves him as free as the air to pursue other loves, and all the forms of pleasure to which he is addicted.

WANTS NO INTERFERENCE

While a wife and child hovering unobtrusively in the background is endurable, he wants you no closer, and under no circumstances must you intrude on his life to the point of interfering with the way he wants to live. While you are, of course, equally responsible for the initial mistakes of your marriage, your efforts to establish and maintain a home show that you have grown up in the intervening years, while your husband most certainly has not.

Your present course is most inadvisable, if you want to continue your almost hopeless efforts to keep the family together. Go back to your husband, make him set up a home for you and his son. If you use enough firmness, you can convince him that you are in earnest with your insistence. Not being a firm character himself, he'll give in to your persuasion. From that point on you can determine whether or not you can manage the marriage successfully.

A case like yours is one of the few instances in which the management of the home—financial, emotional and domestic—should be in the wife's hands. Don't make the mistake, however, of going to work yourself. You only provide money for additional outings for your husband and his earnings should be sufficient to run the house.

A program of firm determination on your part may set things to rights for you. You must deal with an unstable husband as you would with a child—don't give him too much chance to make up his own mind about anything; he's too vacillating to make decisions. You have, in effect, two children to manage, and no one to lean on yourself. You cannot change your husband, and you cannot essentially change the conditions under which you must live. If the prospect is not alluring, let him go. You're not losing much.

DEAR MISS DIX: Several months ago my husband brought home a woman with whom he worked, who was a stranger in town. She is separated from her husband and, since she was lonely, my husband thought she and I would become friends—or so he said. I have since discovered, however, that he is personally interested in her, and also that she has already broken two other homes. I told her if she interfered in my home, I'd break her neck. My husband says he likes her, and just feels sorry for her—has no deeper feeling. However, he is now finding fault with every single thing I do. Things that used to please him now have the opposite effect. We have four fine children and, due to my efforts working outside the home, a nice house and bank account. We've been married 18 years.

ANSWER: Your husband apparently is, at least semi-consciously, aware of his own defections, but to make excuses for them turns to the world-old trick of finding fault with you. This is the weakling's way of shifting attention from his own shortcomings—turning the spotlight on the minute faults of someone else.

By all means refuse your hospitality to the homewrecker and, if she continues to be an annoyance, threaten to report her to the court that made the financial arrangement with her husband. Since this is dependent upon her good behavior, I think the threat will have a speedy and effective result.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 16 and very fond of a boy 19. He hangs around corners at night, yet I like him very much. When I first met him I was rather cold, but now I would like to let him know that I care for him. How can I go about it?

P. R.

ANSWER: Boys who hang around street corners are not the best company for a 16-year-old. Why not turn your attention to a boy of better habitat?

DEAR MISS DIX: A widow of 38, I have been going with Tom for a year. He is a fine man and has been a wonderful help to me in keeping my house in repair and improving it. We have not yet set our wedding date, but he mentions it now and then as being in the not-too-distant future.

My 18-year-old son is a recent high-school graduate of exceptionally high scholastic standing. His teachers have urged me strongly to send him on to college for at least two years. My problem is that Tom does not approve of the boy going to college. My parents are willing to help with finances, but Tom is so annoyed at the whole idea that he scarcely speaks to me when he comes around. He has actually suggested that if my son goes to college, the wedding is off. I work, too, so under no circumstances would Tom be liable for any of the boy's expenses—and that would be the only legitimate cause I could suggest for his objection. It would be hard to give Tom up as I have grown to care very much for him, and he is a big help to me. S. D.

ANSWER: There may be many reasons behind Tom's foolish objections to your son's higher education, but since the question of finance is ruled out, it seems to me that any other reason would be rather childish. Since he undoubtedly did not have the advantage of college training himself, he probably has the attitude that no one else needs it either—a reaction that is lamentably commonplace. He may also feel that further schooling may give the boy a feeling of superiority over his future stepfather. Most likely Tom resents the idea that, with your son continuing on into college, his dependence upon you and his home will be continued for a few more years, thereby cutting into time and attention that Tom would like to monopolize himself.

FIRST DUTY TO CHILD

Whatever your fiance's reasons for his unreasonable reaction, your position is quite clear. Your primary duty is to your child, and, since he is a brilliant student who will profit most advantageously from college training, you are obligated to see that he gets it. Part of a parent's responsibility is to educate her children to the best of her ability and, since you have considerable help offered in your son's further schooling, you should most certainly see that the benefits are given him.

If you still have doubts about the financial problem, the school he has in mind (which is cer-

Flowers Easy To Control In Designs

By MATILDA ROGERS

Artificial flowers, being wired, are easy to control in attractive designs.

One trick in arranging them is to keep a disc or platter in back of the container. In this way, a handful of flowers makes an arrangement and each flower is silhouetted to advantage.

The important thing is that the design be suitable for its particular setting. Keep arrangements low that are to be used as table centrepieces or on a coffee table. For these, a massed all-round design, that looks good from any angle, is best.

To get your arrangement off to a good start, just bend the wired stems so that each flower is a different height. The wired stems intertwine easily and will stay fixed. With live flowers, you need a piece of chicken wire wedged into the container or needlepoint holder. Either should be hidden from view by some leaves.

Any dark room or foyer can be brightened with a mass of cheerful, yellow, artificial flowers. Some times, by adding live greens—lemon leaves, privet or any evergreen—you can give the and leaves. The advantage is that leaves are inexpensive and last well.

Artificial flowers allow you to show more originality in design because the wired stems permit you to place the flowers more dramatically than you possibly could with most live flowers.

As with live flowers, remember that the best designs need both

ARTIFICIAL FLOWERS should never be stuffed into a container. They should be fashioned into a design. Here, a handful of roses is made to look larger through use of a disc that silhouettes each flower.

spikes and round flowers, varying stem heights and grading from the small bud on the tallest stem to the largest flower on the shortest stem.

Because artificial flowers are so easy to handle, there's no reason to simply stuff them into a container. And with them, you can pick up a color in your favorite drape or wallpaper by the use of these flowers.

Some people are allergic to live flowers. So, for them, artificial flowers and leaves are a blessing. They feel they are better off with artistic flower arrangements made with artificial flowers than with no floral decorations in the home at all.

Some offices find that their budgets will not permit fresh flowers every day. For such firms, artificial flowers provide a solution. They help to create a friendly atmosphere as well as making a decorative note.

Last but not least, artficial flowers are a practical suggestion for many a busy career woman who doubles as a homemaker. Regardless of her time budget, she can always have flower arrangements in her home and her office.

Of Interest to Women

THE STRESS upon softer lines in fall fashions means, of course, that there's a new softness in fabrics. To interpret the softer silhouette, New York designers have turned to softer fabrics. Thus, we'll see much of the chiffon woollens, either woven or knit. Similarly, tweed is developed in the fluid, readily molded fabric called tweed jersey. Dress in tweed jersey (left) has full, gathered skirt with slot hip pockets. There's a dolman cut for the sleeves, which are cuffed in the black velvet used for the vestee and the roll collar with deep V neckline. Wide belt is in velvet too. Chiffon tweed is used (right) for a dress that buttons down the front. Dolman sleeves end just below the elbow. Soft fullness is achieved through two loose panels with slash pockets that begin at the neckline, are belted in by black suede, and fly out from the waistline.

tainly a very fine one) may be able to help with a student grant, or scholarship, or by letting the boy work out part of his tuition.

Since the college is near you, and the boy already has a part-time job, his expenses certainly won't be too burdensome.

You'll be doing the boy a grave injustice, and one which you will long regret, if you let anything as small as a petty whim interfere with what might be a brilliant career.

Perhaps Tom may yet come to see that having a successful step-son will be an asset rather than a liability. If you could manage to have some of the boy's teachers outline the advantages of higher education, Tom may heed their advice where he apparently is set to ignore yours.

Remember, always, that you are primarily responsible for the welfare of your children, and a second marriage must not take precedence over your maternal obligations.

Quick-Refresher Grooming Works Wonders

A last-minute date—after a day at the office—requires quick-refresher grooming that will work wonders for your appearance, and fit in a time schedule, too.

Assuming you don't have time for a big, luxurious bath, the next best thing is two thorough, soapy scrubbings. One is the wash-basin scrub-up for face, neck and arms; the other is an under-the-faucet foot freshener.

SPONGE BATH

Tie back your hair, wrap a towel around you for protection against splashes and get your washcloth full of fresh, warm soapsuds. Apply this lather to your face with firm pats so that the heat as well as the suds get right into the skin. Scrub with an upward and outward motion. This stimulates circulation and revives sagging muscles.

Be sure all the old perspiration and soot of the day are sudsed off. Your neck and arms must be refreshed, too, in preparation for the change into fresh lingerie and a date dress.

While you pay some quick attention to your fingernails, eyebrows and make-up, attend to the "toe" end of the grooming. Place your make-up tools and a hand mirror on a nearby stool. Sit on the edge of the tub, scrub your feet with soapsuds; then turn on the faucet and let the water rinse and rest your feet.

COMPLETE COMFORT

Clean underthings and stockings complete your sense of comfort and ease. Don't patch yourself together before an evening date.

Now Many Wear FALSE TEETH With Little Worry

Eat, talk, laugh or sneeze without fear of insecure false teeth dropping slipping or wabbling. FASTEETH holds plates firmer and more comfortably. This pleasant powder has no gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Doesn't cause nausea, it alkaline (non-acid). Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Sling-Halter Bosom Drape Fath's New Feminine Touch

PARIS. — Jacques Fath, who until now has made clothes so exaggeratedly slender that it seemed that no ordinary woman could wear them, has had a total change of heart.

His new Paris dress collection features, for the most part, jersey dresses and two-piecers which any woman could wear with ease, and which any manufacturer of knitwear would be enchanted to copy, and could do so without undue cost.

His intention, handed in printed form to all his visitors before they saw the clothes in his salon, spoke of "liberating the bosom." There is to be no more vulgar emphasis on bust lines, but an easy, sling-halter drape will half hide and half reveal feminine beauty. Both for day and evening he stresses this line, chiefly producing hip-length, barely fitting midy bodices. Possibly influenced by the great success of a new Paris house which last season was greatly applauded for making couture clothes suitable for an age of unrest and of economy, he teams a wool jersey back-blousing tunic, leather belted, with a finely pleated skirt of the most delicate lace, all in a grew beige color which is almost unnoticeable. Dresses of chiffon and lace pretend to be casual sports clothes.

Yet one of the most simple-seeming coats is entirely made of hand-tucked chiffon, with plain sleeves matching the untucked dress below, the outfit again in a drab beige. Crystal pleating, such as was used on the lace skirt, is fairy-fine, whether in jersey, in lace or in chiffon.

The impression of ease of line and a seemingly casual and inexpensive grace vanishes, however, with his full-length grand evening dresses of moire, velvet or chiffon. Stoles are still worn with these evening dresses, matching the bosom-binding line which is general for day and for night.

His accessories are charming. A big shawl of black jersey is fringed with wool, but has deep bandings of fox fur; another is entirely in wool lace, again edged with fringe. His jewellery, especially his pearls, are, as he declares, "without history"; in other words they are imitation. He makes fur-ended litle scarves to tuck into the deep "V" openings of his quiet and hardly-fitted suits and into the deep "V" cut of day dresses. His hats are little turbans of jersey, velvet and fur, pulled far down over the right ear.

In a collection largely made in donkey beige, donkey greys and browns, brilliant day coats in scarlet or billiard-cloth green stand out, worn over black dresses; and there are a few colored knitwear day dresses to go under the sombre coats.

Hair, says Mr. Fath, will be entirely auburn this season and in no other color.

Abolition Of Passports Starts Scandinavian Tourist Boom

COPENHAGEN (ONS). — The abolition of passports for Scandinavian citizens travelling inside Scandinavia, has led to unexpected results.

Reports from virtually all border stations and immigration ports in Norway, Denmark and Sweden tell of a rush of visitors so tremendous that hotels and boarding houses are crowded out and are having to turn away many tourists every day.

In Copenhagen, Malmoe, Gothenburg, Frederikshavn and several other towns, hundreds of travellers are having to spend the night at police stations, in railway waiting rooms and even in the public parks where they sleep on benches or on the ground.

The flood of visitors to Sweden has been particularly large. One reason appears to be, not so much the desire to take a passportless holiday, as to buy goods unobtainable or rationed at home. Coffee, for instance, is rationed in Denmark, but can be freely bought in Sweden.

THREE NATIONS ENTER AGREEMENT

The agreement was reached between the three Scandinavian Governments — it does not apply to Finland — some four weeks ago. The least affected are the Norwegians who still have to carry their passports so that Norwegian customs officials can check the amount of currency they take out of the country. It is hoped, however, that a simpler identity card for exchange control purposes can soon be substituted for the more elaborate passports for Norwegians wishing to visit Denmark or Sweden.

Oddly enough, the Scandinavian countries who, with Britain have been the most firmly opposed to the idea of a European Union, are the first of the European countries to abolish, even to a limited extent, the symbol of a state's sovereignty over its citizens — the passport.

You speak to a small child, who is shy and refuses to answer your questions.

WRONG: Say: "What's the matter? Has the cat got your tongue?"

RIGHT: Talk to him quietly, giving him a chance to feel that he knows you—instead of teasing him and making him even more shy.

Bachelors Get To Regard State As A Distinction

MONTREAL.—The Bachelor's Society of America recently held their first annual convention. According to a news item, the bachelors, between meetings, were "wined, dined and eagerly eyed by local and visiting spinsters."

The spinsters were probably wasting their time, writes a columnist. Chances are that the man who takes his bachelor state seriously enough to join an arganization of bachelors is too wary for a girl to capture.

Chances are that he has already arrived at the state where he regards bachelorhood as a definite mark of distinction.

That isn't too difficult a state for a bachelor to reach. After he has been successful at dodging matrimony a few times he is likely to be convinced he is a smarter fellow than the men who end up saying "I do."

Married women help more than anyone else to foster that notion. The bachelor is such a boon to married women.

He can be called on as an extra man at a party. His mildest compliments can easily convince a married woman that she is really quite a girl.

So married women set great store by bachelors. They wine and dine them and ask for nothing in return.

They make social lions out of eligible bachelors and by the time a man has a good taste of being so all-fired important, simply because he doesn't have a wife, he has become a wary bachelor.

Why should he give up his claim to distinction and become just another married man?

By the time he has become that fond of his bachelorhood he's hard to catch.

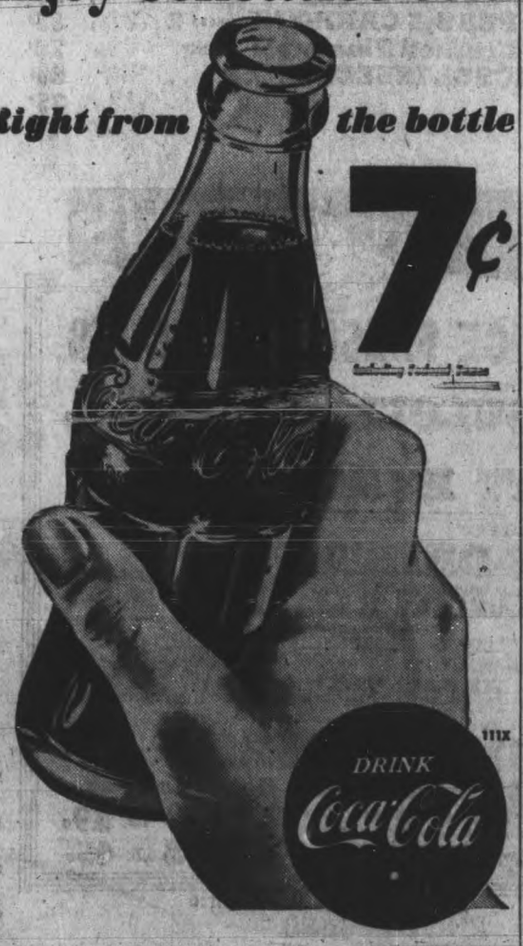
REFRESHING DRINK

A friend passes on her family recipe for lemon syrup, an excellent cold drink these hot-weather days.



Ingredients: Five pounds sugar, one ounce tartaric acid, two ounces citric acid, juice of six lemons and the grated rind of four of them; 12 cups water.

Add the sugar and the two acids to the water and bring to boil. Add lemon juice and rind and let stand two or three hours. Strain and bottle.

For a refreshing drink: Put one tablespoon (depending on strength desired) of the syrup in a glass of water and cracked ice. It's good.

When Busy Planning Half-Party

Every summer I think, "Well, maybe next summer I won't be so busy and we can have more guests and more barbecue parties and I can play more golf."

This springing of eternal hope is not limited to me, for this summer while we are anxiously awaiting results from my niece Beverley's fourth year examinations in medicine, and Pete's senior matriculation results and Marianne's junior nursing examinations, I happened to say to my brother, "Is this waiting and worrying over results never going to end?" (Nobody's ever failed yet.) All he did was wistfully point at his youngest son Paul, who is seven, and say, "I've about 15 more years at least—you can feel lucky!" That quieted me. We might as well take our fun as we can and as we go along.

Are you busy almost to distraction and confusion too? I love people and feel so out of things when I'm so busy we can't have folks for dinner as often as I would like. So, I decided to give two or three half parties. Ever heard of that before? Course you haven't, for I've just made it up.

A half-party can be either the first course or the last course of a company dinner—both with trimmings.

For the first course type the guests can start arriving at 5 o'clock and leave at 7. For the last course type they could arrive at 7 and leave after an hour or two or play bridge or watch television or have a good old talk. But be sure of one thing: When you give them the initial invitation tell them the times to come and GO (remember I'm talking to busy hostesses who have extra-mural work to do), and if it's a dessert party tell them not to eat dessert or drink coffee for their dinners at home.

Then really splurge. Of course it's because I have two ideas that I like that I'm suggesting this kind of half-party hospitality.

POTATO CHIP DIP

THIS is the accompaniment for a sophisticated but non-alcoholic cocktail party. The cocktails could be tomato juice with lemon and salt OR apricot nectar or chilled clam juice or even chilled sauerkraut juice. Everybody likes fruit punches that are not too sweet and a combination of canned pineapple OR bottled grapejuice, either of them with lemon juice and ice is universally popular. Now for the dip.

Rub a mixing bowl with a cut clove of garlic. Mash in the bowl an 8-oz. package of Baumert cheese with 2 teaspoons lemon juice, 1½ teaspoons Worcestershire sauce, ½ teaspoon salt, dash of freshly ground pepper, ½ cup drained canned minced clams, and ¼ cup clam broth. Pile this in a deep bowl and place in centre of large tray surrounded with crisp potato chips. Add some dainty crackers and some short wide celery sticks—for your guests will love to try all three in this delicious dip.

CHIFFON BANANA CAKE

Go berserk with the frosting and trimming of this. Rich butter frosting sprinkled with shredded toasted almonds is my choice though. Two and one-quarter cups sifted cake flour, 1½ cups sugar, 1 tablespoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ cup salad oil, 5 unbeaten yolks, ½ cup cold water, 1 cup mashed ripe bananas, 1 teaspoon vanila, 1 cup egg whites, ½ teaspoon cream of tartar. Sift together sifted flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. With a spoon make a hole in the centre of them and add the yolks, oil, cold water, mashed banana and vanilla. Beat this until batter is perfectly smooth. In a separate large bowl beat the whites with the cream of tartar until very stiff. Then pour the batter in thin stream over entire surface of egg whites, gently cutting and folding in with rubber scraper until blended. Pour into ungreased tube pan and bake at 325 deg. Fahr. for 55 minutes, then at 350 for 10 to 15 minutes for 10-inch tube pan. For 9-inch tube pan 325 deg. Fahr. for 50 to 55 minutes. This cake must "hang" like an angel food until cold.

Keep plenty of hot coffee coming to accompany this delicious but sweet dessert.

Mennonites Fail To Solve Internal Rift

BASEL, Switzerland (AP)—The Mennonites of the world reaffirmed today their fundamental objection to the use of arms, but left unresolved differences which have grown among them since the 17th century.

The fifth world assembly of the Mennonite churches declared in a unanimously adopted message: "As citizens of our countries, we desire to be subject to our governments, to pray for them and to seek the welfare of the nation, under condition that where the requirements of human laws are contrary to the word of God, we must obey God rather than man. Our rule of life must always be the word of God."

POSSIBLE COMPROMISE

The conference message was regarded as a compromise between the conservative and liberal groups in the church.

The Mennonites—named after a 17th century Dutch leader, Menno Simons—trace their origin to a Swiss and Dutch reformation movement which found, mainly in North America, refuge from European persecution.

One of the principal differences between the conservative American groups and the more liberal European Mennonites at the assembly here was their interpretation of Christ's call to "turn the other cheek." In Europe, non-combatant service in a national army is usually permitted to a devout Mennonite, whereas in North America Mennonites may enter only civilian service.

Of the estimated 500,000 Mennonites spread over the world today, three-fourths live in Canada and the United States.

Ask Commission Hold Meeting

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP) —The International Joint Commission is to be asked to hold a public hearing here as soon as possible to consider the effects of opening compensating gates controlling the flow of water from Lake Superior.

This decision was reached last night at a meeting of city councils of this city and neighboring Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and property owners who suffered losses when the gates were opened two weeks ago.

The meeting also decided to protest against the gates being opened without prior warning.

J. Littlefield, an engineer for the Great Lakes Power Company, said high lake levels could be traced to heavy 1951 rainfall and to abnormally heavy rainfall last month.

Reeve Protests Dirty River

BRANTFORD (CP) — Swimmers come out of the Grand River here dirtier than when they went in, Reeve William Stewart told the Grand River Anti-pollution Committee last night.

Residents of this area term the river the "Grand Sewer." "We can't catch any good fish now," Reeve Stewart said. "Only mudcats and carp."

Councillor Jake Berrisford said the city should stop dumping raw sewage into the river and should build a sewage disposal plant.

Members of the committee, composed of nine rod and gun clubs along the river, complained pollution was getting worse every year.

Rare Baby Dies Shortly After Birth

DETROIT (CP)—A five-pound baby boy who survived birth for 31 hours after a rare abdominal pregnancy died last night. The mother, Mrs. Henry Perry, 26, was reported progressing satisfactorily.

The doctor who delivered the baby three weeks prematurely said an abdominal delivery occurs about once in 16,000 deliveries and is fatal in about 85 per cent of the cases as well as being extremely dangerous for the mother.

Writer Discloses How Name Chosen For Royal Family

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON (CP)—How Britain's royal family came to be called the Windsors is disclosed today in a book about King George V written by Harold Nicolson, well-known author and critic.

The book says that when the King learned in 1917 there was a rumor that he must be pro-German because the family had German names, "he started and grew pale."

His secretary, Lord Stamfordham, conceded that members of the Royal Family bore names of Teutonic origin. Experts were unable to answer the question: What is the King's surname? It was not Stewart or Guelph; it might be "Wipper" or "Wettin."

Various names were suggested — Tudor - Stewart, Plantagenet, York, England, Lancaster, D'este, Fitzroy. Then Lord Stamfordham remembered that Edward III had been called Edward of Windsor — the name which the present Queen recently chose to keep in preference to Mountbatten.

Lord Stamfordham was congratulated and told that the suggestion was something "to be historically proud of."

Nicolson's 370-page study is entitled "King George V: His Life and Reign." As reflected in reviews by newspaper critics, here are some sidelights on the man who ruled from 1910 to 1936:

The Times: "This thorough and carefully composed study shows that the popular picture of King George formed by his subjects was accurate. He was a man without guile who brought a disinterested judgment and a remarkably retentive memory to the service of his country and of his Commonwealth."

News Chronicle: "(He was) the king who knew his job. He rarely made an error of judgment; and he was sometimes right when ministers were wrong."

The Daily Mirror, quoting from the book, notes that the King was human enough to write in his diary after a French visit: "Went to see 'Occupe-Toi d'Aemlie,' the hottest thing I have ever seen on the stage. . .bed at 3:30."

Council Plans Sue Corporation

COOKSVILLE (CP) — Toronto Township council last night instructed its solicitor to bring action against the Banks Bond Corporation of Toronto for alleged breach of contract.

This latest move in the assessment controversy follows refusal of the corporation to sell township debentures valued at $1,600,000.

Council decided to sell the bonds by public tender and to sue the bond house for any difference in price. It said the firm made a bid of 95.5 for the bonds in June and later "backed out of the deal."

"Just because the taxpayers and newspapers rocked the boat with some unfavorable publicity, that is no reason for the company to renege on the deal," said councillor Hugh Harrison.

There have been complaints following tax increases in the township of 150 to 300 per cent.

Smallwood Visits Churchill In London

LONDON (CP)—Premier Joseph Smallwood of Newfoundland today called on Prime Minister Winston Churchill at 10 Downing Street. The half-hour visit was described by the prime minister's office as a courtesy call.

Smallwood is here to try to interest British companies in the development of Labrador and Newfoundland. In an interview, he said he hopes his 10-day visit will produce "one man" to act as a spearhead in tackling the problems of economic development there.

Call For Tenders To Build Seawall

CHATHAM (CP)—Tenders for a 600-foot seawall, to be built on the shores of Lake Erie three miles southwest of Cedar Springs, have been called by the public works department.

The plans include building 13 timber sheet pile groynes, each 50 feet long, into the lake every 50 feet along the seawall, and two end walls extending inshore.

Cedar Springs is about 11 miles southeast of here.

Thousands Expected At Fergus Games

FERGUS (CP)—Thousands of visitors are expected to flood into this village 15 miles north of Guelph Saturday to witness or take part in the annual highland games.

Fergus has clung to its Scottish tradition since its founding in 1833.

Final Standing In Alberta Legislature

EDMONTON (CP)—The make-up of Alberta's next legislature was finally determined today—nine days after the provincial election—when the last doubtful seat reported.

A. M. Montemurro, Social Credit, was elected on the third count in Lac. Ste. Anne, northwest of Edmonton. He defeated three candidates, including the member of the last house, A. V. Bourcier, who split with the government and ran as an independent Social Crediter.

The final party standing, with comparative figures for the 1948 election and at dissolution:

	1952	1948	Dissolution
Social Credit	52	51	49
Liberal	4	2	3
C. C. F.	2	2	2
P. C.	2	—	—
Ind-SC	1		3
Ind.	—	1	—
Total	61	57	57

With 52 members, Premier E. C. Manning's Social Credit government will face the next legislature with more members than at any time since immediately after the party's first victory under the late William Aberhart in 1935. Then it had 56 members in a 63-member house.

Hungary Gets New Premier

BUDAPEST (AP)—Matyas Rakosi, secretary-general of the Hungarian Communists and undisputed boss of this Soviet-sphere country, today was elected premier by the Hungarian parliament. He had held the post of vice-premier.

Istvan Dobi, former premier and member of the smallholders' party, resigned, the speaker of the House announced. He then was given the job of president. (The job is a figurehead position in all Communist countries.)

Sandor Ronai, who had been president of parliament's presidium the highest authority in the country, also resigned. He had been the last representative of the former Social Democrats in Hungarian political life.

N.B. Private Jailed Year

WITH THE CANADIANS IN KOREA (Reuters)—A Canadian court martial today sentenced Pte. Kenneth Carleton of Saint John, N.B., to one year's detention for improperly discharging a weapon near a house in the village of Shin San Ry and for theft of a bottle of whisky.

Carleton originally was charged with murdering an aged Korean woman but charges against him were reduced following the manslaughter conviction of Pte. Leo Mowers of Sillery, Que., in the same case. Mowers was sentenced to three years' imprisonment.

The charges grew out of an incident at the village May 18 when a Korean woman was shot fatally through the head.

Mowers was accused of firing a shot through a door, killing the woman as she sat by a window. Carleton was charged as an accomplice.

Burlington Bridge To Open Saturday

HAMILTON (CP)—The bridge over the Burlington Beach and will be opened at 6 p.m., Saturday, construction officials said today.

Opening of the bridge will end an eight-mile detour through Hamilton and will enable through traffic on the Queen Elizabeth Way from Niagara Falls to Toronto to use the faster Burlington Beach route.

The route has been closed since April when a ship knocked out a span of the bridge.

Boy 3, Beginning Second Week In Coma

HANOVER, N.H. (AP)—Three-year-old Gary Smith begins his second week in a coma today.

The curly-headed son of a Springfield, Vt., foundry worker has been unconscious since he was found in a closed, unused icebox in the tack pantry of his parent's home a week ago tonight.

Doctors diagnose the boy's condition as asphyxia — lack of oxygen in his system.

Gary vanished last Thursday. Seven hours later, he was found in the icebox, his pet kitten, Black clutched in his arms. He had crawled into the tiny compartment and closed the door behind him, snapping shut the automatic latch. The kitten suffered no ill-effects but resuscitation efforts by firemen failed to revive Gary.

Doctors fear that the longer Gary remains in a coma the less are his chances of recovery.

Ike Rejects Invitation From Truman

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman invited Gen. Dwight Eisenhower to a cabinet luncheon and foreign affairs briefing at the White House next Tuesday, but the Returned down the offer.

The White House made public the telegram Truman sent Eisenhower yesterday and said the general's reply rejecting the offer had been received.

Press secretary Joseph Short told reporters the invitation had been "in the works" before Governor Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee, came here Tuesday for a round of conferences at the White House.

At Denver, Colo., Eisenhower said his telegram to Truman said "it is my duty to remain free" to analize Truman administration policies publicly and that it would be "unwise and result in confusion in the public mind" if he accepted the bid.

However, the Republican standard - bearer did accept another Truman proposal — that Eisenhower receive weekly reports on the international situation from the Central Intelligence Agency here.

Similar reports, to be delivered by White House couriers, will go to Stevenson.

"I will welcome these reports," Eisenhower said.

New Discovery About Spleen

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—A relationship exists between the color of men's skins and their spleens, Dr. Earl Bates of Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y., told Rotarians of Niagara Falls, Queenston and Lewiston, N.Y., in a joint meeting here last night.

The doctor said an appendage that white persons lack is found on the spleens of negroes and Indians before birth. In the pre-natal stage, there is one appendage attached to the spleen of the Indian fetus and two to that of the negro.

These disappear after birth as the color of the baby's skin develops, the doctor said. The findings are the result of research among primitive peoples in Central America.

Hamilton Schools Teach Community Services

HAMILTON (CP) — Hamilton may become one of the first cities in Canada to incorporate a study of community services in the social study courses in both public and high schools. A 24-page illustrated booklet has been designed for use in schools by the Hamilton Council of Community Services and official sanction by the board of education is hoped for in the next few weeks.

Entitled "Hamilton's Social Services" the booklet includes sections on child care, health, recreation, community planning and new Canadians and gives the all-over picture of this city's welfare work.

U.S. Presidential Election Contest Of Personalities

By CLYDE BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

A contest of personalities faces the voters of the United States next Nov. 4 when they will elect a new president.

The two candidates are strong personalities—probably the most appealing to enter a presidential campaign since the 1944 election.

It will be a difficult decision for those who vote the straight ticket regardless of personalities.

That huge, fairly independent section of the electorate will swing the balance.

CONTROL SINCE 1932

Governor Adlai Ewing Stevenson, 52, studious and quietly able lawyer-son of a great family, has the task of perpetuating the 20-year-old control of the national government held by the Democrats since Franklin D. Rooseveit defeated Herbert Hoover in 1932.

His chief claim to political success is his record-breaking victory over Republicans in 1948 when he became the fourth Democratic governor of Illinois in 100 years.

Opposing him as the Republican hope for return to power is General Dwight D. Eisenhower, who will be 62 next October. He is popular at home and abroad for his victorious wartime leadership of allied forces and for his sparkling personality.

SINCERELY RELUCTANT

Stevenson was not a presidential aspirant. He was sincerely and humbly reluctant in the opinion of most fair-minded observers. He remained that way to the last and probably is one of the few instances of complete and unquestionable drafting of a man for the highest office in the country; also one of the most important responsibilities in the world.

Eisenhower was a reluctant candidate for months. He rejected even the suggestion in 1944 and when the real drive to get him for 1952 began last January it took him months to make up his mind.

But in the five weeks or so prior to the convention he threw himself with typical vigor into the campaign for the nomination.

Thus the idea of the office seeking the man—which many believe should be the proper conduct of political affairs—does not apply in the same degree to Eisenhower as to the Democratic choice.

It is unlikely that either candidate, if faced with the responsibility of office, would greatly alter the basic policies on foreign affairs which have guided the administration in recent years.

Similarly their ideas on domestic problems in the major class would have to be formed in comformity with the pressure of events and be based on the advice of their economic and political advisers. They could not be far apart considering the high intellectual character of both and their reasonable and humble approach to such matters.

That leaves them very little fighting ground and puts the issue largely on the question of personal appeal as to the fitness and desirability as national leaders in a time of great stress and danger.

MUST LEARN FROM PAST

Both candidates have indicated they believe the past is something to learn from and not cling to without regard for change.

Neither has claimed he or his party holds the key to the country's problems or has a monopoly on decency and honesty in public affairs.

Both have stressed the necessity of unity within party ranks, the desirability of retaining the two-party system and their believe in the equal rights of all citizens regardless of color.

Along about Sept. 1 these two leaders and their team of campaigners will begin their assault upon the voters. They plan to follow the course by which Harry Truman won his amazing victory in 1948—a direct personal appeal to as many voters as it is humanly possible to meet in the flesh.

It remains to be seen which will be most successful in that field. Eisenhower is more accustomed to meeting people of all types face to face and winning them but that experience was gained while he was in the glamorous role of a winning commander of the fighting forces. Stevenson is a shy and retiring man, not so stalwart or commanding a figure, bald like Ike and slightly shorter, but with a certain nobility and obvious sincerity which has brought many comparisons between him and Abe Lincoln.

Eisenhower has a happy family life. He is still married to his childhood sweetheart, the highly photogenic and pleasant-visaged "Mamie."

Stevenson lives alone with two of his 'teen-aged sons in the governor's mansion in Springfield. His wife, beautiful and wealthy Ellen Borden, daughter of a wealthy Chicago family, divorced him in 1949 on grounds of incompatibility, complaining that his political life had come between them. Their oldest son is in the Marines.

Eisenhower has never had to give thought to the domestic issues of government at either the state or national level, apart from those which influenced the country's ability or willingness to provide a strong armed force.

NOTABLE BACKGROUND

Stevenson is a grandson of a vice-president under Grover Cleveland, member of a long line of lawyers, a key man in the formation and development of the United Nations and a state governor since 1948.

In the campaign for nomination Eisenhower made some whistle stop speeches and reporters with him said he was a bit of a disappointment. He did not seem able to get into the hearts of his listeners. That may come with experience.

Each candidate has a characteristic that should be popular. They believe in short speeches with every word meaning something and in this Stevenson probably has the edge on the general.

South America Is Suspicious Of U.S.

By J. HALCRO FERGUSON

MONTIVIDEO (ONS). — The walls of important streets in this Latin-American capital are plastered with posters attacking the proposed military mutual assistance pact with the United States, whose ratification is now being debated by the Uruguayan Parliament.

The posters usually conclude with a call to the people to repudiate "imperialismo yanqui".

Most of these protests are the work of the Communist or of the Right-wing minority Herrerista Party, which follows Peron's "third position" policy — opposition to both the United States and U.S.S.R. — but principally the reaction of the man in the street, since he is far more interested in football than in politics, whether local or international.

Uruguay, however, is only one of seven Latin-American nations which have ratified or are in the course of debating the ratification of similar treaties with North America. The others are Brazil, Chile, Peru, Ecuador, Colombia and Cuba, and in some of these opposition to the proposed treaty has been outspoken and sometimes violent.

In Chile the coalition Government of President Gonzalez Videla, whose term ends this year, pushed the bill through amid scenes of fierce partisanship and fiercer opposition in the House. The British Ambassador was one of the casualties when he emerged from the final debate, being mistaken by demonstrators for one of the deputies who had voted in favor. Police were kept busy for days dispersing unauthorized demonstrations, and many newspapers, while deploring rowdy behaviour, deplored the pact as well.

THE LEVEL-HEADED VIEW

In Peru the Government of General Odria puts public order before freedom of expression, and there was no overt opposition, but level-headed Peruvians, neither Communist nor Nationalist in sympathy, frequently expressed dislike of the pact to me in private. In Ecuador, which has just re-elected a former and highly irresponsible dictator, Velazco Ibarra, as president, opposition was backed by Communist, Nationalist, and pro-Argentine elements. In Brazil the pact was made the excuse for hostile demonstrations during the recent visit of United States Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

In Colombia opposition—though in the present disturbed state of the country it was not allowed to become overt—came from the same elements who have long been attacking Colombia's military and naval participation in the Korean War, the Communist-influenced Left Wing of the opposition Liberal Party. In Cuba, of course, Dictator Fulgencio Batista, "great and good friend" of the United States, because it suits him, had everything under control.

An eighth country, Mexico, had also been asked to sign a military treaty with the United States, but refused, although her armed forces have the closest ties with the American Army and there are many Mexicans in United States uniforms. The reason for this refusal was the unwillingness of President Aleman to take such an unpopular move on the eve of the national elections which took place earlier this month.

BASIS OF FEARS

At first sight Latin-American objections to these treaties would seem illogical, since the Latin people should get more out of them than they themselves contribute. But they are afraid of being drawn into a world conflict which they feel is none of their business. They regard United States foreign policy as irresponsible and dangerous, and they fear ratification of such pacts will open the way to increased United States economic infiltration and perhaps to the establishment of large numbers of United States military personnel on their soil.

Finally, they are not nearly so hostile to the U.S.S.R. as their wealthier northern neighbors are, nor so frightened. Russia from here seems a long way away, while the United Staes' influence is visible on every hand, even in Argentina.

A newspaper here recently published a thoughtful editorial, pointing out that Uruguayan sovereignty had never, in fact, been injured by United States imperialism (or, it added kindly, by British), and that the only countries which had ever attacked Uruguay had been Argentina and Brazil, on whom the so-called Nationalists were now relying for protection against a non-existent threat.

Such sweet reason may be listened to by the level-headed Uruguayans but in much of the rest of the continent it would fall on uncomprehending ears.

Opposition to treaties with the United States, though rationalized on economic, strategic, political or other grounds, is essentially a matter of pride — the pride of nations which are at once older and younger than the United States. And the United States is not always too tactful in avoiding offence to that pride. If the question of military co-operation had been approached from a different angle it might have been more enthusiastically received. As it is, people here feel that they are remembered only when the United States is in trouble.

Impaired Charge Results In Dismissal

A charge of driving while his ability was impaired by alcohol against Melville McGee, of Lindsay, was dismissed today after the evidence was heard in police court.

McGee pleaded guilty to having liquor in a place other than his residence and was fined $15 and $2.50 costs.

Joseph Basciano, 317 Park Hill Rd., said he was travelling east on McDonnel St., just after midnight on Aug. 7 when a westbound car driven by McGee forced him to pull in behind a parked car to avoid a collision.

Basciano said he shouted at McGee who stopped his car and backed up. After an exchange between the two, as to why McGee was, according to Basciano, taking up more than half the road, Basciano said he threatened to report him to police and then both drivers drove off.

Constable Dennis Traynor said Basciano picked him up on Murray St., and they found McGee's car on Reid St., near a used car lot and McGee across the road talking to some people in a parked car.

There were two empty pints of beer and a full pint bottle of beer on the front seat of the car, Constable Traynor said and he also stated that McGee had been drinking "considerably," that he staggered and that his breath smelled of alcohol.

HAD THREE PINTS

McGee said he had had only one pint of beer in Lindsay before coming to Peterborough that night and that he had nothing more to drink after that until he drank two pints of beer where he stopped on Reid St., after the incident on McDonnel St.

There was also a difference between Basciano's evidence and McGee's as to where the two met in passing on McDonnel St. McGee said he was just making a left-hand turn from Aylmer St., onto McDonnel and that Basciano claimed he cut him off, while Basciano said it was near Stewart St.

W. J. Arthur Fair defended McGee and argued there was no evidence McGee's driving ability was impaired when the incident on McDonnel St., occurred. He said the fact that McGee backed up when Basciano shouted at him indicated McGee was not under the influence of alcohol.

Magistrate W. R. Philp said it might be a case of "lack of driving courtesy" on McGee's part but did not have the elements necessary for a conviction on the charge of driving while impaired by alcohol.

Bail Fixed At $300 In Drunk Driving Count

Charged with drunk driving, driving while his licence was under suspension and having liquor in a place other than his residence, Joseph Leo Feeley, 261 Lake St., pleaded not guilty when he appeared before Magistrate W. R. Philp today.

He was remanded until August 18 on $300 bail.

Familiar Routine

LONDON (CP)—James Holiday, 55-year-old registrar, had only one more ceremony to attend after performing his 13th wedding of the day. Like most of the 15,000 weddings he has managed since 1936, his own marriage to Dorothy Smith went off without a hitch.

Lower Standards?

EDINBURGH, Scotland (CP)—J. Steel Maitland of Paisley told the Royal Institute of British Architects that architectural standards in Scotland have deteriorated. He said that pre-fabricated houses are taking the place of permanent, traditional homes.

Improved Method

OSLO (CP)—A large Norwegian chemical firm reported its scientists have developed a new, slow-acting form of the drug ACTH which requires fewer injections for arthritis sufferers. One injection every two or three days is said to equal the former four-a-day treatment.

Gloomy Master

LONDON (CP)—Philip Wayne, a high school headmaster, told a meeting that boys today do not think for themselves as much as boys did 20 years ago. "Lack of mental enterprise may be due to films, television and lack of discipline," he said.

Art In Jail

LONDON (CP)—The first art exhibition by prisoners in British jails proved a success here. A painting of the crucifixion attracted much comment and exhibits also included a 300-pound rug depicting the coat-of-arms of Queen Mother Elizabeth.

Danny Thomas Decides To Leave TV

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Danny Thomas, famous for his gift of gab, was explaining why he is quitting television. He is perhaps the first of the top comedians to give up the new medium of his own free will.

"I am a stand-up entertainer," he said. "Others I could mention of this same type are Danny Kaye, Judy Garland and Betty Hutton. Go down the list about 12 and you come to Thomas. We have this in common: that we can entertain an audience alone and without props for an indefinite period of time.

"I am not a clown. I paint a word picture. I can hold an audience in a cafe or theatre for an hour and five minutes merely by talking and singing a few songs. But this type of entertainment is not possible in TV as it is now run by sponsors and advertising agencies.

SLICED SYRIAN

"A sponsor sees me in a cafe and decides to buy me for TV. He says he wants me to do my 'wailing Syrian' act just as he saw it. But it runs 22 minutes. The agency says it has to be cut down to four minutes. The agency claims that the TV audience will not watch a single person on the screen for more than a few minutes."

Thomas listed his other objections to TV:

"You can't appear so often and keep your audience. I revere the acting talents of Cary Grant, Spencer Tracy and the late Walter Huston. But if I were to see them on the screen three times in three months, I would tire of them.

COLD AUDIENCE

"I can't play to a cold audience. In TV your audience is looking at the camera, the stage hands, the props, anything but the comedian.

"It's hard to perform with all those gadgets between you and the audience. I like to be free to move around.

"Also, the TV routine gets you down. You're always worrying and attending meetings. They bring out charts — blue charts, yellow charts and red charts. 'Terrible,' they say, 'we lost two listeners in St. Louis last week!' "

Thomas indicated he would limit his future activities to movies (he has four to do for Warners in four years), night clubs and theatres.

IOWA UNIVERSITY'S DRUM MAJOR, Mary Lou Mortenson, talks with a police sergeant in London. The Des Moines girl is travelling with the all-girls' band of the University of Iowa which gave a performance on the terrace of the Royal Festival Hall in London.

Britons Told Must Improve Tourist Service

LONDON (CP)—A few unvarnished facts about receiving visitors for the Coronation are being dished-out to the British public.

Sir Alexander Maxwell, chairman of the British Travel and Holidays Association, says Britain's tourist industry is at the cross-roads. A tourist plan is needed, he adds, if the industry is to be developed as it should be and new money attracted to the country.

He emphasizes that if the home population must go without in order to provide visitors with the best available, that is the way it must be.

MORE OUTSPOKEN

Sir Henry Brittain, a member of the council, was even more outspoken. He said the United Kingdom is one of the world's most untidy nations.

Talks are being held already with hotel and restaurant associations by Sir Alexander who is keenly aware of criticism about service. He says Britons who go abroad for vacations do not help by boosting their own country.

Last year Britain's tourist industry brought £73,000,000 in foreign currency into the country—£23,000,000 of which was in dollars.

Vancouver Pair Nurse Injured Grizzlies

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mr. and Mrs. James Stanton nurse wounded grizzlies and make pets of other bears.

At their home on Knight Inlet, 150 miles northeast of here, wild animals have the run of the place, digging for roots close to the house, tramping across the front porch and snoring loudly at night outside a bedroom window.

At one time this summer 27 grizzlies were digging for roots by the house.

Some years ago friends presented the Stantons with some south sea pigs. For almost seven years bears and pigs rooted and fed together, but the pigs rapidly increased because neither the grizzlies nor the Stantons could bear to eat the pet porkers. Jim and Laurel Stanton nearly went broke feeding them. Finally they reluctantly called in friends to do the slaughtering.

The Stantons have always been that way about animals. Mrs. Stanton buys crushed oats for the deer they winter each year, but the Canada Goose, rescued with a frozen leg, prefers rolled oats and milk. Occasionally it flies about the living-room.

Blue herons and three generations of eagles nest nearby and are fed on the beach in front of the house. They have three raccoons as pet, too.

Quote Confession Of Alleged Killer

BREA, Calif. (AP)—"I had to kill her to get what I wanted."

Those were the words attributed yesterday to William F. Rupp, Jr., 18, by District Attorney James Davis. Davis called them a confession to the slaying of Ruby Ann Payne, a 15-year-old baby sitter in nearby Yorba Linda last Friday.

Rupp, disheaveled in jail denims, appeared briefly in a justice court yesterday and was arraigned on a formal charge of first degree murder. His preliminary hearing was set for Aug. 21.

Davis quoted Rupp as saying in a transcribed statement that he hit her with a hammer, and when she ran, he shot her.

He didn't rape her, he said, but contented himself with fondling her.

Truman, Stevenson Plan Double Barrage

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman and Gov. Adlai Stevenson will fire a double-barreled barrage opening the Democratic presidential campaign with Labor Day speeches in Detroit and Milwaukee it was announced yesterday.

There had been speculation that Stevenson was none too happy about Truman accepting a bid to speak in Milwaukee on the same day he was billed to hit the campaign trail with a speech at Detroit.

But simultaneous announcements issued by the White House and Stevenson's headquarters in Springfield, Ill., indicated that mutual arrangements had been worked out.

Captain, 81 Gets New Job

LITTLE CURRENT (CP)—At 81 Capt. Tom Boyter has got a new job.

He's been appointed pilot of the Manitou, the new 30-foot patrol boat of the Ontario Provincial Police which will tour 250 miles of rugged shoreline along northern Lake Huron to Sault Ste. Marie.

One of the oldest sailors on the Great Lakes, Capt. Boyter has 67 years of fishing, tug-boating and piloting behind him in Georgian Bay and Lake Huron.

He said in an interview that when he teaches the tricks of piloting to Constable Walter Kotva, he'll revert to piloting millionaires' yachts.

$1,500 Theft

OTTAWA (CP)—Provincial police last night charged three youths with the theft last Monday of a pair of trousers containing $1,500 from the bedroom of a cattle dealer at Clarence, 25 miles east of here. Charged with breaking and entering are two Ottawa brothers, Maurice and Roger Erest, and Maurice Cardinal, of no fixed address.

Trains Collide In Fog 10 Injured Near London

BLAZING FURIOUSLY, fire swept through the barn of Roy Sears two and a half miles north of Bancroft Thursday morning. All his grain, mostly oats, was destroyed, except for a wagon load that was pulled out by neighbors and motorists. Attempts by two Toronto visitors, Ralph Greenhill and R. W. Lambert, to put out the fire in its early stages with buckets of water brought to them by farmers failed and the barn was abandoned to the flames. When the volunteer Bancroft fire department arrived the barn had collapsed. Before it did, Mr. Greenhill, a photogrpaher, took this picture.

Visibility Bad Crew Miss Seeing Switch

Attempted To Stop At Last Minute, But Rails Slippery

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Ten persons were injured when a northbound London and Port Stanley Railway commuter train smashed into a standing southbound train at fog-shrouded Glanworth near here this morning.

Nine injured were treated and X-rayed at Victoria Hospital and later released.

Injured and treated at Victoria hospital were:

Eugene McLeod, 38, Port Stanley, loose tooth, swollen hand; Robert Thwaites, 16, Port Stanley, facial lacerations; Margaret Agior, 42, St. Thomas, injuries undetermined; Dorothy Pratt, 51, St. Thomas, injured legs; William Houego, 65, London, leg bruise, conductor for L. and P.S.; Jake Thomas, 37, St. Thomas, head and leg injuries; William Woodley, 28, Port Stanley, cut cheek and John Matuszek, 28, Toronto, facial lacerations.

Railway officials said R. Smith of St. Thomas was treated at Victoria. However, hospital records showed no entry for Mr. Smith.

J. McDougall, R. R. 6, St. Thomas, suffered minor injuries but did not require hospital treatment, railway officials said.

BLAME FOG

Fog which cut visibility to a car length was the major cause of the accident which occurred at 6:54 a.m.

The southbound train, with "two or three" passengers, stopped on the main and west side track at Glanworth to wait the northbound train, carrying about 30 passengers which would pass on the east siding.

Before trainman Ross Snetsinger could get to the switch which turns the northbound train to the siding, the northbound went through smashing into the standing train.

The crew of the northbound train were said to have slowed down for the switch, but didn't realize how close they were, because of the fog.

When O. R. Fralick of London, northbound motorman, tried to stop at the last minute the rails were so greasy from fog that the brakes did not hold.

DELAYS DECISION—Lt.-Col. Edward M. McNaughton will wait till next year before deciding whether to accept the $250,000 fortune left by his aunt in Kingston. To collect the money, McNaughton must adopt his aunt's name of Leslie.

Hope To End Traffic Snarl In Toronto Area With $10,000,000 Plan

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario government this week announced two highway projects costing a total of $26,000,000 aimed at reducing traffic snarls in the southern section of the province. The first announcement came Tuesday from Highways Minister Doucett with news of a $166,000,000 program designed to eliminate seven bottlenecks. Last night a second project, costing $10,000,000 to route in a northern arc around Toronto, was announced. Much of the new construction is designed to carry heavy traffic away from cities and towns where speed limits and traffic lights cut movement to a minimum. Controlled access and express routes are planned to eliminate the foul-ups.

1. A controlled-access highway on the present route of Highway No. 27, from the Queen Elizabeth way to a point south of the Dixon sideroad.

2. Completion of the northwest entrance to the Toronto-Barrie Highway by way of Black Creek valley to Toronto's north-end Eglinton avenue, and a spur road connection with the west-end Weston road, a distance o three miles.

3. Extension of the North Toronto interceptor road east from Yonge St. to join No. 2A highway at the Rouge River.

GOES NEAR OSHAWA

Mr. Doucett said the completed Toronto by-pass will give the province a four-lane limited-access highway from Hamilton to Newcastle, 10 miles east of Oshawa.

Mr. Doucett said the plans for the Toronto area are based on the fact that more than 5,000,000 United States motor vehicles entered Ontario in 1951. Figures for the first six months of this year show an increase of 7.3 per cent over the same period last year. At the same time, motor vehicle registrations increased 6.1 per cent.

He stressed Toronto's position as a major tourist attraction and said highways in this district must make room every summer and fall for almost four times the needs of the city's own residents.

Ding Dong Daddy Of 'D' Line Wed 15th Time But In Dog House When Bride Learns Story

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Ding Dong Daddy of the "D" Line has taken his 15th bride, but he's in the dog house. She locked him out of their apartment Wednesday after their marriage.

He is Francis H. Van Wie, 66, former San Francisco street car conductor, lion tamer and boxer. His disillusioned bride is 73-year-old Amelia Pritchard, Los Angeles widow.

"Why, he led me to believe he was a bachelor," she told a reporter from behind the barred door of her apartment.

Van Wie served a San Quentin prison term for bigamy. He wooed his women on the San Francisco "D" line but neglected the legal formalities in divorcing them. When the law caught up with him and he was tried, he testified that he had been wed 12 or 13 times. He received three 10-year terms but was paroled in 1947 after serving two years.

No Atom Promises US Says

UNITED NATIONS, NY. (AP)—The United States warned today that it reserved the right to use the A-bomb and germ warfare to suppress aggression until such weapons are eliminated by an iron-clad system of international safeguards. The warning was made by U.S. delegate Benjamin Cohen before the U.N. disarmament commission where Russia has repeatedly demanded that the U.N. ban atomic weapons and germ warfare. Cohen told Soviet delegate Jacob Malik that the U.S. would never accept a mere paper declaration prohibiting the use of these weapons. Cohen said: "We are issuing no ultimatiums. We are making no threats."

WON'T INVITE AGGRESSION

He went on to say that, until there is an effective international system of inspection to make sure agreements are not being violated, the United States does not intend "to invite aggression by informing, or committing ourselves to, would-be aggressors and charter-breakers that we will not use certain weapons to suppress aggression."

"To do so in exchange for mere paper promises would be to give would-be aggressors their own choice of weapons" he said "There is no assurance that aggressors, which break their charter obligations not to go to war, will keep their paper promises not to fight with certain weapons if they have them and need them to achieve their evil designs."

GIVES REASONS

Cohen spoke at length on the germ warfare question, explaining why the United States had not ratified the Geneva protocol of 1925 outlawing poison gases and bacteriological weapons.

He stressed throughout that the first task is to create a strong system of disclosure and verification before any sort of ban can be effective on these weapons or the A-bomb. He said:

"The Soviet representative has suggested that there are no effective safeguards to insure the elimination of bacteriological warfare and contends in effect that it is therefore necessary for us to rely on the moral force of paper promises prohibiting its use in war. We do not agree."

WANTS GOOD SYSTEM

Cohen said the production of germ weapons requires large scale industrial facilities which could not readily escape detection if the U.N. had an efficient system of inspection.

Extend Loans On Housing To Help In Smaller Areas

OTTAWA (CP) — The government's home-building agency, Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, has completed arrangements to extend government-backed house-building loans into small areas where there are no financing facilities at present.

A corporation spokesman said the arrangement has been completed with private insurance companies which will act as the government's agency in extending the loans.

At present government-backed loans up to 80 per cent of the value of the home are available to individual house-builders through private loaning institutions. But, the spokesman said, for one reason or another the private companies prefer to operate only in larger communities.

EXTEND FACILITIES

The new arrangement will simply extend these facilities into communities of 5,000 population or less.

The spokesman said the government has not earmarked any specific amount to be loaned under the new arrangement. He added, however, that it is not expected that extension of the loaning facilities will result in a large amount being taken up.

He estimated that a total of no more than $1,000,000 might be loaned out under the new arrangement.

Say Picnickers Using Graves

BRONTE (CP) — Bronte council last night heard further protests against visitors sitting on tombstones and graves in the cemetery here while they eat their picnic lunches.

Reeve Alfred Jennings said there is some question as to who had jurisdiction over the cemetery. Although it was located in Trafalgar township, 85 per cent of those buried there were residents of Bronte.

Council decided to ask the township to erect signs banning picnics in the cemetery.

Bronte is 20 miles southwest of Toronto.

Force Germans To Get Divorce

BERLIN (AP) — Communists in the East zone of Germany are reported to be forcing husbands and wives whose mates have fled to West to get divorces whether they want them or not.

The anti-Communist "free jurists"—a group of lawyers and judges who escaped from the East zone and took refuge in West Berlin—said today that information reaching them gave these details:

If an East German wife or husband whose mate now is outside the Iron Curtain applies for a job he or she is told there is no chance for employment unless a divorce is obtained.

Prospective students who wish to enroll in an East zone university are asked if either parent is in the West. If so, they are told they cannot enter school unless their parents get a divorce.

The divorces are granted immediately, the jurists said.

Snatches Baby In Front Of Train

TRENTON (CP)—Ross Chard, 60, snatched 19-month-old Thalia Valyear from the path of a freight train today. A fireman crouched on the cow-catcher of the C. N. R. locomotive to grab the baby if Chard failed.

The baby's mother, Mrs. Ross Valyear, heard the warning bell of the approaching train and ran to see where the child had gone. She arrived in time to see Thalia snatched up.

Will Not Act In Fund Inquiry

TORONTO (CP)—C. R. Magone, deputy attorney-general of Ontario, said yesterday the provincial government will not likely take further action to investigate operations of the United Emergency Fund for Britain.

A report of public trustee Armand Racine said that while the fund had collected $535,801 to send food to Britain, only $771 had been used to purchase food.

Mr. Racine's report, released in June, said much of the money collected was used on promotion of the plan, travelling expenses and publicity.

Other officials of the attorney-general's department said scrutiny of Mr. Racine's findings had not indicated grounds on which legal action could be taken.

Egypt Rejects Any Communism

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt's strong man, Maj.-Gen. Mohamed Naguib, told cheering troops today the army wants no part of Communism and vowed "we'll truly crush any elements convicted of distributing such propaganda."

Naguib warned his soldiers to pay no attention to gossip that the army's plant to split up Egypt's big estates and divide the wealth denoted a trend towards Communism.

In an impromptu address to his men after attending Moslem prayers in the army headquarters's mosque, Naguib declared there are "still in the country elements. . . who are actively working to frustrate our movement."

"We'll crush them—we'll shoot them, if necessary," he asserted.

Naguib did not specify who the trouble makers were, but informants said he referred to some politicians.

The general said the property of the rich would not be confiscated.

1 Dead, 1 Missing As Fires Continue In B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP)—A red tide of fire which has claimed at least one life continued to dash against British Columbia forests today and firefighters had no immediate hopes of getting an assist from the weather.

As B.C. began its 23rd day without appreciable rain, the weather office reported "there is still no sign of significant rainfall to bring an end to the threat of forest fires

Some 150 fires are being fought by 1,200 men. The biggest of these outbreaks has spread over more than 8,000 acres in the Cariboo country of north-central B.C.

But this "killer" fire slowed its offensive yesterday after it had taken the life of Howard Gordon, 40-year-old father of five children, who was trapped and burned to death.

Gordon, the first fatality of the fire season, was trapped by falling timber in the Tintagel area, 10 miles east of Burns Lake, when that corner of the fire suddenly puffed out before a wind and levelled a logging camp.

A man identified only as J.H. Hunter was listed as missing in the same rampage. A forestry official said early today it was too early to presume Hunter dead because there was a faint possibility he had left the fire lines earlier without reporting.

The forestry official said the fire "didn't spread much yesterday." In estimating that the fire has covered 8,000 acres, he said, "the smokek drifts so much it's hard to to estimate."

Meanwhile, three other major fires continued to burn out of control. They are at Vernon Lake on Vancouver Island, in the Bella Coola valley, 300 miles up-coast from Vancouver and near Kelowna in the Okanagan valley.

At last reports the Vernon Lake fire had covered 1,000 acres while the Bella Coola and Kelowna fires each had consumed 1,500 acres.

Reds Present Maps With POW Locations

TOKYO (AP)—United Nations command headquarters said today the Communists have yielded to Allied demands for maps showing the new locations of three Red prisoner-of-war camps in North Korea.

Maj.-Gen. William Harrison, senior U.N. armistice negotiator, received the information from North Korean Gen. Nam Il, chief Red negotiator. It also included maps showing the boundaries of two other camps holding allied prisoners which had been expanded.

The Allies complained Wednesday that the Reds were endangering the lives of captives by failing to pinpoint the camp sites. It demanded the information "without delay."

The truce talks at Panmunjom, Korea, are in a seven-day recess and Nam Il's letter was delivered by liaison officers.

Berlin Now Fears Refugees Trick

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin is beginning to worry that its proud role as haven for refugees is being used by the Communists to spread chaos. Forty-three thousand Germans have fled the Russian zone this year and made their way to West Berlin. July had a record total of 13,800. The flight in July was originally tabbed as a spontaneous revulsion from the east zone's abrupt swing into complete communism in all walks of life, plus the threat of conscription for the Red German army.

West Berlin interrogation teams spending long hours in the refugee camps, are piecing together a different picture now. They note significantly:

1. The average age of the latest crop is much higher than in the past. Some are as old as 75. Thousands are between 50 and 60.

2. A majority told the teams which screen them for political reliability that they had been told they would receive pensions from the West Berlin authorities.

The screening teams say that it is obvious the eastern Communists are deliberately trying to coerce Germans they regard as useless to slip into the west.

The result has been an almost intolerable burden on the sagging West Berlin economy.

Nine Swimmers Trying Channel

FOLKESTONE, England (AP)—Nine swimmers from three countries churned the English Channel today in the season's first attempts at the difficult 21-mile crossing.

Bob Paysour, 24-year-old fireman from Gastonia, N.C., was dragged from the calm, cold water last night, about six miles short of the English coast, 12 hours and 15 minutes after he plunged in at Cap Gris Nez, France. Trainers said his left leg had become paralyzed as the result of an old injury.

MULTIPLE ASSAULT

Six Egyptian swimmers plunged into the channel on the French side early this morning in what looked like a mass assault on the waters dividing France and England. They were followed a few minutes later by a British swimmer, Victor Birckett.

Jenny James of Wales, who started from England to France last night, gave up after five hours because of seasickness.

A Danish school teacher, Eina Anderson, who dived in about 30 minutes after Miss James, was still going strong early today.

There was no news of Philip Mickman, a Briton who also set out on the southward route yesterday.

Dutch Envoy Hits Fur Trail

FORT WILLIAM (CP) — Two prominent Canadians and the Netherlands ambassador to Canada are following ancient fur trails in the Quetico Park wilderness of northwestern Ontario and northern Minnesota.

Maj.-Gen. N.E. Rodger of Winnipeg general officer commanding the army's Prairie command, and Eric Morse of Ottawa, national director of the Association of Canadian Clubs, struck out from here with ambassador A.H.J. Lovink by rail for Kawene, where they will start their two-week trek into the bush country.

They said O.M. Solandt of Ottawa chairman of Canada's defence Research Board, will join them in a few days.

The men expect to cover about 28 miles a day in two canoes, travelling without guides. They intend to traverse about 120 miles of the old fur trade routes through the Quetico district, which they hope to find much the same as in the days of the voyageurs.

Hailstorm Damages Crops In Ontario

PORT ARTHUR (CP) — This northwestern Ontario area is assessing damage from a hailstorm which early yesterday flattened wheat crops and left foot - deep drifts of hailstones.

Light farm and garden crops suffered most in the storm, described as the most severe this year. Potatoes, peas, beans and cabbages were smashed down within a 25-mile radius of Port Arthur.

Thunder, lightning and heavy rain accompanied the hailstorm.

Bomb Explosion Feared In Seoul

SEOUL (Delayed by censorship) —(AP) — a wide section south of Seoul was heavily guarded area of acute danger yesterday as authorities awaited the explosion of delayed action bombs which plummeted to earth in an aircraft accident two days previously.

Astride one of the bombs was the broken body of a major who cannot be identified as yet. He lost his life when his bomb-laden fighter-bomber collided in flight Tuesday with a jet plane. The pilot of the jet parachuted successfully.

Because the bomb on which the major's body lay might detonate at any second, the body could not be recovered. Other bombs in the area already had exploded. A whole village was evacuated temporarily for the safety of the inhabitants.

Authorities said it will be days before the danger passes.

Allied planes dropped delayed action bombs around the target areas to prevent immediate rebuilding by the Communist enemy in North Korea. Bombs can be set to go off hours or days after they strike the earth.

Four Escape House Burning In Night

OWEN SOUND (CP)—Four Owen Sound residents escaped when flames roared through their frame home early today.

Mrs. Mabel Cummings, her two daughters, Marie, 18, and Gertie, 16, and her son Floyd, 21, fled the flames in night attire. Mrs. Cummings, a widow, lost all her belongings.

Sterling Lands May Get More Dollars From Fund

OTTAWA (CP) — The world's sterling-area countries, hungry for dollars, may soon be able to get more of them through more generous loans from the International Monetary Fund.

Financial informants said today that one of the main issues to be brought up before the fund's annual sessions in Mexico City will be a relaxation of its policies on short-term loans to countries in balance-of-payment difficulties.

On the books, the 54-country fund has some $8,000,000,000 in sterling or dollar assets, either put up or promised by its member countries for short-term lending policies. Canada's commitment is about $300,000,000. Altogether the fund has about $2,000,000,000 in hard dollar currency.

Informants said that some sterling-area countries have been complaining of difficulties of getting loans which would have helped them over a temporary shortage of dollars to meet international obligations on time.

GOLD PRICE

The sterling financial crisis likely will take up a big part of the official agenda, informants said. They added that so far as they were aware the question of a change in the official price of gold will not be brought up.

However, if it is, Canada likely will take a back-seat in discussions. Her view is that if a higher price for gold is available, she would like to get it, but she won't go after it if it means that the gold markets will lose its biggest customer—the United States.

The current official price for gold is fixed at $35 (US) per fine ounce. South Africa, the world's biggest gold producer, has led a campaign to get the U.S. to increase its price to $50 (U.S.). This the U.S. has declined to do.

Burglar Has Party In Belleville Home

BELLEVILLE (CP) — A burglar had a party last night.

He ransacked a house here and took a wallet and a signed cheque for $104.36.

Then he stole meat from the refrigerator and three bottles of beer. He also drank part of a bottle of whisky, leaving the empty bottle on the verandah.

Police Resting Up After Hefty Tussle With Lively Kleptomaniac Crow At Station

SALEM, Mass. (AP)—Police had it comparatively easy after the tobacco-chewing, kleptomanic crow was back where it belonged.

This is the story police tell:

The crow flew into a business office and began snatching pencils, cigarettes, lipsticks, erasers and paper clips from desks. When it tried to snatch some change, employees called police.

They brought the bird to headquarters where it continued its thieving ways by snatching a pencil from a sergeant's ear and cigarettes from his desk. The crow used the cigaretes to chew on.

What made the police real mad was when the crow tried to get away with a packet of parking tickets. Then Barbara Scott, 12, phoned to ask if police had seen her lost crow.

They sure did, they said, and would she please come after it right away? She did.

Lafrance Committed For Manslaughter Trial

OTTAWA (CP)—Albert Lafrance, 47, today was committed for trial on a reduced charge of manslaughter.

Magistrate Joachim Sauve ruled that Lafrance be tried on the manslaughter charge. Lafrance's preliminary hearing on a charge of murdering his fishing companion, Azel Bigras, ended today. Bigras was drowned in the Ottawa River near Parliament Hill July 4.

Two brothers, Jacques, 13, and Pierre Bilodeau, 14, testified they saw Lafrance and Bigras drinking on the banks of the Rideau Canal not far from where Bigras' body was found. Some time after dark they heard a splash.

Swiss Gunman Attacks British Tourist Family

NYON, Switzerland (Reuters)—A Swiss gunman attacked a British tourist family sleeping in their tent on the shores of Lake Geneva early yesterday, it was learned today.

The gunman, a 20-year-old farm laborer, fled when Creighton Harrison, 33, sleeping in the tent with his wife and two sons, awakened suddenly and tackled the intruder. The laborer was captured later by gendarmes, who found a loaded gun in his pocket.

Police here have been on the alert since the murder of Sir Jack Drummond, 61-year-old British food scientist, and his wife and daughter over the French border, about 150 miles away.

At Lurs in southern France, detectives hunting the assailant of the Drummond family today interrogated Gustave Dominici, the farmer who found the bodies, for the fifth time.

There is still a strong belief that Dominici is frightened and has not told all he knows of what happened 11 days ago when the British tourists were killed.

Today's questioning followed a letter received by police from Paris alleging that Dominici in 1944 bought an American carbine similar to the murder weapon.

Army Captain From Ottawa Red Prisoner

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's 927th and most unusual casualty of the Korean War was reported today—an army captain apparently taken prsioner after parachuting from a damaged plane two miles behind Red lines.

The army said Capt. Joseph Michael Liston, 32-year-old Ottawa artillery officer, is believed to have been captured only two weeks after arriving in the war theatre.

His light artillery spotter plane was hit by Communist fire while directing a counter bombardment by U.S. artillery in the bleak hills of Central Korea. A column of smoke rose soon after the crash, but UN planes reported they could see no sign of Liston.

Attempts by a helicopter to rescue him were turned back by enemy fire.

A former RAF pilot, he is the second Canadian reported a prisoner in Korea, although eight others among the 927 casualties are reported missing.

ONLY CANADIAN FLYING

He was the only Canadian flying aerial missions in support of UN artillery. Eye witnesses said Capt. Liston jumped after reporting his aircraft hit. They said his parachute opened.

He is a member of the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery and was attached as an air observer pilot to an RAF observation flight.

In reporting his aircraft hit before bailing out, Capt. Liston did not say he had been wounded. Although he had been in Korea less than two weeks, he had flown several missions in artillery support. He first joined the army in 1943 after leaving the RAF.

Capt. Liston's wife and two children live in Ottawa.

Ask Canada Help Curb Former Nazis

MONTREAL (CP) — A spokesman for the Canadian Jewish Congress has urged the Canadian government to prevent restoration of the rights and possessions of former Nazis in Austria.

Michael Garber, vice-chairman of the national executive of the congress, in a letter to L. Dana Wilgress, assistant under-secretary of state for external affairs, said "the laws recently passed by the Republic of Austria. . .Rehabilitates war criminals while denying justice to their victims."

He urged the Canadian government to use its influence with the Allied council responsible for occupation policy to withhold consent and thus prevent the laws from taking effect.

Mennonites Close Parley

BASEL, Switzerland (AP)—One thousand Mennonites, closing their fifth world conference here today, were told that the once 50,000-strong Mennonite community in Russia and East Prussia has been "almost entirely destroyed" since the start of the Second World War.

Dr. Harold Bender, dean of the Mennonite seminary at Goshen College, Indiana, and chairman of the conference, said that one-third were killed in the war and most of the rest fled to other countries.

"There are still a few isolated communites in Russia," he said, "and towards them we have a special responsibility of prayer."

The extremely conservative, 15,000-strong "Old Amish" Mennonite group in the United States, which refuses to use either automobiles or electricity, was not represented at the conference. Dr. Bender explained "they don't believe in having their photographs taken so they cannot get passports."

The next world Mennonite assembly is to be held somewhere in Europe in 1957.

Farm Prices Climbing First Time In Year

OTTAWA (CP)—Farm prices of agricultural products are on the way up for the first time in a year. The Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday the turning point came in June.

The bureau's index for June, based on 1935-39 equalling 100, stood at 263.7 compared with 257.8 in May and 300.7 in the same month in 1951. The increase occurred in all provinces.

The bureau said the June gain was attributable mainly to higher prices for livestock, potatoes, poultry and eggs. These offset slightly lower average prices for grains and dairy products.

Egyptian Government ReimposesCensorship

CAIRO (AP)—Egypt's new reform government today imposed censorship on all outgoing news stories after only a few days of free reporting.

Premier Aly Maher had granted reporters freedom from the strict Egyptian censors in a decree last Sunday. Censorship had been enforced rigidly by former King Farouk's regime, particularly to stifle criticism of the royal family.

The sudden shift did not come as a complete surprise, even though Anwar Habib, the country's chief censor, said yesterday that censorship would not be reimposed. Habib said then that press freedom did not extend to news involving security of the army or the state. He did not elaborate.

Newspaper men in Cairo regard this as, in effect, a fresh imposition of censorship.

Rush Special Tank To Save Baby's Life

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Provincial police early today rushed a tank of carbogen—a mixture of oxygen and carbon dioxide—from St. Joseph's Hospital here to Strathroy General Hospital to save a sick baby.

A Strathroy hospital official said they had run out of the gas and urgently needed more to treat the infant. Police delivered the tank within half an hour.

The gas is used instead of pure oxygen which would be too strong for infants in some cases.

Strathroy officials declined to disclose the child's illness or its name.

Boat Rammed On Chemong Seven Escape

Seven people, two of them small boys unable to swim, escaped serious injury or drowning Wednesday afternoon in Chemong Lake when an outboard motor boat rammed another boat anchored about 50 feet off the Ennismore side.

Four women and a six-year-old boy were enjoying an afternoon of fishing, when to their horror, they suddenly saw an outboard motor boat coming directly toward them.

Its prow was up in the air and there did not appear to be anyone in it, said Mrs. Jack Merritt, 363 Leslie St., whose right knee was injured when the boat crashed through the side of the boat in which Mrs. Merritt was sitting with her mother, Mrs. John Peers, Helen Brazen and her sister Mrs. Vincent Richards and small nephew Larry Richards.

As it turned out, Gordon McWilliams, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace E. McWilliams, 479 Bonaccord St., was at the helm of the outboard which struck the boat Mrs. Merritt and her party were in.

PROW HIGH

His weight, plus that of the motor, made the craft stern heavy and as a result he was unable to see anything ahead of him, and the women in the boat he hit could not see him.

Four-year-old Roger Black had been riding in the prow of the outboard the McWilliams boy was piloting but, when he saw the two boats were about to collide, he apparently became frightened and ducked under the deck of the boat instead of warning Gordon of the danger.

Although he had no warning that a collision was immenent, the training Gordon's father had given him in how to handle the boat paid off after the accident.

Gordon cut the motor immediately and the other boat in which the four women and small boy were did not overturn. They managed to push the two craft apart and the women pushed out the bashed in side of the boat they were in. Gordon then sped off for his parents' cottage on shore.

The McWilliams boat then returned to the marooned party and transferred them aboard.

They were then taken to the McWilliams' cottage and later were taken back across the lake.

Mrs. Merritt's injury was attended by Dr. Herbert N. Young. Several stitches were required to close the wound and Mrs. Merritt who is a hairdresser is expected to be unable to work for some time.

Perry Identifies Suchan As Man Firing At Tong

TORONTO (CP)—Sgt. of Detectives Edmund Tong was killed without warning last March 6 by a bullet fired by Val Lesso after a police cruiser had followed Lesso and Leonard Jackson for several blocks, Magistrate Elmore was told Thursday. Det.-Sgt. Roy Perry identified Lesso, alias Steve Suchan, as the one who fired at Tong. Sgt. Perry said he was struck in the right arm when Jackson opened fire over the top of the Lesso-driven car.

Lesso and Jackson are jointly charged with the murder of Tong. Their preliminary hearing yesterday was suddenly adjourned until Aug. 22, when it will be adjourned again to Aug. 29, so that Dr. W. C. Fielden, provincial pathologist, can testify.

Tong and Perry were driving north on Roncesvalles Ave. when they spotted a large black sedan turning north off Wright Ave. Perry said they had a particular reason for following the car but he did not state the reason.

Near College St. and Lansdowne Ave. Tong leaned out of the police cruiser and called out: "Pull over, boys," to the two men in the black sedan. Tong got out and was walking toward the sedan, which had pulled over, when the shooting began.

SAW TONG FALL

"There was a report, and I saw Tong turn and fall to the ground," said Sgt. Perry. "As he fell to the ground I applied the emergency brakes, then I saw a flash of fire. I threw up my right arm. Suddenly I felt a pain in it and the arm went limp."

Sgt. Perry said he blacked out at that point—he couldn't say for how long—"and then some one gave me a shake and said 'Are you all right?' I seemed to come to, and saw the car going east on College."

He notified the police dispatcher on the radio, warning him that the car contained two men and that they were armed, Sgt. Perry said.

First witness called by Crown Attorney William Gibson was Betty Hucul who said that she had known Lesso for about a year and had been introduced to Jackson by Lesso in August, 1951. She saw Lesso and Jackson having supper in the kitchen of her Wright Ave. rooming house on the evening of March 5 last.

LEFT HOUSE

The following day, between 12:30 and 1 p.m., she saw Lesso and Jackson leave the house. Jackson was wearing horn-rimmed glasses, she said. It was the first time she had ever seen him wearing glasses.

Shortly after Lesso and Jackson left the rooming house her landlady's daughter, Anne Camero, asked her to call police and report her car stolen, Miss Hucul said. She dialed the number and Miss Camero reported the theft.

Lesso, dressed in grey suit, was represented by John Brooke. Jackson was coatless and wore a blue shirt, open at the neck. He was not represented by counsel.

Sgt. Perry was making his first court appearance since the shooting. He appeared nervous and ill at ease, but told his story without hesitation.

No F-M Disease In Canada Gardiner Tells Cattle Men

VAUXHALL, Alta. (CP)—Canada now is among the major livestock countries which have no foot-and-mouth disease among their livestock, Agriculture Minister Gardiner said yesterday.

Mr. Gardiner, officiating at opening ceremonies of a school, urged livestock men to hold their cattle until the United States lifts the embargo applied on Canadian animals after the outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease near Regina last February. He said the government hopes it definitely can declare Canada free of the highly-contagious disease next Tuesday.

Following this announcement, the next move will be to convince the United States the disease no longer is present in Canada. United States law requires a further two-month wait before the embargo is lifted. After that, it is up to that country to decide when it will permit entry of Canadian livestock.

He said there is no basis for reports that the United States has decided not to lift the embargo until next spring. No decision of any kind had been made south of the border about the embargo because Canada has not said she is free of the disease.

"We're suggesting that you shold not sell any more cattle than you have to to the packing plants until the embargo is lifted," Mr. Gardiner said.

The meat moved to two places from the plants: the domestic market and for export. Canada normally sends one-third as much meat to the United States as is eaten at home.

"Put that other third on the domestic market and the fellow who wants cheap beef will get it cheaper than he ever dreamed of," Mr. Gardiner declared This extra meat on Canadian markets would put the price down to where it was before the war, he predicted, and "no one wants that."

Steel Strike Costs U.S. 544,000 Units

DETROIT (AP)—The recent steel strike has cost the auto industry an estimated 544,000 units of production, Ward's Automotive Reports estimated today.

U.S. Marines Crush New Red Attacks

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—United States marines twice today crushed Chinese Communist attacks on Bunker Hill in the latest of a series of western-front battles which the U.S. command said has cost the Reds 3,014 in dead and wounded since last Saturday.

United Nations fighter-bombers strafed and plastered Red positions with bombs, rockets, and jellied gasoline as the marines forced back 200 Chinese who tried to advance on the battle-scarred hill this afternoon.

A briefing officer estimated 39 Communists were killed in the one-hour battle, the sixth futile Red attempt to recapture Bunker Hill.

Before dawn today, marines repulsed a 400-man force which launched a sneak attack on the hill from two directions.

The marines seized it early Tuesday, the fourth day of fighting in the area.

Princess 2, Gossips Already Picking Husband

BALMORAL, Scotland — (AP) — Princess Anne, a bright little blonde with a sparkle in her eye, is two today, and court gossips already are picking her a husband.

The speculation ranges over a wide list of blue-bloods-in-shortpants, all of them young aristocrats whose family connections are bound to bring them near the young British princess.

But her future dancing partners held little interest for Anne this morning. The excitement centred entirely on the birthday celebration —a program starting at breakfast with the presentation of gifts.

There were presents from her big brother, 3½-year-old Prince Charles, and a couple of big ones from her royal parents, the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh.

Anne now can string her words into a full sentence and chat with her talkative brother.

Despite her royal standing, Anne follows much the same routine as any other pre-school child. Like her favorite aunt, Princess Margaret, little Anne is assured of a full list of blue-blooded suitors to wait attendance on her when she reaches the boy-and-girl stage. Those who are busy picking a possible husband point out several eligibles among the children of the Queen's friends.

There's the four-year-old Lord Hay—his friends call him Merlin. Or five-year-old Viscount Borodale —David to his intimates. Or the four-year-old Viscount Ipswich.

Dapper as always, the 62-year-old gambler wore a blue flannel pencil-striped suit and blue tie as he entered the federal court house to begin an 18-month sentence.

General Wins First Skirmish With Truman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's advisers feel the general won his first direct campaign skirmish with President Truman in turning down an invitation to attend White House briefings on the world situation.

The Republican presidential candidate got a lot of headlines by saying "no" to the president. He said that one reason he rejected Truman's bid yesterday was because he wanted to be free to criticize the administration's foreign policy.

The president countered later in the day by saying he endorsed a 1951 senate document which said United States foreign policy "in the past decade has, in general, been bi-partisan."

MAJOR ISSUE

This was seen by some as a move to put the Republicans in a spot where they can't criticize something they helped develop. But party leaders made it clear that foreign policy would be a major campaign issue.

There was no immediate comment on the Truman-Eisenhower manoeuvring from the Democratic presidential candidate, Governor Adlai Stevenson, whose recent White House visit touched off the whole thing.

Shorter Winters And Longer Summers Pictured In Future By Glacier Expert

WASHINGTON, (AP) — A glacier expert Thursday night pictured the earth as gradually growing warmer for the last 100 years—with shorter winters and longer summers.

With this has come a northward migration of birds, animals and fish in the northern hemisphere, said Dr. Hans W. Ahlmann, the Swedish ambassador to Norway and famous glaciologist. He spoke before the International Geographical Union.

This movement started at the end of the 18th century and has accelerated since 1900, he said.

"We do not know enough yet," he added, "to predict whether or not the present climatic warmup will continue. Some scientists feel that the warmer trend is now levelling off and that we will enter a colder period in the next 10 years."

Ahlmann said that whatever the ftuure holds the change will be the first in world history which can be measured, investigated and possibly explained.

A clue to the warmup has been in the study of glaciers, which Ahlmann called the most sensitive climate thermometers known to man. He said almost all glaciers in the northern hemisphere and some in the southern are receding.

"R.C. Henry of Montreal is likely to be a member of the authority, while Mr. Lindsay is also scheduled to have an important place either with or as a member of, the authority."

Expect To Sell 91,000 TV Sets Before January

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Items from here and there:

The television industry, according to spokesmen, expects to sell 91,000 TV sets in the Ontario and Quebec areas between now and the end of the year.

Canadian Westinghouse Co., Ltd., reports that TV orders provide the main impetus for sales totalling $1,160,000 at its recent three-day display in Toronto for Ontario dealers.

Naugatuck chemical division of Dominion Rubber Company announces that it will exhibit a plastic automobile body at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto Aug. 22-Sept. 13.

The material used is a combination of vibrin polyester resins and glass fibre and now is being produced at Naugatuck's plant at Elmira, Ont. Naugatuck says of the new car body:

"It is molded in one piece, is approximately one-fifth of an inch thick and weighs 185 pounds. It will not dent under accidents which in conventional car bodies now result in crumpled fenders and doors.

"To test its strength, it was driven into a tree at 25 miles an hour. The test resulted in a crack approximately 14 inches in length at the point of impact. The crack was repaired with a patch of glass fibre and vibrin plastic within an hour."

Greenshields and Company, Montreal investment house, in a current review of the stock market, makes the following comment on company earnings:

"Many reports have not yet been published, so that it is not possible to estimate the general trend of profits in the first half of the year.

"It seems, however, that base metals, oils and utilities have done well, while papers and golds have registered small declines.

"In the second half, the effects of the appreciation of the Canadian dollar and of increased costs will be felt more severely by many industries, unless the recent improvement in consumption results in a corresponding rise in profits.

"In any case, it would appear that most Canadian corporations will cover by a safe margin their current annual dividends."

ORDAIN SINGER — Oscar O'Brien, 60-year-old former director of the French-Canadian Alouette singing quartette, is to be ordained a priest in the Roman Catholic order of Benedictine Fathers at St. Benoit du Lac Monastery, near Sherbrooke, Que. Under his direction the quartette played a command performance before the late King George VI and Queen Elizabeth when their majesties visited Canada in 1939.

Say Reds Trying To Correct Propaganda Mistakes

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—State department officials believe that the Russians, in their hymn of hate against the United States, have hit a sour note which their propaganda directors are suddenly trying to soft pedal.

The situation created an opening for a U.S. propaganda counter-attack which the office of America has been pressing for some weeks. Officials say Russian reaction indicates the counter-attack is worrying the Kremlin.

Here is what happened:

The Soviet Union always tried to present itself to the world as a friend of all peoples and an enemy only of small groups of "warmongers," "enemies of peace".

ATTACKED U.S. ARMY

However, for many months the Soviet propagandists have attacked the whole American army as an army of "monsters" and "cannibals" guilty of committing the most violent atrocities.

Coupling this with the germ-warfare campaign they have pictured the U. S. as a country capable of the most horrible crimes.

U. S. REPLIED

Taking all these elements together, the office of America began telling the world that the Soviet Union was conducting a "hate-America" campaign, blackening the reputation of a whole people for the first time in Soviet history.

In recent days two Soviet publications, "News" and "New Times," have carried articles disavowing any such campaign, and restating that the Russians love everybody.

Similar denials and protests have been voiced by Russian radio commentators, usually in English or some other non-Russian language.

Have The Japanese Changed?

One of the most discussed topics in Britain today is the sentence passed by a Japanese civil court on a British soldier. All shades of political opinion are united in demanding his release to the British military authorities. Strong indignation has been aroused, and this apparently trivial incident has blighted Anglo-Japanese relations and rocked the Japanese government.

* * *

From a legal standpoint the Japanese refusal to hand over the prisoner is quite correct. There is as yet no agreement such as the Americans have negotiated with Japan where British troops on duty in Japan may be tried by their own military courts. The Japanese government has been placed in an awkward position. The court that sentenced the British soldier appears to have acted quite independently and without the knowledge of the Japanese government. This of course is fully in accordance with the principles instilled into the Japanese during the American military occupation that the government should not meddle with judicial affairs. If the government orders the release of the prisoner it will undermine a sound democratic principle of the separation of the administrative and judicial functions. We do not suggest that there is any way out: an act of clemency on the part of the Mikado would be a useful legal fiction, though this would make it awkward for the British if they felt that a retrial was necessary. Another difficulty at this stage is the need for saving face on the part of both parties.

* * *

Canadian reaction so far has been generally one of unconcern, one might almost say Olympian detachment. They cannot understand why Britain is making such a fuss over so trivial an incident. Some blame the British for trying to continue outmoded ideas of white supremacy. But there is more to it than that. Britain cannot forget the savage treatment of prisoners-of-war by the Japanese. Thousands of British troops and civilians were systematically neglected, ill-treated, starved and murdered between 1942 and 1945. Great changes have come over the Japanese since then, but the British cannot be blamed for showing some apprehension over the treatment of British prisoners in Japanese jails.

* * *

We Canadians have apparently forgotten the fate of the Canadians in Hong-Kong. We quote from the official historical summary. The Canadian Army 1939-45: "Canada's losses in this tragic episode were heavy. A total of 23 officers and 267 other ranks were killed or died of wounds. This includes a number who were wantonly murdered by the Japanese at the time of their capture or shortly afterwards. The enemy sullied his victory at Hong-Kong by acts of barbarism worthy of savages; there were particularly brutal outrages against the patients and staffs of hospitals and aid posts . . . The harrowing experiences of the prisoners can only be outlined here. Until early in 1943 all the Canadians were kept in camps at Hong-Kong. Mainly as a result of conditions in these camps, four officers and 125 other ranks died there; among these were four soldiers shot by the Japanese without trial when captured after escaping."

We note that Canada, in common with Britain, has no arrangement for trying her own troops on leave or detachment in Japan. We should certainly see to it that we are not left out of any future agreement.

Saturday Night's Bath

Saturday Night, side-stepping our fair and reasonable request that it make a count of Saturday night bathtubs in Canada, slips on the bath mat. It says that our request "indicates a mind still living in the nineteenth century, and unaware of the fact that it is many, many years since there ceased to be any connection, in Canada at least, between taking a bath and the eve of the Sabbath." Tosh! whatever century our mind is in, it is at least in Canada. Saturday Night reveals that its mind (sic) is only in Toronto. Baths a couple of times a week at least must be necessary there, considering the soot and sin. The trouble with Torontonians and the Toronto Saturday Night is that they do not know how the rest of Canada lives. Why, Saturday Night even says that Monday wash-day has also become obsolete in Canada.

The Customer Is Always Right

According to reports the British shopper is still putting up with shoddy goods and poor service even in the case of goods which have become plentiful. The reason given for this is that the older women have forgotten what it was like to be able to pick and choose and the younger generation has not had a chance to learn. The wartime shortages were a good deal more acute in Britain and they have lasted much longer. Now that a greater choice in many lines of goods is available the discriminating buyer has almost died out.

In Canada the case is different. Shortages and rationing are a thing of the distant past and there is a dazzling array of products on sale. At the same time prices have risen steeply since the end of the war, and though wages have also gone up customers are doing more "looking around" before buying. Peterborough is particularly well supplied with stores for its size, and new premises are continually being erected. The older-established businesses have in many cases modernized their premises, realizing that customers are attracted to bright and commodious salesrooms. This city serves not only the needs of its own citizens but also a large rural area; above all it caters to our summer visitors from all parts of this continent. Shoppers in Peterborough are assured of prompt and courteous service, a wide range of goods and reasonable prices. Many extremely advantageous bargains are available at the various sales.

Although we consider that our stores are giving their customers such excellent service there are one or two aspects which merit attention. Window display has made considerable strides, but it still needs a lighter and more imaginative touch. "Can I help you" is often the very thing for a stores clerk to say, but when snapped out in a wooden tone of voice to all and sundry it can have a deterrent effect on many customers. The success of the groceteria is due in some measure to the fact that the customer is left to choose for himself.

Alpha, Beta Gamma

There is a spark in the powder-keg of Europe. An insignificant little island in the middle of a river separating Bulgaria from Greece is the cause of the trouble; its name is Gamma. The Greek frontier with Bulgaria runs along the North of a narrow strip of Greek territory in the North-East of the country on the fringes of the Aegean Sea. Owing to its indefensible nature the Greeks are particularly sensitive to this frontier. They have always been on the opposite side of the political fence to the Bulgarians, who fell into line with Germany during both World Wars, while the Greeks espoused the allied cause. Today the differences are even more acute, as Bulgaria is a Communist country while Greece is held together by American aid. We can scarcely draw a parallel between the bickering for this tiny island that is too small to figure in most atlases and the peaceful state of the Thousand Islands of the St. Lawrence unless we were to imagine that the United States was a communist country and Canada about 50 miles wide at that point.

In spite of the explosive possibilities of the Gamma incident it would result in a Balkan war only if one or other of the Great Powers were to give the go-ahead sign. The dangers of this developing into a general conflagration are so obvious that we doubt whether even the Soviets would be guilty of such rashness. The time for quick land-grabs has passed.

Still Lord Of Language

Many hints have been made of recent months that Winston Churchill's days of power are numbered. His deafness is increasing, and there are reports of dissatisfaction from within the ranks of his own party. No doubt his powers are on the wane, though they are remarkable for a man of his age who has led such an active life and has been so unsparing of his energy.

He still remains the master of the lapidary phrase. We have often tried to depict Britain's economic plight and we have often read the reports of others, but the situation has never been more concisely and graphically described than in Mr. Churchill's speech to the House of Commons on July 30. He said, "My resolve is that the people should realise how different is their position from that of other Western communities—fifty millions of us standing at a level of civilization unsurpassed in the world, and yet barely able to earn our living and pay our way. Tragic indeed is the spectacle of the majesty and dominion and power of a once magnificent and still considerable British Empire having to worry and wonder how we can pay our monthly bills. I fully admit that I am tortured by the thought and by the processes which I see around me, and I will do everything in my power to bring home to the mass of our race and nation the sense of peril and the need for brave and far-reaching activities."

The mind that can sum up the situation with words of such sober clarity can scarcely be written off as completely senile.

Ticket To Morecambe

By PHILIP VERNON

ANYONE WHO CAN TAKE a ticket to the Lancashire seaside resort of Morecambe on September 29 will be sure of a week's good entertainment. That is the day when the annual conference of the (British) Labour Party opens, and the events of the past fortnight make it certain that it will be no ordinary conference.

Two things have happened which suggest that though the gulf between the official leadership, on the one hand, and Mr. Aneurin Bevan and his associates, on the other, may not have widened, it is even less likely than before that it can be bridged.

THE FIRST is the dispute between Mr. Clement Attlee and Mr. Bevan over the disclosure of Cabinet secrets. There is a firm constitutional rule in Britain that discussions in Cabinet should not be revealed. Yet on July 30 Mr. Bevan claimed in the House of Commons that it was only as a result of his personal insistence that Mr. Attlee, as Prime Minister, inserted into his statement of the Labour Government's defence policy in January, 1951, the "cautionary words" that the carrying out of the rearmament programme depended on the necessary supplies of raw materials and machine tools being available.

This—even if true—was a disclosure of Cabinet proceedings against which Mr. Attlee protested in a personal statement in the House of Commons on the following day. Twenty-four hours later Mr. Bevan made a similar statement, claiming that once he had resigned, he was absolved from the need to keep Cabinet secrets if they were relevant to the reasons for his resignation. This, as constitutional authorities have hastened to point out, is quite untrue. Mr. Bevan was clearly in the wrong, since he had not asked to be freed from his obligations as a Privy Councillor not to reveal Cabinet secrets.

IT IS NOT, however, the constitutional aspect of the question which is most interesting. Rather it is the light which is shed by this incident on the present condition of the Labour Party. To make a personal statement in the House of Commons is the way in which a politician can give the most prominence to whatever he has to say. That Mr. Attlee should have resorted to this method of reproving Mr. Bevan—thus forcing Mr. Bevan to make a similar statement—is a clear indication of how wide is the gap between the two men.

MR. ATTLEE, in effect, was publicly accusing Mr. Bevan, not only of a breach of constitutional practice but of personally dishonourable conduct. After such an accusation it is very hard to see that he and Mr. Bevan can ever again serve in the same Cabinet. In other words, if Mr. Attlee is the next Labour Prime Minister, Mr. Bevan will more than likely be excluded from the Cabinet—or be offered the kind of post which he has no choice but to refuse. This will quite naturally strengthen any impulse Mr. Bevan may already have to wrest the leadership from Mr. Attlee before it is too late.

The importance of this can scarcely be over-emphasised. The threat to the Labour Party's unity does not lie in any disagreement over policy. It lies in the increasing personal estrangement of Mr. Attlee and Mr. Bevan. The incident in the House of Commons last week revealed in public for the first time how unlikely it is that they can ever "make it up".

THE SECOND DEVELOPMENT has been the unexpectedly aggressive spirit suddenly shown by the opponents of Mr. Bevan. Three ex-Ministers — none of them inconsiderable—have one after the other attacked the Bevanites in much stronger terms than they have ever used before. Mr. Richard Stokes—formerly Minister of Materials — has complained of the existence of "a party within the party". Mr. Patrick Gordon-Walker—formerly Secretary of State for Commonwealth Relations—has made exactly the same complaint. And Lork Pakenham—formerly Minister of Civil Aviation—again repeated the charge, adding: "I do not know a single Labour M.P., Bevanite or non-Bevanite, who supposes that the present situation can continue much longer without deep and lasting damage to the Labour Party".

The accusation that Mr. Bevan has created a "party within the party" is the most damaging that can be made against him: it is calculated to arouse all the loyalties which have held the Labour Party together through fifty stormy years. For this reason the Bevanites profess to see in the statements made by Mr. Stokes, Mr. Gordon-Walker and Lord Pakenham the first evidence of a planned campaign to discredit Mr. Bevan and his friends before the Morecambe Conference. Even if this were true, it is rather comic to hear the complaint from those who for the past year have done their utmost to discredit the official leadership before the Conference.

BUT IS IT TRUE? It is not true, it is safe to say, in the sense that Mr. Attlee or Mr. Herbert Morrison (deputy leader of the Opposition),—or the two of them together—have called their lieutenants around them and given the order for attack. It is true in the sense that a good many of the opponents of Mr. Bevan within the Labour Party have decided that he has had the field all to himself for too long—in short, that the time has come to use against him the same weapons which he has been using for so long against them.

What truth, then, is there in the charge that Mr. Bevan and his friends are acting as a party within the party? It depends what one takes the phrase to mean. Clearly in any party at any time there are certain members who tend to associate with one another and act together. At what stage does this concerted action transform itself into action as "a party within the party"? It is certain that there is some dividing line. When Lord Randolph Churchill and some of his friends acted independently of the official Conservative leadership from 1880 to 1886—while remaining members of the Conservative Party—they were given (and accepted) the title of the Fourth Party.

HAVE THE BEVANITES reached this point? They, of course, deny it. But it is known that they hold regular meetings before the meetings of the Parliamentary Labour Party. These meetings are not concerned solely or even primarily with working out a common attitude to contemporary political issues: they are held to decide what tactics should be employed inside the Parliamentary Labour Party to outmanoeuvre the official leadership on whatever issues the Bevanites choose to seek to fight on. Their discussions of the tactics to be used cover even such details as who shall present the Bevanite case—both inside the Parliamentary Party and in the House of Commons—and during them they explore every opportunity of forcing the official leadership into an awkward corner.

This is something quite different from the discussions of the old "Keep Left" group which used to be little more than an undergraduates' debating society within the Labour Party. One fact illustrates this far more vividly than any other. A senior Minister in the Labour Government, who agreed and still agrees with Mr. Bevan on many questions, did not resign with Mr. Bevan in April 1951, although Mr. Bevan fully expected that he would. For more than twenty years he had been a close associate and personal friend of Mr. Bevan. Though he firmly disagrees with Mr. Bevan on the question of rearmament, his approach to many questions is still sufficiently similar to make it natural that the two men should frequently meet and discuss political questions.

YET THEY DO NOT MEET in this informal way. "After twenty years", said this ex-Minister to me, "I no longer have Nye's political confidence. I can no longer have a real political discussion with him, however much I would like it." This ex-Minister has, in fact, to pick up his information about Mr. Bevan's views and intentions from the gossip which travels round the Smoking Room at the House of Commons. This could only be the case if Mr. Bevan and his associates regard themselves as a tight organisation inside the party which must keep its intentions secret.

It is precisely the fact that Mr. Bevan and his friends never openly discuss their intentions or their next move with any other section of the party which gives to all their actions the character of a conspiracy. In the end this could be most damaging to Mr. Bevan's reputation inside the Labour party—and, indeed, the latest Gallup poll on the question shows how much it has already slumped within the past three months among Labour's rank-and-file supporters. It is, therefore, unlikely that his opponents will drop the charge that he has organised "a party within the party", and the more they make it, the more he will resent it. Unless a miracle happens, the personal relations of the leaders of the Labour Party will be so strained when the Morecambe Conference starts that it is hard to see how bitterness can be kept out of its debates.

GREAT EXPECTATIONS

Pakistan's Worst Locust Plague

By O.M. GREEN

"Pakistan today is undergoing possibly the biggest locust invasion in the history of the sub-continent," according to a statement just issued by the Pakistani Director of Plant Protection in Karachi.

Notwithstanding the good international work in fighting the abnormal swarms which started from Somaliland in January, several swarms invaded Pakistan from the West. Assisted by heavy monsoon rains, the Director says, extensive breeding is taking place from the North-West Frontier Province down through the Punjab, Bahawalpur, Khaipur, Baluchistan and Sind, and even in the suburbs of Karachi where one swarm twenty miles long by five wide is noted.

This area (except Baluchistan, which mostly grows fruit) is almost wholly devoted to wheat, now urgently needed to supplement Asia's rice shortage. Asia's supplies this year, the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organisation has estimated, are likely to be at least four million tons below the required amount.

New Delhi also reports large-scale breeding and egg-laying in Rajasthan (formerly Rajputana) and parts of the Indian half of the Punjab, stimulated as usual by the monsoon.

An abnormal plague of locusts in China (these start from the upper reaches of the Yellow River) is giving the Communists much concern. The locusts have spread right down to East China and South of the Yangtze, where they are rarely seen.

"They Can Afford It"

(Frankfurter Allgemeine Zeitung)

England has made up her mind in future to smile at the tirades of the Dean of Canterbury, just as she smiles at the Hyde Park speakers who call Churchill and Attlee murderers and traitors. They can afford to smile at them, just as they can afford to have a Red Dean at all. The make-up of this people and the structure of English society are still so strong that they are capable of distinguishing between a political clown and a dangerous enemy . . . On their island they still cherish the principle that it is better to allow ten fools to talk nonsense than to muzzle one fool—a principle which clearly shows England's internal stability.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

I love the Lord, because he hath heard my voice and my supplications. . . .

I will walk before the Lord in the land of the living (Ps. 116:1, 9.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And after six days Jesus taketh with him Peter, and James, and John, and leadeth them up into an high mountain apart by themselves: and he was transfigured before them. And his raiment became shining, exceeding white as snow; so as no fuller on earth can white them. And there appeared unto them Elias with Moses; and they were talking with Jesus. And Peter answered and said to Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles: one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias. For he wist not what to say; for they were sore afraid.

And there was a cloud that overshadowed them: and a voice came out of the cloud saying, This is my beloved Son: hear him. (Mark 9:2-7.)

Letter To The Editor

BAD ROAD, NO THANKS; GOOD PAPER, THANKS

Sir: Do you know you have the unique distinction of having the worst stretch of road, that is the Buckhorn Road, between Detroit and Buckhorn. We travelled over 700 miles to our cottage on Little Chemong Lake and back home, over wonderful roads until we reached that washboard of an excuse for a road.

To Mr. Gray's comments in your paper of last week, let me add the dust is terrific and blinding and at night could easily cause an accident. Quite often when we wanted to go to Peterborough from the cottage to shop we decided we couldn't take it. The road must be a terrific handicap to places like Buckhorn Lodge. From Buckhorn to Club Whitesands the road is wonderful.

I have meant to write before to tell you how much my husband and I enjoy your papers. Your editorials are gems. I hope the good citizens of Peterborough appreciate the man who writes them. If there were only more Canadians and Americans like him truly our continent of North America could stand united against all the world. My sister-in-law has been good enough to mail us your paper ever since she was over here on a visit last March. The Examiner was mailed to her here and when she saw how much I enjoyed it she promised to send it daily on her return home.

Sincerely,
(MRS.) KATHRYN C. STUART.

Newspapers Have Field Day On Foreigners' Behaviour

By WARREN WHITE

TOKYO (Reuters)—Japanese newspapers, after six years of restraint under the occupation, now are mincing no words about the behavior of foreigners in Japan.

Recent months have seen widespread newspaper charges against foreign troops, including allegations of "raping sprees" and "terror waves."

There has in fact been a flood of "now-it-can-be-told" occupation stories which the authorities have frequently admitted are not justified.

When the removal of the occupation's censorship on anti-foreign newspaper reports have come daily stories of soldier crimes which have worrried troop commanders and foreign diplomats.

Foreign traders, too, have received attention.

Foreign diplomats admit many incidents are true. But they say that even in the true reports the truth appears often to have been twisted for use in an anti-foreign campaign.

STORIES DEBUNKED

During the occupation, newspapers were forbidden to report soldiers' crimes. Newspapers got around this by describing an alleged criminal as "a big man" or "a person appearing to have light hair."

Leading Japanese dailies have in recent weeks reported a "reign of terror" by British Commonwealth troops at Kure in southern Japan.

The "Asahi" on July 3, under the heading "Kure, City of Terror," reported 28 crimes by Canadian, British, Australian and New Zealand troops in two months after Japan regained her independence.

A British Commonwealth military spokesman publicly debunked the report, quoting both Japanese and Commonwealth military police records to show that so-called "crimes" were mostly petty offences.

Two other leading papers, "Yomiuri" and "Tokyo Shimbun," after sending their own reporters to Kure to investigate, described the reports as exaggerated.

The newspapers said relations between Japanese and British Commonwealth troops at Kure were "very unharmonious."

Killed In Fall

Jane's twin, Joanne, (right), just doesn't seem to care.

He found it.

Price Index Gets 'New Look', On New Bases

By HAROLD MORRISON

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's official price index has been more than two years getting its "new look," but when it's finally established about next October it will be about as hard to look at as it ever was.

Although it will be slimmed to a mere silhouette of its former self, the index will still reflect the hard facts of current price trends They now lean towards a return to the old cost-of-living peak of 191.5 reached last December.

But because the index will be based on a new point in time, 1949 instead of the 1935-39 period, the peak will appear to have suddenly slipped down to around 120.00. Actually the peak will not have changed because the figures are different.

JOB OF CONVERSION

It's just a matter of converting the old cost-of-living index to the new consumer price index. The Bureau of Statistics tackled the conversion job to give Canadians a more up-to-date view of consumer prices in line with the climb in liing standards.

The United States is doing a similar conversion job. It started before Canada, but Canada hopes to get a new price measure out first. The U.S. is switching its postwar base to 1947-49. This also will make the U.S. index look as though it had dropped suddenly.

Officials here agree there will be some confusion, and for that reason they plan to run the new and old index styles side-by-side for several months, dropping the old gauge entirely early next year.

The change is simply a matter of shifting the base period. Under the old index, the 1935-39 prices equalled 100. Any increase in prices since then was added to the 100 figure. That provided a general gauge on how consumer prices moved all through the war and post-war years.

LATER STANDARD

The new index compares prices with four years after the end of the year, the 1949 fitures. Prices in that year—which had climbed sharply since the previous 1935-39 base period—form the 100 base level for the new index. Increases since then, and there have been quite a few, will be added to the nw 100.

The switch is nothing new, for periodic changes of the base level have been going on ever since Canada started her first retail price index in 1913.

Under the current 1935-39 base, the cost-of-living index last June, for example, was 188.0; under the new consumer price index it would be about 118.0. It may give you a sudden jolt to find the official index dropping so sharply. If you don't realize at first the base level has been switched, a glance at the pocket-book may show things haven't changed.

Don't Need Plugging

SOUTHAMPTON, England (Reuters)—Scotch whisky and gin are two British products which don't have to be plugged in the United States by their exporters, Sir William Wiseman, chairman of Britain's dollar export council committee in New York, said yesterday. "They sell themselves," he reported.

French Explorer Dies Of Injuries

LICQ-ATHERY, France (AP)—Death came last night to underground explorer Marcel Loubens, 1,000 feet down in the Pyrenees, just before the midnight hour when rescuers hoped to bring him out. His back was broken Wednesday in a fall down a fissure, one of the world's deepest.

The 33-year-old Paris industrialist and underground enthusiast got his injuries when a steel cable hauling him to the surface of the 153-foot Pierre St. Martin fissure snapped after he had been lifted 120 feet. His body hurtled to the floor of the big hole. His spine and jaw were fractured.

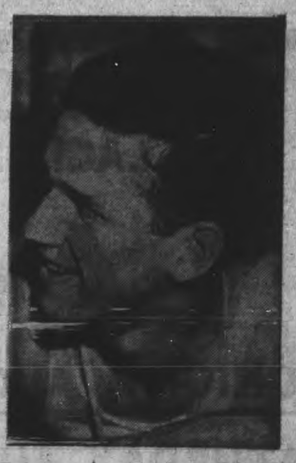
How Your Donation Helps the Youngsters Of Peterborough

For the past five years the Peterborough Minor Lacrosse Association has been operating teams in tadpole, peewee, bantam, midget and juvenile leagues. From fifteen to twenty teams are formed each year. A full-time supervisor is employed during the summer months, to properly instruct the youths of Peterborough, in the game of lacrosse. Harry Wipper, coach of the P.M.L.A., is an experienced senior player and is considered well qualified to instruct the players of the minor leagues.

Along with operating city leagues, teams from each league, are entered in Ontario lacrosse playoffs, thus affording them competition with out-of-town teams. The work of the P.M.L.A. is highly regarded in Ontario Lacrosse circles.

Lads of all ages are welcomed at Miller Bowl. They are placed on a team and receive the benefits of good coaching. Lacrosse sticks are provided for those who require them.



A considerable amount of money is required to carry out this program. To raise a portion of the required funds, players, team managers and girl taggers from the Minor Lacrosse Association will be selling tastsy packages of Life Savers on Saturday, August 16th. Lakefield Wins First 9-7 From East City Nine U.E.W. Trip Revoys 12-8

Men's senior city softball semi-finals opened Thursday night at the East City Bowl, before a bumper crowd, as Seabrooke Motors opposed Lakefield Merchants in the thrilling curtain-riser; while U.E.W. pitted their power against Revoy Motors in the nightcap. The semi-finals are a best-of-five set. Tom Jenkin's Lakefield batters sprang a surprise to snip Red Sullivan's East City boys 9-7, in a thrilling duel with John Hinton on the rubber, and Buck Legrow's steady shop crew edged George Hawkes' Motor squad 12-8, in a hair-raising afterpiece as a happy gallery clung to their seats. The series continues next week.

Seabrooke's took a lead in the first game with a bunting attack on the slow-working veteran Hinton; a four-run start in the last of the first, after John Cupoli crashed in Cam Wasson with Merchants' first tally. Two miscues helped Seabrooke's in this frame and they added three more in the next two innings. Undaunted, the visiting sluggers came on for three in the third as the bats of Gord Henry, Joe Blewett, John Cupoli, Red Wasson, Bill Twist and Fran Loyst rang out for five safeties and a fielder's choice; which, with an error, enabled the Junkin lads to score three runs and keep close to Woody, who showed less than his usual form.

Hinton and his mates steadied down for the final six innings to blank the highly-touted Sullivan gang, kept pecking away offensively and by virtue of a fine eighth-inning rally — featuring successive doubles by Henry and Blewett and a hard single by Cupoli to centre—copped a two-run edge which proved decisive. Hinton allowed nine hits (three in the final six), struck out three and walked only three to deserve victory, in one of his better games this season. The veteran Woods was nicked for 16 bingles, fanned a pair and walked a like number. Each team booted four melons.

Fran Loyst and Cupoli each drove in a pair of runs along with John Lickley; and all played well afield. Gord Henry, Bill Twist, Lickley and Cupoli each smacked three safeties, and Blewett's hit in the eighth drove in the winning run, his second game-winning smash of the week (the other against Hottentots of Chicago, Tuesday night).

For the losers, in a hard defeat, Russ Scriver hit safely twice as did skipper Sullivan, while Speed Curry, Bob Wyatt and Sully each drove in a run. Several fielding features studded the game by Spinner, Spence, Lickley, Neil Thompson, Sullivan, Twist and Cupoli the actors.

Jim Driscoll faced Earl Revoir as U.E.W. edged Revoys in another hard-hitting nightcap but whereas the former went the distance, Revoir yielded to Bert Fife with the sacks plugged and one away in the fifth. The slim Fife twirled fairly well in relief—after the U.E. siege guns had blasted out a 9-3 margin in the first four squares. He allowed two hits and three runs in the final four.

Driscoll twirled well over the routs, after a shaky start, but ran into serious difficulty in the final stanza when the visitors rose in wrath to stage a dangerous rally and net four runs. Ironically

Oshawa Merchants Drub Petes In Exhibition Game

OSHAWA.—Oshawa Merchants, pennant winners of the Niagara District Baseball League, turned on the C.O.B.L. pace-setters, Peterborough Petes, here last night in an exhibition game and administered a 21-1 shellacking. The Liftlock City squad, contending rivals last season with Oshawa for Viaduct League title and honors, just didn't have it last night and Don Padgett's triple to open the third inning followed by Joe Lowrey's single gave them their only run of the contest. Two hits and an error, by Brian Young, Padgett and the error on Bill Dadson's grounder, loaded the bases for the Petes in the 4th inning, the only other time they even threatened.

Merchants bunched five hits and a couple of walks, including Roy Zimmerman's double, for a total of five runs in the second stanza. They added one on O'Connor's double in the third. Ted O'Connor, up from the junior entry of last year, scored five times on five trips to the plate, drawing two walks, a single and a double and getting on via an error the final time.

Bill Dadson, once a nemesis of the Merchants, proved no mystery and when five batters in succession bingled in the 5th, including a triple by Johnny Zeitler and a double by George Brabin, the writing was on the wall.

Jack Murdoch started the 6th inning, couldn't find the plate and walked three of four batters he faced, the other getting a single. Veteran Gunner Whitehill took over with the bases loaded, hit the first batter he faced, then walked the next, gave up a single to the third batter and the fourth batter, Jimmie Rogers, homered with two on bases.

The Liftlock city club ran out of hurlers at this stage—they were saving Bill Edger—so Bill Harper of Oshawa finished out the inning. In all, Merchants scored 11 runs on only four hits and a pair of errors plus six walks.

Jack Durston, ace moundsman for the Oshawa Junior Transporters, pitched the entire game against the visiting Petes and was nicked for only six hits over the route, Joe Lowery and Don Padgett each having a pair.

Score by innings:

Selwyn Women Trip Bridgenorth

SELWYN (ENS). — Another home and home game between Bridgenorth and Selwyn married women was played here on Tuesday evening, with Selwyn the winners by a score of 26-15. Mrs. Ollie Harding did the pitching for the visitors and Barbara McConkey was on the mound for Selwyn in the first two innings with Daisy Fitzgerald taking over in the third and finishing out. Mae Blewett had to be replaced behind the plate, due to a dislocated finger, and Jean McIlmoyl did the receiving for Selwyn.

Umpires were Jim McConkey, plate; and Reg. McConkey, bases.

There are to be two more games played, a return game with Bridgenorth and also one with Curve Lake.

ONTARIO SEMI-FINALS begin tonight in St. Catharines for Lou Vitarelli's junior Filter Queens. Thursday night the Queens were given a stiff drill at Miller Bowl in preparation for the best-of-five series. Vitarelli (second from left, top) takes Carl Brioux, Bob Batley and Roger Smith aside for a little advice. Missing practically all season with a broken hand, Doug Powell returns to the lineup tonight. The stalwart (left, bottom) shows manager Al Lockington his hand for pre-game inspection. Queens Open Junior Series With St. Kitts Tonight

While senior Timbermen battle with Mimico for first place in the senior O.L.A., Lou Vitarelli's Filter Queen juniors face the season's biggest test as they open the Ontario junior semi-finals against St. Catharines tonight in St. Catharines. The series has been ruled a best-of-five, the teams returning to Miller Bowl on Tuesday night.

During the regular schedule the St. Kitts' squad played over home and home games with the Queens, each game counting four points. In both St. Kitts were ahead on the score sheet, even though the Queens held more than their share of the play.

St. Kitts placed second in the final standing, points behind the Brampton juniors, and a few points ahead of third place Mimico. During the playing season Mimico defeated St. Kitts, the Queens defeated Mimico several times, proving that the Queens if at their best, can win over St. Kitts.

Out since June 17, regular Doug Powell, former Lindsay junior hockey player and this year tryout with Syracuse, will return to the lineup tonight. Several other lesser player injuries have hampered the team's play during the regular schedule.

Independent of the seniors, the Queens lost four players from last year's junior "A" finalists, but gained three from minor leagues and imported one. Player deals with other clubs, fell through but the management were satisfied to rely upon local players.

"If the club goes like they can, they'll take St. Catharines, win the Ontario finals, and move west for the Dominion championship and the Minto Cup," said Coach Vitarelli.

Meanwhile in the other semi-final group Mimico and Brampton begin their series Saturday night in Brampton. The finals between the two group winners must be over by Sept. 5 to give the Ontario champions time to get to Winnipeg for the Canadian semi-finals against the Manitoba champions.

Victor in the Ontario-Manitoba series moves into Vancouver September 15 for the Dominion series.

The juniors during the past two years have been providing senior material. Presently with the seniors are Bill Killingbeck, Gary Robinson, Joe Whitnell, Lou Nickle, Grant Burns, all former Queen players. Jim Heffernan, a former Queen, this year is with Nanaimo Native Sons in British Columbia and is second high scorer on the club.

LUMSDEN'S LEG BROKEN

HAMILTON (CP)—Chuck Lumsden, speedy halfback with Winnipeg Blue Bombers, injured Wednesday night during an exhibition game with Hamilton Tiger-Cats, has a broken leg.

Coach George Trafton of Winnipeg, discussing the game today, described the officials as "terrible." Winnipeg won 24-17.

Trafton said they allowed Hamilton players to "pile on, clip and hold."

Seymour Wilson was referee and Hec Crichton was umpire.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By DON GRANT

I can practically hear the snickering before I make this prediction but here it is: the Peterborough Ornamental Swimming Club will represent Canada in team synchronized swimming in the 1956 Olympics and will win points for Canada.

This year duets and solo numbers were performed at the Olympic swimming games by American and Canadian synchronized swimmers. Their purpose was to have the synchronized swimming events a part of the '56 Olympics. Of course this new sport was accepted.

Peterborough coach Mrs. Pansy Forbes, said today: "Now our girls will have a goal to work for."

Highly Rated In United States

Peterborough's Ornamental Swimming Club is highly rated by the United States. So much so that the American directors invited the club's nine-girl team to perform at the Olympic show rather than an American team. The girls couldn't go due to the high expenses which would be incurred.

Mrs. Forbes explained that synchronized swimming has quite a hold now in the States and Canada, and is catching on in Europe. She expects other teams in the '56 Olympics from England, Germany and Australia, perhaps other European countries where clinics are now conducted.

The Peterborough club features the world's largest competing team, nine girls. Most other clubs stress smaller groups of six and under, and prefer to work with duets and solos.

"Other Canadian clubs figure a team is a little too much," said Mrs. Forbes. "They feel they'll have to get stronger before entering teams in competition."

Display Groups and Float Acts

Mrs. Forbes explained that Montreal and Hamilton have display groups, float acts, but do not match their strokes with music as in synchronized swimming.

For competition the Peterborough club has to enter international competitions in the United States. There annually they have been placing second, third, fourth and fifth, in team competitions at Cleveland, Chicago, Des Moines, Detroit and South Bend. They have been fairly successful in duets and solos.

Their trips have brought the city a good deal of publicity.

After a dazzling performance in Chicago in 1950, Max Kruger, Hollywood movie producer, asked permission to film the club's acts. This resulted in the National Film Board putting the club on film. It was distributed about Canada and the United States.

Costs of the trips have largely been absorbed by the girls. Through raffles and donations, the transportation has been paid for, but all other expenses the girls pay.

In fact when Jean Millard and Iris Forbes-Reilly won the international duet in Detroit, marking the first time an A.A.U. championship was taken out of the States, all costs were paid by the girls. That trip alone brought Peterborough invaluable publicity.

Hope To Send Two Teams To Florida

At present the girls are doing their best to raise funds to send two teams to Florida for international competitions, August 29-31. They are going all out to win by rising every day, except Saturday and Sunday, for morning practices at 6:30 a.m. at the Lions' pool.

The club will be represented in duets, solo and team competition. Enough money has been raised to send the nine-girl "A" team but the club hopes to send a second team of six-girls.

Regarding club chances for the '56 Olympics, Mrs. Forbes said, "If we keep going as we are, there'll be a good chance, we'll go; we have four years to work".

IKE HILDEBRAND, out of the Timbermen lineup for several weeks with an injury, is back just in time to help the seniors in their drive for first place. Playing his first game Wednesday against St. Kitts, Ike looked good and will strengthen the woodsmen tonight against Mimico at Miller Bowl.

Deloro Bowlers Edge Marmora In Tourney

MARMORA (ENS)—On Tuesday evening 16 bowlers from the Madoc Bowling Club visited Deloro Club for a tournament with 16 of its players. Games of six ends each were played, four rinks being in play at one time. Each team played three games.

Although Deloro won the majority of games, there was keen competition. At the close of play, refreshments were served and John Rankin for the visitors invited Deloro to visit Madoc next Tuesday evening.

Just for a change, the games tonight begin at 7 o'clock. It will be men's rinks drawn from the board. Lead to skip, second to vice and so on. $1.00 per rink.

At Brighton on Wednesday Harold Freeman's trio took first place and the Canada Kex Spray Trophy—other members of his rink were Laurie Mitchell and R. Hutchinson.

At Whitby, and also on the half holiday, L. Loftus, B. Collis and Z. Levine came in for high two wins.

Ross Hopkins, who was in a bad car accident a couple of weeks ago, was up to the greens last evening. The boys were sure glad to see him. Harry Beatty, who was in the same accident is still confined to St. Joseph's hospital, but we are glad to report that he is making progress. We all hope he will soon be with us.

Montreal Ends Losing Streak, Clip Wings 3-2

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Montreal Royals shook a three-game losing streak last night, defeating Rochester Red Wings 3-2 and widened their first-place margin in the International League to 9½ games.

Heading for another pennant, Montreal won on the six-hit pitching of Eddie Roebuck, who notched his 11th victory against seven defeats.

Meanwhile Springfield Cubs went 11 innings before beating second place Syracuse Chiefs 5-4. The winning rally was set up by pitcher Tony Jacobs, who singled after Ted Lotz walked in the bottom of the 11th. Chris Kitsos singled to drive Lotz in with the winning run. Red McQuillen's two hits drove in the other four Springfield runs.

Toronto kept up its hopes of getting in the playoffs by defeating Ottawa Athletics 8-2 and solidifying its fourth-place standing. Ed Stevens got three hits for Toronto, one a three-run homer in the fifth. Mike Goliat hit two doubles for the winners and batted in two runs.

Buffalo gained in its private battle with Baltimore for fifth place. The Bisons started early and kept up the scoring to down Baltimore 8-5. This left Buffalo one-half game behind the Orioles.

Pitching: Maury McDermott, Red Sox—allowed only four hits and fanned seven in a scoreless 9 2-3-inning relief stint to gain credit for Boston's 5-4 13-inning victory over Philadelphia in opener of twin bill.

Batting: Ralph Kiner, Pirates—blasted pair of two-run homers, including one in the 10th inning, to give Pittsburgh 5-3 triumph over St. Louis.

Yankees Club Senators 7-2 As Bo-Sox Sweep Twin Bill

By RALPH RODEN, Associated Press Sports Writer

Looking for the fountain of youth? Try Yankee Stadium. A number of former National Leagues have found the stadium to be just what the doctor ordered. Supposedly washed up, the Yanks' pickups from the National have not only prolonged their days but have also jacked up their bank accounts.

Johnny Schmitz is the latest senior-circuit discard to find life with Casey Stengel extremely pleasant.

Stengel gave Schmitz his first start in the "new land" yesterday. The one-time Chicago Cubs and Brooklyn left-hander responded with a 7-2 victory over Washington.

BOOSTS MARGIN

The victory boosted the Yanks' margin over second-place Cleveland Indians to three games. The Indians and St. Louis Browns were idle.

Boston Red Sox pulled to within 4½ games of the Yanks by sweeping a doubleheader from Philadelphia Athletics, 5-4 in 13 innings, and 4-2. Chicago White Sox downed Detroit 2-0 in 10 innings in the other American League game.

In the National League, second-place New York Giants cut Brooklyn's lead to eight games by nipping the Dodgers 4-3. In other games, Philadelphia Phils defeated Boston Braves 5-3, Cincinnati whipped Chicago 4-1, and Pittsburgh conquered St. Louis Cardinals 5-3 in 10 innings.

ONE A YEAR

Schmitz checked the Senators on six hits. He is the fourth National-leaguer in as many years to join the bombers in a pennant drive. Johnny Mize was obtained from the New York Giants in time to help the Yanks win the 1949 flag. Johnny Hopp, now with Detroit, was obtained from Pittsburgh in 1950 and Johnny Sain from Boston last year.

Effective relief pitching by Maury McDermott and Ellis Kinder helped the Red Sox take two from the As. McDermott allowed only four hits in 9 2-3 innings in winning the opener. Kinder saved the nightcap for Willard Nixon, halting a rally in the eighth that threatened to wipe out a Boston lead.

SAVES WIN FOR MAGLIE

Al Corwin turned in a fine relief job to enable the Giants to shade the Dodgers. Corwin allowed only two hits in the last four innings to protect Sal Maglie's 12th victory. Maglie, making his first apperance since July 16 when he injured his back in a game against St. Louis, blanked the Dodgers until the sixth, when he aggravated the injury.

Ralph Kiner blasted his 23rd and 24th homers to lead the Pirates to victory over the Cards.

Marlene Needs 2 Wins To Take Open

By JIM PEACOCK

EDMONTON (CP)—The Canadian women's open golf championship came down to a pair of international semi-finals today, leaving an 18-year-old girl two steps away from a feat untouched before in Canadian golf.

Little Marlene Stewart of the Lookout Point Club at Fonthill, Ont., needs two victories to win her second straight open title and become the first to win the Canadian open and close twice in a row.

The seious little champion smashed her way through the quarter-finals yesterday with a 3 and 1 victory over Polly Martin of St. Clairsville, O. Today she meets probably her toughest opposition of the tournament.

MEETS EDEAN ANDERSON

Edean Anderson of Helena, Mont., six-times Montana state champion and former holder of the Pacific Northwest crown, knocked off Babs Davies of Vancouver 4 and 3 yesterday to enter the semi-finals against Miss Stewart.

Mary Gay, 20-year-old Ontario champion from Kitchener and Grace Venczyk of Hartford, Conn., clash in the second semi-final.

Miss Gay was carried to the 19th hole yesterday by Jean M. Ai. Todd of Victoria before she won 2 up. The 24-year-old Connecticut girl dropped a 30-foot putt on the 18th green to win 2 and 1 over Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore, Md.

EASY WINNER

Miss Anderson has been an easy winner in all three of her matches so far. She fired a 78 to Miss Stewart's 80 in the medal-play qualifying round to pose as top threat to the champion.

In the quarter-finals, the 22-year-old Montana girl had little difficulty. She played steady golf to go two up over Miss Davies at the third and three up at the turn.

Miss Stewart was carried to the 17th, though she was never behind. Miss Martin was three down at the 11th and couldn't come back.

The young champion scored her third and fourth deuces on today's round. She sunk a 10-foot putt on the 195-yard, par-three 7th for a birdie and dropped a 15-footer for her third birdie on the 195-yard 17th.

THREATENED NEAR END

Miss Lenczyk, 1947 and 1948 open winner and runner-up last year, led from the fourth but Mrs. Glick threatened near the end.

Mrs. Glick's tee shot was six feet from the pin on the 17th when Grace drove to a trap. A 30-foot parred it for Miss Lenczyk and Mrs. Glick missed her first putt by inches.

Miss Gay was pressed to the end by Mrs. Todd, though the Ontario player was never behind. Mrs. Todd won the 16th to cut Miss Gay's lead to one. The 17th was halved and Miss Gay birdied the par-five 18th to win going away.

Tie-Breaking Shoots Held At Match

CONNAUGHT RIFLE RANGES, South March, Ont. (CP)—Two tie-breaking shoots in the qualifying stage of the Governor-General's Match will be held today at the 84th annual Dominion of Canada Rifle Association prize shoot.

All eyes will be on Marjorie Foster of the British rifle team and Lieut. Mary MacLennan of Alexandria, P.E.I., who yesterday tied for first place ahead of some 600 male competitors.

The two women carded scores of 149—one off the possible—in the first stage of the gold medal match from 200, 500 and 600 yards.

TYROS SHOOT

The other shoot-off will be a three-way affair to decide the winner of the D.C.R.A. souvenir which goes to the tyro scoring the highest in the match. A tyro is a marksman whose name has not appeared in the grand and all-comers aggregate subsequent to the Second World War.

Taking part in the shoot-off are Officer Cadet T. F. Baines, Toronto, W. E. Hardy, York, P.E.I., and C. H. Dorsey, Hamilton. Each got a 148.

Other members reading 148s included G. B. Brown, Kingston, Ont.; Capt J. G. Kirk, Listowel, Ont., and Wo 1. W. G. Collins, Kingston.

Miss Foster, a former King's Prize winner, is the first woman to come to Canada with the British rifle team. In 1951, Lieut. MacLennan became the first woman to accompany the Canadian team to Bisley as a shooting member.

EXCITING FINISH

One of the most exciting finishes was provided by an eight-man British rifle team. Trailing after firing 10 rounds from each of the 300-and 500-yard ranges, it scored close to perfect scores from 900 yards to win the Canada match from a Canadian team.

The British team posted a combined score of 1,168 of a possible 1,200 for a 12-point margin over the Canadian entry.

An eight-man cadet team from Ontario won the Michael Faraday cadet trophy by posting a combined score of 769 of a possible 800 to defeat an eight-member Imperial cadet team of England with 749.

U.S. Has Fingernail Grip On Americas Cup

SEATTLE (AP) — The United States carries a fingernail grip on the Americas Cup today into the second and final day of action against the cream of Canadian and Mexican golf.

Harvie Ward of Tarboro, N.C., teamed with Ken Venturi of San Francisco and Sam Urzetta of East Rochester, N.J., with Joe Gagliardi of Larchmont, N.Y., to stack up four points yesterday.

Canada collected three points and Mexico two as a pair from each country opposed two others in three sixsome matches. Nick Weslock of Windsor and Phil Farley of Toronto were the Canadian winners. Each duo played a single ball, alternating on shots.

SINGLES TODAY

Today the teams were matched in singles, each man playing two others over the 36-hole route on the Seattle golf club's 6,632 yards.

For a time Thursday it looked as though the U.S. was on the way to a clean sweep. Ward and Venturi went only 26 holes before they closed out both their opposing pairs. Urzetta and Gagliardi brought home another two points after 32 holes of play.

Then Frank Stranahan of Toledo and playing-capting Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City hit the trouble trail. Going into the 35th hole 1 up over both Canada and Mexico, Coe pushed his long drive into the rough. They found a ball and Stranahan hit it—but it was a pellet lost by some earlier player and the mistake cost them the hole.

OUT OF BOUNDS

With things even all around—Mexico and Canada also were deadlocked—Stranahan blistered his drive out of bounds on the 36th. Coe drove another out of bounds and the U.S. pair had four penalty strokes before it got off the tee. It conceded before it reached putting range.

Canadian champ Walt McElroy of Vancouver and Gerry Kesselring of Kitchener, were 11-and-10 victims of the Ward-Venturi combination, but squeezed out a victory over the Mexican pair of Reynaldo Avila and Fernando Gonzalez in the day's longest match. It went 39 holes.

This point and the one taken by Weslock and Farley was raised to three when Percy Clogg of Vancouver and Pete Kelly of Fredericton earned a 1-up decision for Canada against the Mexican duo of Carlos Belmont and Alejandro Cumming.

Word from the Canadian camp indicated former Dominion champion Bill Mawhinney would remain on the sidelines, favoring a lame back.

Pairings for Today:

McElroy, Morris and Stranahan.
Kesselring, Gonzalez and Ward.
Mawhinney, Avila and Coe.
Weslock, Cumming and Campbell or Maxwell.
Farley, Belmont and Venturi.
Clogg, Clifford and Urzetta.

Bob Cunningham Steals Show At Opening Of Millar Golf Tourney

TORONTO (CP)—Bob Cunningham, Jr., who gave up football this year to devote all his time to golf, stole the show yesterday on the opening day of the Millar golf tournament for the Ontario professional championship.

The former halfback of Montreal Alouettes in the Big Four football union shot a six-under-par 66 to lead the qualifying round. And in the first stage of match play he scored a one-up victory over Dick Borthwick of Hamilton Ancaster, a former Millar champion.

Assistant pro at Toronto St. George's where his father is club professional, the 24-year-old Cunningham downed Borthwick on the 18th with a par four while the Hamilton player three-putted.

PLAYS BALDING

The draw now pits Cunningham against another of Canada's better golf prospects, Al Balding, assistant pro at the host Islington club. Balding, holder of the Quebec open crown, bested Merv Costello of Toronto Mississauga, 4 and 2, in the opening match-play round, after a qualifying score of 72.

One of two veteran "name" players will be eliminated today. Four-time winner Bob Gray, Toronto Scarboro, meets Gordie Brydson, Toronto Mississauga. Gray won handily yesterday with a 6 and 5 victory over Joe Noble of Toronto Thornhill. Brydson defeated George Clifton, Niagara-on-the-Lake, 3 and 2.

HINES HAS BATTLE

Defending champ Normie Himes of Kitchener Westmount had a battle to eliminate Paul Penna, Fort Erie Cherry Hill. Himes shot a 75 in the morning to barely qualify. Then in his game with Penna, he had to go to the 19th before winning. He had evened the match on the 17th.

Bill Kerr of Montreal Beaconsfield, a four-time winner of the trophy, went down to a surprise defeat to Murry Tucker of London Sunningdale, one-up.

Willie Lamb of Toronto Lambton shot a hole in one on the 165-yard sixth hole in his match with Bob Cunningham, Sr. Lamb won and moved into the second round.

First round match results included:

Gil Gardiner, Sault Ste. Marie, defeated Tom Williams, Toronto, 2 up.

Jack Littler, Toronto Oakdale, defeated Hal Butler, Oshawa, 2 and 1.

Norman Himes, Kitchener, defeated Paul Penna, Fort Erie Cherry Hill, at 19th hole.

Bob Burns, Fort Erie Cherry Hill, defeated Bob Lamb, Toronto Summit, at 19th.

Qualifying round scores included:

Ben Norris, Timmins, 36-40—76
Bob Burns, Fort Erie, 33-36—69
Alf Hill, Peterborough, 37-39—76
Normie Himes, Kitchener Westmount, 37-38—75
George Clifton, Niagara-on-the-Lake, 36-38—74
Hal Butler, Oshawa, 36-36—72
Lloyd Tucker, Kitchener, 40-36—76
Gil Gardiner, Sault Ste. Marie, 34-39—73
Lionel Ross, Cobourg, 37-38—75

Veeck Sends Garver To Detroit

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Bill Veeck's house-cleaning of his St. Louis Browns finally reached hurler Ned Garver, sending the 20-game winner of last year to Detroit Tigers for outfielder Vic Wertz in an eight-man waiver shift.

Veeck had a difficult decision to make in the deal which was completed yesterday.

Garver was the only Brownie bright spot when the club finished last in the American League last year. But this season he has won only seven and lost 10.

Others transferred in the deal were outfielder Jim Delsing and relief hurler Dave Madison from St. Louis to Detroit. Earlier in the week, but part of the same package, Pitchers Marlin Stuart and Dick Littlefield and outfielder Don Lenhardt moved to St. Louis from Detroit, and Detroit picked up pitcher Bud Black from the Browns' farm in San Antonio.

The shifts had to be for the $10,000 waiver price since trading between teams ends by league rule June 15. Since the clubs involved are at the bottom of the standings, St. Louis seventh, Detroit eighth, they have first crack at anyone offered on waivers.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Cary Middlecoff, defending champion, plastered the Millburn country club course for a five-under-par 67 yesterday to take the first round lead in the $15,000 Kansas City open golf tournament.

The Memphis dentist, last of the hot shots to finish, was one stroke better than Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex.; Dave Douglas, Newark, Del.; Skee Riegel, Tulsa, Ola., and Jerry Barber, Pasadena, Calif., who came in with 68.

Julius Boros, open champion, finished with a 76. He described his performance as a "natural letdown" after taking the big prize.

THREATEN COURT ACTION

HAMILTON (CP)—Ralph Toohy and Johnny Harper, outside wings with Montreal Alouettes of the Big Four football union last season, announced yesterday through their counsel, J.F. Reesor, they will, if necessary, take court action to obtain their release from the Montreal Club.

Since their transfers to Hamilton Tiger-Cats earlier this season, Toohy and Harper have asked and been refused their freedom by Lew Hayman, Montreal manager.

In Montreal, Hayman said: "Harper and Toohy are professional football players. They are being treated on that basis."

MAKES CRICKET TRIP

OTTAWA (CP)—One of Canada's greatest cricket fans and a veteran reporter of the game, E. F. Hitchman, left Ottawa yesterday for London on a mission dear to his heart.

He will present to the Marylebone Cricket Club at Lords a beautifully prepared volume of photographs of Canadian playing fields, contained in a hand-made casket, which will be deposited in the Imperial cricket war memorial.

The 75-year-old First World War veteran, a member of the Ottawa Citizen editorial staff, was chosen by the Canadian Cricket Association to have the volume prepared and to make the presentation in person.

MAGLIE SUES

NEW YORK (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Samuel Gold signed an order yesterday asking two popcorn firms to show cause why they should not be stopped from placing pasteboard photographs of seven New York Giants inside bags of popcorn.

The seven players also instituted action to recover $50,000 each from the defendant companies on the ground that their pictures had been used without consent.

The players are Larry Jansen, Bobby Thomson, Sal Maglie, Wes Westrum, Montia Kennedy, Dave Koslo and Bill Rigney.

BRUNDAGE TAKES JOB

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP)—Avery Brundage formally took over the presidency of the International Olympic Committee last night with a pledge to keep the Olympic Games out of politics and business.

After being handed the key to the committee's offices here by J. Sigfrid Edstroem of Sweden, the retiring president, Brundage warned that amateur sport "must not be used by any individual groups or nations for their own selfish purposes."

Lakefield Wins

enough, the hitherto steady U.E. defensive suddenly cracked wide open as the boys in grey kicked the melon around like a tax bill to help their rivals. Jack Mackness' long homer to the left centrefield barrier needed no help though, as he scored Corvic to start things and the crowd gave the big boy a deserved ovation. The great veteran pulled off several amazing catches, one a shoestring, the season's best.

Driscoll gave up 12 hits but individually twirled an effective game, particularly in the pinches, aside from the final frame. He fanned seven men and issued four passes. Revoir started nicely, but ill-fortune again dogged his footsteps with everything well in the third. Then a pair of hits, a pair of errors and two walks turned the match into a nightmare for this courageous hurler as Buck Legrow's men sped around the bases like Conklin's merry-go-round for five tallies—and more coming. The homesters banged in four more in the fourth as the big bats of slugging Jack White, a rejuvenated Jimmy Conlin, Jake Wade, and their lesser potent mates, wrought fearful havoc before acting coach Mackness spoke kindly to Revoir and the latter feigned a departure in peace.

Revoy's were not without their moments, too; they fought to the finish to come close enough.

Hitting honors went to White, Conlin and Wade for the winners, each with three runs batted in. Mackness with two RBI's and Nelson and Corvic one apiece, led Revoy's offensive effctively. The last named had four for five, to lead both squads; Mackness had two for five. From a fielding standpoint, along with Mackness, the sparks were supplied by Doug Whalen, Nelson with a fine game and Elmhirst. Jack White, Wade and Williams looked the pick for Legrow's boys defensively with Conlin good.

"COOL CONTROL"

HINTS ON BATTING

1 Watch the ball all the way from the pitcher's hand. Hold bat securely but not too tightly. Swing in a flat arc, bat parallel to ground. Timing and control counts more than force. Shift or slide your front foot instead of lifting it when hitting.

2 Keep your arms and elbows lifted out and away from your body. Always keep your balance. Don't overstride. Always be ready to swing; don't let bat rest limply on shoulder. Start swing early and meet ball in front of your body.

3 Do not try to outguess the pitcher; relax and keep your eye on the ball always. Keep wrists cocked when holding bat and be sure your swing follows through. Do not reach for bad balls — reaching destroys your balance and control.

Yes, it's control that counts. In baseball as in every sport — control which brings the extraordinary quality that sets one performer above the other. In the ability to approach things coolly, to control every move and moment, lies the answer to better results.

This is one of a series designed to increase the pleasure of Canadians who participate in sports.

Compositor's Type Error Costs Him Job On Paper

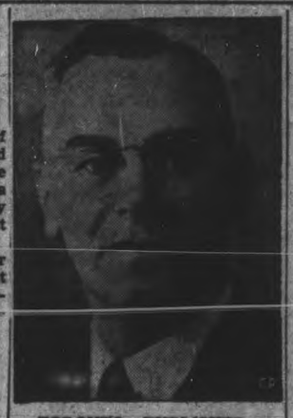
NEW YORK (AP)—An impartial arbiter Thursday upheld the firing of a newspaper Linotypist whose typographical error echoed the Communist Party line.

The Long Island Star Journal fired Allan Ross, a top-pay employee of 13 years and an admitted former Communist after he set type reading "American system of fascism and security," instead of "American system of freedom and security."

The error, made last September, was not caught until more than one-third of the first edition was out.

Edward J. McDonald, chairman of the five-man panel hearing the case, said in his report and award that the substitution of "fascism" for "freedom" was "too pat to suggest error; on the contrary, its very aptness suggests wilful substitution."

The International Typographical Union, Local 6 (AFL) argued Ross made a normal error in setting matter that had not been proof-read and therefore under the union contract was not responsible for errors.



Ross told the panel, two of whose members were appointed by the union and two by the newspaper, that he had been a member of the Communist Party in 1938 and taught in Communist training schools.

The article in which the error appeared was a syndicated guest column for Robert S. Allen written by Navy Secretary Dan Kimball about the Marine Corps.

Family Of 12 Evicted Can't Find Home

TORONTO (CP)—While Robert Colley, 38, and his 35-year-old expectant wife were out looking for a place to live last night, their 12 children were turned out of their home, and their belongings dumped on the front lawn.

Mr. Colley said there had been no eviction order. Carl Stone, lawyer for landlady Adell Royle, said an order of eviction was obtained at the end of July. He said the rent had not been paid "for a long time."

Anglican Paper Criticizes Eden Remarriage Sharply

LONDON (Reuters)—The Anglican newspaper Church Times says in an editorial today that Foreign Secretary Eden's remarriage after divorce showed "how far the climate of public opinion in this matter has changed for the worse" since King Edward VIII abdicated to marry American divorcee Wallis Simpson 16 years ago.

"A generation or so ago a foreign secretary, who is more than likely one day to be prime minister, would have felt compelled to choose between his public career and such a re-marriage," the Church Times says.

"It is now apparently to be accepted as a matter of course that those who occupy the highest positions in political and public life may break the church's laws without embarrassment or reproach."

The Church Times, although it represents militant High Anglicanism, is not an official organ of the church.

Eden was granted a divorce in 1950 from the former Helen Backet on grounds of her desertion. He married Clarissa Churchill, niece of the prime minister, yesterday.

King Edward VIII, now Duke of Windsor, gave up his throne in 1936 because a King of England could not wed a divorced woman.

The high Anglican ruling is that persons married in church should not be divorced. If, however, a couple is divorced, neither one can be remarried in church. They can, as the Edens did, go through the ceremony in a registry office. The high church does not recognize this civil ceremony.

CBC Cancels TV Test Run

TORONTO (CP)—The CBC cancelled a test run of its mobile television units at Melody Fair last night when stage hands and electricians threatened to strike and take actors with them if non-union television men were allowed to operate.

The CBC's three TV cameras, two large mobile units, and extensive lighting equipment were set up at the summer theatre when Bill Dale, shop steward for the International Association of Theatre and Stage employees, arrived for work.

Dale checked with local union president Harry Fisher, who ordered him to pull out all union members if the CBC didn't leave.

Ben Kamsler, general manager of Melody Fair, told the CBC to cancel the TV run. He said if the stagehands went on strike the cast would follow.

The test run was for training and would not have been transmitted off the theatre's grounds.

Wife Given Divorce Because Losing Weight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Shapely Gloria Grahame, 25, testified yesterday that she lost weight because her husband was sullen and morose.

"It hurt my eating," she told superior court. That was enough to win her a divorce, on the ground of cruelty, from Nick Ray, 40, movie director.

There was little evidence of any permanent damage. She appeared in court in a black dress as low cut as any court attaches could remember.

16 Per Cent More Cars Shipped By Plants

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's auto factories shipped out 16 per cent more cars in June than in the corresponding month a year ago but are lagging on a six-month comparative basis.

With declines in four of the five previous months, cumulative shipments in the first half of this year are down six per cent from a year earlier, the Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday.

June shipments of Canadian-made vehicles totalled 41,910 compared with 36,229 in the corresponding month last year. This brought the cumulative total for the 6-month period to 232,397 units compared with 247,775 in the first half of 1951.

Seventh Series Bonds On Sale October 14

OTTAWA (CP) — The finance department said yesterday Canada's seventh series of savings bonds which go on sale Oct. 14 will mature 10 years and nine months from the date of issue and bear interest at the rate of 3.44 per cent if held to maturity.

Canada savings bonds of the sixth series launched last year had an effective average yield of 3.21 per cent if held to maturity.

Ask Steel For Auto

WASHINGTON (CP)—The United States automobile industry yesterday asked the government for sharply-increased steel allotments after Oct. 1. Auto makers, contending the government has exaggerated the prospect of a steel shortage, told the national production authority curtailed allotments would mean 300,000 fewer cars manufactured this year.

Free Methodists Report Year Of Progress

The Peterborough Free Methodist Church reported a year of progress at a meeting of the annual East Ontario Conference near Kingston recently.

During the fiscal year ending in June, the church installed an automatic oil heating furnace and combined air conditioning system.

The Sunday School auditorium was enlarged by using the room left when the old furnace was removed, and the whole auditorium was redecorated. Some members volunteered to help with the work.

The Sunday School attendance showed a large increase during the last quarter from April to June. It averaged 73 as compared with an average of 56 for the whole year. Nine people joined the church.

The Peterborough Free Methodist Church helped to sponsor the Light and Life Hour broadcast over CHEX by the Free Methodist Church. The church was awarded the trophy of the National Religious Broadcasters for the program.

Departments of the church reported a total income for the year of $5,550. The following groups were active through the year: the Women's Missionary Society, the Young People's Missionary Society, the Junior Missionary Society, the Sunday School, the Men's Prayer Fellowship and the Women's Prayer Circle.

Trustees for the year are G. H. Robinson, H. Mack, J. W. Johnston, William Dulmage, G. Reynolds, P. Graham. Stewards are S. Church, D. Vansickle, Mrs. D. Vansickle, Mrs. G. Robinson, C. Green, F. Kemp and William Dulmage. Treasurer is G. H. Robinson.

The Rev. R. E. Dargan, who had been minister of the church for five years, was appointed by the Conference to Oshawa. He was replaced by the Rev. K. G. Bauder who, with his wife and small son, is coming to Peterborough next week from Perth Road.

Two evangelistic campaigns were held during the year.

High School Must Quit Public School Room

LAKEFIELD (ENS) — Because it has been impossible for Lakefield Public School Board to find suitable classrooms elsewhere, the Lakefield District High School Board will be notified in writing that they must vacate the upper south east class room not later than August 20th. 1952. Inspector K. O. Birkin will be notified of this decision.

For many years the high school has occupied rooms in the building owned by the public school. Due to overflowing, the board felt that they must have at least one room now. When the new District High School, now being built and nearing completion, is finished, this situation will be remedied.

G. O. T. Gamble of Aurora addressed the board regarding the plastic floor finishing product which he represented for use on school floors, and was given the contract of preparing and refinishing the floor of Miss Kidd's room at a cost of $180.

Principal E. G. Sloan discussed with the board the buying of new text books for September, in order to obtain the grant and reported that some had been ordered on approval.

S. E. Richardson will remove the steam coal, now useless, and impossible to dispose of otherwise, for his own use, as cost of removal would balance its value, and Ralph Wasson will remove all seats, broken or not required and toilets which have been stored in a garage formerly used by R. Bullock, for the sum of $5.00.

Payment of accounts totalling $1,964.21 was authorized by the board.

Chairman A. G. Buchanan presided for the meeting and Trustees Dr. R. H. Campbell, Ralph Jackman, the Rev. W. B. Walker and Mrs. M. Wilford were in attendance.

Seaway Association Directors Pledge Full Support To Canada

CLEVELAND (AP)—Directors of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Association yesterday pledged full support to Canadian efforts to speed construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The association, at a meeting here, announced it also would continue its drive to get congressional action in the seaway controversy.

Dr. N. R. Danielian, executive vice-president of the association, said the directors probably will hold their annual meeting in November in Toronto.

Danielian said that if sole ownership and control by Canada were the only way to attain the seaway, the association would go along with that proposition. But he added that it was far more desirable to have the United States participate in the project.

TO SEEK AMENDMENT

The association indicated it would go before the next session of Congress with legislation embodying the proposals of the so-called Aiken amendment to the seaway bill which died in Congress last June.

Introduced by Senator George D. Aiken of Vermont, the amendment provided for the setting up of the St. Lawrence Development Corporation, with borrowing power of $485,000,000. Bonds would be amortized over a 50-year period from funds from tolls and power sales.

The matter is under the control of the Federal Power Commission and the International Joint Commission established under the boundary waters treaty between Canada and the United States in 1909. The joint commission has control over all construction in boundary waters.

The seaway power project would involve two dam projects—one at International Rapids and the other farther west on the river at Iroquois Point.

Hoover, a native of Knoxville, Tenn., the first man to fly the Bell X-1, an experimental prototype of present-day supersonic aircraft.

Strike Crippling Construction

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario division of the Contracting Plasterers' Association of Canada predicted yesterday that most large construction jobs in the province will be closed down unless a work stoppage by lathers is ended.

The work stoppage, now in its seventh week, followed a wage dispute between the association, an employers' organization, and the Lathers' Union (A.F.L.).

The union is asking for an increase of 30 cents an hour—20 cents now and 10 cents later in the contract period—to bring the basic rate to $2.30 an hour. The union's original demand was for $2.50. The association offered a 10-cent increase.

CALLS MEETING

Ontario's chief conciliation officer, Louis Fine, called a meeting between the union and the employer group for today in an effort to settle the strike.

There are about 500 lathers involved in the walkout—which the union calls a holiday.

The lathers have not picketed building projects, a step which would have closed the jobs to all A.F.L. tradesmen.

Projects affected include the R.C.A.F. barracks and mess halls at Camp Borden and buildings at St. Catharines, Hamilton, London, Windsor and Brantford.

Thousands Cheer Rhee Promises To Lick Reds

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Thousands in this war-ruined capital cheered wrinkled Syngman Rhee today as he was inaugurated to his second term as president of South Korea. He promised "no rest" until the Communists are licked.

The 77-year-old president, re-elected Aug. 5 in South Korea's first popular presidential election, proclaimed during open-air ceremonies that Korea's "first chance" remains upon the battlefield."

He added that his long-range aim, and that of the United States and the United Nations is "the restoration of all Korea as a free, independent, united and democratic nation."

200,000 ATTEND

A crowd estimated at 200,000 jammed the capitol grounds to celebrate also the seventh anniversary of Korea's liberation from 40 years of Japanese occupation and the fourth birthday of the U. N.-sponsored republic.

In Pyongyang, the capital of North Korea, Premier Kim Il Sung issued a mild blast at the U. S. in ceremonies commemorating the liberation.

"U. S. insistence on compulsory retention of Communist prisoners" Kim said, "is the only obstacle holding up final settlement of the Korean dispute." The speech, broadcast over Pyongyang radio and heard in Tokyo, promised efforts "to settle the Korean question amicably." (The U. N. stand at the deadlocked truce talks is that no prisoner should be forced to rejoin communism against his will.)

Russia's Premier Stalin and Mao Tse-tung, boss of Communist China, wished the North Koreans success in the war, in anniversary messages.

Monarch Rules Again In Nepal

KATMANDU, Nepal (Reuters) The mountaintop Himalayan kingdom of Nepal has an absolute monarch again for the first time in more than 100 years.

King Tribhuvana, champion of democratic reforms, restored supreme powers to himself because parliamentary democracy appeared to be temporariiy on the rocks.

The two top political figures in Nepal — Prime Minister Matrika Prasad Koirala and his younger brother, Bishewar Prasad Koirala leader of the main political party in Nepal—have not been getting along with each other.

The King today accepted the resignation of the Prime Minister, who refused to bend to his brother's demands for a cabinet reshuffle.

Tribhuvana said he would rule with the help of five advisers because "it does not seem possible at the moment to have a cabinet which will work harmoniously and effectively."

He would work for early elections, an independent judiciary and fundamental rights.

When an effective cabinet appeared possible, he would step down and let Nepalese democracy take its course.

Hint New Figure In Canadian Gift

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON (CP) — A spokesman for the British treasury said today the Canadian announcement of a $150,000,000 arms gift to Britain appears to involve a "new figure."

The official declined further comment pending more detailed information on the announcement, made Wednesday by Trade Minister Howe in Ottawa.

Beneath the cautious treasury comment, however, apparently lurked a doubt that the Wednesday statement goes much farther than plans made known six months ago.

Some British officials here believe the Canadian Minister is referring to Canada's commitment, made at the Lisbon conference of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization last February, to provide $324,000,000 worth of arms to her treaty partners. Of this, it has been said here, about $100,000,000 worth of arms would be allocated to Britain by the N. A. T. O. council.

SPECIFIC FIGURE

Thus, it is unofficially suggested, the Canadian announcement is news only to the extent of the specific $150,000,000 mentioned by Howe.

The Financial Times, in a dispatch from a special correspondent in Ottawa, says Canada has not yet announced any new step which will add a single dollar to the sterling area's reserves. The dispatch says the program announced by Howe was drawn up "at least six months ago."

"Canada herself is making no direct arms gift to the United Kingdom," says the Financial Times dispatch.

The correspondent also says Canada's attitude has been described in Ottawa as "willingness to give Britain all help short of aid" but is buying from Britain less than half what she sells to the U.K.

BUYING CARRIER

Canada is using a British aircraft carrier, "but, unlike Australia she did not pay for it." The correspondent adds that Canada will, however, pay dollars for a new aircraft carrier now being built at Belfast.

arms-gift announcement.

The News Chronicle uses it as a peg for a lengthy editorial today extolling Canada's growing strength, as sign that "within the Commonwealth a new power is stirring, which may one day equal, or even outclass, the might of the United States."

The Daily Express also leads off with an editorial on the arms gift.

"Cold is the heart," it says, "that cannot be warmed by Canada's gesture in making Britain a free gift of arms equipment worth $150,000,000. . ."

"Canada has even outsoared dominion status. She has earned her own place, as of right, at the council tables of the world.

POWER IN INFANCY

"Yet Canada, having come so very far, still stands only on the threshold of her future. Her power is still in its infancy.

There has been little other interpretative comment here on the future beckons confidently. She stands now where America did a hundred years ago."

The newspaper adds: "It says much for the ties that bind Canada and Britain that they are still so very strong. Trading difficulties have stretched Anglo-Canadian relationships somewhat thin, and the authorities in London, immersed in their own grave problems, have not always shown deep understanding of the problems that Ottawa faces.

NO BRITISH EFFORT

"Canada needs manpower and capital. Britain makes no special effort to send her either. This is a very grave mistake.

"One day it may come about that the future of the Commonwealth and all that it stands for will be more in Canada's than in Britain's keeping. This is a possibility against which we should not rebel for there is nothing shameful about it.

"If we were wise, we would rather do all in our power to ensure that should such a day ever dawn, the British tradition will flourish as happily under the maple leaf as ever it did in the shade of our more ancient oaks."

Prince Aly Khan Meets Estranged Wife

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Prince Aly Khan hurried to a five-hour visit with his estranged wife, Rita Hayworth, soon after he arrived here last night, but when the meeting broke up early today their reconciliation question remained unanswered.

Appearing glum as he left the actress' Beverly Hills home, the Prince said only: "I talked with Rita and saw our daughter who is beautiful."

Aly found the daughter, Yasmin, suffering from a possible mild case of whooping cough.

MARMORA (ENS) — Burial took place in Marmora Protestant cemetery on Tuesday afternoon following a short service at the home of her parents, of Catharine, two and a half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Knox. The child, who had been ailing for some time, died in Peterborough Civic hospital on Monday morning. She is survived by her parents, a brother David, about four, and a baby sister. The Rev. K. J. Crawford of St. Andrew's United church, officiated at the funeral.

Damage $50,000 In Watford Fire

WATFORD (CP).—Loss was estimated at $50,000 in one of the worst fires in the history of this town Thursday night when the large garage of McKinley Transport, Ltd., was destroyed.

The blaze spread rapidly and the most the local fire department could do was save the adjoining residences and McKinley offices.

Cause of the fire is not known. only two mechanics were at work at the time. Two large transports parked beside the garage were destroyed.

Part of the building was used as a garage and part as a warehouse. Building and contents were destroyed. Several of the large transport units parked near the building were removed before damage.

J. E. McKinley, general manager of the firm was in Toronto at the time. The McKinley Transport Ltd., head office is here.

Star Soviet Olympic Walker Believed Missing Prisoner

DORTMUND, Germany (Reuters) — A German mother and father Thursday tried to pierce the Iron Curtain and find out if an athlete who competed for Russia in the Olympic Games is their son who has been missing for more than seven years.

They are the parents of Bruno Junk, who has been unreported since he was drafted to the eastern front by the German Army in 1945.

An athlete of the same name, who resembles their missing son, placed third in the Olympic 10-kilometre walk, winning a bronze medal for Russia.

Mrs. Waltraut Zeelen, Bruno's sister, said the whole family believed it was their Bruno. Their hopes are founded on the identical name, and a blurred photograph of the race.

The Junk parents have been unable to find a record of their son's fate. He is not listed as a prisoner, a casualty or even as missing.

Mrs. Zeelen's husband, Heinz, has taken inquiries in hand. They may appeal for information to Gen. Vassily Chuikov, commander-in-chief of Soviet occupation forces in Germany.

If they can confirm it is their Bruno, they will ask for his repatriation.

Promises Expose Consulate

WINDSOR (CP)—Mrs. Marguerite Prest, a public accountant who was named in connection with the provision of fake bank statements for applicants for United States visas, yesterday promised an expose of the Windsor U.S. consulate "when I'm ready."

She told a reporter that U.S. consul Robert J. Cavanaugh is "nothing but a publicity-seeker" and said she has "done nothing wrong" in connection with visa applications.

She had, she said, "merely provided a visa service for persons wishing to go to the U.S." She had charged $75 fees for paperwork performed with visa applications and had had to pay approximately $25 for records necessary for the average application.

One Wild Oat To Sprout On Summer Stage

"One Wild Oat" in the form of Barbara Hamilton arrives at the Peterborough Summer Theatre next Monday evening. Barbara Hamilton in the role of Audrey Cuttle is the one wild oat in the dismal life of henpecked Humphrey Proudfoot, played by Ronald Bailey. Humphrey Proudfoot, a respectable and not too successful solicitor, objects to his daughter's engagement to the son of boisterous and racy Alfred Gilbey. To prove his point that Fred Gilbey is not good enough for his daughter Cherrie, Henry Proudfoot sends his private sleuth Mr. Pepys out to dig up some incidents in the young man's past life.

By mistake Mr. Pepys digs up a great deal of information on the elder Gilbey, and the fun becomes fast and furious. Alfred Gilbey in turn also employs Pepys to look into Humphrey Proudfoot's past life, and he is delighted to discover the "one wild oat," in the respectable solicitor's past life. In the words of the Sunday Times, "The fun is fast, traditional, and outrageous."

COMEDY FARCE

In Bermuda this Spring, Edward Everett Horton asked Michael Sadlier if he could suggest a new play suitable to the star's comic talents. At the time nothing was forthcoming, but at a recent Toronto meeting with Mr. Horton, Michael Sadlier gave the star a copy of "One Wild Oat" to take along with him. Edward Everett Horton has just written back to say he laughed his head off at the play, and thinks it is the funniest comedy he has read in years. He just seems to be agreeing with all the London critics who hailed 'One Wild Oat" as the outstanding farce comedy of recent years.

In the leading comic role of Alfred Gilbey, the connoisseur of wine, women and song, is the talented Peter Mews who runs the gamut of emotions in this outrageous farce. Betty Leighton plays his wife Lydia, an ex-musical comedy star, and Frank Perry plays his son Fred Gilbey. Kate Reid appears as Mrs. Proudfoot, and Patricia Moore as her daughter Cherrie. Gerry Sarracini plays the not-too-respectable butler of the Gilbey's, who makes a habit of carrying a blackjack; and Barbara Hamilton the "one wild oat." Also in the cast are Jerry Campbell, Beryl Braithwaite, Ian Clark, and Betty Child.

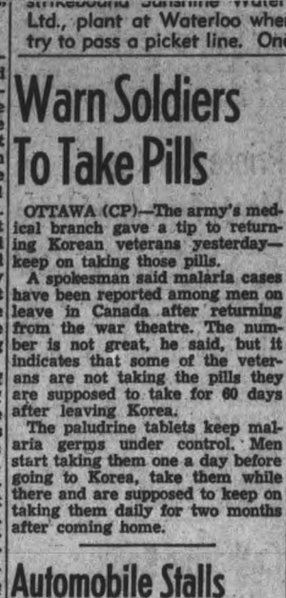
Warn Soldiers To Take Pills

OTTAWA (CP)—The army's medical branch gave a tip to returning Korean veterans yesterday—keep on taking those pills.



A spokesman said malaria cases have been reported among men on leave in Canada after returning from the war theatre. The number is not great, he said, but it indicates that some of the veterans are not taking the pills they are supposed to take for 60 days after leaving Korea.

The paludrine tablets keep malaria germs under control. Men start taking them one a day before going to Korea, take them while there and are supposed to keep on taking them daily for two months after coming home.

Automobile Stalls Mother, Daughter Die

MONTREAL (CP)—A mother and daughter were killed yesterday when the stalled automobile in which they were passengers was struck by an east-bound Canadian National Railways passenger train at a crossing near suburban Ville St. Pierre.

Dead are Mrs. Gerard Vrens, 57, of Pelham, N.Y., and her daughter, Virginia, 22.

MRS. SADIKA GARAGOZLOU, platinum-blond Egyptian wife of the Shah of Persia's master of ceremonies, claims to have sold "lots of Persian oil" to Italian "and other foreign interests." Pictured here in her Rome hotel room, bejewelled Mrs. Garagozlou says the sale of oil is easy, the delivery difficult. One tanker, the first to take oil from Persian wells since they were nationalized, is still tied up at Aden under British guard.

JUST LIKE AN ELEVATOR

C.N.R. telegrapher Gus Gunsolus and friend Jim Fordham caught a fair-sized pickerel the other evening with their hands at Chemong Lake at the Ennismore end of the Causeway. They spotted the fish swimming gently with its dorsal fin awash and scooped it into the boat. They thought the fish had been badly hooked and that it was convalescing.

FLAMING STORM DRAIN

A carelessly thrown match rolled down a storm drain in front of 309 McDonnel St. Thursday afternoon and ignited some coal oil that had been emptied down the drain. Two boys—Arnold McGlennon of 309 McDonnel St. and Gary Menzies of Bethune St.—had used some coal oil to clean a quantity of nails that had become coated with tar. When they completed this job for some roofers they washed their hands in the oil and put it down the drain. About 10 minutes later Mrs. Robert McGlennon heard a "bang" and saw flames shooting up from the drain. She seized a hose and put the fire out before firemen arrived.

Motorists Asked To Take Alternative Routes As City Tearing Up Charlotte Street

Now that the city has started to rip up the pavement on Charlotte St., west of Monaghan Rd., preparatory to paving that section, City Engineer A. E. Chalmers has asked motorists to take alternative routes.

Heavy trucks and cars going west are to use Lansdowne St. and Highway 7A, preferably, or detour by turning south at Monaghan Rd. and going west along Sherbrooke St. to Clonsilla.

Traffic to the Civic Hospital should use Weller St.

There has also been some dislocation of the city bus routes.

The Charlotte West bus that goes to the Civic Hospital is going north on Monaghan to Gilmour St., then west to Gordon, and south on Gordon to Clonsilla.

On Sundays there is no Charlotte West bus going to Civic Hospital and the Jackson Park bus takes over that stop. On Sunday the Jackson Park will also take the jog north onto Gilmour to avoid the torn up section of Charlotte. St.

Bus company officials said they didn't want to run the buses along Weller St. because the road surface is too rough.

County Officials To Inspect Buckhorn Road

County road officials on Tuesday are going to inspect the Buckhorn road that recently has been the source of a number of complaints from residents and tourists.

The 12-mile gravel road—running north from a point on Highway 28, south of Lakefield village, to the village of Buckhorn—has been denounced by motorists for being dusty and full of ruts and pot holes.

In a letter published today in the Examiner a Detroit woman, Mrs. Kathryn C. Stuart says she found the Buckhorn road the "worst stretch of road between Detroit and Buckhorn." Recently she stayed at their summer cottage on Little Chemong and found all the roads "wonderful" until she reached "that washboard."

Mrs. Stuart says their party was quite often deterred from coming into Peterborough to shop because of its condition.

"The dust is terrific and blinding," she says, "and at night could easily cause an accident."

OTHERS DISSATISFIED

A number of others—both tourists and local residents—have said they were dissatisfied with the Buckhorn road.

One of the first things the county roads committee will do when it meets Tuesday will be to take a trip over it themselves. Along with the committee will be the Suburban Area Roads Commission whose job it is to maintain the road.

Reeve James Gifford of Ennismore, chairman of the roads committee, said he had travelled over the road about a week ago. At that time he found the dust unusually bad but he had little complaint with the road surface itself.

"We'll know better after we've been over it," he said today. "The road bears a heavy motor traffic and may have got worse since I saw it."

At present calcium is used to keep the dust down but the heavy traffic soon causes this to lose its effectiveness. Lack of rain also aggravates the dust situation.

The committee will also inspect the road in Harvey township, across Gannon's Narrows, the middle line of Smith township, and the Nepheline Mine road.

A report from Bowmanville includes the information that only this week Mr. Mercer returned in excellent health from a thorough medical examination in Peterborough. He suffered a heart attack Wednesday morning. Doctors attributed his death to coronary thrombosis.

Front Tire Blows Car Flips Over Couple Shaken

A Quebec couple on a holiday trip to Kingston were shaken up Thursday when the right front tire of their car blew out and the car flipped over on its left side in the ditch. The accident was a mile east of Fowler's Corners on Highway 7.

Mrs. Donald Ross, 65, of Lennoxville, Quebec, sustained shock and a small cut on her face that was not serious enough to reqire medical attention. Her 66-year-old husband was just shaken up.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross, on a holiday tour, had visited their daughter in Lindsay and were continuing their car trip to Kingston when the right front tire blew. The 1936-model car veered off the road into the ditch, turned over, and was badly damaged.

O.P.P. Constables Russell Pollard and Roy Feeley investigated.

CARS COLLIDE

In another accident Thursday two cars collided on the boundary road between Victoria and Peterborough counties, three and a half miles northwest of the Chemong Causeway. Total damage is estimated at $400.

The accident occurred when a car driven by C. J. Booth, 28, of Emily township, collided with the left front fender of a truck driven by Ray Hennessey, 46, of Lakefield, that was going north on the boundary road.

About $100 damage was caused to the two-ton stake-body truck and $300 to the 1951-model car. Neither driver was injured.

O.P.P. Constable Ken Barber investigated.

Girls Tiring Saved From Canal

Unable to climb the cement wall to get out of the water after they had swum across the canal above lock 22 Thursday afternoon, two girls were rescued by playground supervisor Charlie Stoddart.

Marie Brown, 14, 712 Elcombe Crescent was tiring rapidly but still hanging on to Brenda Kemp, 13, of Simcoe St., when Mr. Stoddart pulled them out of the water.

The two girls along with seven others were on a picnic above the lock and Mr. Stoddart was along to see that none of them got into difficulty in the water.

Marie and Brenda decided to swim across the canal. Marie has been swimming for several years, but Brenda only learned this summer.

They swam across the canal without difficulty but once across, they found they were unable to pull themselves out of the water and up the smooth surface of the cement canal wall.

Tired after swimming the canal, Brenda was unable to keep herself above water and had to be held up by Marie. Holding onto Brenda soon tired Marie and both girls were near exhaustion when Mr. Stoddart seeing their plight ran along the side of the canal, crossed at the liftlock and ran up the other side to where they were and rescued them.

Meter Time Unused City Reaps Benefit

A bus driver lost an argument the other evening on the proposition that unused time on the market meters should be left as a gift to the next arriving car owners. He was almost complaining that Harry Garbutt was doing too good a job in resetting the meters after their space is vacated before the end of the paid-for time. It transpired that the bus man has also car of his own, and it hurts him when passing the former market space to see the city grabbing meter time that has been paid for, instead of leaving it as a concession to the next parker.

Buried Wire Unnecessary Says Langley

Urges Utilities To Halt Plan And Save Money

Arguing that there is no need to spend some $30,000 to install underground wiring on the west side of George St., between Hunter and Simcoe Sts., utilities commissioner Dr. G. R. Langley urged the commission Thursday to reconsider its decision to go ahead with the work.

Due to illness, Dr. Langley was not present at the last commission meeting when a contract was let to cut a trench for the underground wiring at a cost of $13,592. Costs of transformers, conduits and switches are expected to bring the total cost of the project to about $30,000.

Dr. Langley said adequate service could be provided by overhead wiring in lead cables at a cost of about $2,000 and appealed to the commission "to reconsider the letting of the contract because I dislike spending money when we don't need to."

WILL GO AHEAD

However, Dr. Langley failed to win the support of the two other commissioners. "We have gone this far, I think we should go ahead, now that we have committed ourselves," said commissioner Fred Hills. Chairman Gordon Matthews agreed with Mr. Hills. "We've let the contract and got the material now and we will have to go ahead with this strip," he said.

Manager Ross Dobbin took sharp exception when Dr. Langley said, "It amounts to the difference between $30,000 and two or $3,000 when it is just as safe to use lead-covered cable on the existing poles. If you can give adequate service for $1,000 or $1,500 why spend $30,000?" queried commissioner Langley.

"It would certainly cost more than $2,000," countered Mr. Dobbin.

"I doubt it," replied Dr. Langley.

One transformer would cost $1,200 or $1,500 for the type of installation described by Dr. Langley, Mr. Dobbin said. "It would probably be in the neighbourhood of $10,000," Mr. Dobbin added.

At this point, Dr. Langley said, "I won't stand by my original $2,000 but it would probably mean a very substantial saving."

SURVEY COSTS

A motion by chairman Matthews that a survey be taken of the city, based on an eventual population of 50,000 to determine the costs of converting the entire system to underground wiring was quickly approved by Dr. Langley.

Mr. Dobbin said "the erection of a new store (the Metropolitan Building) forced us into it. We never expected to get into underground wiring so soon. It is my job to do the studying and it has been done."

This was in answer to Dr. Langley's complaint that the first he knew about the installing of the underground system was when he read it in the Examiner.

"I can't see how the commission can act without a detailed estimate of costs and the effect on rates," Dr. Langley continued.

He said the manager should present the commission with a report outlining different ways of doing the job and the commission should review the suggested alternatives, having in mind the effect expansion of the city would have on the various schemes.

Dr. Langley said the conversion is so "monumental" it should be submitted to taxpayers for approval, because if the entire city were converted the cost would be terrific." A figure of $350,000 has been mentioned to convert the downtown area and Dr. Langley said this would raise rates by seven per cent. . . . . .

Mr. Matthews agreed that when it costs $30,000 to install underground wiring on one side of one block "the people will realize how big this thing is," but Dr. Langley went further and said "If the costs were placed before the people they would say, No."

In any case, the commission assured Dr. Langley it has no intention of putting any more wires underground immediately.

NOT PRACTICAL?

Mr. Dobbin said it would not be practical to use the overhead wiring suggested by Dr. Langley, as it would mean complete rebuilding along the west side of George St. New wooden poles would have to be put in, he said. The type of transformers that would be required cannot be had for months, he added.

"We are not spending for one store," Mr. Dobbin insisted, "but to provide better service to the entire block. We are spending for the future. We have looked into different possibilities and decided to go into the underground system. The decision was not taken overnight."

When Dr. Langley complained that he could not complacently agree to taking a step unless he knew what it was all about and that it had never been brought up before and he had had no opportunity to obtain knowledge of it, he was told that underground wiring had been discussed in detail and thoroughly threshed out at several meetings before Dr. Langley became a member of the commission.

A TAG DAY ON SATURDAY to foster minor lacrosse activities for 225 boys in five groups was sparked today at City Hall when Tadpole defenseman David Ahern received the first contribution from His Worship Mayor Hugh Waddell. There will be 60 or more young lacrosse taggers on the street corners in one of the few tag days permitted by the Police Commission this year.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Merchants Find Dollar Day Meets With Wide Approval

Peterborough merchants surveyed on Dollar Day sales reported today that business on Thursday was generally far above average. One enthusiastic store manager declared that business was three or four times better than on a normal Thursday. "Those sales have really pepped business up," he said.

All those surveyed said they were very pleased with the response from the advertising and promotion. One manager said "our store was full all day. It was one of the best days we have had in ages on a sale."

The business section was busy from about 11 a.m. Thursday until store closing time. Morning shoppers were mostly looking around, merchants said, and the real buying started in the afternoon.

"An excellent day," said the manager of a shoe store. "We had lots of people buying throughout most of the day."

General reaction was that the first Dollar Day had been successful, and that today and Saturday should provide an even larger crowd of shoppers.

Electricity Used Up 5 Per Cent

Five per cent more electricity was used in July this year than during July 1951 and the peak load was six per cent higher than in July last year.

Figures released in the Utilities Commission operating report for July show the peak load for the month was 22,200 kilowatts, as compared with 20,902 for the same month last year.

Consumption was 8,363,000 kilowatt hours as compared with 7,963,000 last July. Load factor remained constant at 51 per cent.

The transformer for the new number six unit sub station on lower High St., arrived during July and was set on the foundation prepared for it last year. The switchgear and water heat control cabinets for the new sub station are expected to arrive this month.

Guides For Friends Both Get Muskies

Has anybody said lately there are no muskies in Chemong Lake? If that notion prevails anywhere, there is the evidence against it of A. J. (Bert) Arnott, whose recent experience recommends him for guiding as a sideline if he ever needs a summer job instead of pastime.

At the weekend, Mr. Arnott took his friend John Mark out for a troll, and Mr. Mark brought back a 12-pounder.

Thursday night Winston McCullough who is in the realty business, from which Mr. Arnott is retired, was the guest.

Just along the causeway, on the west side and over toward the Ennismore shore, Mr. McCullough hooked a 15-pounder, and it took him nearly 20 minutes to land it.

Two muskies of that poundage in a week! What more could any one demand of a lake?

Take Swim Exams

NORWOOD (ENS)—Following a successful summer, around 40 pupils under their swimming instructress, Miss Kay Fredericks, will be tested Friday afternoon by examiner Gordon Minty, of the Y.M.C.A., Peterborough.

Norman Routly Merchant Dies

Norman Thomas Routly died at his home, 593 Walnut St., today in his 57th year. He had been in ill health for some time.

Born in Brooklin, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Routly, he came to Peterborough 44 years ago and has resided here ever since.

Until 1933, he operated a grocery store at 392 Brock St., in partnership with his brother Nelson Routly. Since then, Mr. Routly has operated the business alone.

Mr. Routly was a member of George Street United Church and served on the board of stewards for two years, until ill health forced his retirement.

He was a member of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club and the Peterborough Branch of the Canadian Legion No. 52. A veteran of the First World War. Mr. Routly went overseas with the 93rd Battalion.

Surviving are his wife, the former Mary Irene Taylor; two sons, Lloyd Edward Routly and Eric Wayne Routly, both of Peterborough; one daughter Norma, and a brother Nelson Routly, also of Peterborough.

The body is resting at Comstock's Funeral Home for service at 3.30 p.m. Monday. The Rev. A. A. Mathews of George St. United Church will officiate.

Interment will be in Little Lake Cemetery.

Hire New Constable

MARMORA (ENS) —Bertram Lonsbury, formerly of Deseronto, has been appointed constable of Marmora Village in place of Melville Dunbar who decided to quit after less than a week's service.

Mr. Lonsbury assumes his new duties on August 15. He has been constable of Deseronto for a number of years. When applications for the position were opened following the retirement of Constable McKenzie, because of his experience, his name was the first choice of the village council. On a visit to his former home in New Brunswick at the time, the council was unable to get in touch with him. This time they succeeded in engaging him.

Eight Apartment Houses 50 Bungalows To Be Built $250,000 Westend Project

Excavation Begins For Apartments Along Clonsilla Ave.

Bungalows To Be Started In Spring

Miller Construction Company of Peterborough began excavation on Clonsilla Ave. this afternoon for the construction of eight four-unit apartment houses. The company's plans will be expanded in the spring of 1953 for the building of fifty brick bungalows, the entire project representing an expenditure estimated at $250,000. The information was received today from the head of the company, Ald. T. D. Miller. His son, Douglas Miller, will be directly in charge of the work.

This is the largest housing development for Peterborough since the conclusion of the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation allotments in various sections of the city, and Sands and Bateman enterprise on the east side of Ashburnham, south of the Warsaw Road.

TOTAL OF 82

The over-all plans of Miller Construction Co. will provide eventually 82 housing units of which 32 will be in the apartments which will front along the west side of Clonsilla Ave.

An obvious advantage of the site, immediately beyond Charlotte St. curve, is its location in the city, convenient to industries, churches, schools and the downtown area.

Each of the 32 apartments will comprise two bedrooms, living room, kitchen and bath; with individual laundry tubs in the basement.

STOVES AND FRIGS

Domestic conveniences include electric stoves and refrigerators. The apartments will be oil heated. The buildings will be of brick veneer, and thoroughly modern in their design, accommodation, and use of space.

Ald. Miller said that the present phase of the company's project will be confined to the eight two-story apartments which are being built for rent in the present shortage of housing in Peterborough.

Warehouse Robbed Of $819 Tobacco

An estimated $819 worth of cigarettes, cigars and tobacco were taken from the warehouse of the Hamilton-Peterborough Freight Lines on Rink St., sometime after 4:30 a.m. Thursday morning.

The warehouse was entered by forcing a door on the north side of the building. Everything was in order when the last driver checked in at 4:30, in the morning, so police assumed the breakin occurred sometime between then and daylight.

City police were not notified of the breakin until later in the day, as the forced door was not noticed until late in the morning.

Constable Douglas Farthing is conducting the investigation.

15% More Water Pumped Into City

During July this year, 23,094,000 more gallons of water were pumped through the filtration plant than in July 1951, an increase of 15 per cent.

Total pumpage for the month was 172,832,000 as compared with the July 1951 pumpage of 149,738,000.

The average rate of pumpage was 3,870 gallons per minute, for the month, while the maximum rate was 8,330 gallons per minute.

The maximum rate is more than double the plant's rated capacity of 4,150 gallons per minute.

Market Square Fulfilling Predictions

The George St. market these weekends is everything its advocates promised farmers who were rooted out of their old stand at Charlotte and Water Sts., say vendors on the market.

Business has developed to just about the volume at the former location. Customers who used to come down by buses are not so numerous, but their absence has been counterbalanced by the automobile trade.

That's what the city council tried to tell folks when the metering of the market was being discussed as a means of getting some revenue for the city, instead of running along at a deficit.

Opposition at that time used to suggest that the Rink-George lot was out in Monaghan or farther off. Finally when it was a case of take it or leave it, and the vendors' benches were set up on the site overlooking the lake, the producers peevishly gave it a trial, with a minimum of advertising but with much free publicity, and the present result is just what the faith of certain city people predicted.

If it were only June in January, and with August volume of broccoli and golden bantam corn, the new market would be a year-round instead of seasonal success.

As for winter cover, that refinement is apparently just where it was when the benches took wing to Rink St. Spending of considerable money is involved in that accommodation, but nobody is showing any desire to assume the financing.

Meanwhile, the business in cauliflowers and new potatoes is quite satisfactory, to say the least.

County Farm Notes

By HARRY THEOBALD

O.A.C. to Thresh 219 Bags of Wheat Club Grain . . . New Ram Policy for Ontario Farmers . . . Holstein Club Dance at Civic Arena . . . Distribution Is Problem of Fruit and Vegetable Growers

The 50 Bushel Winter Wheat Club of Peterborough county had only ten members this year, but they have some 200 associates from other counties. Their specimen harvest will all be judged together at O.A.C.

So, their company has been far more numerous than any of Peterborough's ten wheat club men may have visualized.

They know the routine of determining the season's winners. First the standing grain is inspected, and then samples are taken when the wheat is ready for the harvest. Cuttings from the competitive fields are placed in separate bags, and are sent to the Ontario Agricultural College.

Contents of each bag are put through a miniature threshing machine. This chore at the College is held up until all the bags have arrived. At least 219 bags are expected in this season's county wheat club contest.

Although the clubs are individual organizations, their total membership is broadly representative of enterprising farmers from many of the counties of the province. They constitute one of the unities of Canadian agriculture and farm life, something worth while remembering, so it may be suggested, when members of these clubs are working away on their own land, and seemingly isolated and somewhat solitary.

A little focusing of the imagination readily places them in the main body of their industry, bringing a stimulus to their efforts and ambitious, and holding up a mirror of themselves in the rural scene of this country.

The feeling of aloneness drops away from the man and his family on the farm. Of course there is community neighborliness and association with the other farmers in a locality, but there is the further unity in commodity interests with other farmers near and far.

The Federation, the Forums, the breed clubs, crop improvement groups are some of the senior mediums of co-operation in rural thinking and doing these days. Down at the level of the teenage group are the 4-H Clubs, altogether fusing farm sympathies, ideals, enterprises and understanding of rights as well as of duties more broadly and firmly than ever.

So, the 50-bushel winter Wheat Club in Peterborough will carry on into the coming year, with entries expected until late into this fall. + + +

Cash Crops Day

Here is a new one: Western Ontario's first Cash Crops Day Oct. 2 on two farms near Granton. Plans are directed to "a monster machinery exhibit", speeches and tours of experimental plots of corn, sugar beets, soybeans and white beans.

Cash crops include turnips, corn. Demonstrations will be in treating fence posts with preservative, treating timber for powder post beetles, barn painting, lightning rod installations, and so on. The program sounds like a big day. + + +

Ram Premium Policy

Ontario farmers purchasing pure-bred rams may receive a premium amounting to 20 per cent. of the purchase price up to a maximum of $25.00, providing certain conditions are met. Provision for this premium is made in the ram premium policy which has been announced by Hon. T. L. Kennedy, Ontario minister of agriculture.

The farmer must purchase approved animals at a consignment sale sponsored by a district sheep breeders' association which has been approved by the minister of agriculture.

Approval of rams for this premium is obtained from a committee of two persons—one named by the livestock commissioner and the other by the Ontario Sheep Breeders' Association. This committee will inspect rams offered at such sales. Under the policy, it is provided that animals which are rejected by this committee may not be sold at the same sale. Further, only ram lambs and yearling rams which are well-grown for their age, in good condition and typical of their breed in every respect, shall be eligible for approval.

When these conditions are met the buyer of an approved ram should apply to the livestock commissioner and his application must be accompanied with the pedigree of the animal, registered in the name of the buyer. + + +

Win At Belleville

Winners of mantel radios in the Junior Farmers' section of the Belleville Fair were Bill Curle of Campbellford and Miss Marilyn Parks of Cooper - Remington Girls' Club, Hastings County.

Juniors from Hastings, Prince Edward, Northumberland and Lennox - Addington competed. About 20 registered of whom 65 were boys. Mr. Curle headed his division with Doug Harry of Trenton second.

Miss Parks was named the outstanding girl. Previously this summer she was chosen Hastings County Queen at the Junior Farmers' field day. She kept up her junior club work while attending Normal School at Peterborough, and will teach at Foxboro in the coming school term. She is 18. + + +

Dance Aug. 20

The [illegible] Cattle Breeders Association is getting a two weeks' holiday. Local representative Gordon LaPlante, will be missing from his district rounds for the fortnight. . . Holstein Breeders' Club dance is Wednesday, Aug. 20 at Civic Arena, Park St. . . The number of fields of red clover throughout the Peterborough district suggests good seed prospects. . . . Perth county farmers expect 75 carloads of western beef cattle this season. They have big hopes for a U.S. outlet before the year ends. . . Ottawa Central Exhibition dates are Aug. 16 to 23 . . . And the C.N.E. opens its gates Aug. 22. . . Prominent winners at Belleville Exhibition were R. M. Brown and Frank Andrews in the poultry show, and J. W. B. Mann of Bridgenorth in light horses, roadsters and hackneys. + + +

Warble Fly Dates

Perth County Council suggests that township councils be given authority to set dates for warble fly spraying, instead of having the time schedule fixed by the Department of Agriculture.

The idea is proposed by the Wallace Federation of Agriculture who contend that a province-wide blanket date does not always meet the convenience of local municipalities whose councils, they say, are in a better position to judge local conditions.

Perth county council approved the resolution. They rejected a Waterloo county resolution asking for compulsory action against tent caterpillar and black knot. The councillors endorsed the principle but not the element of compulsion. + + +

Holsteins Average $327

One of the larger Holstein dispersal sales of the year brought a total of $18,655.00 for 57 head to bring the excellent average of $327. This was for the Credholme Farm of Streetsville, Ontario, which was sold at the Oakville Hays arena on August 6th.

The younger animals sold particularly well with ten bred heifers averaging $431 each twelve open heifers $286 and thirteen heifer calves $214. No less than ten of the latter brought at least $200. Twenty-one milking females averaged $260.

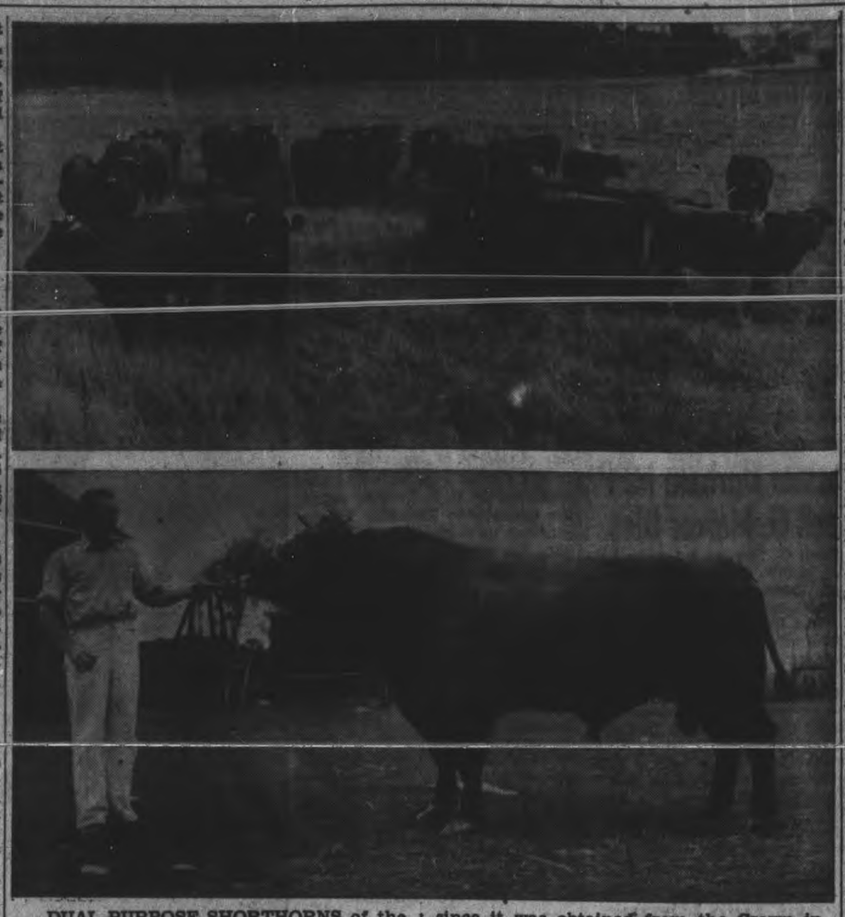
Top price of the sale was $65 paid by Richard Schleissner, Jerseyville, Ont., for the 5 year old cow Credholme Sally Monogram. Second highest figure of the day was $590 paid by Mooney Campbell, Blenheim, Ont., for a three year old heifer. The 3 year old herdsire, Walhill Hector Heddon went to H. W. Hays, Calgary, Alta., at $530. Top price for a bred heifer was $530 received from Bert C. Moore, Cobourg, Ont. Mr. Moore also bought a milking female at $540. Helen W. Bell, Burketon, Ont., bought the top priced heifer calf at $280. + + +

Winding Up Harvest

The harvest is completed in various counties, as reported in the crop review of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, at the beginning of this week.

Renfrew is an exception. "Haying was started on June 8th, and has now been in progress for more than two months. There is still a considerable acreage of first-cut hay not yet harvested due largely to the heavy weekly showers, and to the exceptionally heavy crop, also to lack of sufficient labor on some farms." The 1952 seeding of clover, alfalfa and grasses is exceedingly good, and is making the drying of the stooked grains difficult in the seeded down fields."

Dealers in Russell and Prescott are buying large quantities of oats at $2.25 a hundred pounds at the mill. Prescott farmers are busy threshing timothy hay for seed, and are offered 10c a pound.



Straw is being baled in Lennox-Addington "for future use since it will be in short supply."

Some wheat fields in Halton have yielded between 40 and 50 bus. an acre. It is questionable whether the average will be much above 26 bus. and spring grain will range between 35 and 40 bus.

The Hensall area of Huron will market about 250 car loads of malting barley. Its quality in Perth is excellent.

Haldimand greeted rain on Aug. 4 for the first time since May 24. Corn is generally making excellent growth. In Carleton six to eight weeks old pigs have been selling at $4 to $6.

In Welland a lot of wheat has been delivered to the elevators, and farmers with large supplies are putting it in storage. The tomato crop in Northumberland is just beginning to ripen, and processing will not begin until late next week.

DUAL-PURPOSE SHORTHORNS of the Marlowemay Farm herd are shown with their owner, Edmund Ruth of Emily township. Breeders prefer to call them milking Shorthorns, accenting their production of both meat and milk. Mr. Ruth has 40 head, with his herd sire, Mapleville Red Pat (below), bred by Leonard Trotter of Madoc. The Ruth farm has remained in the family since it was obtained from the Crown in pioneer days. Breeders of milking Shorthorns are increasing in number throughout the country, Mr. Ruth says. They are his favorite breed. "Red Pat" weighs around 2,000 pounds. Peterborough Exhibition includes Dual Purpose Shorthorns in its prize list. There is also a new place for them at Lindsay Exhibition, as evidence of their district recognition.

Milking Shorthorn Extolled By Edmund Ruth

The best mortgage-lifter of them all is the milking Shorthorn.

That's what Edmund Ruth, of Emily township, thinks of his registered and blood tested herd of some 40 cattle headed by the sire Mapleville Red Pat, six years old, bred by Leonard Trotter, of Madoc.

With Dual Purpose Shorthorns "you don't put all your eggs in one basket," said Mr. Ruth, Wednesday. "They are producers of both meat and milk, and they are steadily gaining in recognition to maintain farm economy through good times and bad."

Mr. Ruth declares his faith in the breed with full appreciation of the development accomplished in the separate dairy and beef cattle. You don't make the agricultural headlines so often, but from the practical standpoint "you have income from meat and milk and breeding stock."

"The dual purpose Shorthorn is a rugged animal that thrives in ordinary farm conditions, yields a fine quality of meat, and through the years will make a favorable showing in milk production compared with the regular dairy breeds."

Mr. Ruth says his mature cows will average around 4 per cent butterfat and 9,000 to 10,000 pounds of milk. The Canadian average for the milking Shorthorns is not quite up to those figures.

The breed stems from the Durham line which the pioneers brought to this country from England where a farmer named Bates bred an improved milking strain. From 1902, Mr. Ruth's father kept grade milking Shorthorns. Incidentally, the farm has been in the family for more than 100 years. Edmund Ruth has the deed obtained from the Crown.

It was natural for Mr. Ruth to grow from boyhood with an attachment for the Dual Purpose type. Since 1935 he has eliminated the grades and established a registered herd of purebreds.

He has a community of interest with at least three other farmers in his Emily neighborhood, William Chatten, Herman Franks, Harold Millen. In the district, too, are Tom McCamus, of Cavan, Leonard Trotter, of Madoc, Joseph Sullivan, east of Peterborough. A. B. Mann of Smith, John Bent of Omemee, Gregory Scollard and Frank Fitzgerald.

In the improvement of his herd, he selected good animals here and there, particularly in the Caledonia district around Hamilton where the Dual Purpose Shorthorn is prominent.

"I bought two females from Frank Scollard of Peterborough. You'll find his name on pedigrees all over Canada, and in sections of the United States. There may be some in South America, because breeders down there bought milking Shorthorns in the north."

Mr. Ruth's practice has been to breed the best and beef the rest. In his experience he has found a market for his young bulls in the growing demand from farmers who have Dual Purpose herds and from others going into this breed.

"There are a lot of new herd starters. Our Eastern Ontario Club has between 30 and 35 members, a sign that we are making strong growth."

"I believe in knowing what your herd is doing. That's why I have my best cows on R.O.P. In the period of one lactation one cow's record is 14,198 pounds of milk for ten months and 568 pounds of fat, which is four per cent. I have a two-year heifer that lacks 222 lbs. off 10,000 lbs. of milk."

Another cow shows over 40,000 pounds of milk in her first four lactations; another 100,000 pounds in ten separate records, which included 5.14% butterfat in her second lactation.

Cow for cow, over a ten year period, I'll put my herd up against . . . but, I don't want to appear to be boasting. I am just showing what the milking Shorthorn cow can do, and why I have faith in her. I have friends in the other breeds, and I don't want to get them down on me."

"When I get this chance, I like to say a word for the Dual Purpose as a milker, apart from meat production. With this breed it is a two-way road."

The Ruth herd sire, Mapleville Red Pat, traces its breeding through the Trotter herd to Caledonia. His dam, Lady Mimosa III was grand champion at the Royal in 1950, and third in a class of 34 of the breed at the Indianapolis dairy show. His brother was grand champion at the Toronto Royal in 1950 and 1951, and at Indianapolis in 1951.

Ruth ribbons include grand championships male and female, senior and junior at Lindsay; grand champion female at Peterborough; and Premier Breeder award for most points at Peterborough 1950-51.

Mr. Ruth remarked that Ontario farmers have invested money and time and study in improving their breeds of cattle, have been contributing to the wealth of the country, and are entitled to speak with enthusiasm and confidence of their achievements. He embraces all the breeds in that comment, and believes there is sound future for them as Canada continues its expansion in population and wealth.

Recognition of the milking Shorthorn is indicated by its representation in the breeding unit at Hamilton, Mr. Ruth said.

Eight States Stricken By Dry Months, Declared Disaster Area

At least eight states of the American Union have been declared drought disaster areas. All of New England may have to be put in the disaster category.

Four of the states are: Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky and Mississippi as the result of prolonged heat and lack of rain.

Tennessee and large parts of Missouri and Arkansas are other disaster areas. New England, North and South Carolina, Louisana, Virginia and Flordia are being examined by government farm agents to determine whether they also need Federal farm help. Forests are closed to the public in sections of Rhode Island and Massachusetts.

Pastures and hay crops have been virtually destroyed in Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky and Mississippi. Many farmers must buy feed for their stock. Some farmers have begun to make sharp reductions in their herds.

Senator J. O. Eastland of Mississippi said recently the drought in his state is the worst since 1930. Tennessee farmers have been without rain for two months. Agricultural experts in Alabama said the four-month drought has cost the farmers close to $100,000,000 in baked out crops.

Thirty-million dollars have been transferred to the Farmers Home Administration from the Missiouri flood-relief program to meet emergency drought needs.

Maine's loss in oats, beans, cucumbers, blueberries, corn and potatoes has run into millions.

The Vegetable Growers' Association of America included in a recent news letter the following reference to the lack of rain:

"Drought is now making the headlines. First one state and then another is being declared to be a sdisaster area. Our complacency garnered over a 20-year period of adequate rainfall in most humid areas has been shattered and the oldsters are reminded of the years 1930, 1932 and 1933, when drought was the rule rather than the exception.

The worst part of it is that farmers rather than the drought will be blamed for high prices.

Consumers are paying approximately $16,000,000 more each week for their potato supply because of the drought.

We are thus reminded anew of the necessity for irrigation insurance. Most progressive vegetable growers have this insurance in the form of adequate modern irrigation equipment.

Our water supply is however, being curtailed by industrial use. We use 18 billion galions of water daily for irrigation, but under present conditions we should be using ten times that amount. When will it be obtained? Coastal regions have some hopes of purified water from the oceans. Inland areas must insist on the purification and re-use of industrially toxified waters."

Discover Supersonic Waves Can Speed Up Germination

EDMONTON (CP)—Barley seeds and supersonic waves seem a queer combination, but the alliance could be a potent one if the experiments of George Obelenski prove successful.

Already, tests being carried out by Obelenski in a laboratory of the University of Alberta's plant science department have proven that supersonic waves can be made to speed germination and growth of plants.

The "guinea pigs" for most of the experiments so far have been barley seeds but there's no reason, says Obelenski, why the treatmnt couldn't be applied to almost any plant.

The linking of supersonic vibrations and plants is an entirely new field and the Russian-born scientist says the surface has hardly been scratched yet although an encouraging start has been made.

GERMAN DEVICE

In his experiments, he is using an ultrasonic generator, imported from Germany and used widely in a type of medical "deep massage" treatment for humans.

It sets up sound vibrations at the rate of 800,000 a second. This speed can best be imagined when one considers that the human ear can hear vibrations up to only about 16,000 a second.

Obelenski's method so far in treating seeds has been to soak them for periods up to 48 hours, thus starting the germination process, and then applying the vibrator to a vessel of water in which the seeds lie.

The effect is seen in small plots of barley growing in a greenhouse. The plants growing from treated seed are an average of six inches higher than those not treated and already are headed out.

"It is difficult to explain simply the biologic effect of the treatment, but it best can be explained by saying that the seed is 'shocked' into faster development," says Obelenski.

CHANGES PRODUCED

Dr. L. P. V. Johnson, professor of genetics and plant breeding, under whose supervision experiments are being carried out, says: "There's some indication, too, that mutations or hereditary changes are produced. In some instances, the resulting plants have been almost albinos."

Dr. Johnson feels the findings of the experiments could be put to practical use first in the treatment of tomatoes and other garden plants. At the present stage of development, it would cost far more than it would be worth to treat enough seed for a barley crop.

Born in Moscow, Obelenski left Russia in 1920 after the revolution and has since gained agriculture degrees at the University of Yugoslavia and Vienna.

He won his bachelor of science degree at the University of Alberta last year.

Of Interest to Women

SOFT, FLOATING, pure silk chiffon layers makes this Fall evening gown with Empire lines. Shirred waistline rises to just under draped top that has cover-up for shoulders in wide straps. Ombered in shades of gold-to-white, this dress demonstrates the new softer silhouette.

More Covered-up Look In Autumn's Evening Dress

By GAILE DUGAS

A more covered-up look, as evidenced by the use of sleeves, appears in the evening gowns for Fall, 1952. Soft shoulder draping, a single, large puffed sleeve and draped halter necklines are used to erase the topless, bare look of the past seasons.

The line for evening is slimmer. But there is still some fullness, often epressed in soft, floating fabric used in layers. Stoles, attached at one side, aid in providing the new cover-up and add to the soft sweep.

Back fullness is stressed, done in big, bustle-like pouffs or in rudder fullness placed low. Where this back fullness appears, front and sides are flat and smooth.

Evening gowns in both the long and the short lengths have gained acceptance with American women. Both appear in most collections for Fall.

Satins, taffetas, draped chiffons, brocades, lace, barathea are the fabrics. Red makes a big splash of color, followed by gold, topaz, emerald, and, of course, black and white.

THE EXPERTS SAY:

Accumulated Summer Ideas Include Closets, Pancakes

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Lazy days are made for swinging in hammocks—or filing away tag-ends from a summer's accumulation of recipes and advice.

Carefully clipped and underlined is a suggestion for converting hall-closets into "attractive little powder-rooms for your guests."

If you're like most persons you won't have any closets that you can afford to use for anything but closets. However, so the suggestion goes, closets to be transformed "may be painted in such delicate tints as oyster white, lavender, rose, soft blue, or peach color."

Incidentally, the suggestion comes from a paint manufacturer.

ON PANCAKES

The consumer section of the Canadian Department of Agriculture offers a French pancake recipe described as equally good for breakfast, luncheon or as dessert.

Sift one-half cup of flour with one teaspoon baking-powder and one-half teaspoon salt. Beat in three-quarters cup of milk a little at a time so the batter will not become lumpy.

Add three unbeaten eggs, one at a time, beating well after each egg.

To cook: Melt butter in frying-pan and when the pan is quite hot pour in enough batter to cover the bottom. If the pan is not too large one pancake will just fill it.

As each pancake is cooked, sprinkle it with grated maple-sugar or spread with tart jelly or honey and roll it up.

The rolled pancakes can also be served with maple-syrup.

THRIFT TALK

Skim milk powder is recommended for use in baking, for soups, sauces, macaroni and cheese. It costs less than whole milk, can be stored indefinitely in a dry place and with it on hand, there's no danger of running out of milk.

The consumer section has published a booklet filled with recipes for skim-milk powder. There's one for cream pie.

Ingredients: One-third cup sugar; one-third cup flour; one-eighth teaspoon salt; one-half cup skim milk powder; two cups water; two egg yolks; one tablespoon butter; one teaspoon vanilla.

Mix sugar, flour, salt and skim milk powder and blend with one cup of water. Slowly add remaining water and cook over hot water 10 minutes, stirring constantly until mixture thickens.

Add beaten egg yolks and cook three minutes. Add butter and vanilla. Cool. Pour into baked nine-inch pie shell. Top with meringue. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees fahrenheit, about 15 minutes.

STUFFED TOMATOES

When slicing tomatoes cut them vertically—they lose less juice this way.

Stuffed tomatoes make a tasty dish. Cut them in half, scoop out the centres, and stuff. Cottage-cheese, well-seasoned and moistened with salad dressing, is a good stuffing. Another is an egg salad made by combining chopped pickle, diced green pepper, diced celery, and chopped hard-cooked eggs with salad dressing.

Eden, Wife Take Portugal Trip

LONDON (AP) — Britain's distinguished newlyweds — Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and his wife the former Clarissa Churchill—took off from London airport today for a honeymoon flight to Portugal.

Eden and his bride, a niece of Prime Minister Churchill, were passengers on an airliner bound for Lisbon. There they will be guests of British ambassador Sir Nigel Ronald for two days before going off for a week at a seaside resort.

The couple, wed yesterday at London's Claxton Hall, reached the airport 20 minutes before the plane departed. They had stayed overnight at the nearby home of Whitney Straight, deputy chairman of the British Overseas Airways Corporation.

Hat Styles Require Good Profile

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—A good profile seems to be the most important asset for hat styles worn with fall fashions shown in London and Paris.

High-crowned turbans and stovepipe hats with little or no brim are far from flattering to anything but the most regular features. And it needs well-kept hairstyles and cleverly-applied make-up to do justice to cloches and berets that sometimes resemble close-fitting bathing caps.

London's youngest hat designer, air force veteran Edward Harvane, might have had his service days in mind when he created a propeller-brim model in white panne with biege bee-keeper veil. A shallow juliet-cap crown is surrounded by brown fur and fur-covered propeller wings stretch sideways to shoulder width.

STOVE-PIPE LOOK

The most popular style in this collection was the stove-pipe look created by high-crowned turbans draped and tilted sideways, and square-crowned peach-bloom felts with tiny roll brims and a similar sideways tilt.

The Elizabethen flavor that came into fashion with the start of the new reign is perhaps even more noticeable in the hat field. A Queen Bess" cap in black velvet, has its tiny-crowned, halo brim outlined by a white organza ruffle. It suggests train skirts and farthingale waists.

In both London and Paris, hats are tiny and face-framing. There is scarcely one forward-tilting brim in either city.

Colors tend to softness, ranging from charcoal browns and greys, shaded bronze, olive green and royal purple, to azalea pink, coronation red, chrysanthemum yellow, "banjo blue" and "ukulele green."

Hardy Amies, designer of many outfits worn by the Queen on her Canadian tour, features tudor caps in soft worsteds and light-weight tweeds that match slim suits and softly-draped afternoon dresses.

Catholic Women Urged To Set Social Standards

TORONTO—National regent of the Daughters of Isabella, Mrs. Carolyn B. Manning, New Bedford, Mass., says that Catholic women should set "standards of dress, of reading, of entertainment, and not follow those of non-Christian leaders." She was speaking at the annual dinner in Toronto Wednesday, following which she retired from her office after 13 years in favor of Mrs. Helen T. Howard of Columbus, O.

"Not until we bring God back into society, our education, our public and private lives, will the peace which the world craves be restored," said Mrs. Manning. Defeat of the Nazis in World War II "did not end our ills, nor will defeat of the Reds do so," she continued. "Many now think there is no Deity and no immortal soul in man, and much of the confusion and chaos is the result of this godlessness."

Woman's primary task "still is the caring for the home and those within it," she said, but "Catholic women today must take their side by men in family, social, civic and economic life and in solving international problems."

"It is not man's opinion of woman, nor even woman's opinion of woman, but God's opinion of woman that matters," declared Mrs. Manning.

Directors Pleased With Response To Glad Show

"Directors are more than pleased with the public response to this year's show of the Peterborough and District Gladiolus Society" said Mrs. J. H. Leslie today. Mrs. Leslie is the secretary-treasurer of the society and has recorded a total of 484 entries which is 78 more than last year.

Final night of the show in the Market Hall there was a large attendance, and the blooms were auctioned off at the close with good financial success.

Award for the best spike on the second day was won by E. A. Summers of Bowmanville, who was also winner on the first day. Junior winner was Donna Livingstone of Peterborough. Presentations of trophies to the show winners were made by Mr. G. Wilson Craw.

Draw prizes for the second night were very desirable items. The electric kettle was won by Miss Shirley Cooper of R.R. 6 Peterborough, the electric blanket by Mr. B. Henderson, 798 Curtis Road, a blanket by Mrs. N. Edmison, 290 Stewart St., and a ham by Mrs. H. Ford of 744 Armour Road.

John Sheehan Wed

Expected back in Peterborough this weekend on their honeymoon visit with his mother are Mr. and Mrs. John P. Sheehan of Flint, Michigan, whose marriage took place last Saturday morning in Flint. Mr. Sheehan is son of the late Thomas Sheehan and the former Ellen Doris, now Mrs. John Hayes of 529 King St., Peterborough, and he is graduate of St. Peter's schools here. His bride is the former Margaret I. Clements of Gaestra, Mich.

For her wedding Mrs. Sheehan wore a dress of white lace over pink faille, featuring a sweetheart neckline edged with rhinestones, and a matching bolero jacket. A white lace hat tirmmed with rhinestones and a white satin prayer book with feathered carnations and pink roses completed her ensemble.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Clements, brother and sister-in-law of the bride, attended the couple. The ceremony was conducted in St. Michael's church by the Rev. Francis Zipple.

Coat Fashions For Autumn Show Contrast In Treatment

By GAILE DUGAS

There's real contrast in coat fashions for Fall, contrast that takes in such diverse silhouettes as the barrel line versus the tulip, both of them highly important. There are coats with a modified flare and many fitted coats, the latter gaining in importance.

The waistline question is a highly controversial one. High, low or natural? Many houses show all three. Similarly, shoulder lines are narrow or wide, the latter achieved by diagonal shoulder seams and, sometimes, by wide capelet sleeves.

There's contrast in sleeve treatments, too. These either taper, slimming down to a narrow cuff, or take to great fullness in company with widened cuff effects. Both are shown and both are good.

Collars may be very wide or they may not be collars at all. Where the wide mantle collar does not appear, there's likely to be a cardigan effect or a simple roll or small club collar.

The empire, or high-waisted look, is balanaced by the low-waisted coat, frequently demonstrated by some variation of the martingale.

Little fur touches appear in many Fall coats; some of these are used for the small club and roll collars or for trim on widely-flared cape effects. The tulip silhouette often gets fur trimming in the form of a small, close collar high about the neck.

Fabrics include the brushed poodles, nubby boucles, shaggy and fleecy coatings, hairy tweeds and nubs. On the color chart, brown keeps company with black. There's a good sprinkling of red, royal, grey, beige, and green. Often, the reds, golds, greens or blues are mixed with black for a blurred, blackened effect.

What's Right

When you ask your hostess to give you the recipe for a dish for which she is famous in her circle, she seems reluctant to do so and cuts you off until "later."

WRONG: Keep after her to give you the recipe.

RIGHT: Realize that some cooks when they find they have won a local reputation for a particular dish, have no intention of telling anyone else exactly how to prepare it.

Processed Cheese Found More Popular Than Cheddar

OTTAWA (CP)—How do you like your cheese?

Most people in Ottawa like theirs on the mild side. People in Vancouver favor medium-strength cheese. Most Torontonians lean towards the old, strong kind.

That's the finding of investigations by the department of agriculture into cheese consumption trend in the three cities. The department found almost all families in the three cities ,use some type of cheese. Less than five per cent of the housewives interviewed indicated they never have cheese on th family menu.

The investigation disclosed that processed cheese is somewhat more popular than cheddar but most families use both types. Cheddar cheese is used in 90 per cent of Ottawa cheese-using households compared with 80 per cent in Vancouver and 70 per cent in Toronto.

Cottage cheese is used in about three-quarters of all Vancouver cheese consuming households, much more than in the other two cities. Other kinds of cheese such as gruyere, oka and danish blue are used by one-third to one-half of all families in each of the three centres.

The investigators found colored cheese was more favored than the uncolored kind. The department concluded this was because colored cheese "looks more appetizing and has eye appeal."

Beautiful Romance Ended As Dodge Has Girl Arrested

DETROIT (AP)—The romance between automobile heir Horace E. Dodge and showgirl Gregg Sherwood ended abruptly yesterday after Dodge had police pick up the attractive actress.

Miss Sherwood, who has been rumored engaged to the 50-year-old heir, said she was 'all through' with Dodge.

"But its all over," Miss Sherwood said. "After all, it was just one of those acquaintances."

Dodge called police last night, saying that a woman riding in a cab had stolen his jewels.

NO JEWELS

Police picked up Miss Sherwood as she arrived at a bus station. She was taken to headquarters where police again called the automobile heir. Dodge told police that no jewels had been taken but said Miss Sherwood had taken a box of candy, two bottles of perfume and five cigaret lighters.

"If she will surrender these, let her go," Dodge told police.

The showgirl produced the missing items from her luggage, claiming that all were gifts.

"I have been in his house for several days as a guest, with two ladies as chaperones," Miss Sherwood said. "The ladies left so I decided to leave, too.

TOO TEMPERAMENTAL

"Last week, he was my house-guest at my parents' home but my father did not approve of his drinking and ordered him out.

"This is the end of a beautiful romance. He's too temperamental."

Police released the showgirl after retaining one of the perfume bottles and the candy.

DIVERSITY OF SILHOUETTE marks the Fall suit for 1952. Woolly black-and-white tweed (left) for a suit with shorter hip-length jacket and full-length sleeves. Skirt is lightly and softly flared; collar has a touch of velvet. Wool in two levels is used (right) for olive green cardigan suit. Loose-falling coatlette tops gold wool crepe halter blouse and Empire-waisted, flat-textured skirt. Straight skirt has hipline fullness through peg-top treatment.

Slim Lines Dominate Fall Fashions In Suits

By GAILE DUGAS

When you pay your money across the line for a suit this Fall, you'll find you're not confined to one silhouette.

There's a wide choice: you can pick the very short, hip-length jacket (often belted), the middy look as demonstrated by the oval box or long torso line, or the suit with natural waist and rounded hipline but without padding.

These should offer choice enough to please anyone. The look of most daytime suits is slim, but this doesnt mean pencil-tight skirts. Centre pleats, panel-effect backs, concealed pleats or high slits give some freedom of motion.

Where skirt fullness does show up, it's soft and gentle fullness, slim at the hipline and molded to the body, with no hint of stiffness.

The padding predicted for the shoulder line has not materialized. Even shoulders with set-in sleeves remain natural. If there's padding, it's very soft and light.

"Black will be good for Fall." We hear this every year, said with varying degrees of breathlessness. It's no news to anyone that women will wear black again this Fall and Winter.

Red, a blurred, blackened red and red in varying shades and degrees, will trail black as a high fashion color. Brown will be seen both alone and in company with black, a smart, if Victorian, team. Blue and grey follow in importance.

Poodle wools are with us for suits this year, as are many bulky coatings that can be worn into the Winter. Many of these are long-haired, some are sleek sibelines, both fancy and plain. Tweeds, worsteds and tweedy angora blends are used; so are the textured, loopy fabrics and textured rabbit's hair-and-wool.

DOROTHY DIX

Unfaithful Wife Complains Of Husband's Bad Temper

DEAR MISS DIX: For over 20 years I have been married and am now over 40 and have six children, ranging from 6 months to 18 years. Some time ago I left my husband determined that I would be happier without him. I have the chidren, who are split up among relatives. I know my husband loves me and the children dearly, and he has promised to do everything possible if I will only return to him. I think he is serious in his intentions but my people advise me against it; they say it will not work out and the children are better off without him. He has a bad temper, flying into tantrums easily, but we did have a nice home.

K.M.C.

ANSWER: You are easily one of the most foolish women I have ever heard from, judging from the facts presented in your letter, which I have had to abbreviate. You admit that the original cause of the trouble between you and your husband was your own infatuation with another man, yet you now put yourself in a position where you feel you should be the one to forgive. Temper tantrums are certainly a small fault compared to infidelity—or are all our standards of decency being thrown overboard these days?

You're a lucky woman to be given another chance, and I hope you take it and profit by your lesson. Surely, in spite of your relatives' opinion, the children will be better off together with their parents than divided among various relatives.

✧ ✧ ✧

IN NO POSITION TO CHOOSE

DEAR MISS DIX: We are two girls, aged 15, anxious to get some sort of part-time work. We have thought of many things to do, but most of them do not seem our type. We go to private schools and our fathers are well-to-do attorneys.

C and D.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your fathers are also parents of a couple of first-class snobs. The most arduous work you can find is exactly what you need to overcome the idea that you can pick and choose. At 15, without training and with darn little education and no sense, any work is above you. Take whatever job you can get, do it gratefully, profiting from its experience. You can be more selective when you have more to offer.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: During most of the fourteen years I've been married, we have lived alone. When my mother died this spring, my unmarried sister and brother, who had lived at home with her asked us to come with them. We did, to our sorrow. We have no privacy—my sister even uses part of the closet and dresser in our room. She works during the day, comes home and doesn't do a thing to help. We pay half the expenses, yet I have nothing to say about running the house, except to do the work. Do you think we should go by ourselves again?

DISCOURAGED PEGGY.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Under your present living conditions you are just going to turn into a household drudge for your sister—as apparently your mother was! Get out as fast as possible and back to your own home.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Before my brother was married, he was a wonderful person. We all got along beautifully. He has been married for two years to a girl we scarcely know. We seldom see her and, though we are all very anxious to know her, any attempt we make to visit is frustrated. My brother asks us to visit them, but we must telephone before we go—and, since they have no phone, it's rather difficult to comply with his request. We have asked them to visit us, but they are always busy. All the rest of the family are on extremely friendly terms, and I'd like to include my brother and sister-in-law in our circle, too, but am so constantly rebuffed in my attempts to be friendly that I'm getting discouraged.

MRS. A. D.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your letter stamps you as such a kind, friendly person that I know your sister-in-law is the loser in refusing your overtures. Either she is too self-conscious to welcome visiting (which I doubt), or a chronic antisocialite who would not be an asset in any family circle. Since she is so pointedly unavailable, you might as well give up and direct your own kindliness into more responsive channels.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I have a boy friend overseas who writes me rarely. I like him very much and as a result do not enjoy the company of other boys. This boy has been gone a year, during which I have received three letters.

DIXIE T.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You are pinning altogether too much hope on what is to the boy merely a pleasant friendship. If he cared for you at all, he surely would have written more frequently than he has. Your avoidance of other boys is very foolish, and the sooner you get into circulation, the better.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a boy of 16, am 6 feet, 2 inches tall, and weigh 190 pounds. Should I go on a diet? The girls won't go out with me because I am too fat.

R. P.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You surely have the makings of a football hero—and what will the girls think of you then? The question of weight is one to be settled by your family physician, and no one else.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: In the 30 years I've been married my in-laws have never visited me. While my parents-in-law have been dead for twenty years, the sisters-in-law and I haven't spoken for eight years. Now one of them is seriously ill and I wonder whether I should go to see her now.

H. P.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: The cause of the dissension would be an important factor in your case, but apparently your conscience would be easier if you went to see the lady. In making your decision, judge the past on as charitable a basis as possible and act accordingly.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: My sister is always flirting with my boy friends. She is older than I and has won several beauty contests. My friends say she is just teasing me, but I don't like that kind of teasing.

LITTLE SISTER.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your sister probably doesn't realize that her conduct is bothering you so much. Speak to her about it, or have your mother do so.

Readers' Friday Column Conducted By Mary Moore

QUESTION: The recipe you published the other day for canned berries stated: 1 cup sugar to 1½ cups water . . .would you please tell me just what quantity of berries that would be for . . . 1 qt? Also would like to know about the quantity of syrup involved in canning cherries. I really study your recipes like so many others. B. D.

✧ ✧ ✧

SYRUP QUANTITIES

ANSWER: Raspberries: For cold pack method knock raspberries down into jar by rapping base of jar on wooden table or board. Then you will need approximately 1½ cups syrup made in proportion of 1 cup sugar to each 2 cups of water (the ratio I use.)

Cherries: Same as raspberries.

Strawberries, gooseberries, rhubarb need approximately same syrup quantites as raspberries, but gooseberries and rhubarb require sweeter syrup for most folks—but use your own judgment about this—1 to 1½ cups water to each 1 cup of sugar, is usual.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: I am a woman of 63 years and sorry to say I'm overweight, and trying to lose some weight. I am going by the chart but sorry to say I lost only 5 lbs. in 2 weeks. I'm 5 ft. 4 in. tall, weights 160 lbs. What should I weigh? Would you mind sending me the calorie chart. I'm always hungry and started smoking. Does that help to reduce? Mrs. E. B.

ANSWER: Listen, my friend, you've done wonderfully! Five lbs. in 2 weeks is almost too fast to reduce at your age; two lbs. per week would be better. I know there is a lot of controversy over smoking and losing weight, but it's fewer calories that reduces weight—not picking up another insidious habit. Drop that while you can. I think your doctor would tell you that about 125 lbs. would be the ideal weight for your height. If you achieve 125 lbs. in 4 months—and maintain that reduced weight—you will be feel well—and that "always hungry" feeling will disappear. When your hunger gets too unmanageable drink tomato juice with lemon in it, and nibble on a raw water.

I have sent you the chart. I have sent out nearly a thousand of these, so if good intentions mean anything there should be some lovely stream-lined figures to admire.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: A short time ago you had a recipe in the column for jam made without sugar. I have either lost it or forgot to cut it out of the paper . . . red currants, black currants, cherries or any fruit, I will be so grateful. I love your column very much, thanking you, Mrs. John E. D.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: By now you will have seen the recipes for making sugarless black currant, red currant and peach jam which appeared in this column two weeks ago. I have mailed you copies of them. Following is—

SUGARLESS DARK CHERRY JAM

Which is too late for this year's pack but those who are diabetic or have diabetic patients to cook for should clip it and file it for reference next year. This is a delicious jam—even the reducers are using it.

One quart dark sweet ripe cherries, 2 tablespoons glycerin, 2 teaspoons pectin crystals, 2 ½-grain saccharin tablets or 4 sucaryl tablets (amount of sweetener depends on your taste). (Saccharin tablets, if used, should be dissolved in 1 teaspoon boiled but slightly cooled water.) Wash cherries well and pit them and mash them in saucepan. Simmer over low heat, to boil off excess juice, for about 20 minutes, then add all remaining ingredients except sweetener. Boil 3 minutes, stirring, then add sweetener, stir until dissolved and mixed, remove from heat and pour into small sterile jars and seal with new very hot paraffin, adding a second coating when cold. I advise refrigeration for this and all sugarless jams.

NOTE: Write to Mary Moore if you have cooking, canning or pickling problems. If you want return mail enclose stamped self-addressed envelope. Address, Mary Moore in care of this newspaper.

Colleges Said Best Source Of Army Officers

SASKATOON (CP).—Canadian universities are the greatest source of officer material and there should be more collaboration between the institutions of higher learning and the three armed services, Adrien Pouliot, dean of the faculty of science and engineering at Laval University, Quebec, said today.

Dean Pouliot, in Saskatoon during a tour of service units across Canada, said in an interview:

"I am the first university dean to do this, but I wanted to find out for myself how the services operate, what they have to offer university students in the way of life careers, and the possibility of change in some university courses to fit in with the training syllabus of the respective services."

He said he had been invited by the National Defence Department to visit the services base at Chilliwack, B.C., but had requested and received permission to visit units of the three branches all across Canada.

Dean Pouliot had been impressed by what the services had to offer in careers for young Canadians, was convinced that with more widespread knowledge of the opportunities these would be grasped to a greater degree than at present.

At the completion of his tour he would be prepared to recommend to the Department of National Defence some ways and means for closer collaboration between the services and universities.

Heir To Fortune Under Arrest

NEW YORK (AP)—A socially-registered young heir to an oleomargarine fortune was arrested today for allegedly allowing his fashionable apartment to be used by prostitutes and accepting earnings from them.

Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke, 22, was charged with living off the proceeds of prostitution and conspiracy. He also was charged with illegally possessing two guns.

He was picked up, along with seven blonde, brunette and red-haired beauties and two other men in a city-wide campaign to stamp out a prostitution system whereby some girls reputedly charged as much as $500 a night.

"Joy Of Jesus" Theme At Cottesloe Meeting

COTTESLOE — The associate members of the Cottesloe W.M.S. were in charge of the August meeting, held Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Walter Girven. The vice-president, Miss H. Tedford, was in charge of the devotional period.

After the business was disposed of, Mrs. Charles McMillan, leader of the Associate Members' group, took charge of the program. Mrs. Gordon McCoy read the Bible.

Miss Lorraine Girven played a piano solo, after which Mrs. D. McCoy gave a reading.

Miss Margaret Clarke then sang a solo accompanied on the piano by Miss Dorothy McMillan and by Miss Leona McMillan on the violin.

Mrs. C. McMillan then gave the topic entitled the "Joy of Jesus" which enlarged on the Bible reading from Luke.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Fred Toms and Mrs. Merd Clipdale, assisted by the hostess, Mrs. W. Girven.

Young Financier Disappears, 5 Million Debt

NEW YORK (CP)—A young Brazilian financier who built up a multi-million-dollar business dealing in used cars has stunned his country's business world by closing shop and leaving behind $5,000,000 in promissory notes, the New York Times reports today in a dispatch from Rio De Janeiro.

The Times says that the financier Luiz Felipe de Albuquerque, a 30-year-old former air force lieutenant, paid 20 to 30 per cent more than other dealers offered — paying in instalments — and sold cars for cash at less than other dealers.

The only explanation hazarded for his method was that in some way he would make enough profits with the quick capital it gave him.

He branched into other lines and owned a fleet of taxicabs and speculated in Rio real estate.

Albuquerque started a near panic yesterday with an announcement in a small newspaper saying that he had closed his "commercial activities" but that he would eventually make good all debts.

Sehested Envoy To Canada

COPENHAGEN (Reuters)—Career diplomat Ove Flemming Sehested, 64, was named today as Denmark's new minister to Canada.

He and his wife will sail from Liverpool England, Sept. 2.

He entered his country's diplomatic service as a young man in the London consulate.

He has served since in Paris, Stockholm, Bern, Prague, and Oslo and was vice-consul in New York for three years and minister to Brazil from 1935 to 1947.

Immigrants Delayed

SCAPA FLOW, Scotland (Reuters)—Some 150 German immigrants headed for Canada were among 640 passengers stranded aboard Swedish ship Anna Salen, anchored two miles off here last night for repairs. The vessel, bound for Halifax, collided with a Norwegian whale factory ship Wednesday.

Man Saves Boy 12 But Drowns Himself

NORTH BAY (CP)—Patrick Dugan, 35-year-old fireman from Cleveland, O., was drowned Wednesday after saving a 12-year-old boy when a canvas boat capsized. The accident occurred in Lake Wilson, 40 miles southwest of here.

The boy is Patrick Patton of Lakewood, O. Witnesses said the two were out in the boat when Dugan stood up and overturned the craft.

Have No Record Of Hitler's Death

BERLIN (Reuters)—The West Berlin registrar's office today told the local district attorney of Berchtesgaden, Bavaria, that its records do not contain a death certificate for Adolf Hitler.

The Berchtesgaden official, who is trying to find whether the former dictator is dead or alive, is acting on an Austrian request regarding a valuable painting which once belonged to Hitler.

A Berchtesgaden court ruling is needed in Austria to settle the fate of the painting. Austrian authorities asked for the ruling because Berchtesgaden was Hitler's last official residence.

The West Berlin office, which keeps records of all deaths for West Germany and West Berlin, said that since it had no record of his death, Hitler must be regarded as missing.

Under the law on missing persons, the Berchtesgaden court would be entitled to rule on the Austrian request and declare Hitler dead if it thought available evidence justified it.

Hitler is generally believed to have killed himself in the air-raid shelter under the ruins of his Berlin chancellory, but no definite proof has ever been found.

Daley Attempts Settle Strike

TORONTO (CP)—A meeting between Labor Minister Daley, Louis Fine, Ontario's chief conciliation officer, and representatives of striking Leamington cannery workers, opened in Mr. Daley's office today.

The session was called at the request of Mr. Daley and Mr. Fine in an attempt to settle the strike of some 1,000 Leamington employees and 100 others at Wallaceburg.

Most are members of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C. I. O.-C. C. L.) The strike started Aug. 8, and growers say their $1,000,000 tomato crop will probably spoil if the cannery workers do not return to the plants soon.

The union, seeking an increase of 21 cents over the basic hourly rate of 99 cents, turned down a company offer of 11 cents which was recommended by a conciliation board.

Report Bulgarians Fire On Blockhouse

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — A reliable source said today troops of Communist Bulgaria fired on a Greek blockhouse near the border village of Kula Wednesday, killing two Greek soldiers.

The new border incident was reported amid rumors of possible joint Greek-Turkish army manoeuvres in Greek Thrace next month. Greek and Turkish destroyers are engaging in joint manoeuvres in the Aegean Sea beginning tomorrow.

Last week Greek troops fired with machine-guns and mortars in tiny Gamma Island in the Evros River to force Bulgarian patrol from the border island, claimed by both countries.

Left-Eyed Child Has Advantage—Expert

MONTREAL (CP)—It's an advantage to children to be "left-eyed."

That's what Lawrence Dayhaw, Professor of psychology at the University of Ottawa, said here yesterday.

Speaking to Montreal's Richelieu Club, he said medical opinion is that children tend to be either "left-eyed" or "right-eyed."

Because reading as we do it is from left to right, "left-eyed" children have a better chance than the other kind of saving their sight, he said.

New Aid For Tito

WASHINGTON (AP)—The state department said yesterday that the Western powers are giving Yugoslavia economic aid for another year, for the sake of free world security and with no thought of converting Tito from Communism. The United States, Britain and France are reported to have agreed on a total of $99,000,000 in direct economic assistance.

Jas. A. Spencer Active In Church Dies In Hospital

Active in the affairs of George St. United Church where he served as an elder, a member of the board of trustees, a member of the choir for 18 years, and was treasurer of the Sunday school for many years, James Alexander Spencer, 576 Stewart St., died in Civic Hospital Thursday after a long illness.

Mr. Spencer was a member of the Quaker Oats quarter century club. He was employed by the company for 33 years, until his retirement in September, 1946. A millwright by trade, he was foreman of the maintenance department when he retired.

A resident of Peterborough for 38 years, Mr. Spencer lived in Lakefield and Dummer Township, where he was born, prior to coming to the city.

He was the son of the late William Spencer and Hannah Scott. His wife, the former Bertha Rowe, survives, and he is also survived by a son, W. Arnold Spencer of London; two grand-children and a sister, Mrs. Arthur Carveth (Luella) of Lakefield.

The body is resting at the Comstock funeral home where services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. The Rev. Arnold Mathews of George St. United Church will officiate. Interment will be in Ray's Cemetery, Lakefield.

2 Cruise Ships Up For Sale

MONTREAL (CP)—The West Indies cruise ships Lady Rodney and Lady Nelson have been put up for sale by Canadian National steamships, it was learned today.

The C.N.S. annual report disclosed last March that the 8,000-ton ships would be withdrawn from the Montreal-West Indies service next October.

The ships, while still serviceable, are said to have become too expensive to operate on the West Indies run.

The service will be carried on by three C.N.S. passenger-cargo ships, the Canadian Challenger, Canadian Constructor and Canadian Cruiser, and five C. N. S. freighters.

The two Lady vessels are expected to be kept in operation after their sale because of their good condition.

C. N. S. put the Lady Nelson on the route in 1928. The Lady Rodney joined her the next year.

Both ships saw service during the Second World War as troop carriers.

Winnipeg Woman Heads Federation

WINNIPEG (CP)—Myrtle R. Conway of Winnipeg Thursday was elected president of the Canadian Teachers' Federation at the group's annual convention here. She succeeds Tom Parker of Halifax.

A past president of the Manitoba Teachers' Federation, Miss Conway is principal of Clifton Elementary School here. She is a director of the Manitoba Federation of Home and School and a past president of the Manitoba Educational Association.

L. John Prior of Burnaby, B.C., was elected vice-president.

Directors include Percy W. Diebel, Hamilton and Dr. I. P. Patterson, Montreal.

Dignitaries Attend Consecration Service

RIMOUSKI, Que. (CP)—A large number of Roman Catholic dignitaries today attended the consecration of Msgr. Louis Levesque, newly-appointed Bishop of Hearst, Ont.

Msgr. Ildebrando Antoniutti, apostolic delegate to Canada, conducted the ceremony assisted by Archbishop Charles Eugene Parent of Rimouski and Archbishop Alexandre Vachon of Ottawa.

Seventeen other archbishops and bishops and 200 priests were present for the consecration in Rimouski basilica.

Msgr. Levesque formerly was vicar-general of Rimouski archdiocese.

The ceremony was held on the Feast of the Assumption, patron of Hearst diocese.

Yugoslavia's Drought Cuts Crops By Fifth

BELGRADE (Reuters) — This year's serious drought in Yugoslavia will reduce agricultural production by one-fifth and income from agriculture by 30 per cent, an article in the Belgrade economic paper Ekonomska Politika said today.

The export of fodder, beans and other farm products would soon be prohibited, the paper forecast, and large quantities of wheat and lard will have to be imported.

Property Owners Form Association

KIRKLAND LAKE (CP) — Some 30 property owners who complain their taxes are too high and works department employees do not work hard enough formed a property owners' association last night.

Bruce Williams, elected chairman, said real estate owners pay 75 per cent of the cost of operating Kirkland Lake and benefit about 25 per cent of the money spent.

Canada Tries Save Freedom While Filling World Role

GENEVA PARK, Lake Couchiching, Ont. (CP) — John Diefenbaker, Progressive Conservative member of parliament for Lake Centre, told the Couchiching conference last night that Canada is facing the problem of how to survive internationally without unnecessary sacrifice of fundamental freedoms.

The Saskatchewan member spoke at a night session of the conference sponsored jointly by the Canadian Institute on Public Affairs and the CBC.

He said: "The garrison state, in greater or lesser measure, is with us."

URGES BILL OF RIGHTS

He said Canada should have a bill of rights and before such a bill, a Supreme Court Act amendment that would enable a citizen right to appeal to the highest courts when fundamental freedoms have been invaded or infringed.

R.G. Cavell, Canadian administrator of the Colombo Plan, the British Commonwealth's five-year project to aid underdeveloped countries, said the plan may become a United Nations operation before it concludes its present work.

FULL CO-OPERATION

He said there was full co-operation between the U.N. and the Colombo Plan. It might well be that before long the Commonwealt technical assistance and capital investment project would be joined with its opposite number in the U.N. program.

Hector McNeil, former minister of state in the British Labor government, said caution should be exercised in the matter of moving the Colombo Plan to the U.N.

"The number of countries which can contribute surplus products and technical assistance is limited to no more than a dozen or so, but the legitimate claimants for aid are legion," he said.

Tearjerkers Out For While —Jane Wyman

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—No more tearjerkers for Jane Wyman. From now on, she wants happy pictures.

It was the weepers that established her as a top Hollywood star. A downbeat yarn named "The Lost Weekend" first showed producers that she could act. She demonstrated she could handle character roles deftly when she played Ma Baxter in "The Yearling."

As a deaf girl in "Johnny Belinda," she won an Academy Award. Last year she snagged her third Oscar nomination with "The Blue Veil."

"But audiences don't want to see pictures like those right now," she said. "They have enough troubles of their own, without going to see more problems on the screen. That's why I want to sing and laugh in the movies I make.

TOUGH ASSIGNMENTS

"Besides, it's a lot easier on me. I can breeze right through a happy picture. But 'the Blue Veil' was 17 weeks of hard work. It took a lot out of me. So did 'Belinda.' I was 16 weeks on that, but I spent months seeing films about instructing deaf people and learning how to act like one. 'The Yearling' took almost a year.

Miss Wyman is all hepped up about her new picture with Bing Crosby, "Just For You," and she gets ample opportunity to sing.

RECORDING STAR

The gal is as giddy about her new singing career as a starlet is about her first contract. She ripped open a newly-arrived copy of Variety to check the progress of her latest record with Bing, "Zing A Little Zong."

This singing kick started when Crosby encouraged her to do a record or two after they appeared together in "Here Comes The Groom." Since then, she has recorded right and left and singing at the drop of an arpeggio, whatever that is.

A NEW GUIDED MISSILE being developed by Britain takes off from a launching platform, belching fire and smoke from its tail section. The rocket, which can reach heights far greater than any conventional bomber-type aircraft, has attained speeds of better than 2,000-miles-an-hour. Special motors, which drop off in flight, help boost the rocket to cruising speed.

Four Injured In Collision

EXETER, Ont. (CP)—Four persons were injured, one seriously, last night in a spectacular two-car collision which knocked one car 75 feet on top of a pile of telephone poles.

Two injured were from Rouyn, Que.: Albert Vadzis, 24, in serious condition with extensive injuries to all parts of his body; Genevieve Sokowski, 20, with a possible fractured right arm and leg lacerations.

Taft Aziz, London, received cuts and abrasions, and an injured right knee. James Wright of Toronto, a student anthropologist who was hitch-hiking a ride with Aziz to work on Indian excavations on Manitoulin Island, received cuts and bruises.

The injured were taken to hospital at London for treatment.

Three People Injured As Plane Hits Lake

FLIN FLON, Man. (CP)—Two Toronto pilots and a passenger escaped serious injury last night when their twin-engined land plane developed engine trouble and dropped into Ross Lake here.

The plane, piloted by Edwin Kenyon and Fred Dryden of Austin Airways, Toronto, and carrying a passenger J. Musselman of International Nickel Co left here earlier for Stoney Rapids, Man., on a prospecting trip.

The three, held in hospital briefly suffered only minor injuries.

Drew Approves 2 Strong Parties

VALLEYFIELD, Que. — (CP) — George Drew, leader of the Progressive Conservative party, said yesterday it was important that there be only two strong parties on a national level in Canada.

In an address to a civic gathering, which he described as non-political, Mr. Drew said a number of splinter parties tended "to weaken the Canadian federal system."

Victory at the polls was not in itself the sole object of political activity and he asked his listeners to take an active interest in politics no matter what their party.

Charlotte To Run In Mayoral Race

OTTAWA (CP).—Mayor Charlotte Whitton Thursday said she would enter Ottawa's mayoral contest this fall.

The mayor made the statement during a stormy session of the board of control. She said she would put the disputed issue—tax exemption for bowling and tennis clubs—on her platform. She does not favor the exemption.

The mayor also suggested that rebellious controllers who wouldn't come to order would make a good sideshow for the Central Canada Exhibition opening here next week.

Mayor Whitton was the first to toss her hat into the ring. She became mayor last year when Mayor Grenville Goodwin died.

Priest Loses Driver's Licence

OSHAWA (CP)—Rev. Neil Mackinnon of St. Gregory's Roman Catholic Church yesterday was fined $100 and costs or 30 days in jail when he pleaded guilty to a careless driving charge. His driver's licence was suspended for six months.

Police testified that Father Mackinnon's car was in collision with a truck here July 21.

Return To Paris

MONTECATINI, Italy (Reuters) —The Duke and Duchess of Windsor plan to return to their Paris residence from here next Thursday. The duke is recovering from an attack of gastro-enteritis caused by food poisoning.

Block Rail Crossing To Halt Shipment

WATERLOO (CP)—Striking employees of the Sunshine Waterloo Company yesterday blocked a railway crossing, preventing a freight car loaded with Sunshine goods from leaving the city.

James Robinson, representatie of the United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) gave instructions to the strikers.

The Sunshine workers walked off their jobs several weeks ago. About 80 pickets have been charged with besetting in connection with recent picketing.

National Emergency

MANILA (AP)—The Philippines last night declared a national emergency to cope with the devastating sweep of locusts through rich agricultural areas.

Russia Wants Loot Won't Agree To Austrian Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP)—Six years of effort by the Western powers to get Russia to agree to an Austrian peace treaty appeared today to have reached a dead end. An appeal by Austria to the United Nations, probably with United Nations support, may be the next move. Russia, however, wants another review of the entire Austrian treaty question. The state department announced yesterday that Moscow had rejected an abbreviated treaty which the Western powers proposed March 10 in the hope of ending the occupation of Austria and giving that country full independence.

Efforts to reach agreement on a full-length treaty of 59 articles, as compared with eight in the short form, had already broken down.

CHIEF RUSSIAN

State department officials said they believe the chief reasons Moscow is blocking Austrian independence are:

1. Looting—Russia, they say, has looted Austria on a grand scale. Peace would end looting, and possibly mean the return of some seized property.

2. Occupation—Soviet troops hold a strategic position in Austria. And officials believe the Kremlin may never withdraw its troops until basic East-West issues are resolved.

An exchange of notes last December and January with the Russians on resuming active negotiations got nowhere. That led to the Western powers' March 13 proposal of their eight-article pact and a request for a new round of talks based on it.

The Russians did not respond until yesterday, despite prodding reminders.

Find U.S. Prices Rise Less Than Canada's

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—A United Nations survey today indicated that prices have risen less in the United States since 1948 than in such tightly-controlled countries as Canada, France and Argentina, according to figures released in the U.N.'s latest monthly bulletin of statistics.

Moreover, the U.S. has held the line against inflation better than such uncontrolled countries as Canada, France and Argentina according to figures released in the U.N.'s latest monthly bulletin of statistics.

The survey showed U.S. prices have gone up 10 per cent since 1948. Figures for other countries included: Britain, 28 per cent; Norway and Sweden, 31; Canada, 21; France, 43; Argentina, 185.

U.S. INFLATION FIRST

Some experts say the survey is not a fair gauge of country-by-country differences in cost of living. The U.N. takes 1948 as the base year. By that time, these experts contend, the U.S. already had undergone the worst of its post-war inflation but the process was just beginning in many other countries.

Another point is that many of the most spectacular American increases have occurred in the price of such items as meat, which has little weight in an index but makes a big difference in the average person's budget.

Basic foodstuffs are shown by the survey to have risen 10 per cent in the U.S. during the last four years, compared with 21 per cent in Canada, 32 per cent in Sweden and 37 per cent in France. British food prices went up only nine per cent.

Crush Seventh Chinese Attack

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — United States Marines reinforcements today turned the tide in a bitter, three-hour grenade battle and smashed the Communists' seventh desperate attempt in five days to recapture Bunker Hill on the Korean western front.

Four-hundred Chinese charged to within 30 yards of Marine positions on the blood-soaked ridge before dawn, a U.S. eighth army staff officer said. Red artillery and mortars raked allied positions in support of the attack.

Fresh marines were rushed forward at the height of the battle. The Reds pulled back less than one-half hour later. Later the Communists traded shots with the Marines for 10 minutes from a distance, but made no charge.

Red losses were placed officially at more than 3,154 dead and wounded for the fighting, which began a week ago near Panmunjom, site of the Korean truce talks.

Elsewhere on the front it was relatively quiet.

United Nations planes turned a Red supply centre at Chunghwa into flaming ruin Friday night. Civilians had been warned by Radio Seoul to leave the area, south of Pyongyang.

Man Beaten To Death In House With Crowbar

TORONTO (CP)—Mike Maydam, 65-year-old laborer, was beaten to death with a crowbar in the bedroom of his home early today. His wife, Ann, 64, was charged with murder a short time later.

A roomer in the brick tenement called police who found Maydan in a pool of blood. Nearby was a blood-spattered two-foot crowbar. The family had been renovating the house and there were several similar tools lying about.

Mr. and Mrs. Maydam had two roomers in their home and they were the only ones who heard any indication of trouble.

Mrs. Mary Magorka, next-door neighbor, said the Maydans kept to themselves most of the time. Some residents of the area said Maydan had told them he was a White Russian and had been in Canada 40 years.

Mrs. Maydan was reported to have told police her husband struck at her with the crowbar and that she wrested it away from him.

They had been married for three years. Both had been married before.

Expect Jails To Overflow

PORT ELIZABETH (Reuters)—South African jails are expected to be overflowing today, after the non-European passive-resistance campaign against segregation laws goes into a new phase.

The new campaign, organized by the Defiance of Unjust Laws movement was announced Friday. It was to go into operation a half hour after midnight Friday night, with volunteers all over the country concerting in defying the racial discrimination laws and regulations.

A spokesman said Friday the first batch of resisters would be followed at intervals through the next 12 hours by fresh organized outbreaks. A similar campaign will be held Monday.

Police reported the main centres—Port Elizabeth, Grahamstown and Uitenhage—were quiet Friday. They were satisfied their precautions for the campaign are adequate.

Fear Strike Hampers Big Grain Crop

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Tribune said in a newspage story yesterday that Canada's record - breaking grain crop may collide headon with a grain handlers' strike at the Lakehead Sept. 1.

The newspaper said the Lakehead union has rejected a federal conciliation board recommended for settlement of a contract dispute between the union and 15 elevator companies.

The board recommended a cut from 48 to 44 hours in the work week, increases to maintain take-home pay and a general increase of 19 cents an hour retroactive to Jan. 1. It recommended a contract clause for maintenance of membership in the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks (A.F.L.-T.L.C.) and a voluntary check-off of union dues.

The union sought a 40-hour week with unreduced pay, a general increase of 40 cents an hour, the union shop and compulsory check-off of union dues.

Bows, Poisoned Arrows Weapons In Secret War

MELBOURNE, Australia (Reuters)—Several thousand native guerrillas with bows and poisoned arrows are fighting an unheralded war against Indonesian government troops on the island of Ceram, the Melbourne Herald says today.

The Herald says recent dispatches, smuggled from Ceram through an "Indonesian blockade," reported 13,000 rebels under arms—10,000 with bows and arrows, and 3,000 former Dutch colonial army troops.

South Moluccan agents claimed the revolt was gaining strength and engaging the attention of several battalions of government troops, three corvettes, motor torpedo boats and a squadron of fighter aircraft.

The dispatches also claim that a state of war exists between the Indonesian government and "separationalist" elements in West Java and Celebes islands.

(Indonesian rebels proclaimed the "Republic of South Moluccas" and were forced out of the island of Ambon by the Indonesian army to nearby Ceram in November, 1950. Several top leaders of the "republic" surrendered to the army last January, and in March Indonesian authorities announced that the South Moluccan rebel movement had been "completely settled.")

Agents told the Herald that the rebels welcomed government landings on the island. Bowmen using poisoned arrows ambushed the troops and took their modern arms.

Three Scouts Drowned By Deluge

Lobby of One Hotel 4 Feet Under Water Bridges Washed Out

LONDON (Reuters)—Floodwaters fed by violent rainstorms today submerged several southwest England villages. Three boy scouts camping out by the river Bray were believed drowned. Their bedraggled tent was washed up by the waters today. The body of one scout was found and the other two were missing.

At least two other persons were reported drowned and one man was killed by lightning.

Rivers and branch streams, swollen to angry torrents, were dotted with dead livestock.

HOUSES SWAMPED

A "solid wall of water" descended on the village of Exford from surrounding hills, swamping about 50 houses. Villagers there and in other centres were forced onto their roofs or upper floors.

The lobby of Dulverton's Hotel, with 40 guests, was under 4½ feet of water.

In Dulverton the water of the River Barle swirled into a garage and floated 13 automobiles downstream.

Communications were chaotic and washed-out bridges made roads impassable.

The floods followed heavy thunderstorms which swept across 12 counties.

Lewis Orders 10-Day Stoppage

WASHINGTON (AP)—John L. Lewis, in the midst of bargaining for a new coal wage contract, today ordered his miners out of the pits for a 10-day "memorial" work stoppage at the end of this month.

Nothing was said in the announcement to relate the move to the negotiations but Lewis customarily uses the contract-permitted mourning period in connection with new contract talks. Officially the purpose is commemoration of the casualties of mining disasters.

The designated period, announced in the United Mine Workers' journal, is Aug. 23 to Sept. 1, inclusive. Since Aug. 23 is a Saturday when the miners customarily do not work and Sept. 1 is a Monday, the stoppage will involve only six normal working days.

Lewis has given notice that the present wage contract will expire after the men will be going back to work after the memorial holiday.

U.S. Expects To Loan Canada Jet Trainers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The air force said yesterday a number of Lockheed T-33 jet trainers will be loaned to Canada. It did not say how many were involved.

The jets will be used to augment equipment of the R.C.A.F. in its instructor-training program until Canadian production of T-33s gets under way.

Canadair, Ltd. of Montreal has been licensed by Lockheed Aircraft Corp. to build in Canada the two-seat, 600-mile-an-hour version of the F-80 Shooting Star.

A 'LUNGE FISHING RECORD was set this week when Pennsylvania angler John S. Eichholtz of Franklin, centre, boated three fine specimens at Rice Lake off Bewley. Guided by resort operator Art Metcalfe, right, Mr. Eichholtz caught a 24 pounder on Monday, a 25¼ pounder on Wednesday, and a 30 pounder on Thursday; he automatically won three awards, the Order of the Kawartha Muskie, from Chamber of Commerce manager James Fraser, left, on Friday. All three fish — the largest is shown above—were taken at the same time each evening and with the same lure.—(Choate Studio Photo).

Smallwood Nudging Britain

LONDON (Reuters)—Newfoundland Premier Joseph Smallwood, here to interest British industrialists in his province, said today "we will have Labrador developed" even if British capital isn't forthcoming. He said, however, he is "anxious" for Britain to have the first opportunity at investment. "A very big industrial concern is definitely interested," he said in an interview. He added that he is "getting warm" in his search for British brains, money and machinery. Smallwood's main selling point is Labrador's natural resources and he painted a glowing picture of potential hydro-electric power, extensive iron-ore deposits and dense forests.

"What is wanted," he explained, "is a new Hudson's Bay Company, a modern East India Company. Not to trade, not to buy and sell. Just to develop the vast resources of this last and greatest storehouse of Empire wealth."

"If Britain doesn't pile in and do it, with the knowledge that centuries of pioneerings have perfected, another country will. And you don't need 78 guesses to say which country that will be."

CASH AND MACHINERY

Development of Labrador, he estimated, would need capital of $500,000,000 to $1,000,000,000.

"If this were done by British interests, a great proportion of development costs would comprise machinery made in Britain. The only dollar capital needed would be for the payment of wages and such equipment as Britain might not be able to produce."

The dollar capital would be about 20 per cent of the entire cost, he said.

545 Workers Released Due To Lack Of Evidence

KAFR EL DAWAR, Egypt (Reuters)—The special military tribunal set up to try Wednesday's cotton-mill rioters today released 545 workers because of lack of evidence. A senior officer on the staff of Gen. Mohammed Naguib, Egypt's strong man and armed forces chief, spoke to the workers before they were set free.

Naguib is considering the tribunal's findings on Mustafa Khamis, textile clerk alleged to be a ringleader of the riots which wrecked this textile centre and caused nine deaths.

DEATH SENTENCE ASKED

Khamis, 20, yesterday heard the prosecutor demand his death "in the name of the whole of Egypt because this crime was committed against the military movement which safeguards the well-being of the nation."

Sentences will be passed at the end of the trials. Several local leaders of political parties have been arrested because of their connection and association with certain accused facing trial for their part in the riots.

Among those detained is Abdu Ashry, municipal councillor and chairman of the local branch of the nationalist Wafd party, who was sent to prison at nearby Alexandria yesterday.

HIT AT COMMUNISTS

In Cairo Gen. Naguib told reporters he did not believe any political party would be "so unwise" as to take a hand in such a crime as the Kafr El Dawar riots.

Police announced they had smashed a Communist cell and arrested 10 workers and students for alleged Communist activities in a Cairo district early today.

The government this week set up a "state security department" to combat Communist and Zionist activities, and an "anti-spying section" to replace the political police, recently abolished.

CAPTIVE—Capt. Joseph Michael Liston, 32, of Ottawa and Shilo, Man., parachuted from a tiny artillery spotter plane in Korea behind enemy lines and is believed a prisoner of the Communists. He was observing United Nations gunfire on Red positions when his plane was struck.

Quints Born In Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—The newspaper El Universal reported yesterday a 27-year-old Venezuelan Indian mother gave birth to quintuplets—three girls, two boys—Tuesday night in Paraguaipoa village.

One girl died and the condition of one boy was reported grave, El Universal's correspondent said.

The children's council of the health ministry is sending an agent to help with the surviving children.

The mother, Luna Palmar Petra, was reported doing well. The father, Hermogenes Petra, said he could not support so many and would have to turn the new arrivals over to the children's council. The Petras, married four years, have two other children.

Immoral Billboards Worrying Hamliton

HAMILTON (CP)—Mayor Lloyd Jackson said today he was receiving an increasing number of letters condemning "immorial billboard advertising" bordering city streets, and setting forth the advantages of various types of brassiers and girdles.

One letter claimed such billboards "lowered the dignity of women," and others asked that the city take action.

"I deplore such advertising," the mayor said, "but it is beyond our jurisdiction. I will appeal to the Advertising and Sales Club, and the billboard companies, to use their influence in checking the trend."

The mayor added:

"I don't think those girdle ads are very appetizing, especially to an old fellow like me."

Eskimo Misses Boat

CHURCHILL, Man. (CP)—Kooniak, 14-year-old Eskimo boy from Clyde River, N.W.T., missed the boat yesterday—but not for long.

En route home after hospital treatment in Winnipeg, Kooniak reached here in an R.C.A.F. plane an hour after the C.D. Howe, government supply ship, sailed for the north. Kooniak was supposed to be aboard.

R.C.M.P. radioed the vessel, still visible on the horizon, and the ship's helicopter came back to pick him up.

Flames Ravage 35,000 Acres In BC Forest Fire

VANCOUVER (CP)—A mammoth forest fire today churned destruction in an area of possibly 35,000 acres in north-central British Columbia. But foresters described the situation as "improved" with greater humidity and cooler temperatures at night acting as an anchor on the flames. The blaze is but one of 150 burning in the province, some of them tearing at will out of the reach of man. One at Burns Lake is by far the greatest, although a curtain of smoke and dozens of pesky and deceptive spot fires prevent the B.C. forest service from judging its exact boundaries.

A forestry official at Burns Lake, pointing out that circumstances made the figure subject to possible substantial changes, said the fire is burning about eight miles from Burns Lake, roughly 400 miles northeast of Vancouver. Part of it is in rolling slash country but flames are also destroying valuable stands of virgin spruce, pine and balsam.

The forestry official said this made no appreciable headway yesterday.

The situation was described as improved over the beginning of the week because of the greater humidity—although there has been no appreciable rain—and the cooler temperatures.

Close to 1,500 men are fighting the various fires, some 200 of them in the Burns Lake area. Uncontrolled fires included two on Vancouver Island, one in the Babine Lake area, 600 miles north of here, and below Gull Lake, near the Yukon border.

FUNERAL TODAY

Funeral services will be held today at Burns Lake for bulldozer operator Howard Gordon, burned to death Wednesday.

His companion, J.H. Hunter, remains listed as missing. He was reported yesterday to have been seen on his way back to camp. Officials, however, have been unable to confirm the report.

Except for scattered showers, the weather forecaster told British Columbians not to expect rain today. The province has been without appreciable precipitation for more than three weeks.

Typhoon Causes Heavy Damage

TOKYO (AP)—A typhoon headed toward the East China Sea tonight after ripping up installations and injuring four persons at the American military base on Okinawa.

The U. S. air force reported 105-mile-an-hour winds severely damaged warehouses Friday night and early today. More than seven inches of rain fell.

Four persons were hurt by flying debris on Okinawa.

Touchy Matter Of Face Delays Ambassadors

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — A touchy matter of face and protocol has delayed the exchange of ambassadors—the first since the Second World War—by Japan and Nationalist China.

Chinese officials feel that in order to emphasize China's position as a victor nation, ambassador H.K. Tong should go to Tokyo only after Japan's ambassador arrives here.

The Japanese are reported to feel that their ambassador-designate Kenkichi Yoshizawa should set up his Taipeh embassy only after Tong arrives in Tokyo.

A suggested solution is for the ambassadors to cross paths in mid-air, and arrive simultaneously at their posts.

Find No Trace Of Noah's Ark

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — A French expedition battled its way to the summit of Mount Ararat of Old Testament fame, the Anatolia news agency said today, but found not a trace of Noah's Ark not even a pair of animal tracks.

The expedition, led by explorer Jean de Riquer, hoisted the French flag atop the rugged peak after climbing through snow, rain and heavy winds. Accompanied by a Turkish army detachment, the group started back down the mountain yesterday, the agency said.

An American expedition led by Dr. Aaron Smith, a retired missionary, tried fruitlessly to find Noah's fabulous boat in 1949.

Turkey's big Soviet neighbor charged that neither group really was looking for the ark but just wanted to peer down at Russian defences on the other side of the mountain.

Canada May Not Use Up Defence Aid Fund In '52

OTTAWA (CP)—Parliament's $324,000,000 appropriation for defence aid for Canada's North Atlantic partners may not be entirely used up this year, defence officials said yesterday.

They estimated that at the current rate of spending, only about $300,000,000 may be used at the most, with the remainder lapsing at the end of the current fiscal year, March 31 next.

But whatever is spent, the United Kingdom is sure to get the biggest chunk—$150,000,000 to cover the free shipment of radar, Sabre Jet airframes and the cost of training U.K. pilots in Canada under the North Atlantic Air Training scheme.

The $150,000,000 estimate was made by production Minister Howe in an interview two days ago. Though Canada had previously announced that she will make the $324,000,000 mutual aid contribution to N.A.T.O., the government had not disclosed just how this money was to be divided among the pact countries.

Other free gifts of Canadian arms have been shipped this year to France, Italy, Portugal, The Netherlands and Norway. Value of these shipments was not disclosed.

11 Hopefuls Defeated By Channel

DOVER, England (AP)—A 61-year-old London doctor girded himself today for his 15th try at swimming the English Channel—just a few hours after the tricky 21-mile strait defeated 11 of 14 hopefuls.

Two other swimmers, Jenny Kammersgarde of Denmark and Britain's Phil Rising, also were standing ready in nearby Folkestone for the proper wind and tide conditions.

Heavy rains that lashed the coasts of Britain and France caused the three swimmers to delay any immediate attempts at channel crossings. Local weather forecasts indicated the swimmers had little chance to get off within the next 24 hours.

The doctor, George Brewster Ade, made his first attempt in 1925 but has never conquered the treacherous crossing.

Only three of the swimmers in yesterday's season-opening assault plowed through the rain, hail and stormy seas to reach the opposite shore.

One of them was a 20-year-old English factory girl, Kathleen Mayoh, whose unofficial time was 16 hours, 55 minutes. The others were Victor Birkett, a British real estate clerk, and Bakr Soliman, a mechanic from Cairo.

Other unsuccessful starters yesterday included Jenny James, Ned Barnie and Philip Mickman of Britain; Elna Andersen of Denmark; Noel Claud of Algeria, and five Egyptians.

Bomb Explodes In Wreckage

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—A long-expected explosion yesterday shattered the wreckage of a United Nations plane loaded with delayed-action bombs—one of them with a dead United States flier astride it.

The U.S. air force said the explosion—awaited ever since the fighter-bomber plane crashed three days before—left "nothing but a huge hole in the ground."

The bomb-laden plane crashed south of Seoul Tuesday after colliding with a jet plane, in an unidentified major flying the second craft crashed with his plane?

The body was astride a bomb directly under the cockpit.

The plane carried about a dozen 250-pound bombs and two 1,000-pounders. Some have not been found and three villages have been evacuated until all danger of explosions has passed.

Britain May Send Egypt Some Planes

LONDON (Reuters) — A small number of trainer planes are among supplies which Britain may send to Egypt in the near future, it was learned today from a reliable source.

Yesterday a Foreign Office spokesman stated that the possibility of permitting the sale of war supplies other than arms to the Egyptian government is being considered in London.

The move would be a gesture of good will to the Egyptian commander-in-chief, Gen. Mohammed Naguib, and Premier Aly Maher.

The spokesman added that Britain is not considering selling arms to Egypt at present.

Three London Buses Home After Tour

LIVERPOOL, England (Reuters) —Three London buses arrived today in the liner Parthia after a five-month tour of Canada and the United States to help Britain's tourist drive.

The drivers maintained their their long accident-free records during the tour. There was not a single breakdown among the big red doubledeckers.

2,500 Workers Strike At Lauzon Plant

LAUZON, Que. (CP)—Some 2,500 shipbuilding employees in this industrial centre across the St. Lawrence river from Quebec went on strike yesterday for higher wages.

The walkout was called at a mass meeting of union employees of Davie Shipbuilding company and George T. Davie and Sons.

The strikers, members of the Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor, are seeking a wage increase of 15 cents an hour and a reduction in the work week from 48 to 45 hours.

7-CENT OFFER

A Quebec arbitration board recommended an increase of seven cents an hour but did not recommend a change in working hours.

Meanwhile, negotiations are going on in Montreal between officials of the C.C.C.L. and Canadian Vickers whose employees are not expected to be affected immediately by the strike action in Quebec.

A. C. C. C. L. spokesman said the average wage here was around $1.07 an hour, compared with $1.19 an hour in Montreal, $1.30 at Collingwood and Midland, Ont., and $1.35 in New Brunswick.

RADIO-RUN ROBOT DOES ALL BUT RHUMBA—Louie the Robot does 24 human-like things by radio, but dancing is not one of them. Seen at left doing the light fantastic with a girl during his Hamburg, Germany debut, the mechanical man stepped on her toes in spite of his intricate controls connected by two miles of wire wound through his torso. The product of two brilliant Swiss engineers, Louie can smoke, blow the smoke through his nose, move his arms and lips, speak when spoken to, light a cigaret when asked, sings, and walks as much as 15 miles unattended. At right, Louie's secrets are revealed as his coat is doffed to show the maze of tubes, gadgets and wiring which were designed by his inventors. Urges Industry In Britain To Grab Chance

By JACK GOLDING

LONDON (CP)—The Board of Trade Journal today features a front-page article, "The Rising Tide of Capital Goods Investment in Canada," written by "a United Kingdom trade commissioner in Montreal."

Having urged British industry to consider the export of engineering and capital goods to Canada in relation to the St. Lawrence seaway project and power developments in a previous issue, the publication says:

"Exporters will realize that apart from the plant and equipment required for completion of these schemes, there will be much development of secondary industries, bringing with them rapid expansion of townships and consequential demand for complete ranges of industrial and consumer goods."

OUTLOOK GOOD

The article continues:

"It is commonly said that the second half of the 20th century belongs to Canada. In less than a quarter-century physical output has been doubled; and the rate of investment since 1946 has been higher than ever before. . .

"There is every reason to believe that Canadian economy is set fair for continued expansion."

The article deals with pulp and paper, electric power, non-ferrous metals, oil and oil-refining and chemicals. It says Canadians are generally disposed to welcome greater British participation provided they can be assured of regular deliveries on time and of reliable facilities for servicing and spares.

GRIM WARNING

Centred in the middle of a page with heavy border is a quotation from a speech given by the President of the Board of Trade July 1.

It reads: "We depend for one of the highest standards of living in the world on overseas customers buying our goods. . .They will buy if our goods are cheaper and better than those of any other countries. If they are not, they won't buy them. And if they don't. . .we starve."

Say Wheat Crop Record In West

OTTAWA (CP)—Record wheat and barley crops were forecast yeserday by the Bureau of Statistics as part of the bumper grain crops expected across the country this year. The statisticians estimated a 656,000,000-bushel wheat crop and a 295,333,000-bushel barley crop. Several more weeks of warm weather are needed to ensure ample supplies of high-quality wheat, the bureau said. A change in weather, or other difficulties, could cut harvests sharply.

Barring such troubles, western grain farmers could expect almost an embarrassment of riches. The embarrassment may come in a glut of normal storage space.

FEED STORAGE

Grain experts said community halls, arenas and other buildings may have to be pressed into service to hold the harvest.

Transport controller R.W. Milner said that last year railroads and ships set grain-handling records in the face of "very complex difficulties" and he is confident that this year a "well co-ordinated effort will move the grain into export channels in a satisfactory manner."

The wheat crop estimate is more than 100,000,000 bushels higher than last year's 552,000,000 and well above the previous record of 567,000,000 bushels in 1928. Prairie wheat production is estimated at 632,000,000 bushels.

HIGHER YIELD

The bureau said wheat acreage is 25,994,000 acres, up from the 25,254,400 acres planted last year. But most of the forecast crop increase was expected to come from a higher yield—estimated at 25.2 bushels to the acre as against last year's 21.9.

The oat crop was estimated at 465,668,000 bushels, down from last year's 488,191,000; the rye crop at 24,911,000, up from 17,647,000 last year; and the flaxseed crop at 12,996,000, up from 9,897,000.

The mixed-grain crop is estimated at 60,392,000 bushels, down from last year's 68,509,000, and the potato crop at 52,761,000 bushels, up from 48,355,000.

U.S. Challenges Peace Gesture Made By Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has challenged a Communist "peace" gesture in Korea with a demand that the Red negotiators speak up at the Panmunjom truce talks if they have anything specific to offer.

The peace hint came from North Korean Prime Minister Kim Il Sung Thursday night. In a moderately worded speech, he declared that "we hope to get an armistice agreement wherein there is neither victor nor vanquished."

The report of his speech as carried by Pyongyang radio stirred the interest of United Nations diplomats looking for a break in the long impasse over war prisoners unwilling to return to Communist rule.

The U. S. State Department decided yesterday that on its face Kim's statement offered nothing new, reiterated that the U. N. will not compromise on the prisoner issue, and said that if Kim has any specific proposal to make "it is a relatively simple matter for him to speak up at Panmunjom."

Crack Down On Newspaper

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The government cracked down today on a newspaper that published a story in its "children's corner" about a donkey in Aden who recited prayers from the Koran.

The story was offensive to Moslems and the government acted under regulations banning the publication of matter which offends the religious sensibilities of any section of the population.

A daily newspaper in Allahabad carried the story, which said that residents of Aden, after hearing the donkey recite, concluded the animal was an incarnation of the prophet Mohammed and began to worship it. State officials directed Allahabad authorities to take action against the editors of the paper.

Prime Minister Nehru assailed the story as "stupid, undignified and disgusting."

Divorcee Facing Deportation Hearing

TORONTO (CP)—Mrs. Beatrice Reason, 32, four-times-married divorcee who went to the United States two years ago for a 15-month flight with her night school teacher, is to face a deportation hearing here Monday, immigration officials said yesterday.

She was taken into custody recently at Timmins, where school teacher Alfred Greene now is living, and is being held in jail at Haileybury. She is to be escorted from Northern Ontario today by an immigration inspector.

The hearing will be conducted in camera at the Don jail by a one-man board of inquiry, whose findings will later be confirmed by federal authorities in Ottawa.

If it is established there was an irregularity in her entry into Canada, she could be deported to her native Australia.

Vera Parsons, Toronto lawyer, will represent her.

Courtroom Gets Laugh From "Performance"

NEW YORK (AP)—A licence inspector, smiling sheepishly, did the "bumps" and "grinds" Thursday before a snickering audience at a public hearing. It was his version of what he saw at a Coney Island girlie show.

Licence Commissioner Edward T. McCaffrey was holding a hearing on whether the licence of Tirza, the wine bath girl show, should be permanently lifted on grounds of staging an immodest and immoral performance.

Inspector Humber J. Satriano testified that the showgirls made naughty movements.

Directed to demonstrate, he arose from the witness stand and performed. He drew a smile from Miss Leona Duval, operator of the show. She said the inspector's performance had no beauty because it was exaggerated.

Clay Blocks Solve Housing Problem

MONTREAL (CP)—How they solve the housing problem in Bolivia by using clay is told by Prof. John Bland, head of McGill University's school of architecture.

An expert on housing and town planning, Prof. Bland has just returned from a trip to Bolivia with two other United Nations experts who were asked to study the housing problems of that South American state.

They found housing scarce and large-scale financing difficult. But the ordinary Bolivian has a ready supply of building material in clay that can be dug out of the ground, shaped into blocks and sun-baked. Using these blocks, a full-size family house can be put up for between $500 and $1,000.-

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP)—Price trends were mixed Friday in a moderately active session of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Further export business in barley was reported, with indications of the sale of two cargoes to Japan and Germany. Export interest also appeared in flax and a moderate amount was reported sold to the Continent.

Prices of oats and barley developed an easier tone in late trade, apparently influenced by declines on U.S. markets. Export orders gave flax a firm trend. Rye prices declined. Prices of Class 2 wheat were up one cent. I.W.A. prices were unchanged.

Ont. Highways Department Calls For Road Tenders

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario highways department today called for tenders on road work expected to set a record for any single calling in the history of the department.

Highways Minister Doucett said the total will probably exceed $30,000,000.

The projects, both announced this week, include a bypass around Toronto and elimination of seven provincial traffic bottlenecks.

The Toronto bypass will cost $10,000,000 while another $16,000,000 is earmarked for the bottleneck elimination program. Another $4,000,000 or $5,000,000 will go for projects such as a bridge across the Mississippi River south of Arnprior and work on the Trans-Canada Highway.

Normal highways department expenditures amount to some $52,000,000 annually.

Tenders called today include 103 miles of paving, 140 miles of grading and structures, three bridges and three sections to be laid with crushed gravel.

Majors works are planned for the Chatham, London, Owen Sound, Ottawa, Sudbury, Blind River, North Bay, Toronto, Port Hope and Kingston areas.

Thirteen of the paving contracts are for dual lane projects and five for the Trans-Canada Highway.

Earlier Maturing Strain Of Wheat

EDMONTON (CP)—An Alberta farmer has developed a strain of wheat which may be the answer to the short growing season in northern Alberta.

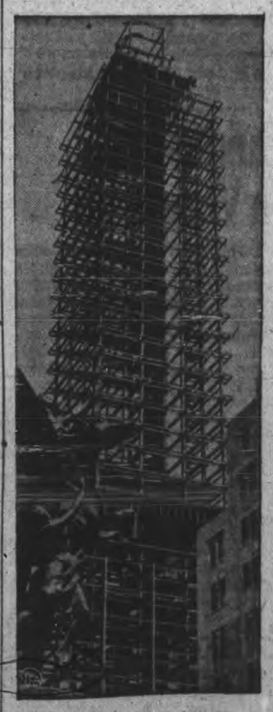
A. W. Manchester of the Jarvie district, 80 miles northwest of Edmonton, says his wheat called "Early Harvest" matures two to three weeks ahead of other crops seeded at the same time under the same conditions.

His wheat, developed by years of patient cross-breeding, heads out seven weeks after planting and yields 40 to 45 bushels an acre. Slower-maturing varieties used by Manchester yield 60 to 70 bushels.-

Bandit Attack Driven Back

MANILA (AP)—Filipino soldiers today repulsed a frenzied Moro bandit counter-attack in bloody fighting on Joly Island in the southern Philippines amid unconfirmed reports that Hadji Kamlon, the outlaw leader, has been killed.

A belt, splattered with hand-grenade fragments, was found in a bandit hide-out. A civilian guide identified it as Kamlon's.



Kamlon once surrendered but reneged on a pledge to help stop thievery in the Sulu archipelago.

"WORLD'S HIGHEST" — Mexico City claims the building shown being erected above will be the world's "highest" — not tallest — skyscraper. Open Inquiry On Sainthood

EDINBURGH (Reuters)—A Roman Catholic inquiry opened here yesterday to determine whether a young Scottish nun merits recognition as a saint 27 years after her death.

The inquiry, approved by the Holy See in Rome, will investigate two "miracles" attributed to Margaret Sinclair, who died of tuberculosis in 1925 at the age of 25.

A member of the inquiry tribunal is Rev. Guy Brisebois, a French-Canadian who is professor of canon law at the Franciscan university in Rome. Father Brisebois' home town is St. Placide, about 30 miles west of Montreal.

A nun for only two years, Margaret Sinclair was known as Sister Mary Frances of the Five Wounds.

Seventeen persons claims to have benefitted through prayers addressed to Sister Mary Frances after her death, and they will be examined by the inquiry.

Documents on the case were first sent to the Vatican in 1929. The new inquiry is expected to last a month.

Sees Tax Reductions Sign Of New Election

MONTREAL (CP)—As soon as the Liberal regime in Ottawa votes income tax reductions, the federal election will not be far away, George Drew, leader of the Progressive Conservative party, said at a meeting here last night.

Delegates at the meeting, the first held by the party in the province to choose an official candidate for the next federal election, nominated Bernard Goulet. He will run in St. Denis constituency in Montreal.

"Rumors are already circulating that taxes will be reduced at the next session," Mr. Drew said. "This indicates no change in policy on the part of the government. It's simply a sign that general elections are in the offing."

"Once the elections are out of the way, the government plans, as it always does, to increase them again."

Water Route From Winnipeg To Great Lakes Suggested

WINNIPEG (CP)—Approach of actual construction on the St. Lawrence deep waterway to the Great Lakes recalls an ambitious but abortive project that stirred the west 70 years ago—an all-water route from Winnipeg to the Great Lakes.

Freight rates then were already a problem for western grain growers, and the plan was to reduce transportation costs by a water route from the Red River to Lake Superior. The United States Congress and the cost of the project proved the stumbling blocks.

STEAMBOAT DAYS

Western Canada in the latter part of the 19th century was still steamboat-conscious. River boats delivered most of Winnipeg's freight for nearly 20 years before rails linked the Prairies with the East, while some goods came by cart trains.

Freight business on the Red River in a single year, 1875, totalled nearly 40,000 tons. Big, shallow-draft freight and passenger vessels plied the north and south branches of the Saskatchewan River to Brandon and northward.

For the proposed water route to the east, various courses for the channel were urged. One would have taken it to the Lake of the Woods. Another would have used the Red River, with a follow-through to Duluth on Lake Superior.

Minnesota was as enthusiastic about the plan as Manitoba, and after 10 years of agitation a planning convention was held at Duluth in 1882.

Delegates there agreed the Red River route was most practical Canadian representatives agreed with the choice, since the costs would practically all be in the United States. But the plan came to nothing when it reached Congress.

Research at that time showed the Red and its tributaries would afford a natural waterway to Lake Superior for all except 37 miles. An early estate of the cost was $3,800,000.

Mrs. W. Robinson Turns 89, Keeps Own House

MILLBROOK (ENS). — Mrs. William Robinson celebrated her 89th birthday Wednesday.

She is another of the many residents of Millbrook who live to a ripe old age. Some attribute the longevity of its citizens to the excellent spring water which bubbles up here and there in different parts of the village. Others think the fact that life moves at a quieter pace in the village with less noise and hurry, is responsible.

Mrs. Robinson is in excellent health and says she has never been seriously ill in her life. She is very active, does her own housework and shopping and looks very much younger than her 89 years. At present she has living with her for companionship Mrs. William Patton who is 85.

Mrs. Robinson was born Jennie Simpson, daughter of George Kidd Simpson and the former Jane Manes. She is the last surviving member of a family of three boys and five girls. Her birthplace was in Clarke township near Orono, but as a girl of 12 she moved with her family to the Falls line of Cavan township, and later again to North Monaghan.

At the time of her marriage she went with her husband to live on the Zion line, Cavan township, where they stayed until moving to Millbrook 34 years ago.

A few days before her birthday Mrs. Robinson returned home after spending a month's holidays with friends around Orono.

On the afternoon of her birthday a number of the neighbors called. She received cards of congratulations, flowers and candy. Mrs. Suttle Pritchard, her niece-in-law, came and surprised her with a chicken birthday supper and a cake trimmed in pink and white.

Chose Not To Be Rich Cripps' Estate Small

LONDON (AP)—The late Sir Stafford Cripps, one-time chancellor of the exchequer who deliberately chose not to be a rich man, left an estate of £15,190.

His single-page will, written in 1911, was filed for probate at Gloucester yesterday. It left the estate to his widow and daughter, Diana.

Cripps, who died in Switzerland last April at the age of 62, gave up a flourishing legal practice to enter public service. His earnings were reputed to have reached £30,000 a year. He spent little on himself and aided friends liberally.

P.E.I. Editor's Death Robs Canada Of Colorful Figure

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP)—James Robertson Burnett believed an editor should be read, not seen. He once said: "The less a man appears personally before his reading public, the better for his influence." And he followed his own precept.

But when this dour gracious Scot died on June 12, the province knew it had lost a personality. For half his lifetime of 81 years he had run The Guardian, Prince Edward Island's only morning newspaper. He had won the Island's confidence and championed its causes. And, precepts apart, no one infused with his vigor humor and originality could help emerging as a striking individual both on and off the printed page.

INDIVIDUALIST

The note of individualism was sounded from the first. Recounting how he got into newspaper work in the first place in his native Aberdeen, he once declared: "My mother destined me for the Presbyterian ministry and my father for banking. I disappointed both by deciding on a newspaper career."

He never regretted the choice. Now and then in his office at The Guardian—always overheated because he grew used to hot weather during years in British Guiana—he would reminisce:

How, as a cub reporter in Aberdeen, he had spotted a private car on a siding, boarded it and found "a stoutish gentleman in kilts, seated smoking a cigar", and scooped the opposition on a visit by the Prince of Wales (Edward VII).

BOOTH ANECDOTES

Or how he had put a blunt question to Gen. William Booth . . A distiller had died and left $2,500,000 to the Salvation Army. Would Booth turn it down as tainted money? Young Burnett (himself an ardent teetotaller) went to ask the question. As he told it, the old general straightened up to his full six feet, looked the reporter in the eye, and said: "Young man, when money reaches the Salvation Army it is no longer tainted, but sanctified to the uses to which it will be put!"

Hopes Dimming For Saving Tomato Crop

TORONTO (CP)—Hopes of saving a $1,000,000 tomato crop in the Leamington area dimmed last night as talks between representatives of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) and H. J. Heinz Company of Canada broke down.

Union and Company representatives were called into the conference by Labor Minister Daley and Louis Fine, Ontario's chief conciliation officer.

It is understood that union security is the issue on which the talks broke off.

UNION DEMANDS

The union had asked for the Rand formula which requires that all employees in the bargaining unit pay union dues, whether members or not.

On wages, the company offered 11-cents-an-hour increase; the unio sought 21 cents.

There are about 1,100 workers on strike—1,000 at Leamington and 100 at Wallaceburg.

Under normal condition, harvesting of tomatoes would start this week-end. This means that within two or three days some of the tomatoes will begin to rot if not picked.

Britain Eases Newsprint Ration

LONDON (Reuters)—Newspaper rationing in Britain will be eased from Aug. 24, the ministry of materials announced today.

Low-priced daily newspapers will be allowed to increase size to an average of eight pages a day with no over-all tonnage restrictions. They now have six pages.

Newspapers priced at more than 1½ pence but not more than 2½ pence will be allowed an average of 10 pages daily and those costing more than 2½ pence (the London Times and Manchester Guardian), 12 pages daily. These also represent increases of two pages.

The ministry said that for the next six months, unless any further change become necessary, newspapers will be free, within these page limits, to increase their print order as well as their size.

Under newsprint rationing by tonnage, in forcer since October, 1950, newspapers have been able to increase size only at the expense of circulation.

Cabinet Postpones Showdown Over British Transport Bill

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON

LONDON (CP)—The British cabinet has postponed a showdown with belligerent Socialists over implementation of the controversial transport bill which would decentralize the country's nationalized railways and return road haulage to private enterprise.

Capt. H. F. C. Crookshank, leader of the House, announced that the bill will be re-introduced as the first business to be dealt with after the new session is opened by the Queen in October.

To have proceeded with second reading now, he said, would have involved delay in the normal summer recess and prolonged the present session until the end of the year.

The postponement came as a surprise to opposition forces who had already launched a country-wide campaign against the proposed legislation. Labor's spokesmen in Parliament have also warned that road haulage will be re-nationalized if their party is returned to power.

GOING AHEAD

Meanwhile, the government's decision to go ahead with its transportation plans brought ominous rumblings of discontent from the powerful railway unions. Talk of strike, however, was tempered with an appeal from leaders of other unions for cool heads and reasonable restraint.

James B. Figgins, secretary of the national union of railwaymen, said:

"We will demonstrate to the Conservative party that it cannot treat with contempt the workers of Great Britain."

"We will not only fight politically, but if necessary I hope we will fight industrially—not only with the strength of our organization but with the strength of the whole British trade union movement and the Labor party."

Figgins' attack was made in support of an N.U.R. conference resolution denouncing the transport bill as a major threat to the national welfare "and ultimate realization of an efficient transport structure." He maintained the bill was an industrial issue as it affected the living standards of the workers.

OLD DAYS GONE

Subsequently, Figgins explained he had not intended to suggest a complete general strike, but a stoppage by the transport workers.

"The effect, however, would be the same," he said. "If transport stops, all industry stops."

But N.U.R.'s official mouthpiece, The Railway Review, took issue with Figgins over the use of industrial action for political purposes. Said the publication: "Leaders must be strong not through a cool and intelligent appraisal of the situation. The days are gone when demogogy, fiery orations, stamping perorations, shouting and emotional stimulation can masquerade as leadership."

And from Sir William Lawther, president of the 725,000-strong National Union of Mineworkers, came this warning: "Advocates of industrial action are only concerned to create trouble."

The daily press of the land generally conceded that the railwaymen had every right to agitate against the Transport Bill, but pointing to the lessons of the 1926 general strike warned against "irresponsible" measures challenging the will of the people and constituted authority.

On that theme the London Daily Mail observed: "Level-headed labor leaders, remembering 1926 are actively aware of this. They know that another general strike, or anything resembling it, would split the labor movement from top to bottom and lay it in ruins."

Rumor Of Gold Increase Spurs Climb Of Stocks

By HARRY KINGDON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Rumors of an increase in the price of gold spurred gold stocks to a moderate climb on the Toronto Stock Exchange this week. The exchange's gold index reached its highest point since June, 1950.

Base metals also came out ahead on the week's trading but industrials and western oils settled back after last week's climb.

Hopes for a higher price for gold centre around the forthcoming meeting of the International Monetary Fund although Ottawa official said that the price-of-gold question is not expected to arise at the Mexico City meeting.

U. S. BUYING

Base metals started to rise Thursday and some traders attributed the advance to United States buying.

An announcement early this week of financial difficulties in Brazil put selling pressure on Brazilian Traction, a utility in the industrial list. Shares sold for $11 Monday but by Wednesday, dropped to $10⅛. Friday, however, pressure eased and the price rose to $10.50.

In Toronto Monday, prices were mixed while the Montreal exchange showed papers advancing. Prices started to slip Tuesday both at Toronto and Montreal and the decline continued Wednesday.

Thursday, base metals rose on the Toronto market and industrials improved at Montreal. Friday, both centres reported advances.

MIXED START

Prices started the week mixed in New York and on Tuesday dipped with rails under pressure. The decline continued Wednesday. Thursday, a reaction set in and rails led an upward movement. Trading slowed Friday and prices were mixed.

From Friday to Friday the Toronto stock exchange indices showed industrials down 1.30 at 31.74, golds up 1.52 at 95.32, base metals up .95 at 199.00 and western oils down 1.91 at 142.12.

In the Montreal averages, banks were up .28 at 30.84, utilities down .50 at 87.70, industrials down 2.5 at 221.20, combined down 1.8 at 176.70, papers down 3.50 at 727.45 and gold up 1.98 at 69.27.

In New York, The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped 50 cents to $108.70.

Blame Alberta For Increase In Rattlesnakes

REGINA (CP)—Rattlesnakes are on the increase in Saskatchewan, naturalists blame Alberta's expanding irrigation works.

You can take the word of Fred Bard and J. J. Deck for this. Mr. Bard is the director of the provincial museum and Mr. Deck is a resident of Mendham, Sask., who makes a hobby of catching the poisonous rattlers.

For the most part, the natural Saskatchewan surroundings of the rattlesnakes are near the province's western border, particularly in the area where the South Saskatchewan River leaves Alberta At that point the rattlers are also leaving Alberta.

SEEK DRY QUARTERS

Mr. Bard says he believes that irrigation in Alberta is flooding land where the rattlers used to make their home. To find drier living quarters, the snakes have moved east into Saskatchewan. Until recently reports of rattlesnakes in Saskatchewan were rare.

Mr. Deck reports that as time goes on the rattlesnakes are moving to areas further east and north, generally following the direction of the South Saskatchewan River. He says that he has killed 50 rattlers in less than an hour near the river.

The snakes move from the hills toward the river in the fall to den up for the winter. That's the best time to collect museum specimens and take pictures.

Ocean Travel To Britain Higher Than '51

LONDON (CP)—Indications are that both eastbound and westbound sea travel to and from the United Kingdom will exceed totals for 1951.

A report published here says that during the first six months of 1951, 164,000 passengers were carried westbound while this year the figure is 200,000. Last year the eastbound sailing total for the first six months reached 142,000 passengers and this year it is 167,000.

All ships from North America to Britain and continental Europe have had full passenger lists since late spring and are likely to have for some weeks to come. From the beginning of August until late October ships will be jammed sailing westward.

It is considered that the heavy westward flow this year has been considerably influenced by emigrant traffic to Canada.

Air travel to Europe from North America has jumped about 30 per cent in recent years, the report says and from Europe and the United Kingdom to North America about 34 per cent.

P.C.V.S. Graduates Show Better Record Than 1951

Grade 13 academic students of P.C.V.S. wrote more examinations and did better in them this year than in 1951, but not as well as the outstanding year of 1950.

This year, writing a total of 591 papers as against 540 in 1951, the students won first class honors in 102 examinations or 17.3 per cent compared wtih 82, making 15 per cent in 1951. Two years ago, writing 615 papers, the graduating students managed firsts in 33 per cent of them.

There was a lower percentage of failures (68 or 11.5 per cent) this year than last year (77 or 15 per cent). Grouped in grades 102 (17.3 per cent) were first class papers; 117 (19.8 per cent) were seconds; 99 (16.6 per cent) were thirds; 205 (34.7 per cent) were credits; and 68 (11.5 per cent) were failures.

Several students won a high proportion of first class honor marks. One, Gail Craig, wrote nine first class papers for a perfect score. Pauline Zacks had eight first class papers and one second class. Marlene Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Wright, 696 George St. N., nearly equalled this mark with eight firsts and one third. Sheila Young and Ronald Buck, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Buck, 223 London St., both had six first class papers and three seconds. Patricia Hamilton had five firsts and four seconds.

Students found the English Literature examination the most difficult to pass. Thirty failed it and 28 failed the English Composition paper, although more papers (69 and 67 respectively) were written in these subjects. But the second highest number of first class papers (13) were written in English Composition.

In Latin Authors and Latin Composition only one student attained first class honor marks.

In five papers there were no failures: Algebra, Latin Authors, Latin Composition, German Authors and German Composition.

This year's marks are about on a par with the last five years. In 1951 fifteen per cent were first class papers, in 1950 33 per cent were first; in 1949, 17 per cent; and in 1948 22 per cent.

Details of the grades received in the individual subjects are:

English Composition—13 firsts, 12 seconds, 11 thirds, 28 credits and five failures.

English Literature—Two firsts, nine seconds, 12 thirds, 30 credits and 14 failures.

Botany—Four firsts, 10 seconds, one third, six credits and six failures.

Zoology—Four firsts, five seconds, five thirds, nine credits and three failures. Total 26.

Phhysics—Eight firsts, five seconds, four thirds, 16 credits and six failures. Total 39.

Chemistry — Seven firsts, five seconds, three thirds, 22 credits and six failures. Total 43.

Latin Authors—One first, two seconds, two thirds, four credits and no failures. Total nine.

German Authors—Three firsts, no seconds, three thirds, no credits and no failures. Total 6.

German Composition — Two firsts, one second, two thirds, one credit and no failures. Total six.

Following is a table showing the results of the past four years in the grade 13 results:

	1948	1949	1950	1951
Total papers writen	604	606	615	540

SAYS FAKED PAPERS—Roy H. F. McBride, former manager of a Windsor, Ont., branch of the Provincial Bank of Canada, testified at a Detroit deportation hearing that he supplied false bank asset statements on behalf of some 100 Canadian applicants for United States visas. McBride's connection with the bank was "severed" July 31, officials of the institution said.

Europe's Coal and Steel Pool

On Monday of this week in the city of Luxembourg there went into action the managerial board — the "High Authority" — of the scheme for merging Western European coal and steel into a single giant industry serving a mass market of 155 million people. On the same day in the same city the new High Court installed as arbiter between national and supranational interests in these industries took office. Thus was launched the "Schuman Plan," named for the former French Premier and Foreign Minister Robert Schumann who proposed it. This is one of the most far-reaching of western Europe's post-war developments. It is hoped thus to solve a deep-seated European problem, one which has directly and indirectly been a central cause and prime agent in every war fought in western Europe during the last hundred years.

* * *

Under the Schuman plan France, Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg co-operate in the production and share in the output of coal and iron in western Europe, and establish a free market for coal and steel which has no frontiers within this group of countries. It is an integration of the coal and steel industry which is expected to make war between France and Germany impossible in the future.

* * *

The Schuman Plan will not bring order and peace overnight out of a situation which has harrassed generations. It is not yet a fully-accepted instrument; there are still bickerings and basic differences of national opinions, particularly about the Saar. The French have always insisted that the Saar must remain politically separate and distinct from Germany, lest German industry might overthrow the balance inside the European steel-and-coal community, and the political community of which the Schumann plan is a segment (the Schumann plan established a partial economic union of the six countries). The Germans reply that the Saar is a part of Germany, and if the Saarlanders want to re-unite with Germany it would be undemocratic to stop them. The Saar question is now in abeyance. The seat of the new High Authority is also uncertain; Luxembourg is only a temporary site.

* * *

The permanent site and the Saar question have been referred to a meeting of the Foreign Ministers of the six co-operating countries. Meanwhile, in four weeks, the first meeting of an Assembly of eighty-three Deputies will be held at Strasbourg. This Assembly is the democratic eye and voice over the High Authority's nine supranational technicians. Through the successful co-operation of national members of the Assembly will come the success of the Plan, for no matter how expert the technicians and administration, if the people's seal is not thus given, the Plan cannot work.

Canada Imports Food

Apart from wheat and flour export sales, agricultural products are having an ever-decreasing share of Canada's export market, manufactured products an increasing share. This is a significant change in a country whose exports have now expanded in value to four billion dollars a year. It is interesting to know what agricultural products Canada imports from abroad to make up her own deficiencies.

Canada imports beef and other meat, primarily from the United States. Canada imports cheese, although she exports it — to Britain, the United States and Belgium, Canada's three best cheese markets. Incidentally, last year was the first in many that Ottawa did not enter into a cheese contract with the British Ministry of Food; the Ministry did make a contract with Ontario cheese producers, who shipped twenty-five million pounds last year, and with Quebec, which shipped a smaller quantity. Canada imported last year half as much cheese as she exported, and got it mostly from New Zealand, with special types from Argentina, Denmark, Italy the Netherlands, Switzerland and the United States. Another dairy product that some Canadians may be surprised to learn we import in considerable quantities is butter. The federal Agricultural Products Board bought three million pounds each from Denmark, New Zealand and Sweden, and a million pounds from the Netherlands in 1951. Canada's butter exports are small, and confined mostly to the British West Indies, St. Pierre and Miquelon, the Netherlands West Indies and Latin America.

While Canada shipped quite large quantities of concentrated milk products abroad (chiefly to Malaya, Trinidad and other West Indian islands), heavy shipments of skim milk powder, dried whey and buttermilk were got from Australia, New Zealand and the United States during the first part of the year. This country even imported eggs last year — from the United States, the Netherlands, Hong Kong and Ireland.

Other agricultural products imported last year were potatoes, seeds, and of course fruits and vegetables out of season in addition to fruits which Canada does not grow.

Canada has always imported some foods, but never in the quantities which she now requires. Why a country with hundreds of thousands of acres of arable land not under cultivation, thousands of abandoned farms, and with land-wasteful methods of farming, should import foods, (other than specialities) is a question which economists may answer by reference to their laws of supply and demand, price boards by reference to wage rates, and financial authorities by reference to taxes, duties and tariffs. The Income Tax department need not be consulted, for the farmer is the most heavily-favoured person in the whole of Canada, as regards the avoidance of income taxes.

Paris Aphorisms

The French are famous for the lucid perfection of their winged sayings, and we are pleased to read in the Paris Le Monde evidence that the flight is still high. Le Monde reprints some amusing aphorisms from a recently-published book "Paradoxes and Predictions on the Future of Europe" by Albert Mousset. We tie our kite-string to four:

"Great nations forget, small nations remember. What distinguishes an Englishman from an Irishman is Memory."

"As soon as a journalist arrives in a capital city he interviews the one person who cannot tell him anything that is not known to the whole world; the Minister for Foreign Affairs."

"France is a bureaucracy tempered by ministerial instability."

"If Karl Marx were alive today he would long ago have confessed his errors and been purged by the Cominform."

We refrain from comment on these, since, as Hazlitt says in another aphorism: Thought must tell at once or not at all.

Too Many Fires

There are still far too many fires in this province, and indeed throughout the country generally. The peculiarities of our climate and of the construction of many of our buildings should make us more alive to the danger of fire, yet the disastrous toll in life and property is levied at an ever increasing rate. During the second quarter of this year no less than 24 persons were killed and 70 injured in this province alone, according to figures released by the Ontario Fire Marshal. The damage totalled $8,825,138 during the same period.

Major fires during the second quarter are listed separately. Toronto had 4 fires, causing a loss of $605,220, while Peterborough, about one twentieth of the size of Toronto had two fires for a loss of $207,494. Kingston and Oshawa had none. Peterborough's two fires during the period were at the Braund Charlotte Street store and at the Exhibition Grounds.

We do not blame our fire department; after all it is not they who start the fires. Their bravery and efficiency have been demonstrated many times, above all in the big fire of last May. Admittedly two major fires in one quarter is somewhat above our average, but we cannot help wondering whether our precautionary measures might not be tightened up. We cannot ascribe our fires to bad luck indefinitely.

Prudent Finns

For Olympic Games, World Fairs and other spectacular demonstrations, cities and countries build themselves costly fabrics, miles of pavement, lay special mains and streets. So Helsinki did for the Olympics this year. Now the Games end. Will Helsinki demolish its palaces of sports, its special restaurants, hutments, wiring and streets, as other cities and nations have done, leaving perhaps only a Crystal Palace? No Helsinki and Finland built for the Games and after the Games.

A by-product of the 1952 Olympics will be a permanent, modern housing area, the Olympic village. Instead of putting up temporary structures to be torn down as soon as the Games end, the architects built substantial houses, shops, restaurants and amusement centres, for regular occupancy after the Olympics end this month. The Finns are not only industrious; they are also far-sighted. Not for them a phantom of the Games, but a permanent housing and entertainment area, whose first, but not principal use, was as Olympia.

NOTES AND COMMENT

Toronto is in a traffic jam, and the Department of Highways is planning to spend ten million dollars to get Toronto out of it. What is Toronto's jam is not jam for the rest of the Province.

Paris In August

By DENNIS BLOODWORTH

IN AUGUST this city, the most animated in the world, becomes silent, withdrawn, almost forbidding. Its residential "quartiers" are like sleepy hamlets on a month-long Sunday afternoon. Nearly two million Parisians have deserted the capital for annual summer holidays and the empty streets of shuttered shops, the still avenues of trees, are only disturbed by the passing of an occasional car or the solitary footsteps of the postman.

◇ ◇ ◇

FOR MANY PEOPLE this annual phenomenon of tranquility has its own delights. The intimidating traffic has thinned to a muted trickle, disengaged taxis come at the lift of a finger and favourite corner tables are always free in the half-deserted cafes. The days of suffocating in company with fifty unreasonably stout commuters in a crowded Metro carriage, and of queueing for an hour to get a seat behind a pillar in a cinema, are temporarily gone. It may be necessary to walk two miles to find the nearest baker who has reluctantly stayed open, but the illusion of a more leisurely age, when Homo Sapiens was less thick on the ground, remains a precious one.

◇ ◇ ◇

ON THE CHAMPS ELYSEES and around the Opera, however, the invasion of tourists wages unremitting war with the silence. The self-confident Parisian Citroens have been replaced by overloaded foreign cars that edge timorously down the unaccustomed streets and the shaded boulevards are crowded with multi-coloured American shirts and English sports jackets. Even a blind man can tell that it is August, for the cameras are clicking everywhere and there is one predominant language to be heard—English. The French tongue, like the French people, has fled the city.

◇ ◇ ◇

THERE IS a sinister form of quiet, however, that a visitor to Paris can remark at any time of the year. After Britain, Germany or Holland, where the harsh scrape of the mason's trowel is rarely out of earshot, he finds that one element of post-war life is virtually missing here—the cheerful, noisy and dusty atmosphere which surrounds men building homes. For few homes are being built in Paris, or in France at all.

◇ ◇ ◇

WITH HALF A MILLION dwellings destroyed in the war alone and a constant movement of people towards the big towns, France desperately needs new houses. Half a million families are living in condemned hovels or are crowded into single rooms with a tap on the landing as their only amenity. In Paris, more than one thousand buildings are declared unsafe every year by the Prefecture de Police, yet people go on living in them, and risk being crushed by their collapse, for they can find nowhere else to go. It is said that this situation can be remedied only if three hundred thousand homes are built a year. Only seventy-five thousand were built in 1951.

◇ ◇ ◇

FRANCE LACKS both the trained labour and the money to embark upon an adequate reconstruction programme. Moreover, Frenchmen shy from prefabricated houses and the deadly uniformity of the "dormitory" suburb. Although rebuilding has been rapidly and tastefully carried out in the shattered Normandy towns, there seems no hope of replacing the dreary succession of squalid streets which constitute the newcomer's first view of Paris as he enters the city.

◇ ◇ ◇

YET THERE are worse temporary homes than "prefabs" and the attention of all Frenchmen is focussed on one of these—the base camp to which Professor Max Cosyns of Brussels has led an international team of spelaeologists on one of the most perilous journeys ever undertaken in France.

◇ ◇ ◇

SPELAEOLOGY, says the dictionary, is the exploration of caverns and grottoes under the earth, and it is difficult to say whether it is a sport or a science. Its history is thick with accounts of horrifying accidents that have befallen those who have swung down hundreds of feet of black funnel on flimsy ropes and stumbled or crawled through the dark echoing rock-chambers and fissures that led to the secret core of some implacable mountain. To terrible falls into the void, or sudden death under the earth from falling rocks—both of which have claimed victims, for example, from the Leeds Cave Club in England—may be added asphyxiation from carbon gases, drowning in unplumbed subterranean waters, and, worst of all, losing the way and never getting back to daylight.

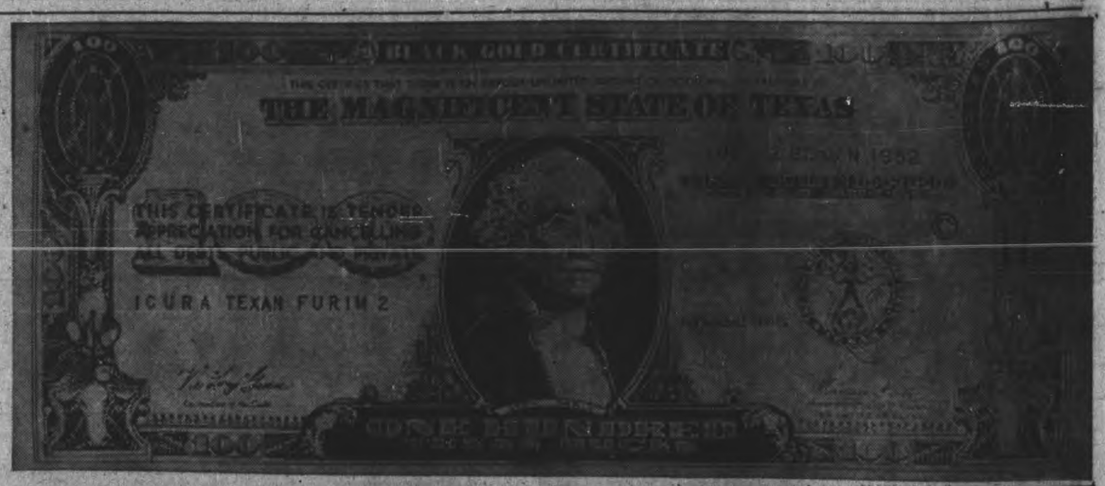
◇ ◇ ◇

PROFESSOR COSYNS' expedition, the most ambitious of its kind ever undertaken, started from a small hole five thousand feet up in the Pyrenees last weekend. Its members are being dropped by electrically-driven windlass down a chimney one thousand feet deep and black as night, into a vast rocky chamber. From this, a second descent is being made into a lower chamber fifteen hundred feet below the mountain's surface.

◇ ◇ ◇

THROUGH THIS pitch-dark cavern, where the base camp is being set up, there runs a subterranean river which disappears into the rock. The members of the expedition will explore this river in inflated rubber boats to discover if it emerges, as they suspect, to feed the mountain cascades of Kakouetta four miles away. They will be prepared to plunge underwater where the rock roof descends to the surface or where, as happens with these courses, the river "siphons" itself up a short shaft to continue flowing to a higher level.

◇ ◇ ◇



PREPARATIONS for this attempt have been on an impressive scale. Let down by their machine windlass, the team carry quantities of magnesium for taking photographs in the darkness, fifty lb. of luminous fluorescine for emptying into the river to help trace its course, parachute harness, crash helmets, boats and waterproofing, food supplies, rope and miners' lamps.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE TEAM will stay underground for up to ten days—the estimated limit of their endurance. It is hardly an excursion to everybody's taste. Six feet underground is the farthest most of us expect to go—and only then after we have ceased to resist.

(This latest expedition has already claimed one life.—Ed.)

TEXAN GREENBACK BALLYHOO: Black obverse side (top photo) of this "Black Gold Certificate" (reference to oil) of "The Magnificent State of Texas" for "One Hundred Texan Bucks," carries a parody portrait of George Washington, labelled "Look Again." On looking again, one sees that the features disclose a broncho and pistol-carrying rider. The ciphers carry their own special messages: "I OU I 2 BCNU N 1952" (I owe you one too; Be seein' you in 1952); "ICURA TEXAN FURIM 2". One of the signatures is "T. Useless Kaiser, Premier Prestidigitator of Mazuma, The Empire of Texas." Reverse side of this souvenir, printed in green, shows the reputed Great Seal, called in left production, "The Great Deal," and bearing the slogan "IN Hoc TU OFIN"—In hock (in pawn or in prison too often). The bogus bill magnificently measures 13½ inches by 5½ inches. (See Letter to Editor below.)

Letters To The Editor

PASSING THE BUCK?

Sir: Have just returned from a wonderful vacation in Canada and while there was treated magnificently by everyone I came in contact with.

While in Peterborough I read some of the letters in your paper in reply to the disgruntled American who claimed he was rudely treated in your city, and also complained of the exchange on the American dollar.

Am enclosing one of our Texas greenbacks; imagine our chagrin when we are only offered 96c for all this green stuff, but we don't get insulted, we just come back to Texas, dig another oil well and hope we can get back again next year to see all you fine folks up there.

Sincerely,

"SUFFER THE LITTLE CHILDREN . . ."

Sir: I am a young working mother working from nine to twelve hours a day to support my three children. For the past three or four months I have been looking for a place to live, a place where we can all be together.

At present we are all separated and this is very costly. I find it impossible to find a place where small children are allowed. It seems that no matter where you go there is a sign on the door, you can't see it but it's there just the same. It reads: "No children allowed." I would like to know what people with small children are supposed to do with them?

Most home owners will allow dogs and cats but not children. Just the mention of the word and you are turned away as quickly as possible; you would think that one was asking to bring in some kind of insects or vermin, that might contaminate the very house itself. You must remember we were all children once ourselves.

My children are beginning to think that I no longer love them or want them any more, because I am unable to let them live with me, but what can I do when I live in a city without a heart? All I want is to rent a house at a reasonable price, I don't want to buy it at 80 or 90 dollars monthly, because as you know this would be impossible for a woman in my position. If anyone can suggest a solution to my problem, I would appreciate it very much.

Our Lord so loved little children that He Himself said; and I quote: "Suffer the little children to come unto me and forbid them not for theirs is the kingdom of heaven."

I remain,
A VERY DISCOURAGED
PETERBOROUGH MOTHER.

North Carolina Cracks Down

(HAMILTON SPECTATOR)

SO FAR as North Carolina is concerned, the law has demonstrated that it is stronger than the Ku Klux Klan and dealt this hooded, night-riding organization a blow from which it is not likely to recover for a long time, in this state at any rate.

The imperial wizard of the Klan has been sentenced to four years imprisonment and 62 of his associates have received sentences ranging from one to two years, suspended in most instances in favor of fines. The mass trial was one of the most impressive vindications of law and order in North Carolina's history. It involved 63 defendants and 158 indictments concerning ten victims of the Klan's terrorism, among them were white men and Negro men and women. Some of them had been flogged.

Thomas L. Hamilton, the imperial wizard, who boasted that he would establish the Klan in every state and thereby build anew an empire of this anti-Catholic, anti-Negro and anti-Jewish secret society, was a humbled respondent at the bar of justice as he pleaded guilty. Judge Clawson L. Williams, in imposing the maximum penalty upon Hamilton, said: "The day has not come in North Carolina when a man has to barricade himself in his home with the setting sun." He further branded these men as an unworthy lot who had "displayed the degree of cowardice you always expect to find in an organization of this type." Clifton L. Moore, who acted as the state's prosecutor, declared that these Klansmen are suffering from a form of social disease; their intolerance is pathological.

The aim of this mass trial was to destroy the Ku Klux Klan in North Carolina, and that end has probably been achieved, in the opinion of observers, for a generation at least or as long as the enforcement of the law is entrusted to righteous and courageous men and they have the moral support of a good public conscience. The Klan is, however, still immune from prosecution in South Carolina where the authorities have been conspicuously inactive compared to the crackdown in North Carolina.

While the outcome of the trial there may curtail the influence and the activities of this organization of terror, the Klan may never actually be stamped out as long as there are ugly-minded, ignorant men who become the victims of their own bigotry and racial prejudices and attach themselves to these hooded groups to give full expression to their deep-seated malice. It is a sad commentary, too, that the majority of these Klansmen are of a descent which is boastfully free of the "racial pollution of the American melting pot." Thus they are false to their heritage and the freedoms which the Klan has abused in so ghastly a manner.

Youngs Captained Boats For 50 Years

By JIM ENGLISH

There's still a Young captaining a boat on the Trent Canal system. He is Captain Harold Young of the workboat "Trent," last of his family active on the waterways of this district.

Since shortly before the turn of the century, when the "Stoney Lake" was the first boat to go over the Peterborough Liftlock, there have been Youngs sailing the Kawarthas. Captain Harold made that first trip on the "Stoney Lake."

For many Peterborough people, the names of Kawartha steamers have a nostalgic ring—the Manita, Islinda, the Stoney Lake. Even the Bessie Butler, the steam-driven counterpart of today's Trent, is fondly thought of by the many who knew her grey hull and cream stack.

But the last steamboat is gone now from the Kawarthas; the Bessie Butler is now hauling explosives on the Richelieu River. She was the last of the Kawartha steamers. The Stoney Lake now steams out of Windsor as an excursion boat, complete with cocktail bar, dance band and public address system.

Ghosts of long past Sunday School picnics probably throw up their hands in holy horror when the Stoney Lake starts on a trip and the bar opens.

Today, the only boat of any size regularly seen on the Kawarthas is the Trent. She's a stubby, steel-hulled craft with 165 horsepower in her diesel engine. No beauty, she's still a handy craft, and Captain Harold and her crew speak fondly of her.

WHOLE REACH OF TRENT

From the eastern end of the six-mile-long Murray Canal in Prince Edward County to the north end of the Trent system at Georgian Bay, the Trent makes her way. Aboard are the men who keep locks and buoys in condition throughout those 242 miles.

That they are keeping them in good shape is plain from the comments of Canadian and U.S. visitors who tour the system in motor cruisers. Captain Young said he spoken to owners of perhaps half-a-dozen craft this summer, and head heard no complaints, only compliments.

Altogether, there are about 1,200 buoys, targets and markers along the Trent Canal and in the laes included in the system. All these must be checked, some must be repaired and repainted, and others must be replaced altogether.

Reflectors on buoys must be changed, and a plentiful stock of these is aboard the Trent at all times during her summer cruise.

Jim Earnshaw, engineer on the Trent, has worked on steam vessels and ships with gasoline engines, and says that the diesel is the best of the bunch. "These fuel tanks hold 700 gallons each (there are two) and we put 400 gallons in this spring. That's the first oil we've added since more than a year ago."

BLASTING OLD PIERS

Another of the jobs that faces the crew of the Trent every once in a while is the removal of old piers from the channels. This week at Lakefield, they were blasting out one of the old piers lumbermen used to set up their boom. The boom kept the logs being driven from straying into the steamer channels.

Five holes were drilled in the concrete cap of the pier and a stick and a half of dynamite placed in each hole. The blast left one large chunk of concrete in the channel, and four more sticks finished the job.

HOLDS UNDERWATER RECORD

Setting the dynamite in place in these underwater jobs is the job of Fred James, former Royal Navy diver who moved to Canada five years ago. Incidentally, Fred holds the record for deep diving with oxygen. Competing with British, Canadian and U.S. navy divers during the war, he stayed under at 60 feet for four and a half hours.

With the stubby Trent is a wooden barge about 60 feet long and 15 wide. On it stands the everyday equipment needed in the crew's work. A small crane, chains, ropes, an air compressor, and other gear cover a good deal of its deck.

In the Trent itself are five bunks; four are below decks forward, the fifth is in the combination wheelhouse and captain's cabin. Aft of the sleeping quarters below decks is a tiny galley, in which a small gas stove is used in summer, and an oil stove in winter.

A steel bulkhead separates the galley from the engine room aft. Slightly cramped quarters in the engine room place engineer Earnshaw's workbench in an awkward spot. The 165-horsepower diesel takes up most of the room, but is a quieter engine than others, says the engineer.

At certain motor speeds—400 revolutions per minute and 700 r.p.m.—the machine hits its vibration peaks and is noisy. At other speeds, she is a quiet-running engine, and "just purrs along" engineer Earnshaw says.

Top motor sped is 1,800 r.p.m., but it is a speed seldom used. Full speed for the Trent means 14 knots, and the swell she throws up behind her then might be dangerous to other boats she passes.

Ordinarily the Trent draws about three feet; at full speed she draws more than five, and the stern drops down in the water right up to the shoe.

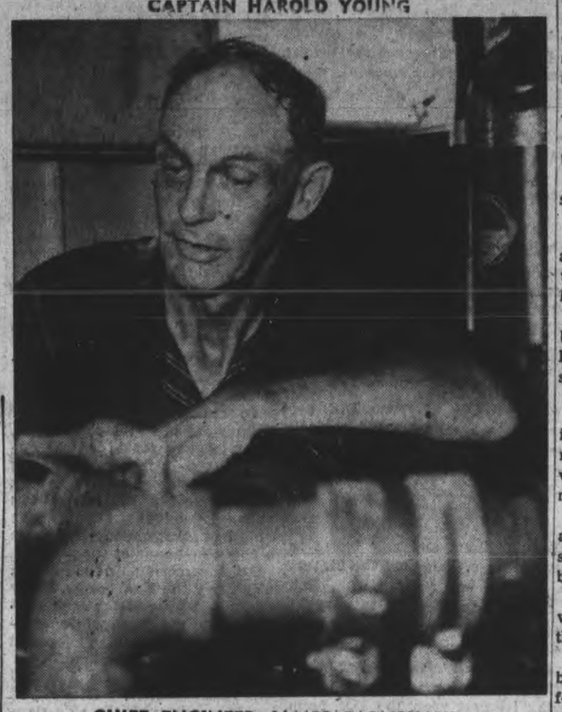
SMALLER THAN BESSIE

Forty-five feet overall, the Trent has a 12-foot beam, compared to the Bessie Butler's 76-foot length and 16-foot beam. Her steel construction is a great improvement over wood, says Captain Young, necessitating less costly maintenance.

From the first week in April to the last week in November, the Trent visits the waterways of the canal system. The other four months of the year are spent tied up, and partly in drydock. Each year she is scraped and painted, and all gear receives a double check, before she takes to the water again in spring.

A snug boat in summer, she is cool for sleeping in spring and fall says Captain Young, not as warm as a wooden-hulled craft.

Turning back the pages of time to the Stoney Lake again, Captain Young spoke proudly of the old excursion steamer. The boiler that was installed in her when she was built still withstands the same test pressure it did when it was installed.



"She's a pretty good boat," he said smiling.

The days of steam are definitely gone from the Kawarthas. No whistle sounds on the Trent today; instead a dual horn of shining chrome is fixed to the top of the wheelhouse. No thick grey smoke pours from the stack; a smudge of burned diesel oil marks the Trent's course.

But to the men aboard the Trent and to the boat owners who benefit by their work the results count, not the nostalgic thought of the steamer's whistle and the grey trail of smoke.

Fishermen from various parts of the province have been writing me trying to locate the Pandora of all bass fishing spots—Pine Lake—where Jack McEwan, Examiner pressman, snared himself two monster small-mouth and a third exceptionally good one.

Jack isn't a bit hoggish with his information and says that it is in the Rose Island-Coe Hill section of North Hastings. He admits it is a bit hard to find because it is only a pot hole of small water acreage about half the size of Little Lake in the heart of Peterborough. The water is deep, cold and spring-fed and is believed to be one of the sources of the Crowe River.

A few district men who know the spot say that it is one of those over-populated bass spots that was probably netted by the Department a few years ago since the smaller bass taken currently have grown though they are not so plentiful as heretofore.

In the Dark About Flashlights

Every family in summer seems to have flashlight trouble, especially mine. We have spent a young fortune on models of all shapes and sizes and when they are needed they never work. The bulb and batteries are burned out, the ends won't screw on evenly, something is always wrong. And the funny thing is the lights are never actually used much.

The other night when the family returned from the Lake someone needed the flashlight in a hurry. They found it tucked away in some baggage and flipped it on, and it worked. But, the user remarked how foggy the light was. Would I look at it?

Well, sir, I unscrewed everything. The case was partly filled with rusty water from lying in the bottom of a leaky boat and there were two drowned cockroaches in it. After much drying out, muttering and screwing the thing back together it wouldn't light up.

Give me the trusty ol' barn lantern any day. THAT I understand.

There's a new type of outboard motor thief abroad these days and here is how he operates: he will rent a boat and motor and pay the necessary deposit, if that is a rule of the livery, and go away with his pals for a day's outing.

Come evening the liveryman paces his wharf waiting for the last boat to return but it doesn't show, nor does it arrive next day. The local police are notified and find the boat somewhere along the lake shore. The motor is gone. This actually happened locally.

* * * *

Wildlife seems to be indifferent to highway traffic these days, indeed careless, when one sees all the stiff and squashed carcasses on right of ways. This is a very unpleasant sight but there are moments when car travellers see animals near highways going about their normal wanderings.

An Indian River mail carrier and passenger watched a she bear and three cubs ambling along the Westwood Road this week. They stopped the car and observed their antics for ten minutes until the bears moved off into the brush when they were good and ready.

Surveyor John Pierce and family watched a good-sized brush wolf sauntering along an old pasture on the Catchacoma Road near the PL Cavendish mill on Mississauga Lake.

On the lakes loons have become bolder and come quite close to boatloads of fishermen; they may have learned there is nothing to fear from humans and that a free meal can be had when dead minnows are dumped overboard.

Hand Me My Gun, Son

Seems to be rushing things a bit to talk about fall shooting but tourists are already inquiring and some of them plan to return for a duel with ducks.

The Kawarthas are divided into two sections by the separation line of the Canadian Pacific Railway and into two seasons two weeks apart.

In the Northern section, roughly Highway 7 in this area, the dates for ducks, geese, rails, coots and gallinules is Sept 20 to Nov. 15; woodcock, Sept. 20 to Oct. 27 and Wilson's snipe, Sept 20 to Oct. 20.

The Southern section, south of Highway 7, dates are ducks, etc., Oct. 4 to Nov. 29; woodcock, Oct. 4 to Nov. 10 and snipe Oct. 3 to Nov. 3.

All good duck hunters hope for good cool blustery weather to keep driving the birds south. Are your oil tanks and fuel bins filled? Perish the thought.

There's one tourist fisherman from Pennsylvania who has hauled in so many large muskies lately that he is tired of the sport. This fortunate chap is John S. Eichholtz of Franklin who is being guided around the Bewdley end of Rice Lake by Art Metcalfe for the past several days. Here is his record:

On Aug. 11, a 24 pounder, on the 13, a 25¼ pounder and on Thursday night a monster that scaled 30 pounds. He caught them all in the same spot, at the same time each evening and with the same lure.

On Friday Mr. Eichholtz was presented with three Orders of the Kawartha Muskie at the Chamber of Commerce. The issuance of Orders at the C. of C. shows normal entries to date over former years, by the way.

"Beginnin' to look like the tag end o' summer," observed a friend this morning as the thin wispy fog rose from the quiet River.

It does, indeed.

Indians are gathering basket-weaving sweet grass down on Rice Lake these days—short shiny green blades hidden where only they can find them. (The grass does not give out its spicy scent until it is dried.)

First summer birds to marshal for southern migration—purple martins—are colonizing for take-off in the tall elms. Swallows come next followed by the starlings.

Mountain ash trees are hung with bunches of bright red berries. Scarlet salvia along the cool green river banks is at its best while pickerel weed has shed its purple horns.

Signs such as these and many more—including fall fair posters—announce the turn of the seasons.

"Ear Telephone" Art Guide

By JOAN ERSKINE

AMSTERDAM.—A group of apparently deaf people, equipped with hearing aids, moved silently round the Stedelijk Museum in Amsterdam this week with a look of deep concentration on their faces. They were participating in an unusual world premiere — the premiere of a new system of museum-guiding which may herald a sedate revolution in museums all over the world.

In place of the time-honoured guide, with his stock of well-worn phrases, comes a tiny gadget that works like a hearing aid It is, in fact, a hearing aid adapted to form a minute telephone. By fixing it in your ear and pressing a switch on the small hand cylinder which works like a tiny microphone, a voice guides you individually around the museum or exhibition, explaining each exhibit as it is reached.

The idea of adopting the hearing aid to such a purpose came from a young assistant curator, Emil Meijer, after seeing a demonstration by the Philips Electrical firm at the Utretch Industries Fair — a demonstration designed to make the difficulties of the deaf clear to people with normal hearing.

The scheme was then developed in co-operation with Philips. In a separate room close to the museum's exhibition an amplifier was set up, with a tape recorder. A cable was laid around the whole exhibition, thus forming an electro-magnetic area. Anybody within this space, with the aid of the miniature telephone placed in the ear, can pick up the tape recorder's commentary without being connected in any way by cable or wires.

Instead of self-consciously trailing behind a guide, your attention wandering at intervals, a running commentary is whispered into your ear. Your concentration is enormously increased, with nothing to distract the eye, no sound to disturb others visiting the museum, and a general air of restfulness.

An obvious advantage is that the text can be recorded by perfect speakers in the best possible form, and that any number of languages can be recorded on the tape. The Stedelijk Museum has planned this premiere to coincide with the International Congress of Art Historians, when visitors of many countries will be present. They have texts in Dutch, German, French and English.

It is thought that the initial installation, plus twenty hearing aids, will cost between £600 and £1,000. It financial success, of course, will depend entirely on the number of people who take advantage of it.

Use Spray On New Lawns To Start Grass

BY HENRY PREE (NEA)

A thin coating of hot aspalt sprayed on a new lawn immediately after seed is sown is the quickest way to get the grass seedlings started.

Prof. H. M. Smith, soils technician at the University of Illinois, has tested the spray over a three-year period and believes it's an excellent answer to the old problem of holding soil, seed and fertilizer in place until the seedling grasses are well established.

The asphalt makes a dry covering less than 1/16-inch thick which does not stick to your feet. Legume - grass mixtures grow right through this covering. Bluegrass, alta fescue, rye-grass, redtop, red clover, Korean lespedeza, Ladina clover and small grains have all come through the asphalt in fine shape.

Recommended spraying rates are from two to three-tenths of a gallan per square yard and slightly more on steep slopes. The asphalt stops the soil from washing while the seedlings develop, but breaks down within a year. No bad effects on the soil have been found.

In the tests, Smith observed that seeding under asphalt sprays always came up a week or two earlier than on untreated check plots, a point to remember for fall seedings.

The black asphalt seems to absorb more heat and seal in some of the moisture, producing earlier germination. Yet enough small cracks develop in the coating to let moisture in. It's best to sprinkle the area before seeding and coating in dry weather.

Smith warns that ordinary road-construction asphalts should not be used for this purpose. Special "asphalt mulches," produced by oil companies, have given good results in the tests.

Hot asphalt spray holds, soil, seed and fertilizer in place until seedling grasses are well established.

At recommended rates of application, Smith figures the cost would be 5 to 8 cents a square yard, in some cases cheaper than a straw mulch. And the asphalt won't blow away and there's no danger of fire or weeds.

A three-gallon orchard sprayer or ordinary spray rig, both with enlarged nozzle openings, can be used to apply the emulsion. The cut-back "asphalt mulch" must be heated to 170 degrees. Highway departments and custom spray operators should have equipment for applying this type.

The asphalt should be sprayed, not sprinkled, on the soil. The fact that the home owner has no means of easily heating the asphalt will necessitate the employment of a well-equipped landscape contractor.

With the idea in mind that the small home owner cannot make use of an asphalt mulch, I wonder why the combination of one of the new chemical soil conditioners plus a mulch of straw will not produce equally satisfactory results?

Gardening Questions

Q—Do crabgrass roots live over from year to year?

A—No, crabgrass is strictly an annual, and so lives just one season. New plants come from the seed that lies in the sod all winter and germinates when the soil gets warm in May and June.

Q — A neighbor recommends cutting off and burning the branches of our raspberries as soon as we have picked the fruit. Is that good advice?

A—Yes, it is a good practice to destroy and burn all canes that bore fruit this year, not only to help control disease but also to allow more light and air for the canes that will bear fruit but once so their removal conserves soil moisture and plant food.

Q—Will cucumbers and squash cross-pollinate when planted side by side?

A—It is possible, but should a cross occur it would affect the seed only and not the fruits. Research men have tried to cross-pollinate such crops without much success.

Q—Is it too late to plant Gladiolus bulbs?

A—No, Gladiolus corms put in the ground now will bloom in late September. Be sure to fertilize the soil, and to water them well during periods of drought.

Booster Night To Help Two Ball Clubs

Peterborough merchants and other business men are generously sponsoring another big booster night for both senior and junior baseball at Riverside Park Wednesday evening Aug. 20.

Two ball games, a load of valuable prizes worth hundreds of dollars for another free draw, a Santa Claus bagfull of gifts for boys and girls, and a special of two bicycles to be drawn for by the youngsters, should bring out another whale of a crowd.

That's a foregone certainty, if the weather man kicks in with the same quality of evening that ensured the success of the first booster night two weeks ago.

Details of this community get-together in the cause of home town athletics for seniors and juniors are listed elsewhere in today's Examiner.

Furthermore, the Peterborough Baseball Club is delighted to be able to announce that Chris Graham, baseball star of other years, has accepted their invitation to make the draw for the prizes.

That makes the prospects for next Wednesday evening just about perfect, even if the moon can't get around on time.

The Ball Club would like to have made this a Chris Graham night as an expression of their respect to one of the finest all-round athletes in the sports history of Peterborough. However, he has always been a modest man, and in actual effect the occasion will be a tribute to Mr. Graham as he appears again on the diamond where once he starred.

That "all-round" reference merely touches upon the fact that gentleman and fine citizen as he has been through the years, Chris Graham has always been an honor to the athletic arenas, like many another Canadian youth whose characters were strengthened in competitive sport.

MANY PRIZES

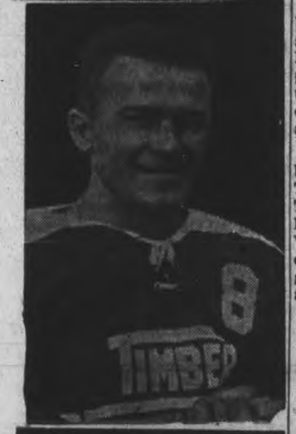
Incidentally, these are the prizes for which Mr. Graham will pick out of a De Laval churn the lucky numbers on the winning admission tickets:

Television set worth $475; Johnson Outboard Motor; Mantel Radio; Picnic Grill; Nylon Hose; Theatre Tickets; and the two Bicycles, one for a boy, the other for a girl.

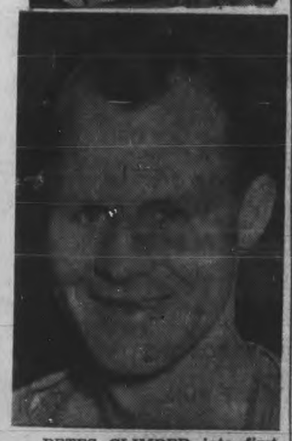
For the youngsters also there will be distributed at the gate: baseballs, gliders, balloons, ice cream bars.

The Baseball Club wishes to emphasize that they are cutting the juniors in on the proceeds of this second Booster Night.

Everyone turning out will have a hand in helping promote the game among the teen-agers from whom Peterborough may expect senior timber for the future, and from their own youth.



The junior game with Campbellford starts at 6:30 o'clock, and should help to bring a flock of visitors from that lively sports town.



The Belleville seniors are due here at 8:30 for the major engagement. Maybe we win another, but you never know until the last man is out.

The Club is grateful to the business men for their financial support in making this Booster Night possible. For the general public, the admission is the regular 50 cents, and 25 cents for children whose tickets give them a chance for the two bicycles.

And, remember, you have to be in the ball park for the draw. Tickets are sold only at the gate. The law of averages is a whole lot better for you at Riverside Wednesday night than on a lot of other draws, plus the senior game, and why not come early and see the Juniors in action.

PETES CLIMBED into first place tie with Mimico Friday night. Thanks to an all-round performance, the Timbermen trounced Mimico 21-7. Harry Wipper (top) scored six, while Ike Hildebrand (middle) set up plays, breaking fast throughout the game, and Bob Thorpe (bottom), coach, was another playmaker and stiff checker. — (Examiner Staff Photos).

Petes In First Place Tie Defeat Mimico 21-7 Before Season's Best Crowd

The Timbermen are in first place again!!! The home stretch drive for first place by the Timbermen paid off before the season's largest crowd of 3,100 Friday night at Miller Bowl as Bob Thorpe's woodsmen ran rough shod over the Mimico Mounties 21-7. That pasting put the Timbermen in a first place tie with the Mounties and also put them in a position where they can take first alone tonight by defeating Hamilton Tigers at the Bowl. They have a game in hand over the Mounties and the two points might give the Timbermen first place and the Ontario championship.

The Timbermen started where they left off Wednesday in the St. Catharines game. They poured through Mimico in the first quarter 6-2, jumped up to 11-3 at the half, leapt again in the third to 15-5 and outscored the Mounties 6-2 in the final.

Actually Mimico were on even terms only once, then briefly in the first quarter. After the Thorpe men took a 2-0 lead, the Mounties tied the score. Within minutes the Timbermen took the lead and built it up.

ALL STARS

To try to pick a Timbermen star would be difficult; they were all stars, playing championship lacrosse from goalie Lloyd "Moon" Wootton out.

As in Wednesday's game the Woodsmen controlled the game. They grabbed loose balls, won most of the faceoffs and broke like fiends on the offensive. As soon as they lost possession they rushed back to stem the Mounties' attack. Whenever Mimico did break through the Moon shone in the nets.

Only once did the Mounties manage to throw the Timbermen off. Early in the second half Thorpe's crew lagged momentarily as their passing and backchecking slipped. But the Moon was sensational.

Harry (The Whip) Wipper, minor league's coach, led the Peterborough attack, combining neatly with teammates to net six goals, matching Don Ashbee's Wednesday night effort. The Whip had other chances but chose to pass to teammates for goals.

But his scoring punch didn't fully carry the Timbermen. Curly Mason and Russ Slater each added three to the cause while teammates poured the indian rubber at Mounties' goalie, Bob Taylor.

The Mounties' main downfall was their defence. They just couldn't cope with the side-stepping, pace-changing Timbermen who formed passing networks through the Toronto team. Taylor and his defence didn't get the strong support from the forwards that Wootton and crew did.

Up front the Mounties just didn't have what it takes. They lacked teamwork, seeming to emphasize individual work. They sadly missed Archie Dixon, out with a knee injury, Denny Petersen and Ross Kelly, both out with shoulder separations.

GARBUTT SIGNED

The Timbermen's lack of depth received some help when the executive signed starry Al Garbutt, former Brampton stalwart, and this year with Fergus. He proved popular with the fans, starting off on the right foot by scoring a nice goal. He knows how to handle himself on the defence, can throw a pass, receive one and knows how to score goals.

Late in the evening the club tried to make another player deal with Fergus, but for the second time this week, it fell through just before the deadline for signing players.

All the Timbermen's goals were pleasers to the large crowd. But two warrant special mention. The first by Grant Burns in the first when standing on the crease he grabbed a Ross Powless pass and at the same time back-handed it into the net.

The second dandy goal was by Curly Mason in the fourth. He broke into the clear, took a long pass from Don Ashbee, went off-balance going in on goal, sidestepped and backhanded into the upper right corner, completely fooling Taylor. Even Curly had to smile after that one.

Lineups:

Timbermen: goal, Wootton; defence, Nickle, Killingbeck; centre, Thorpe; wings, Ashbee, Vitarelli; rover, Hildebrand; alternates, O'Hearn, Wipper, Mason, Slater, Powless, Burns, Garbutt.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By DON GRANT

Once a popular sport in Canada, soccer is rallying under the influence of the large numbers of English, Scots and continentals coming to this country.

At one time most of the towns and villages surrounding Peterborough boasted soccer teams. But the sport died in favor of hockey, baseball and lacrosse until only a few centres had teams. Public schools in the city retained soccer as one of the few organized games.

New Canadians Keep Game Alive

But since the war new arrivals from across the Atlantic where soccer is "the" sport have been determined to keep that game alive. And they're succeeding.

A look at Kingston, Batawa and Peterborough's U.E. soccer team reveals that a few Canadian natives still play, but the teams are composed of English, Scots and others from Europe. In fact there is only one native Canadian playing on the U.E. team, the goalie, Art Jones.

Of course most of these newcomers are thoroughly experienced in the sport and therefore easily out-class any Canadians who have played the game. But the brand of soccer has improved with their arrival and is helping create greater interest from a spectator standpoint.

U.E. Team Best In Eastern Ontario

Peterborough's U.E. team is probably the best in Eastern Ontario. So far this year they have only been defeated once, then in Dominion Cup play by the Italo-Canadians from Toronto.

The U.E. boys have been playing league games with Batawa and Kingston with great success, rolling up six victories and two draws in eight games. Although the league is still going, the U.E. team are practically holding the Eastern Ontario trophy.

Apart from the league and Dominion Cup play, the U.E. are also defending their Ontario Intermediate champoinship. Already they have ousted Batawa and are waiting for the finals against Kingston in September. Kingston eliminated Belleville Northern Electric and Trenton R.C.A.F.

Three Consistent Scorers

Most of the U.E. players played for town and city teams in Scotland and England, or in their school-days. This year the players have pretty well distributed the scoring, but Andy Smith, Bob Strong and Jock Robertson (who returned to Scotland this week) have been consistent scorers. Canada's only representative, Art Jones, is considered the best goalie in the league.

The team started first, playing in the city league, but when games became too few and competition weak, the team entered the Eastern Ontario league. There during its first year, the U.E. team were runners-up to Kingston. Since then they have been tops.

Anyone interested in a good soccer game will see one today at the exhibition grounds when the U.E. and Kingston meet in a league game, actually a championship preview.

Hamilton Tigers Play At Miller Bowl

As far as sports are concerned tonight is one of the busiest of the summer. Here's a brief lineup; Miller Bowl, seniors play Hamilton Tigers; senior Petes play Kingston in Kingston; Lakefield softball team plays Brooklin at Bowl; Burtols play provincial series with Oshawa in Oshawa; ladies play golf at Kawartha in first women's open golf tournament.

A baseball item—Another booster night, no less. Yes, the senior Petes found the first big night quite popular two weeks ago and are trying it again, this time combining with the Junior Petes in a doubleheader on Wednesday. There will be a TV set, outboard motor, two bicycles, mantel radio and other prizes for adults, baseballs, gliders, balloons and ice cream bars for kids.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

With the sudden death of Norman Routley at his home on Walnut St., early Friday morning the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club has lost one of its faithful members. Although it was known that Mr. Routley was in poor health, the announcement of his death came as a shock. Mr. Routley joined the club the first year of its existence on the present site. He always had a smile and a cheery word for all. He was a gentleman, a real sport, a fine citizen and a kindly husband and parent. He was more than a member of our club—he was a real good neighbor. Sitting on his verandah right across from the greens he kept in touch with all activities. We will miss him.

To his wife and daughter and sons we extend the sympathy of our club.

As a sincere tribute to the late Norman Routley, the flag at the club house will remain at half-mast until after the funeral on Monday.

RACE STARTED IN 1776

The St. Leger, Britain's autumn turf classic, was founded in 1776 or four years before the Derby at Epsom.

TWO FORMER I.O.O.F. PLAYERS, Kevin Heffernan (left) and Bill Stewart will make their bid for Junior "A" berth with Oshawa this year. These two young hockey players were noticed last year by Boston scout, Baldy Cotton, and will attend practices in Oshawa beginning mid-September. Both young, well-built and good players, they'll probably catch on and start climbing for a National League berth with Boston.—(Examiner Staff Photos).

Orfuns Practise Nightly As Schedule Announced Open Against New Ghosts

Tempo at Peterborough Orfun football practices at the exhibition grounds under Coach Tony Kotowski quickened Thursday night as the league schedule was announced. The Orfuns will play their first game on September 13 against the Cobourg Galloping Ghosts in Cobourg. The schedule actually opens a week earlier when Oshawa Red Raiders play Cobourg in Cobourg. The Orfuns open at home against the Ghosts on Sept. 19.

At each practice this week more and more players, old and new, have been trying out. So far the emphasis seems to be on young, light players, generally with experience in the rough intermediate play.

Kotowski had players divided into two groups Thursday night. He had the backfielders working from the snap, grabbing passes, while he concentrated on linemen and their timing.

Referring earlier to the schedule Kotowski told the Examiner: "That first game will be the big one."

Meanwhile, in Cobourg, Coach Art West is drilling his huge squad of Galloping Ghosts nightly at Kiwanis Park where they moved when they found the Tannery Athletic field unsuitable.

Always ready for a new departure, the Ghosts revealed this week that the club will be more Ghostly than ever, reporting that they have changed colors. This year they will wear new nylon white pants, white tops and white helmets.

Among the most talked about players working out is Bruce Richardson, of Toronto Argos and Calgary Stampeder fame. Fans have been watching him nightly as he goes through his paces.

Richardson is expected to be a regular end on the Ghosts' lineup this year. According to rumor, he will make his home in Cobourg during the off season, probably becoming a permanent Cobourg resident.

This year the league includes Cobourg, Oshawa Red Raiders, Kingston R.E.M.E., and the Orfuns. The Orfuns play home and home with Kingston. The schedule is:

September
6—Oshawa at Cobourg.
12—Oshawa at Kingston.
13—Peterborough at Cobourg.
19—Cobourg at Peterborough.
24 or 26—Cobourg at Oshawa.

Queens Edged 12-8 In Rain By St. Catharines Fourth Rally Falls Short

ST. CATHARINES (Special)—A last quarter rally by Peterborough fell four goals short of the mark here last night as St. Catharines Athletics won the opening game of the Ontario Lacrosse Association junior "A" semi-finals by a 12-8 margin. The St. Catharines team held commanding leads of 6-1, 7-2 and 11-4 in the first three periods but Petes came back to outscore the blueshirts by 4-1 in the final fifteen minutes.

The game was 35 minutes late starting due to the late arrival of the Peterborough team and the first three periods were played during a steady downpour of rain. Leading the St. Catharines team to victory was slim Les Howard who scored four goals and assisted on one other. Bill Allan scored a pair and singles went to Fred Martin, Doug Baldwin, John Howard, Bob Daniels, and Ed. Childs.

FOUR GOALS FOR BATLEY

Bob Batley, first string defenceman with the invading team, paced the visiting club with a four-goal display and was blocked on three other clean breakaways by the goal-tending of Justin Howe. Rounding out the Peterborough team were Jery O'Reilly, Doug Powell, Bev Groves and Roger Smith with one goal apiece.

The slipper footing kept bodily contact down to a minimum but play roughtened up considerably in the last quarter and after receiving minor penalties for roughing, Murray Cox and Carl Brioux attempted to continue their fight in the penalty box. This was the closest thing to a brawl during the 60 minutes of play.

Second game of the best-in-five series will be played in Peterborough Monday night with the third in St. Catharines on Thursday.

Lineups:

Peterborough—Goal, Hickson; defence, Brioux, Batley; rover, Mullins; centre, O'Reilly; forwards, Powell, R. Smith; alternates, Fitzgerald, J. Daniels, Groves, McIlmoyle.

Balding Slams His Way To Semi-Finals

TORONTO (CP)—Al Balding, a golfing terror to assistant professionals, trained his long-driving clubs on the veterans today.

The 23-year-old assistant pro at the host Toronto Islington Club slammed his way into the Millar professional golf championship semi-finals yesterday by knocking off two of the younger competitors, medallist Bob Cunningham, Jr., and Bill Thompson, both assistants like himself.

Balding, pre-tournament favorite, sent Cunningham to the sidelines with a one-up victory in the morning matches and then put Thompson away by a similar margin in the afternoon. Cunningham, who gave up football for golf, is assistant to his father at Toronto St. George's. Thompson, assistant at Toronto York Downs, for years has been a rival of Balding's in competitions for assistant pros.

MEETS CHINERY

In the semi-final round today, Balding went up against Clair Chinery of Hamilton Chedoke. The other bracket pitted Bob Burns from Fort Erie Cherry Hill against Stan Horne of Montreal Islesmere. The final match was slated for the afternoon.

Defending champ Normie Himes of Kitchener Westmount was eliminated by Burns, two up.

Chinery defeated Gordon Brydson, Toronto Mississauga, one up—the same as he did last year only to be beaten by Himes in the final. Horne knocked out Jack Little of Toronto Oakdale.

One of the most unusual features of the quarter-finals was that all matches went to the 18th green.

Dodgers Drop 8-3 Game To Philadelphia Phillies

By RALPH RODEN, Associated Press Sport Writer

Manager Leo Durocher is searching the Polo Grounds for John McGraw's book on how to beat the brains out of the second-division teams. McGraw won many a pennant for the Giants by rolling up overwhelming margins against the lower-echelon teams of the National League. But Durocher's men are finding them tough customers.

The Giants of 1952 have looked like champs against the pace-setting Brooklyn Dodgers and third-place St. Louis Cardinals, taking 21 of 33 decisions from the two. Against the last four teams—Chicago, Boston, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh—the Giants have won only 38, losing 25.

Brooklyn, on the other hand, has won 53 and lost only nine games to the Cubs, Braves, Reds and Pirates. Against the rest of the league the Dodgers have captured 19 and lost 27.

BLOW FINE CHANCE

The Giants blew a fine opportunity yesterday to gain on the Dodgers by splitting a twi-night doubleheader with the sixth-place Braves while the dodgers dropped an 8-3 decision to Philadelphia Phillies. The Giants trail by 7½.

Larry Jansen had a 2-0 no-hitter after seven innings of the opener, but lost his stuff and bowed 4-3. Max Lanier pitched the Giants to a 3-1 triumph in the second game. The Cardinals trimmed Pittsburgh 5-4, in the only other game. Cincinnati and Chicago were idle.

In the American League, the second-place Cleveland Indians cut the front-running New York Yankees' advantage to two games. The Indians nosed out St. Louis Browns 7-6 in 12 innings, while the third-place Boston Red Sox nicked the Yanks 3-2. The Red Sox trail by 3½ games. In the remaining game, Philadelphia Athletics outlasted Washington 11-7. Chicago and Detroit were not scheduled.

Robin Roberts hung up his 19th victory for the Phils in beating the Dodgers. Home runs by Ed Waitkus, Connie Ryan and Del Ennis featured the Phils' assault.

Enos Slaughter and Al Brazle teamed up to give the Cards the nod over the Pirates. Brazle held the Pirates hitless over the final three innings and Slaughter singled home Red Schoendienst in the seventh with the winning run.

The Yanks out-hit the Red Sox 12-6, but stranded nine runners in bowing to Sid Hudson and two relief pitchers. Johnny Lipon's bases-loaded single in the seventh broke a 1-1 tie and won the game.

Harry Simpson tripled home Ray Boone with one out in the 12th to beat the Browns at Cleveland. The Browns enjoyed a 6-2 lead entering the fifth when Luke Easter poled a three-run homer.

Bobby Shantz, the major's biggest winner, suffered his hardest pounding of the season but posted his 21st win for the As. The Senators got 14 hits, including home runs by Jackie Jensen, Ken Wood and Ed Yost.

Electrics Win 10-4

Kesco Electrics with a sixth inning rally turned back B'nai B'rith Friday night 10-4 in a Civic League game. The electric nine opened the scoring in the first with a single but gave way to to the lodgers in the third 3-1. Kesco took a one-run lead in the fifth 4-3, then put the game on ice in the sixth with six runs. B'nai B'rith scored a single in the seventh.

Why We Need A New Bible?

New Revision Of Bible Biggest Project In History

By FRANCES DUNLAP HERON

NEW YORK (NEA)—The time is 1000 B.C. Out on the hills of Palestine shepherds gather around their campfire. As the stars shine down and God seems close, one of the shepherds begins a story while the others listen raptly. It is a story of Abraham and Moses and the greatness of God, told in the words the sheep herders know and love.

The centuries pass. It is A.D. 1526. A devout English family, at risk of severe punishment, hides within their home a copy of the forbidden Tyndale New Testament, produced on that amazing invention —the printing press—in English!

A.D. 1611. Persecution is over, and the English-speaking world hails the new King James version of the Bible, "appointed to be read in churches."

Thus the Word of God through the ages manifested itself to his people. Always the one who preserved God's message wrote in whatever language his people would understand—Hebrew, Aramaic, Greek, English. From language to language, the word has spread until today it appears in more than 1000 tongues.

* * *

AVAILABLE SEPT. 30

And now it is A.D. 1952 — the newest milestone in man's longing to comprehend the word for his own day. On Sept. 30, the recently-completed "Revised Standard Version of the Holy Bible" will become available in the U.S., and Canada—the result of long years of devoted labor by 32 Bible scholars.

The Standard Bible Committee, headed by Dean-emeritus Luther A. Weigle of Yale Divinity School, was appointed in 1930 by the International Council of Religious Education, now part of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. On behalf of 40 Protestant denominations, it was authorized to produce a translation designed for public and private worship, making use of the best available Biblical research, manuscript discoveries and archeological findings.

The first part of the task—the New Testament—appeared in 1946. Now the completed Bible is ready for issuance to coincide with Christian Education Week, Sept. 28 to Oct. 5. Simultaneous observances in 3000 communities on Sept. 30 will mark the biggest project in book publishing history — a first printing of almost one million volumes.

From the scholars' standpoint, however, the most significant record the "Revised Standard Version" can achieve is that of becoming the people's Bible, as the King James version did in its day.

* * *

NOT A NEW IDEA

Why was a revision needed? What changes have been made? How did the committee arrive at decisions on translation?

Bringing out a revision of the Bible is not a new idea. Two versions authorized by the Church of England preceded the King James —all within 72 years. But within the following 341 years, only two authorized revisions of the English Bible have been made. The first was in 1885, followed by our American variant in 1901; the second is the "Revised Standard Version of 1952."

Both versions are revisions of the King James. Why did it need to be revised?

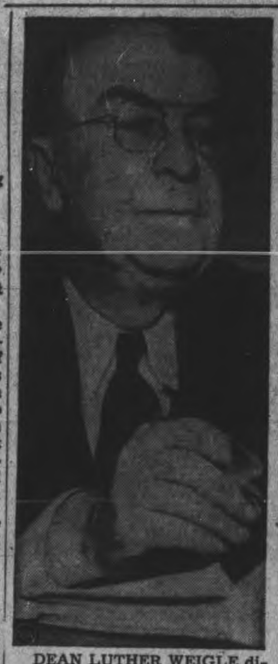
First, the King James translators had only a dozen or so late medieval manuscripts of the New Testament. Today's scholars can count more than 5000 mistakes in the Greek text: the King James group had no aids for understanding the Hebrew text of the Old Testament such as Biblical scholarship now possesses.

Second, the translators of 1611 and even of the 1870's did not have the present-day contributions of archeology to help them understand the vocabulary, idioms and grammar of New Testament Greek.

Third, many English words have changed meaning since the days of the Elizabethan language in which the King James version is preserved.

* * *

TO TAKE A FEW EXAMPLES



"Conservation" in 1611 meant "behavior." What was "comprehend" is now "overcome," and "mansion" is "abiding place." The word "suffer" is now translated "let," thus easing the minds of people like the woman who wondered why Jesus wished small boys and girls to suffer in the verse, "Suffer the little children. . . ."

The members of the Standard Bible Committee saw their task as three-fold:

1. To recover the Bible at points where the Hebrew and Greek text, followed by the King James, is now misleading because of the changed meaning of English words.

2. To preserve the basic structure of the Tyndale Version and the simplicity, dignity, directness, beauty and power of King James.

3. To seek now (according to Dean Weigle) to replace the King James Version with a version as accurate as conscientious scholarship can produce in the light of what is known today. Each substitution of words called for a two-thirds vote of the committee.

DEAN LUTHER WEIGLE directed the work of 32 Bible scholars.

Changes that will meet the eye at once are the return to the "Lord" of the King James version, replacing "Jehovah" of the American Standard. The Psalms, much of the prophets, and many other portions of the Old Testament are printed in their original poetic form, instead of being set off as numerical verses.

And as two million readers of the New Testament revision already know, "eth" and "est" endings have been dropped. "Thou" and "thy" remain only when addressing God in prayer.

Next Saturday—Returning to the "old recipe."

Lack Of Self Discipline Cause Of Many Failures

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

The story of King Saul, first King of Israel, is not just the tragedy of an ancient king.

It is a story that has been re-enacted again and again in the history of both kings and commoners, and the cause has been their lack of self-discipline.

The evidence in Saul's case, especially in his actions toward David, would seem to suggest that Saul had gone mad; but if so, it would also seem that that madness developed out of a jealousy that Saul could have controlled, if he had exercised determined self-discipline.

The Bible has its rich account of wise and great women, but if one wanted an example of foolish and thoughtless women, it might surely be in those women, who hailed young David from his giant-killing, with their silly song, "Saul hath slain his thousands, And David his ten thousand."

Praise of David was worthy, but why should it have been necessary to humiliate a King and warrior, who had been chosen to be a military leader of his people? The song struck in his humiliation at Saul's weakness, and aroused that jealousy that became his undoing.

The average man might well have reacted similarly in such a situation. But how differently a great-souled, magnanimous man, like Abraham Lincoln, would have reacted!

With the greatness of Lincoln now universally acknowledged, we are apt to forget the savageness of the attacks of his enemies in presidential days, and the humiliating condescension, sometimes amounting almost to scorn, with which some of his associates regarded him.

But Lincoln pursued his course with unweakened calm.

He refused to be humiliated. No trace of smallness or jealousy marred his character and career.

If Lincoln had been in Saul's place, he would have joined in the acclaim of the young David, and have gone about his kingly tasks and duties as if nothing had happened.

Saul, himself, in fact had shown greater strength and wisdom, when, at the outset of his kingship, opposed by "men of Belial," he had held his peace.

So, the story of Saul presents a great warning, just as the story of Lincoln presents a positive example of guidance in avoiding the pitfall of jealousy.

There are circumstances in life under which we cannot help "feeling sore," and often our resentment may have very just cause. Not only do we often fail to get our proper deserts, but we are fortunate if we are not the object of unfair, humiliating criticism, and disparagement.

Springville

Representatives of Fairmount and Springville Sunday schools met in the basement of Springville church and made arrangements for the two Sunday schools to hold a joint picnic at Orono on August 19. M. H. Johnston was chairman of the meeting.

Miss Eleanore Bowles has returned after taking a five-week summer school course at University of Toronto.

Nancy Johnston, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Johnston, has returned after spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Offer in Toronto. Mrs. Offer was formerly Gertrude Hicks of Springville.

The Mission Band of Springville church held their August meeting at Riverside Park and had a picnic lunch at the zoo at the waterworks in Peterborough. Twelve children were present and enjoyed games under the supervision of Miss Christine Swanston, Mrs. Manson Cathcart and Mrs. Ken Hall.

Reds Fail To Make Tibetans Understand Who's Boss Now

By SELIG S. HARRISON

HARSIL, Indo-Tibetan Border (AP)—Red China can't seem to make the Tibetans understand who's boss now in the Himalayan "roof of the world."

Traders report Peiping officials sent to consolidate Communist power in western Tibet are running into serious trouble.

Number one case is the late June departure of West Tibet's head administrator or Garphone, Lara Lampa, for consultations with the Dalai Lama after a flare-up with Chinese authorities.

Lara Lampa turned down Chinese demands for conscript manpower and free supplies needed to build a 640-mile road connecting the Tibetan capital of Lhasa in the east with Gartok, chief West Tibetan center.

AN OLD CUSTOM

Tibetan custom switches control of West Tibet to a new Garphone each four years. Lara Lampa has served since 1948. Garphones maintain magistrates who collect taxes in the form of barter goods and hold virtually complete legal power in their domains.

The Chinese have enraged Garphone Lara Lampa by advising pheasants not to pay taxes or work without payment—meanwhile insisting that the Garphone furnish free road construction crews.

Quick completion of the Lhasa-Gartok road is an essential part of China's program in Tibet. The influx of more than 5,000 Chinese soldiers into sparsely-populated West Tibet with its chronic food shortage has put the area under severe strain.

Although the transport crisis worries the Chinese most, language troubles rank second. Intricate Tibetan dialects so far have defied Chinese officials seeking to learn the tongue.

Escape Reformatory

BRAMPTON (CP)—Buddy F. Hare, 20, and Robert Gagne, 19, escaped last night from Brampton reformatory. Both youths were in prison uniorm.

PIONEER VOLUME

The first small history of Canada for use in schools was published by Mrs. Jennet Roy in Montreal in 1947.

MOLD MENACE — Pictured are hundreds of valuable books from the Parliamentary library, water-damaged during a fire at the library earlier this month. Boy Scouts and other volunteers helped place the books on the floor of a hall in the Parliament Buildings to dry. Mold and mildew now is the big menace.

VOL. CV. No. 39 SATURDAY, AUGUST 16, 1952

MAIN STREET TOPICS

MENZIES PROMOTED

Dave Menzies, Sr., a C.G.E. employee since 1920, has been named superintendent of maintenance. He has been foreman of the machine repair department.

$6,680 PAID OUT

Suggestions by C.G.E. employees have earned them $6,680 up to July 15 this year. Best-paying suggestion earned $647 for one man, Ray Clifford; it was one of the 479 adopted ideas.

WINS PROMOTION

Jim McGovarin, until recently mechanical supervisor at the C.G.E., has been named superintendent of the tool and die unit at the plant here. He has been a C.G.E. employee for 16 years.

MOTORCYCLE FIRE

A motorcycle owned by D. E. Whitehead caught fire Friday night in front of 173 Charlotte St. The vehicle backfired and this ignited the gasoline in the carburetor. A soda and acid extinguisher was used to snuff out the fire.

HOUSING PROJECT

Cost of the 82 housing units to be built by Miller Construction Co. will be $750,000, not $250,000 as previously reported. Excavation has already started on Clonsilla Ave. for the construction of eight four-unit apartment houses. And next spring the company has plans for building 50 brick bungalows.

TO MANAGE PLANT

Russell Kitchen, remembered by many for being one of Peterborough's great baseball pitchers just prior to the Second World War, has returned from Scotland where he has been for several years with the Western Clock factory. He is going to Goshen, Indiana, where he will be manager of the company's new plant.

Ex-Consul Mares Praises Peterborough

MONTREAL (CP).—Dr. Jiri Mares, resigned Czechoslovakian consul-general in Montreal who has been granted political haven by Canada, feels "a heavy burden has been lifted from my mind and I am at last free."

The 43-year-old lawyer diplomat said in an interview he does not fear reprisals.

"I have always dealt with my government honestly and the disagreements we had were fully known and understood by both sides."

Dr. Mares is enthusiastic about his Canadian future and that of his wife and three daughters.

"When I was in Peterborough, earlier this week I realized what fine people Canadians are, and subsequently events have buoyed my enthusiasm."

He said a prominent Canadian offered his oldest daughter, 16-year-old Helen, a scholarship to continue her studies. He hopes his own future will be devoted principally to writing.

Loaded

While a Belleville couple slept undisturbed Thursday night, a housebreaker entered their home, ransacked the downstairs, stole a piece of meat from the refrigerator, a wallet and change purse containing a $104.36 signed cheque, three bottles of beer and a part bottle of whiskey. Apparently loaded with loot, the stealthy intruder downed the half bottle of liquor and left the bottle on the verandah.

Youngster, 2, Runs Into Side Of Car

Billy Dobbin, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Dobbin, 628 Gilmour St., was injured slightly Friday afternoon when he ran from the west curb of Park St., into the side of a passing car driven by an American tourist.

The accident occurred on Park St., near provincial police headquarters on Charlotte St., and O.P.P. Constable Russell Pollard reported that the car travelling south, driven by David E. Bartholomy, of Youngstown, Ohio, stopped in half the length of itself.

The boy was only knocked down and escaped with minor scratches and bruises.

Mrs. Dobbin said she had just parked her car at the west curb of Park St., and the small boy apparently opened the right hand door and ran around the front of the car into the street.

Constable W. A. Scott investigated.

Company, Union Deadlocked By Wage Clause

Management and the union at the Western Clock Co. are deadlocked in negotiations over a wage-opener clause in the collective bargaining agreement.

Local 570, International Union of Electrical Radio and Machine Workers (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) represents some 550 production workers at Westclox.

Taking advantage of a wage-opener clause in its one-year contract the union asked for a wage increase of 10-12 cents an hour for the workers. The negotiating committee also wants 12 particular job classifications raised to a higher classification; and five labor rates raised two cents an hour to eliminate "inequities".

The union is asking 10 cents an hour for 60 per cent of the workers, most of them piece-workers. And 12 cents for the other 40 per cent, most of them hourly-rated and skilled workers.

PERMITS NEGOTIATIONS

The contract clause permits negotiations on wages and "inequities" only at this point in the life of the agreement. It expires Dec. 1. Negotiations between the two parties have been going on since June. 25 with time out for holidays. But as yet no agreement has been reached. Next meeting is August 21.

Tuesday night Local 570 is holding a membership meeting at the labor hall, 408½ George St., to decide on their next step.

Members of the negotiating committee are: President Ken Nisbett, Bea McMahon, Jack Benstead, Jack Ainslie and Jerry Dolan. They are being assisted by Joe Wirtz, co-ordinator of Canadian I.U.E.-C.I.O., and Minor Shaw, I.U.E. area representative.

Council To Tour Property Owned By City

Mayor Waddell is planning as a recommendation to council a thorough tour of the municipal properties. It may take most of an afternoon, His Worship said Friday, if the council approves the proposal.

He has asked Armar Butcher of the parks department to lay out an itinerary which will include parks, playgrounds, the sewage disposal plant, the incinerator, board of works yard and the works office on Townsend St.; any streets that may present problem details; probably the south-east area across the river; the industrial district including the area on the west side of Erskine Ave.

The proposed route has not yet been prepared, but these points of call indicate the extent of this inspection trip.

An estimate of the cost of heating the building on Townsend St. that was erected for housing the horses of the street cleaning department, prior to the substitution of motor trucks, is one of the recent recommendations. Use of the building in winter is contemplated.

GREASE PIT

Council this week authorized Ald. Rehill and Ald. Longhurst, chairmen respectively of the sanitation and property committees, to have a grease pit built at Townsend St. and make necessary alterations for changing the parks and sanitation offices. They are to be brought into front section of the brick barn adjacent to the new location of the public weigh scales.

Council has approved the following recommendation from the Board of Works: "That having received the report of City Engineer Chalmers under the Local Improvement Act for the installation of a nine-inch sanitary sewer on Erskine Ave., to serve the easterly side of the street only, from the existing sewer at Cameron St., southerly 423 feet, City Solicitor Huycke be authorized to prepare the necessary construction bylaw."

Purpose of that sewer is to connect with Grove Public School as requested by the Board of Education.

Kearney House Landmark Cleared Out At Auction

"Who'll give me a dollar-fifty? Going at a dollar, at a dollaratadollaratadollar . . . sold to the lady for a dollar!" J. H. Miles thumped his cane baton down on a fern stand and clerk George Benton threaded through the crowd to collect the dollar, and mark it in his book.

"And here we have . . ." Mr. Miles' voice went on as he knocked down another item. The sale was Friday afternoon at the old Kearney House in Young's Point, sold recently to be turned into a tourist home.

Former owner of the one-time hotel is Miss Lottie Kearney, now living in Montreal. Miss Kearney is a daughter of the original owner, and had kept the house in spic and span shape. In ill health of recent years, she was obliged to sell the house and move to Montreal to live with relatives.

The two-storey red brick building is a landmark on Highway 28. It stands just south of the first bridge at Young's Point, on the east side of the road, still trim after its many years of life.

MUCH SOLD

Most of the best pieces of furniture were either sold before the auction Friday or were taken to Montreal with Miss Kearney.

In the shed behind the house was an elderly phaeton, made by McLaughlin's in Oshawa. The leather upholstery is still in fairly good shape, but the gold fringe on top has suffered through the years.

In one window of the house was a five-foot birch bark canoe which finally sold for a dollar a foot. The canoe, declared Mr. Miles, had been in the window since before he was a small boy. That was a number of years ago; he forgot how many.

But the usual sales patter of the auctioneer went on.

"Come on and bid now. Nobody's your friend at an auction. You can bid against your mother if you want. Remember, she loves you.

"All right, here's a little gem of a jewel box, older than any of us here. Here's a button hook and a little scraper for cleaning your toenails and your fingermails, and everything that goes with it.

"Who'll give me a dollar for this jewel box? Just put your hand up if you're too shy to talk. Thank you sister. A dollar it is. Now, who'll say a dollar-fifty? That lady over there looks like she might want this.

"Got a dollar, now who'll give me a dollar fifty? Thank you, ma'am. Now I've got a dollar fifty, who'll give me two? Two? Anybody give me two? There's a two dollar bid!"

The jewel box finally sold for $2.

OLDER PREDECESSOR

Although the brick house known as the Kearney House has only been standing for about 50 years, it has a more illustrious ancestor on the north side of the river.

The Kearney family ran two hotels at once in Young's Point, after the brick one was built. The older, a frame building on a road west of the highway, was frequented by lumbermen in the river-driving days.

Captain Pat Young, one of the elder residents of the Point, says the lumbermen went there because the old building had a license, and "they like to have a bit of refreshment".

Before Miss Lottie Kearney came to own the red brick hotel, her brother, Harry, had owned it. He died about 20 years ago, and since then the Kearney House has not been lived in steadily. The older Kearney hotel has since gone from the family's hands, and is operated as a tourist resort by two Peterborough men.

Moore Conclave Reinstituted

Moore Conclave of the Masonic and Military Order of Knights of the Red Cross of Constantine, K. H.S. and St. John the Evangelist which was instituted in Peterborough in August 1870 has again become active and promises to play a prominent part in masonry in Peterborough.

Moore Conclave was instituted in Peterborough at the time when capitular masonry was first being introduced in this district. C. D. Macdonald, K.C.T. who was city clerk was prominent in bringing this branch of masonry to Peterborough and was the first Most Puisant Sovereign.

The membership of each conclave is limited to 33 and the officers of the conclave are: Most Puisant Sovereign, Fred G. Mann; Viceroy Eusebius; Dr. W. C. Blackwell, Lindsay; Senior General, John Dishart; acting Recorder, Leonard H. Bearne. All four officers are attending the Grand Imperial Conclave of Canada being held this weekend in London.

Dr. Austin Evans of Toronto is the Grand Sovereign Master and John William Caison of London the deputy.

Cavan Students Given Option Of Two Schools

Not more than two or three students in Cavan township are expected to attend Millbrook High School in September instead of P.C.V.S. as the result of an agreement between Peterborough Suburban High School Area and the Durham County School Area.

John Kitney, secretary of the Peterborough suburban area board, said Friday he did not expect the agreement would result in many students switching from P.C.V.S. to Millbrook.

"I can't see why any of them would want to go to Millbrook," said Mr. Kitney. "It's a bit shorter run to Millbrook, but they won't have the educational opportunities there are in Peterborough."

HAVE ATTENDED P.C.V.S.

This is the first year the arrangement has been in force. High school students from north Cavan have been included in the Peterborough Suburban High School Area and attended P.C.V.S.

The agreement was reached between the two school boards as a result of agitation from several ratepayers in the northern part of the township who were of the opinion the students could be transported more cheaply to Millbrook High School. It is understood that parents of students attending P.C.V.S. were quite satisfied with the existing arrangement and that most of the agitation came from ratepayers who do not have children attending collegiate.

In any case, any transfers will be entirely voluntary as the new arrangement was not intended to force any students now attending P.C.V.S. to switch to Millbrook.

For any who do decide to change, the Durham High School Area board has agreed to make the necessary arrangements for transportation and tuition.

Parents of any students wishing to change are urged to contact Dr. M. E. Hobbs of Millbrook, chairman of the transportation committee of Durham High School Area.

Obeyed Buoy Large Cruiser Hits Shoal

Marker Left Behind After Regatta Propellers Damaged

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS)—An official complaint to Trent Canal authorities will probably be lodged soon by an unidentified U.S. yachtman whose 20-ton cruiser ran aground in the Trent River Thursday.

When he tried to round a buoy left in the channel by Trent River officials, the yachtman ran aground on a hidden shoal, damaging both propellors on his craft.

The buoy, left in the channel since a week ago today when motor boat races were run off at the regatta, had been rounded successfully earlier in the week by about two dozen smaller craft.

Regatta officials said they were sure the buoys had all been removed from the racing course, but the one which caused the trouble was said definitely not to be one set out by the Trent system.

The yacht is the Hekla III of Ithaca, N.Y. Its owner, whose name is not known even by Trent officials, managed to drive his craft to Trenton, where repairs were made.

Almost all of Friday was spent at Trenton replacing the damaged propellors. A crane was used to hoist the stern of the yacht clear of the water.

Two other, smaller craft which followed the Hekla III, went around the buoy without touching the shoal.

Andrew Clark of Campbellford, district superintendent of the Trent Canal system, said today he had received no complaint from the yachtsman. Mr. Clark was notified of the accident by Ed White, lockmaster at Healey Falls.

Mr. Clark went to Trent River and spoke with regatta officials, then went out in a boat and removed the buoy.

Oshawa Asks Return Of Parking Bylaw

Oshawa city council has to recall from the Ontario Municipal Board a bylaw compelling new commercial enterprises to provide parking space for customers.

The Times-Gazette reports: "Only approved in July, the new bylaw ran straight into trouble. Dave Kalinsky had made no provision for a customer parking lot at a furniture store he intends to erect beside the Plaza theatre; and the planners of the new Metropolitan Store, also to go up on King St. east, had planned to build on the entire area of their lot.

"After giving Mr. Kalinsky and the Metropolitan Stores permission to go ahead with their plans, council last night agreed to ask the Ontario Municipal Board to return the bylaw which the council had submitted. It is to be brought back for further consideration."

Oshawa council also awarded a $72,996 paving contract to W. B. Bennett without having secured the necessary approval of the Municipal Board. The job will be held up for probably three weeks until the endorsation of the Board is received.

HOUSE 61-93. — Ranch-style homes have captured the fancy of a very large percentage of Canadian families. While for the same cubic content a ranch-style house must have twice the foundation and roof area of a two-storey home, its plus features are many . . . and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Reid have justifiable reason to be proud of their home shown here. Facing south, a long 15' living room window looks out over a well-proportioned outside flower box. Eaves overhang 2'. All rooms are wall-to-wall carpeted over plywood. Basement recreation room is finished in knotty pine with cut stone fireplace. Contains about 28,000 cubic feet.

Check Hardware With Contractor

An allowance for hardware is usually established by the contractor when he builds a house. You, as a home owner, should make a list of the items you desire. Check this with your builder to ensure a mutual understanding of what he will supply in the stated hardware allowance.

Although the hardware must serve its functional purpose, it should also conform to the architectural character of the home. The color, as well as the design, of each fitting should harmonize with the decoration of each room. All hardware for doors, windows and cabinets within one room should be related in design and finish.

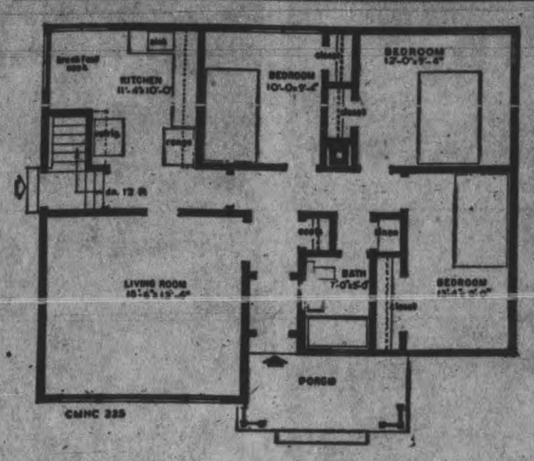
The operating parts of hardware are usually of iron or steel, although in some locksets bronze or brass is used. Materials other than metal, such as wood, glass or plastics are often satisfactory for knobs, push plates and cabinet pulls.

To protect the finish, hardware is sometimes covered with a colorless lacquer by the manufacturer. Periodic relacquering can prevent hardware from taking on a spotty tarnished appearance. Hardware can also be purchased unlacquered, in which case it should be kept polished or painted.

As salt air often tarnishes brass, exterior hardware exposed to it should be made of solid bronze or chromium plated bronze. Coal smoke and certain industrial fumes corrode copper and bronze on exterior surfaces and often stain light paints. Solid brass is best under these conditions. All hardware should be of the type that experience has shown to be the most suitable for your area.

Ontario Standard Best

TORONTO (CP) — Chairman Robert H. Saunders of the Ontario Hydro Commission said yesterday domestic consumption of electric power indicated Ontario now enjoyed the highest standard of living in the world. He said Ontario's consumption averaged 3,960 kilowatt hours per capita compared with 1,670 per capita in New Yor State.



Tries Suicide

WICHITA, Kas. (CP)—Police yesterday reported they had in custody a man who twice tried to drown himself by sticking his head in a toilet bowl. Police said William D. Davis, 28, made the suicide attempts in jail.

Wage Boost

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Continental Can Co. and the United Steelworkers (C.I.O.) yesterday announced signing of a new contract which provides a 12½-cent-an-hour wage increase retroactive to April 16, 1952, for 14,000 maintenance and production workers in Canada and the U.S.

DESIGN 225.—The "corner window" has been used to advantage by architect M. G. Dixon, of Ottawa, in this new three-bedroom bungalow. The kitchen and two of the bedrooms derive extra light and fresh air through this particular arrangement while the living room has a large area window with a fixed centre sash flanked by double-hung sash. The front entrance is well protected by a spacious porch, which also provides sitting out space. A breakfast nook in the kitchen, a handy trades entrance and basement stair arrangement, and good separation of the living and sleeping areas are other features. The exterior dimensions of the house are 36' 4" by 28' 0" and the area is 942 square feet. The cubic measure is 18,855 cubic feet. Working drawings may be obtained from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at a minimum cost.

Most Complete TV Coverage

CARDIFF, Wales (Reuters)—Britain's national television coverage became the most complete in the world last night with the opening of a powerful new transmitting station near here.

Now four-fifths of the country's 50,000,000 people can see video, provided they have sets, beamed to them by the state-controlled BBC.

That's an even bigger percentage than in the United States, where commercial networks serve less than half the population.

Although television has not yet been officially inaugurated in Canada, many Canadian viewers near the border pick up U.S. programs on their sets.

The new station which opened last night at nearby Wenvoe brought television to 4,500,000 Britons living in the mountainous coal-mining valleys of South Wales and the rolling farmlands of western England.

Now BBC TV blankets most of England, Scotland and Wales.

Bury Explorer In Death Trap

LICQ-ATHERY, France (Reuters)—Marcel Loubens last night was buried 1,660 feet underground at the bottom of the world's deepest abyss—near the spot where he was fatally injured.

The four men who were with the 35-year-old French cave explorer when he died Thursday night after a 130-foot fall covered his body with stones after deciding it was impossible to raise it to the surface.

Just before they buried him, they heard Loubens' elderly father pleading with them by telephone from the surface to bring his boy's broken body up "at all costs."

Loubens was a member of a 13-man expedition exploring gloomy Pierre St. Martin cavern—the world's deepest subterranean cave—in the French Pyranees south of here near the Spanish border.

Quebec Butchers Go On Strike

QUEBEC (CP)—Butchers went on strike in two Quebec major retail stores today to enforce wage demands.

Forty butchers failed to report for work at the Carrier and Goulet store and 70 struck at A. Lafleur, Ltd. All are members of the Catholic Syndicate of Clerks and Butchers (C. C. C. L.).

Picket lines were set up at both establishments.

The butchers, paid an average of $35 and $40 weekly, struck when the company refused to accept a unanimous arbitration board decision granting them increases of $3 to $5 a week. Contracts expired 10 months ago.

Discover TV Men Good Union Members

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Congress of Labor said yesterday CBC television employees who had to cancel a test run in Toronto Thursday night because they were thought to be non-union men, are actually union members in good standing.

Donald MacDonald, secretary-treasurer of the C.C.L. said the television employees as well as the majority of the CBC's broadcasting engineers and technicians are members of the National Association of Broadcast Engineers and Technicians (C.I.O.).

Neighborhood For Home Makes Success Or Failure

The neighborhood in which you build or buy a home may well make your financial investment and your living enjoyment a success or a failure. Just as the lot is the setting for the house, the neighborhood is the setting for the property as a whole. Here are some factors that should be carefully considered before you sign on the dotted line.

Well-kept lawns, clean sidewalks, neat gardens, well-maintained houses—these suggest that the residents take pride in their homes and are protecting their investments.

Look at the neighborhood and also the larger community of which it is a part, for a neighborhood still can be undermined in spite of the best efforts of its residents. You want to look to see whether industrial and commercial development is creeping too rapidly toward your neighborhood. Try to visit the area on a weekday to see whether smoke or unpleasant odors drift over it from plants which may be even some distance away. In short, look beyond the next block or two; take a walk around the whole area for several blocks in each direction. Note the character of the residential development over this wider area.

If you are considering the purchase of an existing house, it should be one that is in general harmony with others in the vicinity. Don't buy something because it is "different" in any conspicuous sense. This does not mean your house should be just like all the others in the neighborhood. Monotonous repetition of identical houses is to be avoided. Some architectural variety and a reasonable range of property prices can increase the attractiveness and also the stability of property values in a neighborhood.

If you are looking at a new area, see whether development seems to be proceeding in orderly fashion—not one house going up here and another over in a corner of the subdivision, with wide, weed-grown spaces between—and whether building is active enough to assure completion of the development within a reasonable time. Otherwise property values may not be firm and your investment may be endangered.

CONVENIENCE AND ACCESSIBILITY—All the pleasures of a new house in a new location are not worth the price if you have to spend too much time, money, or effort to get to them.

Consider especially the location of the lot or the property with reference to the place of employment of the wage-earning members of the family. You will want to figure out—(1) Travel time from home to work and return; (2) what the monthly transportation expense will be, for that, too, is part of the total cost; (3) whether the schedules and services of the public transportation are satisfactory and whether the streetcar or bus stops near enough to your house.

Even if you have an automobile you cannot ignore the public transportation facilities. Your friends may need them, if you don't; and then there is the morning when the car won't start.

Equally important is convenient access to stores, schools, churches, amusements, and recreational facilities—and their quality and general adequacy should be weighed, too. Check the following: (1) Are neighborhood shopping facilities within easy access preferably within walking distance or at least by inexpensive transportation? (2) Are parking facilities adequate when you must make extra large or heavy purchases? You should give some thought also to accessibility of main shopping centres for more occasional buying. (3) Are the nearby schools of the right kind to fit your needs and property located so that the children do not have to cross heavily travelled streets? (4) Are playgrounds connected with the schools or otherwise conveniently located. (5) Are churches within easy access?

WELDER KILLED — The wrecked body of this trailer truck indicates the force of an explosion which killed a 48-year-old man, who was welding a part of the vehicle. The blast was heard over a wide section of Montreal's north end.

Montana Golfer Edges Out Marlene

By JIM PEACOCK

EDMONTON (CP)—Two young blondes—one Canadian and the other American—set out today over 36 gruelling holes at the Edmonton Mayfair to come up with a brand new Canadian women's open golf champion.

Mary Gay of Kitchener, Ont., and Edean Anderson of Helena, Mont., pulled a pair of upsets yesterday in the semi-finals to eliminate both the 1951 champion and runner-up.

Miss Anderson, 22-year-old Montana titleholder, hung on grimly to win one up over defending champion Marlene Stewart of Fonthill, Ont. Miss Gay, 20-year-old Ontario champion, went five extra holes to defeat Grace Lenczyk of Hartford, Conn.

4,000 IN GALLERY

Cloudy skies at the start didn't discourage the gallery, and some 4,000 watched the matches finish up in bright sunshine.

Steel-nerved Miss Stewart never said die. Three times she doffed her glasses and prepared to congratulate the winner, only to come back.

Miss Anderson fired sub-par golf throughout, carding a four-under-par 76 for 18-holes. She was never behind, winning the first and third holes, and went three up at the 14th.

The 15th was halved and it looked like the end at the 16th when the Montana girl was in for a birdie four. But Miss Stewart rocked the gallery, dropping a 40-foot chip shot to take an eagle three and stay alive.

MISSED PUTTS

Twice Miss Anderson's putting prolonged the match. On the 15th a three-footer rimmed the cup and stayed out and a two-footer at the 17th just hung to the edge. Miss Stewart won that one in par three.

Both were close to the pin in four on the 18th and the putts were conceded, leaving Miss Anderson one up.

Miss Gay had to come from behind to defeat Miss Lenczyk, runner-up last year. The 24-year-old Connecticut girl was two up twice on the front nine but fell behind at the short 13th. It was evened at the 15th when Miss Gay was trapped twice and the next seven holes were halved in pars. On the 21st, a 20-foot chip shot dropped for Miss Gay to save her from defeat.

Third shots on the 485-yard 23rd hole made the difference. The young Ontario player dropped her chip six feet from the pin and sank her putt. Miss Lenczyk was 30 feet off the cup and missed by a foot with a putt.

The marathon match was too much for one spectator. She fainted at the 22nd.

Babe Ruth, one of baseball's immortals, died in a New York cancer hospital four years ago tonight at the age of 53. In 22 years as a major leaguer, ending in the 1935 season, Ruth hit a total of 714 home runs and his season's mark of 60 homers in 1927 still stands.

Settle Protests At Lakeshore Ball Meeting

PORT HOPE.—Problems which have beset the Lakeshore Baseball League of late were ironed out to the satisfaction of the seven clubs at a special meeting held here Thursday night.

Two protests were filed with the meeting, one by Port Hope and the other by Lindsay. Port Hope protested the playing of the "B" section finals under the lights at Colborne and also questioned the eligibility of a Colborne player, Dave Hill, who resides in Cobourg, but who did not first get a waiver from Port Hope, the closer town, before signing with Colborne.

The light problem was settled when the Port Hope representative, Harold Tozer, offered to play two games of the best-of-seven series under the arcs with the remainder in daylight. Colborne stated that without the services of Hill they would be unable to field a team, so Port Hope agreed to release him.

Lindsay's protest was over Bowmanville's use of an Oshawa player, Jim McTavish, who, while signing with Bowmanville early in the year, has spent all summer in the U.S. His first appearance in a Bowmanville uniform was in the first game of the "A" series semi-finals in a pinch-hitting role. The Lindsay manager, Andy Widdis, interpreted the O.B.A. rule regarding players entering provincial playdowns having to play at least three league games, to mean scheduled games. McTavish had participated in none. However, the meeting ruled that league playoff games are considered the same as scheduled games by the O.B.A. and consequently threw out the protest.

GAME NETS $62

It was revealed that the league's first All-Star game, which was played recently, netted the players' benefit fund $62.80.

Lindsay had a second complaint with which they gained no more headway than with the first protest. They maintained that a tied game with Port Hope should have been replayed since a win would have given them a tie with Cobourg for third place.

League President Roy Dodge pointed out that a league rule states that tie games must be played off as soon after they occur as possible. Since this tie occurred on June 4, he felt that Lindsay should have to pay the penalty for their laxness in allowing it to go unplayed.

Protest Casinos

FULDA, Germany (AP)—Germany's Roman Catholic bishops yesterday warned state authorities against further licensing of gambling casinos "because the financial proceeds do not make up for the danger they constitute to morals."

Here and There In Sport

BROOKLYN (AP)—Leo Durocher received a bill for $20 yesterday from the rival Brooklyn Dodgers—for generosity.

The Dodgers said it's okay for Leo to be generous, but not with their property.

So they want him to pay $5 each for four Brooklyn baseballs which the impish New York Giant manager tossed to fans Thursday at Ebbets Field.

Leo says he won't do it.

The rhubarb began last week at the Polo Grounds when Billy Cox, Brooklyn third baseman, became piqued and tossed two foul balls into the stands.

The explosive Giant skipper said for every ball Cox threw away, he would throw two, when he got to Ebbets field. Thursday Durocher threw four balls into the stands here.

CAVARRETTA RE-HIRED

CHICAGO (AP)—Phil Cavaretta, the Chicago Cub "man who came to dinner" yesterday was re-hired as manager of the fifth-place Bruins for 1953.

The 36-year-old Cavarretta, a slick first sacker who has spent all his 19 major league seasons with the Cubs, was drafted in mid-July, 1951, merely as a stop-gap pilot to succeed the fired Frankie Frisch.

Cavarretta displayed quality leadership to round out the 1951 season in capable fashion, although the Cubs finished last. This season Cubs were the surprise of the spring training campaign and it wasn't until the third eastern trip this year that they fell out of the first division in the National League.

TELEGRAM HALTS GAME

PHILADELPHIA (CP)—A telegram took a pitcher out of a baseball game last night.

Don Johnson was pitching in relief for Washington Senators in the fifth inning against Philadelphia Athletics when the telegram arrived.

It was from President Will Harridge of the American League and it said Johnson was formally suspended for 10 days for having shoved umpire Joe Paparella in a game at New York Wednesday.

The umpire removed Johnson from the game.

The timing wasn't unfortunate from Johnson's standpoint. The Athletics, who won the game 11-7, were in the process of blasting out six runs in the fifth inning when Johnson departed.

LOCKE WINS

LONDON (AP)—South Africa's Bobby Locke won the $4,200 Lotus Open golf tournament today and equalled the British tournament scoring record.

His 72-hole total was 266, made up of rounds of 63-67-70-66. The 63 was a record for the 6,018-yard west course at Moore Park and the final 66 was a record for the much tougher Moore Park high course which runs 6,602 yards.

Locke, playing in his first tournament since he won the British open championship last month, collected $980.

PRO RAMS WIN

CHICAGO (CP)—Los Angeles Rams, U.S. pro football champions, surged from behind for 10 points in the fourth quarter last night to defeat the College All-Stars in a rain-drenched game before 88,316 fans at Soldiers Field.

A three-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Norman Vanbrocklin to full back Tan Younger gave the pros their first points. Their other quarterback, Bob Waterfield, kicked the convert and then kicked a 24-yard field goal for the winning points in the annual exhibition feature.

Mrs. C. Renaud Captures Trios Tourney

All played three 14-end games. The games were all over around 6:30 p.m. and after the prizes had been distributed the ladies left for home pretty well sun-burned and very tired.

Marlowe Hurls Perfect Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRES

Dick Marlowe, a Buffalo Bisons' pitcher who had trouble keeping over the .500 mark this year, today took his place in the International League hall of fame as the first hurler since 1910 to hurl a perfect game in the loop.

He beat Baltimore Orioles last night 2-0 and in the process did not permit a batter to reach first base. The 23-year-old native of Hickory, N. C. thus joined Chester Carmichael, another Bison, as the only flingers in the 69-year history of the league to toss a perfect game.

Carmichael hurled his masterpiece against Jersey City Giants on Aug. 9, 1910.

So effective was Marlowe that only five balls were hit to the outfield. He fanned four and forced most of the batters either to pop up or hit weak taps to the infield.

Bob Davis hit a home run for the winners and that was enough to clinch the victory for Marlowe whose record for the year now stands at seven victories and seven defeats. The victory also enabled Buffalo to take over fifth place from Baltimore.

Lynn Lovenguth, who was dealt to Syracuse chiefs from the Bisons a couple of weeks ago, tossed a one-hitter as the Chiefs defeated Springfield Cubs 6-0.

He had a no-hitter going until Chris Kitsos singled in the eighth. He gave up five bases on balls. The Chiefs wrapped up the decision with five runs in the seventh.

First-place Montreal Royals defeated Rochester Red Wings 4-3 with Bob Alexander, second of three Royals pitchers getting the victory. Pete Riggins hit two home runs for the losers, driving in all their runs.

Billy De Mars hit a first-inning home run with one on and Toronto Maple Leafs coasted the rest of the way to hang up a 3-1 victory over Ottawa behind Hal Hudson's five-hit pitching.

29 Years With C.G.E. R. Richardson Retires

Rollie Richardson, of the C.G.E. tool room, retired this week after 29 years with the company. He started his continual service with the C.G.E. in 1923.

A native of Lakefield, Mr. Richardson entered industry as a toolmaker's apprentice in a St. Paul, Minn., firm. That was in 1900, and not until 1915 did he return to Canada, when he came to the C.G.E. tool room.

During the First World War he worked at the Lindsay Arsenal, and in 1923 returned to the C.G.E. tool room. Since then, he has been engaged in die making for nearly 30 years.

With retirement ahead of him, he looks forward to a good deal of hunting and fishing.

U.S. Wins Americas Cup Against Canada

SEATTLE (AP)—Golfdom's newest trophy, the Americas Cup, belonged today to the United States and it was a youngster known as "the boy" to his teammates who pointed the way to victory yesterday over Canada and Mexico.

The final score after two days of play was 12 points for the U. S., five for Mexico and 10 for a Canadian team that made a courageous but futile bid in Friday's singles matches.

Walt McElroy of Vancouver knocked over husky Frank Stranahan of Toledo 4 - 3; Jerry Kesselring of Kitchener whipped Harvie Ward in a match that went 38 holes, and Nick Weslock of Windsor bumped lean Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City 3 and 2.

TOO FEW UPSETS

These upsets were too few and too late after "the boy," 21-year-old Ken Venturi of San Francisco, had whipped two opponents to put the U. S. clouters on the victory trail. Although they split with Canada, the winners came within one match of making a clean sweep over Mexico in six contests.

That loss, too, was an upset. Sammy Urzetta of East Rochester, N. Y., who disposed of Canada's Pete Kelly 11 and 10, was defeated by Mexico's Percy Clifford, 2 and 1.

After playing in pairs Thursday the Americans had four points, Canada three and, Mexico two in the quest for the perpetual trophy donated by Jerome P. Bowes, Jr., of Chicago. Had Canada won just one more match from the U. S. Friday it would have tied for the cup.

THREAT IN AMATEUR

As it was, the Canadians knocked over three of the country's top-notch players and enlarged the question mark behind the U. S. amateur tournament which opens a week's run Monday on the same course. In Stranahan they beat a former British, Canadian and Mexican titlist; in Ward, the current British amateur king, and in Coe, the 1949 U. S. amateur champ.

Mexico picked up only two points in the singles Friday. Carlos Belmont edged team captain Phil Farley of Toronto 3 and 2, and Clifford trounced Kelly, who plays hockey when he isn't golfing, 10 and 8.

KESSELRING THE BOY

Kesselring was the boy with the clutch shots. He started the day with a seven—three over par—and then tossed three birdies at his two opponents. Twice during the match he had strings of four threes. He closed out Al Cumming on the 28th hole but Ward hung on stubbornly, evening the match on the 36th.

Ward and Kesselring took pars on the first extra hole, but three putts for Ward on the 38th lost him the match to Kesselring's par four.

Campbell bested Farley 6 and 5, shortly after he bumped Cumming 10 and 8. McElroy, the defending Canadian amateur king, matched par only on the final nine but was never down to either of his opponents.

British Women Can Buy Wider Range Of Foods

By MURIAL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—With "export only" displays strictly in the minority, British women took a lively interest in London's annual food fair.

A succulent array of up-to-date products showed it now is possible to contemplate preparation of a meal with pleasurable but modest anticipation. Prices are still a stumbling block.

One might sigh over such impossible purchases as luscious sides of well-smoked Wiltshire bacon, scheduled for export, but this was soon forgotten at sight of South African rock lobster resting on crisp salad, garnished with rich green frozen vegetables.

Frozen foods have won an important place in British family life—especially when they mean roast pork from Holland, stewed steak from Denmark, chickens of varying sizes, chicken slices, duck and frozen fish.

To long-suffering Britons, the appearance on store counters of a growing variety of non-rationed delicacies has been generally welcomed. But much of this food is still in the "luxury" class.

North America has long been ahead of Britain in the variety of pre-mix cake and pudding mixtures —but British housewives need grumble no longer. Visitors approved samples of such cake mixtures as the family-sized gingerbread to which only water was added prior to baking. This was just one of a wide variety.

POIGNANT SCENE IN POLIO WARD—Mother and child are side-by-side polio patients in the Cleveland, Ohio, City Hospital, but are separated by a huge glass partition. Through it, Mrs. Margaret Demeter, 27, watches with concern as her nine-month-old daughter Laura plays in her crib. Laura's illness, first diagnosed as "teething," was three weeks later found to be polio. The baby's right arm is paralyzed.

USE ONE-WAY STROKE

Toothbrushing should not become a hit-or-miss affair of brushing the teeth horizontally across or up-and-down. Both of these methods may actually prove harmful to the gums, as well as being useless in removing food particles. The teeth should be cleaned with a one-way stroke, by brushing the gums outward to the biting edge of the teeth.

Omemee Man Married In Hamilton Today

In Hamilton's Olivet United Church the wedding took place today of Irene Tkachuk and Russell George Weir, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Weir of Omemee. The Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt of Omemee performed the ceremony.

The bride is daughter of Mrs. Nettie Wintonyk of Yorkton, Sask. and the late William Tkachuk. She was given in marriage by her cousin Mr. William Woronuik. Her attendants were her sister Miss Olga Tkachuk as maid of honor, Miss Elizabeth Mozylisky and Miss Geraldine Woronuik, bridesmaids, and Jo-Anne MacDonald as flower girl.

Her gown was of white net and lace, over satin, the strapless bodice topped with a tightly fitted matching lace jacket buttoned at the front. A Juliet cap held her fingertip veil of illusion net and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis and orchids.

The attendants' frocks were of nylon net and lace over taffeta, the maid of honor wearing pale green and bridesmaids in mauve. The flower girl wore white net over yellow taffeta. Each had a headdress of matching net adorned with contrasting flowers and they carried bouquets of pink and yellow gladioli.

Mr. Garnet Pogue of Peterborough was the groomsman and ushers were Bert Weir, brother of the groom, and Keith Bradley.

Following a reception at Willowbank, Aldershot, the couple left on a trip to the eastern states. The bride was wearing a white linen dress with navy and white accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Weir will live at 110 Gibson Ave., Hamilton.

Lillian Wong Wed In Toronto To McMaster Grad

Of much interest to her friends in Peterborough and Lakefield is the wedding of Miss Lillian Wong, now of Toronto, which took place at seven o'clock Thursday evening in St. Michael and All Saints' Anglican Church, Toronto. She is the daughter of Mr. Kee Wong, of 736 Stormont St. Peterborough and the late Mrs. Wong.

The groom is Mr. James Toi Hing, a graduate of McMaster University and at present finishing the dentistry course at McGill. He is the son of Mrs. Hong Hing, of Hamilton, and the late Mr. Hing.

White blossoms and gladioli in harmonizing shades of orchid, fuchsia and violet decorated the church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. Reginald Howden and the bride was given in marriage by her father. Mr. Bernard Leshley played the wedding music and Miss Margaret Ma, Toronto, was soloist.

Miss Wong had selected a bridal gown of white lace and pleated nylon net over white satin. The bodice of lace was finished with a stand-up collar and the skirt was in three tiers of the nylon and was worn over a crinoline. Her fingertip veil with appliqued roses fell from a coronet of Chantilly lace trimmed with seed pearls and she was carrying a semi-cascade of stephanotis, Butterfly roses and gladioli blossoms.

Maid of honor for her sister was Miss Rose Wong, of Peterborough, and the groom's sister, Mrs. Thomas Kee, of Toronto, was bridesmaid. They were in similar ballerina frocks of orchid marquisette over orchid taffeta. Flower girl was Miss Carol Lee, from Port Colborne, niece of the bride, and she wore a miniature of the bride's gown made of apple green marquisette over apple green taffeta. All wore crowns of matching flowers trimmed with veiling and taffeta ribbon and their bouquets were semi-cascades of gladioli in the orchid, fuchsia and violet shades.

The groomsman was Dr. Harry Fong, from New York City. Ushers were George Wong, of Peterborough, brother of the bride, Sohny Hing, of Hamilton, brother of the groom, Earl Young and John Ma, both of Toronto.

Receiving afterward in the Parish Hall, Mrs. James B. Lee, of Port Colborne, the bride's sister, was assisted by Mrs. Hing. Mrs. Lee wore a powder blue nylon gown with white accessories and the groom's mother chose a blue crepe gown and wore navy accessories.

Leaving later on the wedding trip to Montreal, Lake Placid, Boston and the Eastern States, the bride wore a grey worsted suit with grey and red accessories and a matching corsage.

The couple plan to live in Montreal.

Wear Sunglasses Late Summer Too

Sun requires more than one type of protection from its blinding rays and, if you will preserve your good looks, you won't venture out without taking certain precautions. Although you may be planning a late vacation, you will still do well to go off fully equipped to take care of skin, eyes and hair.

A certain amount of sunshine does have beneficial effects for hair and skin but bright sunlight generally causes little squint lines at the corners of your eyes. It also promotes and exaggerates crow lines, so make it a point to wear sunglasses whenever you are outdoors on sunny days. They are helpful while driving, watching a ball game or just sitting on the shore. You'll find that prescription glasses made up in the dark lenses recommended for outdoors are a joy and you will quickly realize they are no luxury.

Don't wait until you have reached your destination to purchase the sun items you need to make vacation more pleasant. Take your favorite sun lotion, at least one pair of sunglasses and a hat or hair lotion that will safeguard your hair from the sun's drying and burning qualities.

Open kettle method is not recommended. If you prefer Hot Pack you may wash, stem and pit cherries. Bring to boil in syrup (1 cup sugar to each 1½ cups water) and simmer 3 minutes. Pack hot in sterile jars leaving ½ inch headspace. Process in boiling water bath 15 minutes for pints, and quarts. The advantage of this latter method is that the cherries do not shrink so much in the jars after being processed. It conserves jar space.

QUESTION: I'm following your column more closely than ever because it is important to me too... I've just about run out of ideas for quick lunches... (we both) eat at home at noon and have an hour, part of which I have to use to get the meal ready. I was wondering if you had any suggestions for menus that could be prepared ahead of time or in quick order? There are no doubt many brides in a similar position who would appreciate some help from you...maybe in the "Special-Purpose Menu" column. L. D.

ANSWER: I'm so glad you asked for quickly prepared lunches. I feel I have been neglecting the brides lately. I'm enthused over the following recipe for Jellied Veal and Ham Loaf—I bought 1½ lbs. stewing veal which was very lean for $1.04. To this I added 4 cups water, 2 teaspoons salt, and 1 cutup outer stalk of celery, covered and simmered 1¾ hours. I removed the veal from the liquid and forced through grinder. To it I added 2½ cups well-packed ground smoked boiled pork shoulder (leftover ham). I added 2½ tablespoons lemon juice to enough cold water to make ½ cup and added 2½ tablespoons gelatin to them to soak. Dissolve this soaked gelatin in 3 cups of the strained meat broth. Taste for salt. If it needs it add some and ¼ teaspoon pepper, and, if you have any ½ teaspoon MSG or Ac-cent. Add all the meat and pour into moulds of enamel or porcelain to chill and set. This is wonderfully tasty and slices beautifully.

Dieters And Diabetics Jams

Jam fattening? Maybe, if you're old-fashioned. But today anyone with excess poundage can look at the jam jar without exerting any self-control. And making this luscious jam is as easy as whipping up a simple cake. Try it and see.

Here are the two jam recipes that will delight dieters and diabetics—for they use saccharine, rather than sugar, approved by the Council on Pharmacy and Chemistry of the American Medical Association and is as safe as can be. Best news—the blueberry jam contains only 13 calories per tablespoonful (if made with sugar it would contain 55) and the plum jam contains 9 calories for the same amount (sugar again 55).

BLUEBERRY JAM

Makes about 24 tablespoonsful. 2 cups washed, drained fresh blueberries; 2 tbs. glycerin; ½ box powdered pectin; 1½ tsp. saccharine; 2 tbs. lemon juice.

Crush berries in a kettle; add glycerin and pectin. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil 1 minute. Remove from heat; add saccharine and lemon juice. Pour into clean, hot half-pint jars; seal according to directions of jar manufacturer. Process in a boiling water bath 20 minutes. Remove from water bath, cool, and store in a cool, dry place.

PLUM JAM

Makes about 36 tablespoonsful. 1 lb. whole fresh Italian blue prune plums (8 plums); 2 tbs. water; box powdered pectin; 2 tbs. glycerin; 1½ tsp. saccharine.

Wash, drain and pit plums; chop fine. Add water. (There should be 2 cups prepared fruit and water). Simmer fruit, covered, 5 minutes. Add powdered pectin and glycerin. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil 1 minute. Remove from heat, add saccharine. Pour into clean, hot half-pint jar; seal according to directions of jar manufacturer. Process in a boiling water bath 20 minutes. Remove from water bath, cool, and store in a cool, dry place.

With Eskimos For 22 Years

LONDON (CP)—William Joss, the "king" of Read Island in Canada's far north, is home on leave for the first time in five years.

As a Hudson's Bay Company trader he has spent 22 years dealing with Eskimos on Canada's Arctic coastline. At one time he spent 13 years on the island without a break. Read Island is on the south coast of Victoria Island, near Coronation Gulf and roughly 500 miles north of Great Slave Lake.

When friends at home asked what he liked so much about the isolated north, he smiled and said: "It's the peace and quiet. You can do what you want to do when you want to do it. There's no one to say 'no' to you."

New Words Apply To After 5 Look

NEW YORK.—If you've a keen eye, you're already discovering lively hints of the clothes that will burgeon into full fashion this fall. New words come into play to describe "the after-five look."

Burnished and polished hint the light and shade of fabric. Waltz-length and bell-shaped indicate skirts. What ages it's been since some of these words crept into fashion parlance! Can you imagine a "swantail" bustle, "coronation" brocades, broadcloth flannel "Peter Thompsons," not to mention velvets handled with saddle stitching! Each has its significance and finds a place in the gala fashion layout for fall.

Princess Enjoys Second Birthday

BALMORAL, Scotland (Reuters) Highlight of little Princess Anne's second birthday celebrations yesterday came during a family tea party when—with a squeal of delight—she blew out two candles atop her small iced birthday cake.

The quiet party was held at Balmoral Castle, the royal family's favorite summer home. Her parents, the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh, and her three-year-old brother Charles, were the principal guests.

Also on hand for the festivities were the Duchess of Kent and her two children—Princess Alexandra and Prince Michael—who are vacationing on the Balmoral estate.

Fair-haired, blue-eyed Anne—like all two year olds—ushered the big day in with an early start.

Well before "mummy" and "papa" were awake, the Duke of Cornwall bounded into Princess Anne Elizabeth Alice Louise's bedroom, and presented the still-sleepy tyke with her first present.

Though royal birthday gifts are generally kept secret, Charles was reported to have given Anne a woolly toy dog.

EVEN A SMALL CHILD can learn how to identify Poison Ivy by its three leaves on a vine.

Happy Outdoor Vacation Requires Following Rules

By NANCY CLEAVER

"If you are sick on a holiday it sure can spoil your fun in a hurry!" exclaimed a small boy who developed a nettle rash the second day of a camping trip and ended his vacation unexpectedly when he sat in a poison ivy patch on a picnic. Parents will certainly agree with his sentiments and sympathize with his discomfort. At the same time mothers and fathers do want to see that the family observe sufficient precaution so that vacation days will not be clouded by sickness. They know that one day's carelessness can result in a nasty sunburn and any skin affliction can be most upsetting.

Nettles are irritating but the discomfort they cause to the skin can be lessened by bathing it with baking soda or other soothing solution. Poison Ivy, however is much more serious, and children should be taught at an early age to avoid it.

Even a small youngster can learn to be on the lookout for poison ivy and keep away from it. The green shiny leaves grow in groups of three on a vine-like branch or in clusters shooting out of the ground. The poison ivy berry is white and the flower is greenish white. If in doubt be sure not to touch it.

A child who may have been in contact with the oily substance on the under side of the ivy leaves should wash the affected parts immediately in running water with yellow soap, then dry thoroughly. Calamine lotion or a five per cent alcohol solution of ferric chloride may be applied or a special ointment from the doctor. A skin rash from poison oak or poison sumac should be treated in the same way.

NO EXPERIMENTING

Mushrooms are a delicacy—the home grown variety. But it is much too big a risk to experiment with eating mushrooms found in the woods unless you are an expert. The morel and giant puff ball can be identified. But mushrooms such as the deadly amanita can be fatal and others can cause violent nausea. Boiling them does not destroy their ill effects.

Insects, especially mosquitoes and black flies, can give a great deal of discomfort. A reliable insect repellent is a necessary bit of camping equipment and care must be taken that this does not irritate the skin or get in the eyes. A DDT spray to be used on a camp site is also essential. If insects are very bad, a generous supply of netting can be very useful.

Every housewife knows she cannot be too careful to see to it that food is not only refrigerated but also covered. Flies must be kept out of a tent or cottage living quarters. They are carriers of disease germs and are suspected of spreading polio. Burn all possible refuse from the kitchen, and bury the rest at once in a garbage pit. Be extra careful about proper camp sanitation precautions.

On a vacation the weather may be very warm and thus there is a big demand for cold drinks. Too much ice-cold fluid is not good for children, but they do need to drink an extra amount on a day on which they are perspiring freely.

SAFE DRINKING WATER

The first essential of a good camping or cottage site is safe drinking water. The appearance of water is no test of its purity. Crystal clear water may contain harmful bacteria or typhoid germs. The one reliable rule to follow is to boil all drinking water for at least half an hour when in doubt or treat it with one of the commercial preparations which will chlorinate it.

The flat taste of boiled water is caused by its lack of air. It can be restored to its normal taste by pouring it from one container to another. Small bits of charcoal dropped into water absorb odours and make it more palatable.

The public health authorities in any area will co-operate in testing water from a well. Make inquiries about this and follow their directions. Many parents wisely check at the first of each summer on their cottage water supply.

Safe milk is also an absolute necessity when camping with small children. In many provinces it is against the law to sell "raw" or unpasteurized milk. A careful mother knows that this is a sensible regulation. Home pasteurizing by boiling is a rather tedious process.

It is little wonder that condensed milk in cans or in powdered form has become very popular. Many homemakers use it liberally in cooking to reduce their food bills all year round. But it can be a satisfactory and safe substitute for bottled milk, especially on a holiday. When it comes to either milk or water, it is always better to be safe than sorry!

Various small emergencies may crop up unexpectedly on a holiday. Junior may meet a skunk, a snake or even a porcupine on one of his hiking trips. Father may get great pride in fishing and unexpectedly run a fish hook into his hand. Mother may be picking blueberries and suddenly come across a mother bear with her cubs. Daughter may get a spider or centipede bite when collecting firewood.

The important thing is to know what to do or be able to find out details quickly from a reliable guide such as Byron Dalrymple's "Fishing, Hunting and Camping" which may be found in the Pocket Book edition.

Keep your portable First Aid Kit properly stocked—and know where you can locate a doctor quickly if you should need him. The chances are that by using common sense and knowing how to act in the out-of-doors you will have healthy camping and a

Father Needs Professional Advising

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband and I have been married five years and have three small children During this time he has gradually battered my love into an unrecognizable pulp through his being so totally selfish. He seems to delight in tormenting everyone who cares for him.

For instance, he will suggest we go to the show and then, when I have everyone ready, he sits around not doing anything until we're so disguested we don't care whether we go or not. At mealtime, I call him when dinner is ready, then he fiddles around until the food is cold before he comes to the table. Now the children and I go ahead and eat without waiting for him. He is the same outside the family and, while I have learned to live with him, I don't think it is a good home life for the children.

He has never helped me with the youngsters. He is very hard on them. He beat the older boy once, and I have caught him squeezing their heads, pulling their hair, twisting their arms and things of that sort.

I keep telling myself one marries for better or worse, and no marriage is perfect, but is this carrying things to extremes? I still love my husband, but feel as if it will never be a normal love. MRS. R. C.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You have shown remarkable patience in dealing with your husband, but I'm afraid his case is not one that will yield to that sort of treatment. His petty, tyrannical treatment of you would be cause enough for concern but remedies might be found for it. However, his cruelty to his own children indicates an aberration so sadistic that skilled medical or psychiatric treatment is indicated. In his present condition, the youngsters aren't even safe with him, and serious physical injury may result if your household continues under these circumstances.

YOUNGSTERS IN DANGER

Your sincere efforts to maintain your home are commendable, but a separation will certainly be necessary if your husband continues to mistreat the children. Their physical danger is acute, and the mental conflicts that can result when babies of such tender age are abused by their own father are not to be risked.

Your husband is apparently a person of extreme possessiveness, and has been irked by the fact that three small children take up most of your time and attention, leaving him with somewhat less than the lion's share—to which he feels entitled. A normal husband and father, loving his wife and children, accepts these changes in domestic situations as they come along, realizing that his wife has enough love to cover her entire family. A neurotic mind, such as your husband's, can never accept a situation in which anyone usurps to the least degree the homage to which he has been accustomed.

His temperamental sulkiness as exhibited by failure to be ready on time, or come to meals when called, have been handled admirably. You could go further along these lines. After waiting a reasonable time for him to take you out, go ahead without him; sit down to dinner with the children and when you have finished, clear the food and put it away. However, these are minor matters compared to the cruelty towards the youngsters. This is your big headache, and the one that should send you scurrying for expert personal advice. A family counsellor, trusted doctor or recommended psychiatrist should be consulted. Even though you hate to burden your own family with these troubles, the situation is of such seriousness that their help should be invoked, if you feel it will aid you in this trouble. I do sincerely hope you can find the assistance you need.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I'm a young married woman who has a good husband and a lovely 4-year-old daughter. I thought I was contented with everything, until I went to work and fell in love with a young man there. I know he loves me. We have been seeing each other secretly for two months and he says I must choose between my husband and him. I don't want to hurt my husband but I feel I just can't give up the other man. CORA

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: There is no question of can or can't. You absolutely must give this man up—he will do nothing for you but wreck your home and the happiness you have with your little family. The overwhelming chances are that if you leave your husband he won't marry you anyway. A man who is so unprincipled as to make love to a married woman is a very, very poor risk for a future. Lucky you to have a fine husband and good home. Give up the outside work and stay with your daughter, but above all, give up your foolish, romantic notions.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Within the next few months I shall be married, but I have one worry. I am getting tired of hearing my fiance talk about his mother and father so much. As we will be living near to them, do you think this attitude will make for a happy married life for us? I am 17. TROUBLED

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You are far too young to marry, or to have any conception of the obligations you will assume as a wife. One of them is consideration for your in-laws and, since you are already annoyed with your finace because he talks of them to you, you face a very sorry mess of a marriage. The only topic of conversation that would interest you is you! And at 17 that is understandable. Better wait awhile until your toleration quotient is ready to include more of the world than yourself.

Of Interest to Women

A NEW SOFTNESS OF BOTH LINE AND FABRIC is evident in daytime dresses for Fall. Pure silk taffeta in taupe (left) makes an afternoon dress. Slim skirt is marked by deep back pleat; bodice is simple and fitted. Sleeves and rounded collar have Victorian touches of black silk velvet and ball fringe. The yellow wool dress (right) has wide skirt in soft folds, a high, narrow collar and long sleeves with notched cuffs.

New Soft Silhouette Marks Daytime Dress For Fall

By GAILE DUGAS

The new soft silhouette of the daytime dress for Fall marks it clearly as very different from its 1951 counterpart. Last year's look was crisp. This year, softness is apparent in both fabric and line.

Waistlines wander from high to low. The empire silhouette appears in the collections of most top designers but the middy turns up in collections more generally priced. And throughout, the corselet midriff is gaining in fashion importance.

The natural waistline, however, is never neglected. Empire or middy, it is clearly defined. The waistless look of the Twenties has no place in 1952.

Skirts have much back fullness. Whether handled as inserts, side panels, side gores, pleating or tucking, all of it starts below the hipline and is always soft. This makes for a smooth hipline and a generally slim effect even in skirts with a great deal of fullness.

The draped neckline is all-important in daytime dresses. In variations, there are soft, rolled collars, fichus of self-fabric and cowl drapery. Jewelry necklines are back, harmonizing with the softer line and fabrics.

Sleeves show a graduating fullness, from a dropped shoulder to a tight cuff. There are more wrist-length sleeves, more sleeve length and more cover-up generally in sleeves.

Black dominates in these daytime dresses. Its shown in light woollens and crepes, in satins and taffetas that are soft, never crinkly. It also appears in silk barathea and silk faille.

For the newly-important ensemble, the black dress becomes allied with color. Then come the browns, in a whole range, and grey. The vivid colors — red, green and royal or sapphire blue —are stressed in dresses as well as in suits and coats.

QUESTION: I think it is wonderful the way you can give us almost any recipe we ask for. It is the first thing I turn to in the paper...I am very interested in canning and preserving but as this is only my second year at it I have a lot of things to learn... I wonder if you could print a recipe for preserving maraschino cherries made from sour red cherries, also one for canning cherries for pie. I would prefer the open kettle method, as I'm working and haven't too much time. I have a recipe for pickling these cherries which I am going to try out...M. W. (see below)

QUESTION: Would you kindly send me recipe for maraschino cherries? Helen B. S.

ANSWER: (To Both M. W. and Helen B. S.)

Sour red cherries cannot be used successfully for maraschino cherries. They require the firmness (a different cellular structure) of sweet cherries to result in the plump maraschino cherries we are accustomed to.

Maraschino Cherries

Three lbs. sweet cherries (preferably Royal Anne—white cherries which give truer maraschino color as they are light to begin with and take on the red coloring more effectually than dark sweet cherries) weigh the cherries after stemming and pitting; 2½ lbs. sugar, 1 oz. liquid red coloring, 1 oz. almond flavoring, ¾ cup water. Before stemming or pitting soak fresh picked Royal Anne cherries in cold water 2 hours, then stem and pit them, keeping them as whole as possible. Weigh. Put sugar and water in kettle and stir until sugar is dissolved. Add coloring and cherries and cook slowly until cherries are red and syrup is fairly thick—but do not scorch. Remove from heat, cool a little, add flavoring, let stand to cool, then pour into sterile jars and seal. Store in cool dark place. Cherries will shrink a little because this excessive amount of sugar causes slight shrinkage. The commercial method of preparing maraschino cherries involves bleaching the cherries and this is to complicated and risky with home equipment for me to describe in this column.

Canned Sour Cherries

Wash cherries with stems on in cold running water. It is desirable to do this for at least ½ hour for this "plumps" them and brings any worms which might be present to surface. Stem and pit them. Pack in sterile jars. Cherries for pies may be covered with boiling water or syrup. If syrup is used the usual proportions of 1 cup sugar to 1½ cups water are made into boiling hot syrup, pour over cherries in jar,

Sailing Craft To Compete At R.C.A.F. Meet

TRENTON.—Sailing craft from five yacht clubs in the Trenton district will compete on Sunday when R.C.A.F. Trenton Station's Air Aquatic Yacht Club plays host for its annual racing meet.

Represented at the meet will be the Prince Edward Yacht Club of Picton, the Bay of Quinte Yacht Club of Belleville, the Presqu'Ile Yacht Club, the Trenton Yacht Club and the R.C.A.F. Club. Group Captain R. C. Hawtrey, Commodore of the Air Aquatic Club said Wednesday that he anticipated attendance of 24 craft of all types for the competition.

Three classes of boats will be represented at the meet with competition in each class. Class One will include all boats of the cabin type, Class Two will be represented by the International type dinghy and Class Three will include Comets, Snipes and other boats of similar nature.

The course for the races will stretch some six miles from the R.C.A.F. dock across the mouth of the Trenton Harbour. Many Trenton people are expected to attend.

Presentation of trophies and prizes will take place immediately after the meet in the Station Trenton Social Centre where guests and competitors will gather for refreshments.

The first race is scheduled for 3 p.m. on Sunday.

"Sailing as a sport is increasing tremendously in this area," said G/C Hawrtey, in discussing Sunday's Regatta. The Commodore of the R.C.A.F. Club however said he would like to see more people becoming interested in the smaller class boats, the dinghies, comets and snipes. These craft, he thinks, provide the greatest thrills for the true sailing enthusiast.

Campbellford Service Marks Dieppe Raid

About 100 members of Peterborough Branch 52, Canadian Legion, will attend the parade and drumhead service Sunday in Campbellford that will mark the 10th anniversary of the Dieppe raid.

Buses will leave at 12 o'clock noon and the parade, followed by the drumhead service, will be at 2.30 p.m.

Taking the salute will be Ontario Commander Albert Hulse. Patrick Burns, secretary of the Ontario Command, and John Burnet of Cobourg, district commander, will also be present.

Altogether about 1,000 legionnaires from 50 Legion branches will be present.

On August 19, 1942, nearly 5,000 Canadians struck at the French seaside resort of Dieppe in the largest combined operation against German-held Europe that had been attempted up to that time by the Allies. More than 900 Canadians were killed, 1,150 were wounded and 2,000 captured.

Man, 47, Risks Life To Save 19-Months Baby

TRENTON—A 47-year-old man risked his life Wednesday night to rescue a 19-month old baby girl from the path of an oncoming freight train.

Seeing the toddler stumbling around on the tracks with the train only a few feet away, Ross Chard ran onto the tracks, picked up the baby and carried her to safety seconds before the engine went by.

Thalia Valyear, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Valyear of Stanley St., missed the child just as she heard the train approaching. She rushed to the door of the house and saw her baby rescued by Mr. Chard.

The southbound C.N.R. freight was reported to have been travelling about 20 miles an hour, the usual speed of trains through the town.

Crew members of the train had apparently seen the youngster, as fireman Jack Lazenby of Belleville is reported to have climbed down on the cowcatcher, to reach out and catch the baby before it was hit if the train had been unable to stop in time.

Middle East Too Small For Both Arabs, Jews

CAIRO, Egypt (Reuters) — Col. Adib Shishekly, commander-in-chief of the Syrian army, said today in an interview with a Cairo newspaper that "the Middle East is not large enough to have both Arabs and Jews."

"Either the Arabs will be thrown into the sea or the Jews will leave Palestine and return to their homes," he said. "I have faith in the ultimate victory of the Arabs."

Shishikly also said the Western-sponsored Middle East defence proposal is "useless as long as the Arabs are dissatisfied."

The colonel, who staged a bloodless military coup six months ago and gave his country a new regime, acclaimed the coup d'etat of Gen. Mohammed Naguib, whose army deposed King Farouk and established a new government in Egypt.

Use Mine Detectors To Find Metal In Arm

YORKTON, Sask. (CP)—Charlie Hooper of Yorkton thinks hospitals could use mine-detectors with their other equipment.

He was operating a machine for digging sewer trenches when a point of metal pierced his arm. He says hospital X-rays didn't locate the tiny piece, so his friends at the city works department used a mine detector and it showed where the metal was.

On a further trip to the hospital the X-rays verified the finding, deep in the arm muscles.

LINDSAY—W. G. Graham, who retired recently as International vice-president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers was honored Thursday night at a dinner in the Legion Hall attended by more than 100 of his fellow workers and friends.

A former alderman and mayor of Lindsay, Mr. Graham spent more than 40 years working for better wages and working conditions of railroad workers.

"A labor statesman," was the tribute Ontario Premier Leslie M. Frost paid Mr. Graham. Mr. Frost said he was attending the gathering not in his official capacity but as a friend and neighbor of Mr. Graham.

EXEMPLARY LIFE

"His life can be an object lesson to us all," said A. J. Lomas, vice-president of the Canadian National Railways. "At this gathering we pay tribute to one who has contributed much to the growth of this country and the welfare of his fellow men. We are going to miss Mr. Graham both as a railway man and as a representative of labor."

R. C. Johnstone, vice-president in charge of personnel of the Canadian Pacific Railway also remarked briefly on Mr. Graham's work and record as a citizen of Lindsay and as a railway man.

Tom Mattingly, who succeeded Mr. Graham as international vice-president of the railway brotherhood paid tribute to the part Mr. Graham has played in bettering the conditions of Canadian railwaymen and added that in "the 38 years I have worked with him, I have never heard him criticize any man, and he has left with the respect of railway officers across the country."

During the evening, J. G. McLean, national legislative chairman of the brotherhood read congratulatory messages and best wishes received from railway brotherhood officials, friends and relatives of Mr. Graham who were unable to be present at the dinner.

In the absence of D. B. Robertson, international president of the brotherhood, Ray Scott, editor of the brotherhood's magazine outlined Mr. Graham's career and his services in various offices with the brotherhood.

The presentation of an easy chair and footstool to Mr. and Mrs. Graham climaxed the evening. A bouquet of roses was presented to Mrs. Graham by the ladies' branch of the Lindsay brotherhood.

Man Advised To Take 30 Days

COBOURG (ENS) — Sammy Allender of Port Hope, age 60, pleaded guilty Friday to a charge of drinking while on the interdicted list and was fined $100 and costs or 30 days. Magistrate R. B. Baxter recommended that he take the 30 days in jail in order to do some thinking.

Chief H. Pearse said that he had some complaints that Allender was bothering little girls and that when he picked him up he had been drinking and that Allender told him he had been imbibing and had no recollection about molesting young girls.

"It is fortunate that his arrest by the police interrupted his intentions because the court is aware that it has happened before. When he drinks he starts to behave in the same manner as before and he is apt to end up in the penitentiary. His attitude towards young girls is a disease," said Crown Attorney Harry Deyman.

Some Like It Cold, Says Expert On Native Clothing

By RICHARD KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA)—If it's hot where you are, perhaps you'd better give a thought to the Nigerians of British West Africa. They're living in a far hotter climate, but they've got sense enough to bundle up warm and live in a clay house.

Miss Christine Tardy, writing in the Chicago Natural History Museum Bulletin, thinks we might do well to study the keep-cool-doings of tropical natives. That would be OK, but it seems even the natives can't make up their minds.

There are two schools of thought. One is the philosophy typified by the warm warriors of Nigeria, who wrap themselves carefully in two or three cotton robes before going out in the sun. The only parts they leave unswathed are their noses and big toes.

But, unfortunately, there is nothing quite as uncomfortable as a sunburned big toe. Which shows you than the Nigerians have been out in the sun too long already, so their theories must be discounted.

We come now to a much more advanced method of personal refrigeration. That's practised by people Miss Tardy calls the "Island Faction," the unspoiled souls who inhabit the tropic islands of the Pacific. These free-thinkers believe that the less clothing, the better.

The Islanders don't practice complete nudity, however. They go in for such items as grass skirts, and loin cloths. The grass skirts, besides being decorative, serve to swish away flies as they sway. As for loin cloths, if you've never tried one you should. A person has to live and loin.

Down in the Marshall Islands, the gals figured out a charming way to dress. They weave fibre or grass mats, just a shy shade larger than a place mat. They tie one of these on fore, and one aft. The only trouble with that scheme is that the mats are identical on both ends, so its difficult to tell if a Marshall Island lassie is coming or going.

And so we leave the Marshall Islands—waving our place mats behind us—and consider tropical natives' methods of housing. Back in Nigeria, Miss Tardy says, they have perfected their own form of air conditioning.

They make a home of mud and clay, with walls often two feet thick. If there are any windows, they are stuck up high in the wall. In the doorways, they place large jars of water, to pick up any breeze. The end result is a dwelling about as cool as you can have with primitive materials.

Even that has its drawbacks, however. Jars of water in the doorways are nasty hazards when you come home late a tnight, three cotton robes to the wind. We lose more Nigerians that way.

So perhaps we'd better go back to the islands, specifically steaming Samoa. There, reports Miss Tardy, is "perhaps the most efficient house for keeping cool." It's a hut with a thatched roof and fibre mats which roll up and down for walls.

You roll up your wall to catch the breeze, roll down your wall for privacy. If you want both breeze and privacy, you're on the wrong island. Try Alcatraz.

That's the secret of how they keep cool in the tropics. Wear lots of clothes or, on the other hand, nothing. Live in a clay house or, come to think of it, a fibre hut.

Or, if none of those ideas seems feasible, go jump in the lake. Which, in the final analysis, is undoubtedly your best bet.

Closing Session Leaves Confusion

GENEVA PARK, Lake Couchiching, Ont. (CP)—Three University of Toronto professors occupied the platform last night at the closing session of the Couchiching conference. By the time they had reached the final stages of their discussion, the audience was not sure what it was all about.

One member of the audience, Helen Tucker of Port Credit, said the panel was talking over the heads of the audience. She said she thought the terms used by the speakers could be simplified.

One member of the panel, E. S. Carpenter, assistant professor of anthropology, said that in order to augment his salary, he had worked on the Toronto subway and for a brewery company.

"I learned a lot of language on those jobs but I'm afraid I can't use it here."

Fewer Polio Cases Expected This Year

COBOURG (ENS) —"A large outbreak of polio among those normally residing in this area is unlikely in 1952," declared Dr. C. W. MacCharles, medical officer of health for the Northumberland and Durham Counties Health Unit, in a release issued yesterday from the health unit headquarters.

He pointed out, that while it is impossible to forecast accurately the probable occurrence of polio in any district, it is known that in general there is not likely to be a large outbreak in an area two years in succession. In the Northumberland and Durham Health Unit area the polio cases reported in 1946 were 13; 1947, eight; 1948, none; 1949, 21; 150, 2 and last year, 51. The 51 cases reported in 1951 were fairly well spotted throughout the unit area.

Belleville Wins Over Marines 2-1, Even City Series

BELLEVILLE—Three errors in the bottom of the seventh inning gave Northern Electric ladies' softball team the run they needed to down the Peterborough Marines 2-1 in a game played under the lights at Alemite Field last night. The game was cut short in the seventh inning by rain. The exceptionally low scoring girls' game moved along smartly until the rains came.

Both McGrath, on the hill for the winners, and Derry doing the flinging for the visitors, gave up three hits in going seven frames. McGrath walked three and struck out four. Derry was the victim of loose support in the field as she walked only one, and struck out nine.

Marines scored the first run in the sixth inning with White leading off with a single to right field. She took second on a passed ball, and came round to score on two fielder's choice plays in the infield.

Northern tied the score in their half of the sixth with Bovay clouting a double to right to open the inning. She took third as Butler grounded out short to first. And scored when Waite got a life on an error to second. Reeves was safe on a fielder's choice, but Butcher popped to short and Sequin struck out to end the inning.

McGrath, for Northern, got a life on an error to the third baseman to start the seventh. She was forced at second on Reeves' roller, but Reeves went all the way to third on another error at third, and scored on an error at second. That proved to be the winning run as the rains descended and cut off further play.

Lineups:

Peterborough—Page 3b, McMahon 1b, White cf, Hart c, Weir lf, McGurrin ss, Dunk 2b, Naylor rf, Derry p.

Thirty-six years of continual service with the C.G.E. here ended this week for George Killingbeck, of the fractional motors department.

Seventeen years ago, he started in the fractional motor department, where he stayed.

Mr. Killingbeck is one of many of that name who have worked or are working in the plant. His father and two uncles were G.E. employees, and two brothers, Mel and Corrie, are long service employees.

His definite plans for retirement include a trip to Hamilton for football games and the rest of the summer at his cottage at Harwood on Rice Lake.

Taxes Put Circus Out Of Business

WASHINGTON— (AP)— Amusement taxes put Larry Aiken's circus out of business.

Larry, 12, of Terre Haute, Ind., wrote the Bureau of Internal Revenue that he was staging a successful backyard circus when his father a government worker, told him about that major fact of life—taxes.

Larry promptly closed down his show, figured up his taxes—20 per cent on 22 persons who paid five cents each—and sent the government a money order for 22 cents.

"Was going to run three more days till all this came up," he wrote.

A revenue bureau spokesman said the government may have to refund Larry part of his 22 cents if some of his paying customers were under 12 years old, and thus exempt from amusement taxes. It plans to write Larry to find out.

Polio Attack Worst In Prairies, B.C.

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Canada's four western provinces continue to bear the brunt of this year's poliomyelitis attack, most other provinces reporting an average number of cases and deaths. Ontario figures are far below last year's.

A Canadian Press survey today showed 219 cases reported in Saskatchewan with 12 deaths. A week ago there were six deaths and 150 cases. These figures outshadow last year's 23 cases and four deaths.

Alberta is next, reporting 182 cases and 12 deaths, compared with only one death and 18 cases last year.

One death and 51 new cases during the last week brought Manitoba's total to 181 cases and six deaths.

10 DEATHS IN B.C.

In British Columbia there have been 10 polio deaths, compared with two last year. The 98 cases so far this year are 74 more than last year's total.

Montreal reported seven cases as compared with double that many last year when there was one death. In the Quebec City area there are seven cases.

New Brunswick reports 60 cases and four deaths compared with five cases and no deaths last year.

In Nova Scotia the situation is reversed. Only 23 cases have been reported this year—three in the last week. Last year at this time there were 100 cases reported bring the 1951 total to 428 at that time. No deaths have been reported this year.

In Ontario, 133 cases compared favorably with 530 last year. A death yesterday in Port Arthur brought the total to five as compared with 21 last year.

Fast-Growing Hen Hatches Eggs Faster

STORRS, Conn. (AP)—Three Canadian poultry experts said yesterday their studies show that a fast-growing hen will produce fast-hatching eggs.

D. J. McConachie, C. M. Huntsman and F. N. Jerome of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, gave their report at the annual National Poultry Science Association meeting at the University of Connecticut.

They said that in their study they took eggs from fast-growing hens and slow-growing hens. The bigger hens produced faster hatching eggs, they said.

They also found that the chicks from the fast hens weighesd more in four weeks than the chicks from the other eggs.

Brief Requests Water Lowered

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—The East Lincoln erosion committee yesterday forwarded a brief to the International Joint Commission urging construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway project to lower the water level of Lake Ontario.

The brief said the Lake Ontario shoreline, containing some of Ontario's most important farming areas, has been receding at the rate of about five feet a year for the last 50 years, representing the loss of some seven acres a year.

The brief was filed by a committee consisting of representatives of the municipal councils of Niagara, Grantham, Louth and Clinton townships. These municipalities border the lakeshore for a distance of 30 miles extending west of the Niagara River.

Alnwick Rate Jumps 8 Mills

ROSENEATH (ENS)—The taxpayers of Alnwick township will get a jolt when they receive their tax bills in October. At the August meeting of the council, when the rates were set for the year, it was found necessary to raise the rates eight mills. The township rate will be increased one mill and the high school rate seven mills. The cause of this latter increase is: Alnwick township school board has joined the high school area.

The meeting was held in the township hall on Tuesday evening. Reeve Fred Broadworth in the chair with councillors Harold Taylor, James Thompson, Earl Braithwaite and Edwin McCleary present, with Silas Sherwin as clerk.

Owing to the resignation of Roly Thackeray as treasurer and tax collector, Mr. Silas Sherwin was appointed clerk-treasurer. A committee comprised of the reeve and two councillors were appointed to secure a tax collector.

Mr. William J. Robins was appointed assessor.

It was decided to discontinue holding council meetings in the evening. The meetings have been held during the summer months in the eveinng owing to the rush of farm work and the scarcity of farm hands.

The two hours to be divided into two one-half hour periods of theory with the two Grade Tens and one hour of vocal with any students of any grades who could have spares at that time. The day to be any day that is most satisfactory to the principal, preferably Friday."

Martin Reddick of Apsley was present and discussed with the board his transportation contract for the 1952-53 term, and as a result Mr. Reddick's tender to run the early trip on the Couch road with pupils to catch the bus to Lakefield was accepted at $75 a month. Mr. Reddick's tender on the Owenbrook run was also accepted at $165.00 per month to haul eight pupils or if he has to draw the three extra pupils from Glenalda the tender of $240.00 will be accepted.

W. J. Stillman, representative of Sasco Steel Industries Ltd., discussed with the board the advisability of purchasing stacking tables and chairs (steel) before the price advanced, and the board decided to buy 120 chairs at $5.23, a total of $627.60, also 24 tables at a total cost of $344.88 and 3 smaller tables at a cost of $34.47.

The account of the contractor, W. H. Mortlock, for extras on the Apsley rooms was presented and discussed, Trustee Everett having met with the Apsley board regarding this. On motion of Trustees Everett and Pearson the Lakefield District High School board will pay their share of the extra expense on the school at Apsley, amounting to $947.39, and the secretary, Miss Grace Yonge was instructed to write W. Nelson and get a statement of the spending of the board's share of the debentures. If any balance is still unspent she will send him sufficient to cover the above bill of $947.39 or otherwise send the full amount.

The finance committee authorized payment of accounts totalling $1,234.23.

Toronto Policeman Charged With 3 Others In Holdup

Taxi Driver Slain Before Robbery, Hundreds In Hunt

MAXVILLE (CP)—The robber-slayer of a 41-year-old Maxville business man is sought today across eastern Ontario by Provincial Police. His victim was Leonard Z. Hurd, 41, owner of a garage, taxi, bus and trucking business, whose body, with five bullet wounds, was found late Saturday night slumped in the front seat of a taxi on a lonely marsh-bordered road one mile south of here. Police said he was robbed of between $800 and $1,700.

Hundreds of farmers and residents of this town some 50 miles east of Ottawa joined police in the search yesterday for the slayer, who may still be armed with the .22-calibre rifle used in the shooting.

SEEK SUSPECT

Police said they are seeking Henri Seguin, 27-year-old resident of this area. His description, and his car's licence, have been circulated by police.

Three bullets were fired into Hurd's head and two more into his right side below his armpit. An empty .22-calibre rifle shell casing was found beneath the taxi's front seat.

An important clue is a black club bag containing some clothing found in the back seat of the taxi. Hurd's family said it did not belong to him.

A post-mortem revealed a large bruise on the skull above the right ear and police believe Hurd was slugged and robbed before being shot. Absence of powder burns indicated that the murder weapon was fired at least three feet from him.

Tire marks on the road indicated the taxi went off the pavement and veered into a marshy spot.

The body was found about half an hour after Hurd left a Maxville restaurant for home. Police believe he got home before being called out by a taxi customer. His body when found was without socks—they were found in the hallway of his home.

ROBBERY MOTIVE

Provincial Police Inspector Robert Wannell, called from Toronto, said robbery was almost certainly the motive for the slaying. He predicted the case will be quickly solved.

Hurd's wife, took a group of women in a taxi to Cornwall, Ont., Saturday evening and learned of the slaying when she returned three hours after the body was found.

Their only son died four months ago in a motorcycle accident only a short distance from the scene of Saturday's murder. There are also two daughters.

Chou En-lai Visits Moscow For Conference

MOSCOW (AP).—A 15-man Chinese government delegation headed by Premier Chou En-lai arrived in Moscow last night for important talks with Soviet leaders.

Chou and his party were met at the airport by a group of Russian leaders headed by Politburo members A. I. Mikoyan and N. A. Bulganin. They were given a full-scale reception which highlighted the importance attached to their visit.

In a brief statement at the airport, Chou said he had come here for the purpose of "strengthening the friendly co-operation" between China and the Soviet Union. It seemed obvious that closer Chinese-Soviet military ties are on the conference agenda along with economic and political Moscow radio said the Chinese delegation had come to the Soviet Union to "discuss the development of co-operation between the two countries and the strengthening of their friendship."

The fact that military questions will be important in the conferences was self-evident from the composition of the Chinese delegation. It included Peiping's deputy chief of staff, the commander of the Chinese air force, the deputy commander of the navy, and the deputy commander of artillery.

8 Yugoslavs Seeking Haven

RUESSELSHEIM, Germany (AP—Eight young men of Yugoslavia's Olympic rowing team said today they are not going to return to their Communist homeland.

The team's manager, Slavko Jankovic, said he and seven others want to go to Canada.

Seeking temporary asylum here with him are six members of the Yugoslav eight-oar crew, and the stroke oar from the two-man squad with coxswain which competed at Helsinki.

"We hear that there are also four other Yugoslav rowers now in Bochum, Germany, who are not going back, but we are not sure about that," Jankovic said.

The rowers, whose ages range range from 21 to 36 years, stopped here on their way from Helsinki to compete in a regatta. Jankovic said they wanted to quit Yugoslavia for political reasons and also because "life there is difficult and expensive."

"Canada is a land where one can work and live in freedom and earn enough to live as an honorable man," he added.

In Ottawa an immigration department official today said if eight Yugoslav Olympic oarsmen want to emigrate to Canada instead of returning to their Communist homeland they must go through the usual immigration procedure.

Canada admits only those immigrants who are "suitable and desirable." They must satisfy Canadian authorities that they are a good security risk and have sufficient means to maintain themselves here.

Too Many "No Men" In Britain, Duke Says

EDINBURGH (AP)—America may complain of having too many "yes men" but Britain suffers from an excess of "no men," the Duke of Edinburgh said in an address to the Edinburgh Chamber of Commerce Saturday.

Britain's "no men" oppose projects calling for energy, imagination and enterprise, the Duke asserted.

"There is a school of thought which says 'what was good enough for my father is good enough for me.' I have no quarrel with this sentiment so long as it is not made an excuse for stagnation, frustration and inefficiency."

The Duke yesterday opened the sixth annual Edinburgh International Festival of Music and Drama, the cultural event of the year in Britain.

A vast crowd heard the Duke declare science would never produce anything to equal the thrill of the live theatre or the atmosphere of a concert hall filled with great music.

Kaiser Says Saboteurs Tried To Kill

Find 2 Speedboats Tampered With Before Race At Tahoe

TAHOE CITY, Calif. (AP)—Industrialist Henry J. Kaiser accused unknown saboteurs who tampered with two speedboats he had entered in races here of "a murderous attempt on my life."

Damage to the powerboats was discovered a half-hour before race time yesterday.

"I'm sure it was an attempt on my life, one of the most diabolical things I've ever seen," the 69-year-old steel-aluminum - automobile magnate declared.

Harry Johnson, Tahoe City constable, said the sabotage was crude and might have been the work of a crank, or of lakeside residents who have complained that Kaiser's boats are too noisy.

Kaiser said he suspected the tampering was the work of "the same people who have tried to destroy everything I've tried to build." He did not elaborate.

The damage was discovered by Kaiser's mechanic and driver, Max Collins, after he noticed a hacksaw blade in the bottom of the 32-foot Gold Cup racer Hot Metal. The boat's main drive shaft had been sawed half way through and the carburetor blower had been stuffed with rags, nuts and bolts. The bilge and hull of a 24-foot runabout had been soaked with gasoline, which could have ignited at a spark.

'COULD HAVE KILLED'

"Either sabotage could have killed somebody," Kaiser said. The sawed shaft would have "broken and ripped boat and driver to shreds" and the stuffed blower on the Gold Cup boat and the gasoline poured into runabout would have made fire "almost certain."

The constable declined to say whether he thought the damage was aimed at Kaiser's life. But he said it was doubtful anyone was trying to influence the outcome of the race. The participants, like Kaiser, are wealthy sportsmen with nearby summer homes and there was no betting.

Continue Investigation Into Odd Death

HAMILTON (CP)—Police are continuing their investigation today into the death of Harry Woitka, of 38 Spring Street, Brantford. Mr. Woitka was found dead on a bed at 470 MacNab street north early Sunday morning.

The man was apparently visiting friends at that address with his wife. Detectives MacRae and MacFarlane were called to the house when the man could not be aroused.

Police are awaiting results of a post-mortem being conducted by Dr. W.J. Deadman, city pathologist.

They say that at the present there is no evidence of foul play.

Fail To Crack Safe But $700 Destroyed

GRIMSBY (CP)—An explosive charge touched off in the office safe at the brewers' warehouse here early today failed to break it open but destroyed some $700 in bills in the safe. Silver coins were blown to bits or badly twisted.

Two Hamilton men were arrested in Hamilton and turned over to Grimsby police for questioning. Two men had made a getaway from the building as Constable Angus Stewart, of the local police, fired five shots in an effort to stop them.

Training Saves Boy Scout's Life

SONORA, Calif. (AP)—Thirteen-year-old Brent Bradberry confidently came out of the wilderness yesterday, proud of the Boy Scout training which enabled him to survive seven days lost and alone in California's rugged High Sierra.

The husky scout had tramped and waded nearly 50 miles through underbrush-choked granite canyons on the north edge of Yosemite National park.

Young Brent disappeared Aug. 9 while fishing near Emigrant Lake with a group of older scouts. He explained that as soon as he realized he was lost, he followed Cherry Creek, the stream he and his companions had been fishing in, just as the scout manuals said.

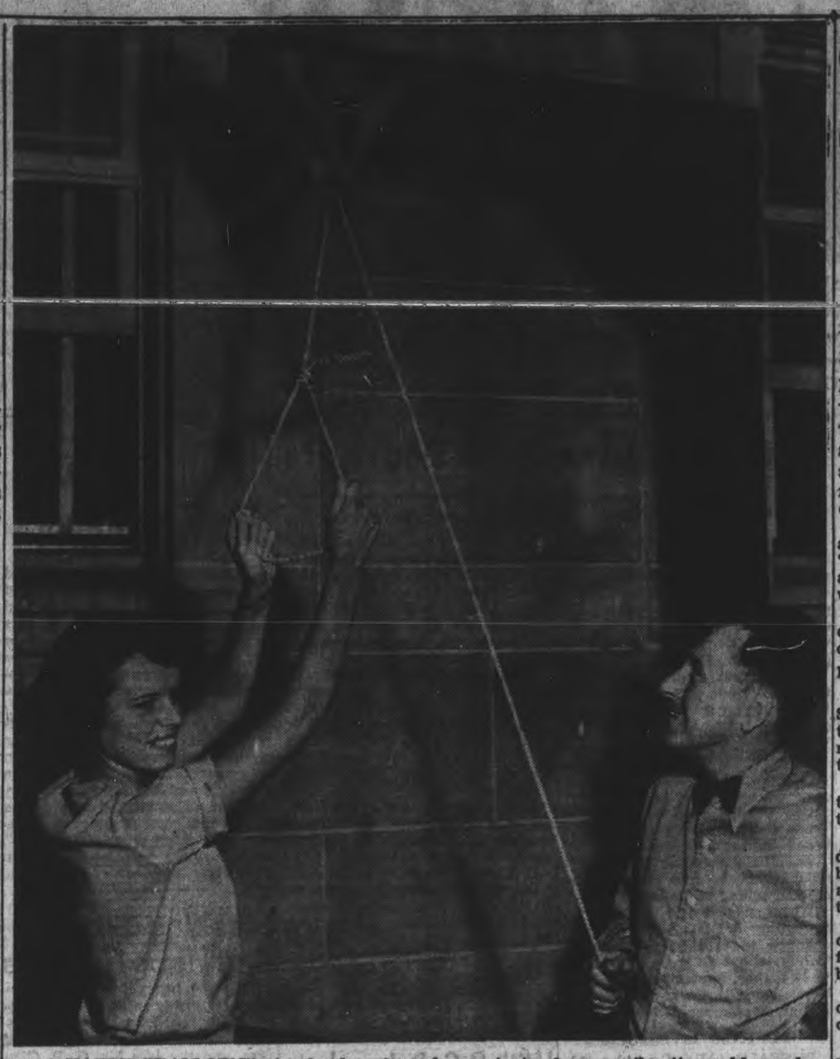
His only food all week was some pine nuts and a few dried apricots that he found, but there was plenty of water.

Unaware that bloodhounds were on his trail and that he was the object of a search by ground and air, he effected his own rescue when he walked up to a camp of three fishermen 35 miles east of Sonora Saturday afternoon.

May Use Ex-Headhunters To Combat Red Guerrillas

KUCHING, Sarawak (Reuters)—Government officials are considering plans to use deadly Iban trackers, former headhunters who once terrorized this British section of Borneo, to combat Communist guerrillas.

If the guerrilla war, which has spread to Sarawak from Malaya, gets no worse, however, the government said yesterday the Ibans won't be used.



An official source said the government is not too eager to call on the Ibans for help, unless it becomes necessary. This is because of their known dislike of the Chinese. Most guerrillas are Chinese. It is feared the Ibans might not distinguish carefully between terrorists and peaceful Chinese settlers. Besides, the Ibans might revert to headhunting.

Headhunting, formerly one of the Ibans' favorite pursuits, was largely stamped out around the turn of the century, but cropped out again when Iban tribesmen were used by the Allies during the Borneo campaign of the Second World War.

There are about 160,000 Ibans on Borneo and the men are excellent trackers and jungle fighters.

When they heard Malay—about 600 miles to the west—was looking for jungle scouts and trackers in its fight against terrorists, hundreds of Ibans volunteered, and many of them are serving there.

Native experts say the Ibans jumped at the chance of acquiring tufts of hair, guns or outboard motors, and to fight side-by-side with British trops on equal terms—and get paid for it.

A HANDY "GALLOWS" stands close to the magistrate's court and the police station in the new city hall. Here Eleanor White of the city's department of welfare and Earl Hope, building superintendent, demonstrate how easily it could work. However, most of the time it is used for what it is intended—a hoist to bring out pails of garbage from the building and to lower drums of cleaning oil into the basement.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Dies 24 Hours Before Wedding

GUELPH (CP)—A Fergus police officer who was to have been married today died in hospital Sunday two hours after a bullet pierced his brain.

Police said William R. Allen, 27, killed himself with his police revolver.

The shooting occurred in the home of Allen's betrothed, Miss Beatrice Kurp, 364 York Road. Three shots were fired from the revolver, according to police reports and at least one of the shots is said to have narrowly missed the girl's father, T.A. Kurp.

Miss Kurp, 25-year-old office worker, told police Allen has threatened to so something desperate after she called off their wedding plans.

After arguing with him an hour she left him on the verandah and, she, her parents, her brother, Max, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Daisy Kurp, locked themselves in the dining room.

A bullet crashed through a window and narrowly missed the girl's father.

Then Allen shot the lock on the door and as he stood waving his gun, Mr. Kurp hurried his daughter upstairs. Mrs. Kurp hid behind a chesterfield and Max Kurp ran out the front door, thinking the family would follow.

Then Mrs. Daisy Kurp confronted Allen and pleaded with him to "be a man and put the gun away."

Allen then went to the kitchen where he shot himself through the head, police said.

Allen, a former Windsor policeman, and for some time a member of the physical training staff at the Guelph reformatory, joined the Fergus force in July. He was on the staff of the reformatory here at the time of the July 5 riots and was prominent in subduing the prisoners. He is the son of Mrs. A. Brisco, Windsor. Crown Attorney J.M. Kearns said there would be no inquest.

Oshawa Pilot's Body Located In Quebec

FORESTVILLE, Que. (CP)—Searchers have found the body of Robert McLean Cooke, 33, Oshawa, helicopter pilot, drowned Aug. 7 when his plane crashed into the Bersimis River, 100 miles north of Baie Comeau.

The body, found Friday, will be taken to Toronto today after being flown here.

Cooke, employed by a Toronto photography firm, was drowned when his plane became caught in electric wires and crashed into the river.

Death Toll 39 In England's Flood

LYNMOUTH, England (AP)—Army engineers blasted and bull-dozed their way today through the debris of a flood believed to have drowned 39 persons in England's southwest resort coast. Today nine bodies had been recovered from among the rain-washed boulders and house wreckage along a 15-mile stretch of the Devon coast. Still missing and presumed dead were 30 more villagers and vacationers. Later information brought a revision of a casualty estimate of 22 dead and 12 missing.

This picturesque vacation town was almost washed into the sea by water which poured over the banks of the Lyn river at the height of the flood early Saturday morning.

The Army engineers were racing against newly threatening skies in an attempt to put the Lyn back into its course. More rains might spread the waters over a still larger area.

Threatening gales and more rain were forecast for late today.

Question Suspect In Old Murder

HAILEYBURY (CP) — A man held as a suspect in a high-grading case is to be questioned by Toronto police in connection with the hatchet-slaying more than a year ago of Mrs. Gertrude Derkison, 41, in her hardware shop in downtown Toronto.

Bail of Douglas Reid of Sudbury was increased from $1,000 to $15,000 cash or $30,000 property when he appeared in court here Friday on a charge of illegally transporting high-grade silver. Reid was arrested with M. (Bud) Gilson of Cobalt. Gilson is on bail of $1,000.

Provincial police said Reid will be questioned about the Derkison killing because his description resembles that given by witnesses the day Mrs. Derkison was trussed with wire and hacked to death.

(In Toronto, a police official said today Toronto officers will be sent to Haileybury to question Reid.)

Provincial Constable G.S. Saumier, who arrested Reid at gunpoint, said he found 100 pounds of silver and three silver-plated iron nuggets in Reid's automobile Reid gave his address as Sudbury but is reported to have been born in Montreal.

Confine Physicist As "Lunatic"

NEW YORK (AP) — Bayard Peakes, the "eternal life" physicist who killed a pretty blonde secretary on the Columbia University campus, today was ordered confined as a lunatic.

Judge Edward J. McCullen committed him. Psychiatrists had found the 29-year-old Peakes so mentally deranged that he could not understand the murder charge against him.

Last July 14, Peakes walked into the offices of the American Physical Society, on the Columbia campus, and shot to death 18-year-old Eileen Fahey—a girl he had never seen before. He said later he was angry with the Society for not recognizing this theories on eternal life.

Urges TLC Continue Fight For Health Insurance Plan

WINNIPEG (CP)—A continuing struggle for a national health insurance plan, better working conditions for government employees and an unrelenting war on Communists in labor ranks were urged today by Percy R. Benough, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

He mapped this campaign in the keynote address, opening the annual T.L.C. convention here.

"After 30 years of agitation and recommendation we are still awaiting the formulation and implementation of a national health insurance plan," said Mr. Bengough. "Such a plan should be established on a national basis and we will continue to press the federal government for its adoption."

Mr. Bengough said at least 30,000 federal government employees are members of T.L.C. affiliates and the figure would be doubled if employees of crown corporations were included. A permanent committee had been set up to co-ordinate efforts on behalf of all government employees. Considerable progress had been made.

Within labor ranks there was a continuing danger from advocates of a government system based on slave labor. Calling themselves "progressives" these persons posed as champions of freedom and democracy.

"Yet they are committed to seek a system of state-owned and controlled company unions where the right to strike is non-existent, where wages and working conditions are arbitrarily set by the boss, and where the mildest of protests brings commitment to a slave labor camp."

The Congress must expose their treachery and duplicity and eliminate them from its organizations.

Quartette Steal Cruiser From 2 Constables

TORONTO (CP)—A suburban police officer was charged with armed robbery today and three other men were taken into custody after armed men forced two other policemen from their patrol car and drove away in it. Constable Ed Whittaker, with the Long Branch police department for the last three years, was charged with armed robbery in the taking of the Toronto township cruiser. The other men, all from suburban New Toronto, were not charged immediately.

Const. Whittaker was arrested at gunpoint as he left his home to "buy a paper" less than two hours after the cruiser theft. The others were later routed from their beds.

Toronto police said they will question the four in connection with other robberies in the district.

FOLLOWED CLUES

Consts. Jack Marshall and Bill Snarr of Toronto township said they followed a car after they noticed the rear licence plate turned down.

Later the car stopped and the two officers approached it to question the occupants.

Const. Marshall had started to draw his gun when a man in the back seat drew a gun on Snarr and Snarr warned Marshall not to fire.

Then the men piled out of the car and ordered the township officers to walk into the nearby bushes.

They said: "Dont't turn around or you'll get it," the township officers said later.

"We just crossed a small stream when we heard our cruiser and the other car both pulling away fast," Snarr said.

Const. Herbert Farr of the Ontario provincial police said he earlier had stopped to talk with a man he saw "tinkering with his car's rear licence plate."

He said he spotted Const. Whittaker in the back seat of the car.

"I knew him so we talked about generalities for a minute and I drove away."

Farr reported the incident after the cruiser was stolen.

The cruiser was found abandoned on Dixie road near the Toronto Golf Club, a few miles from the robbery scene, after patrol cars from nine police departments in the suburban districts west of Toronto joined the search.

BAIL TO BE HIGH

George Whittaker, father of the accused man, was told by police bail for his son would be high. He was told he could apply after the accused is transferred to Brampton jail later today.

Khamis Sparked Riots Sentenced To Hang

KAFR EL DAWAR, Egypt (Reuters)—A military court today sentenced Mustafa Khamis, described as ringleader of the cotton mill riots here last week, to death by hanging.

It was the first sentence passed by the court following the riots which wrecked the Misr cotton spinning and weaving mills and took nine lives.

Khamis was the self-styled leader of the workers.

When the court resumed its trial of 29 other mill workers today, it asked Dr. Hafey Afifi, former chief of Farouk's royal cabinet, to explain his "secret visit" to Kafr el Dawar the day before the riots broke out there.

Martin's Sister Named In Visa Scandal

WINDSOR (CP)—The Windsor Daily Star says today a Detroit resident told of paying $75 to Mrs. Nicholas Steigerwald of Windsor for a false bank statement in connection with his application for a United States visa.

Mrs. Steigerwald is the sister of Paul Martin, Minister of National Health and Welfare.

The Star's newspage story says Lawrence McKinnon, 39, a former Windsor resident, told U.S immigration officials that Mrs. Steigerwald told him to make a small deposit at the Windsor branch of the Provincial Bank of Canada. Manager of the bank was Roy H.F. McBride, who was dismissed July 31.

McKinnon said shortly afterward he was given a statement declaring he had "several thousand dollars" on deposit. McKinnon said he submitted this statement in connection with his visa application, and eventually received a visa with which he entered the U.S.

PAID $110

McKinnon said he paid Mrs. Steigerwald $110 for her services —$35 for work done and $75 for obtaining a false bank statement.

The Star says Mr. Martin "for some time... has been aware" that Mrs. Steigerwald was doing paper work in connection with visa applications but "has understood" she did the same work as many Windsor lawyers do.

The newspaper says that in 1948, because of rumors that Mrs Steigerwald was using his name as an inducement to prospective clients, Mr. Martin wrote Bernard Gotlie, then U.S. consul in Windsor, a letter "which placed him on record as knowing of his sister's actions and expressing personal disapproval of them."

He wrote again in 1951, The Star says, to Mr. Gotlieg's successor, asking that "strong measures" be taken to prevent the use of his (Mr. Martin's) name in connection with his sister's activities.

Queried on McKinnon's story, Mr. Martin said:

"I am deeply distressed to learn of stories in connection with my sister. I hope they are not true. Every family has its problems, I suppose. At any rate, I feel that I have done my best to prevent this situation from arising."

Jet Plane Delays Rush Hr. Traffic

TORONTO (CP)—A jet plane held up rush hour traffic today on the Queen Elizabeth Way at the western entrance to Toronto.

It was being towed from nearby Malton airport for display at the Canadian National Exhibition.

It moved down the highway at five to 10 miles an hour. Honking automobiles, unable to pass, tagged behind for two miles. Many motorists and passengers were late for work.

Private Badly Burned While Climbing Pole

HANNOVER, Germany (Reuters)—Pte. A.W. Smith of Ontario is on the dangerously ill list at the Military hospital here today after suffering severe burns when climbing up a high tension pole.

The accident occurred near Lueneburg Saturday. Why the 24-year-old soldier, who is married, clambered up the pole is not known.

A court of inquiry will be held.

Smith was struck by 15,000 volts of electric current and it was almost a miracle that he survived, the spokesman said.

He was serving with the 79th Field Regiment Royal Canadian Artillery, stationed at Hohne, in the British zone.

Young Swimmers Pass Tests At Lakefield

In spite of a steady rain on Saturday afternoon about 40 Lakefield youngsters went through their paces in swimming and water safety to acquire badges, pins and certificates.

The passing average was high, swimming examiner Gordon Minty of Peterborough said, and the three age groups, junior, intermediate and senior, went through their various routines in smart order.

Mr. Minty was assisted by Red Cross pool convener Mrs. Marjorie Wilford, instructor John Lickley and life guard Ronald Kingdon. In addition to the regular classes mentioned above, a Girl Guides proficiency test was successfully performed by Pat Jakins and a Brownie test by Betty Ann Paynton. Those who passed were:

Indonesians Warned Hard Times Ahead

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Soekarno yesterday warned Indonesia's 78,000,000 people—celebrating the seventh anniversary of their declaration of independence—that their young republic faces hard times and tough problems in the years ahead.

Seven years ago, Soekarno hoisted a red-and-white flag to proclaim Indonesia's independence after 300 years of Dutch rule.

But four more years of bitter fighting were to follow before Indonesia became in reality a free, self-governing nation joined loosely to the Dutch Union.

The same red-and-white flags fluttered yesterday from buildings, cars and outrigger canoes.

Speaking outside Merdeka palace, Soekarno described Indonesia's economic situation as "disappointing," its financial position as "sombre and precarious."

Typhoon Sweeps Across Korea

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Typhoon winds and rains bogged fighting and grounded planes in the Korea war today.

The centre of the storm, with winds up to 90 miles an hour, was expected to pass slightly south of Seoul tonight.

Counter-attacking Chinese won a hill outpost of the east-central front Sunday. It was the third time the hill, east of the Pukhan river, had changed hands in four days.

Buffalo Bus Drivers Out On Strike

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Two hundred A.F.L. bus drivers and mechanics went on strike against the Buffalo Transit Company today in a dispute over wages, hours and pension plans.

The strike tied up bus transportation between Buffalo and many of its suburbs. Buses within the city, operated by another company, were unaffected.

Division 1338, Amalgamated Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees Union, ordered the strike after negotiators were unable to agree on a new contract. The old contract expired last night.

Negotiators were three cents an hour apart when talks broke up.

Chou En-lai

MILITARY TALKS FOREMOST

It was evident that military questions would rank high among those taken up since Chou brought along the deputy chief of Peiping's general staff, Su Yui; his air force commander, Lyu Ya-low; deputy navy commander Lo Shun chu, and the deputy commander of artillery, Tsu Chuan.

Judging by others in the party, closer economic bonds will be sought also in the talks. Economic specialists with Chou included the minister of heavy industry, Wan Haou-shou, the minister of fuel, Chen Yui, the deputy minister of communications, Wang Cheng, the deputy minister of machine building, Pano Tao-han, and economic expert Li Fu-ghung.

Chou's last conference in Moscow, in January, 1950, preceded the Korean War by six months.

WANT CREDIT EXTENSION

The Chinese are almost certain to ask for an increase in their $300,000,000 credit for the purchase of Russian industrial transport and agricultural equipment and for more Soviet technical aid. They will likely seek also expansion of Soviet-Chinese trade to counter the West's partial blockade of China.

Clauses of the 1950 agreement providing for Russia to return the Port Arthur naval base and Manchurian Railway to China are due for discussion since the agreements were to be implemented either when the Japanese peace was concluded or by the end of 1952, whichever was earlier.

It is thought here that a Chinese request for the return of the base and railway will bring a sympathetic Soviet response.

Nature Uncooperative With B.C. Rainmakers

VANCOUVER (CP)—Rainmakers tackled a corner of British Columbia's vast forest-fire picture Saturday but nature wouldn't co-operate.

Clouds over a 1,500-acre fire and surrounding timber on central Vancouer Island were "seeded" with dry ice from an aircraft in the hope that the ice would condense the cloud vapor and turn it into rain.

But weather forecasters said conditions were not right. The operation did not produce rain.

Meanwhile, 1,500 firefighters use orthodox methods—muscle and machinery—to fight the other 145 fires as the province passed its 25th day without heavy rainfall.

Death Toll

First estimates put the property damage in the whole flooded area at more than $7,000,000.

The catastrophe's full force fell on Lynmouth, a picture postcard little holiday resort which turned into a boulder-strewn shambles when cloudbursts Friday changed the placid little Lyn into a torrent boiling through the main street.

The flood damage here alone was estimated at more than $2,000,000. Twenty houses and 20 hotels disappeared. At least 40 other houses were damaged.

Police sealed off the town to prevent looting. More than 2,500 villagers and holidayers were evacuated from the ghost village to inland ballrooms and halls hastily converted into refugee centres.

Five vacationists, including three Boy Scouts, were listed among the dead and nine vacationists among those missing and presumed dead.

TELL OF HORROR

Survivors from Lynmouth gave a graphic description of the terror that suddenly burst on them in the night.

Comedian Al Raie, appearing at the local music hall, told how the audience hurried out as the noise of the flood drowned a soprano's voice.

"I saw a chain of women walking hand in hand towards their hotel," Raie said. "Then the sidewalk disappeared, and the girl on the end of the chain was swept out to sea."

At one hotel, Phyllis Biggs, the manager, shepherded the scared guests through an upstairs window onto the roof. There, while the Lyn roared past beneath them and the hotel shuddered from boulders crashing against its walls, they huddled together and sang the hymn, "Oh God, Our Help in Ages Past."

FINDS FATHER FLOATING

Mrs. Ellen Jenkins, 36, was clambering inland when she saw a man, almost submerged by the flood, floating towards her. "I recognized him as my father and grabbed him by the shirt and managed to get him to dry land," she said.

Tom Floyd, 63, lost his wife, their son and daughter, the daughter's husband, and the young couple's two sons when their cottage was swept away.

Health Problem Worries Mayor

HAMILTON (CP)—Mayor Lloyd Jackson, worried by health and epidemic dangers in uncontrolled building south of the city limits on the mountain, has called in Dr. A.E. Berry, director of the sanitary engineering for the provincial department of health, to advise on future action.

Although he was hesitant to suggest annexation of the remainder of Barton Township as a solution to "controlled development," the Mayor quoted Hon. George Dunbar, minister of municipal affairs, as stating that municipalities in Hamilton's position should "control" outside areas who needed sewer and water services.

Meeking-Gibson Port Hope Nuptials

Of wide interest was the marriage Saturday in St. John's Anglican Church, Port Hope, of Florence Honor Claire, daughter of Mrs. and the late Mr. G. P. Gibson of Port Hope, to Mr. Jack Howard Meeking, son of Mrs. and the late Mr. Harry Meeking also of Port Hope. The Rev. J. M. Crisall officiated and Mr. E. Cohu presided at the organ. The church was attractively decorated with lilies and hydrangeas.

Mr. Henry F. White, cousin of the bride, gave her in marriage. She chose a gown of white French tulle over taffeta with a tulle shoulder cape and matching mittens. A scalloped headdress of the same material, appliqued with flowers and studded with pearls held her finger-tip veil. She carried a cascade of pink carnations, white sweet peas and sprengeri fern.

Mrs. W. G. Kerr of Toronto was matron of honor for her cousin. She wore a gown of orchid nylon net over taffeta with lace bodice and shoulder cape and matching Mary Queen of Scots headdress and mittens. Miss Constance Fraser, bridesmaid, was similarly attired in spring green. Both attendants carried nosegays of summer flowers.

Miss Linda Kerr was flower girl. She wore a dress of white nylon smocked in mauve, green and yellow, and carried a small nosegay of summer flowers. She was accompanied by her brother, Master Bill Kerr who acted as page boy.

Mr. Clifford Meeking, of Toronto, brother of the groom, was the groomsman and the ushers were: W. S. Meeking, W. G. Kerr, Herbert Girard and Bill Meeking Jr., all of Toronto.

The reception was held in Penrhyn, home of Miss Constance Fraser, where the guests were received by Mrs. Gibson, who wore a skipper blue nylon net over taffeta gown, skipper blue velvet hat and white accessories. Her corsage consisted of white carnations and sweet peas. She was assisted by Mrs. Meeking who was attired in mulberry faille with lace trim, a matching lace hat and gray accessories. Her corsage was of purple carnations.

For a motor trip through the New England States, the bride wore a suit of teal blue and white tweed with tan velvet hat, and tan, brown and beige accessories. Her corsage was of Talisman roses. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Meeking will take up residence in Port Hope.

Trading Remains Brisk On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO (CP)—Trading continued brisk in early afternoon stock market dealings today but prices slipped.

All sections weakened and industrials dropped more than a point in the first three hours. Golds slipped after reaching a two-year high and base metals also dipped after a firm opening. Western oils weakened.

Heavy trading in a few selected stocks boosted the volume and a fairly broad list moved. Volume for the first three hours totalled 1,883,000 shares.

Industrials slipped steadily after a Friday advance. Papers, utilities, steels, foods, liquors and banks weakened but agricultures and foods were firm. Most price changes were fractional.

Junior producers dipped but senior golds, prospects and holding companies held firm.

Selected base metals were also active. East-Rim advanced in a turnover of about 215,000 shares and Mayo traded 293,000 shares for penny losses.

The exchange's 1 p.m. indices showed industrials down 1.47 at 330.27, golds down .33 at 94.94, base metals down .26 at 198.74 and western oils down .40 at 139.72.

Constables Snarr and Marshall, both of whom recently joined the township force, said that about 4 a.m. they were making a routine check of a car with four "tough looking occupants" when they were held up. Const. Marshall later described what happened:

"Bill (Snarr) asked the driver of the car to get out. Next thing I knew the men had a gun in Bill's stomach and one of the others in the car was shouting at me to drop my gun.

"I ducked! Bill shouted: 'don't shoot, Jack,' but I took aim and started to back up. Then my foot caught on the sidewalk, I fell, my gun and flashlight fell out of my hands and my cap flew off. Someone shouted: 'don't reach for your gun.' Then I was grabbed."

Both officers apologized to their superiors for losing their cruiser and guns.

However, Chief Garnet Magill commended them for their actions and said they were "lucky to be alive."

The fight began after the officers arrested two men for causing a disturbance. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kosy of Kirkland Lake, and Mrs. Rita Komer, also of Kirkland Lake and wife of one of the arrested men argued about the arrest and refused to leave.

Kosy resisted arrest on a charge of obstructing and in the ensuing struggle the women "slapped and pulled," police said.

30,000 Rubber Workers Strike In U.S.

AKRON, O. (AP)—The United Rubber Workers (C.I.O.) today went on strike against the B. F. Goodrich Co. but continued contract negotiations with the firm.

The walkout—ordered by the union last night—was first felt in Akron where 13,000 of the 30,000 involved are employed.

Affected by the strike order were nine of the company's 30 plants—those engaged in processing rubber. Goodrich also has chemical and aircraft plants covered by other unions.

Negotiations, scheduled to resume later today, have been going on for 10 weeks.

OFFER 10 CENTS

Goodrich has offered 10-cent hourly pay increases, the same as granted earlier by Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., U.S. Rubber Co., General Tire and Rubber Co, and Sieberling Rubber Co.

The union says the average Goodrich pay now is about $1.80 an hour.

In dispute are fringe issues in the Goodrich pact. After failing to reach agreement on those, the union called out its members.

Strike action was authorized by production workers July 15 when the old contract expired but the actual call was left to the negotiating committee and the union's executive board.

The union said the fringe issues involve holiday pay, grievance procedure, reporting for work, vacations and other matters. A union publication here claimed the company had offered the 10-cent increase only "if we agree to the impossible contract terms dictated by the company."

L. S. Buckmaster, union president, declared the wage-increase offer "was tied into contract proposals which are not comparable to other agreements in existence with most other rubber companies."

DENY UNION CLAIM

A spokesman for the firm said it was not true that it had proposed "contract provisions which are less liberal than those in our old contract."

Besides the plants here, the strike was ordered for factories at Cadillac, Mich.; Tuscaloosa, Ala.; Miami, Okla.; Clarksville, Tenn.; Oaks, Pa.; Marion, O.; Riverside, N.J., and Los Angeles.

Peace Congress Holds 2-Day Session

TORONTO (CP)—The National Council of the Canadian Peace Congress yesterday ended a two-day convention under the chairmanship of James Endicott.

The Council agreed to call on all Canadian citizens to participate in the World Congress of the Peoples for Peace to be held in Vienna in December.

The delegates from Regina, Welland, Guelph, Kingston, Hamilton, Ottawa, Toronto and Montreal discussed, with no final decision, the desirability of a protest to the Canadian government over the United States decision in the United Nations to give no pledges not to use atomic, chemical and bacteriological weapons against an aggressor until strict international control had become a reality. They viewed a film from China, purporting to show evidence of germ warfare in Korea.

Girl Found Guilty Of Concealing Birth

COBOURG (ENS) — A young Grafton girl, charged with concealing a birth, appeared for sentence on Friday before Magistrate R. B. Baxter and was allowed on suspended sentence for a term of three years.

The unmarried girl concealed her condition from her father and mother until after the child was born. She was unattended during delivery of the child and the infant died.

Magistrate Baxter pointed out that she should have availed herself of the institutional care offered unwed mothers but expressed the opinion that she had been punished enough by her experience and it would serve no useful purpose to commit her to a reformatory for women.

Besides 650 bales of hay, some pigs owned by Mervin Becker, R.R. 1, Blair, were burned. Ayr firemen kept flames from the house.

50,000 Workers Vote To Leave Union

WASHINGTON (AP)—Anthony Valente, president of the United Textile Workers (A.F.L.) said yesterday more than 50,000 textile workers have voted since last May to leave the Textile Workers Union (C.I.O.) executive board which last week passed a resolution saying the A.F.L. unions are engaged in raiding operations "almost without precedent in America."

The bitter fight between the two unions was touched off when George Baldanzi, former executive ice-president of the C.I.O. union, lost a bid for the presidency of the C.I.O. union last April. Rieve retained the job for himself in the unit's convention despite a large vote cast for Baldanzi, whereupon Bandanzi was hired by Valente as the A.F.L. union's organizational director.

The Rieve-Baldanzi split had its echo in Canadian labor circles when representatives of some 5,000 textile workers in the Hamilton local announced last May that the workers had voted to secede from the parent C.I.O. union.

Tried To Prevent Fight Fined On Driving Count

COBOURG (ENS)—One of his passengers was arguing with his father-in-law and he was trying to keep an eye on them to prevent them coming to blows, and watch the road at the same time, was the explanation of Harvey York of Toronto, charged with careless driving. Magistrate R. B. Baxter ruled that, by the defendant's own evidence, he was not paying due attention to the road, and fined him $15 and costs or 15 days.

Provincial Constable R. Tremill said that he was driving along No. 28 near Bewdley when he saw a half-ton truck of ancient vintage going all over the road. At one time it nearly forced the police car off the road. When he intercepted the truck there were four people, including the driver, in the front seat of the small cab.

Movie Column

Takes TV To Get Peggy Lee Into Movies

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It took television and a broken marriage to do it, but Peggy Lee has finally been snagged by the movies.

The blonde singer is playing the leading role opposite Danny Thomas in "The Jazz Singer." What's more, she has signed for two pictures a year for Warners with an option for another.

"One of the reasons I didn't want to do movies (before) was that I was married (to Dave Barbour) at the time. I was already involved in too many things. I knew that if it added movies to them, it might be the last straw that would break up the marriage. As it was, the marriage broke up anyway.

SHY CANARY

"Another reason was that I just couldn't face it. Getting up before an audience had always been torture for me. I always had to give myself a pep talk before I went out to sing. Once I started singing I felt fine."

How did a girl with such fear of audiences get started in the singing business?

"Ever since I can remember, I had a desire to sing," she explained. "I had a driving urge to express myself in song, and it pushed me on, even though I was scared to death of performing before people."

Peggy also credits television with helping to conquer her uneasiness. She spent a year or two in New York on various shows.

Unity At U.N. Seen Fading

NEW YORK (AP)—John Foster Dulles expressed doubt yesterday that two-party unity can be maintained in the United States delegation to the United Nations if Republicans are attacked for "mistakes" after following instructions of a Democratic president.

Dulles, one of the Republican party's foremost foreign-policy experts, cited himself as a victim of such Democratic attacks.

He asserted that only the "fair play" policies of a Republican administration could preserve the U.N. delegation's bipartisan unity if the Democrats persist in such practices.

Dulles' views were contained in a letter to Senator Paul H. Douglas, Illinois Democrat. In an address to the Democratic national convention, Douglas had criticised Dulles' work as a U.N. delegate.

Burlington Span Opened

BURLINGTON (CP) — Bridgemaster Bert Hockridge, anxious to get back to work, opened the new span across the canal here Saturday, one hour ahead of schedule. The new bridge, replacing one knocked down by a freighter in April, was slated for opening at 6 p.m. Traffic, detoured through Hamilton during the last four months, was soon back to normal on the bridge.

Two Die In Well

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—A farmer-father and his stepson died while cleaning out a well at their home near here Saturday. The stepson, Samuel F. Pitcher, 15, died of suffocation, mired head-first up to his knees in muck at the bottom of the shaft. The stepfather, William E. Reynolds, 36, died of gas poisoning, his legs locked around a cross-pipe six feet down from which he hung in a futile effort to reach the boy.

Church Garden Parties

Many people attended two garden parties last week at St. Patrick's Church, Kinmount, and St. Aloysius Church in Fenelon Falls. Winners of draw prizes were Mrs. Thomas Jinkinson, Fenelon Falls, $25; Douglas Sadler, Fenelon Falls, $20, Miss Kay Keogh, Toronto, $15; Charles Allen, Kinmount, $10; William Towns, Douro, $10 and Miss Margaret Denny, Fenelon Falls, $5.

Lightning Bolt Starts Disastrous Fire

BURNS LAKE, B.C. (CP)—From this Boer Mountain lookout Jack Mowat saw a bolt of lightning slam into timber crackling with thirst. A finger of smoke announced the birth of a forest fire.

Mowat radioed the news to forestry headquarters here.

Woodsmen were ordered into the bush, to locate the fire, study the terrain and blaze a route for the firefighters who would follow.

That was 10 days ago. But even the beacon of a savage forest fire can be dimmed in wilderness which roams over tens of thousands of square miles. They didn't find the outbreak until last Sunday.

FIRE FLAMED SWIFTLY

The fire nursed on the dry scars of old logging operations, treacherous ancient burns and a fortune of spruce and pine.

The first firefighters were greeted by a wind which changed the course of the fire dozens of times in a 24-hour period.

Tuesday the wind sent the flames bulldozing toward the settlement of Tintagel, on the highway to Prince Rupert. A change in the wind saved the town.

TWO DIE IN FLAMES

It was still an uncontrolled inferno and Wednesday night or Thursday morning one and probably two lives were lost under a deadly streamer of flame.

Eight men were hacking out a fire trail with bulldozers when a sudden gust of wind sent a curtain of flame racing through the treetops, surrounding them.

Their only avenue of escape was through the fire to a burned-out spot. Six got through. But Howard Gordon and J. H. Hunter took what they believed to be a shorter route. Gordon's body was found later. There has been no trace of Hunter and he is feared dead.

Friday the 200 firefighters got a partial break from the weather. There was no rain but the humidity increased and the nights grew cooler. The wind died.

As of today th fire was still uncontrolled. But, after hurtling over an estimated 35,000 acres and possibly more, it was making no appreciable headway.

German Artist Experimented For One Year

PRESCOTT, Ont. (CP)—Just a year ago a 33-year-old German artist landed in Canada with his wife. He had $3 and hope for the future.

Yesterday Wilfred Greiner had built a ceramics plant and has created many fine pieces of pottery, but is too much of a perfectionist to put any of his work on sale yet.

With money saved from working in a glove factory, he built his own kilns and adapted a potter's wheel from part of a treshing machine. Mile Gold, owner of the glove factory, gave him space in which to work.

Greiner has fashioned colorful glazes, wall plates and ornamental horses, but he says he is only experimenting. He isn't used to working with the type of clay and glazes he gets here.

Police Keep Watch Cobourg Free Robbers

COBOURG (ENS)—Every place likely to be attractive to safe-crackers was watched carefully by constables on night patrol Saturday and Sunday. On the Aug. 4 weekend, the Park Theatre safe was cracked and over $1,000 stolen and on the following Sunday night an attempt to crack the brewery warehouse safe was foiled when a constable on night patrol scared them off. This past weekend, police redoubled their efforts to nab anybody contemplating a safe cracking job. Police made repeated visits during the night to the brewery warehouse and other places of business. They checked on strangers hanging around the streets late at night but apparently Cobourg was not on the list for this weekend or else the police vigilance frightened them off.

2 Fishermen Drowned

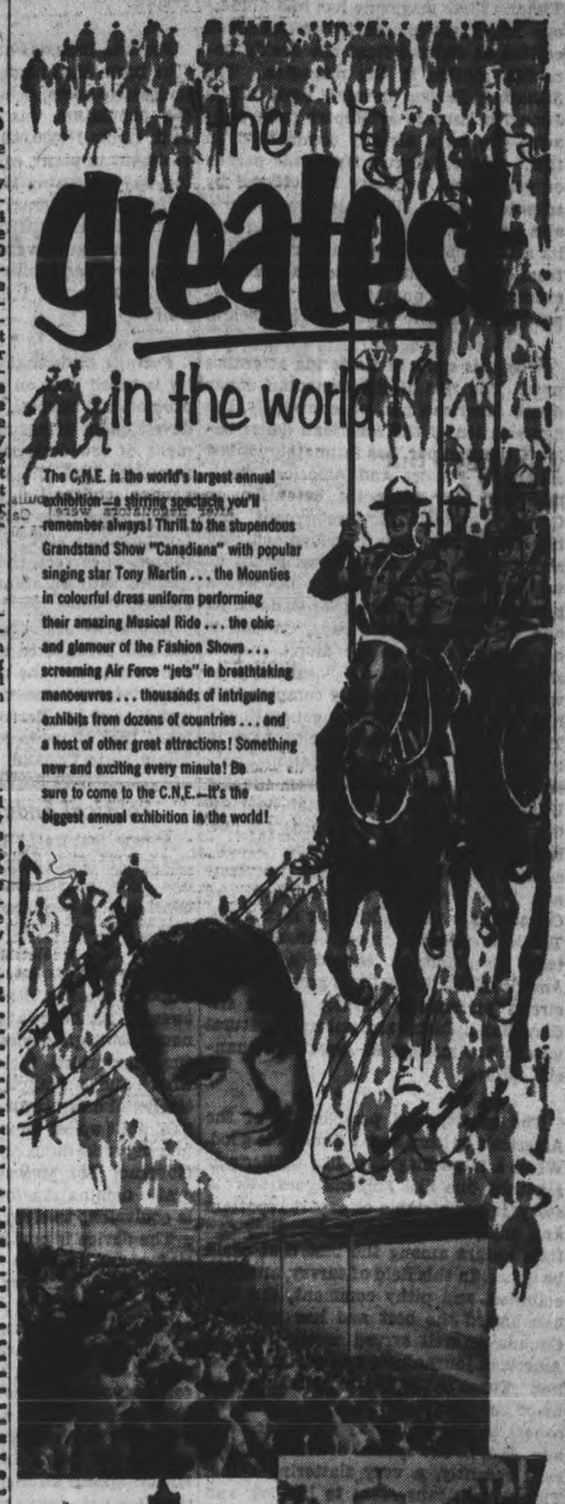
They Won't Be Saucers



WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. navy sought yesterday to forestall a rash of flying-saucer reports by announcing plans to launch a series of cross-country balloon flights this week. The primary purpose of the flight is to "study atmospheric radio wave propagations characteristic by use of balloon-borne electronic equipment," the navy said in a news release.

Canada's First Mail Flight Ended In Crash In U.S.A.

HIGH RIVER, Alta. (CP)—John Palmer and an old girl named Jenny have a pretty solid spot in Canadian aviation history. On June 27, 1922, to the plaudits of a Lethbridge crowd, they took off with 150 pounds of envelopes on Canada's first sanctioned airmail flight.

Old Jenny, the airplane has long since made her last landing. But the 56-year-old Palmer still sees sunrises and sunsets over airplane controls. He has played his part in the skies in two wars and pioneered prairie and mountain flying.

Palmer, who operates an electrical business when he isn't flying, still has the enthusiasm he had that bright June day when he took off from Lethbridge with those envelopes.

SHORT TRIP

His destination was Ottawa but he never got there because of a woman driver. At that time, flying routes were haphazard, and an oil company had arranged caches of aviation fuel at various points on the route.

The night of June 27 Palmer made Weyburn, Sask., for his first stop. He took off again next morning but after checking through customs at Portal, N.D., he was over Minot when Jenny developed a wheeze.

Palmer landed, repaired Jenny's ailing valves and took off on a test flight. A woman drove onto his landing field to get a better look and Palmer wrecked Jenny's undercarriage trying to avoid the car.

The mail was delivered to Ottawa by train. Palmer took Jenny back to Lethbridge on a flatcar and that was the end of Canada's first airmail flight.

Palmer served with the Royal Flying Corps in the First World War and afterwards helped to form Southern Alberta Air Lines.

The Alberta government in those days—as now—forbade liquor advertising. Palmer filled this gap for the manufacturer of a product called Purple Label beer by buying a purple aircraft to deliver the stuff and take distributors on courtesy flights. From that grew Western Airways.

Palmer then branched out on his own with flying training schools in the mountains and pioneered mountain flying with the forestry patrol until 1939. After an instructing stint during the Second World War, he now flies with the High River club, adding to the log of 14,700 hours tallied since he began flying in 1916.

The United States Discovers Canada

"The third largest piece of real estate in the world." It is a startlingly unusual description of Canada, but apparentaly Americans are startled to discover that Canada is "A powerful, prosperous, attractive, self-confident country . . . sixth among the industrial producers of the world and probably exerts more influence than any other nation of her size in modern history" and these Americans must use unusual phrases to describe "the flattened edge of the polar axis . . . a vast, rich buffer zone between the despotism of the East and the Liberty of the West". They say: "It is dangerous for us, the citizens of the United States, to remain as ignorant of Canada, its peoples, their hopes and fears, as we are today". The United States is discovering Canada.

* * *

The discovery is being proclaimed from some of the highest rooftops in the United States. The Wall Street Journal was one of the first American publications to tout Canada's post-war development and place in the sun. Two special articles appeared later in the New York Times. Time magazine has had numerous important pieces in its American edition as distinct from the weekly Canadian section in the magazine. The Saturday Review devoted most of its June 7th issue to a "Report from Canada"—we have already commented on this. In their August issues the parade of praise and publicity is climaxed by seventeen pages, illustrated, in Collier's, and a survey, comprising more than half its articles, by Fortune magazine. It is from Collier's and Fortune that we have extracted the quotations in the first paragraph, and to which we refer below.

* * *

Why this spate of flattering attention now? The rise of the Canadian dollar above American par, or, conversely, the depreciation of the American dollar below Canadian par, has intimately jabbed American visitors and American businessmen into pin-point attention to Canada's industrial development and her resources. This development, and also Canadian pride—yes, we might as well say pride—in our dollar has been a psychological experience for Canada. As one writer in Collier's says, Canada is discovering muscles she didn't suspect she possessed, and is "beginning to waken from an inferiority complex that has stunted its growth for generations". This awakening, these muscles, have in turn created a new kind of national sentiment and voice, which even the big United States is feeling and hearing. Canadian sensitivity and words are now being heeded across the border. Americans are coming to recognise that Canada is a powerful, rich country and Canadians a people in their own right. The Massey Report on our Canadian cultural development caused a stir in American intellectual and governmental circles perhaps as notable as the stir Canadian industry and unturned natural wealth are making in American financial circles.

* * *

The quality and perspicacity of the American writing about Canada is good. When a large magazine like Collier's or a plushy one like Fortune goes after a story, it has a stable of expert reporters and analysts, and the reports they can turn up are among the best that could be done. In this field of survey, analysis, collation and pithy comment, the U.S. can afford the best and has the best. Canada is well served when the best American journalistic eyes are turned on her. There is this further advantage to us of such articles; we see ourselves as others see us, a healthy thing for Canada, and, in the special articles we have read recently, a very flattering thing. These Americans seem to like us, and moreover, to hold us in respect. It is nice to know these things.

* * *

John Lear in Collier's bases his analysis of Canada's "four personalities" on four figureheads; it is an illuminating selection. Vincent Massey is taken to represent the Anglophile Canadian, L. B. Pearson, the Canadian-Canadian of English tongue, Prime Minister St. Laurent, the French-Canadian tradition, and C. D. Howe the American-Canadian influence. Mr. Massey is "most introspective of the four".

Foreigners who thought they knew and understood Canadians has never noticed a great deal of difference between them and their southern neighbours beyond a certain almost intangible reticence, a general preference for quieter amusement, a faintly smug conviction that their government is more responsible than ours because it is always run by the political party that has a majority vote in the House of Commons, and a keener awareness of subtle variations in world opinion.

But Massey saw a unique Canadian quality and fought to save it.

Mr. St. Laurent, "quiet, shrewd old barrister," speaks for all Canada yet is representative of French-Canada "the biggest single political influence in the country". The writer analyses the French-Canadian spirit, view and their overflow into neighbouring provinces.

Mr. Pearson "wears a bow tie—which, for a Canadian foreign minister is downright Bohemian". (Mr. Pearson seems lately to have given up his bow tie.) This sketch serves to provide an examination of Canada's external policies.

* * *

The fourth figure in the article is the Right Hon. C. D. Howe, an American by birth. "It is entirely correct to say that Howe designed modern Canada."

The four men figure largely in the Fortune articles, too. This magazine, directed at business men and executives, understandably deals more fully with commercial, industrial and financial developments in Canada. Canada, the fifth-largest plane manufacturer. Canada whose steel capacity is being increased to 4,700,000 tons, twice the pre-war figure. Canada of the C.P.R. and its "most fortunate investment", the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of British Columbia, the world's largest single producer of zinc, lead and silver. Canada's "No. 1 Industry"—pulp and paper—whose output last year was worth $1.2 billion and provided more than half the world's newsprint. Canada's celanese empire. Canada of the northern mines, of the Labrador-Quebec iron deposits (a $200 million development by 1954); the oil boom; petrochemicals on the prairies (near Edmonton); the world's largest aluminum plant at Kitimat: oil, rubber and chemicals at Sarnia. These aspects of Canadian development are illustrated in full-page colour photographs.

* * *

Fortune includes an article analysing "the boom that made Canada". It is an impressive boom, says the article. While the population was increasing 21 per cent. (from 11,600,000 to 14 million), investment in plant, equipment and housing was increasing 153 per cent. in real terms, gross national product was quadrupling in money terms, and doubling in real terms, and average income, in real terms, was increasing by about fifty per cent. "Even the U.S. has not done so well".

* * *

Fortune finds that Canadian prosperity is based "not on gross inflation and promotional bubbles, but on the rational development of her magnificent endowment of low-cost natural resources — resources that the Western world and particularly the U.S. will need more and more as the years roll by. If the Paley Commission's study of U.S. natural resources is correct, the future belongs to nations with an abundance of raw materials".

And so we see ourselves at others see us, and perhaps in a clearer light—we can understand the significance of "the third largest piece of real estate in the world", and Mr. Bernard Baruch's statement that if he were a young man he would go to Canada.

Political Endurance Tests

A new feature of United States politics is a form of endurance contest which has been named the "talkathon". It consists of a candidate sitting down before a battery of telephones and microphones and answering questions from the electorate. Anyone may call and ask any question desired, for as long as twenty-four hours at a stretch. And this new campaign device has just won its first important victory, in Arkansas, where Judge Francis Cherry, comparatively unknown before the campaign began, built up an impressive following by holding talkathons and defeated popular Governor Sid McMath for the Democratic nomination for Governor—which is equivalent to election in Arkansas.

The device is now being used in other states, and in some television also has been added. Whether it will prove uniformly successful or not will not become apparent until the campaign is far more advanced, but in Arkansas, at least, it appeared to have a strange fascination for the voters. Why being able to telephone a candidate, ask any imaginable question, and receive a reply over the air, even at four o'clock in the morning, should appeal strongly to a great many people is not easy to understand, but the people of Arkansas kept the wires hot as long as the talkathons were on the air.

It may be that the talkathon will prove just another fad, like dance marathons, flagpole sitting and goldfish swallowing. On the other hand, it may become a permanent feature of American politics, that would no doubt be regarded as a valuable contribution. Certainly it should develop great powers of endurance among candidates and broaden their acquaintanceship with encyclopaedias.

NOTES AND COMMENT

"Hardware stores have a very low rate of failure."—trade note. This may be due to the fact that hardware rarely spoils, and that there is seldom any appreciable change in the style of hammers, saws, squares, and so forth.

Czech Rulers Purge Ranks

By RICHARD LOWENTHAL

THE LATEST REMOVALS of Communist officials in Czechoslovakia, above all of dozens of trade union leaders, suggest real difficulties, not in the Communist leadership, but between the regime and the working masses of the country.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE WESTERN WORLD has got so used to a constant stream of "purge news" from Russia's East European satellites that few people now take any interest when the removal of yet another group of unknown Communist officials, or the threatening pronouncements of yet another police chief, are reported. But what has been happening in the last few weeks in Czechoslovakia is rather out of the ordinary, both in the scale and the manner of the housecleaning. Having purged more than sixty Communist Party secretaries as well as many leading Communist officials only last December, after the arrest of the Communist Party Secretary, Rudolf Slansky, the rulers of Czechoslovakia deposed the entire trade union leadership last month, and are now proceeding to do the same with the leaders of the Communist youth organisation.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE PROCESS seems destined to become as comprehensive and almost as self-propagating as the great Russian purges of the 'thirties. For instance, the chairman of the trade union council, Fero Zupka, who has now been deposed, had risen to his post only last year as a reward for his merit in helping to purge the Slovak nationalist opposition. But, in contrast to the great Russian witch hunt, many of the people now removed are not accused of being enemies of the regime, they are only demoted as failures. Zupka himself, for instance, has been merely shifted back to Bratislava to resume control of the Slovak unions from which he rose to his recent eminence. In a few recent cases, like that of the youth leader Hejclar, the charge is still that of conspiracy with Slansky; in the majority of the cases, it is merely one of imcompetence.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE FIRST impression conveyed is that the regime is making the union leaders responsible for widespread failures of production. Figures of the underfulfilment of the national economic plan are liberally cited; special cases of the Moravska Ostrova coal mines and the Gottwald steelworks are mentioned as warning examples. But an examination of the statistics shows that some of these "failures" are artificially fabricated: in fact Czech heavy industry is far ahead of the original five-year plan laid down in the autumn of 1948 — it is only compared with the constant upward revisions of the target imposed by Russia that it has fallen behind. The original plan provided for a 66 per cent increase in heavy industrial output by the end of 1953; early last year, the target was almost doubled to 130 per cent; yet in December the head of the plan commission asked for 150 per cent of the 1948 level to be reached in 1952.

✧ ✧ ✧

WHAT IS HAPPENING then is not a failure of the Czech workers to produce what could have been reasonably expected of them, but an increasingly frantic effort to make them achieve the impossible. The effort is accompanied by steady changes of the wage system—hourly rates have almost disappeared, and the norms on which piece-rates are being constantly revised upwards. It is estimated that during the past year average wages have dropped by one-quarter even while productivity has been rising, and at the same time the food supply is estimated to be about 20 per cent below that of 1947, before the beginning of the plan. It is only natural that a limit is finally being reached in that process—a limit that seems to be showing itself in a rising percentage of wasted production as workers react to the incessant driving by poor quality output, in growing resistance to further wage reductions and norm increases, and in mass grumbling. This grumbling has during the last six months spread even to the Communist rank and file and broken down the psychological barriers hitherto separating them from other groups of the population.

THIS PICTURE, pieced together from available figures and reports filtering out of Czechoslovakia, has now been fully confirmed by the text of the warning speech which the Czechoslovak Prime Minister, Zapotocky, himself an old Communist leader, made to his former colleagues about one month before the trade union purge. The Premier complained that the unions had not fulfilled their promise to link wage increases with increases in output. Between the end of 1946 and that of 1948, he said, wages had risen by 70 per cent, production by only 50 per cent. In the following three years there had been a certain improvement, but wages were still ahead at double the 1946 level, whereas production had not doubled yet. The failure of the unions was that they had not fought more effectively against "the wrong idea that his wage should enable any worker to buy his rations and compete for extra food on the free market, independently of the value of his "output"—in other words that the wage should be a fair living wage. Instead both some unions and managements had given in so much to the pressure from below that the State Wages Commission had sometimes been isolated: in some cases management and union groups inside a factory had even conspired to fix deliberately easy norms so as to be able to pay for over-fulfilment, or to claim wages for more workers than were actually employed and distribute the surplus.

TO APPRECIATE the flavour of these statements one must bear in mind the steep rise in food prices during the period reviewed by Zapotocky. What has really happened is that the drive to expand heavy industry has been carried out at the expense of the supply of foodstuffs and consumer goods to the population; nominal wages were intended to lag behind prices at a rate corresponding to the planned lowering of the level of consumption. It has not been possible to keep them quite as low as was planned—and now the unions are held responsible for the resulting inflationary pressure.

TWO REFLECTIONS are suggested by all this: one comforting and the other disturbing. Czechoslovakia is the only Communist controlled country which has memories of a successful democratic regime, of an old tradition of industrial development, of free trade union action, and of a Western standard of living. That Czechoslovakia unions have to be purged four years after the Prague coup for failing to perform their new function as a kind of "performance police" suggests that these memories are not yet erased and that the old technique of passive resistance has not been altogether forgotten by the Czech workers. That is why the purge in Czechoslovakia is taking place on a scale unknown in the other satellite countries.

✧ ✧ ✧

BUT THE FACT that the regime dares to state its intentions as blatantly as Zapotocky has done, that it does not shy from openly deposing the entire, allegedly elected, trade union leadership by decree from above and increasing direct police control of the factories at the same time, suggests that it is determined to break this resistance now, however unpopular its actions may be. The Communist leaders seem to have made up their minds that it is better to get certain internal conflicts over and done with now, whatever the cost, rather than let them drag on. That impression is given not only in the treatment of the unions, and not only in Czechoslovakia: all over eastern Europe the tightening of frontier control, the liquidation of the remnant of the middle class by deportations, the new drive for collectivisation of farming and even the renewal of the anti-religious campaign, conform to the same pattern. It is not a policy which the Communist regimes would risk if they felt they were on the eve of a war—then they would make concessions for the sake of national unity. But it is a policy designed to make the satellite States as "monolithic" as the Soviet Union in the shortest possible time—in case of any conflict that may loom in the future.

Racehorses From Pakistan

By O. M. GREEN

IN A RECENT trade report from Pakistan, amid such uninspiring things as jute, cotton, cereals and the like, one finds a lively note that "Pakistani horses are in great demand in many countries where horseracing is allowed."

Pakistani bloodstock is expected to make its debut this year in Ceylon and Mauritius and negotiations are going on with East Africa (which parts is not stated) for the sale of Pakistani horses.

Behind this news lies a romantic history going back nobody knows how many centuries. Just the only remaining lions on the Indian sub-continent are found in the little State of Junagardh in the peninsula of Kathiawar, northwards of Bombay, so only on the fertile plains around Renala in the Montgomery district of West Punjab, with their abundant grazing grounds and equable climate, is horse-breeding successfully practised. Horses are bred elsewhere on the sub-continent—and one must not forget the staunch little Indian pony from the far north—but they have not the stamina of the Pakistani horse and are liable to troublesome complaints from which the Renala beast is practically immune.

Looking back into the traditions of Renala, where archaeologists have shown that an extremely high civilisation flourished about 3,000 B.C. It does not seem unlikely that Harappa imported Arab horses; and such a likely spot as Renala may well have suggested breeding. In recent times the Arabs, which had been the traditional horses of Renala, were crossed with walers (horses imported, especially for cavalry, from New South Wales) to produce a horse slightly smaller than the average English riding or carriage horse, quite distinctive in appearance, tough and tractable.

From the middle of the 19th century cavalry requirements of the Indian Army were all mounted on horses from the Punjab and until the First World War every recruit had to supply his own horse, for which he was, of course, paid. Afterwards the Remount Department of the Army, which also imported walers, provided the Army's horses.

But it is interesting to recall that, with the British Government's development of the great irrigation of the Punjab, every colonist on the new lands was given fifty six acres with the proviso that he must keep a mare in good condition for breeding, the offspring being sold to the Army. Some villagers made a lot of money, others, less energetic, little or none.

Breeding of thoroughbreds was started at Renala about thirty years ago; and in 1923 the National Horse Breeding and Show Society of India was founded by Major-General Sir Bernard James, to promote the interests of horse-breeders, improve the breeds of horses, ponies and mules, and start an Indian stud book. The bloodstock industry at Renala developed rapidly. In the Bombay racing season of 1950 it provided 569 horses against only twenty nine foreign ones. And the locally-bred horses well held their own against foreign rivals.

Harvesting Begins

(Lethbridge Herald)

It's cheering news to hear that the 1952 harvest has started. That's a couple of weeks ahead of normal.

It's more cheering when it is learned that the crop—in this case, rye—is showing a high yield. A Medicine Hat field yielded between 30 and 35 bushels per acre which could be considered a bumper crop of rye. And the grade was good. Rye at Burdett is being delivered which weighs two pounds over the standard for that cereal.

With harvest started in the Southeast country, it will be only a matter of weeks until that operation is general. The early yield reports would indicate that high yield expectations are likely to be met in most areas.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And the Lord said unto Samuel, How long wilt thou mourn for Saul, seeing I have rejected him from reigning over Israel? fill thine horn with oil, and go, I will send thee to Jesse the Beth-lehemite: for I have provided me a king among his sons . . . And Samuel did that which the Lord spake, and came to Beth-lehem. And the elders of the town trembled at his coming, and said, Comest thou peaceably? And he said, Peaceably: I am come to sacrifice unto the Lord: sanctify yourselves, and come with me to the sacrifice. And he sanctified Jesse and his sons, and called them to sacrifice.

And it came to pass, when they were come, that he looked on Eliab, and said, Surely the Lord's anointed is before him. But the Lord said unto Samuel, Look not on his countenance, or on the height of his stature; because I have refused him: for the Lord seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart . . . Again Jesse made seven of his sons to pass before Samuel. And Samuel said unto Jesse, The Lord hath not chosen these.

And Samuel said unto Jesse, Are here all thy children? And he said, There remaineth yet the youngest, and, behold, he keepeth the sheep. And Samuel said unto Jesse, Send and fetch him: for we will not sit down till he come hither. And he sent, and brought him in. Now he was ruddy, and withal of a beautiful countenance, and goodly to look to. And the Lord said, Arise, anoint him: for this is he. Then Samuel took the horn of oil, and anointed him in the midst of his brethren: and the Spirit of the Lord came upon David from that day forward. (I Sam. 16:1, 4-7, 10-13.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Thus said the Lord, Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches: but let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth, and knoweth me, that I am the Lord which exercise loving-kindness, judgement, and righteousness, in the earth for in these things I delight, said the Lord. (Jer. 9:23, 24.)

'World Union Station'

(Sydney Post-Record)

Sydney Airport became a world union station of aerial transport Sunday night when, within four hours, a dozen trans-Atlantic clippers paused here for servicing.

In those few hours 632 passengers passed through these portals—this gateway between the wide ocean and North America. Aircraft of Britain, France, the Netherlands, the United States and Canada were in the winged procession. At one time 10 trans-ocean planes were on the Sydney ramp. It was a stirring scene.

When Gander in Newfoundland is closed Sydney Airport takes up the extra burden smoothly and efficiently. That's exactly what it was built to do.

"Gertrude, my sweet, it seems I am not the only one who ignores his loved one's advice about a balanced diet."

32 Fatalities Total Toll Over Weekend

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Thirty-two persons were killed in Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick this week-end. The toll—one of this summer's highest for a non-holiday week-end—included two persons slain in Ontario.

Traffic accidents took 18 lives and six persons were drowned. A Canadian Press survey early today showed Ontario had 19 deaths, Quebec 11 and New Brunswick 2. Ten persons died in Ontario traffic and six were drowned.

A Toronto man was clubbed to death with a crowbar and his wife charged with murder, while another man was robbed and shot to death in his taxi at Maxville, 30 miles northeast of Cornwall.

TOURISTS LOSE LIVES

Three United States tourists were among those killed on Ontario highways.

Eastern Canada counted 26 dead last weekend.

Killed in Ontario traffic accidents: Mrs. Sadie McDonald of Elk Lake near Matachewan; George Lewis Eberts, 26, of Windsor at Thamesville; Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Wagner of Clayton, O., near Brantford; Frank Caron of Wallaceburg near Chatham, Richard Glenn Murray, 18, of Buffalo, N.Y., at Wasaga Beach; Lawrence Peppiat, 14, near his home in Kingston; John Lutz; 49, near his home in Sarnia. Edward Caskennette, 16, and William Renner, 14, both of Preston at Guelph.

SIX DROWN

Ontario drownings: Lionel Palero, 20, of Toronto in Severn River at Beaverton; Bobby Rankin, 3, in Lake Superior at Sault Ste. Marie; Hugh Kirkconnell, 21, of Kincardine in Lake Huron; Joseph Willems, 3, of Richmond Hill in the St. Lawrence River at Kingston; an unidentified man in the Upper St. Mary's river at Sault Ste. Marie.

Murray Donald Mann, Jr., of Strathroy was fatally injured when thrown from his motorcycle on a race track at nearby Melbourne. Leonard Hurd, 41, was found shot to death in his taxi near his home in Maxville. Mike Maydan, 65, was found with his head crushed by a crow bar at his home in Toronto. His 64-year-old wife, Ann was later charged with murder.

Top Politicians Touring Quebec

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's two top political figures, Prime Minister St. Laurent and Progressive Conservative leader George Drew, are making simultaneous visits this week to Quebec where two federal by-elections are scheduled for Oct. 6. Both will make a number of speeches although neither will directly touch the by-election ridings of Montreal-Outremont and Richelieu-Vercheres.

Mr. Drew's trip actually began last Thursday when he went to Valleyfield and to Outremont-St. Jean and St. Denis, west of Montreal, Friday. Next Friday he sets out again for Stanstead and Shefford and Quebec-Montmorency and won't be back until the following Tuesday.

Mr. St. Laurent began his trip Saturday from his summer home at St. Patrick, Que. It will last four days and will take him to St. Simeon, Arvida, Monquiere, I'lle Maligne, St. Joseph d'Alma, St. Bruno, Kenogami and Chicoutimi.

Trapped In Mud

BURNHAM-ON-SEA, England (AP)—For 10 hours Brig John Ross, trapped chest deep in mud on the beach here, watched the tide slowly creep toward him when the water was only a yard away, the tide began to fall. Ross, who sank in the mud after falling off the sea wall, eventually was rescued by firemen.

Paid No Bill, Left Man Pays Court $112

BANCROFT (ENS)—Lloyd McAuliffe, 25, Point Au Baril, Ontario, was fined $10 plus costs of $102 by Magistrate R. C. Jackson at Tweed, when he pleaded guilty to a charge of defrauding a Maynooth woman, Mrs. Annie Pilatskie, out of a board bill amounting to $68.

The accused admitted leaving the house in the early hours of the morning without paying the bill. Restitution was made in full prior to the hearing. McAuliffe was arrested at his home in Point Au Baril and returned to Bancroft to face the charge. He was formerly employed as a road worker in this district.

Report Pope May Appoint More Cardinals

VATICAN CITY (CP)—A new report that the Pope is nearing a decision on renewing the membership of the Roman Catholic church's badly depleted College of Cardinals appeared yesterday in the Roman press.

Il Tempo said the pontiff "is carrying to completion his studies for the grand reform of the Sacred College and the high hierarchy of the church."

According to these reports, the newspaper said, the Pontiff's studies consider giving all countries a seat in "the Senate of the church." It "is not to be excluded," the newspaper added, "that even the prelates of the church behind the Iron Curtain would be elevated to the purple."

There was no immediate comment from Vatican circles.

The 70-member College of Cardinals as constituted after the great consistory of 1946 now has 24 vacancies.

James Cardinal McGuigan, Archbishop of Toronto, is Canada's only cardinal. There has been speculation that Most Rev. Maurice Roy, Archbishop of Quebec, might get a red hat. French-Canadians have been without a cardinal since the death five years ago of Rodrigue Cardinal Villeneuve.

Driver Surrenders After Pedestrian Killed

SARNIA (CP)—Telford Adams of nearby Corunna surrendered to police Saturday night, saying he was the driver of a car sought in connection with the death of a 49-year-old pedestrian Friday.

Adams, 30, said he stopped his car when he felt a bump during a heavy rain. He said he examined his bumper and grill at the accident scene, and finding nothing amiss, drove on.

Not until Saturday night, he told police, did he hear of the death of John Lutz of Bluewater.

"I went out to my garage and saw for the first time that the windshield was broken," he said.

Adams was alone at the time of the accident.

Montreal Pipe Band Wins At Fergus Games

GUELPH (CP)—The Montreal C.N.R. pipe band Saturday won the premier event of the Fergus Highland games. The band, playing in a drizzling rain that wiped out most of the scheduled events, was presented with a trophy and $200 for its performance in the open march, strathspey and reel competitions.

The junior "B" band competition was won by the Montreal R.C.A.F., the St. Catharines band was second.

The Toronto Police Athletic Association took six of the seven athletic events.

Great Interest In New College Surprises Army

OTTAWA (CP)—Interest in Canada's third and newest officer-training college has been so marked that its first class is being enlarged and its scope of training broadened, Defence Minister Claxton announced today.

He said College Militaire Royal de St. Jean at St. Johns, Que., will open Sept. 15 with 125 cadets in attendance instead of the 100 originally announced. Applications close Aug. 31 and there already have been 1,200 inquiries and more than 220 firm applications, he said, with more coming in daily.

The second change means that the cadets will be trained at Fort St. John not for one year as originally announced but for two or three, putting it on much the same basis as the other two services colleges, Royal Military College at Kingston and Royal Roads on Vancouver Island.

Thus it now will be possible for a young man to take entirely at Fort St. John the two-year course now required to fit him for a commission in the so-called line or executive branches of the forces.

Training for the technical branches takes longer.

Seven Cars Derailed On Railway Line

CALEDONIA (CP)—A caboose and six other cars were derailed last night on the Canadian National Railways line two miles east of here. No one was injured.

A Hamilton-bound freight train crashed into the rear of a string of freight cars standing on a bridge over Seneca Creek. Two tankers filled with kerosene were tossed into the creek 60 feet below and four other freight cars were piled on an embankment.

Woman Has Brain Hemmorrhage Gives Birth To 6-Pound Baby

LONDON (CP)—Mrs. Gertrude Wallis, 36-year-old Granton housewife, who last week amazed doctors with her recovery from a July 1 brain injury and emergency operation, after two weeks of coma, Sunday gave birth to a six-pound girl.

The child was reported healthy and was born by Caesarian section about 10.30 a.m.

A month ago, Victoria Hospital's obstretricians moved up their emergency equipment to perform a Caesarian on Mrs. Wallis in an attempt to preserve the then seven-month child in case its mother died with it still unborn.

Mrs. Wallis was admitted to Victoria Hospital July 1 when seven months pregnant after she burst a blood vessel in the brain at her farm near Grafton.

UNCONSCIOUS TWO WEEKS

She was unconscious on admission to hospital and remained unconscious for more than two weeks despite the emergency operation. About two weeks ago she roused to semi-consciousness.

Last Monday doctors described her improvement as "almost unbelieveable" from the time she first roused.

She had regained consciousness and was able to get about in a wheelchair — sometimes able to walk.

They expected the delivery would bring no setback to her recovery.

Lord Orr Challenges British Farmers To Step Up Home-Produced Food Target To Meet Urgent Needs

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON

LONDON (CP)—Lord Boyd Orr, recognized as a leading authority on agriculture and food production, has challenged the farmers of Britain to step up the target of home-produced food to meet 80 per cent of the nation's needs. The figure now is estimated at 60 per cent.

Speaking before the House of Lords rose for its summer recess, he said that unless bold, determined action is taken to increase production not only Britain but many other countries might be haunted by the spectre of hunger.

It was not only a question of the farmers producing more food. Idustrialists had to gear up their plants to meet increased competition, and other elements of the population must be ready to extend all-out co-operation.

"We are the most vulnerable country of all in a world food shortage because we are so dependent on imports," Lord Boyd Orr said. "But if you have a permanent national policy, on which all parties are agreed, to put before the nation, then you will have a very good chance of meeting this challenge in the same spirit that was shown at the time of Dunkerque."

POLITICS ASIDE

He suggested that if leaders representing all political parties would be willing to get at the facts and agree on what should be the United national policy for the next 20 years—subject to changes dictated by the times—they could do a great deal towards solving the problem.

Such a body, setting aside all political differences, could decide whether subsidies were right or wrong, what better methods could be devised and how the cost distribution could be reduced.

There were also many problems of production to be tackled, through which Britain might make important contributions to the increased total of the world's supplies of food.

"We are a politically-mature nation, with a great Commonwealth and Empire which, with all its faults, is the best the world has ever seen," Lord Boyd Orr said.

WORLD-WIDE POLICY

"We could offer a policy to the world and I think we would be surprised at the extent to which it would be accepted. If other countries will not accept it through the United Nations, let us have a Commonwealth and Empire policy within ourselves."

Lord Hungarton, former chairman of the National Farmers' Union, said Canada, Australia and New Zealand could do a great deal for the mother country and everything should be done to encourage their co-operation.

But more than that was needed. If the Commonwealth countries were to produce the food Britain required, they would have to be assured of a long-term policy—one of not less than 10 or 15 years.

He hoped some such arrangement could be worked out at the Commonwealth economic conference to be held in London next November.

Eisenhower Planning To Make Unprecedented Personal Drive

WASHINGTON (AP)—The wide-open nature of the 1952 political campaign was pointed up yesterday by a disclosure that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will make an unprecedented personal drive for Republican presidential votes in the traditionally Democratic south.

Aides at the Republican nominee's Denver headquarters said the General will make an air tour of at least 10 southern cities after Labor Day.

An indication of the importance Eisenhower strategists attach to the effort appears in the fact that it will come before the Philadelphia speech on Sept. 4, which the Republican national committee bills as the formal opening of the campaign.

Eisenhower soon may ask Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio to join his campaign in an effort to heal the Republican party wounds suffered at the Chicago convention.

PROPOSES CONFERENCE

Eisenhower is known to have proposed a conference with Taft when the latter returns from a prolonged vacation at Murray Bay, Que.

On the Democratic side, meanwhile, the political talk came abruptly to the stage of short, hard words with Governor Adlai Stevenson as a bystander.

With the Democratic nominee in the congregation, Rev. Richard Graebel asserted from his Presbyterian pulpit in Springfield, Ill., that a United States senator had told "a blatant lie" about Stevenson.

He did not use the senator's name publicly, but he quoted a recent remark by Senator Everett Dirksen, Illinois Republican, that Stevenson was "the worst governor we've had since the turn of the century."

Delay Harvesting Tomato Crop

LEAMINGTON (CP)—Harvest of a "million dollar" tomato crop will be postponed because of the strike of 1,100 H. J. Heinz of Canada workers which began Aug. 8, agricultural officials said yesterday.

But, they said, the harvest which was scheduled to begin this week-end can be postponed for only a few days at most and Leamington district and other Western Ontario farmers will lose heavily if the strike is not settled. The crop would rot in the fields.

The Heinz employees, members of the United Packinghouse Workers (C.I.O.-C.C.L.), are asking a 21-cent increase on an hourly basic wage rate of 99 cents and for institution of the Rand Formula by which Heinz workers would be required to pay dues to the U.P.W. through the checkoff system.

The company has offered an 11-cent increase to the 1,100 strikers, some 100 of whom are employed at the Heinz plant at Wallaceburg, near Chatham.

Most field tomatoes grown in Essex county are intended for sale to the Heinz company.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Vacation has come and gone. Covered a bit of territory from New York State to the Apsley area and had a whale of a time. Talked to a cop in Watertown and he said: "Peterborough? Didn't that town once have a ball club in the Canadian-American League?" We said sure but 'twas many long years ago. After all, we've only been on this job for 21 years and can't go back quite that far. But it shows how sports advertise a city. The late Judge Joseph Wearing once wrote us from London and said he'd first come to Peterborough as a lawyer because he heard it was a lively sports centre. Reason he wrote was to congratulate our 1936 Orfuns on pulling the grid upset of the senior O.R.F.U. season in beating Sarnia Imps 3-2.

* * * * * *

In two decades of covering sports we've had some big thrills. That Mann Cup win in Vancouver last October was one of them. Ditto a no-hitter thrown by Joe Jakafby for us in Toronto just ere the war. Certainly the provincial senior "B" title taken by Legion several years ago in Sarnia rates high. But probably tops in thrills for us and 3,000 football fans was that 3-2 victory here over the powerful championship Imperials of the days of Bummer Stirling, Tony Golab, et al. Down 2-0 with a few minutes to go, Curly Krug started tossing passes to Leo Deadey till they got within 35 yards of pay dirt, but at an angle. Then Mike Loucks kicked a field goal! That was one few, who saw it, will never forget.

Punting That Pigskin

Football begins to shoulder its way onto the sports pages. Nightly drills now in order for the Orfuns. St. Peter's High will be practicing in another two weeks. Bev Goulding told us o'er the weekend that P.C.V.S. senior workouts will commence next Monday a.m. from 10 till 12:30, Monday through Friday. Coach Bev, a worthy successor to such capable Collegiate senior mentors as C. S. Browne, Emie Legon and Harv Bamforth, has won four C.O.S.S.A. crowns in his eight years on the job. The Garnet and Grey stamped out Stamford 22-1 last fall for the title. And now the 1952 squad begins light workouts within a week in front of the school.

* * * * * *

Rebuilding on a robust scale is Bev's task this semester. He has lost about two-thirds of the champs through graduation, and must draw heavily on ex-juniors. Only backfielders left are Dave Langhorne, Spin Hope, Murray Grafstein and Don Scriver. Linemen left are Larry Forbes, Gary Gilders, Hugh Outram and Jack King. He is not certain of Bob Craw's plans, remarking: "Bob is quite eligible, having taken all his exams, and he would be most welcome if he decides to return." One thing sure, Coach Goulding will field a colorful and contending club. His teams are well-trained and in good condition. No slackers need apply, as he has passed up big boys before——guys who didn't have the hustle or courage for this he-man's game.

After the O.L.A. Title

Senior lacrossers lost a chance to take over sole possession of top place Saturday when rain washed the Hamilton game down the drain. It'll be played next Saturday. Meantime, the locals tackle Fergus here this eve, and one wonders if big Jim Halls and Don Ashbee will behave, as they fought fiercely in Miller Bowl last meeting of the clubs. Petes have a toughie in Mimico on Wednesday and it could be a fight right to the wire. Team finishing the schedule first takes the O.L.A. title and meets the sixth club then in Eastern Canada playdowns, as second team tackles the fifth, and third one meets the fourth. First crew has an option on entering semi-finals. Those prelim rounds are best-of-five, with the Eastern Canada finals four-of-seven. The B. C. victors come to Toronto this year for the Mann Cup series.

* * * * * *

Dew dampened the Petes' C.O.B.L. contest in Kingston night before last and the Stewart squad will trek there Thursday instead. Local ballsters plan another big "booster night" in Riverside on Wednesday with a raft of prizes offered to attending fans, ranging from a TV set down to free stuff at the gate. Bill Dadson will pitch that evening. Peterborough presently leads the league with 11 wins and nine reverses, one game up on Belleville and two in front of Kingston. Petes have another fixture in the Limestone City on Saturday and then a postponed joust, probably a week tonight, ere winding up their 1952 schedule. They are entered also for O.B.A. playdowns but as yet have heard of no provincial dates to play.

U.E. Soccer Club Ties The K's In Classy Game

Peterborough U.E.W. held Kingston United to a 3-3 soccer draw in an E.C.F.L. fixture at Morrow Park on Saturday night to maintain their record of being unbeaten for the past two seasons in league play. The loop champions are ready now to defend their Ontario intermediate cup crown.

Kingston kicked off on wet turf in a tilt which produced the best football seen this season here. Within two minutes the K's counted when the ball wound up in the U.E. net in a kick and miss scramble at the goalmouth, the ball eluding goalie Bill Holroyd to trickle in. A goal down and the homesters fought back hard but couldn't quite click till 20 minutes later when Bob Strong flicked the ball to George Smith, who fired it home from 10 yards out.

SWELL SOCCER

Both sides played beautiful football with long passes from wing to wing and down the centre, though the players were often surprised at the speed of the ball rising from the damp grass. The wing-halves fed the forwards fine passes to start attacks, but no further scoring resulted in the first half.

After the interval, Kingston took the lead when Gillespie intercepted and tore through the centre to score with a hard drive in seven minutes. U.E. evened again shortly when, during a local attack, a perfect centre from Bob Strong was headed home by George Smith, their second combined goal. Five minutes from the whistle, Kingston went ahead as Gillespie chased a pass through the centre and toed it. The drive was a bit wild but was deflected in off one of the defenders. They settled back then to defensive play as U.E. opened it up furiously. The latter tied it late in the fray after firing shot after shot, Bill Allen kicking it home at point-blank range with nearly all the K's trying to clear the ball.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

Today, just for a change, we are re-writing our first column of lawn bowling news. It's dated April 27, 1933. Many old timers will remember this meeting.

"Member Fees Are Reduced Small Clubs—Action Taken When Clubs Signify Intention of Dropping Affiliation—From $5 to $2.50 — Officers Elected At Annual Meeting of Central Ontario Lawn Bowler's Association."

"It is not a matter of money, but of good fellowship. This association should be regarded as a brotherhood of lawn bowlers," stated S. A. Hiscock of Cobourg, shortly after his election to office of secretary-treasurer of the Central Ontario Lawn Bowling Association, at the annual meeting of the organization, held at the Peterborough Lawn Bowling club house last night. Major H. McCullough, Cobourg, was elected president.

Mr. Hiscock was speaking to a motion introduced by J. T. Braund and seconded by W. J. Oke, which later carried at a vote, and which was the means of bringing about a reduction in the fees payable to the association by clubs with a membership of 25 or less, from $5 to $2.50 for the current year.

Last year the clubs in the association included Bowmanville, Belleville, Cobourg, Brighton, Norwood, Port Hope, Lindsay, Havelock and Peterborough.

Officers for the ensuing term were elected as follows:

President, Major H. McCullough, Cobourg; honorary presidents, Rev. Dr. J. Daly and H. B. Rosevear of Port Port Hope; vice-president, James Mackay, Lindsay; secretary-treasurer, E. A. Hiscock of Cobourg."

Note:—All who were mentioned in the above piece have passed on, with the exception of E. A. Hiscock. He is still bowling and is a regular attendant at all of our tournaments.

Tonight — Selkirk Trophy at seven o'clock sharp. Group No. 1 will play two 10-end games.

Miss Rose Kampman, Kitchener Westmount, with an 84 for 18 holes, captured the first Kawartha Golf and Country Club women's tournament Saturday and won the Peterborough Examiner Trophy. A sister of former National Hockey League player Bingo Kampman, she recorded a 41 on the first nine and 43 on the second eo edge Miss K. Helleur, of Rosedale club, by two strokes.

The McLeod-Irwin Trophy, for the lowest net score, went to a third flight golfer, Mrs. Evelyn Mandoles, of Napanee. Mrs. Mandoles went the 18 holes in 106 strokes but being a 36 handicapper won the day's second trophy with a net of 70. She won by five strokes.

FINISHED IN SPITE OF RAIN

More than 125 golfers registered and started the grind in drizzling rain. But most of them finished in spite of the rain which didn't let up until the last golfers were playing the last few holes.

The first in what the club hopes to develop into an annual women's tournament, it attracted women from London, Kitchener, Hamilton, Cobourg, Toronto clubs, Napanee, Weston, Belleville, Pembroke, Trenton, Lindsay. In all appearances, the tournament indicated possibilities of becoming as large as the Kawartha men's tournament which is the largest amateur tournament for men in Canada.

The only Peterborough woman to threaten Miss Kampman's right to the Examiner Trophy was Miss B. Siddall. Miss Siddall had a 44 on the first nine and 43 on the second for a total of 87, three behind Miss Kampman and one behind Miss Helleur.

But with a 12 handicap, Miss Siddall, a Kawartha golfer, won the first flight (one to 15) net score with a 75. Second place in the first flight was shared by Miss J. Allen, of Cobourg, and Mrs. Vern Selkirk, of Peterborough, both with a net of 80.

WON SECOND FLIGHT

Honors in the second flight (16 to 26) went to Mrs. C. Leach, of Summerlea, and Mrs. S. Williamson, of Peterborough, both scoring a 92. Another Kawartha golfer, Mrs. R. Miller, placed third with a 42 and 51 for a total gross of 93.

Net honors in the second flight went to two Kawartha golfers and a Pembroke woman. Miss Ruth McKee, Kawartha, totalled 96, but with a 21 handicap, won the net with a 75. Other best nets were Miss Myrtle Fields, of Pembroke, and Mrs. R. Brindleand Miss F. Dunfield, both of Kawartha, all with a 78.

Gross honors in the third flight (27-36) went to Mrs. J. Raine and Mrs. J. Gatfield, of Kawartha, with 196 scores. Mrs. G. I. Coulter, of Scarboro, placed second there three strokes behind.

Mrs. Mandoles easily won the first net score honors in the third flight with her 70, while second, eight strokes back, was Mrs. H. Scott, of Kawartha, with 78 and Mrs. J. Cranfield, also of Kawartha, 10 strokes back.

Indian Jack Redeems Himself

TORONTO (CP)—Indian Jack Jacobs has redeemed himself in the eyes of critical Eastern Canada football fans.

The nifty triple-threat Winnipeg Blue Bomber quarter, dubbed a goat of the 1950 Grey Cup when Toronto Argonauts whipped the Bombers 13-0 in the mud and slush of Varsity Stadium, returned to the scene Saturday and sparked the Western Canada club to a 11-7 decision over the Big Four club. Jacobs' educated toe and deadly passing arm turned the trick.

Riding the bench most of the first quarter in Bombers' final eastern exhibition tour, Indian Jack showed 12,000 rain-soaked fans that he can handle a wet ball. He tossed two over-the-line touchdown passed to end Bud Kirchak, out-kicked Argos' Joe Krol, out-generalled the Double Blue's Nobby Wirkowski and generally stood out like a beacon.

Conditions were something similar to Grey Cup day two years ago. An all-day rain made footing tough but there weren't the puddles of deep water and mud of that memorable afternoon.

Hastings Ties Series Beat Westwood 18-10

HASTINGS (ENS)—Legion and Westwood both got a bad game out of their systems, with a large crowd on hand to witness their comedy of errors, and when it was over Legion was at the top end of an 18-10 count, tying up the series at two apiece, forcing a fifth game to be played tonight.

Crowley went all the way for Legion, and after his team settled away in the second, was never in serious trouble, and the Westwood supporters found little to cheer about.

Warr started for Westwood and was almost blasted off the mound in the first, as Legion banged in seven runs. They added four in the third, and were on their way for another four when Bob Wilson took over, but the game was already lost.

Joe Jones proved to be a real utility man, and after Bob Scriver was tossed out of the game in the second, Jones took over second, and in the eighth took over for Philips behind the plate.

Fastball Loop Tie

Raybestos and Marines are tied atop the Industrial Fastball League now with seven wins each and four losses. Woollens won seven and dropped five, while Quakers took five but lost seven. Norwood are in the cellar with three wins in 11 starts.

There is one postponed game yet between Rays and Marines and it will likely be staged Tuesday at Quaker to decide first place. The loser meets Woollens the next night to decide second spot.

Playoffs are expected to commence Thursday with the first-place team playing the third, as the second squad meets the fourth. Norwood is out. Playoff dates will be announced shortly. The loop runs its annual draw in finals with tickets now on sale for prizes of $25, $15 and $10.

CLIFF STEPS UP — Former classy first-sacker for the senior baseball Petes, and presently on their executive, Cliff Cadd has been appointed general foreman of Diesel-Electric Locomotive at the C.G.E. plant here. He starred for many years in local sports, including baseball, softball, hockey, volleyball and basketball.

Crescents Edge West Yorks 17-16 Teatro Gets 6

OWEN SOUND (CP) — Owen Sound Crescents Saturday moved into a tie with Hamilton Tigers for fourth place in the Ontario Lacrosse Association's senior A loop by edging Toronto West Yorks 17-16.

The clubs were tied 4-4 at end of the first quarter, Owen Sound led 9-4 at the half and 13-8 at the three-quarter mark. Fred Smith punched in the winning goal with 15 seconds left in the game.

John Lumley paced the winners with five goals while Arnold Smith, Norm Shortridge and Jack Foote scored two each.

Leo Teatro was top scorer for Toronto with six goals, four goals in two minutes to tie the game 16-16 in the last quarter. Stew Scott and Jeff McNulty contributed two each.

Dispirito Boots Home 4 Winners At Races

SALEM, N.H. (AP)—Anthony Dispirito, who swapped an uncertain future in a textile mill for the glamor of thoroughbred racing, ranks today as the winningest jockey of 1952 in the United States.

The 17-year-old Lawrence, Mass., apprentice boosted home four winners in eight races at Rockingham Park Saturday to boost his total to 189 for the year.

This puts him five up on Howard Craig, now riding at Detroit, and nine ahead of Harold Keene, the Lowell, Mass., veteran campaigning at Rockingham.

Royals Explode In Sixth To Win 15-10

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

One good reason why Montreal Royals are coasting along toward another International League pennant is that they are apt to explode any time.

Trailing 9-2 in the second game of a doubleheader against Rochester yesterday, you wouldn't have given a plugged nickel for their chances to pull it out. But they scored 13 runs in the sixth inning and went on to win 15-10 after Rochester had won the first game 6-5.

17 AT BAT

Seventeen players batted in the big inning which was helped along by a passed ball, two errors and two walks. Jim Romano got credit for his fourth victory while Ed Ludwig, who faced only two batters, was charged with the defeat.

Ellis Deal was the victor in the opener, but he needed help from Freddie Mann. Gills Mills lost it.

In another action, Ottawa Athletics stopped Toronto Maple Leafs 3-0, Baltimore Orioles defeated Buffalo Bisons 4-3 and Syracuse Chiefs won a doubleheader from Springfield Cubs 4-3 and 4-0.

Marion Fricano tossed the shutout for the As, and if they had another hurler like him they wouldn't be in seventh place. He held the losers to only two hits in racking up his 14th decision. Johnny Hetki was charged with the defeat.

HOMER WINS GAME

Al Lakeman hit a home run with one on in the sixth to decide the Baltimore-Buffalo contest.

Syracuse used both their top pitchers—Bobo Holloman and Bob Keegan—to subdue the Cubs. Claude Corbett scratched an infield hit with the bases loaded in the sixth inning of the first game to knock in the winning run. The afterpiece was close until the final inning when the winners scored three times.

"COOL CONTROL"

RUNNING THE BASES

1 Start quickly, think swiftly. After hitting the ball, always take your first step towards first base with your front foot. Avoid looping at the bag; practice touching the base squarely on top with either foot. This gives control and saves duties.

2 Always make the full turn at first when running out a base hit or fly ball. On your run, cut in to the right of the base line, then turn sharply toward second, preferably using the left foot for the pivoting motion.

3 Always watch the ball when taking a lead. To steal, start running with the pitch. Study different pitchers for "give-away" gestures or habits when ready to pitch. On lead, stand in stride position, weight evenly distributed, and be ready to run in either direction. When stealing, pivot on right foot, take first step with left—then watch the baseman, not the ball.

Yes, it's control that counts, in baseball as in every sport — control which brings the extraordinary quality that sets one performer above the other. In the ability to approach things easily, to control every move and moment, lies the answer to better results.

This is one of a series designed to increase the pleasure of Canadians who participate in sports.

Cards Edge Cincinnati 2-1 As Detroit Clips Brownies

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland Indians and New York Giants continued to apply the pressure on the league leaders but the spotlight was lifted off the pennant race and shifted to the two St. Louis clubs yesterday. In St. Louis, rookie Stu Miller was deprived of a chance to join seven other rookies who have hurled a pair of shutouts in their first two major league starts when shortstop Solly Hemus made a double error in the ninth inning to let in the lone Cincinnati run in the Cardinals' 2-1 victory. The Columbia grad had pitched a 1-0 shutout over Chicago Cubs in his first start last week.

In Detroit, the Tigers and Browns got a standoff in their big "waiver" swap of a week ago when Ned Garver pitched Detroit to a 4-2 victory over his old Brownie mates after outfielder Vic Wertz had whipped his ex-Tiger mates with a two-run homer for a 4-2 St. Louis first-game decision. Wertz also homered and hit two singles in the second game.

INDIANS CLOSE UP

Cleveland closed within a game and a half of the American League-leading New York Yankees, sweeping a pair from Chicago White Sox 6-2 and 2-1 while the Yankees were edging out the Red Sox in Boston, 3-2.

New York Giants missed a fine opportunity to cut deep into Brooklyn's long first-place lead in the National but settled for a half-game advance by splitting with Boston Braves while Philadelphia Phillies were shading the Dodgers 2-1. Dave Koslo outpitched Warren Spahn 4-2 in the nightcap after the Braves had won the opener 7-3 to help the Giants move to within 7½ games of the Dodgers.

Washington clung to fourth place in the American, dividing a pair with Philadelphia. Bob Porterfield won his 10th with a 7-2 first-game triumph for the Nats but the Athletics overcame a 5-0 deficit to win the second 12-15.

Ralph Kiner helped Pittsburgh gain a split in the double bill with the Cubs, hitting his 26th homer of the year and his first in Wrigley Field to lead the Pirates to a 5-2 nightcap win. That was the score of the Cubs' first-game triumph as Bob Rush helped win his 12th by driving in three runs.

Miller had a 2-0 lead with only one more out needed to register his second straight shutout. Cincinnati had runners on first and second when Roy McMillan hit an easy grounder to Hemus. The short stop fumbled and then threw wild trying for a force play at second and Joe Adcock scored from second.

Cleveland got good pitching from Bob Feller and Mike Garcia in their double win. Each had won only one game in the last five weeks. It was No. 9 for Feller and No. 15 for Garcia.

A ninth-inning double by Yogie Berra and a single by Gene Woodling broke up the 2-2 tie in Boston and gave rookie Tom Gorman his fourth Yankee win. Gorman replaced Ed Lopat, making his first start in a month, and pitched three scoreless frames. Mel Parnell was the Boston loser.

Karl Drews gained his 11th victory and his fourth over Brooklyn with a four-hitter. The Phils overcame a 1-0 deficit with two tallies in the sixth off loser Carl Erskine.

Amateur Golf Tournament Gets Under Way

SEATTLE (CP)—The 52nd annual U.S. amateur golf show begins today and by the end of the week a new champion is likely to emerge from the cast of 200 selected performers—eight of them Canadians.

Few veteran observers expect defending champion Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., to hang on to the crown he won at Bethlehem, Pa., a year ago.

But the prediction is hardly a bold one since no champion in the U.S. amateur blue ribbon fixture has scored twice in succession since Lawson Little won in 1934 and 1935.

TWO CANUCKS GET BYES

Two of the Canadians—Pete Kelly of Fredericton and Phil Farley of Toronto—got byes in the first round.

The six Canadians with first-round matches are Douglas Bajus of Vancouver vs. Dale Hardison, Glendale, Calif.; Gerry Kesselring, Kitchener, Ont., vs. Jerry Fehr, Seattle; Bill Mawhinney, Vancouver, vs. Verne Perry, Jr., Portland, Ore.; Percy Clegg, Vancouver, vs. David McBeath, Bellingham, Wash., and Nick Weslock, Windsor vs. P. T. Taylor, Huntington, W.Va.

The amateur is being held at the Seattle Country Club whose rolling acres offer a quality test of golf that measures 6,632 yards and par of 35-36—71.

PAR CUT FROM 73

Ordinarily, club members play to par 73. But the U.S. Golf Association trimmed a stroke off the par 5 ninth and 16th holes.

Seventy-two matches are on today's schedule and 56 players drew a bye.

The Canadians taking part are members of the teams which finished a close second to the U.S. in the Americas Cup matches last week. Members of the Mexican team which took part in the three-way tournament are also in the amateur.

Prominent among the participants are Ken Venturi, 21-year-old California champion, who played a major part in the U.S. Americas Cup victory; Harvie Ward of Tarboro, N.C., recently-crowned British amateur champion; Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., twice British amateur king but never U.S. champion; Sam Urzetta of Rochester, N.Y., 1950 winner; Ray Billows, Poughkeepsie, N.Y., three-time runner-up for the national title, and Charlie Coe, 1949 champion from Oklahoma City. Coe was captain of the U.S. Americas Cup team.

Name 7 Women Special Team

EDMONTON (CP)—The Canadian Ladies' Golf Union Saturday named a seven-member team which will compete in the British Open and international matches in 1953.

Ada Mackenzie, Toronto golfer who for years dominated Canadian women's golf, won the captain's position, Marlene Stewart of Fonthill, Ont., winner of the Canadian women's close golf championship this year, was named to the No. 2 position, and Babs Davies of Vancouver won third spot.

Mrs. Graeme Pyke, Montreal; Mrs. J. H. Todd, Victoria; Miss Daintry Chisholm, Montreal, and Mary Gay, Kitchener, Ont., runner-up in the Canadian Open, were the others named.

Three alternatives are: Mrs. N.J. Carlson, Toronto; Mrs. J. C. Whitelaw, Laval-sur-le-Lac, Que., and Rae Milligan, Jasper, Alta.

Batting: Vic Wertz, Browns—slammed his 18th homer and his first for the Browns, with a man on base, to help St. Louis defeat his ex-Detroit teammates 4-2 in the opener of the doubleheader. He also homered, hit two singles, walked and scored both, St. Louis runs in the second game which went to the Tigers, 4-2.

Pitching: Stu Miller, Cardinals—only a double error by shortstop Solly Hemus with two out in the ninth prevented the rookie right-hander from pitching his second straight shutout in his first two major league starts. As it was he settled for a 2-1 victory over Cincinnati following his 1-0 debut victory over the Cubs last week.

Senseless Crime Growing Among New York Citizens

By JAMES DEVLIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Crime, much of it "senseless"—is spreading anxiety among the usually-blase citizens of New York.

There was a time when violence in the country's largest city seemed to centre chiefly among bootleggers and other racketeers—but not the average citizen.

The chilling part about the crime picture nowadays is that the most insignificant and law-abiding of persons often are the victims—for no apparent reason.

After-dark strollers avoid lonely areas like Central Park for fear of robbery and rape.

But the terror is apt to strike anybody, anywhere, in an office, a home, a subway station or in an apartment doorway.

A girl secretary, reading a letter from her fiance in Korea, is shot dead by a frustrated physicist, angered not at her but at the scientific world that rejected his theories.

Seven persons who had turned in for a peaceful night's sleep burn to death in a tenement fire set by a psychopath. Police quoted him as saying he set 20 fires just because he liked the excitement.

TEEN MURDERS

A man answers the buzzer of his apartment and two teen-agers shoot and kill him—because they were mad at him and he wouldn't give them money.

Official figures released by the police department record a rise in crime figures for the first six months of 1952 compared with the corresponding period last year.

Felonies, ranging from murder to selling narcotics, jumped from 40,948 to 55,304. Murders increased from 116 to 132, rapes from 451 to 507, robberies from 3,184 to 4,630 and burglaries from 14,961 to 22,005.

NEW RECORDS

However, Mayor Vincent Impellitteri and Police Commissioner George Monaghan say the figures represent a statistical increase—rather than a rising crime wave—because of a change this year in the way the police keep their records.

Charged with keeping order among the city's 8,000,000 residents is a police force of 18,393 men—larger than an army division.

Much of the crime plaguing both police and citizens today has been blamed variously on the high cost of living, causing some persons to turn to theft, and to the system of using radio-car patrols in place of the old-time cop who "pounds a beat" and knows his neighborhood intimately.

This does not account for the "senseless" killings.

Judge Saul S. Streit blamed mental institutions for loosing thousands of dangerous criminals "in utter disregard of the public safety."

The fatal shooting of Arnold Schuster, 24, on a sidewalk near his home last March—another of the "senseless" crimes—shook the city into realization that contempt for the law by criminals or crackpots knows no bounds.

Schuster, an inconspicuous pants presser, recognized bank robber Willie Sutton and gave the tip that led to Sutton's arrest.

Police blamed either a misguided admirer or former pal of Sutton. The killer is still at large.

Honeymoon Couple Hurt In Three-Car Collision

AURORA — Less than 30 minutes after they left the reception following their wedding in Newmarket United Church on Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. George Montgomery were admitted to the emergency ward at York County Hospital in Newmarket.

The couple were driving to Toronto, the first stop on a honeymoon trip through Western Ontario and the United States, when their auto was in collision with another on No. 11 Highway, one mile north of Aurora.

Mrs. Montgomery, the former Mary Edith Truelove, 22, of Toronto, was admitted to the hospital with serious cuts to the face and arms suffered from flying glass.

Mr. Montgomery, 24, of Whitney Ave., Toronto, required five stitches to close a head wound. He was released after treatment.

Provincial police said the accident happened on a section of the highway that was in the process of being resurfaced and was in a rough condition.

The Montgomery auto was coming south when a northbound auto pulled out to pass another car, went out of control, struck the auto it was passing and swerved into the left side of the Montgomery auto, according to police.

Driver of the northbound auto, Charles Barker, 39, of Rosecliffe Ave., York Township, was charged by Con. Robert Clarke with careless driving. Both autos were a total wreck.

Mrs. Truelove said her daughter would be in the hospital for three or four days. Her condition was reported satisfactory. Mr. Montgomery said he and his wife had planned to visit Buffalo and Syracuse.

Extra 30,000 Skilled Men Sought For Army Reserve

LONDON (CP)—An extra 30,000 skilled men will be sought by the War office for the army reserve of technicians whose services will be needed in event of general mobilization.

War Minister Antony Head, in announcing the proposed drive told the House of Commons he was dissatisfied with the progress of recruiting for this branch of the service.

He believed lack of public knowledge about the duties and responsibilities of the force was largely to blame for past failures in attracting enough suitable candidates. To stimulate wider interest in the branch it will be called in future the Army Emergency Reserve.

The minister disclosed the emergency reserve requires about 140,000 all ranks. Of these more than 100,000 are selected from national servicemen.

ONLY 7,500 VOLUNTEERS

But to fill the large number of vacancies in the reserve's 130 trades only 7,500 volunteers have so far come forward.

Reservists must serve only 15 days yearly at summer training camps. During this period they are paid normal army rates for their rank and technical category. In addition an annual bounty is allowed for many of the special trades.

Special volunteers and reservists are called up only on general mobilization. But a thorough course of preparation is needed as their services are regarded as essential to put the army on a war footing if an emergency arises.

Stepchild No Relative

MONTREAL (CP)—Step-children are the same as strangers as far as rental regulations go, a three-man Quebec rentals board has ruled. Quebec law does not recognize a man's step-daughter as one of his relatives and a Montreal landlord failed in an attempt to evict a tenant in order to provide a home for his wife's daughter in a recent case that came before the board.

Iesulauro, Italian vice-consul here, announced yesterday that the Committee of Canada Flood Relief for Italy has about $91,000 worth of wheat for shipment to the Po River valley, Calabria and Sicily areas flooded last winter. The grain will leave Montreal early next month for Genoa.

An estimated $40 damage resulted to the rear of the truck.

Lindsay To Build 21 Houses, Rent For $60

LINDSAY — Twenty-one new houses will be built in Lindsay under an agreement between the town council and the Ontario Department of Planning and Development, which is expected to be signed within the next week or so.

Council decided to enter into the contract at a special meeting Friday night.

Two schemes for financing the housing project were outlined by a representative of the department who attended the meeting.

After discussing the merits of both schemes, council gave final approval to the "economic" plan which it had favored at previous meetings.

Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, the federal owned housing agency, will put up 75 per cent of the money which the occupants will repay through rent over a period of 50 years. The province and council will work out details of how the remaining costs will be financed when the agreement is signed.

The alternative system, of subsidized housing, was felt not to be suitable because council thought it could not allow the necessary reduction in rates.

Under this plan, the provincial and federal governments make a flat grant of 20 per cent in order to reduce the amount of rent, and local taxes have to be reduced accordingly by the municipality.

Under the other scheme which council agreed to, full taxes are paid on the houses during the time the mortgages are being paid.

Rent for the houses will run about $50 per month, plus $10 for taxes and another $12.50 which the government authorities stipulate must be added for maintenance.

According to the department representative, the houses will cost about $8,000, plus a further $1,000 for purchase of land and provision of services.

This will provide a five-room house, complete with water and electricity, warm air heating and landscaped lawn with four inches of topsoil and seeding.

Gas Jets On 4 Children Left In Room

Alderville Woman Mother Held By Police

TORONTO — Four children of a former Alderville woman were found by police about midnight Saturday in a room where two gas jets were turned on full.

The mother, Mrs Hugh Gillis, 24, Parliament St., was arrested and charged with contributing to juvenile delinquency. None of the children was harmed by the gas.

Detectives Kenneth Harris and James Raffin, who investigated, said the room was littered with beer and wine bottles. They were called by Maxine Gray, 20, a sister of Mrs. Gillis.

DOOR LOCKED

Miss Gray returned to the house about midnight and found the door locked. She entered by a rear bedroom window and called police when she noticed the smell of gas. She said one window was bpen slightly.

Mrs. Gillis, the former Luella Gray of Alderville, the Indian reserve near Roseneath, returned about 1 a.m., and was arrested. Police said there was a drunken man with her.

The children, all of whom were turned over to the Children's Aid Society, will eventually go to foster parents, an official of the society said Sunday. The official said the children were in bed fully dressed, and "pretty dirty".

The children are: Hazel, 6, Shirley, 4, Marilyn, 2, and Dianne, eight months.

Both Mrs. Gills and Miss Gray are daughters of the late Frank Gray of Alderville. He died last year of burns received when he went to sleep in his bedroom in a Toronto rooming house, with a cigarette burning. Both girls were educated at Alderville school.

Hit By Car, Child Rushed To Toronto

BANCROFT (ENS) — Injured when struck by a truck on a road construction project near Maynooth on Thursday., Burmanyett Casselman, four-and-a-half-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Casselman, Maynooth, has been taken to the Hospital for Sick Children at Toronto for further observation.

The lad was struck by a truck driven by Neil Shields of Maynooth on Thursday afternoon when he ran from behind a large roller into the path of the truck on the site of road repairs on a stretch of the former 62 highway near the village limits.

He suffered leg, head and back injuries and was treated by Dr. M. L. Mador, Bancroft, and admitted to hospital there.

No blame was attached to the driver who had no chance to stop before striking the child.

Provincial Constable John Hawkins investigated the accident.

What's Your's Is Mine What's Mine's My Own

One American tourist who visited a city store has his dander up. The story as reported by another downtown merchant, was this:

The tourist bought an article in the store with U.S. money and was charged exchange on it. He didn't mind, because he had benefited by the exchange rate in years when the U.S. dollar was worth more.

Soon after this, he returned to the store to convert the Canadian money into U.S. dollars. Reversing its policy, the store gave him U.S. dollars at par, thus benefitting in both exchanges.

HUNDREDS OF VETERANS, members of the Canadian Legion, gathered in Campbellford Sunday for a drumhead service in memory of the Dieppe raid carried out by Canadian soldiers in the Second World War on the French coast. Campbellford Drumhead Recalls Famous Dieppe Raid CAMPBELLFORD (ENS)—One of the largest military events in the history of Campbellford took place Sunday afternoon when Branch 103 of the Canadian Legion here played host to visiting branches and dignitaries from various parts of District F. The event was a drumhead service marking the 10th anniversary of the Dieppe raid. Mayor Jack Burnet of Cobourg, district commander, was chairman of the service, held at the high school grounds.

The parade fell in at the Legion Hall, marched to the cenotaph, where one minute's silence was observed in memory of those who died during both world wars.

After a brief ceremony at the cenotaph, the parade moved on to the high school grounds, where the service proper took place.

WELCOMED BY REEVE

Reeve Ralph J. Locke, Campbellford, extended a civic welcome to the Legionnaires. Among other guests were Air Commodore W. W. Browne, C.D., Trenton, Frank Threadgold of Whitby, vice-chairman of the provincial command, McIntyre Hood of Oshawa, Dr. F. G. Robertson, Cobourg, Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, minister of welfare, and T. A. Hulse, provincial president of the Legion.

Mr. Hulse introduced McIntyre Hood, the guest speaker.

He based his speech on a part of St. John's Epistle to the Ephesians—"For we wrestle not against flesh and blood but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, and against spiritual wickedness in high places, wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God that ye may be able to withstand . . . the evil days . . ."

Russia is waging an ideological war which has not yet developed into a shooting war—"a diabolical campaign against the church and Christianity. They are attempting to crush the human soul."

Hundreds of Christian leaders were being throttled in the east. The Russian leaders realized that Christianity must be destroyed before democracy can be wiped out.

PRACTISE CHRISTIANITY

Mr. Hood said the best hope of preventing a shooting war, with all its horrors, was for "us to take seriously and put into practice the basic truths of Christian faith. With these we can overcome the powers of evil."

In conclusion, he charged his listeners to guard those things which their fallen comrades had died to preserve.

Three bands were in attendance: the Bowmanville pipe band, the R.C.A.F. trumpet band from Trenton and the Campbellford Citizens' band.

Air Commodore Browne took the salute as the parade returned to the Legion Hall.

The parade was about three-quarters of a mile long, with close to 1,000 taking part in it.

Budgie Lands On Head Of Governor-General

PORT HOPE (CP)—Pete the budgie flew away the other day.

Swooping into the garden of Batterwood House, private home of Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, he made a two-point landing on the head of the governor-general.

Mr. Massey's grandchildren were delighted.

The Queen's representative put his personal chauffeur and station-wagon at Pete's disposal and the bird was safely conducted back to where he and his owner, Mrs. May Williams of Toronto, are visiting.

Assessment Cut To $20,620 For Bowling Co.

Assessment of the Playfair Bowling building at George and Perry Sts. has been further reduced by the Ontario Municipal Board to $20,620, a difference of $11,350 from the original valuation of $31,970. The land was unchanged at $1,700 and was not disputed.

Walter H. Howell, representing Strikes Peterborough Limited, carried the appeal through the Court of Revision to County Judge J. A. McGibbon and finally to the Ontario Municipal Board. It was a gradual pruning process.

Court of Revision whittled $5,000 off the assesment; Judge McGibbon pared off another $5,000; and the Municipal Board continued the trimming to the extent of $1,350.

At the first hearing of the Court of Revision last fall, J. E. Davis, assessment commissioner, sid the valuation had been determined before his appointment to the position.

Assessment of the bowling alley was on the same per cubic foot basis as that of Dominion Store and Loblaw's, both further up George St.

SAID TOO HIGH

Mr. Davis agreed with the appellants that the assessment was too high, and expressed his approval of a reduction if the Court so decided.

The judgment by Judge McGibbon was made at the end of January, and the order by the Municipal Board was of July 21.

Passengers Shaken Up In Two-Car Collision

Three people, two of them small children, escaped with slight bruises and a shaking up when two cars collided at Simcoe and Downie Sts., Saturday afternoon.

No stop signs on either street may have been responsible for the accident, as both drivers said they saw the other car before the two collided in the middle of the intersection.

Carolyn Wyatt, eight and Jane Wyatt, six, were riding in a car travelling east on Simcoe St., driven by their grandmother, Mrs. Myrtle Wyatt, 422 Rogers St. Carolyn received a bump over her left eye, while Jane complained of a bump on the back of her head.

Miss Ruth Hershig, 77 King St., Lindsay, a passenger in the other car, travelling south on Downie St., and driven by David M. Wilson, 77 King St., Lindsay, sustained a bruised right leg and left arm.

Both vehicles were damaged considerably.

Killing Of Cabbie 'Tragedy', Friend Of Walter Smillie

Manager Walter Smillie of the Civic Arena today described the killing of Leonard Hurd, garage, bus and taxi owner of Maxville, as a tragedy.

Mr. Smillie, who came to Peterborough from Maxville, said Hurd, 41, was one of the most popular men in the town, located in Glengarry county.

Hurd's body, riddled by five bullets, was found late Saturday night on a lonely road a mile south of Maxville. Three bullets had been fired into his head and two more into his right side.

Provincial police are seeking Henri Seguin, 27-year-old resident of the district, in connection with the slaying.

CLOSE FRIEND

"He was a very close friend of mine," said Mr. Smillie, "and his death was the second tragedy in the family within four months. His only son, Harry, died in a motorcycle accident in May, and Leonard was badly shocked by his death."

Mr. Smillie was the owner of a garage and service station in Maxville which Hurd bought about 17 years ago, shortly after he came to the town.

"Leonard pulled himself up by his own bootstraps," the arena manager declared. "He didn't have a cent when he came to Maxville, and I think he was worth about $100,000 when he died. He put a lot of hard work into his business."

Mr. Smillie said he came to know Hurd well through being an official of the Maxville Millionaires, a hockey team which lost out to the Peterborough intermediates 10 years ago in the series for the Eastern Canadian championship. Hurd was coach of the team.

Campbellford Girl, 15, Hurt In Auto Crash

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — A Campbellford girl suffered a chipped left ankle bone early today when the car she was riding in overturned on the county road between Hastings and Campbellford.

Evelyn Simpson, 15, was taken to Peterborough Civic Hospital where she was treated as an outpatient and released. Driver of the car, Douglas A. Forde, 18, of R.R. 2, Hastings, was unhurt.

The accident happened at 4:50 a.m. as Forde was making a right hand turn on the road, the car skidded on loose gravel and overturned in the ditch. About $250 damage was done to the left side of the auto.

Provincial Constable Archie Eadie investigated.

Merchant Pleads Guilty To Tax Evasion, Crown Asks $5,000 Fine

Chas. Levine Charged With False Statements In Income, Excess Profit Taxes, Evaded Paying $16,738 from 1943 to 1948

Special crown prosecutor George Bagwell asked for a $5,000 fine when Charles S. Levine pleaded guilty to two charges of evading income and excess profit taxes today. Levine, proprietor of a ladies' dress shop, is charged with evading $16,738.70 in income and excess profits taxes between 1943 and 1948 by making false statements in income tax returns.

He was first arraigned on 10 charges when he appeared before Magistrate W. R. Philp. Six of them alleged he had made or acquiesced in the making of false statements in his income tax returns and four charged him with wilfully attempting to evade complying with the Income War Tax Act.

NO EVIDENCE ON 4

Mr. Bagwell first said he would be offering no evidence on the four charges dealing with attempting to evade the requirements of the act. Levine, who was represented by T. J. Carley, then pleaded guilty to two of the counts, involving a total of $5,130.12 in taxes which the crown alleged he had evaded in 1944 and 1946.

In an unusual move, after national revenue inspector Arthur J. Braden had given evidence on the two charges, Mr. Bagwell, with Mr. Carley's consent, introduced an itemized statement, showing that Levine had evaded $16,738.70 in income tax between 1941 and 1948, the charges cover the period between 1943 and 1948.

Mr. Bagwell told the magistrate that Levine had forwarded a cheque to the Receiver General for $21,000, covering the amount of the alleged evasion, plus $4,316.75 in interest—which Mr. Braden said would only require an adjustment of $57.45 to wipe out the entire amount of the interest and evaded tax the department auditors claimed Levine owed.

When Mr. Bagwell moved for sentence on the two charges, Magistrate Philp appeared somewhat baffled at the procedure and said "I would much prefer to hear arguments and set the matter over to another date for sentence.

After Mr. Bagwell asked for a fine of "at least $5,000 as a lesson in morality to the business men of the community and the province," Magistrate Philp adjourned the two charges one week for sentence.

Mr. Bagwell pointed out that in tax evasions amounting to more than $50, the act provides for a fine of not less than $100 and not more than double the amount of tax owing or two years in prison or both.

COULD ASK JAIL TERM

He said that normally "in a case such as this where a deliberately fraudulent scheme had been in operation over a period of years he would ask for a jail penalty." However Mr. Bagwell said that after Levine's records were seized, both he and his counsel had cooperated by agreeing to the amounts owing and had paid up with interest, all the tax he had tried to evade.

"In view of this co-operation, his good record and the fact he has paid up the total amount and interest a fine would not be inappropriate but it should be a substantial fine," said Mr. Bagwell. He added that Mr. Carley had agreed that "Your Worship should look at the whole picture in assessing the penalty."

AWAIT DECISION

Disposition of the other four charges will depend on the magistrate's decision as to the penalty he imposes on the two charges already heard, Mr. Bagwell said.

While agreeing the fine should be substantial, Mr. Carley said an allowance had been made for certain funds advanced by relatives of Mr. Levine's but that "a further claim was disallowed because no satisfactory evidence was produced by the person having made the advances as the person was reported as having died.

Mr. Carley pointed out that the amount already paid by Levine was 25 per cent of the amount of tax owing, in itself "a pretty fair penalty and while I agree the fine should be substantial, $5,000 is somewhat heavy. The circumstances are not of the nature which shows an absolutely dishonest mind or double set of books or anything of that nature," said Mr. Carley.

Evidence of investigator Braden was that in reporting his 1946 income, Levine understated his purchases by $14,195.36. He stated his purchases amounted to $25,314.56 when they were actually $39,509.92.

His reported taxable income for that year was $4,600.32 and he paid $712.43 in taxes Mr. Braden said. Investigation of his accounts revealed his taxable income to be $11,375.16 and the income tax on this amounted to $3,526.32 which meant Mr. Braden said that Levine had evaded $2,814.39 in 1946.

Levine's 1944 reported taxable income was $5,088.06 when it was actually $10,704.64 and in understating his taxable income by more than $5,000, Levine evaded $2,316.73 Mr. Braden said.

If the magistrate imposes the fine of $5,000 as requested by Mr. Bagwell, it will be just slightly less than the amount Levine evaded in income and excess profit taxes during the two years he has pleaded guilty to the charges alleging he made false statements or assented to the making of false statements in his income tax returns.

65 Young Girls Enjoying Camp Life

Pleasure, education and discipline are so intermixed in the Y.W.C.A.'s camp program that even the director scarcely distinguishes them. Very lucky to be a part of such a wholesome character-building life; are the 65 nine to 12 year olds now in residence at Camp Kawartha on Clear Lake with Mrs. Irene Campbell as their director. To some 60 applicants who could not be accommodated this year, the message is "It's worth trying for again."

Mrs. Campbell is beloved by every camper, yet she is a strict mistress who permits no breaking of rules, or shirking of duties. The staff too have nothing but praise for her management and it is felt that this year's camp is even better than last year's when she first took charge.

Everyone calls her "Scotty" — she has the accent to go with it. Only a few years ago Mrs. Campbell was in her native Scotland where she directed several summer camps in the hills with only one other person to help her cook and look after 36 campers. So she thinks the Y camp is a cinch with its competent staff of waterfront director, nurse, counsellors and a cook and assistants.

In addition she has been given the utmost co-operation by William Moorehead, president of the Y's Men's Club which owns the camp, and he has made several visits to see that all facilities are in order. Bill McFarlane of the Y.M.C.A. staff, before vacating with his boys, made the whole camp clean and habitable for the girls.

Impressions from a visit to the Y camp will lead older readers to recall their happy days "at camp." If it was more than four years ago they probably went to Camp Inglestane, a landmark on Stony Lake for many years which the Y. W. has sold.

WELL DIRECTED

Ten days in August is all the girls have now, and it goes much too quickly. There are crafts to learn—braiding leather bracelets and painting seem to be favored—and there are swimming and boating periods twice daily, followed by an hour of free time, and then the group activities of each evening which require organization and planning by each "cabin." A "formal" dance was held one evening, a "carnival night" another, and so on.

Seven cabins making up the sleeping quarters each have the name of a different Indian tribe and the occupants become known as the "Sioux," the "Ottawans," etc. Highlight of each morning is the cabin inspection by the director and awarding of a shield to

Four Attend Havelock Bride

HAVELOCK (ENS).—In Havelock United Church Saturday afternoon rings and nuptial vows were exchanged as Ethel Winnifred Menzies became the bride of Donald Robert Pollock. She is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Menzies of Havelock and the groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pollock of Rush Point.

Baskets of gladioli and mixed summer flowers formed a beautiful background for the ceremony. The Rev. R. G. Newman officiated and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Robert Neale of Peterborough. Miss Gladys Langton of Peterborough was the soloist and sang "O Promise Me" prior to the ceremony and "I'll Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a lovely gown of French lace and nylon net over white satin. The moulded lace bodice, was inset with nylon net at the neckline and fastened down the back with tiny satin buttons. The long lace sleeves came to points over her hands. Her full skirt of nylon net over satin had an overskirt of lace at the back which fell gracefully into a slight train and her fingertip veil of bouffant net was caught to a headdress of orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink Briarcliffe roses with pink ribbon.

Mrs. Oryal Bolton of Burleigh Falls was matron of honor for her sister, gowned in pink taffeta and carrying a nosegay of white gladioli with white maline net. Miss Barbara Pollock, sister of the groom was senior bridesmaid, wearing a gown of pale blue taffeta and carrying a nosegay of pink gladioli with blue maline net. Both gowns were similarly styled with short puff sleeves, and an inset yoke of net which was outlined with a fold of taffeta. They wore headbands of matching flowers and matching nylon net mittens.

Junior bridesmaids were Miss Marina Pollock, sister of the groom who wore mauve taffeta and carried yellow gladioli with mauve maline net and Miss Evelyn Wilde, niece of the bride, wearing green taffeta and carrying mauve gladioli with green maline net. Their dresses were fashioned with round necklines, full skirts with a bow of matching net at the back. Their headdresses and mittens were of matching net and they wore gold lockets.

Ross Hennigar of Havelock was the groomsman and the ushers were Russell Menzies, brother of the bride and Kenneth Toms, cousin of the groom.

A reception was held in the Sunday school auditorium of the church. The bride's mother wore a gown of grey gabardine with navy accessories and a corsage of Bettertime red roses. The groom's mother was attired in aqua gabardine, with black accessories with a corsage of cream roses.

Later the bride and groom left on a motor trip to Kingston, Nova Scotia, where they will be the guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Harold Skaling and Mr. Skaling. For traveling the bride chose a pale pink gabardine suit with navy accessories and a corsage of white gladioli and carried a navy shortie coat. They will live in Havelock.

Smith-Cox Rites

The marriage of Muriel Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Anderson to Milson George Smith son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Smith, was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, 269 Burnham St., on Saturday. The Rev. E. W. Rowland officiated.

The house was beautifully decorated with pink and white streamers, white bells and large bouuqets of gladiolus. The bride ascended the stairs to the strains of the wedding march, and during the signing of the register a recording of "Because" was played.

Given in marriage by her father, she was charming in an ankle length gown of pale blue lace over blue satin, a tiny blue hat and mittens to match. She carried a cascade of white 'mums and an orchid.

Mrs. Jean Ward, who was matron of honor for her sister, was becomingly attired in an ankle length gown of navy lace over rose taffeta, with matching hat and mittens. She carried a cascade of pink pin 'mums and pink satin ribbon. Mr. Victor Smith, brother of the groom, was groomsman.

The reception was held in the Kawartha room of the Empress Hotel. The bride's mother received wearing a navy and red crepe dress with navy accessories and a corsage of green baby 'mums. The groom's sister, Mrs. Elsie Storey, assisted, wearing a black and white taffeta dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Toronto, Montreal and Quebec. For travelling the bride chose a navy suit and white blouse with navy accessories and an orchid for her corsage.

They will live at 409 Walton St.

Two Sisters Take Final Vows

The ceremony of Reception and Profession took place on Friday at Mount St. Joseph. Two young ladies entered the chapel promptly at nine-thirty, dressed in bridal grandeur, attended by their trainbearers, and took their places before the altar to assist at mass celebrated by the Rev. G. Wolff, of Powassan.

Immediately following the mass, in the absence of His Excellency Bishop Berry, the Right Rev. F. J. O'Sullivan, P.A., V.G., P.P., Immaculate Conception parish, Peterborough, carried on the liturgical ceremony to admit these candidates as members of the Congregation of the Sisters of St. Joseph. He was assisted by the Rev. V. J. Corkery and the Rev. F. J. Coughlan. As the Sisters' choir sang the traditional hymn, "Go Ye Forth O Sion's Daughter," these two young ladies left the chapel to return later dressed in the religious habit. They are: Miss Claudia Dycie, of Ottawa, to be known in future as Sister Mary Angela; Miss Louise Aultman, from Powassan, to be known as Sister Mary Eleanor.

The ceremony of First Vows followed when Sister Jacinta (Sauve), of Waubaushene, and Sister St. Paul (Snetsinger), of Dickinson's Landing, made vows for one year, to dedicate their lives more closely to God and experience the life lived by professed Sisters in the Community before taking final vows.

Sister St. Andrew (Andrews), of Cornwall, Sister Constance (Connelly), of Kirkfield, and Sister St. Damien (Charon), of Ottawa, having completed their Novitiate of five years, made final vows in order more perfectly to serve God during their whole lives. At an earlier mass, nine other Sisters renewed their vows for one year.

Rev. Augustine Bennett, C.Ss.R., of Toronto, preached the sermon. Besides the officiating clergy, there were present in the sanctuary: Right Rev. J .V. McAuley, D.P., P.P., Lindsay; Right Rev. P. P. Butler, D.P., P.P.; Rev. J. Gaughan, of Sacred Heart Parish; Rev. H. Black, P.P., and Rev. J. Hart, of Grafton; Rev. J. F. Houlihan, Immaculate Conception Parish; Rev. R. Garvey, Rev. J. Hickey, of St. Peter's Cathedral; Rev. J. O'Donnell, C.Ss.R., Peterborough; Rev. T. Coughlan, Powassan; Rev. J. Tompkins, P.P., South Gloucester; Rev. J. McCreavey, Calgary.

The little flower girls who accompanied the brides were: Mary Helen Baldwin, Noreen Cavanagh, Anne Collins, Marie Cunningham, Donna Guerin and Teresa Guerin.

Girl Prefers More Dates Likes Them Less Expensive

DEAR MISS DIX: It seems that when I go out with boys, which is not too often now, they think they have to pay for a whole banquet. Is there any way to make them realize that a girl would rather just go walking than have to stay in every night because the boy has no money? Also, we do appreciate phone calls. I don't want to come right out and tell the boys they are spending too much money on one date. They feel they must save their allowances for a month before they can take me any place. Because of this, the boys avoid me until they have some money. So I just sit home nights. What can you suggest? PAT B.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your sense and consideration would do credit to a much older girl, Pat. You should realize that the boys are paying you a big compliment when they feel that nothing but the best is good enough for you. Being teenagers themselves, they aren't yet wise enough to the ways of the world (especially the feminine world) to know that girls are more flattered by attention than by any amount of money spent on them. Your boy friends' intentions are good, but lack of experience, coupled with youthful diffidence, produces what is, in this case, anyway, a somewhat confused conclusion.

TRY SIMPLE ENTERTAINMENT

Why not invite the boys (singly, or in groups, whichever way your crowd travels) to the house for an evening of homey entertainment—television, piano playing, singing, dancing, games, refreshments of cookies and lemonade? If the boys see that you are as good a companion on a simple evening at home as you are on a glamorous big date, they may revise their ideas about needing money to take you out.

You might wax tactfully enthusiastic about the local movie or soda bar, the skating rink or perhaps just how pleasant walking is on these nice summer days. If they're smart, they'll catch on.

Girls acquire the know-how of social development at a much earlier age than boys do; in fact, girls almost always have it to a greater extent than boys. Since it is not diplomatic to allow the dominant male to realize his deficiency in this respect, we womenfolk must gently take the reins of social progress into our own hands and lead the men around. The boys you know will actually appreciate your efforts, as long as they aren't driven with a heavy hand. Obviously you have tact, and should be able to accomplish this delicate task without much trouble. Good luck to you!

DEAR MISS DIX: The man I plan to marry is known for his kindness and generosity, but he is completely devoted to his widowed mother. I can't stand her; she is a loud, vulgar and a very demanding person. Do you think I could turn him against his mother when we marry? In a way, I'm glad he has been good to her, because I know that a man who is good to his mother will be good to his wife. A BRIDE-TO-BE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: A bride-never-to-be, I hope; at least, to this man. You are a very selfish, despicable, self-centred person, and until you change your own disposition, any man better stay clear of you. You accuse your fiance's mother of being a hypocrite; actually you are the deceiver. Is it fair to accept the attentions of a man, pretending to like his mother, while all the time you feel for her the sentiments so crassly expressed in your letter? Perhaps she may lack a cultured appearance, but she has honestly raised an honest son—and I doubt if you could raise an honest emotion. If you have any decency at all, break the engagement.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Are my parents right in keeping me away from my 19-year-old boy friend? I am 15. They won't let me see him at all, HELEN

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: At your tender age, four years is quite a difference. You haven't yet acquired the maturity to select your own friends with assurance; let mom and dad handle this for you at present. They unboubtedly have good reason for their decision.

Treat Food With Respect It's Expensive

Without being disloyal or treading on anyone's toes, I have an opportunity at long last to air my gripe to housekeepers who do not treat their food with respect.

Food is a very expensive essential (I'm telling you!) and it is one of the major duties of homemakers to take precious care of it.

I have been visiting my friend Garny near Lake Michigan and as you know she is one of the world's most meticulous housekeepers.

On the first morning after Marianne and I arrived Garny and I were doing the breakfast dishes in a leisurely and talkative manner. She asked me if I had to spend much time at the typewriter while I was there. Except for some special assignments my work was caught up. But she had an idea. She and Joe had been visiting in Florida this spring and had visited with a mutual friend of ours from college days. This girl is the food offender.

She does not wash her food when she stores it in the refrigerator. For instance, she tossed a couple of bunches of carrots, tops on, on the floor of her refrigerator. She leaves the meat and butter and mayonnaise and cream uncovered. Even a jar of egg whites was uncovered and had formed a hard film on top. A leftover half of roast turkey was shoved into the regrigerator on the silver platter on which it had been served, and left uncovered.

Garny was distressed at such careless waste and thought good refrigerator housekeeping would be a good topic for a column of mine.

My friends, you know I'm no martinet, for I believe in enjoying every minute of the day, praising where praise is due, and playing down the criticism—but if I could give some of you a lift on this serious business of storing and conserving food, making the optimum use of your handsome refrigerator I would feel this little refresher course was justified.

BRINGING HOME THE GROCERIES

When the groceries are brought into the kitchen, put away the dry and canned foods first to reduce the confusion.

Pop a tin of fruit juice into the refrigerator to have on tap and cold for quick beverages in this weather.

Do not wash bananas but store them in a dark cupboard in double paper bags to prevent bruising. They should not be refrigerated.

Wash lettuce, cabbage, celery, cucumbers, peppers, tomatoes, radishes and carrots (trim tops from latter two). Store these in plastic bags of size and shape to hold them even when they are placed in crispers.

Do not wash berries, but keep them covered in refrigerator. At mealtime wash enough berries for your current meal in a sieve under cold running water.

Wash and dry tops and bottoms of milk bottles before standing them in refrigerator.

To keep egg yolks soft barely cover them with cold water and keep in covered jar.

Plastic bags and foilwrap are the dream of all fastidious food handlers and save their cost in food conserved a hundred times over.

DEFROSTING

Food need not warm up to room temperature when you defrost. I am sure I have told you before to defrost quickly by filling the ice trays with almost boiling water while power is turned off. (This does not apply to self-defrosting regrigerators). This quickly melts off the frost on the coils before the internal temperature of milk and meat and butter and such perishables can be lowered. With this method I can defrost and have refrigerator shelves, walls and crispers cleaned, leftovers assembled into a made dish, water pan emptied, door closed and power turned on again in one and one-half hours.

That timing may not break any Olympic records, but it certainly cuts food and time waste down to a minimum.

If some of you bosom friends of mine have some refrigerator tips to pass on to the rest of this audience I'd be glad to receive them in the mail.

WATER HEATER EXPLODES

KITCHENER (CP) — Mr and Mrs. Irvine Cober and their nine children were not injured yesterday when an exploding water heater wrecked the ground floor of their farm home. A thermostat on the tank had been removed for repairs and the switch was operated manually.

Wide Shoulders, Slim Skirts Stressed In Autumn Styles

LONDON (Reuters)—Smart women will look top-heavy in daytime this winter.

But they will not have to scrap the whole of their existing wardrobes. The big fashion collections setting the styles which will be worn this winter, show no radical changes.

Added width to the shoulders, achieved by the addition of a wide, shaped stole or cape, and a slimming, by flat-pleating or just plain cutting, of billowing skirts, will bring existing suits and day ensembles approximately up-to-date.

LONGER SKIRTS

Skirts will have to be lengthened an inch or two to the new length of 13 inches off the ground. But shoulders remain sloping and the waist, though it wanders slightly here and there in front remains in general, as last season, in its natural position.

Winter coats are more cosy than ever, with tall luxurious-looking fur collars, deep fur cuffs and, often, fur lining which edges the front opening from collar to hem.

Black Persian lamb, beaver and fox are the most popular furs, but seal and mink are also used.

Suits, in the majority, are cut on classic lines, with pencil slim skirts and jackets with low-cut collars, nipped in waists and longish stiffened basques which give a full, rounded hip-line. In many suits, stiff stand-out pockets emphasize this line.

A variation of the classic tailor-made suit, for which British dressmakers are famous, is seen in Peter Russell's "La-de-da" look. This features a trim jacket reminiscent of a man's tail coat, with the tails cut off, and snugly moulded to the figure—which gives an elegant and, at the same time, a feminine line.

University Women Urge Arts, Letters Council

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Federation of University Women, which opens its triennial meeting here today, is expected to urge the federal government to set up a council to encourage Canadian arts and letters and the development of research and study in the humanities and social sciences.

A resolution dealing with that subject will come before the convention.

It notes that the Royal Commission on Arts, Letters and Sciences recommended establishment of such a council.

One controversial subject likely to come before the convention is another resolution urging the government "through the Prime Minister to retain the words 'Dominion' and 'Royal' in the Canadian official vocabulary."

The resolution originated in the University Women's Club of Peterborough.

Another resolution notes criticism of a series of programs on the CBC by distinguished psychiatrists and scientists including Bertrand Russell and Dr. Brock Chisholm, secretary general of the World Health Organization.

The resolution says "such attacks, if successful, would constitute an encroachment on one of our basic freedoms. . ." It calls on the Federation to reaffirm its faith in the policy of the CBC not to let the air fall under control of any individuals and that the air belongs to the people who are entitled to hear the principal points of view on all questions of importance.

Women Just As Good Cooks As Men French Chef Says

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS (AP)—One of the most famous chefs of France admits that women can cook just as well as man.

Paul Bellon is chef of the Cafe de Paris, one of only two Paris restaurants which rate three stars in this year's Guide Michelin, the gourmet's bible.

"Women make wonderful cooks," says Bellon. "The only reason all the noted chefs are men is that the trade is just too hard for women. There's a lot of heavy physical labor in a restaurant kitchen, and the hours are long."

At 66, Bellon works about 14 hours a day, six days a week, supervising and advising 18 cooks—all men.

He doesn't seem impressed with the highest accolade in the culinary world. "After all," he shrugs, "I came here as a kitchen boy in 1904."

Since he became chef in 1920, Bellon has garnered enough Michelin stars for the Cafe de Paris to create a minor firmament. But his own favorite cook is his wife.

WIFE IS CHEF

"At home, Madame Bellon is the chef," he says. "I only cook a meal about once a week to give her a rest."

Cooking is no longer the proud profession it used to be, says Bellon. "The boys don't want to go in for it any more. It used to be a very well paid trade, but nowadays a skilled cook in a good restaurant only gets about 40,000 francs ($115) a month, plus his meals."

Here is one of Chef Bellon's favorite recipes, for chicken cooked in champagne:

Take a roasting chicken to serve four (about three pounds); after cleaning and emptying it, roast with a water glass of dry champagne and a piece of butter for about 45 minutes. When it is done, reduce the resulting bouillon and mix in four egg yellows and a pint of cream. Heat this sauce on the fire, but do not boil it. Then pour it over the roast chicken, and decorate with several slices of truffle.

What's Right?

When she is sitting talking to a man, a woman drops something on the floor.

WRONG: She tries to pick it up before he has a chance to retrieve it for her.

RIGHT: She lets him pick it up for her.

HISTORIC UNIVERSITY

The beginnings of Oxford University cannot be traced back further than the early 12th century but legend says it was founded by Alfred in 872.

Rescue Climbers From Big Cave

LICQ-ATHERY, France (AP) — Dr. Andre Mairey was pulled safely to the surface today from the cave which claimed the life of French explorer Marcel Loubens.

The doctor was the last of four explorers who had spent anxious days and nights 1,153 feet below ground.

Mairey went down last Thursday in a vain attempt to save Loubens' life after he fell 120 feet to the rocks below.

A bronze cross and two photographs were lowered into the cave earlier today. Mairey placed them on the explorer's grave before he was hauled up.

The mementoes were lowered to be placed on the rock grave improvised for him in the abyss. The photographs were of his wife and his two-year-old son. Yesterday a panish priest at the mouth of the cave shaft recited prayers and gave the church's benediction.

Haroun Tazieff, the third member of the expedition brought up last night, spent a harrowing two hours hanging in space on the steel cable when the electric winch hauling him broke down.

"I have never been so miserable in my life," Tazieff said. "It was a real nightmare." He had spent nine days in the darkness and cold of the cave.

Given Silver Mine As Anniversary Gift

CENTRAL CITY, Colo. (CP)—What could be a more appropriate gift for a silver wedding anniversary than a silver mine?

Helen Hayes and her husband, Charles MacArthur, received a deed and map to a silver mine yesterday when they celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary.

The cast of the play "Mrs. McThing," in which Miss Hayes appeared here, chipped in to buy it for a "real bargain—twenty-five bucks."

Salmon Leather For Shoes Expected To Be Used Soon

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

The salmon, courageous fighter of fast-flowing rivers and flavorsome food of mealtime, may find a new career.

A release from the Leather Industries of America, association of tanners, announces the showing of women's shoes and handbags made of salmon leather. The release adds:

"Although not yet in mass production, tanners expect that shortly salmon will be popular for shoes, handbags, belts, etc. Production bugs now are being worked out and it is expected that this leather will be inexpensive and plentiful."

The successful tanning of salmon skin, it says, has been attempted on and off for more than 300 years.

BUSINESS CHEERFUL

American business men may be somewhat apprehensive of the time when armament and building programs slow down, but apparently they are optimistic about the immediate future.

Sam Dawson of The Associated Press, looking for the situation, says:

"Manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers, bankers, stock brokers and some government officials are lining up on the side of the optimists in appraising prospects for the rest of the year.

"A poll of 1,277 business executives by Dunn & Bradstreet shows the majority looking for increased sales volume during the rest of the year, and most of them expect their operations to be profitable.

"Nearly all plan to maintain present employment levels and some expect to hire more men.

Sixty-five per cent believe present prices will be maintained for the rest of the year. Sixteen per cent look for higher prices, while 19 per cent predict their own selling prices will be lower.

"Another group that believes the country can expect a generally high level of business activity the rest of the year is the Credit Policy Commission of the American Bankers Association. It is particularly pleased by the 'general improvement in the inventory position of several business classifications notably textiles and household furnishings. . .

"Food processors also are betting on good times continuing. . ."

65 Young Girls

the one in best condition. Winners have a sort of priority for the day and get a "special privilege" just before bedtime.

Mrs. Campbell has had to extend her marking rules as the camp progresses and the girls even landscaped their cabin frontage for a more attractive appearance. As a sideline they also built a miniature Indian village dotted with colorfully painted "tents."

Mrs. Keith Pilkington who is in charge of the waterfront again this year, has pitched her own tent on the grounds to provide sleeping space for herself, her daughter and another camper. It is so placed that she has a commanding view of the dock and boats at all times but she is always right on the scene when campers are in or on the water. Other times she assists with crafts and is a guide to counsellors.

The same nurse is back, too, Mrs. Dion Snelgrove, and she shares her cabin with daughter Sharon. The "hospital" has three beds and they were all full Thursday and Friday though nothing more serious than an upset from too much sun or too much water was diagnosed. One little girl had to be sent home Tuesday night but came back next day with a prescription from her doctor which the nurse dispensed.

A library of 50 books specially selected for the age group by the Public Library staff is looked after by Mrs. Snelgrove in spare time and she also helps out in the small tuck shop.

One of the new counsellors this year is Fran Gibson of Peterborough and she has made the camp more attractive with posters designating certain cabins. Fran aspires to be a commercial artist and seems to have the necessary talent.

Camp equipment would not be complete without the large bell hanging on the main cabin verandah. It is rung to announce every change in program and for "hashers" and for meals. The hashers are the girls who set and clear the tables, dry dishes and tidy the dining room. Their names are listed on the bulletin board and appear a day in advance, with names of those that are in charge and have other camp duties for each day.

Needs of the "inner girl" are being satisfied to the utmost by cook Mrs. Wagner from Apsley, a charming woman as well as an excellent cook. She has daughter Joan and another girl to assist in the kitchen and there are two boys on hand, Pete and Al, to fetch and carry as well as to run the motor boats.

Non-sectarian worship in a rustic "chapel" under hilltop trees is the beginning of each day's program. Services are led by the director and a counsellor who take places behind a specially built pulpit while the campers find seats on the stones in front. On Sunday the girls were taken by boat to Young's Point for mass and for church.

This year's campers have been mostly nine and ten years old where last year they were mostly 11 and 12. Since the 12-year-olds last year simply begged to be allowed to come again, it's pretty safe to say most of this year's crowd will be back again. They have come from Montreal, Kingston, Toronto, Niagara Falls, Cobourg and Apsley, usually because of family connections in this district, but the majority have Peterborough homes. Camp ends this Wednesday, August 20th.

RANDOLPH, Mass. (AP)—Amateaur archaeologists believe they have discovered ruins of a 3,000-year-old Indian village here.

The South Shore chapter of the Massachusetts Archaeological Society announced last night it is convinced that a formation of rocks unearthed is a fireplace used by Eskkimo-type Indians pre-dating Algonquin man.

Zatopek Spurns Offers From U.S.

VIENNA (AP)—Emil Zatopek, Czechoslovakia's triple gold medalist in the recent Olympics, spurned bids to visit the United States today, calling the offers "ridiculous, unsportsmanlike."

The world's marathon champion, broadcasting over the Prague radio, said the offers were to run on "circus" trackks unsuitable for his long-distance running. He added:

"I only laughed when I received these ridiculous, unsportsmanlike offers."

Zatopek said the United States was indirectly responsible for his record-breaking feats at Helsinki.

"It was the brutal and harsh play of the United States ice hockey team in the winter Olympics which drove me to my most recent performances," he said.

LA CORUNA, Spain (Reuters)—Jose Jimenez ate 36 hard-boiled eggs in 40 minutes in a tavern at Carballo near here to win a bet. He followed this with a thick veal cutlet washed down by two bottles of red wine. Jimenez is described as "very thin and rather weak looking."

Thrilling Experience

Find Tanks Can't Miss With New Stabilizer Gadget

BOINGTON, England (CP) — The Royal Armored Corps put on a demonstration of Centurian tanks here that flabbergasted the British press and would probably cause old armored corps vets in Canada to whistle, too.

A stabilizer is the most colorful of the new gadgets in this best of British tanks. It kees the gun on target no matter how much the tank rolls, sways or plunges. The same is true of the Besa machine-guns.

An observer at the demonstration stated: "Before firing, three Centurions rumbled past (the observation point) each with its 20-pounder gun trained beadily upon the spectators. The tanks bounced and plunged over uneven ground but the guns continued to stare impertubably at us."

The Centurions fired with rapidity while on the move and the demonstration of blind accuracy thrilled onlookers. Cromwells were blown to bits in seconds and a thicket of wooden men cut to splinters by the Besa machine-guns—complete accuracy provided by the stabilizer.

ORDINARY CREWS

One reporter said that it is customary at such a military demonstration to put crack men at the controls. This was not the case in this instance as the crews in the show were students who had just completed a 10-week course.

A smoke demonstration was part of the exercise and in a matter of minutes the tanks in action were completely covered from the spectators' view while they loped comfortably away at 20 miles per hour.

Reporters were invited to inspect the tanks and were placed at controls while in motion and in simulated action. The newspapermen were amazed at the lack of noise and the seeming aloofness of it all while inside the Centurions. They did observe, however, that the toughest job was that of the gun layer who had to slip a heavy shell into the breech while the tank whisked over uneven ground at a considerable pace.

To help new recruits the training staff here has designed a static Centurion turret with a gun that recoils artificially. The only projectile discharged is a .22-calibre bullet. The loader and the rest of the crew can learn the fundamentals of their jobs without expending valuable ammunition.

Montana Girl Wins Canadian Open

By JIM PEACOCK

EDMONTON (CP)—The Canadian women's Open golf championship rests today with a 22-year-old Montana girl, the fifth American winner since the Open resumed in 1947.

Edean Anderson of Helena chopped down Edmonton Mayfair's elusive par Saturday for a 9-and-8 victory over Mary Gay of Kitchener, Ont., to take the title held last year by Marlene Stewart of Fonthill, Ont. Some 4,000 golf fans saw the final.

The young Montanan shot nine birdies to win without difficulty. Her sub-par pace in the semi-finals knocked out Miss Stewart one up.

OFF ON GREENS

Miss Gay, tired after defeating the 1951 runner-up, Grace Lenczyk of Hartford, Conn., in a 23-hole semi-final, went behind to stay at the fourth hole. The 20-year-old Ontario champion faltered on the greens and was off on many approach shots.

Not since 1947 when Miss Lenczyk won the 36-hole final 12 and 11 has anyone taken the Open by such a margin. Miss Anderson went nine up after 18 holes and never lost that lead.

Miss Anderson hooked her tee shot to the rough on the fourth hole but the ball hit a tree and bounced to the fairway. She parred the hole in four and Miss Gay lost out when she three-putted from 30 feet.

The Ontario girl took three putts on the sixth to go two down and fell farther behind at the 160-yard seventh when Miss Anderson drove to within 10 feet from the pin and dropped the putt for a birdie two.

GULL TAKES BALL

At the 10th the birdie almost got Miss Anderson. Her tee shot attracted a gull and the bird picked up the ball, dropping it about a foot closer to the green. Miss Anderson won the hole with a birdie four.

Miss Gay won the 11th when Miss Anderson was trapped but the 12th was won by the Montana champion. Two birdies and three pars on the last five holes gave Miss Anderson a nine-up lead.

The afternoon round was split. Both won two holes and the rest were halved, leaving Miss Anderson the winner on the 28th hole.

Miss Anderson, six-times Montana state champion and winner of several other U.S. titles, won the Canadian Open on her second attempt. In 1950 she lost out in the semi-finals. Miss Gay won her first major title this year in taking the Ontario chapionship.

Mrs. W. D. Edey of Winnipeg went all the way in the championship consolation flight, defeating Mrs. Graeme Pyke of Montreal two up in an 18-hole final.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

MONTREAL (CP)—Yvon Guillou, a native of France now living in Quebec city, yesterday pedalled the 167 miles from Quebec to Montreal in seven hours, 59 minutes to win the 19th annual cycling race between the two cities.

Second was Victor Hauben, a native of Liege, Belgium, now riding out of Quebec, who came in five lengths behind Guillou.

The race, organized by the National Quilicot Club, a French-language youth organization, was sanctioned by the Canadian Wheelmen's Association.

Sixty-eight riders from Canada and the United States lined up at Quebec but only 21 finished within the required time limit—one hour after the winner crossed the finishing line.

Guillou and Hauben pulled away from the field some 13 miles out of Quebec, and at one time were 23 minutes ahead of their nearest rival.

WIN LONG CANOE RACE

SHAWINIGAN FALLS, Que. (CP) Henri Goyette and Ovila Denomme of the northern St. Maurice River region of La Tuque yesterday captured the annual 100-mile canoe race between La Tuque and Shawinigan Falls, covering the distance in 10 hours, 31 minutes and 16 seconds.

Some 25,000 persons crowded along the banks of the St. Maurice River to see the annual classic and the leaders beat out Rene and Rosaire Denommee, representing the city of La Tuque, who finished second.

65-Item Work Program Scheduled For U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) a 65-item work program was outlined by the United Nations secretariat yesterday for the seventh session of the U.N. General Assembly, to open Oct. 14.

The Moroccan and Tunisian independence issues, raised by Middle East and Asian countries, bulk large in the long roll of colonial programs.

Ban On Buying Farmland Causes Storm

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (Reuters)—A bill forbidding a person to buy or lease farmland unless he resides in it himself for at least three years and farms it exclusively for his own use and benefit has raised a storm of protest in New Zealand.

The prohibition is contained in the Land Settlement Promotion Bill recently introduced in the House of Representatives.

Farmers have objected that it constitutes an attack on the freedom of the citizen to buy and sell, and also because they fear it will prevent the city man's capital from migrating to the land.

Those who support the bill argue it will end speculation in land and result in those qualified to farm being settled more speedily. Servicemen farmers, they declare, will also be given a further opportunity for access to farm property.

MUST OPEN HAND

Lands Minister Ernest Corbett, who will guide the bill through the House, has said it is necessary to open up land to 12,000 potential farmers in addition to 2,400 service men farmers awaiting settlement.

"I think that the safeguards we have taken are adequate, and our proposals are sound and reasonable if we are to give any protection to the flood of farmers awaiting land today."

The bill contains provisions for compulsory acquisition of land by the state. Prime Minister Sidney Holland has said that no compulsory acquisition will be made without prior consent of the cabinet.

Release Study Of Red Tactics

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department yesterday released a study of the tactics by which Communist governments are capturing youth and chaining churches to the state in their drive to kill all religion.

The report asserts that the ultimate aim of Communist policy toward religion "is its extinction."

In one of the primary drives, the study says, religious education for the young has generally been removed from the schedule of church activities and "youth organizations, including those of Catholic youths, have been reorganized into federations which wage a crusade against religion."

Another such step is to make churches subservient to the Communist state, the review states, in the pattern of relations between the Russian orthodox church and the government of the Soviet Union.

Smiths Invade Scotland Now

EDINBURGH (Reuters)—The Smiths have invaded Scotland to the point where they outnumber the more traditional clans.

The post office says there now are 16 Smiths in every 1,000 of the population in Scotland. There are 12 MacDonald, 11 Thomsons, 10 Campbells and 10 Robertsons a thousand.

There is no threat from the Joneses, however—they're not even in the first 100.

The Smiths lead in England with 18 in every 1,000.

Italy Clinches Title In Dutch Grand Prix

ZANDVOORT-ON-SEA, The Netherlands (AP)—Albert Ascari of Italy clinched the world's automobile racing title yesterday by winning the Dutch Grand Prix race at an average speed of 80.91 miles an hour.

Leading all the way in the approximately 235-mile race, Ascari lapped all the other 17 drivers in the race except his teammates, Giuseppe Farina and Luigi Villoresi, who finished second and third, respectively. All three Italians drove Ferraris.

Ascari earlier had won the German, French, Belgian and English Grand Prix races.

Toronto Doctor 47, Captures Gov.-General's Gold Medal Match

SOUTH MARCH (CP)—A 47-year-old Toronto doctor Saturday put the crowning touches to a top-notch career of marksmanship at the 84th annual Dominion of Canada Rifle Association shoot.

Maj. Desmond T. Burke, a veteran Bisley shot, captured the Governor-General's gold medal match at the final day of the week-long meet to end a long hunt for the coveted medal.

The victory gave the short, stocky radiologist the distinction of being the only rifleman ever to win the King's Prize at Bisley, England, and the Governor-General's medal. In addition, he is the record holder of the King's Medal on the Connaught Rifle Ranges near Ottawa, having won it eight times.

POSTS RECORD SCORE

Burke posted a record score of 174 of a possible 175, firing at distances of 300, 600, and 900 yards in a drizzling rain that changed to a downpour as the victor was chaired and carried from the firing ranges to the presentation stand.

Burke scored a 99—one off the possible from the 300- and 600-yard ranges—and despite the poor visibility, pumped in 15 bulls-eyes for a perfect 75 from the 900-yard range.

Maj. H. C. Frick of Ottawa also scored 15 straight bulls from the longer range but dropped to four inners on the shorter ranges for a score of 171 to tie with Maj. A. J. F. Roberts, Montreal, and S.Sgt. G. B. Kay of Hamilton. Because of their placings on the target, Frick was awarded second place, Roberts third and Kay fourth. Tpr. Don Morter of Calgary and Capt. M. M. Morgan of Winnipeg and Kingston, Ont., finished with 170s.

QUALIFIED 18 TIMES

Burke's amazing score gave him a first-place standing for those qualifying for Canada's 1953 Bisley team. It was the 18th time that Burke has qualified for the Bisley team. Because of pressure of business he has made the trip only nine times.

Burke posted a combined score of 324 of a possible 350 to lead the field. Three points behind in second place was Sgt. C. C. Wilson of Ottawa and Sgt. E. R. Jamieson of Vancouver was third with 320.

Scores posted in the Governor-General's match are added to the scores posted in the grand aggregate of matches through the week and from these are chosen Canada's Bisley team.

Other riflemen who qualified for the team are: Maj. J. W. Houlden, Winnipeg, 319; Maj. R. W. Hampton, Ottawa and Camp Borden 319; WO2. E. L. Warner, Sherbrooke, Que., 319; Capt. M. M. Morgan, Winnipeg and Kingston, 317; Lieut. James Boa, Toronto, 316; Sgt. T. Donald, Charlottetown, 314; Alban S. Emery, Saint John, N.B., 313; Sgt. W. E. Hicks, Edmonton, 315, and Lt.-Col. Steve Johnson, Calgary, 313.

If any marksman drops out or is unable to make the trip to England the next on the list will be given a chance to go.

Angular Trombone Given Preview

CHATAUQUA, N.Y. (AP)—An angular trombone, which slides sideways instead of up and down, was used here yesterday in the world premier of Tibor Serly's concerto for trombone chamber orchestra.

David Shuman, a member of the faculty at Juilliard School of Music in New York City and designer of the instrument, was soloist.

Shuman said his trombone, which angles off to the right, was designed to aid youngsters who must stretch and strain to reach the low positions on a standard instument. The angular designs shortens the length of arm required, he explained.

Investigating Death Of Civilian Worker

PEMBROKE (CP)—Police are investigating the death of George Brewer, 39-year-old civilian worker at nearby Petawawa military camp, whose body was found Saturday in bed at the camp.

Police said a party and a scuffle took place Friday night in the barracks where Brewer lived with some 30 other civilian employees.

Canadian and U.S. Hockey Authorities Banning Exhibition Tours Of Europe

By JACK SULLIVAN

TORONTO (CP)—Canadian and American hockey authorities last night banned exhibition tours of Europe by their teams. They are willing to take part in world championships held overseas but want expense guarantees.

This may mean the end of Canadian and U.S. participation in the world title tournament, previously financed by extended exhibition tours.

'INCIDENTS' BLAMED

In a joint statement the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and the Amateur Hockey Association of the United States said that "in view of the apparently innumerable incidents of the past few years" during hockey tours they "do not look with much enthusiasm upon future European tours."

Neither country will participate in the world event "unless both bodies are invited under the same conditions."

The statement was signed by W. B. George of Kemptville, newly-elected president of the C.A.H.A., and Tommy Lockhart of New York, president of the American body.

The 1953 world championships is scheduled for Zurich, Switzerland, in April. No Canadian team has been named but it is known that two or three intermediate clubs have applied for permission to represent Canada.

AHEARNE BREAK LINKED

While the "incidents" were given as the reason for the exhibition ban, it is believed also to be linked to a break with John F. Ahearne, London hockey bigwig, who has operated tours for both associations for many years.

Ahearne resigned as European representative of the C.A.H.A. last June, sequel to a squabble with the C.A.H.A. during the winter Olympic Games at Oslo, Norway, last March. Canadian hockey officials objected to Ahearne's financial control of Canadian tours since the mid '30s.

European hockey crowds have objected to the vigorous body-checking game by North American teams over the years. At the Oslo Olympics they called Americans "Chicago gangsters" and booed tactics that are normal in North American play.

Launch Drive To Purge Poor U.K. Farmers

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—The British ministry of agriculture has launched an all-out drive to purge the country of its inefficient farmers

The action is part of the government's plant to increase food production by some 16 per cent in four years by speeding up dispossession of those failing to make full use of the land.

A ministry memorandum has already been circulated calling for an end to "kid-glove handling" of and, or unco-operative farmers.

Under a new method of grading, farm surveys will be conducted every three years and those who fail to meet required standards will be weeded out to make room for keener men.

The drive was initiated as Stanley N. Evans, Labor member for Wednesbury, fired another broadside against the government for "feather-bedding" the nation's agricultural industry. Former parliamentary secretary to the ministry of food, he resigned from the office in 1950 after criticizing the size of farm subsidies.

FAVORED CHILD

British agriculture, he said, was the favored child of a national economy which had treated it handsomely within recent years. Since 1948 its income had averaged £290,000,000 annually, compared with less than £80,000,000 in 1938—five times the income against 40 per cent increase in production.

"I take the view that giving the farmer more money is like drinking sea water to quench a thirst," Mr. Evans said.

Of Britain's agriculture population, he rated about 20 per cent the best in the world. Some 60 per cent were in a prevailing climate of dull mediocrity, while 20 per cent were the world's worst.

Government subsidies, guaranteed prices and other "molly-coddling" measure, he added, enabled people to go on farming who in the ordinary way would go bankrupt.

PRODUCTION DROPS

Quoting from government reports, Mr. Evans showed that farm production last year had fallen sharply. The wheat yield had been down about 12 per cent, rye 25 per cent, oats 16 per cent, potatoes by more than 150,000 tons while production of mutton and lamb had dropped by 8,000 tons.

During the same period 261,000,000 fewer eggs had been placed at the disposal of the British housewife and of the nation's requirements of 265,000 tons of butter, only 6,000 tons had been forthcoming from the country's dairy industry.

Despite this drop in production, which he described as "catastrophic," farmers had enjoyed a substantial increase in profits.

He contended there was no incentives to efficiency if indolent farmers were protected against the economic consequences of their apathy and inertia in advance and at public expense.

"The farmers not only have a feather bed, they are tucked up in it every year," Mr. Evans said.

Believe Reds Veto Unity For Good

By TOM REEDY

BERLIN (AP) — Has Moscow vetoed German unity, finally and forever?

The Soviet zone is starting to act that way.

The Communist press, mirror of things to come, seldom talks of peace and unity anymore. Instead the feverish theme now is "build Socialism."

The cry was sounded early in July by Walter Ulbricht, party secretary general. Promptly and with fabulous speed, the East started turning itself into a Soviet state. Examples:

1—The minor collaborating parties were whipped into statements hailing Ulbricht's Socialist Unity (Communist) doctrine as necessary for the welfare of the people, thereby discarding their own platforms.

2—The governments of the five states in the East zone were abolished, and replaced with 14 districts. To move from one district to another for only an overnight trip, the East German will have to prove his loyalty to the Red cause. This is an exact duplicate of the Soviet system, adopted by Poland and other satellites in the post-war years.

3—Orders went out granting special priorities for collective farms, so ruthless that the private, independent farmer has little chance of survival.

4—The church, both Protestant and Catholic, is being cut off from any influence from outside the Soviet zone.

5—Merciless "peoples judges" are doling out sentences up to life imprisonment for the slightest opposition to the Red regime.

6—The state security police is emerging as the real boss of the entire land of 18,000,000, dictating to government, and wielding autocratic power far more than even Hitler's old Gestapo held.

Allied experts in West Berlin, noting the heightened tempo of Communizing in the East zone, have the impression now that the Russians are trying to make an East-West rapprochement almost impossible.

They point out that the measures in the East constitute a far higher wall than any armed sentries, ditches, steel barriers or border "danger zones."

In another six months, these quarters say the Communists will probably have uprooted all German traditions. In any unity talks, West and East would be travelling such widely divergent paths of thinking that they never could see eye to eye on such questions as the rights of free enterprise, the responsibility of the citizens, and protection of the individual.

The surrender of the East zone's minor parties to full Socialism has been abject. As soon as Ulbricht rang the bell for the campaign, the Christian Democrat and Liberal Democrats, National Democrats and Farmers' Party joined in the chorus.

The drive against the private farmer has been reflected in the stream of refugees coming into West Berlin daily. One out of every five now is a farmer who has felt the squeeze of the "co-operative" movement.

In East Germany the government has ruled that collective farmers now get free technical aid, top priority for machines, exemption from special taxes for two years, a ten-per-cent cut in the 1952 delivery quotas and a twenty-five per-cent reduction in general taxes. The farmer who refused to join gets nothing.

About 75 per-cent of East Germany's farmland now is "collectivized."

HOW, NOW, LITTLE COWS?—The two cows above, held by six-year-old Bertie Lela Good of Belton, Mo., are five-year-old Herefords, perfectly formed except that they are that bovine rarity—midgets. They stand only 31 inches high and weigh but 110 pounds each.

Believe Newsprint Shortage Improving

By MICHAEL FEY

UNITED NATIONS (Reuters)—The United Nations Economic Department and its specialized agencies are giving particularly attention this year to the world-wide shortage of newsprint and there are signs that improvement is in sight.

In a report recently presented to the economic and social council by the department, it was stated that the immediate situation regarding newsprint is good and that long-term prospects are encouraging.

For the time being, this survey showed, the relation between supply and demand appears satisfactory. As an indication that the 1951 shortage had been overcome and that sufficient quantities of pulpwood would be available to meet Europe's requirements in 1952 the report cited the decline in pulp and paper prices in Eurpoean countries.

ON COUNCIL AGENDA

The newsprint situation will have a prominent place on the agenda of the economic and social council at its next session, scheduled for the summer of 1953.

One of the agencies most actively concerned with the pulp problem is the food and agricultural organization. Its director general, Norris Dodd, recently said that the F.A.O. was concerned with newsprint as well as food, "recognizing that the mind, as well as the body, must be nourished."

At present, F.A.O. is engaged in a world survey to determine where and how newsprint production can be expanded. Questionnaires have been sent out to the countries concerned and these will be studied by special survey teams.

The F.A.O. has drawn up a list of countries which offered reasonable possibilities for the establishment of new pulp and paper factories.

To date, arrangements for the dispatch of technical survey teams have been made with 16 countries—Bolivia, Cambodia, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Ecuador, Greece, Haiti India, Iraq, Nepal, Paraguay, Peru, Turkey, Venezuela and Yugoslavia.

ALREADY AT WORK

Similar teams are already at work in Brazil, Chile, Ethiopia, Indonesia, Mexico, Pakistan and Thailand. Britain, France and Belgium are co-operating with F.A.O. in studying the prospects of pulp production in colonial territories of Africa.

One of the most important tasks now being tackled by technicians from various United Nations agencies is to discover what new raw materials can be used to make paper.

At present, between 85 and 90 per cent of the pulpwood used comes from spruce, balsam, pine, hemlock and one or two other woods. But experiments now are being made in the use of bamboo, Australian eucalyptus, Peruvian "Cetico"—a tropical tree—and "bagasse," the waste product from sugar cane.

Sees No Sign Churchill To Retire

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON

LONDON (CPM(—Recent speculation that Prime Minister Winston Churchill may be nearing the close of his career of effective leadership is not shared by the men of the Parliamentary Press Gallery who have him under scrutiny almost daily during the session.

No other man attacks life with the gusto of the "fabulous parliamentarian," as he is affectionately called, and there is no outward evidence he is contemplating retirement, says Graham Cawthorne, veteran members of the gallery staff in his book, "Mr. Speaker, Sir," just published.

If ever a man was entitled to retire after the European war was won, it was Churchill, says the author. Behind him were five years of glorious leadership, with their ceaseless, wearing strains of big decisions and the agonizing uncertainties of war.

But important things remained to be done and with his tremendous zest for living, he took up a new life rallying a party shattered in the 1945 general election. Six years later he was back in power.

"Today at 77, he is as vigorous and sparkling as ever," says Mr. Cawthorne.

"DON'T-TELL ME"

The writer declares the real secret of Churchill's success lies in his refusal to waste a minute of his time. His rest—real sleep, undressed and between the sheets—after lunch, has for 40 years given him the energy and abounding interest to go on working until the small hours.

"His motto still is: 'If you do something do it with all your might. If there is a problem to be solved, solve it. Don't tell me the difficulties—they will argue for themselves.' He is still that Churchill," says Cawthorne.

During the succession of all-night sittings and tense debates, the restless outpouring of Churchillian energy caused many to worry about his health. But he remained on top of his form, revelling in the embattled atmosphere, drawing strength from the house itself.

Lady Astor found Winston cold towards her when she became the first woman member of parliament. Years later he explained that when she entered the Commons chamber he felt she had intruded on his privacy.

"It was," he said, "as if you had caught me in my bath, without even the protection of a sponge."

"CHILD OF COMMONS"

Churchill has very definite views on language and the uses of words and insists the old, short variety are best of all. Yet it was he who introduced to the House the phrase "terminological inexactitude," to express an "untruth."

Cawthorne says the prime minister's deafness seems to have grown with the years, but parliamentarians suspect that he hears very well when he wants to.

"Old in years but young in heart and vigor, Churchill has always described himself as the child of the House of Commons," the author writes. "His greatest speeches are made down there on the floor of the House, in the cockpit of politics, doing the thing and breathing the air he loves."

Cawthorne contends that Anthony Eden is without contender as the next Conservative prime minister after Churchill.

Poor Russian Holidayers Have Tough Time

By THOMAS HARRIS

STOCKHOLM (Reuters)—If overcrowding and poor food marred your 1952 vacation, take comfort in the plight of the Soviet vacationer, as described in "Trud," organ of the Soviet trades union which run the workers' holiday centres on the Black Sea.

Not only do vacationing comrades have to put up with crowding and second-rate food, but some of the resorts are dirty, the shops haven't much to sell, and cultural activities are at such a low ebb that, complains Trud, the poor vacationers have to resort to such activities as dancing.

Big complaint is overcrowding. As a typical example, the paper quotes the Makopse railway workers holiday home on the Caucasian coast.

Four berths in a room of eight square metres just over eight square yards are not unusual, Trud said. "There is no room to move about, much less to put a chair anywhere."

Unsuitable food is another of the Soviet vacationists' grouses.

Tasty winter fare like meat, fish and cereals is abundant, they say, but vegetables and fruit are scarce.

At Yalta, where top Russian and western statesmen met during the war to arrange a post-war settlement, conditions are equally bad. The "Volna" cafe in that resort has no lemonade, mineral water or, of course, fruit.

Visitors managing to make do without suitable food are also irritated by a shortage of everyday goods. They cannot, for example, buy socks or safety razors in the Crimea. Only expensive brands of cigarettes are available.

Trud said the food base at Yalta is "in a horrible condition." The base is housed in a building with 18 apartments in the upper storeys. The apartments all have balconies facing the courtyard. Housewives beat carpets on the balconies and the dust floats down into the courtyard where food is being packed and dispatched to the Crimea's 70 leading health resorts.

CHARGE NEGLECT

Managers of the vacation centres neglect serious things—like lectures on the Volga Don canal—and go in more for ballroom dancing, Trud said. Even chess, swimming, rowing, photography and handicraft lessons are neglected and many holiday-makers "would prefer these to dancing for which—at Makopse at least—only 40 to 50 people turn up each time."

But what pained Trud most of all was the low "cultural level" of the books in some of the centres. In the Makopse home, Trud's correspondent found a 12-volume work "News from Europe" published in 1890 standing side by side with a French work entitled "The Functions of the Human Body."

Railway Unions Reject Proposal

NEW YORK (AP)—Four railroad brotherhoods threatening to go on strike on the eastern lines of the New York Central Railroad rejected Saturday a mediators' settlement plan. The mediators' proposal had been accepted earlier by the railroad.

The mediators promptly asked both sides to maintain a temporary status quo—meaning, they said, they assumed by this request that no strike would be called.

The mediators asked the company and the unions to meet with them Tuesday morning in the National Mediation Board's offices in Washington.

The railroad announced acceptance of the "package" settlement proposal as its representatives came out of a meeting with mediators during the afternoon.

Later the mediators met briefly with the union side.

Francis J. O'Neill, Jr., chairman of the mediation board, said the unions made their rejection 15 minutes after the meeting began.

Union bargainers then walked out.

Ottawa Declares Canada Now Free Of F-M Disease

Think Chinese Visit To Russia Begging Expedition

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some United States diplomats today viewed the top-level Chinese-Russian conference in Moscow as mainly a "begging expedition" by the Chinese Communists. These officials speculated that the Chinese are dissatisfied with Russia's promises and would plead for: 1. More financial aid to supplement the $300,000,000 loan Moscow promised in February, 1950. 2. Bigger and faster shipments of Russian-made military supplies for hard-pressed Chinese Communist troops in Korea.

3. Removal of Russian troops from Port Arthur and return to Red China of the Changchun Railway as promised by the end of this year.

The State Department has cautiously labelled the Chinese-Soviet conference as "routine" and said such meetings by partner countries are to be expected.

WAR MEASURES TO FORE

But experts on Russian and Chinese affairs here feel the purpose of the huddle is aimed at finding ways to continue the Korean War rather than at any policy change which might mean peace in the Far East.

To back up their belief that the Chinese may ask for a fatter Russian loan, officials pointed out that Russia has devalued the ruble since the last credit was announced, cutting its value by one-quarter. The loan was to be extended during a five-year period in instalments of $60,000,000 each.

Recurring but unverified reports from Far East intelligence sources have pictured the Chinese Reds as disgruntled with the rate of Russian arms deliveries. Soviet weapons go to China via the Trans-Siberian Railway and by Polish, Russian and other Communist ships.

In Moscow it is believed Chou En-lai, may see Prime Minister Stalin before many days.

Premier Chou called on Foreign Minister, Andrei Vishinsky last night.

Western observers said Stalin probably would be taking a personal interest in the talks and so an invitation for Chou to call at the Kremlin would not be surprising.

Three Politburo members — V.M. Molotov, A.I. Mikoyan and N.A. Bulganan — were among the official welcoming party.

TLC Preparing Ask Ottawa To Ban Reds

WINNIPEG (CP) — Canadian labor's biggest body, which has been biffing union Reds around roughly, is about to call on the Canadian government for the kayo.

With the Red cleanup in the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada just about over, the congress at its annual convention here this week is expected to call on the federal government to outlaw Communists in Canada. A long step from old T.L.C. tolerance of Communists in its ranks —it even had Communist Pat Sullivan as national secretary-treasurer until 1948—the move is understood to have had the backing of the T.L.C.'s executive.

The proposal today was at the position where, it was learned, it had been okayed by both the T.L.C.'s convention resolutions committee and the executive of the 522,000-member body. That is tantamount to its adoption by the convention when it comes up later.

It means the possibility, too, of tossing the federal administration into something of a quandary.

The administration is against throwing Communists in Canada outside the law, having said many times it prefers to have labor boot out its Reds and let other Communists have their say. Against that is the fact that the government—though the T.L.C. is traditionally neutral in politics—always has looked for at least some support from it.

A main reason for this is that the other big central labor body—the 350,000-member Canadian Congress of Labor—is aligned with the C.C.F. The C.C.L., due to meet in Toronto Sept. 22, has for several years designated the C.C.F. as the political arm of labor.

Labor Minister Gregg is due to address the convention here during the early part of the week, and he may run into the problem.

In their opening meeting yesterday, the T.L.C. members engaged in a sharp tiff over union jurisdiction and also turned a cold shoulder to a proposal to chop down on some socialistic aims in its "platform of policy."

SUPORT SOCIALISM

The policies are those of public ownership of all public utilities, nationalization of banking and credit and government control of all natural resources. After a debate on which some others of the 18-plank platform came under discus-

Thousands Pour Into West Berlin

BERLIN (Reuters)—Thousands of East Germans poured into West Berlin without Communist interference today for the opening of a six-day Roman Catholic congress to be held in all parts of the divided city.

Some 35,000 had stepped across the border by last night and thousands more entered this morning. The huge congress, starting tonight, has adopted the motto "God Lives."

Although Soviet and East German officials have not hindered the crossings, they have issued a series of restrictions on the Catholic activities, including withdrawal of a promise to let the Congress use public meeting places in East Berlin.

Protestant churches offered the use of their halls in East and West Berlin and helped solve the crisis.

Russians Build Berlin Jet Base

BERLIN (AP)—The Russians were reported today building a jet air base in the East Zone within six minutes' striking distance of Berlin, encircled allied outpost 100 miles behind the Iron Curtain.

The report was front-paged in the Neue Zeitung, German-language daily sponsored here by the United States High Commission.

The newspaper said that the field was under construction along the highway between Guben on the Neisse river and Cottbus, 13 miles to the southwest.

Neue Zeitung said the new Soviet field would be five miles long, 2½ miles wide and connected with Guben by a subterranean supply tunnel.

Trigger-Happy Thugs Kill Two In Holdup

DETROIT (CP) — Two trigger-happy gunmen killed a bar owner and his father early today in an attempted holdup in suburban Hazel Park.

Vidos Vinokurow, 60, and his son, Joseph, 30, were shot to death by two bandits who walked into Joseph's bar with drawn guns.

When the elder Vinokurow ran toward the holdup man three shots crumpled him to the floor. His son ran forward to help and a second barrage felled him.

Police Investigate Confusion In Brantford Man's Death

HAMILTON (CP)—Police today probed the confusion surrounding the death of Harry Woitka, 57, of Brantford, early Sunday. City pathologist Dr. W.J. Deadman yesterday revealed that Woitka died from a fractured skull.

Conflicting statements from participants and witnesses of events which culminated in Woitka's death are facing police with a difficult job of investigation.

One witness, John Stachursky, 29, told police he discovered Woitka dead in bed at the home of Mrs. Lena Lazar.

He, Mr. and Mrs. Woitka and Mrs. Lazar had spent the evening in a beverage room. The party returned to Mrs. Lazar's home around midnight and Woitka went to sleep in Mrs. Lazar's bedroom on the first floor.

Mrs. Woitka went to bed and Mrs. Lazar fell alseep on the couch, he explained. Later, he heard a noise from the bedroom and went to investigate.

He said he turned on the light and found Woitka lying face down on the bed with his shoes still on. On lifting one of Woitka's legs, Stachurski said, he noticed it was "very stiff" and said to Mrs. Woitka, "Harry's dead." Then, he said, he summoned police.

Police are investigating reports from several persons who said they witnessed Woitka fall in the street.

Flames Sweeping 60,000 Acres Of Forests In B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP)—An ocean of flame washed over 40,000 to 60,000 acres of timberland in north-central British Columbia today as dog-tired firefighters struggled to stop the inferno.

They got no help from the sky. There has not been a heavy rainfall in the province for 27 days.

Cooler weather helped the 100 men on the firelines to halt the huge Burns Lake fire on its west and south flanks yesterday but it was still eating east and north.

It was by far the biggest forest fire in B.C. in nearly a decade.

Altogether, 1,253 men are fighting 137 fires throughout the province. No communities are in immediate danger from any of the fires.

Rainmakers failed in an attempt Saturday to produce rain over the 2,000-acre Vernon Lake fire on Central Vancouver Island by seeding cumulous clouds with dry ice.

But officials of Canadian Forest Products, whose valuable stands of timber are being destroyed, said they will make another try when conditions are suitable.

There have been 1,227 forest fires in the province since May 1, compared to 1,455 during the same period last year. Cost of fighting them so far this year has amounted to $275,644 compared to $641,348 last year.

Firefighters were successful at two trouble spots. They ringed an 800-acre blaze high up on the slopes of 4,800-foot Mount Blueby on Vancouver Island and a stubborn 100-acre fire in the Cascades, 150 miles east of here.

Loader Upsets, Operator Killed

BELLEVILLE — When the "front-end" loader he was riding went out of control Monday afternoon, Donald Bennett, 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bennett of Point Anne, was instantly killed at the quarry of the Canada Cement Co., four miles east of her.

Bennett was driving the loader down an incline to the quarry when it left the road and plunged into the quarry, pinning him beneath it. He had been an employee at Canada Cement for three years.

Dr. J. Russell Scott pronounced the victim dead on arrival. There will be no inquest.

Oil Refinery Fire Does Heavy Damage

EDMONTON (CP)—A fire last night at Imperial Oil Limited's big refinery on Edmonton's eastern outskirts did heavy damage to refining installations and may result in a production loss in the next 14 days.

The fire, which broke out in a cracking unit, raged uncontrolled for nearly an hour. The tank farm, where millions of gallons of oil and other petroleum products are stored, was never threatened by the blaze.

Fear Flood Toll In UK May Be 90

LYNMOUTH, England (AP)—Police warned today that the toll from Saturday's devastating flood on England's southwest coast may go as high as 90 dead. The latest official casualty figures stood at 13 known dead, with 28 missing and presumed dead. Seven of the bodies so far recovered have been identified. But unofficially the police said they still had no word on at least 50 more holidayers believed to have been in the resort area Friday night, when sudden downpours sent the quiet little Lyn river raging over this Devon honeymoon resort.

The village's inhabitants were allowed back for the first time yesterday but new panic hit the area last night when a report spread that a nearby reservoir had broken its banks. The report proved false.

POLICE AID TERROR

Police, who were also taken in, helped spread terror by driving through village streets urging residents to flee. Valley residents who had seen 41 persons drowned during the weekend in England's most disastrous floods for a century, obeyed.

An hour later police learned the report was false, but, as a constable said, "by that time it was hard to get them to come back." The worst panic was in Callacombe, 12 miles from here, just below the reservoir.

The report gained credence among the usually stolid Devonman because cold rains were pelting down, hampering relief workers still searching for flood victims.

Thirteen bodies were recovered after army engineers blasted and

Won't Lay Charge Against Sudbury Man

TORONTO (CP)—Police said today no charge will be laid against Douglas Reid, 33, of Sudbury in connection with the hatchet-slaying more than a year ago of Mrs. Gertrude Derkison, 41, in her downtown Toronto hardware shop.

Reid now is awaiting trial at Haileybury on a charge of illegally transporting high-grade silver.

Both Toronto and provincial police questioned Reid when it was learned his description resembled that given by witnesses the day Mrs. Derkison was trussed with wire and hacked to death.

He was arrested along with M. (Bud) Gilson of Cobalt almost two weeks ago following a wild chase along streets and highways near Cobalt.

Truck Tomatoes To Other Plants?

LEAMINGTON (CP) — Essex County farmers whose $1,000,000-dollar field tomato crop is threatened by an H.J. Heinz of Canada strike which began Aug. 8 will investigate possibilities of trucking their tomatoes to processing plants in eastern Ontario.

Officials of the Essex County Vegetable Growers' Association which met last night in nearby Essex said the Association will ask Heinz officials for the use of the company's loading and weighing facilities in the proposed trucking.

If permission is granted, the officials said, the Association's directors will meet Wednesday to discuss plans to coordinate the movement.

Sails In Sloop Around World

NEW YORK (AP)—A Brooklyn bachelor, sailing alone in his 33-foot sloop, completed a round-the-world voyage today—3½ years after he left here without a word of his plans.

While Al Peterson, 40, former milling machine foreman, tied his ship—the Stornoway, to a mooring at Sheepshead Bay a friend, John Slater, told this story:

In 1949 Peterson provisioned the Stornoway for a long voyage and sailed from Brooklyn without announcing his destination.

A postcard from Miami, Fla., was the first hint of his whereabouts. The next card came from a Pacific Coast port.

Then it was Tahiti; Sydney, Australia; through the Indian Ocean and the Red Sea to the Mediterranean; and on to Dakar, Africa.

Peterson left Dakar June 28 for the 52-day run across the Atlantic to Brooklyn.

His sloop, with an 11½-foot beam and six-foot draft, is equipped with two sails rigged on a single mast and an outboard motor.

Huge Plant Blasted By US Planes

Advance Warning Given Town Close To Manchuria

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Fourteen Japan-based United States Superforts last night bombed a huge Communist grenade factory employing 2,000 workers in northwest Korea. The factory was only three miles south of the Manchurian border.

Far East headquarters in Tokyo said the sprawling works was one of 78 military targets the United Nations command has given advance notice it will attack.

It was the first time the plant, at Nakwon, halfway between Sinuiju and Namsidong, had been hit. Results of the raid were not announced. The planes dropped 140 tons of bombs.

But the B-29 pilots, skirting the edge of an erratic typhoon sweeping across the southern end of the Korean peninsula, reported they met intense anti-aircraft fire. One plane was attacked by a Red night fighter but the Air Force said all 14 planes returned safely.

PRODUCED GRENADES

The Air Force said the munitions layout contained 17 primary buildings of steel and reinforced concrete and dozens of bunkers and ammunition stores catacombed in nearby hills. The plant was reported to have produced daily 1,000 anti-tank grenades and 3,000 to 5,000 hand grenades.

The weather began clearing today over the battle front after the typhoon swept out into the sea of Japan and headed for Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost island

Chinese Reds shortly after midnight threw a light probing attack against Bunker Hill on the western front. It was quickly driven back by intense Allied fire power.

On the rugged eastern front, U.N. troops were more concerned with the weather than the Communists. Sixty-mile-an-hour winds whistled over exposed U.N. hilltop positions.

The typhoon caused heavy rains.

A U.S. Eighth Army staff officer said there were no reports of loss of life or injuries because of the storm.

Japan Trying Free 2 Sailors

TOKYO (AP)—A foreign office spokesman said today the Japanese government is making every effort to get two British sailors released from a Kobe jail, but is not making much progress.

The spokesman said Japan was waiting to answer Britain's protest against imprisonment of the sailors until it finds out whether they will be released. He said the Japanese reply would "likely take some time."

The sailors, Derek Smith and Peter Stinner, were sentenced to 2½ years in jail by the Kobe district court for robbing a taxicab driver.

Efforts to get them released on bail have failed. The British consul will not let them be paroled in his care, feeling that would be recognition of Japan's jurisdiction or British military personnel. The courts have refused to release them in the custody of a Japanese citizen.

Greek-Bulgar Parley Ends In Word Battle

ATHENS (AP)—Greek-Bulgarian army talks, called to smooth over a recent border incident in which two Greek soldiers were killed, broke up last night in a word battle over who was responsible for the clash.

A Greek general staff communique said the Bulgarians promised to seek further instructions from their superiors and meet with the Greeks again.

The communique said the Bulgarians admitted killing the two Greeks Aug. 12 in the Mt. Belles area northwest of Salonika. Each side, however, claimed the incident occurred on its territory.

The Bulgarians refused to return the two bodies unless the Greeks signed a document recognizing the soldiers had violated Bulgarian territory, the communique said.

The Greeks, in turn, demanded the Bulgarians return the bodies and "recognize in writing the violation of Greek territory."

U.S. Not Planning Move To Lift Embargo For Time

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Government today officially declared Canada free of foot-and-mouth disease. The Agriculture Department released an announcement in the name of Agriculture Minister Gardiner, now visiting in Western Canada, removing all restrictions imposed six months ago to prevent the infection from spreading from south Saskatchewan. A copy of the declaration, issued at 9 a.m. E.D.T., will be sent by the government to the United States government requesting "early consideration" of ending the U.S. embargo on import of Canadian meats and livestock, officials said. However, they were pessimistic about the possibility of early elimination of the embargo.

"But we'll keep trying," one official said.

In Washington, the United States government will wait a while before lifting its embargo against imports of Canadian cattle.

Acting Chief S.O. Fladness of the Agriculture Department's bureau of animal industry said this country will take no immediate action.

"We want to make sure," he said, "that all danger of infecting our livestock industry is over."

A similar embargo against Mexican livestock, in effect since 1946, is scheduled to be lifted Sept. 1.

Mr. Gardiner's official declaration ends the war against Canada's first foot-and-mouth outbreak in history. But federal veterinarians will keep a careful watch to make doubly sure there will be no further outbreaks.

Mr. Gardiner pointed out there has been no sign of the disease since the last infected herd was slaughtered May 4 last.

Provincial restrictions imposed as a result of the outbreak already have been removed. Today's action restores complete freedom of movement of livestock and meats across the country.

The statement estimated that since disease was officially diagnosed Feb. 25 last, 1,343 cattle, 294 swine and 97 sheep have been slaughtered and buried. A total of 42 premises were involved in the outbreak, 29 of which were infected farms and 13 contact premises.

U.S. NOT PLANNING

Plan Build New Town In North York Area

TORONTO (CP)—Plans for a new town to be built in North York township were revealed today with announcement of the purchase of the 600-acre Don Alda farm property by Don Mills Development, Limited. Toronto Millionaire E.P. Taylor is associated with the Company.

Purchase of the farm brings total acreage in the area owned by the company up to 2,200 acres. North York township officials said that sites have been sold for four "very large" industrial plants.

The purchase price of the farm and other properties has not been divulged.

It is expected that 500 homes and one or two apartment buildings will be built on the development this year. Work also will be started shortly on a school.

Mill Official Arrested In Riot Inquiry

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (Reuters) —Amin Afifi, son of former King Farouk's cabinet chief, was arrested today in connection with the bloody cotton-mill riots at Kafr el Dawar last week.

Arrest of the 32-year-old mill official followed his denunciation by one of the 29 factory workers accused of leading the riots. The man's father, Hafez Afifi, is the former managing director of the giant Misr banking group which controls the Misr cotton mill.

Hafez Afifi resigned as chief of Farouk's cabinet the day before the king's abdication.

Investigating officers today interrogated Hafez Afifi at length. They also questioned his son and the mill police superintendent, Naaman el Ashmawy, who was arrested two days ago.

A special military tribunal trying the 29 mill workers asked Hafez Afifi last night to explain a "secret visit" to the mill just before the start of the riots in which nine persons were killed and 23 injured.

Government authorities have claimed the riots were instigated by "political parties."

665,000 Draw Federal Pension

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada has more than 665,000 pensioners 70 and over drawing a $40-a-month federal pension and it's costing the government $26,613,000 a month.

The Health Department, which administers the pensions, reported yesterday that more than 6,200 new applications were made during July, bringing the national total to 665,346.

The department said that more than 2,900 cheques issued in June were returned because of the death of the pensioner.

Ontario has 247,984 pensioners.

Showers Miss Texas In Sizzling Heat Wave

CHICAGO (AP)—Showers sprinkled large areas of the United States today, but they missed Texas which is baking in the third week of a crop-withering heat wave.

Scattered thundershowers were reported in the southeast northward to the Ohio Valley and middle Atlantic States. Another area of thundershowers dampened the plains states and Rocky Mountains.

The Texas drought has destroyed an estimated $68,000,000 worth of crops and has caused at least five heat deaths in Dallas alone.

Hint Powerful Cartel

Truman Orders Lid Off Secret Oil Deal Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman has ordered the lid off a long-secret report on international oil deals, amid new charges that a rich and powerful oil cartel is siphoning off United States foreign-aid funds.

Decision to lift the official secret label from the report, a year after it was written by federal experts, was announced yesterday by Senator John Sparkman of Alabama, the democratic nominee for vice-president.

Sparkman spoke as head of the Senate Small Business sub-committee. He said the 10-chapter report is being printed now by his sub-committee and "probably will be available for distribution by the end of this week."

The State Department has acknowledged that it had the document classified as secret for security reasons and lest its contents further inflame relations between British oil interests and the government of Iran.

TO SUBPOENA REPORT

The Justice Department moved to subpoena the report for its recently-ordered federal grand jury investigation of monopoly charges against seven U.S. and foreign oil companies.

Senator T.C. Hennings, Missouri Democrat, fired new accusations of intrigue at the oil firms, charging they form a cartel and a "giant conspiracy" profiteering against European countries which receive U.S. dollar aid.

Hennings renewed accusations that the oil companies charge those countries a higher price for oil than they charge buyers in the U.S. and Canada, contending that this has added huge sums to the costs of U.S. foreign aid.

Sparkman's statement said the suppressed report "traces the substantial control by seven international oil companies over the petroleum industry of the world."

The seven U.S. and foreign oil companies are Standard Oil of New Jersey, Standard Oil of California, the Texas Company, Socony-Vacuum, Gulf Oil—all U.S. owned—and two foreign firms dominated by the British, Royal Dutch Shell and Anglo-Iranian Oil Co.

63 Pass Tests Swimming, In Life Saving

bulldozed their way through boulders, wrecked houses and uprooted trees. Twenty-eight others are listed as missing and presumed dead along a 15-mile stretch of Devon playground. A number of bodies were reported seen floating in the sea.

It may be weeks before a true count can be made of the casualties. Some of the bodies may have been ground up by rolling boulders. Others may have been washed out to sea too far to be recovered.

Dynamite boomed as the workers tried to clear the blocked channel of the Lyn River, which overflowed Saturday, sent 920 families fleeing from their homes and brought an estimated 40,000 tons of hillside crashing through the town. More than 1,500 other families in nearby Lynton were driven from their homes. In Dulverton, 600 families had to find shelter with friends.

First estimates put the property damage to the area at more than £7,000,000.

With the main river bed blocked the little Lyn still was flowing out of its course. Heavy rains could send it on the rampage again. Engineers said it might take 10 days to restore the stream to its old course. Other workers began setting up pontoon bridges to replace the 10 spans which were washed away by the floods.

Dies From Bite

TALCO, Tex. (CP)—Bryant McLellon died last night of a bite from a snake he thought he had killed. He threw a moccasin out of a creek he was fishing, then later lay down the creek bank to rest. The moccasin bit him three times in the right side.

Wood Industry Achieves Integration

MONTREAL (CP)—Dr. L. R. Theismeyer, representing Canada at the British Commonwealth Conference here, told the meeting yesterday the day of "integration has arrived in this country's vast wood industry."

The 80 delegates representing Commonwealth forest industries left today for Petawawa on a tour of Ontario centres.

Dr. Theismeyer said the rush toward integration was driven by economic conditions, defence considerations and legislation to eliminate waste and pollution. He said those who did not follow forest-industry leaders would soon be "left behind, unable to compete for the expanding world markets."

Lord Robinson, vice-president of the Conference and chairman of the Forestry Commission of Great Britain, said he was concerned over the fact forestry may not have taken necessary steps to anticipate the revolution which the pulpwood industry was causing.

Mr. St. Laurent is due back in Ottawa Monday after vacationing at his St. Patrick, Que., summer home through July and August.

He will leave here by train Aug. 28 and visit Orillia, Midland and Penetang, first, then go west by train.

Bring Woman To Toronto To Face Hearing

TORONTO (CP)—Mrs. Beatrice Reason, 32, four times-married brunette who two years ago was thought by police to have been murdered, arrived here today to face a deportation hearing.

She was escorted to Don Jail, where the hearing will be held, immediately after she arrived by train from Haileybury where she had been detained following her arrest in Timmins recently.

Alfred Green, her former night school teacher with whom she went to the United States two years ago, now is living in Timmins.

The pair was picked up in Chicago last November and deported to Canada.

MAY BE DEPORTED

If the hearing finds any irregularity in Mrs. Reason's entry into Canada she could be deported to her native Australia.

Police opened investigations into the possibility of her having been murdered when they found Green's blood-spattered automobile in Toronto's Rosedale ravine in August, 1950.

Mrs. Reason had worked in Timmins as a short-order cook.

Following their deportation from the U.S., Green was imprisoned for six months in Ontario on a desertion charge.

Truce Possible But Not Soon

By SAM SUMMERLIN

MUNSAN, Korea (AP) — Maj.-Gen. William Harrison, senior United Nations armistice delegate, said today he thinks "an armistice is possible but I haven't the faintest idea when."

He made the observation at a press conference shortly after U.N. and Communist negotiators traded acid words for an hour and made "no visible progress" toward settlement of the truce-blocking issue of prisoner exchange.

The delegations called a fourth straight week-long recess. Gen. Nam Il, senior Red delegate, protested, then agreed to setting the next meeting for Aug. 27.

On chances of the talks to succeed, Harrison declared:

"I've thought the Communists do want an armistice. It is a matter of how much they are willing to pay for it."

Lakefield And Selwyn WI's Visit Nephton

A pleasant event was enjoyed on Thursday when members of the Lakefield and Selwyn Branches of the Women's Institute had an all-day party which began with dinner at Mrs. Joseph E. Moore's cottage at White Lake.

Following the dinner a short business period was held and it was announced that a chest clinic would visit Lakefield on Sept. 25-26. Mrs. Clarence Foster, Mrs. Bruce Dunford, Mrs. Fred Kemp and the president of the Lakefield branch, Mrs. Howard Bullock, were appointed a committee in charge of arrangements. It was also announced that a work shelf sponsored by the Institute would be held in the village from Jan. 26 to Feb. 6 next year.

The ladies then journied by chartered bus and cars to Nepton, where they were guests of the ladies of the Nepton Institute. Welcome was extended by Nepton president, Mrs. E. Craig, and also by Joe Wright. A talk on Nepheline and the resulting products was given, accompanied by movies of the mine in action and of the making of glass, dishes etc. with nepheline as the base material.

Cars and drivers were then placed at the disposal of the visitors and they were taken on a tour of the mine and the various buildings.

At the conclusion of the tour the ladies were guests for tea in the recreation hall. As it was the 25th birthday of the founding of the Lakefield branch, a decorated birthday cake, aglow with candles, was cut by Mrs. Howard Bullock.

5-Minute Hail Storm Wrecks Year's Crops

DELHI (CP)—A five-minute hail storm early yesterday practically wiped out a year's labor on some 15 farms south of Scotland when bumper crops of flue-cured tobacco were damaged as high as 100 per cent.

Loss on several farms was said to be $35,000.

The hail storm cut a narrow swath through a strip encompassing a number of top-flight crops.

Clear Quebec Major In Soldier's Shooting

OTTAWA (CP)—Army headquarters said yesterday it has concurred in a court of inquiry decision clearing Maj. Guy d'Artois of all blame in the July 1 shooting of one of his men in Korea.

The court found that the 36-year-old Montreal officer was acting in line of duty when he shot and killed Pte. J. E. H. Sanscartier of Cantley, Que., while the latter was threatening his comrades and shooting a rifle in their direction.

Find Additions To Dictionary Very Unpleasant

LONDON (CP)—British book reviewers are far from impressed by the latest additions to the English language listed in the new edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica book of the year.

They branded as downright "ugly" many of the words and expressions introduced and accepted during the last 12 months.

Here are a few they particularly dislike: Discography—the study of gramophone records; krotoscope—an applause indicator; depurgee—one restored to acceptable political or other standing; accommodator—part-time female help; whomp—to defeat decisively.

Commented the London Evening Standard: "If you don't recognize these words, remember the encyclopaedia is no longer British. It is owned in Chicago."

Mrs. M. Sutton Dies At 92 In Millbrook

One of Millbrook's oldest residents, Mrs. Elizabeth Anne Sutton died today at her home. She celebrated her 92nd birthday July 30.

The day prior to her birthday, she fell and broke her arm and although she was able to be up around, the after effects of the accident severely impaired her health. Fourteen months ago, Mrs. Sutton fell and broke her hip but recovered from the injury.

Born in Manvers township, daughter of Eliza Lowes and Samuel Staples, Mrs. Sutton was the widow of Moses Sutton who predeceased her 18 years ago.

She had lived in Millbrook for a number of years, since her husband retired from farming in Cavan township.

Mrs. Sutton was an active worker in Millbrook United Church until recently when failing health confined her to her home.

Surviving are two sons, Cecil of Millbrook and Lloyd of Cavan and one daughter, Miss Josephine Sutton also of Millbrook, and also two grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

The body will be resting at her late residence, Anne St., Millbrook until Thursday at 2 p.m.

Interment will be in Gardiner's Cemetery.

U.S. Not Planning

The announcement marks the end of a six-month fight against last winter's outbreak that experts estimate may cost between $50,000,000 and $100,000,000 in direct and indirect damage. The sole outward sign that the disease is ended was the removal at midnight last night of all restrictions on movement of meat and livestock in south Saskatchewan, scene of the outbreak. The restrictions were imposed Feb. 25 when the disease was diagnosed by federal veterinarians.

QUARANTINE ENDED

Today's announcement makes their removal official. It lifts quarantines in the 21-municipality disease area and the 38-municipality buffer zone around it, and declares all farms in the infected area free of the disease.

The last barrier to free movement of livestock and meats across Canada is also removed.

Still in effect, however, is the United States embargo closing that country's markets to Canadian live stock and meats.

Loss of that $130,000,000-a-year export market is the heaviest blow of the disease outbreak. No answer is yet available on when that market will be reopened.

Earlier this year Canadian officials hoped the U.S. Agriculture Department would drop the embargo about 60 days after Canada officially declared itself free of the disease.

TO BE 'CAREFUL'

Charles Brannan, U.S. Agriculture Secretary, said recently in Washington his department would be "very, very careful" in deciding about the embargo.

Speculation among Canadian officials is that the embargo may be lifted next spring.

The outbreak also resulted in interprovincial barriers to the movement of meat and livestock, which have since been lifted. British Columbia, Manitoba and Quebec threw up their own barriers while the federal government banned liestock shipment from the west to Ontario and other eastern points.

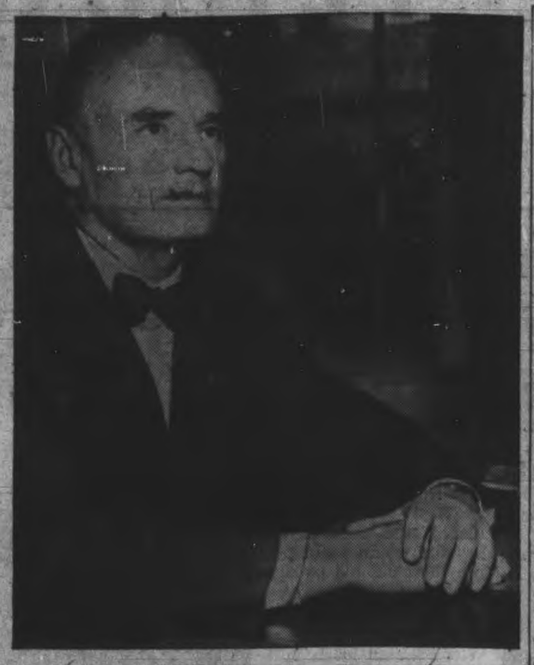
The disease first showed up in November. Its actual spread was in a comparatively limited area and its clean-up, within six months from the time it was diagnosed in February, may be a world record for ridding a country of the virus, noted for its rapid spread.

Eisenhower Wins Battle Of Minnesota Invitations

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican presidential candidate, Dwight D. Eisenhower, today won a battle of invitations over his Democratic opponent Governor Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois.

Both were invited to address the national plowing contest at Kasson, Minn., and both said they would accept and speak on Sept. 6.

For a while it appeared Kasson might provide one of the most dramatic of all early-campaign events — a possible face-to-face meeting of the major candidates as they battled for the farm vote.



But officials of the contest ruled early today that both could not speak on the same day. They decided that Eisenhower, who had accepted their invitation first should speak Sept. 6.

GIVEN CHANCE

Stevenson, however, was given a chance to speak first. Officials said they invited him to change his speaking date to Sept. 5.

Stevenson's office said he was turning down the Sept. 5 invitation because of prior commitments.

Meanwhile, New York held a state primary election to decide Republican and Democratic candidates for 39 congressional, state senate and assembly seats. There was an eleventh-hour drive for votes but vacationing voters and traditional apathy ruled out any heavy turnout at the polls.

OVE FLEMMING SEHESTED, 64, a veteran career diplomat, who has been appointed Danish Minister to Canada to succeed P. O. Treschow. He is due to take over his post in Ottawa on September 1. Sehested previously served in New York, Paris, Stockholm, Prague, Berne and Oslo.

Medical Corps Opens Museum

LONDON (CP)—A Royal Army Medical Corps museum opened recently at corps headquarters, Crookham, Hants., shows the long history and tradition of the R.A.M.C.

Among relics now in possession of the museum are dental instruments carried by Napoleon, the razor and notes written by Rodulf Hess, the Nazi wartime leader, while in a British hospital.

There are medical relics of the Crimean War and old-fashioned tattooing instruments.

Recently a tattered flag flown by the 26th field ambulance in Korea was added as well as some waterproof invasion maps of southeast England captured from Germans in the Second World War.

One part of the museum is devoted to a panorama of medical transport from the ox-carts of Wellington to the aircraft ambulances of today.

Boost Sheep Farms

ST. JOHN'S Nfld. (CP)—Efforts will be made to turn the Cape Shore area into an important sheep farming section this summer. There are already 2,176 sheep on farms in the district but officials say the area could handle 5,000 with little need for winter feeding.

One plank that might be added was that of the placing of immigration under the Department of Labor.

The squabble over union jurisdiction came in an attempt to shift some membership from the Congress' own small chartered unions—organized by its own men—to larger international and national unions. It was defeated decisively.

Hold Two Men For Shooting Near North Bay

NORTH BAY (CP)—Police are holding two men for questioning in connection with the pre-dawn shooting of Debbie Logan, 20, of Stonecliffe. Logan's body was found early today on a roadway in Deux Rivieres, 60 miles east of here.

He had been shot in the stomach.

Held are Paul Letour and Norman Pacquin of Montreal. Police are also holding a rifle they said they believe fired the bullets.

Police said Letour and the victim drove to Pacquin's house in North Renfrew township "to see friends." A scuffle developed when they were refused admittance.

Letour told police he drove Logan back to a hotel at Deux Rivieres. Police quoted Letour as saying he opened the car door to let Logan out and the man fell to the ground.

Letour then realized Logan had been shot and he became frightened and fled, police said.

Stonecliffe is 80 miles east of North Bay.

Prices Continue Weak On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO (CP)—Prices continued weak today in early afternoon stock market trading.

Industrials slipped steadily to lose more than a point on the index and base metals dipped after a slight recovery around noon. Western oils improved slightly after a weak opening but remained below Monday's closing prices.

Trading was fairly active and covered a fairly broad list of industrial issues. Volume for the first three hours totalled 1,526,000 shares.

Senior golds weakened as Dome and Malartic slipped but speculative support bolstered a number of secondary issues. Donalda, a junior producer, gained pennies in a turnover of more than 171,000 shares.

Foods, banks, liquors held firm in spite of the industrial decline while papers, retail stores and steel weakened.

Most base metal issues traded lower. Mayo, active yesterday, moved more than 150,000 shares for a small loss while United Asbestos strengthened.

Western oil losses outnumbered gains about three to one in slow trading.

The exchange's 1 p.m. indices showed, industrials down 1.06 at 328.98, golds down .57 at 94.68, base metals down .43 at 197.17 and western oils down .44 at 138.40.

Overall Situation In Asia Likely Discussed At Moscow-Chinese Parley

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP)—China and the Soviet Union opened top-level talks here yesterday on issues concerning their economic, political and military relations. There appears to be great emphasis on the all-Asian aspects of this consultation among the leaders of the two big Communist powers. It seemed likely that both countries wanted to talk over the whole general situation in the Far East, with special emphasis on Japan. High on the list of subjects under discussion obviously will be the return to China of the Chinese Changchun railway and the bases at Dairen and Port Arthur. The Soviet Union has promised to return these properties to China either upon the conclusion of a Japanese treaty or not later, in any event, than the end of 1952.

Chou En-lai, premier and foreign minister of the Chinese people's Republic, heads the delegation sent by Chinese leader Mao Tze-Tung for the talks.

WEST EXCLUDED

The emphasis on the all-Asia angle of the talks is indicated by the report of one of the Asian diplomats here that he was specifically invited to the airport to greet the Chinese. Since other Asian diplomats — from Burma, Indian, Afghanistan and elsewhere—were on hand, it seemed likely they, too, were invited. The Chinese have relations with Britain, Sweden, Denmark, Finland and Switzerland, among other western countries, but none of these diplomatic representatives was invited.

Japan looms large in the Asia picture. The 1950 Sin-Soviet treaty provides for consultation "on all important questions affecting the common interests of the Soviet Union and China," and pledges "all necessary measures available" against the threat of aggression or violation of peace on the part of "Japan or of any other state which might directly or indirectly be united with Japan in acts of aggression."

The Russians have said that the United States is attempting to remilitarize Japan for the purpose of bringing it into a Pacific alliance —similar to the Atlantic alliance— to threaten the security of the Soviet Union.

The matter of Soviet-Chinese trade and economic assistance also is bound to play a part in the talks.

WANT MORE AID

With the Korean War costing Communist China heavily, there is some indication that the Chinese want much more aid—both military and economic—than the Soviet Union has been affording. China may even want the U.S.S.R. to rebuild the arms-producing industrial potential of Manchuria.

The meeting may have been made imperative by the necessity for reviewing developments relating to Japan, which Stalin himself has said now is in the forefront of the East-West struggle.

One western informant in London suggests that Russia and China may soon offer to negotiate a peace treaty of their own with the Japanese government in a bid to woo the Japanese away from the west and to divide still further the nationalist-minded Japanese people.

Street Clashes Blaze In Tehran

TEHRAN, Iran (Reuters)—Communists and anti-Communists clashed in street tussles in downtown Tehran today.

Bands of members of the pro-Communist Tudeh Party struggled with bands from the Fascist Sumka party. Police dispersed the crowds. All stores and markets were closed in the neighborhood.

Trouble between Suma and Tudeh elements has been brewing for several days. Rival groups armed with clubs get into scuffles whenever they run across each other.

Meanwhile, Communist youths stoned a United States Army sergeant and his Iranian soldier-driver while their jeep was stopped for a traffic light.

Police charged the 100 or so young Reds with batons and dispersed them.

Births, Marriages Down

OTTAWA (CP)—Births and marriages declined but deaths increased in Canada in May compared with May, 1951, the Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday. Births totalled 32,210 compared with 33,088 a year earlier; marriages 9,883 compared with 9,924 and deaths 10,797 compared with 10,440.

HILARIOUS EPISODE in the Summer Theatre farce "One Wild Oat" occurs when Barbara Hamilton (left) as Audrey Cuttle arrives to confront and confuse meek Solicitor Proudfoot (played by Ron Bailey, right) with his one deviation from the straight and narrow, while between them Peter Mews, in the part of Alfred Gilbey, gets himself up in wig and dress to confound the confusion. Moonshine By Moonlight Ended By Police Raid

NORTH BAY — A story of moonshine by moonlight and a still on a hill was unfolded by police here Monday.

The still used to be on the hill —Monday it was just a memory and an odorous one, too.

The alleged proprietor of the apparatus, a 68-year-old bachelor, will be summoned, police said, and the R.C.M.P. will prosecute.

A Powassan provincial police constable, Doug Edge, accompanied by several other policemen, located the still on a hill near the bachelor's crude shack in the hinterland of North Hemsworth township.

Edge said they picked up the trail after finding a number of empty bottles. The suspect first denied any knowledge of the bush-bound distillery, but later allowed that it was his enterprise. He was turning out about four gallons of "moonshine" each day, he said.

Police wrecked the still Sunday night, destroying more than 100 gallons of mash and equipment.

"COOL CONTROL"

PITCHING THE SOFTBALL

1 Control is the most important weapon of the pitcher — control of his delivery, and control of himself. Controlling the ball means controlling the feet. Develop the right stride. Feet should be about 12 to 14 inches apart on the rubber, weight should rest flat on both feet. Hold ball with thumb on top seam and first two fingers on bottom seam.

2 Bring ball back until arm is almost across back. Bring ball forward and start delivery with a step forward with the left foot; pull right leg and left hip over to the left and lean the right shoulder over to the right side.

3 Continue pitch with full follow-through, giving Ball a snap with the wrist as it leaves the hand. Follow-through should carry wrist about level with right shoulder. This pitch makes ball curve to the right. Control helps you regulate this curve.

Yes, it's control that counts, in baseball as in every sport — control which brings the extraordinary quality that sets one performer above the other. In the ability to approach things coolly, to control every move and moment, lies the answer to better results.

This is one of a series designed to increase the pleasure of Canadians who participate in sports.

Five R.A.F. Fliers Die In 2 Crashes

LONDON (Reuters)—Five R.A.F. men died in two air crashes early today.

Three were killed when a twin-engined Valetta transport crashed and exploded in flames at Benson, Oxfordshire.

Two airmen were also killed when two fighters collided in the air near Stanhope, County Durham. Two others baled out and landed safely.

Settlement Reached In Kingston Strike

TORONTO (CP)—Labor Minister Daley said today that terms of a settlement reached by the Frontenac Floor and Tile Company at Kingston and Local 522, United Electrical, Radio and machine Workers of America will be presented late today for approval to the union membership.

Mr. Daley said settlement had been reached on all points at issue.

Agreement was reached yesterday at a meeting of company and union representatives with Mr. Daley and Louis Fine, chief conciliation officer.

The union has been on strike 22 weeks.

Two Charges Added To Motor Manslaughter

COBOURG (ENS)—Two additional charges of drunk driving and dangerous driving against Herbert Johnston, of Toronto, who was committed for trial last week on a motor manslaughter charge, were laid over to September 29, when the matter came up in police court Monday. The charges resulted from a motor accident which occurred in Port Hope last month when a car driven by Johnston was in collision with one driven by George Howard, of Toronto. William Howard, father of the driver, died a few days later in Port Hope Hospital to which he had been taken after the accident.

Conference Breakdown

COPENHAGEN (Reuters) — A British demand for a 15-per-cent cut in Danish bacon prices caused a breakdown in last week's London conferences, the newspaper Berlingske Aftenavis said yesterday. The Danish representatives, who returned home last night, refused comment on the report.

Drillers Hit Oil

TOKYO (AP)—The newspaper Asahi reported today that drillers struck oil Sunday from a sea-bottom area near Akita prefecture in northwestern Japan. Japanese geologists described the strike as "fairly large" and the oil of medium quality.

Bottle Breaks Bowl, Picnic Costs Man $60

COBOURG (ENS) — Edward Wynn, of Smiths Falls, a casualty from the C.P.R. picnic of last Saturday, pleaded guilty to a drunk charge Monday and was fined $10 and costs. It rained most of the day on Saturday and as it was no use being outside, many stayed inside the beverage rooms. Wynn and a companion bought a bottle of wine, but Wynn, when he realized his condition was such that it would not help matters if police found him carrying a bottle of wine, decided to break it over a toilet bowl and thus dispose of it. However, the bottle stayed intact but the toilet bowl shattered.

Total expenses not budgeted for were $10 fine and about $50 to repair the plumbing.

"You would have been better off to have stayed home," commented Magistrate R. B. Baxter.

Audience Reaps Bushels Of Fun From One Wild Oat

"One Wild Oat", the fare at the Queen Mary auditorium this week, begins with a dramatical plot which soons whirls to the four winds of farce.

Sewing the wind and reaping the whirlwind are Ron Bailey playing his first major role with the Summer Theatre, Peter Mews, Betty Leighton, Kate Reid, Gerry Saracini, Frank Perry, Patricia Moore, Barbara Hamilton, and the whole caboodle of Summer Theatre actors adept at making the farcical hilarious. To get the most out of the most which these players put into it, the audience should come primed for fun, and will have as body-shaking glee as the opening night crowd did Monday.

FARCES STOP

The trouble with most farces is that the plot, being thin, is hardly enough to sustain the play to the final curtain, and by that time the set-em-up-and-knock-em-down antics and dialogue, and the sleeshy and smart quips have so mounted that their very weight exhausts the audience. So the play ends not with a bang but with a screeching whimper. The sag at the final curtain is therefore more a fault of the playwright than of the players. The writer merely calls a halt to his own cleverness and smarm by pulling down the curtain.

The situation of the play wherein one wild oat is successfully harvested and thoroughly rolled, is created out of two families occupying the same London block of flats.

The one family is carefully old school, well-bred and respectable —Solicitor Proudfoot's. The other, the Gilbeys' is less carefully bred than the greyhounds Alferd Gilbey keeps, is post-war rich, spiv type, their vulgarity overlaid by blackmarket glit.

The common denominator between the Gilbeys and the Proudfoots is the younger generation: pretty Cherrie Proudfoot (Patricia Moore) and handsome Fred Gilbey (Frank Perry). They charmingly provide the modernly off-hand, essentially moral romantic theme.

The distinction between the two families is well characterized; for instance, by the popular Kate Reid (Mrs. Proudfoot) in her unmodish hats; by Betty Leighton (Mrs. Gilbey, the ex-actress) in her furs, jewellery, gait and particularly in her accent—in all a stellar performance; by Peter Mews, the very incarnation of a spiv, with his polished cheeks and blatant cheek, his wide shirt-front, his air of a man of new money. Mr. Mews's comedy is well to the fore, particularly when he dons wig and dress.

AT STAGE FRONT

Ron Bailey well deserves and well plays his major role of Humphrey Proudfoot, the utterly respectable, meek and mild solicitor and life failure whose one wild oat was sown 25 years ago. He plays it humanly, funnily and therefore with skill.

Gerry Sarracini does his minor part of the Gilbey butler notably —a gem among the glitter and clatter. The aplomb with which he switches from stately decorum to raspy slang, and back again, is delightful, terribly funny without any apparent reaching for laughs. He looks remarkable, too. Another remarkable apparition is Mr. Pepys, the sleuth for Proudfoot; played with effective Uriah Heepishness by Ian Clark.

To say that Barbara Hamilton is the one wild oat is to put the seal to the play's comedy. Her "refeened" accent is well suggested.

Betty Child is Gloria Samson (one of Gilbey's dolls), Samson, her husband, is Jerry Campbell, Beryl Braithwaite is Annie the maid, and Ted Palmer catches eye and ear on his brief appearance as Gregory Threstle.

The play is directed by Michael Sadlier.—T. J. A.

Remand Two Youths On Theft Charges

COBOURG (ENS) — Herbert Beaver and Kenneth Marsden, 16-year-old Roseneath boys, were remanded out of custody for one month when they pleaded guilty Monday to theft of two tires, a radio and an electirc iron. Evidence revealed that the pair were running around in an old car and they admitted siphoning gas to keep up an adequate supply.

Magistrate R. B. Baxter commented that the old car was the root of the trouble and he requested Marsden, the driver, to turn in his licence for 30 days. Marsden complied with the request.

Thomas Harris, 16-year-old ward of the Bowmanville Boys' Training School, pleaded guilty to indecently assaulting a four-year-old Cartwright township girl and was remanded until August 22.

Eight Nations Plan Air-Sea Exercise

OSLO (AP)—Admiral Sir Patrick Brind, commander of Allied forces in northern Europe, outlined plans today for an eight-nation air-sea exercise designed to sharpen allied defences in the eastern Atlantic.

The big-scale war games — named "Operation Main Brace" will be held in Danish and Norwegian waters from Sept. 13-25.

The communique said land, sea and air forces from eight N.A.T.O. nations will take part in the exercise. Ships, aircraft from carrier and shore bases, land and amphibious forces will come from Canada, Belgium, Denmark, New Zealand, France, The Netherlands, Norway, United Kingdom and United States.

Second Polio Case Diagnosed At Cobourg

COBOURG (ENS) — Cobourg's second case of polio this season has been diagnosed, the patient being 16-year-old Howard Maybee. There is no paralysis present. Another case, also a non-paralysis case, has been diagnosed in Hope township. This brings the total this season to four in Northumberland and Durham Counties. Three had no paralysis, but the fourth patient, a 51-year-old Percy township woman, had paralysis and died last week.

Rips Out 5 Posts Car Wrecked

Five guard posts were ripped out on a curve west of Lindsay Saturday night by a car driven by G. Finnie, Hunter St.

A broken rear spring is said to be the cause of the car going out of control on the Dew Drop Inn curve. The transmission of the car was pulled out of its socket by the crash. Passengers in the car were shaken up and one person bruised. The car was badly wrecked.

Cigarette Smuggling Blamed On Taxes

JOLIETTE, Que. (CP) — George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said last night heavy tobacco taxes are resulting in large-scale smuggling of United States cigarettes into Canada.

Addressing a meeting of tobacco workers in this town, about 25 miles north of Montrea, Mr. Drew said such taxation also was responsible for considerable unemployment in the tobacco growing and processing industry and great dissatisfaction for smokers.

At adjacent Rawdon, Mr. Drew, in a speech which he termed "strictly non-political," advised all Canadians to exercise their right to vote in the forthcoming Federal election.

Jailed For Egg Throwing

MONTREAL (CP)—Joseph Yvon Dube was sentenced yesterday to two months in jail for throwing an egg at Mayor Camillien Houde during the June 24 St. Jean Baptiste day parade. The incident occurred as Mayor and Mrs. Houde rode through the east end of the city in an open car during the procession.

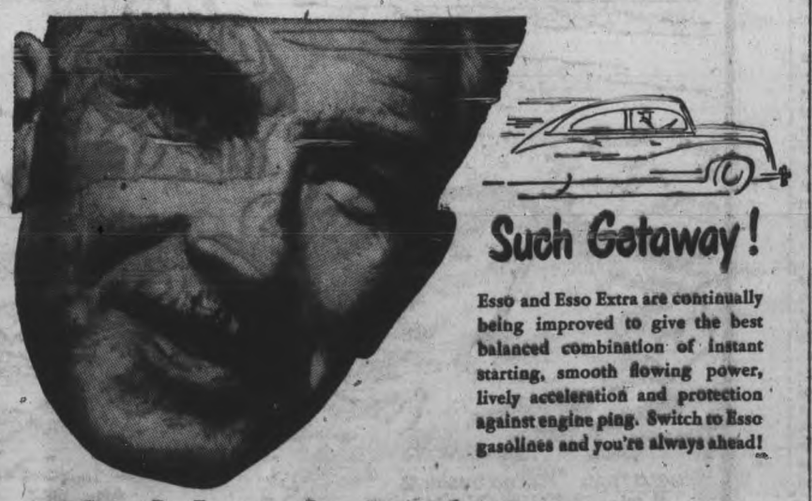
Stowaway 8 Caught Again



REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP)—Dickie Love, a veteran stowaway at eight, set out again yesterday his destination this time—China.

The tireless tot hopped a bus to San Francisco and inspected some Orient-bound freighters.

He finally hiked aboard one of the cargo ships and descended into a hold.

"The ship looked pretty good, but it didn't leave soon enough," Dickie told police who picked him off the freighter and turned him over to his mother.

Harassed Mrs. Love added the latest caper to Dickie's growing list that includes stowing away on a ship that sailed from New Orleans and on an airliner from San Francisco to Los Angeles to "see the big earthquake" last month in southern California.

Let A Start Be Made

The Peterborough Utilities Commission is under the necessity of rewiring parts of George Street. A study has been made of the matter by the Utilities management and the Commission decided to go underground with its wiring —at an estimated cost of $30,000 for one side of one block of George Street. Dr. G. R. Langley, one of the three members of the Commission, dissents from this decision. He feels that overhead cables could do the heavier job now required, and at a fraction of the cost of wiring underground.

* * *

While no taxpayer or Hydro user will quarrel with Dr. Langley's effort to save money on the wiring, he has not established a clear-cut case, as regards either the adequacy of overhead wires to do the job, nor the saving that might result. His suggestion that suitable overhead wiring could be done on the block for $2,000 is manifestly an underestimate. The Utilities management must have closely considered the cost and requirements before it decided to begin laying underground cables on the main street.

* * *

The time is fast approaching when, whatever the cost, Peterborough's linear miles of wire and tens of thousands of board feet of poles must be eased out of sight and obstruction. Since expensive new work must be done the George Street wiring (and let no one think that anything that is done now can be done cheaply; consider the cost of running a single overhead cable from street into a private house), and since no case has been made out that overhead rewiring will be very much cheaper than underground, let a start be made, see what the cost is, and what the improvement to George Street will be. One block of our main street will provide an excellent trial.

* * *

This is an opportunity which the Commission should accept, as a practical demonstration for themselves, for Hydro users and the ratepayers. Putting the wires underground for the new City Hall was hardly a sample, since that job was simple and its cost so interwoven with other costs involved in servicing the new building that it is not a fair specimen for comparison with a business street wiring. It has, however, given the citizens a good idea how pleasant a street frontage and building may be without the overhead mazes and leering poles.

A Place For Both

Although a good deal of glib talk of tendencies and trends is misleading there is no doubt that the modern tendency is towards the chain store. In almost every city one sees the big firms edging out the small man. It must be pointed out, however, that these large concerns all started in a very modest way themselves and there are still great possibilities of other firms doing likewise in this expanding economy of ours.

It is a legitimate query whether (as Marx predicted) the process of absorption will go on until we have four or five gigantic concerns and the small man has disappeared completely. Leaving aside the fallacy of the concentration of capital which is disproved by the number of small shareholders in large concerns we do not think that the small stores will disappear: there is a place for both. Every shopper knows the advantages of shopping at a large store — there is a wide selection of goods, the prices are usually low, and there are frequently other attractions such as free parking space. On the other hand the small store has certain advantages that are less publicized — the personal touch and the possibility of greater specialization. Again, prices in the smaller store are not necessarily higher — in many cases they are lower. A store that keeps these considerations in the public mind and is alive to changing conditions will not lack customers.

Giving The Birdie To Birds

On occasional mornings some members of the Peterborough police force take guns and aim at flocks of pigeons infesting gables of gospel tabernacles, the public library, the old city hall and assorted other downtown buildings. This method of exterminating — or at least controlling — pigeons is hit-and-miss. The city has, however, waged chemical warfare against roosting starlings, with such success that last year other towns sent deputies to see how it was done.

All across the continent towns have problems with chattering starlings and messy pigeons; we cite two or three of their methods of dealings with the pests, to encourage local officials and other citizens.

In the small city of Newton, Massachusetts, the council — whose deliberations were frequently cowed, or cawed down, by pigeons, consulted the city forester. (Yes, it is a small city.) He brought a high-pressure tree sprayer to bear, and literally blew the pigeons skyhigh. Some had their plumage blown right off; most fled, never to return.

In the town of Montclair, New Jersey, starlings were a continual nuisance. Officials put stuffed owls around the city hall, and played recordings of owl hoots. The ruse worked well for a few weeks, but then the starlings, who are not dumb, discovered the deception and came back to roost with the stuffed owls.

The most successful effort we have heard of to cook the goose of starlings was made in Sherwood Forest (not Nottingham, but near Detroit). Two loud speakers adjusted to give out 10,000-cycle whistles were set up in the trees. At this frequency the sound cannot be heard by human beings, but the birds are deafened by it. They left at once.

Take heart, aldermen of Peterborough and other worthy, worried citizens; there are more ways than one to skin a cat. Why, Peterborough has its own special way of dealing with pigeons — infallible, too. The city got rid of the pigeons infesting the old city hall by the direct method of tearing down the building. Since last week there hasn't been a pigeon on its gables—the gables are gone.

Aid To Britain

The Cabinet seems to be speaking with two faces. It was not Mr. Howe, noted for his plain speaking, but Mr. Abbott who said off the cuff at Lake Couchiching last week: "If the European countries, six years after the war and with the aid they have received, are not able to make their economy viable, we can't do better for them. Any nation can only survive as a result of its own efforts." A couple of days later Mr. Howe announced that Canada was prepared to do more for the U.K. than for any other country in the world, thus seeming to confute Mr. Abbott, and certainly to set aside British criticism that Canada has an "Olympian detachment" towards Britain's financial plight. Mr. Howe's statement that "we would do almost anything to help balance U.K. trade," has been backed up by his announcement of a $320,000,000 program to aid Britain.

Perhaps Mr. Abbott does not include Britain with Europe. Perhaps he was already counting on the program of aid, summarized by Mr. Howe, but prepared for months ago and partly announced then. He did say: "We can't do better for them" — that is, better than Canada has already done in the last six years with her many millions of credits, loans and gifts to Britain and western Europe.

This year Canada will send $150,000,000 of armaments to Britain as a gift. Under a mutual aid plan, Canada will buy about $100,000,000 worth of defence equipment from British factories. She will also provide $70,000,000 of capital assistance to help establish U.K. defence plants in Canada. This sort of lending, giving and exchange is termed, like American aid to Europe and Asia, "enlightened self-interest." So it is; yet it is also what plain English says: loans and gifts. Certainly Canada is not sitting on top of Mount Olympus, a plutocratic god detached from the problems of defence and finance which harass the world, including Canada and her taxpayers, but are particularly onerous to Britons.

While applauding Mr. Howe's statements, we cannot but feel the justness of Mr. Abbott's remarks, that if with the aid European countries have received in the last six years they cannot make their economy work, then we cannot do better for them.

Photographer's Wonderland

What a wonderful district this is for photographers, not only the professional variety but also the ordinary fellow with nothing more than a cheap box camera. There is something to snap at every season of the year. In the spring the rushing torrents and bursting buds, in the summer the full glory of tree and flower and lake, in the fall the lonely woods and the curling smoke in the clear still air, and in the winter the snow-covered landscape. The changing seasons bring an immense variety of possibilities even to the merest amateur.

For enthusiasts of colour photography the rich and varied tints of the countryside are here for the asking, no matter what time of the year, though the fall has of course its own special glory. Even the merest beginner cannot go wrong when let loose amongst the flaming red sumachs, the variegated colours of the other deciduous trees and the sombre green of the cedars outlined against a cloudless blue sky.

There is beauty, too, in unsuspected places — even in dirty gutters and puddles. The camera can lend grandeur to comparatively insignificant buildings when taken at the correct angle and in the right light. There is tremendous scope for those that use their eyes and keep their trigger finger ready. Even an unintentional double exposure can turn out to be a surrealist masterpiece.

'The Queen's Opportunity'

By SENATOR RUPERT DAVIES

ONE OF THE MOST influential magazines of opinion published in Britain today is the 'National & English Review.' In addition to about a dozen pages of crisp comment on "Episodes of the Month," and a first-class book-review department it publishes about half a dozen articles each month on timely subjects from the pens of well-known and distinguished writers. The August issue, for instance, contains a splendid article by Denys Smith, the Washington correspondent of the London 'Daily Telegraph,' on 'How Eisenhower Won the Nomination'; A. L. Rowse, Fellow of All Souls College, Oxford, and author of 'Tudor Cornwall'. 'the Spirit of English History', and several other books, discusses in an illuminating and trenchant manner 'The Intellectuals and the B.B.C.' and Jules Menken, author of 'How World War II Came', brings the readers of the 'N. & E.R.' up to date on Korea in an enlightening article illustrated with maps.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT WAS, however, the article by the Hon. John Grigg,* assistant editor of the Review, headed "The Queen's Opportunity," which impressed me the most. In it Mr. Grigg discusses "the new and unprecedented state of affairs" with which Queen Elizabeth II "is confronted at her accession." Mr. Grigg prefaces his examination of the Commonwealth as it exists today with a striking tribute to the youth, beauty and proverbial dignity of Her Most Gracious Majesty. He then points out that the Commonwealth idea is now unquestionably stronger than the Imperial idea; "the Queen has not begun her reign as an Empress: she is from the first a distinctively Commonwealth monarch." The Queen, says the author, was born in England and her skin is white; but she is not tied to any one country or to any one race. To quote from the bottom of the first page of the article: "She is above the angry turmoil of parties and sects. She is concerned for all, and yet completely disinterested. No differences of origin, outlook, idiom, income, or pigmentation need matter to her. She is everybody's Queen and everybody's friend."

✧ ✧ ✧

HAVING MADE quite clear his unswerving loyalty to Her Majesty and to those things for which the Monarchy stands, Mr. Grigg proceeds to suggest some of the changes which he thinks should be initiated in order to bring the Queen closer to all the peoples of the Commonwealth and to convince them that the various countries of the Commonwealth have equal status. He feels that while the Queen has not absented herself from Ascot during the first year of her reign "she will probably go there less often in future years." For he tells us Ascot is not only a sporting occasion "but also an occasion for petty snobbishness and the superficial display of wealth." Mr. Grigg is quite right. Here in this country there is too much of a tendency on the part of those in certain high social circles to try to monopolise the Queen's time and attention to too great an extent. That is obvious in the programme just published of the ceremonies and events to be held in connection with the Coronation. The programme, which includes three garden parties at Buckingham Palace and three State Banquets, also several race meetings, makes great occasions for the British nobility and the higher circles of London Society. These State affairs, however, in reality, touch very few of Her Majesty's subjects, even in the United Kingdom; often they are the same people over and over again. One wonders whether more might not have been done to directly interest the plain ordinary people of industrial England. Scotland is to be visited, also Wales, which will please these countries. But apparently the great industrial Midlands and Lancashire and Yorkshire will have no intimate touch with her Majesty at the time of the Coronation.

✧ ✧ ✧

MR. GRIGG is very outspoken about the present composition of the Court. He thinks it is an anomaly. He says "The fact that nearly all her courtiers are the products of English public schools and that very few—if any—have been selected from a wider social and educational circle is less regrettable than that they should nearly all be the product of one Commonwealth country, instead of coming from many lands to form a representative corps d'elite at the service of the Queen. The Court should surely be a microcosm of the Commonwealth and one may be confident that the Queen will work towards that end, while avoiding the unpleasantness of too sudden or too drastic a change."

✧ ✧ ✧

THERE IS ONE respect, however, in which Mr. Grigg feels there should be a change "sudden and drastic." That is in connection with the attendance at the Coronation. He states that "in the past much of the space in Westminster Abbey has been taken up by hundreds of peers and peeresses of the United Kingdom, whose right to attend would be as strong as ever if the Queen's Dominion were still bounded by the North Sea, the Channel and the Atlantic Ocean, and if, even in our own domestic constitution the Peerage as a whole still played as important a part as it used to do." Following this line of thought Mr. Grigg feels that "it would surely be reasonable, in present circumstances, to limit the number of peers who were summoned to those who were also Privy Councillors or who had, by some simple test, shown that they were personages of distinction in the Commonwealth."

✧ ✧ ✧

WHETHER many Canadians would be anxious to fill positions at Court is a question which is very hard to answer. I do, however, thoroughly agree with Mr. Grigg that a generous number of seats should be reserved in the Abbey at the time of the Coronation for members of the Parliaments of overseas Commonwealth countries. If such a course were taken, there would, I expect, scarcely be room for all the members of the British House of Commons to monopolise seats which Mr. Grigg feels should be shared with other Commonwealth countries.

✧ ✧ ✧

MR. GRIGG'S ARTICLE is a thoughtful and courageous one. I have no doubt that it will be read and seriously considered by those in high places. Time alone will tell whether it will have the effect which Mr. Grigg desires. It shows, however, that there are those in Britain today who are truly alive to the changes which have taken place in the Empire since Queen Victoria's day and who feel that these changes should be suitably recognised when such an important event as a Coronation is being arranged.

✧ ✧ ✧

*The Hon. John Grigg is the elder son of Lord Altrincham, who was a member of Mr. Churchill's war-time Coalition Government. He was a delegate to the Imperial Press Conference which met in Ottawa in 1950.

NO EXCUSE

The minister was asking one of his flock why he had not attended church lately. "Well, you see sir," said the man, "I'm troubled with a bunion on my foot."

"Strange," said the parson, "that a bunion should impede the pilgrim's progress."

An American Opinion: "THEY WENT THATAWAY"

Letters To The Editor

HAVE YOU ANY MEAT?

Sir: Crossing the border into New York, the U. S. Customs asks: Have you any food? Any of it. Meat, bacon or such? We were so surprised we admitted having a few slices of bacon, and two of boloney, left-overs from lunch on the way. "You will have to give them up," we are told. And when we opened our ice locker he spies a package of five frankfurters and says "What's that? It is meat too." He tied up the lot saying "You can have it when going back to Ontario," and "We have no ice box here," when I said we were going to stay two weeks in a camp.

So don't think to take a little meat, even smoked, for your first bite over the border, before you have time to start shopping locally.

HANDY ANDY.

P.S.—I wonder "Can the hunters from U.S.A. take home deer carcasses this fall?"

(Ed. Note:' Owing to the foot and mouth disease which occurred in the West, American authorities have closed the border absolutely to all importation of Canadian meat—even a wiener in a handbag. Until the American authorities lift the barrier, presumably (American) hunters may not take back their kill.)

WHY PETITION, WHY INSPECT?

Sir: I read with interest the report in your very fine paper that our County Council are going to inspect the Buckhorn Road.

It is too bad that they would have to wait until several visitors from across the border wrote letters regarding the terrible state of the road before they would take the trouble to inspect it.

I am sure they do not need to go to that much trouble for if they have the interest of the people at heart, especially our Smith Township reeve and the deputy reeve (who lives right on the Buckhorn Road) they would know the condition it has been in since early spring.

Mr. Glifford, our very able chairman of the Road Commission, when he says he saw little to compain about except the dust, must have followed the grader on one of its very few trips, because it took a very short time for the traffic to scoot the gravel back to the sides after each grading.

We do not mind paying taxes because we all know that we cannot run our governments nor local municipalities without money but we do object to the vast sum of money spent in equipment by our County Council and get a deal like the Buckhorn Road.

Last spring a petition was handed the county council and to all appearances it was ignored and pigeonholed.

One only had to take a drive north and west into Haliburton and Victoria counties and take a look at the good black-topped roads they have, to form an opinion of the sort of County Council or Road Commission we have in this county.

Peterborough county became famous a few years back for being the last county to join the good roads system and now it is famous for the Buckhorn Road. So lets get after this bunch of inactive people and get something done on the Buckhorn Road.

Republican Platform Adjustable

(Winnipeg Free Press)

The platform may be called a rough scaffold which General Eisenhower will fill out and complete as an actual policy during the election campaign and later in office, if he is elected. What does he think of international trade and toward what actual policy is he moving? That is the essential question. The reply which General Eisenhower has made to that question so far is much more reassuring than the platform. In his candid Abilene press conference he summarized his view as follows: "I would think that trade is a two-way street and we get some advantage out of it. . . I do believe that we must accept in imports the things that are going to pay for the exports we want and vice versa." If a Republican President and Congress adhered to this basic principle the world should have no reason to complain of their tariff policies.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchant man, seeking goodly pearls: who, when he had found one pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had, and bought it. (Matt. 13:45, 46.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Now there is at Jerusalem by the sheep market a pool, which is called in the Hebrew tongue Bethesda, having five porches.... And a certain man was there, which had an infirmity thirty and eight years.....

Jesus saith unto him, Rise, take up thy bed, and walk. And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and walked: and on the same day was the sabbath. The Jews therefore said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath day: it is not lawful for thee to carry thy bed.... And therefore did the Jews persecute Jesus, and sought to slay him, because he had done these things on the sabbath day. (John 5:2, 5, 8-10, 16.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Then spake Jesus to the multitude, and to his disciples, saying, The scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moses' seat....But woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye shut up the kingdom of heaven against men: for ye neither go in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering to go in....

O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets, and stonest them which are sent unto thee, how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not! (Matt. 23:1, 2, 13, 37.)

Old School Tie

(Manchester Guardian)

Judging by their ties, a great number of men now living in New York were educted at English public schools or served in British regiments. But, according to a Londoner who has just returned from a visit there, the reason in not an influx of English tourists. He reports that smart outfitters on Fifth and Park Avenues are making special displays of these ties, and one has them arranged round a shield bearing an English crest with a coloured print of a Gordon Highlander in the background.

A little research on the spot produced the information that most of the buyers are unaware that they are proclaiming, say, an Eton education or service in the Guards. They choose their ties for their patterns and colours, some of which they find so pleasing that they also have them for hatbands or bow-ties. In London a regimental tie-maker deplored the American fashion, but took consolation in the hope that it might quickly fade. Years ago, he said, there was a scheme for registering tie stripes but it was unsatisfactory because of the ease with which slight variations could be introduced.

Einstein On Saucers

(Detroit Free Press)

A Los Angeles evangelist asked Physicist Albert Einstein what he thought about flying saucers.

Einstein replied: "These people have seen something. What it is I do not know, and I am not curious to know."

Which proves again that the world's greatest theorist in celestial science has his feet on the ground. He is hard-headed even though his mind soars to outer space beyond the comprehension of mortal man.

Kesselring Upset In First Tourney Round

SEATTLE (CP)—One of Canada's top amateur golfers fell victim to a wave of first-round upsets in the United States amateur tournament yesterday, leaving six of his countrymen to try their luck in the second-round pairings today.

Gerry Kesselring, the Ontario champion from Kitchener, who was one of the most effective members of the Canadian team in Americas Cup play last week, bowed 5 and 4 to Gerry Fehr, a Seattle youngster just out of caddie ranks.

Four Canadians won their first-round matches yesterday and two others drew byes to qualify for the second round. The free riders were Phil Farley of Toronto and Pete Nelly of Fredericton.

Canadian amateur titleholder Walt McElroy of Vancouver overpowered Frank Harrison of Glendale, Calif., 4 and 3. Bill Mawhinney, a fellow-townsman and former Canadian champion, belted out Verne Perry of Portland, Ore., 3 and 1, despite a lame back.

A third Vancouver entry, Percy Clogg, downed Dave McBeath of Bellingham, Wash., 2 and 1 but faces tough competition today in Jimmy McHale, a member of the United States Walker Cup team.

WESLOCK COMES THROUGH

Nick Weslock of Windsor, Ont., stuck around for another day with a 2-and-1 victory over P. T. Taylor of Huntingdon, W. Va.

Kesselring's defeat left him in distinguished company. Defending champion Billy Maxwell and Sam Urzetta, his predecessor, also lost out in the first round.

Ira D. Gruber, a fine hitting, clean young man from Pottstown, Pa., disposed of Maxwell on the 21st hole.

Earlier, Urzetta, whose 39-hole victory over Frank Stranahan at Minneapolis in 1950 was the longest overtime match in the tournament's history, fell before Marion Hiskey, 21-year-old player from Twin Falls, Idaho.

YANKEE WHIZ KID — Schooled veterans agree that Mickey Mantle, 20, is the most advanced ball player for his age they ever saw. Mantle's eyes follow the ball out of the park at the finish of a beautiful left-hand swing, and the Commerce, Okla., lad manufactures an equal number of home runs batting right-handed. Key man of the New York Americans in centre field, The Mick chases the ball as far as he belts it, leaps and reaches into the stands to pull down towering drives. He is the fastest man in the major leagues, hook slides like Ty Cobb.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

The annual Selkirk Trophy competition got away to a good start when 18 rinks from group No. 1 competed. They played two 10-end games and will return on Thursday evening to play the last round—an 18-end game.

Tonight, rinks from group No. 2 play at 7:00 o'clock.

On Wednesday, it will be men's doubles, skip and lead, second and vice—$1.00 per.

The half-holiday comes again tomorrow and our bowlers will be playing in tournaments at Campbellford and Oshawa.

Detroit Trades Reise To Rangers For Sinclair

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League yesterday announced a deal sending star defenceman Leo Reise to New York Rangers for forward Reg Sinclair, a rookie defenceman, and cash.

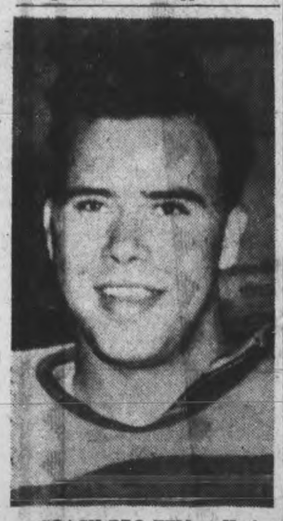
Jack Adams, Red Wing general manager, said the lanky young Sinclair, a native of Lachine, Que., will be used to bolster an attack weakened by the recent resignation of Captain Sid Abel to manage Chicago Black Hawks.

Besides Sinclair, the Red Wings obtained John Morrison, an 18-year old defenceman who played last year with Selkirk of the junior Manitoba Hockey Association.

CASH NOT ANNOUNCED

The amount of cash given by the Rangers was not announced.

Reise, 30-year-old veteran of five campaigns as a Red Wing, was named to the league's second All-Star team in 1950 and '51. A native of Stoney Creek, Ont., he is one of the biggest men in the circuit, and one of the most rugged. He came to Detroit in 1946 in a trade with Chicago.



Dartmoor Bad Boys On Best Behavior

LONDON (CP)—The bad boys at Britain's Dartmoor penitentiary are on their best behavior—they don't want to miss a scheduled bout between Freddie Mills, former light-heavyweight champ and prison chaplain Rev. Lloyd Rees.

Mills will appear in several exhibition bouts at Dartmoor. The chaplain, who used to do a little boxing in university and in the army, is the 33-year-old vicar of adjacent Princetown.

Stomach Pains Disappear Rocket In Top Shape Again

MONTREAL (CP)—The Rocket is in top physical shape, his stomach pains have disappeared and he's ready to break the National Hockey League all-time scoring record in a hurry.

COACH PRO TEM — Husky Bill Huntley, star lunging back for the local grid Orfuns, is concentrating on playing and drilling now with with the appointment of a football coach for the club. Bill acted as temporary coach to help the squad start their practices before Tony Kotowski arrived to handle the team.

All of this is advance, pre-training-season notice to players, fans and all others who have given summer-time thoughts to Maurice Richard. A month from now the Rocket and a whole flock of regulars and rookies of Montreal Canadiens will be working out on Montreal Forum ice.

"I haven't had a trace of those pains for a month or so," Richard said yesterday. "I'm ready for the training season."

GOING AFTER RECORD

How about that all-time scoring record of 324 goals set up by Nels Stewart in 15 years of campaigning with three N.H.L. clubs?

"I'll be going after that early. I have 319 goals now and I think I can pass 324 in a few games."

Richard's 319 goals were scored in 10 seasons. His high was 50 in the 1944-45 season and he has led the league on three occasions.

Last season he played in only 48 games of the 70-game schedule and scored 27 goals. The mysterious stomach and groin pains struck him late in November. He thinks a strain was the cause.

He took a few short rests and finally was sent to Florida for a longer recuperation period. He got into late-season play and the playoffs. But his return to hockey brought on the pains again although usually not so severe. He underwent hospital examinations and followed medical advice.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

In Cobourg the other day we were sitting in Larry McCarthy's eatery—the former Peterborough chap is secretary of the grid Ghosts—when Fred Dufton phoned. After a brief conversation with Mac, Cobourg's "Mr. Football" talked to us. Said: "Are you coming down Sept. 13 to cover the slaughter?" We said sure, but advised Fred not to worry as our Orfuns might not completely slaughter the Galloping Ghosts. Either the phone went out of order for a moment or Fred said: "x * ? & $! !" Seems he's pretty high on the bolstered group champs of '51, drilling hard now under Art West. Mayhap, the Orfuns will give Mr. Dufton's ulcers a bad day of it on the 13th.

Prexy Max Swanston and his senior Petes' ball executive are grateful to the manufacturers, merchants and others who have kicked in with some fine prizes for the "booster night" in Riverside on Wednesday. Shows that a lot of folks want to see the diamond game in Peter Robinson's borough continue as it has for some 60 years or so. Joe Stewart has his squad hustling plenty lately and grabbing off some close ones to stay atop the C.O.B.L. If Lefty Bill Dadson can down the Belleville Redmen in this one—and remember that last ninth-inning thriller in the previous "booster night" here?—the Petes will be practically home free. On account of the schedule is just about wrapped up. Only a few more more tilts ere playoffs.

Coming From Afar Off

Local sports draw a lot of district fans to important games. You spot enthusiasts from Cobourg, Port Hope, Campbellford, Norwood, Lindsay, Omemee, Lakefield, and Apsley at some of our lacrosse, ball and hockey jousts. Quite a few U.S.A. tourists, too, during the summer months. We have a letter on hand concerning the gutted-stick game from the Rev. Harry R. Rose of Goodyear Heights United Presbyterian Church, Akron, Ohio. Every year we get a few similar missives, though sports fans seldom write letters. Anyway, the reverend writes:

* * * * * *

"On a recent trip to Max Humphries' camp the first two weeks in July, it was our privilege to be a spectator at a lacrosse game in Peterborough, in company with Humphries and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas of Akron. It was the first time we had witnessed this great Canadian classic, and we are more than happy that Mr. Humphries saw fit to invite us. Needless to say, it is a game that fascinated not only myself but Mrs. Rose as well, and I am sure the same could be said of the entire party. The spirit, the agility and the sportsmanlike playing on the part of each player greatly impressed. We have told many friends here in our congregation and in the community of this outstanding event in our trip to Canada, and have urged folks to always attend if they are within driving distance."

Some Lacrosse Chatter

A bit of confusion prevailed ere last night's senior O.L.A. joust here was definitely postponed till Thursday. Local club advised Fergus at noon that the tilt was off due to steady rain., but shortly afterward decided it was clearing up nicely and notified the Thistles to come along for the fixture. After some scurrying around, Thistles phoned to say they couldn't contact all their players, and they refused to come. 'Twas called off then shortly after three. Petes play in Mimico on the morrow. Other O.L.A. activity of interest up this way has St. Kitts tackling our junior "A" club here tonight in junior semi-finals; while Peterborough bantams and midgets open provincial play with Parkdale in Toronto next Monday and here Aug. 27 in two-game series.

Port Hope finished atop the Kawartha Tennis League schedule with 50 points, five more than Quakers. Kawartha came third with 41, as Bowmanville racked up 31. Cobourg took 22, one more than Lindsay. The Ports dropped but two matches all through the over-the-webbing campaign. First four now clash in semi-finals, Port Hope vs. Bowmanville, and Kawartha vs. Quakers. Semi-finals go in single matches with the finals home-and-home competition. Dates for these sawoffs have not been announced yet. It is hoped that another summer will see more courts available for junior tennis.

Peacock Meets Savitt In Tennis Tilt

TORONTO (CP)—A young Toronto tennis player, whose hardest games were played last year in an intercollegiate tennis tournament, meets the second ranking United States player in the Canadian lawn tennis championships today.

Hugh Peacock, 22-year-old University of Toronto civil engineering student, won the right to meet Dick Savitt of Orange, N.J., when he defeated John Gerrard of the Toronto Cricket Club 7-5, 6-2 in a qualifying round Sunday.

"I'm scared," Hugh admitted, "but I won't mind losing to one of the best players in the world."

The match was originally scheduled for yesterday but poor plane connections delayed Savitt's arrival.

NO UPSETS

Since no upsets marked the first day of play yesterday, a "full house" of Canadian and foreign top ranking players is on hand in Canada's greatest tennis competition.

Lorne Main of Vancouver and Brendan Macken and Henri Rochon, both of Montreal, Canada's three top players, all won their matches in straight sets. So did Mexico's No. 1 player, G. Palofox, and Art Larsen of Oakland, Calif., the U.S. clay and hardcourt champion.

Main defeated Mexico's R. Reifkohl, 6-1, 6-4. Macken won over F. Murphy of Fort William 6-0, 6-3 and Rochon used a combination of cuts and left-handed drives to finish off G. Campbell of Toronto, 6-0, 6-0. Palofox cut off Toronto's J. Dickenson 6-1, 6-3 and Larsen defeated a surprisingly strong Jim Duff of Toronto, 6-3, 6-4.

Nearest thing to an upset in the day's play was the hard-fought match between veteran Beau Summers of Toronto and J. Ryes of Mexico. Beau, rated as Canada's No. 6, had to come from behind to defeat the 18-year-old player 9-6, 6-2, 6-3.

U.S. CHAMP OUT

A last-minute ruling by the Northern California Tennis Association shortened entry list of the ladies' singles. Anita Kanter, 1952 U.S. clay court champion, was refused permission to compete in the Canadian tournament.

Her removal from the list of competitors leaves Hilde Doleschell, former ranking Austrian player now living in Toronto, and Melita Ramirz, Mexican singles and doubles champion, as the two possible claimants of the Canadian title.

Intermittent rain delayed the start of yesterday's play by more than two hours.

Churchill Gives Games Blessing

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill gave his official blessing today to the British Empire Games in Vancouver in 1954.

In a message to Stanley Smith of Vancouver, general chairman of the British Empire Games Society, Churchill said he feels sure the games "will provide yet another opportunity for cementing the links which bind together Her Majesty's subjects throughout the Commonwealth."

The prime minister's message was made public as Smith, head of the organizing committee for the 1954 games, prepared to fly back to Canada after a six-week stay in Helsinki and London. He promised that on the basis of what he learned in those two cities, everything possible will be done to assure that the Canadian games are efficiently run.

In Helsinki, Smith was given a behind-the-scenes look at the organization of the 1952 Olympics, including the electric scoreboard which drew admiring reports from sports writers.

Notes On Cricket

Rain prevented the P-W Cricket Club from playing a match with the Avro "B" team in Toronto on Saturday after the local players had made the trip. Avro had won here in a June fixture.

On Sunday, the Peterborough team travelled to Port Hope for a friendly match at T.C.S., with members of the school staff and employees there strengthening the home club. The result was a win for Port Hope by 120 to 41.

Next Saturday, the locals play the return match with St. Edmund's "B" team at the Oval. Their first meeting in June resulted in a Peterborough win by one run.

Yesterday's Stars

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Batting: Phil Cavarretta, Cubs—slammed a pinch-hit home run with one on in the ninth inning to climax a three-run rally that gave the Cubs a 4-3 victory over the Pirates.

Pitching: Vic Raschi, Yankees—handcuffed the Red Sox with five hits in pitching his 14th victory against three losses as the Yankees gained their third success in four games at Fenway Park, 4-2.

FILCHOCK INJURED

EDMONTON (CP) — Playing coach Frankie Filchock, who suffered a rib separation on the last play of exhibition game here Saturday night with Montreal Alouettes, is expected to miss Edmonton Eskimos' first two scheduled games in the Western Interprovincial Football Union. Club doctors said Monday the action will keep him out of action for games in Regina Saturday and in Winnipeg next Monday.

MEN WHO SIGN CHEQUES—Back of the senior ball Petes are two club officials who sign the cheques, Treasurer Lloyd Grose at left and President Max Swanston. It has been nip-and-tuck all season to keep the club out of the red, but a big "booster night" here Wednesday (with many valuable prizes given away) is expected to put the Petes on the right side of the ledger again.

Quinte Writer Surprised At Petes' C.O.B.L. Climb

Columnist George Carver of the Ontario Intelligencer in Belleville was quite surprised Monday on his return to the Quinte sports desk after two weeks of vacationing. He had left the job with Belleville Redmen comfortably holding onto first place in the Central Ontario Baseball League. During his absence, the Petes caught fire and climbed over the Reds. George ruefully remarks:

"We see by the papers that the Redmen have not been doing so well in the Central Ontario Baseball League setup. Seems they have dropped from grace and now adorn the second rung of the three-step ladder, with the Petes of all things nestling on the top perch. Says here the Petes have won 11 and dropped nine. What has Jack McNamara discovered? An elixir of youth or a baseball ability up around the Kawarthas, or did that TV show awaken the spark in the manly bosoms of the Litflock crew?

Our side are in second place with nine wins and 10 setbacks, while the Scruttoneers of Kingston are looking upwards and onwards with seven victories and 10 defeats. All of which proves the saying that anything can happen in a baseball game or league, and the winner is not declared until the final out is called. Looks like a dog-eat-dog battle from here in, with some of those postponed games proving positional pastimes, after all. Then the playoffs."

OPEN CHAMPION — Edean Anderson, 22-year-old Montana State title-holder, is Canadian Women's Open Golf Champion. She defeated Mary Gay of Kitchener, 9 and 8 in the 36-hole final at Edmonton's Mayfair golf course. Miss Anderson, from Helena, Montana, defeated last year's champion, Marlene Stewart of Fonthill, Ont., in the semi-final. She was awarded the Duchess of Connaught Gold Cup.

RUNNER-UP—Mary Gay of Kitchener, 20-year-old Ontario golf champion, was runner-up in the Canadian Women's Open Golf championships at Edmonton's Mayfair golf course. She lost 9 and 8 to Edean Anderson of Helena, Montana. Miss Gay entered the finals by defeating former champion Grace Lenczyk of Hartford, Conn. Miss Gay's showing earned her a place on the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union seven-member team which will compete in the British Open and international matches in 1953.

Westwood Captures The Stevens Trophy

HASTINGS (ENS)— Westwood defeated Legion here on Monday night, 9-8, before a large crowd, to take the Stevens trophy. They proved worthy champions.

It was their maiden year in the league and coached by Harold Fife and Bruce Graham, under the management of Max Humphries, they rounded into a fine ball team.

Legion proved themselves worthy opponents, and were congratulated on their sportsmanship at the game's end.

The seventh proved Legion's undoing. Morrow, A. Wilson and B. Wilson loaded the bases to start the inning, and Ray Lynch proved the hero of the game with a towering homer. Legion threatened later, but each time died on the base paths. Both Crowley and Warr pitched fine ball, both being nicked for nine hits, but Westwood bunched their blows to make a difference.

At the conclusion of the game president Peck presented the Stevens trophy to captain Bob Wilson.

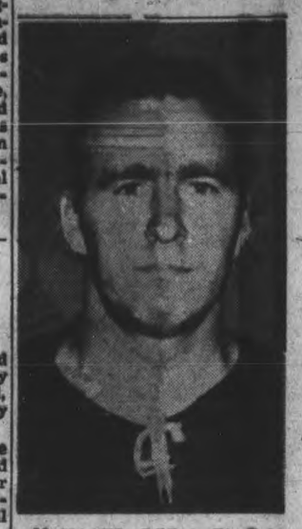
Royals Take Twin Bill From Orioles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

While Montreal Royals are sailing along at the top of the International League, the battle for seventh place is being waged with the bitterness of a pennant race.

Springfield Cubs occupied the spot today with Ottawa Athletics consigned to the cellar, just one game behind. The Cubs climbed out of last place last night by taking a 2-1 decision from the As.

The As were ahead until the ninth inning, when the Cubs scored two unearned runs on two singles, an error and two walks. Ed Burtschy walked home the winning run.



In other action, the Royals took a doubleheader from Baltimore Orioles, 2-0 and 10-7, and Buffalo Bisons eked out a 3-2 decision over Syracuse Chiefs.

Mal Mallette and Jim Hughes combined to hold the Orioles to four hits in the first game for the Royals. Don Hoak hit a home run and that was enough to win it. In the nightcap, the Royals needed all the hitting they could get and were forced to break a 7-all deadlock in the eighth with three runs at the expense of Bill Donnelly.

Ken Johnson won his own game for the Bisons when he drove in two runs in the second inning. Frank Carswell accounted for the other tally with a home run. Johnson needed help from Milt Jordan.

SUSPENSION BRIDGE

Canada's first successful suspension bridge for railway traffic was built at Niagara Falls in 1858.

MANAGER BOB — Big Bob Curtin is a busy senior lacrosse manager these days arranging to pick up Petes' postponements with the end of the O.L.A. schedule in sight. Bob only quit the active end of the game a few years ago, after starring for a long period on defence. He was also a good enough gridder to perform for Argos.

Yankees Trip Red Sox 4-2 Giants Crippled As Durocher Suspended

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer

Time keeps running out and trouble keeps piling up on the harried and injury-riddled New York Giants. Trailing the runaway Brooklyn Dodgers by a 7½-game margin, the defending National League champions no sooner arrived in Chicago yesterday when they were handed another severe jolt. It was a telegram from League President Warren Giles advising Leo Durocher that he had been suspended for five days for his run-in with umpire Augie Donatelli last Sunday. A $100 fine also was plastered on the stormy manager. The suspension lasts through Aug. 23.

Durocher generally was credited with doing a magnificent job last season in leading Giants to their first flag in 14 years. For bringing the team up from a 13½-game deficit as late as Aug. 11, he earned the manager-of-the-year award in the Associated Press poll.

Many believed Durocher was doing an even better job this year in keeping the Giants in second place despite such crippling blows as the ankle fracture suffered by Monte Irvin, the loss of Willie Mays to the service, the back ailment of Sal Maglie and the slumping of Bobby Thomson.

The Giants will have to struggle along without Durocher for the entire four-game series in Chicago and the two-game set in St. Louis. Coach Fred Fitzsimmons will be in charge.

The Dodgers open their western swing in Cincinnati where Preacher Roe and Johnny Rutherford will oppose Bubba Church and Herman Wehmeier in a twi-night twin bill tonight.

New York Yankees return home tonight against Chicago White Sox. Johnny Schmitz will try to protect the Yanks' two-game bulge over Cleveland Indians. He will be opposed by Saul Rogovin. Cleveland engages the Red Sox in Boston, with Early Wynn opposing Dick Brodowski.

YANKS TRIM BOSTON

The Yankees took advantage of Cleveland's idleness yesterday, picking up one-half game by defeating the Red Sox 4-2 in Boston. Vic Raschi hurled a five-hitter for his 14th victory against three losses. Dizzy Trout was the loser, the victime of two-run outbursts in the first and third innings. The defeat dropped the Red Sox 6½ lengths behind the Yankees.

In the day's only other action, the Cubs came from behind with a three-run, ninth-inning rally to nip Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3. Manager Phil Cavarretta propelled the winning blow, a pinch-hit homer with a man on base to hand Murry Dickson his 17th defeat. Bob Schultz, in relief, was credited with his third win.

It was not a wasted day for Cleveland, however, since the Indians obtained relief pitcher Ted Wilks and utility infielder George Strickland from the Pirates in exchange for infielder Johnny Berardino and a "sizeable bundle" of cash.

They'll Do It Every Time — By Jimmy Hatlo

6 Stars Make Hall of Fame

KINGSTON (CP) — Six great hockey players—R. R. (Dickie) Boon, Bill Cook, Frank (Moose) Goheen, Ernest (Moose) Johnson, Mickey MacKay and Nels Stewart—have been named to the International Hockey Hall of Fame.

The latest selections of the 16 governors was announced here yesterday, site of the Hall of Fame. The total named now is 42.

Boon is the oldest member of the six. He is 74 and still lives in Montreal where he was captain of the "Little Men of Iron"—the Montreal A.A.A. team that won the Stanley Cup in 1902. Later he played for and managed Montreal Wanderers when they won the Cup in 1906, 1907 and 1910. He played cover point and never weighed more than 115 pounds.

CARRIED LONG STICK

Moose Johnson, native of Montreal and a colorful defenceman, had a 16-year career, from 1906 to 1922. He played with M.A.A.A. and Wanderers before going to the Pacific Coast, where he played with New Westminster, Portland and Victoria. He was noted for using the longest hockey stick of any player. Johnson, now 66, is a railway trainman at Portland, Ore.

Francis Xavier Goheen, the other "Moose" named, is the second American-born and trained player to enter the Hall of Fame. Hobey Baker, one of the nine original members, was the other. Goheen, a defenceman, starred with the St. Paul Athletic Club when that team won the U.S. hockey championship four times, the last time in 1923. Goheen was drafted in 1926 by Boston Bruins but refused to report. He is 58.

Mickey Mackay is the only one of the six not living. A smooth player, smart hook-checker and natural scorer, he was labelled a super-star after his great showing in the Stanley Cup finals of 1918 in Toronto. He played with Edmonton in 1913-14 and then with Vancouver Maroons from 1914-15 until the end of the 1925-26 season except for 1919-20 when he was with Calgary in the Alberta Big Four.

NHL VET CHOSEN

Nels (Ole Poison) Stewart played 14 seasons in the N.H.L. with Montreal Maroons, Boston Bruins and New York Americans. His final season was 1939-40. He holds the all-time N.H.L. scoring record of 324 goals, all during regular-schedule play.

Bill Cook, coach of New York Rangers, was one of the original members of that team, playing with it from 1926-27 through 1936-37. He captained the team throughout that time. He won the scoring championship in 1926-27 and 1932-33 and was picked as all-star right winger five times. He played amateur hockey around Kingston before serving with the Canadian Army in the First World War and winning the Military Medal. Cook turned professional with the Saskatoon Sheiks of the Western Canada League in 1923. He played there until he went to Rangers. He is 55 and spends off-seasons on his farm near Kingston.

Fans Attack Soccer Referee

TORONTO (CP)—With less than 15 minutes left to play in the Consols Cup soccer final between Canadians and Ukrainians last night the game was called off when players and fans swarmed across the field attempting to attack referee Pat Taylor.

When Taylor called a penalty shot against the Ukrainians, they refused to take it. The referee called off the game. The Ukrainians were leading 3-2.

The 2,000 fans then swarmed on to the field. Police ended the tussle but not before the referee had take some abuse and one fan lost four teeth when struck with a bottle.

A meeting of Toronto and District Soccer League directors threw out the result of the game which, in effect, is for the city championship.

Sqdn. Leader Steps Back Into History

LONDON (CP)—It will be a case of "stepping back into history" when Sqdn. Ldr. Doug Warren of Ponoka, Alta., leads a flight of 12 Canadian-built Sabre jet fighters in a memorial fly-past today over the beaches of Dieppe.

Ten years ago, as a 20-year-old Spitfire pilot with an R.A.F. squadron, Warren flew three operational sorties over Dieppe as Canadians fought their classic battle below. He shot down one enemy bomber.

Today Warren goes back over the beaches as commanding officer of his squadron, the R.C.A.F.'s No. 410 squadron..

TAKING NO CHANCES

"When I heard this show was coming up I made sure I wouldn't miss it," Warren said. "It'll be like stepping back into history."

The flypast is one of a series of ceremonies designed to mark the 10th anniversary of Dieppe, one of the bloodiest battles in Canadian military annals. Canadian army veterans were flown from Canada to participate in the day-long program. At the French coastal town two new streets will be dedicated.

RICKETY-ROCKET MAIL—Hoping for backing from German authorities, Professor Albert Puellenbuerg readies his "mail carrying" rocket for a test flight near Bremen. It is the first post-war German-made rocket, built with permission of the Allied Military Security Board. Made of poor-grade materials, Puellenbuerg's rocket may someday be improved enough to carry mail.

Western Wheat Marvellous Crop —Hugh Stewart

"Canada's western grain crop is a marvellous sight," Hugh Stewart said today.

"I never expected to see anything like it, and I've been in the west for nineteen years. Virtually from Lake Superior to the Rocky Mountains, nature has spread over the prairies a vast carpet of ripening grain, all of uniform color. You travel westerly hundreds of miles, and you are still surrounded by wheat.

This year's crop is the greatest story in Canada today. The average Easterner can't imagine its extent. You have to see it, and the farther you go through the grain provinces the more the sight overwhelms you."

Estimates of the wheat, apart from the rough grains, exceed 600,000,000 bushels.

AHEAD OF FROST

"Figure that in cash, and you have some idea of the new wealth the western farmers have earned for Canada this season. I was talking today with a friend in Saskatoon. He told me the weather so far is ahead of the frost, and it looks as if there will be no serious damage. This man told me a lot of the grain around Saskatoon has been swathed, ready for the combines. On his own farm he has 360 acres in swath."

"They had another big crop last year, but the weather turned bad just about harvest time. Frost and continuing rain left a tremendous acreage of grain to be harvested this spring. Of course, the grade was seriously affected.

However, the westerner cleaned up the most of it at the beginning of this season, and then sowed the 1952 crop.

I saw in many fields piles of grain left in corners because it was too expensive to do anything more with it. They were piles as big as my garage."

BIG INVESTMENTS

Farms in the west today are more or less organized like big industrial plants. The individual farmer in many cases is equipped with implements that represent a big investment, the machines to do the job.

"When the weather continued to look promising, the only worry appeared to be the shortage of labor, because for all the equipment they still need some manual help. They were expecting 2,000 harvesters from the east," Mr. Stewart said.

"When I came back east recently I hadn't words to describe the prairie provinces with their crop.

"What impressed me was a feeling that we are truly living in God's country. I felt that the Lord Almighty was providing abundance not only for Canada, but for the British Commonwealth, our own people, to help us all to cope with the difficulties that face the world today.

"At the same time, the West has done a tremendously big job, and I know we all hope that there will be no unfavorable turn in the weather until the harvest out there is finished."

ENGLISH FLOOD—Water from a swollen tributary, the aftermath of disastrous flash floods, pours down a hillside into Lynmouth, hardest hit of the resort towns along England's southwest coast. Furniture and battered cars, deposited there by the raging Lyn River, lie near one of the resort hotels. The weekend floods made the town's main street a torrential watercourse that almost washed the picturesque vacation town into the sea.

Fire Police Chief Second Time

PICKERING (CP) — Pickering township council, for the second time in two years, has called for the removal of the chief of police.

John Irvine was fired as police chief in 1950, for what council called neglect of duty, and replaced by Lockhart W. Trinnel, a veteran of 35 years on the Toronto city force during which time he rose to the rank of detective-sergeant.

Council's decision to fire Chief Trinnel came during a closed meeting last week. A citizen's group—headed by salesman E. N. B. Smith—is circulating a petition urging that the police commission ignore council recommendation and retain the chief.

Councillors recommended to the commission that the chief be relieved because of his refusal to cooperate with council and because of dissension within the six-man force

Pickering is 15 miles east of Toronto.

Boy 9, Best Baker At Ottawa Fair

OTTAWA (CP)—Ross Dickson, nine-year-old newspaper carrier boy, made women take a back seat yesterday in baking competition at the Central Canada Exhibition.

Ross, who has been doing all his mother's bread baking for three months, took two first prizes in the fruit and brown bread judging and a third in the white bread contest.

"Ross' bread is just like mother bakes," said his father proudly.

Big Problem For Next Few Years Keeping Up Canadian Exports

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Canada's major problem for the next few years, possibly a decade, will be maintenance of exports, says a letter from the Canadian Exporters' Association concerning its annual convention Oct. 27-28, at the Seigniory Club, Que.

The letter adds:

"Solution to questions which confront us are not easily found. But there are many and various ways of approaching the subject and getting results, and that, of course, is what the convention will attempt to accomplish."

One session will consist of a panel discussion, with officials of the Department of Trade and Commerce on hand to answer questions.

Guest speaker at the annual dinner will be George W. Wolf of New York, president of the United States Steel Export Corporation. Alex Gray, Toronto is president.

FOREST WEALTH

The Canadian Pulp and Paper Association has issued a 19-page booklet on the forest industry, entitled, "The Pulpwood Harvest." The booklet comments, in part:

"Directly and indirectly, the forests generate a quarter of the income of all Canadians. And the pulpwood harvest is the basis of more than half of all the economic benefits which flow to Canada from her vast woodlands.

"The forests need no definition, but pulpwood is the wood that is, or that can be, used in the manufacture of pulp and paper, an industry which creates more new wealth for Canada than any single element in the economy.

"Pulp and paper, but a single sector of the forest industries, alone creates more national wealth every year than all the mines or all the grain crops of Canada.

"There exists no sharp line for dividing trees for pulpwood and those used for lumber. Large logs, naturally, are of more initial value if they can be delivered economically to a sawmill. Generally, though, it is trees of a lesser diameter, or of lesser value as lumber, that furnish pulpwood.

"So for the most part, logs which could never make anything but poor lumber are the raw material of the pulp and paper mills. There are vast areas of mature Canadian forests where the trees have not attained, and never can attain, a size suited to the manufacture of good lumber.

"Thus the utilization of pulpwood has increased enormously the inherent wealth of Canadian forests."

Riot Ended 1st Ottawa Fair

OTTAWA (CP)—Mayor Charlotte Whitton started the 1952 Central Canada Exhibition off on a light note yesterday as she traced the history of the fair at an opening-day luncheon speech.

The first fair was held in 1829, she said, "right next to St. Andrew's Church."

"Down one side of the fair they had the beer, down the other side the beans. Everything went well until noon when the Irish, the Scots and the English fell into disagreement and there was a tremendous riot."

Col. John By, the city's founder, was so unset, she said, "that Bytown's fair charter was revoked for 25 years."

Mayor Whitton also announced that she and members of the local Council of Women were going out to inspect personally the midway's "girlie" shows.

Killed in the crash was Mrs. Caroline Strieff, 50. Her husband, Emmanuel Strieff, 54, thought to be driving the car, died in an ambulance taking him to a Chatham hospital.

Police said the auto apparently spun out of control when a blowout collapsed a rear tire.

United Church Commission Asks Concrete Union Steps

TORONTO (CP) — A United Church commission on church union has asked the General Council of the church to take six concrete steps towards reunion with the Church of England in Canada.

The council will consider the commission's recommendations at its 15th annual session, opening in Hamilton Sept. 10.

The commission recommended that the United Church welcome to its communion members in good standing in the Church of England in Canada. It said periodic, possibly annual, exchanges of pulpits between ministry and clery of both churches would be desirable. Development of community churches, possibly on the basis of double affiliation, should be considered.

A commission on tobacco requested that the council find that tobacco is not a moral issue within the United Church.

The commission does not regard the use and distribution of tobacco as sinful. "It is not in the same category as gambling and drunkenness. The use of tobacco cannot be generally regarded as a matter of conscience."

The commission recommended to bacco advertising in newspapers and on radio be kept within bounds and that the CBC impose a strict code of rules on television advertising.

External Affairs Dept. Gets New Blood

By DOUGLAS HOW

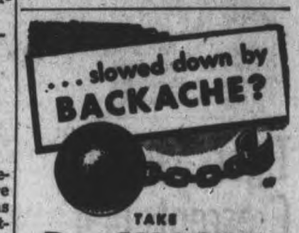
OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's External Affairs Department is getting its first infusion of new officer blood in two years and getting another Pearson in the bargain.

Geoffrey Pearson, 24-year-old only son of External Affairs Minister Lester Pearson, is one of 24 young college graduates to survive the toughest of all civil service exams and qualify to enter the diplomatic service. Eleven times that number failed to make the grade in shooting for the 24 openings.

TWO WOMEN IN

The successful 22 men and two women are joining the service now as fledgling diplomats at $3,280 a year. They represent roughly a 10-per-cent increase in the department's officer staff, a boost made necessary by establishment of a relatively-large mission at Atlantic Pact headquarters in Paris and by vacancies. There were no openings last year.

The two bright young women who bested dozens of bright young men are Vivienne Allen of Vancouver, graduate of the University of British Columbia and the University of California, and Pamela MacDougall of Chelsea, Que., who has studied at Mount Allison University, Sackville, N.B., University of Toronto and the Sorbonne in Paris.



Among the department's 263 officers now are about a dozen women. The officers make up one of two main segments of the department's manpower. They provide the diplomats and leaders. The other segment embraces clerks, stenographers and the like.

Geoffrey Pearson has no nickname like his father's celebrated "Mike" beyond the obvious abbreviation to Geoff. He has the same University of Toronto and Oxford University background as his father and was recently married after finishing at Oxford.

NO FAVORITISM

Civil service officials who ran the examination stressed yesterday that the 24 successful candidates came through for one reason only—in a tough, two-sided exam they showed abilities beyond those of the other candidates. There are safeguards to prevent favoritism.

There originally were 300 college-graduate candidates but 100 were weeded out before the exams started. In the original three written exams the candidates were anonymous to the markers. That test weeded out another large number. The final barrier was an oral test.

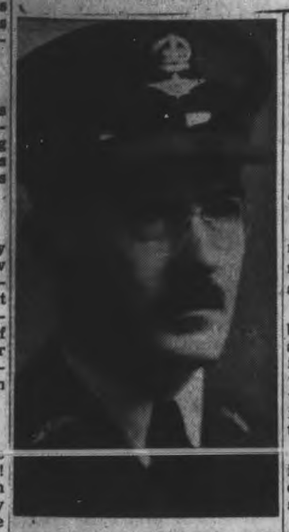
MAY BE CEREMONY

Expectations for the early breaking of ground for the new postal-customs building on Charlotte St. have raised a question at the City Hall about some ceremony for that preliminary of actual construction. It is in Mayor Waddell's thinking, but His Worship had nothing definitely in mind this morning.

AUTUMN'S ARRIVAL



No coyness about autumn's rounding the seasonal corner! Spring may have to put up with winter's lingering, and dilly-dally along the way, but not so with the coming of fall. The change from summer was a definite and recognizable phenomenon last week. One day it was hot and humid, and the air was of summer. Overnight, autumn had barged in on the scene, and each day since then has confirmed it.

Collegiate Students Call In For Lists Of Books Prepare For School Opening In Two Weeks

With school opening only two weeks away, many students are calling in at the P.C.V.S. office these days to pick up their list of books so they will be all ready to begin the fall term on September 2.

They have been coming in a few at a time since the lists were first available the end of July, but more are coming every day, as the end of summer holidays approaches.

For several years now, students have been able to find out what books they will need before school opens so they can avoid the last minute rush of buying them. However, only about half the students take advantage of this opportunity. The rest wait until the first day of school and join the crowd of collegians that jam bookstores on opening day.

Old Doorway Last To Fall At City Hall

Maybe Al Eknovitz, the bossman in the blue T-shirt in the demolishing of the old city hall, has a sentimental streak in his nature.

On the other hand it may have been nothing more than a neutral and indifferent choice in his leaving to the last of the razing operations the main door and its identification of the entire premises in the arched legend over the entrance.

The door was being freed from its hinges for the first time since city fathers began using the place some seventy or more years ago.

No ceremony in demolitions or any other disposal of such structures that have served their purpose and their generations! Just the wrenching of the wreckers with an eye on the next job that's waiting them.

WHITE PINE

"Most of the timber in the buildings was white pine," the busy and restless Eknovitz remarked today. "I think that was the kind of lumber they used generally when this place was put up."

The west side of the lot was levelled Monday by use of a bulldozer. Nothing is left of that section adjoining the lane into the old market, for years the headquarters of the Utilities Commission, and before them the place of business of Drummond & Duffus, Charlie Brown and the former Sir Joseph Flavelle.

Time will soon erase memories associated with the property, its occupants and municipal staff.

"Twon't be long now," Mr. Eknovitz said this morning in a note of approaching finality.

Investigate Catching Sturgeon

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS)— An investigation has been started into the manner in which a 93-pound sturgeon was taken in the Trent River near here.

Two anglers from Toronto and Scarboro landed the fish Monday afternoon in the raceway below the powerhouse at Bradley Bay. They clubbed it to death and hauled it into the boat.

Conservation Officer Reg. McCulloch of Campbellford district is conducting the investigation.

Donald Trakalo of Scarboro and Peter Wish of Toronto were trolling in Bradley Bay and saw the huge fish playing on the surface.

They brought their boat alongthen lassoed it with the anchor side and clubbed the fish to death, rope and hauled their prize into the boat. Weight of the fish on government tested scales was 93 pounds, and the length was six feet, six inches.

The pair left for Toronto before noon today with their fish, believed the largest ever taken out of the Trent River.

$11,000 Cost Maintaining Buckhorn Rd.

Cost County $2,000 Each Time Road Chloride Treated

Cost of maintaining the Buckhorn road this year was estimated at $11,000 today by county engineer Jack Kean.

One of the larger items in the total bill has been dusting the road with calcium chloride. By next week this will have been done three times, at $2,000 each time for the 12½ miles of gravel road.

INSPECT HIGHWAY

The county council's road committee met today and after discussing possible solutions to the problems of the Buckhorn road, drove out to inspect it and other roads in the county.

One suggestion that was voiced several times at the meeting was the issuing of debentures to pave the road. This method would face a problem in that the road is under the jurisdiction of the suburban area roads commission, which is not a corporate body and therefore cannot issue bonds.

SUGGESTION MADE

James Gifford of Ennismore suggested that the county issue the debentures and make a cash grant to the commission. Other committee members had some doubt of the value of this method, in view of the dropping price of debentures.

As far as letters to newspapers went, said Warden Dick Stewart, they could be taken with a grain of salt. He remarked that some of the tourists who complained had travelled over nothing but paved roads until they hit the Buckhorn road.

Mr. Stewart went on to say that he felt that representatives of the county should meet with city council, as the city has a share in roads looked after by the suburban area roads commission.

WHY CHANGE TO CHLORIDE?

It was asked at the committee meeting why a change had been made from oil to chloride to keep down dust. Mr. Kean said that the ratepayers asked for chloride, and that the third application of the road salt would be given the road next week.

When it was mentioned that $9,000 had been spent on the Buckhorn road and that chloride for a third application would cost $2,000, Mr. Gifford said:

"What's going to become of the other suburban roads? It is hardly fair to concentrate all our attention on one."

In time, said Mr. Kean, the Department of Highways would take the road over, but are not yet prepared to do so. The department had other commitments, he said.

Still to be spent on roads is $40,000, Mrs. J. A. Spurway, county clerk and treasurer, reported. Roads have cost $190,770.-09 up to Aug. 15, and $171,000 had been borrowed on the highways account.

Mr. Kean was instructed to ask for the interim subsidy from the department of $182,337.54.

End Of Dog Days

Since Humane Society Inspector Bruce Menzies resigned several weeks ago, dogs have been free to run loose without tags, upset garbage cans and in general do as they like, but dog days will end August 22, when Mr. Menzies resumes his duties as inspector. Spent Holiday Gores Landing Killed In Crash

A happy family, a mother, father and four children left Clare Harris' summer hotel at Gores Landing at noon on Saturday and by evening the children were orphans. The result of an accident on the No. 2 highway near Brantford.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Wagner, 36 and 35, of Clayton, Ohio and their four children James 9, Donald 13, Shirley 14 and Larry 16 had spent their two weeks holiday at Gores Landing. They had had a wonderful time spending the days fishing and swimming along with Mr. Wagner's brother, William, who was to leave Sunday to continue his holidays in New York state.

COMING FOR SOME YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. Wagner have been coming to Rice Lake for their annual vacation for some years.

Mr. Wagner this year had been very lucky in his fishing and just before they left they had loaded their full quota of fish all packed in ice into the car.

The Wagner car smashed into a truck which was making a left turn off the highway near Brantford. The truck driver has been charged with manslaughter.

The father and mother died before they could reach the hospital. The children's injuries are James, a fractured jaw; Shirley, a fractured left foot; Larry, abrasions of the left foot and Donald, contusions and multiple lacerations.

New Homes Rule Out Airport Site

Port Hope Highway No Longer Suitable New Survey Shows

New residences and other buildings on both sides of the Peterborough-Port Hope Highway have finally eliminated that area west of fox-farm road as a potential site for an air field.

That is definite information received by Mayor Waddell from a departmental survey recently directed toward the locating of an airport adjacent to this city.

Consideration of the level fields west of water-trough hill, and in the vicinity of the late Robert Dobbin farm, was first proposed by the late J. H. Burnham, at one time member of parliament for this constituency.

It was revived from time to time but nothing ever came of that proposal. In the meantime Peterborough's population has been overflowing into the townships, including both sides of No. 28 Highway west of the city almost to Springville.

TO BE MADE PUBLIC

That new building development has closed in on whatever chance the Monaghan flat country in the Lillico farms area had of becoming an airport.

Mayor Waddell mentioned only this negative aspect of the report. As to the rest of it, particularly as to any positive detail, that remains for the council's information and will then be made public.

20 Farm Workers Leave For West

Twenty experienced farm workers are leaving Peterborough Wednesday afternoon for Winnipeg to help in the harvesting of the huge grain crop on the prairies.

From Winnipeg they will be assigned to some of the farms requiring men in Canada's vast granary of Saskatchewan, Alberta and Manitoba. The twenty were chosen by W. H. L. Mellis, head of the local National Employment Service, from a list of some 90 applicants.

"If any others are needed, we'll make a further selection," Mr. Mellis said today. "That depends on any orders we may get from Toronto.

We are picking men on the basis of their experience in farming, their adaptability and their practical knowledge of harvesting methods. Our aim is to send the West the most capable men we can choose. It may be that we will be asked for more than the 20."

Mr. Mellis was busy this morning telephoning the twenty who take off from Toronto Wednesday night to make certain this first contingent is at full strength.

Barons Will Train At Stratford Camp

CLEVELAND (CP)—Jim Hendy, general manager of Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League, announced today the Barons will open their 1952-53 season training camp Sept. 15 at Stratford.

Fifty-six amateurs will report opening day and 25 professionals will go to the camp Sept. 22.

The Barons failed in a bid to enter the six-team National Hockey League earlier this year. "I guess we got so much publicity about our futile attempt to get into the N.H.L. and our disappointment about not making it that most hockey fans seem to think that Cleveland is dropping out (of hockey) entirely," Hendy said in a statement.

Anti-Tank Battery To Hold Reunion

Veterans of the fourth anti-tank battery from all over Ontario will be coming to Peterborough August 30 for a reunion at the Empress Hotel.

The get-together was planned at the unit's annual meeting and election of officers held Friday evening in the R.C.A.F. club rooms.

The battery was the first unit mobilized in Peterborough following the outbreak of the Second World War.

Col. John A. Harstone was the unit's first commanding officer when mobilized June 11, 1940, and led the unit overseas in 1941.

All members of the battery were in on the D Day landing and fought through France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Germany until V.E. Day.

Several former commanding officers who succeeded Col. Harstone have been invited to attend the reunion which will be featured by a banquet and dance in the evening.

Registration begins at 3 p.m. and about 125 veterans of the unit are expected to attend.

Brioux Family Hold Reunion

A reunion of the Brioux family was held on Sunday with about 50 members attending, four families and an aunt coming from Toronto to join the Peterborough families. This family's name is very familiar here since it has given its name to Brioux Avenue (south of Lansdowne St..) though none of the family live on this street now. Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Brioux, 558 Romaine St., were instigators of the reunion and entertained the friends after an afternoon of games and a picnic supper had been enjoyed at Nicholls Oval. Those here from Toronto were Mrs. A. Guerin, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brioux, Mrs. David Brioux and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lawless, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Killoran, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Brioux. The Peterborough members attending with their families were Mr. and Mrs. Lou Girard, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hallihan, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brioux, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Brioux. Mr. Frank Farley was a guest for the occasion. Small Diane Hallihan was celebrating a birthday on the 17th and the supper included a birthday cake in her honor.

Necklines High, Shoulders Curve

PARIS—Necklines are high for day, often double-breasted in tailored jackets and coats. Shoulders still curve, but are no longer narrow and very sloping.

There are slim and full skirts in almost equal numbers for evening but fullness is restrained and no longer reaches the proportions of veritable crinolines. With longer hemlines for day, evening hemlines have also lengthened and there are fewer short evening dresses.

Australian Artist Painting Princess

LONDON (CP)—Princess Anne, who has just celebrated her second birthday anniversary, has been meeting a new friend this summer. She is Mrs. Stella Marks, Australian-born artist who painted a miniature of the infant princess which entailed regular visits to Buckingham Palace to study her subject.

Princess Anne did not actually sit for her portrait. She chattered and played while Mrs. Marks watched to capture her expression on the ivory which she paints in watercolors.

Mrs. Marks painted Prince Charles in the same fashion last year, making eight visits to Clarence House before she was finished.

She has also painted miniatures of Queen Elizabeth II and the Duke of Edinburgh. An alert artist in her early 50s, Mrs. Marks began painting at the age of 10 and spent 20 years in the United States before coming to Britain.

New Paint Brush Treated With Oil

Don't put a new paint brush directly into paint or enamel. If you do, the paint pigment adheres to the bristles and is difficult to remove. Treat it with oil first—it's much easier to clean. Before putting the brush into oil, however, remove any loose bristles by rolling the handle of the brush between the palms of your hands. Then beat the bristle lightly across your fingers.

For at least 12 hours before it is to be used, suspend the brush in linseed oil. Be sure that the ends of the bristles do not rest on the bottom of the container. When you're ready to use it, remove the surplus oil by laying the brush on its side, then pressing a wooden strip heavily across the bristle, starting with the ferrule and working downward toward the tip of the brush until most of the oil has been removed.

Fruit Salad Tray Good For "Buffet"

A luscious fresh fruit salad tray on a buffet table makes an easy "help yourself" dish that looks beautiful and tastes wonderful. In fact, a large salad plate of fresh orange slices with melons, bananas and pineapple makes such an eye-catching combination that it is hard to resist large servings. And even the most weight-conscious person won't have to worry about pounds with this low calorie fruit salad. Hunt up one of your largest bowls and start making a fruit arrangement. Use romaine or lettuce as the background, then several rows of oranges with other fruits between each row.

Parents Careful To Have Children Properly Shod

While Junior may flinch at tackling the multiplication table when school reopens, there is one problem he may escape entirely: pinched toes.

Shoemen report that parents are taking greater care than ever before to have their children properly shod. While mother may lengthen Mary's skirt and Johnny's cuffs, she makes sure that the children get new shoes to accommodate their summer's growth.

During their vacation, most children have grown. Their feet alone may have increased by a full size. By letting them "make do" with outgrown footwear, a parent may seriously injure the child's feet and posture, warns the Shoe Information Bureau of Canada.

Back to school time, says the Bureau, means that it's time to make children's feet safe. A strong and sturdy shoe with a rugged sole is needed to give security to young feet and ankles. While the heel should be snug, no part of the shoe's forepart must be permitted to pinch a child's toes.

Reid-Henry Rites

The wedding took place Saturday in Brockville at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Henry, of Marion Evelyn Henry and George Eldon Reid of Grand Falls, Newfoundland, who is son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Reid of Ottawa. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. F. J. Armitage with the music by Mr. D. W. Kincaid of Streetsville. Pink and white gladioli decorated the house.

The bride chose a ballerina gown of white nylon marquisette and Chantilly lace over taffeta, featuring a stand-up collar and vee neckline and she wore a small matching lace hat and carried a cascade of pink roses and swansonia. Maid of honor was her twin sister Miss Mildred Henry, who wore nile green nylon marquisette over taffeta with embroidered flowers on bodice and skirt. Her headdress was a small lace hat and her flowers a cascade of mixed sweet peas. Miss Alberta Henry was bridesmaid, wearing orchid marquisette and matching lace hat and also carrying sweet peas.

Mr. Robert A. Reid of Peterborough was his brother's groomsman.

A reception followed with mothers of the bride and groom receiving. Mrs. Reid wore an afternoon dress of powder blue crepe, black picture hat and accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Henry was in a printed silk dress and also wore a black picture hat and accessories and corsage of red roses.

The bridal couple will visit Toronto, Niagara Falls, and Wakefield, Que., on their honeymoon, travelling by plane, leaving for Grand Falls, Newfoundland, September 1st, where the groom will resume his work as mechanical engineer for the Anglo Newfoundland Development Co. The bride has been on the staff of the Iroquois Falls Public School for the past four years.

Novel Ideas Lend Interest

Every hostess welcomes a novel idea to lend interest to home entertaining . . . particularly in the cooking field. There's a great deal of satisfaction not only in cooking well, but also in presenting it as attractively as possible.

Just such an idea is a Butterfly Cake . . . so easy to make and such fun you'll enjoy every minute you spend on it.

BUTTERFLY CAKE

Empty contents of a package of chocolate cake mix into bowl; fluff with fork. Measure out 8 oz. water (one complete cup). Add half the water (4 oz.). Mix until free from lumps. Add remainder of water (4 oz.) slowly, mixing smooth after each addition. Batter will be thin. Pour into two 9" layer cake tins lined with waxed paper. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30-35 minutes. Cool 5 minutes before removing from pan. Frost lower layer when cold with Lemon Butter Frosting, top with second layer, then cut in half. Move the left half over to the right with the centre of the round edges of the cake touching, forming your butterfly. Cover with Lemon Butter Frosting and decorate.

LEMON BUTTER FROSTING

½ cup butter
3 cups confectioners' sugar, sifted
2 tablespoons cream
1 teaspoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind

Cream butter. [illegible] the sifted confectioners' sugar. Blend in milk. Add lemon juice and lemon rind and cream until mixture is smooth and the right consistency for spreading. Frost cake as instructed.

CHEESE-BEANBURGERS ON BUNS

1 15-oz. can or 2 cups baked beans, drained and chopped
2 tablespoons minced onion
4 tablespoons chopped sour pickle
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper
6 round buns
Mayonaise
6 Canadian cheese slices

Combine the beans, onion, pickle and Worcestershire sauce. Add salt and pepper to taste. Split each bun and spread the top half with mayonnaise. Place a mound of the bean mixture on each bottom half of the buns and top with a slice of cheese. Place all halves under a moderate broiler until the cheese is melted and the top halves are lightly browned.

Girls Operate Linotypes On Many Papers

TORONTO (CP)—Women linotype operators are busy in newspaper composing rooms in many parts of Canada, and the fact was stressed after a recent story from Calgary said pretty Colleen Bowd there was "one of only three" women in Canada holding union cards.

Composing rooms in many areas promptly drew attention to the girls—young and not-so-young—who have been operating linotypes in their cities.

In Nova Scotia the New Glasgow News lays claim to one of Canada's first woman operators, Priscilla Robson. She has run a linotype for 50 years.

In New Brunswick the Fredericton Gleaner boasts two girl linotype operators.

ONTARIO VETERAN

The Niagara Falls, Ont. Review has two women operators, one with 37 years' experience. The latter is Marie Jennings Mudge, who began working for the McBride Press in her native Brantford when she was 14. She joined the composing-room staff at The Review 30 years ago. Mrs. Kay Worth of Timmins joined the paper this month as its second feminine operator.

Other women linotype operators are working in composing rooms all across the country.

W. H. Lucas, secretary-treasurer of the Toronto local of the International Typographical Union (A.F.L.) said his local, the largest in Canada, has "seven or eight" women holding membership cards. Figuring on this basis, he estimated there were 20 or 25 throughout Canada. And others, of course, who don't belong to the I.T.U.

"Frequently small weekly papers will have girls working in the office and also learning the linotype," said Lucas.

From Calgary came an explanation of the reference to Colleen as one of only a small group. A shop superintendent there said what he meant was that Calgary's Colleen was one of only three girl operators of who he knew personally.

DOROTHY DIX

Divorcee Courts Trouble In This Office Romance

DEAR MISS DIX: When my husband left me, almost four years ago, I was 21 and thought I could never love again. I was 16 when we were married; he was 18. After four years, during which he served in the army, he went to work in another city, from which he wrote asking for a divorce. For four years I refused him, supporting myself and two children in the meantime. I prayed he would realize his mistake and come back, but finally, last month, I signed the last paper setting him free. My heart was broken and I was sure I would never know happiness again.

Now I have had a new job for three months, and see a certain man every day. I have become so fond of him that, even though I am against divorce and second marriage, I am sure if he asked me to marry him I couldn't refuse. He hasn't asked me to go out with him but I know he likes me. We have talked very little about ourselves but he knows my situation, and about the children. I haven't even thought of my husband in two months, but find myself waiting for every glimpse of this man. Could there be any hope for a future with him?

B. N.

✣ ✣ ✣

ANSWER: While there is little help that I can give you—or that you would accept—my chief purpose in publishing your letter is to prove that broken hearts can heal. Perhaps not always with the rapidity with which yours was mended, but a bright future looms ahead in almost any disaster.

HE MAY BE MARRIED

You are, to be perfectly blunt, making a fool of yourself over this business acquaintance. Your letter very clearly leaves open the possibility that he may be married—a fact you apparently have neglected to ascertain. His actions toward you are typical of the usual office philanderer. A few stolen kisses, mutual flattery and declarations of pseudo-affection can lighten the monotony of a day's work, and I greatly fear that that is all you mean to your Lothario.

Your life has not been too well ordered since your much-too-early marriage, but you are now 25, and should be experienced enough to separate the real from the spurious. With one disastrous marriage behind you, don't make the horrible mistake of taking on another one.

Your moral objections to second marriage are a matter between you and your conscience. If you need assistance along this line, see your minister. Apparently, however, the qualms are ready to be smothered by the first propositioning male who comes along.

Exercise a little more discretion in your choice of friends; if necessary, take another job to get away from the bad influence under which you are now moving. I am quite convinced that the man in the case is not honorably inclined. Any attentions you accept from him will lead to more trouble than you have already had.

✣ ✣ ✣

DEAR MISS DIX: A year ago I married, after breaking an engagement to another man because I fell in love with my husband. I am now 21, he is 27. My husband was wonderful when I went with him, but now all he does is stay home and save money. I keep thinking of the other man and wish I had married him.

ANSWER: Not an uncommon situation for one who made a sudden switch from one man to another. Give your marriage a fair chance; one year is too short a time and you are too easily dissatisfied. You apparently married quickly, with little realization of the responsibilities you would incur. Think about them now and ask yourself if you are doing a thorough job of being a good wife.

DEARR MISS DIX: I have been going with a boy since Christmas and, though we have occasional quarrels, we get along pretty well on the whole. He says he is going to change some of my ways as he doesn't approve of them. I'm 16, he is three years older. Should I do as he says, or give him up?

PENNY G.

✣ ✣ ✣

ANSWER: Since your friend is so much older than you, his ideas of change may be an improvement. It is up to you to decide whether he is sincerely trying to correct faults in you, or whether he just wants to change you in accordance with his own preferences. A little help from an older person who knows you both would be in order.

Some Tips On Purchase, Cook Corn

Why I should sit here and run on about ways of serving corn when the simplest and fastest way is the best, I don't know.

We get into such a vicious habit of working over beautiful food when all we need to do is serve it as nature gives it to us, that we ruin our digestions, dispositions and household allowances.

CORN BUYING TIPS

Marianne and Pete did the marketing this morning and both of them are so fond of corn they wanted to know exactly how to buy it. I was surprised to see them both snap to attention when I described how a freshly gathered ear of corn would look.

To select corn that has been newly gathered, look for shiny unwilted inner silktassel. Inspect bottom of ear to see that breaking point is not brown. If you have the opportunity of looking at the cob, kernels should be medium small and shiny, but not dark yellow, even if it is golden bantam. The old-fashioned test of milk spurting from the kernel when pressed with thumb nail still holds good—but we seldom get a chance to try it.

CORN COOKING TIPS

Do not husk corn until it is time to cook it. Have water boiling in kettle and plunge corn in. Do not add salt. It requires from 4 to 6 minutes of cooking at boiling point to "set" the milk in the corn kernel. Longer cooking only toughens it. Immediately remove from water and serve in covered dish. If corn is served in a silver entree dish it will tarnish the silver—so use a porcelain vegetable dish.

SUMMER SUCCOTASH CASSEROLE

This is ideal for a main dish for lunch or supper where you do not plan to serve meat as it is substantial and satisfying. If you serve this with the meat course for dinner you would not serve potatoes, of course.

Make a white sauce by melting 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, and stirring in 4 tablespoons flour, then 1½ cups milk until thick. Add ¼ cup grated old cheese—Parmesan is wonderful — and nearly 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ¼ cup cut-up canned pimiento. Keep hot over boiling water for about 5 minutes. Add 2 cups lima beans—these may be drained canned, or what is perfect fresh limas that have been cooked not more than 5 minutes; add also 2 cups fresh corn cut from cob (in winter use canned kernel corn drained); also add ½ cup finely chopped chives or small green onion tops and 2 tablespoons of finely chopped parsley. Have ready 2 cups fine fresh breadcrumbs and 3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine. Add the limas, corn, chive or onions and parsley to the sauce. Pour into well-buttered shallow baking dish. Sprinkle crumbs over top and drizzle the melted butter over these. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for about 30 minutes or until dish is bubbling and crumbs are golden.

BAKED STUFFED GREEN PEPPERS

A meat-stretcher.

Six large green peppers are washed, slice removed from top, and seeds and ribs removed. Cover with boiling water and simmer 3 minutes. Drain. Saute in 2 tablespoons butter or salad oil 1 or 2 cups leftover ground meat or raw ground beef and 4 tablespoons of minced onion for 5 minutes. Add to them 1½ teaspoons salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ½ teaspoon crumbled sage and 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce and 3 cups corn cut from cob, raw. Stuff peppers with this mixture. Top with 1 cup buttered crumbs. Arrange upright in baking dish. Add about ½ cup boiling water to bottom of dish, cover and bake 35 minutes at 375 deg. Fahr., removing cover during last 10 minutes. If desired, 1½ cups canned tomatoes may be added to mixture or same amount of canned mushroom soup—which makes them much softer but gives additional flavor, and increases the amount of stuffing.

What's Right?

When in a large group you see an acquaintance who has not noticed you.

WRONG: Wait for the acquaintance to notice you before saying "Hello."

RIGHT: If you want to be known as a friendly person, always take the trouble to walk up and say "Hello."

VARIED SERVICES

HERTFORD, England (CP)—The fire brigade's current report shows activities included: Sawing off a teacup handle to free a woman's finger; washing away an amateur scientist's mixture for silvering mirrors which kept exploding and knocking a razor out of a lunatic's hand with a jet of water.

Radio, TV Battling For Air Waves

NEW YORK (AP)—Television and radio are battling for the people's right to look and listen.

This fight was pointed up recently by the campaigns of the airwaves men to get their cameras and microphones into the hearing rooms of Congress, and into the hearings on the delegate contests at the national political conventions at Chicago.

Senator Pat McCarran, Nevada Democrat, sponsored a resolution to ban radio and TV at Senate committee hearings. And the Republican national committee prohibited TV and radio broadcast of the delegate contests.

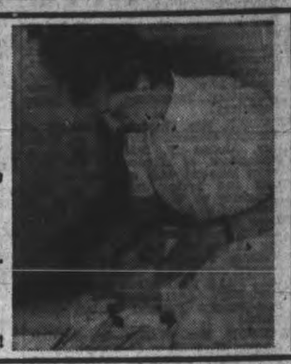
These actions received wide publicity, but there are similar campaigns on the state and local levels, too.

APARATUS CONFUSING?

One of the complaints against radio and TV coverage of governmental hearings is that they cause too much confusion in a mechanical way—lights, cameras, microphones.

But Jim Bormann, president of the National Association of Radio News Directors says: "We foresee the day when the microphone and the camera in a hearing chamber or in a courtroom will be no more c i n s p i c u o u s than the judge's thumb."

Senator McCarran expressed concern that civil rights of witnesses might be jeopardized by radio or TV coverage.



Mr. Bormann replies: "As I see it, the best approach to the problem would be along these lines: Establish safeguards for the rights of persons appearing before the committee. . .and at the same time safeguard the rights of the people to know more rather than less about what their government is doing—in committee or elsewhere."

Broadcasters can point to a court decision in New Jersey where Superior Court Judge C. Thomas Schettino backed up with a court order the contention of a radio station that constituional guarantees of freedom of the press also apply to radio.

What really happens when the kids go back?

What about transportation?

How about health measures?

FALL brings a thousand questions that must be answered.

Will the kids be all right? What about new teachers? Traffic conditions around the school? Lunches? Transportation? School Board rulings? Health precautions?

To find the answers you turn to your newspaper—naturally! Because the newspaper has the kind of information you're looking for. Facts about everything! Facts about schools . . . the Province . . . Peterborough . . . the world. Facts about features, fun, and back-to-school bargains in the stores downtown.

Facts you can carry in your pocket—to read whenever you choose . . . wherever you choose. All the facts—so that you can read as much as you choose.

That's why nearly everybody reads the newspaper nearly every day.

That's why so many people who sell advertised products insist that they be advertised in newspapers.

Because in newspapers an advertising message has a chance to reach all people who can buy. Not just sports fans or quiz fans or music fans or comedy fans . . . but everybody.

That's why all advertisers — both "national" and retail — invest more money in newspapers than in any other form of advertising.

The newspaper is first with the most news . . . first with most people . . . first with most advertisers.

—to read whenever you choose . . .

The newspaper is always "first with the most"

Council Grants Reeve Three Months' Leave

LAKEFIELD (ENS) — Reeve E. H. Northey will be granted three month's leave of absence, dating from July 14, it was decided at the August meeting of the Lakefield Village Council. This was made necessary owing to the illness of Mr. Northey. Kenneth R. Morris presided for the meeting, with Councillors J. L. Fraser and J. R. Hull present.

A letter of complaint from a resident about the nuisance caused by smoke from the Lakefield Creamery was received and the Clerk, Harry T. Hill, was instructed to write George Graham, owner of the creamery, requesting that he rectify this condition as soon as possible.

Kenneth R. Jakins wrote the council drawing to their attention the condition of the driveway entrance to his lot, and the matter was placed on file for future reference.

Councillor Morris was directed to sign the application for subsidy for 1952 as under the Fire Departments Act, and Fire Chief, Allen H. Clark, will be the recipient of a new coat.

The matter of revaluing the lots in the village park was again discussed and the clerk was asked to write letters to Gordon Hancock and Adam Sands asking them to set a date to meet the council re — instructions as to the valuing of these lots.

Accounts totalling $4,342.32, of which the sum of $2,500 to the Lakefield Public School Board, on 1952 rates was the highest item, were authorized for payment.

Doctor For 44 Years, Cancels All Debts

LESSBURG, Fla. (NEA). — When old Doc Morrison stepped up on the make-shift rostrum at the ball park, shielded his eyes from the sun and began to talk in that familiar, soft-spoken manner of his, few folks expected any surprises.

It had been a big day in Leesburg. The townspeople had finally honored the 72-year-old physician for his 44 years of service and they'd really done it up brown.

The band had played, the quartette had sung, there'd been a scrumptious lunch-box dinner down by the lakebed, the mayor had made one of his finest speeches and the presents showered on the guest of honor had been magnificent.

So when Doc—Dr. H. K. Morrison to strangers—arose to make his "thank you" talk, most people expected nothing more than the usual brief acknowledgements. They weren't prepared for his topper.

• • •

It came almost casually, as though the announcement were of no particular importance at all.

"As of this date," he said, "I cancel all indebtedness that may be owed me. We'll start all over again, all of us together, for another 44 years."

At first there was silence. The meaning hadn't sunk in yet. But when it did, the applause rolled in like thunder.

Such unselfishness had been characteristic of Doc since he first came to Leesburg back in the horse and buggy days—a tall, slim, handsome youth whose bedside manner was a bit uncertain but seemed to please the ladies mightily. He specialized in obstetrics, a word he usually had to explain.

Doc never did get rich; he was always too lenient in giving out credit. And even though the newer doctors sometimes kick about it, he still refuses to advance his prices — $1.50 for an office call and $2 for a home visit —from the level they were many years ago.

DR. MORRISON

In his years of practice, Doc brought into the world at least 3,000 of Leesburg's citizens. Several hundred of them were on hand for the celebration, all sporting buttons proclaiming them "Doc Morrison's Children." Seeing them altogether, he says, made him feel "just like St. Peter might."

The idea to honor Doc was a spontaneous one. The years had slipped by and no one counted. Then everyone suddenly realized that Doc was white-haired now and it was time that the town honor him for his efforts.

When plans for the affair were made, the object was to keep it a secret. Doc soon found out, though, and tried to make the leaders promise that there'd be no gift giving.

But his wish was disregarded. After he'd been paraded around the ball park in an old horse and buggy, Doc was called front and centre to receive a treasure chest of presents.

One was a television set —to "keep him home nights with the missus." Another was an expense-paid trip to his class re-union at the University of Michigan—the first vacation anyone could ever remember him taking.

It just wouldn't have been Doc's way to take all this without giving something in return, so he got up and unleashed his surprise—an idea he'd mulled over and kept secret for weeks.

In two quiet sentences he supplied a fitting climax to the celebration by wiping out the debts of a lifetime.

It was indeed his day.

U.S. Justice Department Names Paul Martin's Sister In Visa Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department today named a sister of Canada's minister of public health and welfare as among those involved in its investigation of alleged immigration visa frauds. She is Mrs. Aline Steigerwald of Windsor.

In a statement, the Department said she is reputed to have acted as an advisor to Canadians seeking border crossing papers.

Her Brother, the Department said is Health Minister Paul Martin.

The Justice Department is looking into the status of some 100 Canadians who have immigrated to the Detroit area.

Attorney-general McGranery said 10 days ago that inquiry has established that many obtained visas to enter the United States by misrepresenting their financial situation to the American consul at Windsor.

The statement making reference to Mrs. Steigerwald announced the arrest of Lawrence E. MacKinnon of Windsor, who it said has been commuting daily to his work in Detroit. He was charged with entering the country on a visa obtained through fraud.

This was the second formal arrest in the case.

The first was made last week when Everett E. Glassco, a Canadian, was picked up in Detroit and ordered deported.

At his hearing, the department said, Roy H. McBride, branch manager of the Pronvicial Bank of Canada at Windsor, admitted issuing false information as to the amount of money which Glassco had on deposit.

EVIDENCE SIMILAR

The department said the hearing also implicated Mrs. Marguerite M. Prest of Windsor, described as a visa-adviser who had referred clients to McBride.

The Department statement said: "The evidence in the MacKinnon case is similar to that in the Glassco case, but also involves Mrs. Aline Steigerwald, also known as Mrs. N. Wald, of Windsor. She is a sister of Mr. Paul Martin, Minister of Public Health and Welfare in Canada."

In response to an inquiry concerning Mrs. Steigerwald's alleged involvement, the Department said: "Her activities were similar to those of Mrs. Prest."

A deportation hearing for MacKinnon was set for next Monday before immigration hearing officer A.W. Lombardini at Detroit.

No Fireworks At C.A.H.A.-N.H.L. Meeting

By JACK SULLIVAN

TORONTO (CP)—Officials of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and the National Hockey League met for three hours behind closed doors yesterday and probably for the first time in history "nothing" happened. There wasn't a ripple of dissension.

At least that's the way waiting newspaper men got it after the session that brought officials from as far west as New Westminster and as far east at Montreal. It apparently was one of those "let's-all-be-pals" meetings.

They talked of various matters—the N.H.L.-C.A.H.A. agreement, sponsorship of amateur teams by the pro clubs, rules, money and suspensions. The results: "Why, nothing," chorused officials.

C FORM STANDS

"How about the C form?" a reporter asked, recalling that delegates to the C.A.H.A. annual meeting at Minaki, Ont., last June instructed its negotiating committee to do something about this document.

"Why, nothing," officials said. "Our agreement remains as it is."

At Minaki, C.A.H.A. delegates from across Canada were critical of this phase of the agreement and demanded a showdown with the pros.

Apparently C.A.H.A. officials across the country didn't submit evidence of C-form infractions by the pro clubs to its negotiating committee.

And sponsorship? "Why, nothing," officials said. Again, it was recalled that at Minaki the full executive of the C.A.H.A. voted 12-8 in favor of a motion declaring that the C.A.H.A. is in favor of asking the pro leagues to abolish sponsorship of teams. Each N.H.L. club and its affiliated team in the minor pro circuits is allowed to sponsor two junior "A" teams.

TRANSFER BAN STANDS

"And what was decided about the C.A.H.A. ban on west-to-east transfer of junior players?" a reporter asked. "The matter wasn't even brought up," officials said.

This subject was supposed to have been a ticklish one with the pros who won't be allowed to transfer players from their sponsored clubs in Western Canada to the east for the next two seasons. The C.A.H.A. made this move at Minaki to allow western teams to build up its Memorial Cup contenders to the once-mighty position they held years ago in east-west play.

Rubber Talks Being Continued

CINCINNATI (AP)—Representatives of the B.F. Goodrich Company and striking United Rubber Workers (C.I.I.) meet here again today in hopes of settling the union's two-day walkout.

Some 18,000 rubber workers struck nine company plants at midnight Sunday following 10 weeks of wage and contract talks.

Both sides have been negotiating since expiration of the union contract July 15.

Goodrich operates two plants in Ohio—a tire plant at Akron and an industrial rubber plant at Marion.

Last night, L.S. Buckmaster, president of the Rubberworkers Union said "a large number of basic contract issues" remain to be settled.

Hamilton Youth In Training As 1st Canadian Matador

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico (CP)—A Canadian youth, who likes bullfighting for the same reason "that other men like to climb high mountains, is saving his pesos here so he can become Canada's first matador.

John Gilbert Freeman, 22-year-old native of Hamilton, Ont., already has fought his first bull and has come off second best—with a broken arm.

But as Freeman puts it, "a little worm" that carries the bullfight fever has bitten him and he can't get it out of his system. He is working as a tourist guide in Chihuahua and training at a nearby hacienda for his first "big afternoon."

Freeman remains a Canadian citizen, although he was taken as a child to Lima, Peru, where he lived most of his life. Two years ago he returned to Canada to maintain his Canadian citizenship and work for a few months in Vancouver.

He figures that $70 a month for a year would enable him to complete his training but his trouble is in having to work and train at the same time. There were days after he left Vancouver when he went without meals.

Freeman's eventual aim is to go to Spain "where you have to be good in every wooden plaza."

STAND STILL

"You watch the bulls and the bullfighters and then you try it yourself," he says of his first experience in the ring. "The main thing is to stand still while you're training. You learn all the good stuff from the bulls and yourself while you're standing there."

The Canadian looks on bullfighting as an art, not a sport.

"It is the only art in which the artist deals actual death and risks actual death. It is as if a poet were called upon to scan his lines with his life. It is the contemplation of this visible violence and actual death that gives the art its peculiar power."

Freeman's ambition has a peculiar twist. He wants to become "an altruistic bullfighter."

"It is criminal to throw away the money we make in the plazas at the risk of our lives," he says. "That's the reason that I'll be the first bullfighter in the world who will give 50 per cent from all my fights to charity and altruistic purposes."

Historic Site Lost In Building Of New Houses

WINNIPEG (CP)—An historic site here has lost out in the scramble for desirable building lots.

Seven Oaks Creek in suburban West Kildonan—scene of the only battle in Winnipeg's history—has been filled in and new homes are being built where Governor Semple was slain with 20 of his men June 19, 1816.

A simple monument stands on the bank of the creek in their honor.

The battle climaxed four years of bitter feuding between North-West Company fur traders and colonists sent out by Lord Selkirk in 1812. Governor Semple and his men were killed when they left old Fort Douglas to investigate a party of Metis Indians in the district.

Two years later a settler named John Inkster arrived and his log cabin still stands. It and the surrounding four acres have been deeded to the city as a memorial of the era.

Unable To Speak English 3 Years Ago—Gets 9 Firsts

TORONTO (CP)—Three students from displaced persons camps in Europe, unable to speak English three years ago, compiled fine records in upper-school examinations here.

Taisa Turkevich, 17, was born in Poland and left there four years ago, living in a displaced persons camp in Austria before coming to Canada. She could speak French, Polish, Ukrainian, Russian and German, but had to start learning English in an Edmonton public school, later studying higher grades.

NINE "FIRSTS"

After moving to Toronto Taisa went straight into grade 13 and she gained nine firsts in the nine departmental subjects she took in June. She plans to enter a chemistry course at the University of Toronto.

Maija Svanks, 18, was born in Latvia and with her family went to Germany when the Russians moved in. After five years in Germany she came to Toronto from a displaced persons camp in Oldenburg. By learning 100 words every day for a week, Maija taught herself basic English and went on from there.

The third student is George Anysas, 18, who also came from a displaced persons camp in Germany and started studying English three years ago. Like Taisa, he gained nine firsts. He would like to become an engineer.

More Knowledge Will Help Man In New Lands

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Better knowledge of man's ability to make himself at home wherever he may migrate may help the peace of the world, delegates to the seventeenth International Geographical Congress were told here today.

The speaker was Shunji Wada, professor of geography at Shiga National University, Hikone, Japan. He is author of books and scientific treatise on the theory of acclimatization.

KNOWLEDGE FOR MIGRANTS

Mr. Wada's implication was that scientific knowledge of human reaction to climate could give men bent upon migrating certain rules for adapting themselves to a new environment. Further, they would realize there were places to which they could not go without risk of degeneration.

The Japanese geographer took issue with scientists who define "acclimatizability" narrowly as ability to become inured to unaccustomed temperatures and atmospheric conditions. More valuable than this purely biological definition, he said, is one recognizing that such things as culture, social customs, differences in races and generation are also factors.

On the latter score, he noted that the migrants themselves get used to new conditions by adaptation, whereas their descendants do so by variation. Since effects of the new climate are strong upon those who did the actual travelling, Mr. Wada recommended that generation as the most fruitful subjects for study.

CHILDREN SHOULD BE STUDIED

At the same time, he went on, the scientist should observe their children for two reasons, first to determine if there is any marked drop in the birth rate—sure sign of ill-advised resettlement — and secondly, to determine any changes that have taken place in the offspring. Study beyond the third generation, he said, is rarely profitable.

"According to one theory," he remarked, "the destinies of emigrant families are always decided in the third generation."

Mr. Wada reported that scientific study of climate as it affects migrants was initiated by the French while they extended their colonial possessions. The subject was of special interest following the First World War, when an expanding European population sought new dwelling places in distant lands.

Shipyard Strike Begins At Vickers Plant

MONTREAL (CP) — Shipyard workers at Canadian Vickers went on strike today.

The strike was called following a breakdown in a wage dispute between the company and the 2,900 workers, members of the National Metal Trade Workers Union (C.C.L.).

Picket lines were set up outside the plant and police were on hand to watch for any disturbance. One worker who attempted to enter the plant was reported turned back by the pickets.

The union demanded a wage increase of 25 cents an hour. The majority report of an arbitration board recommended seven cents and the minority report 20 cents.

The company offered to settle the dispute on the basis of the majority report.

MADE EFFORT

Cyprien Miron, chief conciliator of the Quebec department of labor made efforts yesterday to bring about an agreement and prevent the strike.

An estimated 2,500 workers of Davie Shipbuilding Company and George T. Davie and Sons, Ltd., at Lauzon, Que., are already on walked out Friday night.

It was reported yesterday that the union had set a 6 p.m. deadline for the workers at the Vickers yards to walk out, but employees on the night shift reported for work as usual last night.

The strike will interrupt work on nine ships, six of them warships.

Manslaughter Charge Laid Against Driver

BRANTFORD (CP) — A manslaughter charge was laid yesterday against William Molson, Cainsville driver of a truck involved in a double fatality Saurday night east of Cainsville.

Molson was reported to be making a left turn to leave the highway when an Ohio car crashed into the truck.

Killed were Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Wagner, Clayton, Ohio. Their four children were injured and taken to hospital.

Visa Conviction Ordered Leave

DETROIT (AP)—Everett E. Glassco, 25, a Canadian employed in a factory here, was convicted yesterday of getting his visa through fraud. He was ordered deported.

In an extraordinary procedure, however, U.S. immigration officers immediately instituted an appeal in behalf of Glassco.

James S. Butterfield, district immigration director, said there is no technical precedent for deportation in this instance.

Butterfield indicated his office did not wish to proceed with cases against 99 other Canadians, similarly accused, until the Glassco case is finally determined.

Immigration officers have been investigating a suspected visa racket. The Glassco case grew out of the inquiry.

Osteopaths Meet

WINNIPEG (CP) — Delegates from Canada and the United States met here yesterday for the eighth annual convention of the Canadian Osteopathic Association. President Dr. Walter Kurth of Winnipeg presided over the opening sessions. President-elect is Dr. Norman W. Routledge, Chatham, Ont.

Terrorist Outbreak Dies Out At Sarawak

SINGAPORE (Reuters)—The Sarawak government said today the terrorist outbreak in the British colony seems to have died out.

No further incidents had been reported in the colony — about 600 miles east of here in northwest Borneo — since an armed robbery last week at Muara Tuang.

Sarawak declared a state of emergency 10 days ago after a series of terrorist incidents. There were fears that the jungle war Britain has been waging against Communist terrorists in Malaya was spreading across the straits to Sarawak.

Kill More Terrorists

SINGAPORE (Reuters)—British forces killed more Communist terrorists in the first half of this month than at any other time in the four-year long Malayan campaign, preliminary figures showed today. The death count was 59. The record full month came last June when 110 guerrillas were slain.

Work Going On For 25 Years

Canada's History Carved In Stone

OTTAWA (CP)—William Oosterhoff, a genial 57-year-old Dutch immigrant, is making his mark in Canada. It's seen by thousands of persons every year.

He's in charge of the delicate job of carving scenes from Canadian history on the stone walls of the Parliament Buildings. He took over the task in 1950 when Cleophas Soucy died.

This summer the job is rolling along in high gear with day and night shifts in which Oosterhoff and three assistants ply hammer, chisel and pneumatic drill.

The project has been going on for 25 years while a permanent record of Canada's history and progress, of her great men and achievements, is worked into the limestone walls.

CARVE MUCH DETAIL

At this stage Oosterhoff and his men are working in the central rotunda at the base of the Peace Tower, where the crests of the 10 provinces and their capitals will form the central theme.

The assistants have been working on the Maritime provinces section. Oosterhoff himself is doing smaller plaques depicting events in Quebec history. He designs the figures and symbols to be cared, but does the more difficult carving, such as faces and hands, himself.

He came to Canada in 1925 and has carved such works as the Memorial Arch at Niagara Falls, the big coat-of-arms over Sunnybrook Hospital in Toronto and the crest of the Ontario Hydro Commission there.

Oosterhoff's carving career began when he was eight, using potatoes. From there it was only a matter of years until he was carving in wood, stone and metal.

CURIOSITY PAYS

Professional curiosity brought him the job in Ottawa. In 1949, he visited the Parliament Buildings and spent so much time peering at the carvings that guards became suspicious. He explained that he was a stone carver by profession and the guard obtained his telephone number and passed it along to Soucy who was then in charge of the carving.

Oosterhoff estimates it will take at least 20 years to complete the program.

Israel Reports Syria's Report

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel last night ordered its ambassador to the United Nations to protest to the Security Council that a reported statement by Syrian dictator Col. Adib Shishekly constituted a threat to peace.

Prime minister David Ben-Gurion told the Knesset (parliament) yesterday the Cairo newspaper Al Ahram quoted Shishekly as saying "the Middle East is not large enough for both Jews and Arabs."

The Israeli leader denounced the statement as a grave violation of the armistice agreements which ended the Palestine fighting. His government asked for an immediate meeting of the Israeli-Syrian mixed armistice commission.

Post Price Ceilings In U.S. Food Stores

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today stepped up plans to post dollars-and-cents food price ceilings on the walls of more than half of the 500,000 grocery stores in the United States by Oct. 1.

The Office of Price Stabilization said orders will go out shortly to its 54 district offices to get the pricing charts ready. Each poster is expected to show the ceilings for some 300 major items.

The action will mark a return to the uniform community pricing program used in the Second World War.

Great-Grandson of Chief Sitting Bull

Movie Actor, Opera Singer, Evangelist

REGINA (CP)—A great-grandson of Chief Sitting Bull of the Sioux tribe, who was a dancer in Broadway shows, a movie actor and a touring opera singer before becoming an evangelist, appeared on a musical program at a tabernacle here recently.

He is Big Chief White Feather Sitting Bull of the Pine Ridge reservation, South Dakota.

Born in Iowa, the son of Chief Jim Many Rains Sitting Bull, White Feather spent his early childhood attending reservation schools. He started his musical education at Dartmouth College and went to New York, Germany and Italy to continue his studies. He is fluent in five languages.

He toured in grand opera and returned to New York to play Broadway. White Feather later went to Hollywood where he appeared in a number of silent pictures and some talkies.

On becoming a Christian, he left the entertainment world and went back to college. He now holds a bachelor's degree in arts, a master's in music and a doctorate in theology.

Since 1940 he has travelled between Cuba and Canada, ministering mostly to Indians. White Feather became chief in his own right in 1935 on the death of his father. On his death the tribe will give up the ancient tradition of chiefs.

"We are full citizens now," said White Feather. "There's no further need of a chief in our tribes."

Navy Board Inquiry In Shooting At Tug

TOKYO (AP)—A United States Navy minesweeper and salvage tug arrived last night for a formal investigation of an incident off Korea in which the minesweeper fired twice on the tug, killing two and injuring nine.

A Navy officer said the accidental shooting resulted from failure to exchange recognition signals between the minesweeper Chief and the tug Grapple.

In Washington, the Navy said a Navy board will investigate. The Navy said two three-inch shells from the Chief hit the Grapple last Friday night when the vessels were searching for small Communist ships off Hungham on Korea's northeast coast.

Britain Reported Ready For Iran Oil Conference

LONDON (AP) — Britain has decided tentatively to accept Iranian Premier Mossadegh's offer to negotiate an oil settlement—but not on the restricted terms he suggested.

Informed officials said Monday a British note has been drafted suggesting the two countries should get together to talk the whole thing over on a much broader basis than that put forward by Mossadegh.

A British offer of a down payment in cash to settle long disputed royalties—running into millions of dollars—may be made on behalf of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co., whose properties were seized by the Mossadegh government, if and when a settlement is reached. The idea clearly is to help Mossadegh's government meet some of its pressing financial commitments.

Britain is expected to outline ideas on payment of compensation for the nationalized property.

The huge installations have been valued by Britain at nearly $500,000,000.

EARLIER OFFER

Iran offered two weeks ago to talk directly with the government-controlled A.I.O.C. on its "just claims" for compensation—but on the basis of the 1951 nationalization laws.

Britain has rejected those laws because she considered them to be confiscation without compensation.

Mossadegh demanded too something like $50,000,000 in royalties which piled up under a 1949 agreement and have been held up by the A.I.O.C.

Meanwhile, in Iran, Mossadegh sent orders commanding provincial officials to begin immediately to implement his agricultural reform decrees or look for new jobs.

In a special communique, the Premier said he wants to see the organization of village councils within the next 15 days to set into operation decrees by which the peasants will get a bigger cut of the profits from the land on which they work.

The program calls for the landlords to turn over 10 per cent of the profits to the peasants and another 10 per cent to rural banks which are to be set up to give long term aid to the landless and poverty stricken farm workers.

Peace Offensive Being Predicted

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—The Central Daily News, Chinese Nationalist government newspaper, today predicted "the Peiping-Moscow axis will launch an unprecedented large-scale peace offensive for Korea" after the Chinese-Russian conference in Moscow.

The newspaper said editorially the campaign would have as its aim "paralyzing (western) alertness and slowing down the necessary preparedness effort of the free world."

Chung Hua Jih Poa, newspaper of the Kuomintang, Nationalist political party, commented that Chou En-lai's visti to Moscow "is a Communist demonstration to the western world aimed at dividing the free world . . . during the Korean truce talks and before the seventh U. N. Assembly. They (Communists) might also be planning a new and more ruthless aggression after a Korean truce is reached."

Hog In House Would Make Pet

WINNIPEG (CP) — Professor R. A. Wardle of the University of Manitoba says a hog in the house would make a useful pet.

The zoology department chairman told a veterinary association meeting that the hog, for one thing, would dispose of "those lawn grass clippings you dump secretly at night on someone else's lot." He added:

The hog is undoubtedly intelligent and I imagine he could easily be house-trained. I see no reason why, in time, we should not have some quiet desirable varieties of pigs sitting on our doorsteps."

Israel Strengthens Her Army Arab Countries Stronger

By FRANCIS OFNER

TEL AVIV (OFNS) —A map of the Middle East hanging on the wall of the office of the Israeli Prime Minister, David Ben Gurion, was being shown this week to leading members of Israel's Parliament in an effort to win their support for an extension of regular military service in Israel from two to two-and-a-half years.

The map, comparing manpower in Israel and the surrounding Arab States, indicates that the proportion is one to forty in favour of the Arabs. This figure has the strongest impact on Israeli's decisions on long-term military, foreign, economic and immigration policies.

The proposed extension of the term of regular military service will be explained to Parliament next week by Mr. Ben Gurion, who is also Minister of Defence.

Despite anticipated opposition from the five Communists fifteen MAPAM (pro-Soviet Socialists) and some more moderate Members of the Parliament, the Government hopes it will succeed in convincing the majority of the total one hundred and twenty Deputies that "Israel needs to continue to counter-balance Arab numerical superiority by training higher quality soldiers".

According to Israel intelligence reports, the neighbouring Arab countries, if taken together, have doubled the numerical strength of their regular armies in the course of the last two years. The intensified training and enlarged military budgets of Egypt, Syria, Jordan and Iraq will even increase Arab strength further.

30 MONTHS SERVICE

Highly placed Israel military quarters say that according to their experience two-and-a-half years' service is needed "to improve the quality of fighting men of all arms, and also to help young new immigrants to learn the Hebrew language, local customs and civic duties—all tasks in which the Israel army plays a substantial role."

Despite the proposed extension of service, Israel's defence will continue to rely mainly on trained reserves. This conception is also unaffected by the proposed new amendment to release five classes of reservists from the colours from the ages of forty-five to forty-nine.

The extension of army service is to some extent is also made necessary by the mass immigration of Jews from backward countries. The high professional skills now required in all branches of a modern army demand longer and more intensive training. Although Army sources here decline to deal with the political aspects of the new proposal, there is little doubt that the Government's decision to slow down mass immigration (dropping this year to one-ninth of last year's figure) may have had some effect on the proposal to extend regular service. This, however, is not the central point, say the authorities here.

ESTABLISH SCHOOLS

The Israeli army makes special arrangements for soldiers and officers to prepare for matriculation and to take university tutorial courses. The chief of the general staff, Major-General Yigael Yadin, has even proposed the establishment of military secondary schools where students would get a normal secondary education but with the emphasis on military aspects. This is, however, opposed for the time being, by Israel's basically anti-militaristic public. Anticipating the need for officers with a higher education, the Israeli Army has also instituted "acamedic reserves" composed of students of the Hebrew University in Jerusalem and the Haifa Technical College. By now ninety-five per cent of university students have had military training.

For its own needs the Army retains a number of technicians, engineers, teachers, nurses, building workers and medical orderlies who, after completion of regular service, contribute these important skills to the civilian economy. In this immigrants' country, where many newcomers have to learn new professions, this point is also used by advocates of the extension of military service.

AFTER ROOF DRIES for two weeks, four hydraulic jacks begin to lift it off the ground and into position.

A 200-TON CONCRETE ROOF is poured right on top of the floor for a Cleveland, Ohio, industrial warehouse.

ROOF IN PLACE over a second floor laid and raised in the same way for a Toronto apartment house. Both roof and floor are held in place and supported by steel columns.

Lundigan Joins Bandwagon Changes Role

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Everybody's getting into the act! Now William Lundigan has abandoned his grey flannel suit for a Roman officer's skirt.

Bill joins a distinguished list of actors who have exposed their knees for the sake of art and box office. Others include Gregory Peck ("David and Bathsheba"), Victor Mature ("Samson and Delilah") and Robert Taylor ("Quo Vadis").

Lundigan also follows the trend cently. Like MacMurray, Bill has largely been identified with genteel, modern stories and now is having his first fling at sword play and adventure.

"In most of my pictures, I've been the pleasant young fellow from a nice Boston family," he laughed. "I'm generally holding the hand of the heroine."

Hand-holding is nice work but Bill has other ambitions. They are being realized in "Serpent of the Nile." He plays a Roman officer who romances Cleopatra, portrayed by Rhonda Fleming.

Capsulte review; "The Quiet Man" is a splendid comedy, full of warmth and wonderful color. The color is provided by the lush Irish countryside and the rich native characters. The story is slight and often slow-moving. Briefly, it's the tale of an Irish-American prizefighter who returns to his old home and woos his bride. He runs right into the Irish courting customs, and that provides bounteous laughter. Heading a rollicking cast are John Wayne, Maureen O'Hara and Barry Fitzgerald. Sole objection; many of the lines get lost in the brogue.

Concrete Roofs On Ground

A revolutionary building technique of laying concrete roofs on the ground and raising them into position, rather than erecting the building first and then putting on the roof, is cuting building costs from Toronto to Texas. As much as two weeks' construction time can be saved. These pictures show the main steps used to lay and raise the roof on a Cleveland, O., industrial warehouse and a Toronto apartment building. A concrete floor is poured. Then, with fibre glass plastic molds in between, the roof is poured right on top of it. After a two-week drying period, four hydraulic jacks are set up and builders literally "raise the roof." The new method, developed by the Institute of Inventive Research in San Antonio, Tex., cuts weight in half through the unique use of plastic molds. More than $500,000 is said to have been saved this way in constructing the Lockbourne Air Base dormitories in Columbus, O.

Tax Of $2,000 Evaded Accountant Says

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—An accountant yesterday told a provincial government commission investigating the affairs of the East Windsor Hospital he estimates that sales tax totalling $2,000 was evaded on goods sold to private individuals through hospital accounts.

H. A. Scarff of the Windsor firm of Brokenshire and Scarff, which has for some years audited the books of the 350-bed institution for incurables, was commenting on testimony given earlier before the commission by hospital Superintendent Dr. P. J. G. Morgan.

Dr. Morgan said goods purchased by the hospital were resold at cost to private individuals but that the sales tax involved wouldn't amount to $200 in the last 20 years.

TAX NOT PAID

Mr. Scarff said that from 1946 to 1951 sales of goods which would be positively traced through hospital accounts to private individuals totalled $27,494 and that he estimates that sales tax was not paid on goods of value $25,000.

At sales tax rates through the years concerned, he said, tax evaded would amount to $2,000.

The accountant contradicted another statement made to the commission by Dr. Morgan to the effect that, excluding staff members, only seven or eight persons made purchases through the hospital.

Mr. Scarff said he had compiled a list of 38 persons, not staff members, who made purchases through the hospital from 1946 to 1952.

KINGSTON (CP)—The six-week summer school session at Queen's University ended Saturday. It was attended by 600 students, most of whom were studying for bachelor of arts degrees.

In the group were school teacher clergymen, writers, professional and amateur painters, housewives, clerks, musicians and a lawyer. Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Michael Banyard of Kemptville spent their honeymoon on the campus.

Lawrence Wong came 10,000 miles from Kong Kong to attend.

Canal Traffic Higher In June

OTTAWA (CP)—Freight traffic through Canadian canals in June reached a high for the month of 4,127,184 tons, up eight per cent or 306,566 tons over June, 1951, the Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday. It compared with 3,760,666 tons for June, 1950.

Though the number of vessels locked through the canals was down slightly to 3,347 from 3,360, the net registered tonnage rose to 3,874,030 from 3,517,603. The number of passengers advanced from 5,807 to 7,521.

The bureau said the cargo tonnage increase was due mainly to greater activity on the Welland ship canal. Freight tonnage there in June was 2,381,132 tons, an advance of 378,614 tons or 18.9 per cent over the corresponding month a year earlier, and established a high for the month.

Pang Says 5 Million Hidden In Safe Place

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A Chinese general said yesterday that $5,000,000 in his care is "in a safe place ready to be returned to the Chinese people."

Gen. Pang Tsu mow said he would not return the money "to the Formosa gang headed by Chiang Kai-shek." The Chinese Nationalist government accused him of making off with the money, part of the funds sent him to buy arms in the United States. He is being held in the penitentiary for extradition.

Mow's blonde U.S. secretary, Agnes Kelley, said she will remain in Mexico until the charges against the General are settled.

Two Children Arrive Unwanted

DETROIT (CP)—Zona Mae Longie, 11, and her four-year-old brother, Francis, left Fargo, N.D., by train Friday for Detroit.

They had the assurance that Mrs. Charles Shannon, their mother who left them two years ago in a North Dakota children's home, had remarried and wanted to take care of them again.

But their mother, who sent $50 to pay for their journey, was not on hand to meet them.

Children's Aid officials said the children will have to make another 1,200-mile journey back to North Dakota if she does not appear.

Great Strength Save Man's Life

RENFREW (CP)—Paul Yolkouskie's herculean strength saved another man's life here Saturday night.

Hearing a crash, he rushed outside to see an overturned car with a pair of legs sticking out from beneath the crumpled roof. He grabbed the car and heaved with all his might, held it up and looked around for help.

Finally a car stopped and its two occupants held the car up while Yolkouskie pulled Julian Deslaurier, 26-year-old Korean veteran, from beneath the wreck.

Deslaurier, a neighbor of Yolkouskie's, will be out of hospital in a few days.

Said an acquaintance of Yolkouskie: "He's the only man who could have done it. I guess Paul could lift a ton."

400-Mile Cycling Trip Undertaken By Nine

TORONTO (CP)—A 400-mile cycling trip into Northern Ontario began yesterday when nine young Canadians and Americans set out on the first stage of their holiday.

The cyclists are members of the youth Hostel Association.

Day Of Integration For Lumber Business

MONTREAL (CP)—Dr. Lincoln R. Theismeyer, president of the Pulp and Paper Research Institute of Canada, said yesterday the day of integration has arrived in this country's vast wood industry.

Lumber operators are going into the pulp business and pulpwood operators are going into lumber, he told the opening session of the sixth British Commonwealth Forestry Conference.

The rush toward integration in utilization of forests, he said, is driven by economic conditions, by defence considerations and by legislation to eliminate waste and pollution. Those who didn't follow the leaders "will soon be left behind, unable to compete for the expanding world markets."

33 Soldiers Home After Year In Europe

MONTREAL (CP)—Thirty-three officers and men of Canada's 27th Brigade stationed with N.A.T.O. forces in Germany arrived here today aboard the Greek liner Columbia after more than a year on the Continent.

The group—the first of the 27th Brigade to be returned to Canada—were returned for rotation leave, on medical grounds or for new postings. They are from all parts of Canada.

Whiskey Export

GLASGOW (CP)—The Scotch whisky industry is regaining trade lost during the Second World War, the Glasgow Herald reports. Stocks have been increasing for three or four years and last year's exports were 1,000,000 more than the export target. Canada bought about 20,000 gallons less than in 1950.

65 Additional Items Placed In Cost-of-Living Index

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—A rising Canadian standard of living, now the second-highest in the world is giving federal statisticians plenty of work. The new consumer price index is an example.

When it's finally completed and brought into use this fall, it will contain 65 more items than the old cost-of-living index which is to disappear completely early next year. The new index will cover 225 items.

Bureau of Statistics men who have been working on the new retail price barometer say the expansion in the number of items covered is both a general reflection of Canada's higher living standards and the bureau's drive for a more comprehensive prices gauge.

FUEL OIL ADDED

Fuel oil for heating is just one of the many new items to be included in the batch of goods for monthly survey on price changes. Liquor is another. Home ownership is a third, for Canadians are more and more buying their own homes instead of paying rent.

There will be an expanded list of fresh fruits and vegetables, children's clothing items and even prepaid hospital plans. There will be greater coverage of recreation. Although the cost of night-clubbing will not be included, the new item on liquor will be an indication of current spending habits.

All in all, however, bureau men find that today's buying habits are not much change from pre-war days. Higher living standards mean greater consumption of food, better home furnishings and less drudgery, but housewives for the most part are shopping at the same stores and investing heavily in the usual standard items.

FAMILIES SURVEYED

The expansion in the number of items covered by the new index resulted from a wide survey conducted by the bureau in 1948-49. Families located in 27 cities, each with more than 30,000 population, were questioned. These families ranged in size from two adults to parents with four children, and with annual incomes ranging from $1,650 to $4,050.

Changes in the way the family dollar was spent went into calculating how the new index would be constructed. As a result, the new index will show that the average family is spending 32 cents of its dollar for food, up from 31 cents in the current cost-of-living index.

About 11 cents of the spending dollar goes for clothing, down from 12 cents in the old gauge; 15 cents for shelter, down from 19 cents; 17 cents for household operation, such as fuel and light and home-furnishings, up from 15; and 25 cents for miscellaneous items such as transportation and recreation, up from 23.

Passive Resisters Causing Malan To Reinforce Police

By JOHN WORRALL

CAPE TOWN — (OFNS) — Strong police reinforcements have been drafted into the South African cities of Port Elizabeth and East London where a big drive against the African native passive resistance movement is expected to be launched at any moment.

There has been intense police activity in Johannesburg, where eleven of the movement's leaders have been arrested on charges under the Suppression of Communism Act.

The importance which the Government attaches to the rapid growth of this movement is shown by the presence in the Eastern Cape of Major-General J. A. Brink, the Union's Commissioner of Police.

Some 2,040 men and women, hundreds of whom are in prison, have deliberately broken one or other of South Africa's apartheid (racial segregation) laws.

LEAVING THEIR WORK

Major-General Brink alleges that some non-Europeans are leaving their work to take part in the campaign and are intimidating those who have remained at work or sought employment. In many instances it is illegal for natives employed under service contracts to leave their work.

How far it will be possible for the Government to break the back of the campaign by arresting the key leaders is not known. Thousands of resisters have been briefed already and times and dates fixed for their individual law-breaking actions. It is possible that the campaign is now so well under way that it may go forward under its own momentum.

Among those arrested in Johannesburg are Dr. Y. M. Dadoo, President of the South African Indian Congress, Mr. Y. A. Kathrada, chairman of the Transvaal Indian Youth Congress. Among the African leaders arrested are Mr. W. Sisulu, secretary-general of the African National Congress, and Mr. J. B. Marks, President of the Transvall branch of the African National Congress.

The section of the Suppression of Communism Act under which they have been charged carries a maximum penality of ten years' imprisonment. Each of the arrested leaders was released on bail of a hundred pounds sterling.

"Defiance of unjust laws" is the first phase of a greater non-European resistance campaign which envisages later phases of non-violence action on the Indian model, including nation-wide strikes.

Say Canadians Disturbed Over Project

WASHINGTON (AP)—The International Joint Commission said yesterday some Canadians are "disturbed" at plans to build a power project on the St. Lawrence River.

Hearings at Cornwall brought forth objections, an official said, from persons whose properties would have to be acquired in order to build the necessary channels and control facilities.

The United States and Canada jointly applied to the International Joint Commission June 30 for permission to go ahead with the power development. A huge dam with powerhouses on the Canadian and American side are to be constructed.

Commission said some Cornwall residents who testified apparently did not want to move from traditional homes in the area.

Hearings are to be continued in Albany Sept. 3 and Montreal Sept. 8 and 9.

Ottawa Asks Labor To Go Easy On Strike Action

WINNIPEG (CP)—Canadian labor has before it an appeal from the federal government to go easy on strikes that could slow defence production. Labor Minister Gregg, in putting it up to the convention of the big Trades and Labor Congress of Canada yesterday, urged "mutual concessions" by labor and management to keep industrial harmony. "In these critical times," he said, "when the free nations of the world are striving to hold their lead in the production race over those who would destroy all freedoms, our production should not be interrupted, impeded or interfered with for even a short time."

Mr. Gregg called particularly on the 502,000-member T.L.C., the country's biggest labor body, to help "ensure this necessary industrial harmony" and prevent "potentially-dangerous delays" to Canada's production machinery.

The Minister mentioned no particular labor disputes, and his admonition was not received as bearing on any specific one, despite the fact it comes in the middle of another deadlock between the railways and the 125,000 men of their non-operating unions.

However, it was addressed to a convention attended by delegates from the main bodies engaged in the rail dispute, international A.F.L.-T.L.C. unions representing about 100,000 of those involved. In 1950, these unions pulled the biggest and most crippling strike in Canadian history over rail wages and working hours.

Apart from an amicable session with the Labor Minister—who confessed he thought his "honeymoon" with labor was over after two years in office—the convention got down to reiterating its demands for social and other advances and occasionally belaboring the cabinet.

It bore down hardest on national health insurance and better housing, calling for federal action on both, and also sought reimposition of price controls, checks on immigration and other measures.

Long an advocate of national health insurance, the Congress instructed its executive to keep press-

200 U.N. Planes Strike Red Supply Area

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The United States Fifth Air Force said about 200 planes today hit a Communist ammunition-supply and troop-billeting area on the Korean west coast about 25 miles northwest of the Red capital of Pyongyang.

The Air Force said U.S. Sabre jets damaged one of four Russian-made MIG-15 jets intercepted about 100 miles north of Pyongyang. There were no reports of allied losses.

Planes from American carriers operating on the Korean east coast hit the target first — shortly after noon. They were followed by fighter-bombers.

SEPARATE TARGETS

There were eight separate targets in the area, the Air Force said. Four were smashed by navy pilots and four by air force fliers.

Returning pilots reported early claims of 58 buildings demolished and five damaged. Big explosions rocked the area as bombs smacked into ammunition stores.

The planes struck as bright sun broke over the quiet battlefront, soaked by typhoon rains.

The United States Eighth Army said 3,134 Reds were killed or wounded in the week ended Aug. 14, highest weekly toll in two months. U.S. casualties were not announced.

Eighth Army said the battle front was relatively quiet.

Dies 48 Hours After Beating

BALA, Ont. (CP)—Police are investigating the death of Joshua Thompson, 63. They said he died 48 hours ater being beaten and robbed on an Indian reservation near this Muskoka district town.

Police say they were told Thompson was aroused from his sleep at 2:30 a.m. Sunday by three Indians. They say he was beaten about the head and robbed of $52 in cash and a cheque for $10, timber treaty money.

Surviving are Thompson's widow and two sons, Howard, serving in Korea, and Roy, with the Canadian Army in West Germany.

Margaret Truman's Guards Investigated

STOCKHOLM (AP)—The Swedish Foreign Office yesterday began an investigation of Margaret Truman's right to have three armed American bodyguards in Sweden.

The three have been accused in the press here of roughing up Swedish citizens.

The President's daughter has been in Sweden since Sunday on a European tour.

Sweden's largest newspaper, Aftonbladget, commented sarcastically: "Miss Truman is not in danger of her life in Stockholm . . .We understand that she is not going to sing here."

Fear Communist Coup

U.S. Urges Britain Join Program To Help Iran

By JOHN A. SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is reported to have urged Britain to join in an Anglo-American emergency-aid program for strategic Iran to avert a possible Communist coup.

State Secretary Dean Acheson is reported to have made this plea in a memorandum to Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden within the last 10 days. Acheson is said to have stressed the need for quick joint action to keep Iran's vast oil resources from falling by default into Russian hands.

American diplomats who disclosed this today indicated that British officials are cool to Acheson's idea, but apparently have not flatly rejected it.

'TOKEN' AID NOW

Acheson told Eden, they said, that the U. S. is prepared to give an immediate "token" grant of $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 to Iran if Britain simultaneously would:

1. Buy the 2,000,000 tons of refined oil and oil products now stored in huge tanks along the Persian Gulf. This would bring the Iranian government about $40,000,000 at present world market prices.

2. Declare Britain's willingness to abide by international arbitration of its long-standing dispute with Iran over nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

Under pressure from Washington British and U. S. diplomats are urgently exploring possible solutions to the British-Iranian argument. The oil dispute has blocked the flow of petroleum to the West for 14 months and has choked off the Iranian government's main source of revenue.

Britain's coolness to the American idea, officials said, stems from a belief that to buy any oil would undercut Britain's legal argument that the oil belongs to Britain.

U. K. CABINET MEETS

The British cabinet is scheduled to meet in London today to consider a reply to an invitation from the Iranian Prime Minister, Mohammed Mossadegh, to resume oil negotiations.

Acheson's suggestion apparently was intended to guide the British in drawing up an answer. U. S. officials believe that Mossadegh may be prepared to compromise rather than see his country go bankrupt and possibly Communist.

Most U. S. policy-makers now have decided that Mossadegh's regime, nationalist as it is, represents the West's only hope of averting chaos.

Report Site Remains To Be Chosen

Hoping To Begin Construction Within Four Months

A $1,500,000 reformatory for short-term, desperate prisoners will be built near Millbrook, the Hon. John Foote, Minister of Reform Institutions, announced today. The announcement killed recent speculation that the reformatory might be constructed in North Bay.

No site has been chosen for the prison, and architects' plans are only in the rough stage so far. Mr. Foote said construction would go ahead as soon as plans for the reformatory are complete. That would be in about four months.

Millbrook's reeve, Dr. J. W. Wright, said he welcomed the reformatory as a "benefit" to the village. He said he couldn't see it doing anything but "benefitting the village and increasing its population."

"Our council has had nothing official yet from the Department of Reform Institutions about the proposed reformatory," Reeve Delbert Olan of Cavan township informed the Examiner today.

"I've discussed it with Dr. J. W. Wright," Reeve of Millbrook, "and our understanding is that the site will be fairly close to that village. Just casually, I have found only one man who was inclined to be critical about getting the reformatory. Opinion as I find it is all favorable to the institution. It will require a lot of locally produced provisions, although they may have a farm of their own, too; but there is always that demand from the neighborhood growers and other suppliers of food.

"There should also be considerable opportunity for local employment. I think the project is all right.

MADE AFTER RIOTS

Decision to establish the institution was made shortly after the July 5 riots at the Ontario reformatory in Guelph.

Speaking to The Examiner by telephone from his Port Hope home, Mr. Foote said that "rough plans are being prepared," and that work would start as soon as possible. He said the exact location of the prison has not been settled, but "it will be somewhere near the village."

Russia Abolishing Politburo First Congress In 13 Years

MOSCOW (AP)—The proposed new statutes of the Communist party of the Soviet Union, announced today, provide for the abolition of the Politburo. This startling reorganization of the Soviet governing structure was revealed today in an announcement that Russia's ruling Communist party would hold its first congress in 13 years on Oct. 5. The announcement said the congress also would take up plans for a fifth five-year plan to increase Soviet industrial output 70 per cent by the end of 1955.

The Politburo, deriving its powers theoretically from the central committee of the Communist party, is in fact the ruling body of the Soviet Union, and thus of world Communism. It is made up of Prime Minister Stalin, party general secretary, and 10 others, plus a number of alternate members, and has wielded unquestioned authority under Stalin.

Under the new statutes the Politburo and organization bureau are replaced by a "praesidium" which has the function of "guiding the work of the central committee between sessions."

The party secretariat, however, remains under the new statutes.

The new statutes also provide for changing the two-decade-old

Search Spreads To Quebec In Hunt For Cabbie's Killer

MAXVILLE (CP)—Police search for a man wanted for questioning in the murder of Leonard Z. Hurd, prominent Maxville business man, widened out today to Quebec's Gatineau valley. Yesterday most persons in this community 43 miles southeast of Ottawa stopped work for the funeral service of the victim, robbed and shot last Saturday night on a lonely road near here. Rev. J. H. Hamilton, United Church minister, told some 300 persons at the service he hoped "justice will soon prevail in the apprehension of the person responsible for the cruel crime."

Latest police action in the search for Henri Seguin, 27, of Cornwall, wanted for questioning, came in the Gatineau valley north of Ottawa.

GET TIP-OFF

Quebec Provincial Police at Hull were tipped that a man answering Seguin's description was seen early Monday sleeping in a car beside the highway near Cascades, Que., 15 miles north of Hull. The car's licence number was the same as that of Seguin's 1934 Chevrolet coupe.

Quebec Provincial Police Sergeant, Gaston Garceau, said he would lead a search up the Gatineau valley as far as Mount Laurier, some 90 miles north of Hull.

Near Maxville, Ontario Provincial Police headed by Inspector Robert Wannell of Toronto closed in on a remote cabin 8 miles north east of the town where a man identified as Seguin was reported to have stayed for two weeks before the fatal shooting.

Police found the cabin empty, except for canned goods and clothing which indicated the cabin was occupied as late as Sunday afternoon.

Gedeas LaCavalier, a farmer, said he rented the cabin two weeks ago to a man who called himself Beaudry. LaCavalier identified photographs of Seguin as the man in the cabin.

A $1,500,000 REFORMATORY will be built in Cavan twp. near Millbrook, the Hon. John Foote, Minister of Reform Institutions, announced today. He is M.P.P. for [illegible].

Four Trapped In Swiss Cave

MUOTATHAL, Switzerland (Reuters)—Four cave explorers were trapped far underground in the caverns of HoelLock today by a flood in the cave's underground river.

The cave mouth, where the four went down five days ago, was turned into a lake by heavy rains during the weekend.

More emergency pumps were rushed to the entrance today in an effort to lower the water level sufficiently to let divers enter. Rescue workers with rubber rafts stood by.

The four trapped men are thought to be perched somewhere near the roof of a cavern.

Renew Street Attacks On US Army Personnel

TEHRAN, Iran, (AP)—Communists today renewed street attacks on United States military personnel, stoning two cars in which Americans were riding.

Maj.Gen. Wayne Zimmerman, head of the U.S. mission here, said routine measures were being taken to keep army personnel out of congested areas.

There also were unconfirmed reports that U.S. soldiers had been ordered to "make themselves as scarce as possible" around Tehran so as not to be targets for leftists who apparently were working on a definite plan to make it hot for them.

The goernment was forced to call out troops last night to quell Communist youths, wielding knives and rocks, who battled police and soldiers in the centre of the city. Two policemen and one soldier were stabbed before the rioters fled under a tear-gas attack.

Lightning Strikes Twice On Same Spot

WEST GUILFORD (CP)—Lightning struck twice at the property of Ernest Griffin here early today.

The first bolt destroyed his garage and car. A second bolt from the same storm entered a window and struck the metal frame of the bed where Griffin was sleeping. He was stunned and burned by the shock and had to be pulled from the bed as the covers took fire.

West Guilford is 120 miles north of Toronto.

Make New Effort To Settle Strike

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario government is going to make another try to settle the Leamington strike which threatens loss of a $1,000,000 tomato crop.

Labor Minister Daley and Louis Fine, chief conciliation officer, will meet tomato growers and strikers at Leamington town hall tomorrow afternoon.

Processing workers at the H.J. Heinz Company plant at Leamington have been on strike 12 days for an increase of 21 cents in the hourly basic rate of 99 cents. The company has offered 11 cents.

Married Women Given Break

WINNIPEG (CP)—The government has decided to make it easier for married women workers to collect unemployment insurance when they are out of jobs, Labor Minister Gregg told the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada convention yesterday.

The action cuts to 60 from 90 days a "waiting period" imposed on married women.

The period was imposed originally because of suspicion that some married women were collecting insurance when they merely had quit jobs to take up housework.

Former Lacrosse Star Gregory McIntosh Dies

OTTAWA (CP)—Gregory K. McIntosh, 69, prominent Ottawa business man and one-time lacrosse star, died suddenly today following a brief illness.

A native of Port Huron, Mich., he came to Ottawa 66 years ago and established a chinaware business which later became one of the largest in eastern Canada.

He was a member of the old Capitals lacrosse club which represented Canada at the Chicago world's fair in 1900 and also was a hockey player of note.

Speedboats Collide Four In Lake Nearly 18 Hours

ATHERLEY (CP)—A small seaplane touched down on Lake Simcoe shortly before sundown yesterday to rescue two youths who had drifted in the chill water for 18 hours. Two other youths, picked up earlier, also spent the night and much of the day in the water after two speedboats carrying the four friends collided head-on Monday night. Jack Graham, 21, was detained in hospital while his brother, Bill, 19, Mike Cox, 22, and Don Dugan, 17, all of Toronto, were released after treatment for exhaustion and exposure.

"I used to like water," said Mike, first of the four to be picked up. "But from now on a bathtub full will be plenty for me."

He spent 14 hours clinging to a cushion.

The four friends had been staying at a cottage in Cooks Bay, at the southern tip of the lake, some 40 miles north of Toronto. At noon Monday they set out in the two 14-foot outboard motor boats, Don and Jack in one boat, Bill and Mike in the other.

They spent the day on the lake visiting friends at neighboring resorts and were returning home at 10 p.m. There was no moon and a light mist covered the water as the two boats, travelling about 35 miles an hour, met in a splintering crash. One boat sank immediately and the four boys climbed into the second. It, too, began to submerge so the older boys—Jack and Mike—took seat cushions and started for shore.

"We swam hard," recalled Cox. "But the currents were really grim. Then we got separated and that was bad because we could at least talk to each other when we were near enough."

He was picked up shortly before noon yesterday by a tourist, B.R. Smith, and brought first news of the accident to police. Search boats and planes were sent out and several hours later Jack was picked up by a boat.

HOPE ALMOST GONE

When the two younger boys remained unlocated near the end of the afternoon, residents who lined the wharf here waiting for news held little hope that they could survive in the 60-degree water.

Dr. Walter Woodrow of Orillia sighted the two boys, supported by the last cushion and a small piece of wood, from 500 feet. He loaded them in his plane and taxied 15 miles to shore, fearing the small plane would not carry the extra passenger load off the water.

Safely ashore 19-year-old Bill voiced his first and only comment on the affair:

"I'm glad it's over, I'm tired. I want something to eat."

Brazil Reports Quints Born

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—Hospital authorities here report that a 38-year-old woman gave birth to girl quintuplets last night. Doctors said they stand a good chance of surviving.

The babies, weighing less than three pounds each, were born within the space of three hours in the interior village of Sao Carlos, authorities said. The parents are Jose Albano, 38, a Negro laborer and his wife, Maria.

The mother and her five babies were brought to Sao Paulo hospital. The infants were placed in an incubator. Dr. Francisco Sucupira of the hospital staff said the babies appeared in good health.

The world has two other sets of living quintuplets—Canada's Dionnes who celebrated their 18th birthday in May, and Argentina's Diligentis—now eight years old.

Chinese Reds Seek U.K. Trade Despite Barriers

LONDON (Reuters)—Communist China has told Britain that increased trade between the two countries will help to boost both their economies, the Foreign Office disclosed yesterday.

The Chinese statement came in an official note, hitherto published only in part by the Communist press. The Foreign Office published the text of the note, dated July 5, along with the texts of three British notes.

The British notes complained of difficulties imposed by Chinese authorities on British firms in China and announced the firms' intentions of closing.

Peiping's note said British firms would be afforded "due protection" and if they wanted to wind up their business, "competent authorities will deal with each case according to its own merits and the regulations."

PEIPING NOTE

Peiping's note declared:

"The Central People's Government considers that the active promotion of the trade relations between China and Britain on a basis of equality and mutual benefit is conducive to the recovery and development of industrial and agricultural production in both countries, as well as to the improvement of the living conditions of the peoples of both countries."

OTTAWA (CP)—Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, Canada's first native-born governor-general, will tour the country from coast to coast before Christmas, his first extended trip since he became the Queen's representative last February.

Government house disclosed today he leaves Saturday on a trip to the Maritimes and Newfoundland. Then after spending a month at the citadel at Quebec, he will take off on a five-week trip that will take him to the west coast.

The R.C.A.F. and the Navy will step in to provide transportation here and there.

Farouk's Hotel Bill Remains Unpaid

ISLE OF CAPRI, Italy (AP)—Former King Farouk's hotel bill is still under discussion—and unpaid, the hotel said yesterday.

Officials declined to disclose the amount. The dethroned Egyptian monarch came here in exile July 29.

Previously the hotel people said the daily rate for the roof garden suite occupied by Farouk and his family was $320 a day.

Farouk got the hotel to cut down the original rate from $400 to $320, and was reported claiming it still was too high.

Farmers Hold Conference Over Cattle Sale Boycott

MARKDALE — (CP) — A farmers' delegation said last night during a meeting with Citizenship Minister Harris that meatpackers are refusing to buy cattle this week in an attempt to force lower prices.

Spokesmen said farmers held back shipments during the summer months, while the foot-and-mouth disease restrictions were in effect, at the request of the government.

The delegation included members of the Grey County Beef and Hog Producers Associations, the Federation of Agriculture and the agricultural committee of the county council.

Delegates said cattle shipped from fresh pasture to stockyards are allowed to deteriorate there for two or three days before they can be sold.

The federal government's floor support price of 25 cents a pound offered protection for the packers only. Farmers were forced to accept lower prices in spite of the guaranteed floor price rather than ship stock back to the farm.

Mr. Harris, member for Grey-Bruce, said he will bring the matter before the federal cabinet.

Find Lakehead Swamped With Grain Crop

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's grain men, huge stores of last year's wheat on their hands, face problem of what to do when harvesting gets under way in the west in about 10 days with the record crop forecast for this year.

The Bureau of Statistics estimated yesterday there was a carryover of 213,000,000 bushels from last year's 562,000,000-bushel harvest. The crop year ended July 31. A 656,000,000- bushel crop is forecast for the 1952-53 crop year.

The carryover—biggest in seven years—compares with 258,000,000 bushels in 1945 and the 1942 record of 424,000,000 bushels.

The total carryover of five major grains—wheat, oats, barley, rye and flaxseed—is almost 405,000,000 bushels. Some of it is in the United States.

While prairie farmers and elevator operators are wondering how to handle the oncoming crop, grain-handling facilities at Fort William are trying to keep pace with a last-minute rush of last year's grain. It is piling up at the Lakehead faster than it can be shipped.

During the U.S. steel strike, ore vessels were diverted to the grain trade and helped keep pace with the rush. But they are back to the ore trade now. Last week grain stores at the Lakehead grew to more than 3,000,000 bushels above the previous week.

Grain officials here said many prairie farmers are building expanded storage facilities on their farms to hold grain in case elevators can't take it. Extra temporary shelter may be built at inland elevator and lake points.

BOOST TO PROSPERITY

"It should certainly give a boost to the prosperity and population of the district," he remarked.

Rioting at Guelph on July 5 broke out when convicts were returning from their evening sports period. Wielding knives, meat cleavers, and wrenches, they surged through the cell blocks, smashing furniture, wrecking plumbing and setting fire to stocks of food and clothing.

Peace was restored when guards and police charged the prisoners with tear gas, fire hoses, clubs and fists. One guard and one prisoner were injured in the rioting. Ten ringleaders were selected from the convicts' ranks and marched to new cells.

Some guards at Guelph claimed that discipline broke down after Mr. Foote insisted that no prisoner be strapped without his personal approval.

Mr. Foote denied that the new rule was an attempt to "molly-coddle" the prisoners. He pointed out that in the previous week three prisoners had received the strap.

Officer Cadre Gain From War

WINNIPEG (CP)—Canada's most important gain of the Korean war is a cadre of young officers and N.C.O.s with recent battle experience, Brig. J. M. Rockingham, former commander of Canada's 25th brigade and now director of military training, said here yesterday.

Until Canadians went to Korea, he said in a interview, the army had few junior commanders with operational experience. Now Canada has a corps of hardened, self-confident young soldiers.

Korea also taught senior officers —"including myself"—many a lesson.

Roof-Top Chase Ends In Arrest

HAMILTON (CP)—A roof - top chase late last night resulted in the arrest of two youths and a juvenile on charges of shopbreaking and theft. Dennis Urquhart, 17, George Moskey, 17 and a 14-year-old, were arrested.

The accused trio allegedly forced a skylight on the roof of the Harpers Wholesale Tobacco Company warehouse on King street west.

The note said British firms would be afforded due protection if they wanted to wind up their business, "competent authorities will deal with each case according to its own merits and the regulations."

Foreign Secretary Eden announced in the House of Commons May 20th that individual firms intended to withdraw from China because of increasing difficulties in doing business. He said that the firms, whose total assets built up in a century and a half of trade are estimated at around £300,000,000 might form a joint trade organization in China.

Eden said his government and the firms involved remain convinced of the need and desirability for continued trade with China but the difficulties there were beyond their control. They sprang partly from the taking over of private Chinese businesses by the state and increasing restrictions on the entry and exit of foreign staffs, arbitrary taxation demands and compulsion to retain and pay idle workers.

Industrials, Golds Pull Out Of Decline

TORONTO (CP)—Industrials and golds today pulled out of a two-day decline in moderately active early afternoon stock market trading. Base metals and western oils continued weak.

Industrials improved after a weak morning and golds continued a slight advance started before noon. Western oils drew slightly more support but base metals slipped steadily.

Trading covered a fairly wide list of base metals and western oils and increased in volume over last week's slow sessions. Volume for the first three hours totalled 1,852,000 shares.

Five secondary gold issues recorded turnovers of more than 100,000 shares but only one gained. Donalda, a junior producer, and Jacknife, a prospect, slipped in turnovers close to 200,000. Health gold rose. Senior golds weakened.

Most industrial sections were mixed with activity centred on steel issues. Small gains and losses marked the base metals section as Mayo dipped fractionally in a turnover of more than 90,000 shares.

Heaviest western oil trader was Yankee Canuck which gained pennies on a 50,000-share turnover.

The exchange's 1 p.m. indices showed industrials up .19 at 329.15, golds up .08 at 94.50, base metals down .76 at 196.78 and western oils down .26 at 138.35.

Western observers here considered the meeting will be the most important held in the Soviet Union since the end of the Second World War.

The Communist congress was announced in a decree of the party's central committee, published today in all Moscow newspapers over the name of Prime Minister Stalin, the committee's general secretary.

NEW FIVE-YEAR PLAN

The announcement said the congress will be asked to approve the new five-year economic plan.

Directives, expected to be the basis of the new economic goals the Soviet government will set, call for industrial production to increase 12 per cent annually. By the end of 1955, total output would be 70 per cent greater than in 1950.

Stalin presumably will attend the party congress. He was the main speaker when the party congress met last in 1939.

A five-item agenda was listed:

1. Report of the party's central committee, to be given by committee secretary Georgi M. Malenkov.
2. Report of the central inspection committee of the party.
3. Consideration of directives on the fifth five-year plan.
4. Changes in the statute of the Communist party of the Soviet Union.
5. Election of central organs of the party. This election of such important bodies as the central committee—which names the Politburo—is likely to rank with the five-year-plan directives in importance and interest.

MAJOR EVENT

In western capitals, officials and observers saw the scheduling of the party congress as a major event, though they were reluctant immediately to speculate on exactly what it might mean. For some time westerners have considered that the failure of the Soviet Communists to call a party convention indicated possible weaknesses in the party structure at home. Today's announcement could mean that Russia's Communist rulers now feel they are strongly enough entrenched to face the party members.

As with previous Soviet economic announcements, today's pronouncement dealt only with percentages. The proposed directive gave no tonnages or other production quantities.

Byron Letter Discovered In Old Book

COLOMBO, Ceylon (Reuters) — A well-preserved letter apparently written by the poet Lord Byron more than a century ago was found today in a book of Byron's works bought 28 years ago.

The letter, dated April 27, 1819, probably at Venice, objects to a French publisher's attributing a booked named "Vampire" to the poet.

"If the book is clever," it says, "it would be base to deprive the real writer, whoever he may be, of his honors. And if stupid, I desire the responsibility of nobody's dullness but my own."

The letter also objects to an article in a magazine produced by the publishers—Callignani of Paris — telling of Byron's supposed home on the island of Mityiene.

DENIES STATEMENT

The letter denies Byron ever lived on Mityiene, "where I should have no objection to reside, but where I have never yet resided."

"Neither of these performances are mine — and I presume that it is neither unjust nor ungracious to request that you will favor me by contradicting the advertisement to which I allude."

The letter was found carefully folded in the back of a book of Byron's poems published by Calignani. It was bought second-hand for about 15 cents by Dr. G. Mahabodhy, Singhalese lecturer on Medicine.

The letter will be sent to the British Museum for examination.

During the luncheon she twitted Mayor Lamport on the fact he hasn't entered the match.

The Toronto mayor promptly replied he would match Mayor Whitton furrow for furrow at Carp.

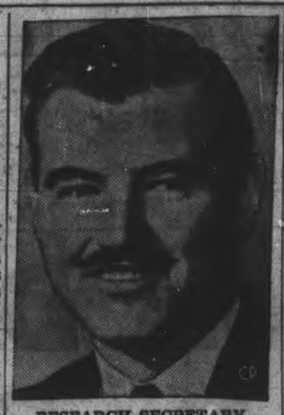
ing for such a scheme. It demanded this on a contributory basis, saying workers are ready to pay their fair share of the cost.



On housing, the Congress asked federal aid in low-rental projects and slum clearance. It declared itself "greatly disappointed" by what the federal government has done on these points, saying its "open immigration policy" has aggravated housing shortages.

Immigration should be more tightly controlled, the Congress said. It also asked that the federal government assume the responsibility and feeding immigrants until they can be absorbed into Canadian industry without displacing Canadians.

Their identification reduced the list of missing believed dead to 18 and increased the known dead to 18.

Along came a motor convoy carrying four full companies. Corporal Wascher stopped it cold. Noncoms argued. Company commanders argued. Battalion officers argued. No dice. Finally Maj.-Gen. Ray Cam Fountain tried to pass. Still no dice. Someone checked Corporal Wascher's orders and found he'd been posted on the wrong road. After that, everybody passed and the general officially commended the corporal "for the attention to duty and soldierly qualities exhibited by you."

Unveil Plaque At Dieppe For Canadians

DIEPPE, France (Reuters)—Canadian ambassador George Vanier and Defence Minister Rene Pleven of France paid homage yesterday to the heroism of Canadian troops who took part in the Dieppe raid 10 years ago.

Vanier, on his fifth post-war pilgrimage to the Dieppe beaches, unveiled a memorial at Buys, outside Dieppe, where the Royal Canadian Regiment was decimated by German machine-gun fire.

A party of 28 Canadian soldiers, survivors of the raid, attended the ceremony.

PLAQUE UNVEILED

Pleven unveiled a plaque in the Square du Canada in honor of 1,000 Canadians who fell in the nine-hour raid, first large-scale Allied landing in Occupied Europe.

Pleven said two world wars have taught Canada and France that it is better "to discourage aggression by collective precautions than to have to repulse it."

Vanier said Aug. 19 would always be a day of mourning and a day of glory for Canada.

It would be futile to claim the Dieppe raid was a tactical success, he said, but the experience gained there was invaluable for the invasion of France.

Other ceremonies included a commemoration service at the Canadian military cemetery here.

The raid, officially a "reconnaissance in force," was staged to discover the Allies' ability to land a large force in Europe, to test German defences and to destroy military installations.

RAID A FAILURE

About 7,000 troops, most of them Canadian, took part in five separate landings. Nearly half were killed, wounded, missing or captured.

Canadian units which took part in the raid included the South Saskatchewan regiment, the Royal Regiment of Canada, Royal Hamilton Light Infantry, Essex Scottish regiment, Cameron Highlanders of Winnipeg, the Calgary Regiment of tanks, the Fusiliers Mont-Royal and service troops.

In London last night, the BBC broadcast a dramatized version of the battle of Dieppe.

The play was written by Wallace Reyburn, former Montreal newspaper man, and narrated by Bernard Braden of Vancouver.

FELT 'CHEATED'

Reyburn based the story on his own experiences on covering the raid.

In an accompanying broadcast he described how he returned to Dieppe this summer and felt "cheated" because the beach where he landed 10 years ago now is just waste land.

Soviet Dictatorship Much Stronger Feel Safe In Convening Congress

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Moscow's announcement today of the convocation Oct. 5 of the first all-union Communist party congress in 13 years indicates a strengthening of the Soviet dictatorship all along the line.

This announcement has been in the making since 1947, but its timing gives it implications which can mean the difference between war and peace.

Moscow's announcement that it is doing away with the Politburo does not mean abolition of an all-powerful governing body. On the contrary, the announced new Presidium, to act between sessions of the party central committee, will have more power. It will take over the duties of the Organizations Bureau (Orgburo), which controls the appointment of key officials throughout the party and government network.

The announcement once again brings mysterious Georgi Malenkov 50, owl-faced protege of Stalin, sharply to the fore. Malenkov probably has had more of a hand in this revision — one of a series in Soviet history — than any other man. It is Malenkov who is most widely regarded as the successor to Stalin.

LONG AWAITED

Westerners have long awaited this announcement.

The last All-Union Congress of the Communist party was in March, 1939. Competent diplomatic observers have been saying that when the Kremlin decided to call the 19th congress, it would indicate that the Russians felt themselves in danger of a third world war.

The last All-Union Congress was called on a wave of "peace" slogans, ominously similar to those in current use by Soviet propagandists today. It came at a time when Europe nerously awaited war.

At that Congress, Stalin made a speech forecasting economic crises in the non-Communist world and a struggle of imperialism to divide the world into spheres of influence. That is what the Communists are saying again.

The Congress also had the aim of healing the wounds of the blood purge of the 1930s. When it was finally convoked, Stalin had finished the job of making himself the unquestioned dictator of the Soviet union, after eliminating thousands of potential enemies before firing squads.

The new congress is called following a widespread cleanup throughout the Soviet Union's constituent republics. It is likely that this time any vestige of opposition was done away with quietly but competently.

Apparently, the rulers of the Kremlin consider themselves strong enough once again to call an All-Union Congress, convening many Communists from all corners of the Soviet Union in one place.

German Held In Slaying Of D.P. Friend

PORT ARTHUR—A four-year friendship between two immigrants which began in Europe and was carried over to Canada ended in a murder charge Thursday against George Hladiy, 33-year-old Ukrainian.

Hladiy is charged in the death of Josef Panok, 34, whose weighted body was recovered from the McIntyre River between Port Arthur and Fort William, Aug. 8.

Panok, a German, came to Canada last December with his wife, Margaret, and daughter Karin, 5, after Hladiy, who came over in 1950, made the arrangements for his entry. The two men took jobs on the same C.P.R. section gang at the lakehead and Hladiy lived with the Panoks in a two-room apartment at Fort William.

Panok disappeared about July 26. His wife later told police he said he was going to Winnipeg.

His body, found floating with two 15-pound railway riser plates attached by wire to the neck and feet, bore no identification except a ring with the initials W. H. It was identified by Mrs. Panok two days later.

DESOLATE SECTION

The spot near the mouth of the river where the body was found was in what police described as the most desolate part of the town. It was located about a half mile from the district where the Panoks and Hladiy lived. A pile of railway riser plates of the type which weighted down the body was located near a railway bridge 300 yards away.

A half-inch rope was looped tightly around the neck with one strand through the mouth like a gag. There was a two-inch wound on the right side of the head. Police estimated the body had been in the water two weeks.

Death was definitely the result of foul play, Chief Constable Tom Connor said.

On August 11, Mrs. Panok and Hladiy were taken into custody by police for questioning. They were charged with vagrancy last Thursday morning and remanded. Crown Attorney P. V. Ibbetson, Q.C., Tuesday instructed that the murder charge be laid against Hladiy.

The average air-index of ragweed pollen grains at seven pollen-count stations was .63. Anything less than a full point is considered excellent.

Ike To Give First Real Political Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower delivers the first frankly-political speech of his campaign today—a major address calling on the United States to reject both the "extreme left and right" and follow a course "squarely down the middle."

The Republican presidential nominee flies from Denver to Boise, Idaho, where—after conferring with Republican governors of 10 western states—he plans to make his speech tonight from the Capitol steps.

In an unusual advance statement, Arthur H. Vandenberg, Jr., the General's executive secretary, said in his address Eisenhower will:

Denounce leftist political groups for trying to claim that their way is the only way to achieve "agreed social goals," contend that the best method of reaching some goals upon which Americans are agreed is to "follow a course squarely down the middle, rejecting both the extreme right and extreme left;" charge that the present administration is offering the same old arguments which claim that the only solutions to pressing problems are "schemes like . . . socialized medicine and bigger and more centralized government."

Governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinos, Democratic presidential candidate, hid from public and politicians in a retreat near Monocqua, Wis., taking a brief rest before plunging back into the campaign Friday.

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Hungarian officials disclosed today that an Olympics-fostered romance has bridged the Iron Curtain.

The announcement said Gerard came back to Budapest with the Hungarian olympic team. The couple gained the Hungarian government's permission to marry.

Eva came second in the 220-metre breast stroke and the 400-metre freestyle at Helsinki and was a member of the winning team in the 400-metre relay.

Gerard can't swim.

Bears, Beavers Bother Farmers

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, Alta. (CP)—Farmers in this Alberta foothills area are having trouble this summer with bears and beavers.

Black bears have been killing off young calves in nightly raids on cattle herds, within sight of the town. Berry-pickers are afraid to go too far into the woods.

The beavers, scarce until recently, have become so plentiful that their dams are a menace to roads and meadows, with danger to livestock. One night's work by the busy beavers can flood a 100-acre field and cows following accustomed trails sometimes get bogged down. Some have been trapped in mud and died of starvation.

Star's Secretary Tipped Off Vice Inquiry

NEW YORK (AP)—Comedienne Martha Raye's former secretary is identified in newspaper reports today as the jilted girl friend who was reported to have sent vice probers into Cafe Society circles after Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke.

Jelke, 22, heir to a multi-million-dollar margarine fortune, was charged last week with compulsory prostitution as a city-wide crackdown on $500-a-night call girls reached its peak.

New York newspapers today say that Patricia Ward, 19, gave police the information that led to Jelke's arrest. The reports say the pretty blonde is the mysterious "Miss X" who has been held in $10,000 bail as a material witness and testified this week before a grand jury.

Miss Ward was in hospital last May 21 after swallowing a quantity of sleeping pills while staying overnight at Miss Raye's suite. Police said the girl had written a note indicating she was despondent over a broken romance.

Jelke has blamed his arrest on "a disgruntled female who feels she was jilted." He did not name her. Nor have police disclosed whether Miss Ward mentioned any man in her note.

Miss Raye, who is not involved in the vice probe, said last May that she invited Miss Ward to remain overnight.

$75,000 Fire Kills 500 Pigs

TORONTO (CP)—Some 500 pigs were destroyed last night in a $75,000 fire which gutted the W.J. Skelhorn piggery in suburban Scarboro.

The blaze, visible for miles, destroyed the main barn within an hour, but a 15-ton stack of hay and a huge pile of lumber continued to burn for more than three hours.

Edward Boyd, a neighbor, said one sow that escaped the blazing two - storey building turned and tried to run back to her litter. Farmers prevented the animal from re-entering the building. Some 300 pigs were rescued and turned out into a field.

Deep Descent

NICE, France (AP)—A French girl has claimed the record for going down deeper in the earth than any other woman. She is Claude Neilz, 19, of Nice, who emerged from a descent with seven men, 1,312 feet into a chasm in the Marguareis Range on the border between France and Italy.

Consider Inquest In Brantford Death

HAMILTON (CP)—An inquest may be held into the death of Harry Woitka, 57, of Brantford, found dead early Sunday in a house where he and his wife were visiting.

Walter Hagan, inspector of detectives, said last night there had been a drinking party and it was difficult to sort out a clear picture of what happened.

A post-mortem by pathologist Dr. W. J. Deadman showed that Woitka had a fractured skull.

Shot Fusillade Near Shack Killed Man

DEAUX RIVIERES, Ont. (CP)—A fusillade of shots outside a heavily-barricaded shack near this northern Ontario village yesterday brought death to a man who tried to enter and resulted in the arrest of the owner of the building.

Dead is Debbie Logan, 27, of Stonecliffe. Held in Pembroke jail 60 miles southeast of here, is Norman Pacquin, 33. Also being held as material witnesses are three women and two men police allege were inside the shack.

Paul Letour said he, his brother and Logan tried to enter Pacquin's shack and that a man carried two rifles from the building and began firing. The three jumped in their car. Bullets struck it and broke windows.

Letour said he did not know Logan was hurt until he fell from the car outside a hotel in nearby Deux Rivieres.

Police seized a .22 and a 44-40 rifle at the shack. They quoted Pacquin's wife as saying Logan and the Letour brothers asked for a drink and were told to leave.

She said they hammered on the door when refused admittance and threatened to shoot their way in. "then my husband went outside," she said, "and I heard shooting."

Police found windows of the shack wired, the front door nailed shut and the back door rammed tight with a two-by-four.

Deux Rivieres is 60 miles east of North Bay.

Low Rental Houses $72.50 A Month

A tenant may rent a new five-room house in Lindsay, complete with water, electricity, and warm-air heating equipment for $72.50 a month. This is under the low-rental Federal-Provincial house-building scheme by which 21 new houses will be built, as decided and authorized by the Lindsay town council, the Ontario Planning and Development Board and the Federal Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. A monthly rental of $72.50 for houses, designed by Federal and Provincial authorities to meet housing needs of people with low incomes, sets a different meaning on "low" rents from that understood, for instance, by some of the people renting houses on the Hatton wartime development.

* * *

The 21 new houses in Lindsay are being built under heavy subsidies by Ottawa and Toronto, so as to reduce the amount of the rent required; they are also being subsidized by Lindsay, for the town is providing the capital costs of the services. Despite these grants and aids, rents will run from $50 a month (so as to retire the indebtedness in fifty years), plus ten dollars for taxes and $12.50 a month for maintenance. Total: $72.50. If that is the lowest rental which can be charged for tax-supported housing, can private enterprise not do as well?

* * *

Last year a large group of substantial houses was built on Western Heights, Peterborough, at the west end of the Highway 28 exit, by a Cobourg firm, operating under the National Housing Act (by which capital loans are secured at low interest rates). These houses were made available on a rental-purchase system, supervised by N.H.A. and with a down payment of $1,500. A five-room 1½ storey bungalow is carried by the renter-owner for $60 a month, including this year's higher taxes. This amounts to the same as the Lindsay houses, for it does not include monthly instalments for maintenance. Other houses, of six rooms and two storeys, are carried for somewhat larger monthly payments. At the end of twenty-five years, the house belongs totally to the tenant-owner.

* * *

Three observations may be made. First, is this Federal-Provincial scheme going to do the job expected of it if rentals must be as high as a minimum of $72.50 a month? Is the old N.H.A. scheme not just as good — except for the necessity of a tenant finding the down payment? Secondly, no housing today is cheap, by 1933 or wartime standards. As wages and prices have risen, so have housing costs. We must, it seems, consider $60-$75 a month a low rent. If so, by what law or right should the city of Peterborough subsidize tenants at the Hatton property now renting at little more than half that figure? While no one now paying a rental of $35-$40 a month wants to pay $60 or $70, the fact is that the Hatton wartime houses are fast deteriorating and should be vacated (as tenants are being required to do so); and, further, today's wages and conditions do not make higher rentals impossible for people of low incomes to meet. When wage rates vary between a dollar and two dollars an hour, housing at $60 and $75 a month is not sky-high.

* * *

Our third observation — it is really a question — arises out of the first two. If Peterborough needs more low-rental houses — and can afford them — where and how should it look for them, and what price should be considered low?

"The Smith, a Mighty Man Is He"

Some surprise has been evinced by the fact that the Smith is the most numerous surname in Scotland, according to figures just released by the General Post Office. There are 16 Smiths for every thousand of the population in that country, and they outnumber the more characteristic names by a considerable margin, their nearest competitor being Macdonald, with 12 per thousand. This does not imply that there has been a wholesale immigration from England; the trend has always been in the opposite direction. The Lowland Scots formed originally part of the Anglo-Saxon kingdom of Northumbria, and their language, folklore and customs are nearer to the inhabitants of the extreme North of England than to the Highland Scots. There has been a good deal of admixture in the course of the centuries, but the Scottish Smiths are the genuine home product, not just recent interlopers.

In England the figures are slightly higher, 18 per thousand, and there is probably not a great difference in English-speaking Canada. These figures do not include the Smyths, Smythes and other variants. If one added to them the numerous Smiths of other languages, the Schmidts, Schmidlis, Ferriers, Petulengros and so on the percentage would be even higher. They are indeed a mighty clan.

Before the industrial revolution the smith was one of the most important persons in the village, ranking next to the squire and parson. Up to the invention of the internal combustion engine he was still an indispensible part of the small community. At the present day there are very few smiths by trade, though the older generation will remember the sparks flying up as the smith worked the bellows and the pungent smell as the hot iron came in contact with the horses' hooves when they were shod.

The modern descendants of the first Smiths have maintained their ratio to the population, but they have deserted the forge and won distinction in many fields. There was a series of radio programmes recently which devoted itself to Smiths who had reached eminence. There is scarcely a trade or profession without a Smith somewhere near the top. But there are penalties involved in being a Smith: mistaken identity, letters going astray and other embarrassing incidents. We are not surprised that some families have been impelled to hyphenate their name or spell it differently. It is a vulgar error to attribute this to snobbery, though one cannot help admiring the uncompromising inflexibility of those who chose to remain just plain Smith.

Tractors And Trailers On The Highway

This morning we noticed an ordinary farm tractor chugging along the highway towards Peterborough pulling a large trailer loaded with sacks of some sort of produce. The driver may have been a farmer, a dealer, a village merchant. His goods may have been destined for sale on market or to mill. We do not know, but we do know that this load of goods was being delivered by Provincial highway by an unlicensed machine. It was therefore, technically, a farm tractor, for use on a farmer's own property. Presumably, too, the gasoline in the tractor was gasoline exempt from the heavy tax, and therefore costing less than thirty cents a gallon.

Had the tractor and trailer any right on the highway, for which it was not licensed, and using gasoline on which, we judge, the highway tax had not been paid ?

Our highways are paid for by licenses, such as cars and trucks have, and by the tax put on every gallon of gasoline sold through the usual channels. The tractor and trailer in our view this morning had paid nothing towards the highways or for their use. Yet it was using the highway to transport goods to town.

We cite this not as an isolated example, but to indicate what is occuring every day on all highways. Farmers get, as a special concession, the right to use tractors without licenses — on their own land. We do not quarrel with this concession. Farmers get a rebate of the full tax on gasoline for use in farm machinery used on the farm. Are these privileges not being abused by farmers, dealers and merchants claiming to be farmers? When these people haul goods along the highways, why should they not be required to do so like any other commercial truckers, by paying a truck license, and using taxed gasoline?

The other day we came upon a piece of vast farm equipment grinding along the highway at a slow speed, and occupying more than half the total width of the road. It was excessively dangerous, because of its slow speed and because it was far overhanging the white half-way line on the paving. It too, was unlicensed. It too, presumably was operating on untaxed gasoline. More than that, it was a very real traffic hazard, particularly when mounting the crest of a hill. When an out-sized vehicle moves on a highway it is required to have a special permit, and also an escort. This piece of farm machinery had no escort whatsover, and we doubt very much that its owner had secured the sanction of the Provincial Police to run it along the highway.

It is time that the latitude taken on highways by tractors, trailers, and other mechanized farm equipment — all in the name of essential farming operations — was examined by Provincial authorities, and the spirit as well as the letter of the law observed in these matters.

NOTES AND COMMENT

Sir John A. Macdonald's Bible has survived undamaged the Parliamentary Library fire. It had been presented to him in 1878 by the Oxford Press, which also gave special copies to other distinguished people, among them Queen Victoria and the Czar of Russia. Some people may attribute the survival of the Macdonald Bible to Sir John A's fine Christian character. What do they say of the Russian copy which survived the Red fire of 1917 in the Kremlin?

THE AMERICAN SCENE

Blonde Biruta Still Sings

By KENNETH HARRIS

THERE IS STILL no conclusion in sight to the case of the controversial coloratura, blonde and beautiful Biruta Sneiders, the Latvian soprano, whose passion to improve her upper register has deprived of sleep about half the population of Flatbush, New York City.

The beautiful Biruta first hit the headlines last May when she was arraigned in court before magistrate Abner S. Surpless. A Mrs. Ada B. Aubichon, who lives on the bottom floor of the house of which Biruta occupies the top, had complained that she and her husband were being steadily driven crazy by Miss Sneiders' insistence on smashing through her scales for five hours a day on weekdays, and seven hours on Sunday. Mr. Aubichon, a writer of editorials, added that as well as his wife's nerves, his work, for a magazine dealing with marine life and science, was suffering, and he was losing his ability to concentrate. He was backed up by a Mr. Carr, who lived some distance away. Carr said that being a worker on a railway night-shift, and having to sleep by day, his life was being wrecked by Biruta, and that, if this went on much longer the safety of the railroad would be in jeopardy.

✧ ✧ ✧

MAGISTRATE SURPLESS, himself a handy amateur singer, refused to gag the soprano completely, but limited her practising to one hour a day, with no practising at all on Sunday.

In May, Biruta appeared to be satisfied with, or at least to tolerate this judgement, but in late July she reopened the case, being represented by her music teacher, a Mrs. Magda Stott. Mrs. Stott said that (a) Biruta needed more than one hour's warbling a day, and that (b) she had a temperament that benefitted from extensive practice at all times.

✧ ✧ ✧

MAGISTRATE SURPLESS, drawing again on his musical expertise, said he had heard of operatic stars who had practised every day for years without raising their voice above a whisper. Mrs. Stott said this would not do for Biruta. "The main thing she has to develop," she said, "is her resonance." This somewhat baffled Surpless, since it was Biruta's resonance, unprecedented in the experience of the residents of Flatbush, that had brought her into court. After talking about Demosthenes (Greek orator and philosopher) who practised oratory with his mouth full of pebbles, he suggested singing practice on the shores of Prospect Park Lake, about one mile from human habitation, or singing with some kind of muffling apparatus. To gauge if the latter was feasible, he asked Biruta to sing to the court at, he suggested, about half-throttle. Biruta gave him Gilda's aria from Rigoletto: and although it was clear that she was going on a tight rein from first note to last, everybody present agreed that her voice was remarkably audible.

Magistrate Surpless decided to think over the case, and had it adjourned until August 7, when he proposed to hear the Aubichons againagain. On the seventh, however, when the court assembled, it was found that the Aubichons had gone down South — seven hundred and thirty miles away—"for a good quiet rest." The case will be heard again later in the month.

ANYTHING, they say, can happen in America, and you would certainly think so after finding that in spite of the longest and most widespread drought in American history, this is going to be a year of plenty. The wheat crop is expected to be the second biggest ever, and the corn harvest will be the third biggest.

Some of the surplus over American requirements, which ordinarily would be exported, will have to be used as feeding stuff for stock farmers whose own feeding crops have been destroyed. But there will be millions of bushels available for overseas.

It now seems quite certain that the drought is not going to increase food prices over here this winter. This is good news, not only for Americans, but for all other peoples whose costs of living are affected by the cost of living in America.

✧ ✧ ✧

I SEE that judgement has been given in the curious case of Corporal Farcas. The Corporal, a Marine, bought a second-hand motor-car, which, he said, ran him up a bill for repairs of $700 in 80 days. He tried to interest the firm that sold him the car in refunding his money, but found them rather cool.

The Corporal thereupon painted upon his car—in three places—the word "lemon" in big golden letters, "lemon" over here meaning a "swindle"; and, to emphasize his point, he painted a large lemon on both front doors. Then he drove slowly round and round the block in which were situated the showrooms of the firm who sold him the car.

He was immediately arraigned in court under a Washington regulation which says that no vehicle can carry a slogan or design which "casts scorn, derision, or ridicule on any make of car." Though his attorney argued that enjoining Farcas from painting fruit on his car was interfering with his freedom of speech, the court said Farcas could take his choice between defructifying his car, paying a fine of up to $300, or going to jail for up to ninety days.

✧ ✧ ✧

AN AMERICAN AIRCRAFT firm claims to have sent a radio-guided boat over a course of nine hundred miles and to have brought it within half a mile of its objective. Their engineers dropped a lifeboat from an aeroplane and then, after the boat had landed on the water, transmitted a radio signal which was recorded in an auto-pilot mechanism attached to the steering gear of the boat. This pre-set a course for the boat, which it followed in spite of heavy weather and winds.

The main purpose of the experiment was to provide data for work being carried out in the search for a thoroughly reliable system by which courses can be pre-set for guided missiles. But the lifeboat will come in very handy—especially for casualties, or for fliers forced down in enemy waters. A boat will be dropped to them, they climb in and, without their having to move a finger, the boat heads for a safe port.

SANTA CLAUS is up for sale: price approximately $300,000. Santa Claus, however, is not a person but a village. It lies in the mid-eastern State of Indiana, and consists of half-a-dozen buildings, a restaurant, a miniature railway, and a small park with six reindeer in it. Its native population is thirty-eight; but at Christmas time two hundred people work in its post office.

One hundred years ago the village was called Santa Fee. In 1914 it qualified for a post office of its own, but the Government objected to its name, since it could be mistaken for another Santa Fee not far away. It happened to be Christmas time when this problem arose; so the inhabitants decided to re-Christen the town Santa Claus.

Later, it occurred to some parents living in nearby towns to send Christmas cards and toy-parcels through the Santa Claus post office, so that their children would receive them on Christmas Day with Father Christmas's own post-mark on them. A Corporation saw what a sellable idea this was and bought Santa Claus lock, stock and post office. Last year five million pieces of mail went through the Santa Claus office. Big department stores in Chicago and other mid-West cities, such as Marshall Field, arrange to tranship goods via the village for a few cents extra.

Having made a pile out of the fortunately named village, the corporation are selling out; but, to do its board members credit, they have announced that as a condition of sale any prospective buyer must agree not to commercialise and expand the present little hamlet. With its reindeer, Christmas trees and snowy little hills, it is a pleasant sight. This year one million visitors, chiefly children, are expected to attend its centennial celebration.

THE BIG STICK

The Korean Bombings

(NEW YORK TIMES)

THERE may be a tendency in some quarters to take the Communist propaganda line at its face value and believe that the real and only reason for the accelerated bombing attacks in North Korea is the desire to put pressure on the stalled negotiation at Panmunjom. Obviously the Communists want the world to think this and thus, by inference at least, condemn the bombing as a calculated move against peace.

In that line of reasoning are at least two mistakes. First, if the bombing were planned merely as a pressure move it would be designed to bring about a truce, not to prevent one. There is some ground for the belief that the Communists will yield only to a display of superior force and the bombing is one way of making the display. If the bombing is thoroughly effective and really damaging it may indicate to the Communists the military desirability of obtaining a respite even at the cost of yielding on the prisoner issue.

More important, however, is the fact that the bombing pattern is militarily sound. It is sound, indeed, to the point of being imperative. It has been repeatedly testified that the Communists have made use of every lull in operations brought about by truce hopes to increase their military strength behind the front. They actually obtained, for a period, a de facto armistice when they needed it worst.

Moreover, if there is a truce at any time in the near future any Communist concentration of men or materials or both will pose a continuing threat to South Korea and to the peace. In short, what must be done after a truce, for the sake of defence, will be determined in part by what is accomplished before the truce. The concentrations are there. The military potential is there, truce or no truce. The sensible thing to do, obviously, is to knock out as much of it as our air forces can.

The risk of killing civilians has been minimized as far as possible by warnings issued to the people of seventy-eight cities where Communist strength is concentrated. That is humane and wise. But if this war, like all wars, is cruel, let the world remember who started it, and let us not think that weakness on our part will end it.

Head Sale

('Punch')

The offer in the advertisement columns of The Times of a shrunken head for two hundred and fifty dollars has provoked an indignant letter to the Editor. In Peru twenty years ago, the writer declares, an Indian's head could be picked up for a couple of dollars, and a white man's for ten; "the price now asked in the advertisement would appear to be, therefore, approximately a hundred times what it used to be . . . " It certainly seems exorbitant. We can only think that the advertiser failed to make his proposition quite clear—he may be taking orders for particular heads.

"Huh?" was the three-year-old's response.

Came a wail from the four-year-old.

"Mommy, Bobby won't thick 'em up!"

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Now when he was in Jerusalem at the passover, in the feast day, many believed in his name, when they saw the miracles which he did. But Jesus did not commit himself unto them, because he knew all men, and needed not that any should testify of man: for he knew what was in man. (John 2:23-25.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Now as he walked by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew his brother casting a net into the sea: for they were fishers. And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men . . .

And they went into Capernaum; and straightway on the sabbath day he entered into the synagogue, and taught. And they were astonished at his doctrine: for he taught them as one that had authority, and not as the scribes.

And there was in the synagogue a man with an unclean spirit: and he cried out, saying, Let us alone; what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art, the Holy One of God.

And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the unclean spirit had torn him, and cried with a loud voice, he came out of him. And they were all amazed, insomuch that they questioned among themselves, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for with authority commandeth he even the unclean spirits, and they do obey him. (Mark 1:16, 17, 21-27.)

Copycat Ontario

(Vancouver Sun)

Ontario, it seems, has now paid British Columbia the highest compliment. It has dug up some kind of mangy sea monster in Lake Simcoe to rival the magnificent creatures that infest our waters here.

For no sooner had Kelowna concluded its splendid annual festival, complete with Ogopogo, than envious Ontario comes up with a sea beast with "a head about the size and shape of a bulldog's with shiny black fur."

How unspeakably pitiful!

In this province we have impressive monsters with heads like camels and even like horses, great writhing serpents that glare and undulate and churn up the water like Niagara's rapids.

The best Ontario can do, this province that used to crack the whip over the rest of Canada, is some peewee monstrosity with a little black fuzz on its neck.

There are three ways of looking at sea monsters.

There's a school of thought that maintains they are real. If this is so what a wretched show Ontario is putting up to stack a bulldog-headed fish up against Cadborosaurus.

Another view is that the sea monsters are alcoholic phantasms. If this is the case they must be shoving even more water in their whisky down there than we have here.

A third position is that sea monsters are pure inventions. Surely Ontario is not prepared to admit that their local liars, with such an impressive past, can do nothing better than a slobbering little monster with an underslung jaw?

BEHIND THE DOOR

Court Convicts Three Pickets

WATERLOO (CP)—Three pickets at the strikebound Sunshine Waterloo Company plant yesterday were convicted of besetting and given suspended sentences of two months

They were Norman Crabonneau, Bridgeport; Floyd Hintz, Conestogo, and Michael Keshak, Kitchener.

Similar charges against Steven Babey, Waterloo; Leo Uhrig, Kitchener, and Clare Fritz, St. Agatha, were dismissed.

Charges against 57 others were withdrawn.

Constable Norman Klaen failed to identify Fritz as having been in the picket line Aug. 6 when a company bus was allegedly prevented from leaving the premises. Uhrig and Babey told the court they were not in the picket line at the time the bus was stopped but they volunteered their names to the policeman.

The strike over wages has been in progress since July 3. About 300 employees are affected.

Marine Swims 8 Miles After Boat Upsets

CAIRO (Reuters) — A British Marine sergeant who swam eight miles to shore Sunday after his rubber dinghy overturned in the Mediterranean was turned over to British authorities Tuesday.

Egyptian planes and naval craft were looking for his companion, another marine.

Sgt. Edwin Moorhouse and his companion boarded the dinghy from the submarine Teredo during a three-day exercise. They were supposed to rendezvous with the submarine at midnight.

Bad weather overturned the craft and Moorhouse swam around for half an hour in the dark without finding his companion. He then headed for a lighthouse to the south. He said it took him five hours to reach shore.

Moorhouse was picked up by Egyptian coast guards on the alert for smugglers, and then held by the army until properly identified.

Have Mock Hanging Victim Nearly Dies

OTTAWA (CP)—Eight boys from four to 13 years of age played at "mock hanging" last night with 10-year-old Garnet Richens as the "victim."

He almost died.

Garnet was strung up by the neck with a six-foot length of silken cloth tied to a clothes-line pole in the back yard. While his friends watched, he was left to hang until he lost consciousness and—as a 13-year-old later said—"he turned blue."

He was cut down. Firemen were called and gave the boy oxygen during a dash to hospital. His condition is serious.

Canadian Publicity Reverses Trend

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Canadians, often puzzled over the years because Americans know so little about them, now suddenly find themselves the object of considerable attention.

Many American newspapers and magazines have within recent months, given Canada "the full treatment."

During the years of our obscurity in the American mind, some Canadians advocated that "something be done about it." Others felt that it was not a matter for worry.

Whichever way one felt, it did sometimes seem extraordinary that Americans paid so little attention to things Canadian, when similar events or personalities from almost any other country, no matter how minor, would be regarded as news.

MAKE UP OWN MINDS

This writer, in 1947, trying to assess the matter after a couple of years in the United States, wrote:

"Perhaps Canadians should not be unduly concerned, for balancing the lack of knowledge is an almost sub-conscious goodwill towards Canada.

"This goodwill wasn't won by turning handsprings for publicity's sake but, with due modesty, may be taken as a tribute to the general solidarity of the national character which in the long run makes itself felt across the border."

It was this writer's view, from what he could observe, that Americans would make up their own minds as to when we were a "story"—and that until that day came we would remain, to them, a land of snow, Mounted Police and multiple births.

It came almost as a surprise to many when our economic development suddenly became a "story" to Americans.

PUBLICITY FAVORABLE

The recent publicity for Canada in the United States has been, for the most part, favorable.

At the same time we can take it that as we come under closer examination, there will be times when we may receive more criticism than in the days when less was known about us and we were the recipients of "sub-conscious goodwill."

We shouldn't get too "chesty" about our new-found fame

It is true that we are an extraordinary country in that no other 14,000,000 people have ever had so much wealth under their control, with all its opportunities and responsibilities; and that our stature and potential influence in the world are far beyond the bare figures of our population.

Still, we are operating in a big league. Our gross natural product of more than $21,000,000,000 is a resounding figure; but the gross national product of our big neighbor is something like $330,900,000,000.

Deputy's Son Dies In Crash

FREDERICTON (CP)—FO. William McAlpine Moore, son of W. A. Moore, deputy minister of industry and development of New Brunswick, was killed in a car crash near here yesterday.

The 22-year-old jet pilot's body was found in muddy water in the bottom of an eight-foot ditch, under the wreckage.

Two companions, Gerald Sutherland and Frank Prime, were found unconscious about 20 feet away. Prime suffered a fractured left leg and shock. Sutherland, driver of the car, received body lacerations and severe shock.

The car apparently left the road, crashed into the ditch and plowed nearly 140 feet.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Al Rose writes that the U.S. lasses are forgetting to worship at the feet of crying crooners and are forming wrestling fan clubs, of all things! TV has in a sense brought the rippling-muscled pro grapplers right into the living rooms, the bobby-soxers squealing with delight at their colorful antics. Each hammerlock and half-nelson becomes an estatic experience and each girl has her crush on some 250-pound grunt-and-groaner. Testimonial dinners are given by these fan clubs to their favorite wrestlers. As a matter of fact, there's a Steve Stanlee Club organized now in Toronto with 1,000 members. He has shown here different times, being a muscular blond. A club emblem might well be a cauliflower ear made in wax. Ah, youth . . .

* * * * * *

Speaking of TV, there will be many a would-be television fan at Riverside tonight—weather permitting—when a set will be given away. It's baseball "booster night" with Belleville and Petes clashing in a C.O.B.L. fixture at 8:30, following an exhibition tilt betwixt Campbellford and the Young Petes. Admission ducat entitles one to a chance at the TV, outboard motor, radio, picnic grill, sport shirt, nylon hose and theatre tickets, with boys and girls getting a chance at a bike. Given away to kids are balls, gliders, balloons and ice cream bars. A large evening for all, with some keen diamond play dished up, as Petes lead the Quinte crew by but one game.

Some Changes In Rules

Football followers should know that there are several changes in grid rules this autumn. For instance, they have increased the blocking or running interference zone on kickoffs from the spot to which the ball travels back to the opposition's 45-yard kickoff point. The unlimited substitution continues but in-going players don't have to report now to the head linesman. That slowed changes up a lot. Officials in future put the ball into play 15 yards in from the side instead of 10 yards. That'll do away to some extent with the short side, as 'twas known. The shovel pass can be thrown this year in any manner behind the line of scrimmage.

* * * * * *

One other change provides for severe penalties when unauthorized persons invade the field of play, or when ineligible players go in from the side-lines to tackle a rival on a touchdown run. That, of course, is a result of such a play in Toronto last year—and the clannish Toronto scribes roared bitterly in print when an Ottawa guy hopped off the bench to down one of the Argos on a major score sprint. It just wasn't covered thoroughly in the book. Smart guys are always making the rule-writers work overtime—like the diamondeer years ago who concealed the ball in his mitt and threw a potato wild, then pegging the ball to nab the unsuspecting runner! As in war, surprise is still the greatest weapon in sports.

Puckists Seek Grouping

Petes' senior "B" puckists have applied for entry in a grouping with Orillia, Oshawa, Scarboro, Stouffville and possibly Newmarket. A meeting was held last eve at Scarboro Arena under chairmanship of Bunny Morganson, with Bill Hanley of the O.H.A. in attendance. Those going from here were: Jim Ellis, Ray Tanner, George Bennett, Gene Sheedy, Curly Alberico, Spiros Zakos and Fred Scates. They were promised a reply early in September. Oshawa preferred entry in the four-team East York Loop, but will not likely get in—so is expected in this other setup. Ditto Newmarket. Stouffville, Scarboro and Orillia appear definite entries.

* * * * * *

Word comes that pitcher Phil Clancy of the Petes has received his U. S. military call and will be leaving here the end of the week. The popular young righthander has been twirling fine ball for Joe Stewart's squad, and he will be missed. Locals are allowed a military replacement under O.B.A. rules and plan to use Doug. Loucks, late of the Lindsay intermediates who lost out to Bowmanville. Doug., of course, pitched senior several years ago for Peterborough. Secretary Carver of Belleville advises us that the present loop standing has Petes with 11 wins and nine losses, Belleville 11 and 10, and Kingston eight victories against 11 setbacks. Semi-finals are best-of-five, top team drawing the bye into the four-of-seven finals, dates to be set shortly by the executive.

CROSBY IN GOLF TOURNEY

U.E. Squad Defeats Revoy's In 8-5 Softball Struggle To Lead Semi-Finals 2 to 0

Harold Buck Legrow's U.E.W. softball nine extended their winning streak—in regular and playoff competition since July 1—to nine games, by handing Revoy Motors an 8-5 defeat Tuesday evening at the East City Bowl as senior men's city league semi-finals continued. The victory gives the steady shop crew a 2-0 edge over the motor lads, in a best-of-five series, with the third contest slated for Thursday night, at the Bowl. Seabrooke Motors opposed the Legrow pack in a smart exhibition game to complete a two-game card for a hefty crowd of fans, since Lakefield Merchants engaged Brooklin there in intermediate "C" playoffs, thus giving Seabrooke's till Thursday to renew their set with Tom Jenkin's popular squad. The latter hold a 1-0 edge at the moment. Red Sullivan's men won the afterpiece, 9-7.

WORKED HARD

Diminutive Jimmy Driscoll again toed the rubber for U.E. in the opener and edged out another win by stint of hard and reasonably effective twirling with airtight support afield. However, Mackness and company strove hard to make it a game, all the way. Walter Fife, one of Revoys' mainstays, took the hill instead of second base; and tolled for seven frames, allowing seven hits and six runs while striking out three and passing nine. Despite his tendency to wildness, Fife had but one bad frame, the third, when the boys in grey bashed five clean hits, one a triple by Leether, to score five runs, aided by two walks and a fielder's choice. Bert Fife finished up.

Driscoll fanned one, walked five and scattered nine hits fairly well, with the sixth his worst frame. Hits by Cowie, Nelson, Mackness and Whalen and two walks, enabled Revoys' to tally thrice and put Driscoll temporarily in jeopardy. He rallied nicely, however, to weather the storm.

LED CLOUTERS

Leading stickers for U.E., Leether, Legrow, White and Robson, each with two safeties, the skipper batting in a pair and scoring the same. For Revoys' Cowie, Nelson and Whalen each with two and Nelson two R.B.I.'s, besides a fielding show. Hayes, Whalen and Mackness shone afield as did the entire U.E. squad.

The nightcap saw both teams shifting lineups somewhat as the two top teams of regular season play put up their usual scrappy show. Buck Legrow ventured to the mound for U.E. to oppose Lefty Doris; but soon found the outfield preferable, yielding to Driscoll in the third after Seabrooke's heavy hickory smote him for six runs on four hits, three walks and an error. Driscoll twirled well for the final seven.

Terry Woods replaced Doris for the fifth after Lefty yielded one run and two hits, and the shop men took kindly to Woody in the sixth to plunk four runs across. They added singles in the seventh and ninth but couldn't quite overcome the early deficit. It was a good crowd-pleasing tilt to keep the boys of both squads well-tuned.

Lefty Doris had three safeties in five tries; Russ Scriver two for five, one a triple and two R.B.I.'s; and Terry Woods two bingles for the winners. Reg Leether and Buck Legrow had three for five and four respectively, for the losers. Fielding features of note were supplied by Len Williams, Speed Curry, Tom Walton (a dandy back of first), Bernie Robson and Neil Thompson.

St. Catharines Triumph Over Junior Queens For a 2-0 Lacrosse Lead

Costly fourth-quarter penalties placed Lou Vitarelli's junior Queens behind the eight-ball Tuesday night in their Ontario junior lacrosse semi-final series with St. Catharines. The Niagara peninsula lacrossers took advantage of the odd player practically throughout the quarter to squeeze out a 12-10 win in the last few minutes. They now lead the best-of-five series 2-0, returning to St. Catharines Thursday. The lead changed no less than six times in the game as the teams checked hard and worked both the goalies, Joe Hickson of the Queens and St. Kitts' Justin Howe thoroughly. The close play made tempers rise in the fourth.

Queens took an early 2-1 score, but fell back 4-2 at the first-quarter mark. They rallied in the second to tie the score five-all, but for a second time fell back 7-5 at the half.

FADED LATER

The Queens pressed early in the third for three goals, 8-7 for Peterborough. Then, as in the first half, they faded, allowing St. Kitts to score twice. Play followed the same pattern in the fourth, the Petes taking the lead, and St. Kitts taking it away.

St. Kitts' husky players and the smaller Queens began to high-stick and elbow early in the fourth. Finally, Doug Powell was penalized. Within a minute, with tempers flaring, Les Howard and Queens' Junior Daniels teed off after a shoving and pushing match. They were soon separated.

The action subsided. Then without any warning, the two renewed the battle in the penalty box where they sat out major penalties. This fracas lasted five minutes and ended in both receiving match misconducts.

ROUGHED IT UP

Both teams roughed as St. Kitts stalled to save their lead. First Carl Brioux and Doug Baldwin roughed, then Bob Batley and Bill Allen. After the final whistle was blown, Steve Morrissey and Jim Bradshaw high-sticked and threw down their gloves. They were separated quickly.

But tempers were still hot, and as the teams slowly left the field, there was milling and shoving, the odd punch finding its mark.

Referees Micky McDonald and Lou Vipond were targets for abuse from the few fans for their poor officiating. But both referees handed out penalties which were well-earned.

The Queens should have won. They lost on faceoffs and loose balls which the St. Kitts' team controlled from start to finish. Most of St. Kitts' goals came after they had scooped up a loose ball which the Queens missed. Even then the losers got more than their share of the play.

Lineups:

St. Catherines — Goal, Howe; defence, Martin, May; centre, Bradshaw; wings, Baldwin, Howard; rover, Conradi; alt. B. Daniels, McGrath, Allan, Cox, L. Howard, Charles.

Queens — Goal, Hickson; defence, Groves, Brioux; centre, Smith; wings, O'Reilly, Batley; rover, Mullins; alt. Daniels, McIlmoyle, Powell, Fitzgerald, Morrissey.

Rough Riders' Coach Facing Big Problem

OTTAWA (CP)—Clem Crowe isn't crowing.

The Ottawa Rough Riders coach looks at some of the college "hopefuls" on his bench and remembers a Gain—big Bob Gain, the 235-pound Kentucky University middle, who thrilled Ottawa fans last year with his sparkling smash-through, making matchwork of enemy lines.

Gain has returned to the United States, called by the army draft, and Crowe, trying hard to muster a team which can defend the Grey Cup championship, misses him.

HE'LL TRY HARD

Crowe, a clever football man right back from the days when he was one of Knute Rockne's famed "seven mules," has no rosy predictions about the Riders' chances of retaining the Dominion championship. But that doesn't mean he won't try hard.

Some of the old team stalwarts are here to aid him as the Riders prepare for the Big Four football opener in Montreal against the Alouettes Aug. 27.

Crowe is also looking for new material. He's got 34 men, including 10 imports, but is giving out no clues as to who will remain.

The Riders were licked 24-6 by Winnipeg Blue Bombers in an exhibition game, but Ottawa supporters claim that was no true indication of how the team will develop.

Crowe himself picks Hamilton Tiger-Cats as the biggest Big Four threat, with Toronto next and Montreal in the last spot.

GOOD MEN ON TAP

Meanwhile, here's how the team shapes up. Tom O'Malley, who quarterbacked Riders' Grey Cup win over Saskatchewan Roughriders last November, will have the support of two American giants: Harry Ulinski, 245-pound, six-foot-four snap who was with Washington Redskins last year, and Lloyd McDermott, 250-pound University of Kentucky middle who played for two years with Chicago Cardinals.

Holdovers from last year's imports are Bill Stanton, outside; Alton Baldwin, pass-catching end, and lineman John Bovey. Howie Turner, Riders' star running half, and John Wagoner, All-Star lineman, are classed as Canadians this year.

Canadians back with the team are Bruce Cummings, kicking half; Don Loney, snap; Benny MacDonell, Buck Rogers, Matt Anthony an Pete Karpuk, the football daredevil who leaped from the bench last year and neatly tackled an opponent on the field.

Gino Mazzanti, half, formerly with Crowe in Baltimore and a college star at Arkansas; Bill Chambers, six-foot-two middle with Montreal last season and former New York Yankee, and Choo-Choo Roberts, backfielder with Alouettes last season, are among other imports.

Also among the 34 men on the Rider bench are seven college youngsters, various district high-school hopefuls and a handful of second-string players from last year.

Two Canadians Still In Running For U.S. Amateur Golf Crown

SEATTLE (CP)—Two Canadians remained in the hunt today as the United States amateur golf championships went into a two-a-day routine to whittle the field down to the top 16 by nightfall.

Walter McElroy of Vancouver, Canadian amateur titleholder, established himself as a third-round favorite over Dan Silvestri of Sharp Park, Calif., on the strength of a 5-and-3 victory yesterday over Warren G. Campbell of Seattle.

MAWHINNEY EVEN MONEY

Fellowtownsman Bill Mawhinney, a former Canadian amateur champion, was rated an even choice against veteran Bruce McCormick of Hollywood. Mawhinney's second-round victim was Dirk Prather of Litchfield Park, Ariz.

A third Vancouver entry, Percy Clogg, put up a gallant struggle before bowing to one of the favorites, Walker Cupper Jimmy McHale of Mamaroneck, N.Y., 2 and 1.

Pete Kelly of Fredericton, who got past the first round on a bye, was blasted by Jim Molinari, a San Francisco policeman, 6 and 5. Toronto's Phil Farley bowed by the same score to Johnny Dawson, a Palm Springs, Calif., veteran.

Wesley Ellis, Jr., of Austin, Tex., accounted for the remaining Canadian, Nick Weslock of Windsor, Ont., 4 and 2.

Such ranking favorites as Frank Stranahan, Harvie Ward, Jr., and Charlie Coe staved off elimination, but there were two big upsets.

GAGLIARDI KNOCKED OUT

The first came when Robert W. Kuntz of Larchmont, N.Y., former Yale captain and U.S. Marine, eliminated Joe Gagliardi of Mamaroneck, N.Y., runner-up for the crown at Bethlehem, Pa., last year. Kuntz won, 1 up.

The second came when Billy Jo Patton of Morganton, N.C., ended the one-day joy of 18-year-old Ira Gruber, Duke University star from Pottstown, Pa. Gruber made the headlines in the first round when he defeated the defending champion, another Billy Jo, however, 3 and 2.

Par at the Seattle club is 35-36—71 for its 6,632 yards.

Players say the course is most deceptive. "It starts out easy," said one. "Then before you fully realize what you are into, it gets tougher and tougher. Coming home on the back side it can be murder."

Phils Outslug Pirates 10-5 Yankees Bow 3-1 To Chicago White Sox

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer

Who is the best pitcher in baseball today? The folks of Pottstown, Pa., point to their Bobby Shantz, the pint-sized southpaw of the Athletics. On the other hand, the citizens of Springfield, Ill., favor their Robin Roberts, pride of the Phillies. At any rate, the Philadelphia clubs own the only 20-game winners in the major leagues today. Shantz was the first to reach the charmed circle, notching his 20th triumph Aug. 5. Roberts, who joined him yesterday, became the first National Leaguer to reach that total.

Roberts last night coasted to his 22nd complete game in 28 starts as the Phils outslugged Pittsburgh 10-5. The Pirates scored four times in the last two innings after the Phils had built up a 9-1 lead. It marked the third straight year that the 25-year-old righthander has reached the 20-win mark.

The Athletics didn't need the service of Shantz as they swept a double header from the lowly Detroit Tigers 4-3 and 6-5 to climb into a fifth-place tie with Chicago and advance within nine games of the pace-setting New York Yankees.

Although beaten 3-1 by the White Sox, the Yankees retained their two-game advantage over the runner-up Cleveland Indians who dropped a heart-breaking 6-5 decision to the Red Sox in Boston. Washington clung to fourth place, edging out St. Louis Browns 2-1.

The National League race tightened appreciably as Cincinnati Reds held the front-running Brooklyn Dodgers to a split in their doubleheader while New York Giants, St. Louis Cardinals and Phillies all won.

The Reds won their first game of the year from Brooklyn in Cincinnati as they snapped a 3-3 tie in the eighth inning to take a 5-3 nightcap win after the Brooks had won the opener 3-0. Ted Kluszewski's two-out triple with two runners on base provided the winning runs. Preacher Roe's five-hit pitching in the opener featured Brooklyn's ninth straight at Crosley Field.

GIANTS WIN TWO

The Leo Durocherless New York Giants sliced Brooklyn's lead to 6½ games, sweeping a pair from the Cubs in Chicago 5-0 and 3-1. Sal Maglie was razor-sharp again, twirling an eight-hit shutout in the opener as he went the distance for the first time since June 26. It was the fifth shutout and the second straight win for the 35-year-old veteran who was out for a month with an aching back. Bobby Thomson's two-run homer was the difference in the nightcap.

The third-place Cardinals moved to within 8½ games of the top, defeating Boston Braves 7-5 on the strength of two-run homers by rookie Vern Benson and Red Schoendienst.

Remember When—

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Brooklyn Dodgers and Chicago Cubs were both without managers at the finish as the Cubs gained a 6-2 victory 11 years ago today in a turbulent contest. Leo (Lippy) Durocher of Dodgers and Jimmy Wilson of Cubs suffered banishment after lively discussions with the umpires.

Apprentice Jockey Would Like To Finish

CHICAGO (AP)—William Cox, an apprentice jockey, would be happy just to finish a race—let alone win one.

On Monday his mount, Clover Miss, dropped dead from a heart attack in the stretch at Washington Park.

Yesterday Cox was aboard Blue Bar and in the lead at the head of the stretch. Blue Bar suddenly bolted through the turf hedge and off the track. Cox was thrown but unhurt.

Use Millions Of Germs In Experiment

CHALK RIVER (CP)—Millions of germs in small glasses are being used by Canadian scientists to study the rangers of atomic irradiation to future generations of human beings.

Paralleling work going on in England and elsewhere, the scientists are trying to find out what happens to the human insides and what hereditary changes are provoked when people are exposed to irradiation such as that in the atomic bomb blasts at Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

Bacteria are being used because their generations average 20 minutes compared to 30 years for human beings. Thus in about three years they pass through the same number of generations as human beings have gone through in their 2,000,000 years of existence.

MUST LEARN ANSWER

Further, the bacteria have the great advantage of being so minute that 5,000,000 of them can be concentrated on a piece of jelly in a four-inch glass dish.

The main reason for the study, officials say, is that no country "can afford to remain in ignorance" of the dangers of irradiation in an era such as this. The Chalk River atomic reactor offers controlled irradiation for the tests.

Centenary Women Plan August Bazaar

ROSENEATH (ENS)—Planning their annual bazaar was the highlight of the business period of the August meeting of Centenary W. A. The bazaar will be held August 30 in the Roseneath township hall.

The meeting was held in Centenary church on Thursday evening. The vice-president, Mrs. Salis Sherwin, presided over the worship service. The baptism of Jesus was the topic with appropriate hymns with Mrs. Arnold Elder at the organ.

The treasurer Mrs. Reginald Timlin, reported a balance on hand of $64.61.

The sum of $18 was reported realized from sales of needlework during the month.

Mrs. Ernest Burrison, program convener, announced the following numbers on the program: a paper, "The Very Fine Art of Forgetting," by Mrs. Neil Sherwin; a reading, "Burden Bearer", by Mrs. Walton Lean; a quiz on stars was won by Mrs. Neil Sherwin's group; Miss Emma Sherwin read "The Way" and the program concluded with Mrs. Reginald Timlin giving a humorous number "People Will Talk." A birthday prize was won by Edward Lean.

Lunch was served by a lunch committee, Mrs. Delbert Sherwin, Mrs. Newman Lean, Mrs. Reginald Timlin and Miss Emma Sherwin.

HOPPE UP—Nineteen-year-old Jo Hoppe, in regal regalia, smiles happily after being crowned "Miss Chicago." She will compete in the annual Atlantic City beauty pageant.

Labor Force Not Enough To Meet Demand

WINNIPEG (CP)—Labor Minister Gregg said today Canada's 5,000,000-man labor force is not big enough to meet both the needs of her big defence program and her vast industrial expansion.

He appealed to labor to help build it up.

In an address prepared for delivery to the annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, he said industrial expansion is competing in manpower with "a defence program which we simply cannot afford to reduce until our rearmament drive levels off to a 'care and maintenance' basis.

HARD PULL

"And that time is not yet. It is not expected that Canada will reap the rewards of the strain our economy is undergoing until 1954 or 1955. In the meantime, it is a hard pull."

Labor had been hesitant to raise its sights on apprenticeship quotas "for fear of diluting union strength with too many competing for employment in skilled trades." On the other hand "some employers' groups are reluctant to train apprentices in their plants for various reasons."

A larger labor force would allow the heavy burden of expenditures to be shared among more people, with a consequent reduction in each share.

DEFINE 'HIGH SEAS'

"High seas" is a term of international law denoting the whole extent of sea which is not under the sovereignty of any state.

CAREFUL THERE!—The Commons and Senate have separate staffs, including cleaners called "whitewings," to do various jobs around the Parliament Buildings. The whitewings clean only their own section of the buildings by agreement. Here Commons whitewing William Henbrey, left, warns Senate whitewing Thomas Brule not to flick Senate ashes on the Commons side of the building.

Senate, House Have Own Staffs But Can't Wear Same Uniforms

By H.D. JONES

OTTAWA (CP)—Why must the page boys in Canada's Senate wear white ties, and those in the Commons black ones?

The Senate and Commons cleaning staffs wear different uniforms, and they clean only to each side of an imaginary line in the halls of Parliament.

Tradition is the answer, and on Parliament Hill tradition dies hard. Even those traditions governing staff uniforms stem right from the constitution itself.

STRICTLY SEPARATE

The Fathers of Confederation laid it down that there should be two separate Houses of Parliament, the Senate and Commons. When the two chambers were set up, they established separate staffs. And the Senate, patterned after Britain's House of Lords and jealously guarding its rights, dressed its staff in a more formal style than the Commons when uniforms were ordered, to show its independent status.

So to this day the Senate and Commons have separate stenographic pools, separate police services, post offices, barber shops, messenger and page staffs, reading rooms and cleaning corps.

There have been suggestions the two staffs, or some parts of them, might be amalgamated in the interests of economy. Ross Thatcher, C.C.F. member from Moose Jaw, Sask., told the Commons he could not see the necessity of all the separate services.

Other members disagreed. They said any amalgamation might result in some old-timers losing their jobs. They would rather see two staffs retained than put veteran workers out of a job.

SENATORS OPPOSE CHANGE

Those who speak for the Senate oppose any move toward staff amalgamation. They say there would be little or no saving; but more important, they feel any such merger even on the staff level might be the thin edge of the wedge for eventual engulfment of the Senate by the larger House of Commons.

The imaginary dividing line is a stairway just east of the main entrance hall to the Parliament Buildings.

The char staffs of the two houses, working up to the dividing line, make one exception for the Press Gallery. It is on the Senate side of the building, but is cleaned by the Commons char staff.

LARGER COMMONS STAFF

Actually the Commons workers have far more services than the Senate. The Commons staff includes a barber shop with two barbers, a shoe-shiner and a masseur; an upholstery shop to keep Commons-side furniture and drapes in shape; two locksmiths and three carpenters.

The Senate has one barber, Jack Reynolds, who doubles as a messenger. He is reported to be the favorite barber of Prime Minister St. Laurent.

The Senate also has a handyman who does almost anything from odd carpentry jobs to fixing locks and doors. There are two curators in the Senate reading room compared to five in the Commons reading room. Senate stenographers number 18 during the session and six between sittings, compared with 169 and 40 for the Commons.

General administration for the House of Commons for the next fiscal year is estimated at $1,651,893, and for the Senate $393,448.

Say U.K. Loses Tea-Making Art

LONDON (AP)—Have tea-drinkers lost the art of making tea? The world's big tea producers think so and are worried about it.

They claim a dozen years of rationing have knocked the know-how out of British tea-making. They say a whole generation of Britons have never had a decent cup of tea.

The main trouble, a survey showed, is that British mothers don't use enough tea, nor do they brew it properly. Some don't even use a pot but dip tea bags into cups of hot water—anathema of old-style tea drinkers.

To put things right, the tea kings have launched a campaign to bring Britain back to the right way of making tea.

Worth Waiting For

At the tail end of summer many people are having holiday weather others wish they had had in rush time of July. Days are bright and sunny and the nights cool off with little humidity to bother them. Vacationers earlier in the summer had a lot of muggy weather to put up with and the holidays seem so long ago. It looks as if the late starters are getting something worth waiting for.

369 Boys Attend Y's Men's Camp On Clear Lake

Three hundred and sixty-nine hungry boys attended the Y's Men's summer camp on Clear Lake during its six-week term this summer.

The fact that they were hungry is attested to by the quantities of several staples they consumed during that time. They were helped by 49 councillors, a nurse and cook and other staff members.

In those six weeks, the 420 boys and councillors and staff ate 72 chickens, 43 dozen loaves of bread, 240 dozen eggs and 2,622 quarts of milk.

For each person, that meant: more than a pound of chicken, more than a loaf of bread, a little more than seven eggs, and more than six quarts of milk.

BEST CAMP YET

Head of the Y's Men's camp committee, William Moorehead, said it was the best camp they'd ever had. All camp equipment was in excellent shape, and a new cabin was built to house the cook.

Mr. Moorehead complimented Bill McFarlane, boys' work secretary at the Y.M.C.A., on his work as camp director, and said much of the camp's success was due to Mr. McFarlane. Camp nurse was Mrs. E. Hewitt, Dobbin Ave., and cook was Mrs. Bearne Wagner, whose husband helped keep the camp in trim.

United Churches To Start Evangelism

HAMILTON (CP)—Extension of the use of newspapers, magazines, radio and television in promoting evangelism is suggested by the Toronto East presbytery in a resolution to be considered by the 15th general council of the United Church of Canada at its 10-day meeting starting here Sept. 10.

The Bay of Quinte, Toronto and London conferences have joined in asking the church to appoint a "properly qualified, mature clergyman" to supervise the teaching of religion to United Church students in Ontario normal schools.

The Alberta conference asks for special recruiting officers to seek out and enlist young men and women for the full-time services of the church.

Grey presbytery has a request to general council to urge the CBC to stop reporting the names of winners of Irish sweepstakes.

Several presbyteries want the general council to review the decision of a past general council on the question of marrying divorced persons.

3 Boys Stopped Rolling Car Away

Three teen age boys who fled from the Canada Packers parking lot on George St., Tuesday night, when an employee of the company caught them pushing one of the cars will be questioned by city detectives today.

The three had moved the car about 100 yards from where it was parked when an unidentified man working in the Canada Packers plant scared them away.

In his haste to get away, one of the boys left his bicycle behind. A check on the licence number revealed his identity and Constable Arthur Beardsmore later learned the names of two other boys involved.

While the investigation was being carried out, Fred Pelky, 620 Monaghan Rd., phoned the police station to report that his car, parked on the same lot had been ransacked and two ornaments were missing.

Both Mr. Pelky and the owner of the car the boys were seen pushing declined to lay charges. Constable Douglas Farthing is investigating.

Quaker Manager In England W. H. White Dies

Former resident of Peterborough and a frequent visitor to the city, William H. White, 54, managing director of Quaker Oats Ltd. in England, died suddenly Tuesday of complications after an appendics operation.

Mr. White was also chairman of the executive committee in charge of all Quaker Oats operations in Europe.

A native of Collingwood, Mr. White joined the company in 1917 and until about 1926 worked in the United States. He then came to Canada as flour and feed sales manager for about four years and then was sent out west as manager of the plant in Saskatoon, Sask., and was moved to England in 1939 where he became managing director.

He is survived by his widow, one daughter, Mrs. William Veit, London, Eng., and a son William Jr., of Chicago.

Mr. White had a wide circle of friends in Peterborough. He visited the city whenever he visited North America.

English Busmen Impressed

LONDON (AP)—Nine cockney busmen came home today from a 12,000-mile tour of Canada and the United States and told of a continent crowded with mountains of food, well - dressed women and looney blokes who drink their tea with ice in it.

The cockneys took their towering double-deckers abroad five months ago as a tourist-drawing stunt but they got an eyeful themselves.

Albert C. Dennis startled staid Britons at a London reception for the busmen by declaring that "temperature, just temperature, is what makes American women, especially those in California, more attractive than those over here."

Dennis hastily explained that what he meant was that the milder weather in the United States allows women to wear lightweight and therefore more attractive clothes.

The three buses visited Peterborough July 20 and many a citizen here got his first look at a two-decker English bus while many ex-servicemen nostalgically renewed old acquaintances.

Ajax Legion Fined $500 In Liquor Case

WHITBY (Special).—The Ajax branch of the Canadian Legion was assessed $500 with the option of a 60 day jail term for its treasurer, who accepted responsibility by Magistrate R. B. Locke in Whitby court Tuesday for the illegal possession of liquor.

The Legion treasurer, William Sloane who appeared as the defendant was told by the magistrate, "I warn you that you had better have a talk with your president and the other officers. This is your second offence and if there should be a third offence something of a very serious nature will happen to your whole organization.

"It is unfortunate that the Legion, an organization of which I am a member, should find itself in this position, but the law of the province has to apply."

Sergeant Fred White of the Pickering police testified that in response to numerous complaints he went to the Legion Hall at 11.50 p.m. August 4. He seized 13 large cartons of beer, several small cartons and a large number of empties. Sloane, he said, assumed all responsibility.

Crown Attorney Alex Hall, pointed out that on May 2, 1951, the Ajax branch of the Legion had been convicted on a similar charge.

Caretakers Shining Up P.C.V.S. Bright As New

While some collegiate students will be going to the new Kenner collegiate this September, the majority of high school students will be attending P.C.V.S. as usual. Maybe it's not a new building but it'll be looking as bright as new. During the past couple of months, since school closed in June, Sam Castle and his six-man maintenance staff have been scouring the building from basement to roof.

One of the staff's largest undertakings is just beginning this week. That's cleaning the school's some 335 outside windows, numbering about 1,250 panes of glass. Inside the building there are an additional 300 windows in doors, cupboards and hallways which will feel a cleaning rag, soap and water before September 2.

Meanwhile the cleaning job as well as repair work continues by other men. There's floors to clean and wax, stairs to shine, classrooms to arrange.

FLOORS VARNISHED

Already this year the maintenance staff has followed its annual program of varnishing floors in at least 10 rooms. Every year the workers varnish room floors to keep the dust down. This program continues annually until all room floors are done.

Important to parents is the fact that the lockers are thoroughly washed. This year the caretakers washed and disinfected nearly 1,100 lockers.

Another fairly large job this summer was varnishing the large gym floor. Last year the staff sanded the large gym floor, then varnished it. Again after a term of daily activity the floor is shining.

ASPHALT STAIRS

The main stairway in the academic department will have a new look this term. The stairs are now of asphalt, work by a Belleville contractor. The stairs were formerly wooden treads which wear out every six years.

Also in the academic side the main floor is now of brown linoleum. This floor is noted by students for its loud creaking when anyone passes over it. Now even the heaviest of the athletes can thump down that stretch without disturbing all the classes.

Seek To Establish Hitchhiker's Identity

MONTREAL (CP)—Provincial police today sought to establish the identity of a hitchhiker killed in an automobile accident Sunday at Pointe du Lac, near Three Rivers.

He carried in his pockets R.C.A.F. furlough papers, a driver's licence in the name of Ralph Webster Eveleigh, another paper with the same name and the address St. Paul's Ont.

Police here said Ontario provincial police had attempted to find relatives of the man in St. Paul's without success.

Haliburton Man Has Portraits Painted In 1732

A Haliburton man, G. M. Yarnold, has oil portraits painted in 1732 of his great-great-great-great-great-great - grandparents. He can also trace his ancestry back to the time William the Conqueror landed at Brexhill to conquer Harold of England.

FORMER C.N.R. EMPLOYEE

Mr. Yarnold, for many years an employee of the C.N.R. at Haliburton, doesn't like to boast of either his ancestry or possessions. The two paintings are slightly checked with age, enclosed in broad-bordered gilt frames and exceedingly lifelike.

For many years, the portraits were in possession of his aunt in Memphis, Tenn. She handed them over to R. J. Yarnold, Mr. Yarnold's father, who passed them on to his son.

In addition to the portraits, the Yarnolds have two stuffed birds —believed to be quail of some kind—that were shot in California about 200 years ago. They possess as well a wine glass known to be more than 200 years old.

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario Labor Relations Board today announced dismissal of an application from Local 299, International Brotherhood of Teamsters (A.F.L.) for certification as bargaining agent for employees of the A. H. Boulton Co. Ltd., of Windsor.

The board said the local union is located in Detroit and that affairs of the local are "entirely controlled" from there.

"We are not satisfied that the applicant subsists in any true sense within the province and have therefore concluded that it is not entitled to the certification requested."

Niagara Hydro History Told To Rotary Club

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS)—Rotarians here heard a talk on hydro by Hilton Beatty of Campbellford when they met at their regular noon luncheon meeting Monday.

"Niagara Falls," said the speaker, "is the logical place to start any talk concerning hydro electric development in Ontario." The first record of the falls was written in the year 1678 by a priest sent out on a discovery party by La Salle. Jumping 200 years to 1878, Lord Dufferin visited the falls, and at his instigation a parks commission was set up on both sides of the border. The many commercial enterprises which had sprung up to rob the tourist were expelled from the area and the commission was given authority over 154 acres of park land. This commission found that they had to find a more lucrative source of revenue, and decided to sell power to balance the budget.

An American company tried as early as 1853 to develop the falls, and after spending a million dollars, went broke. They sold out to Jacob Schollkoff for $76,000 in 1877. In 1881 the first generator of 50,000 h.p. was ready for use. Transmission was the problem, as there was no knowledge then of high voltage transmission. By 1896, Buffalo was lit from this plant and in 1905, Syracuse followed suit.

Ferranti discovered high voltage transmission in England in 1889, and this enabled the falls to forge ahead. In the same year, American capitalists applied to the Parks Commission for the right to generate power on the Canadian side. Later it was taken up, and 50,000 horsepower were ready by 1904. The Ontario Power Company planned a 180,000 development below the falls, and by 1914 fourteen generators were served by a pipe line from a mile above the crest.

A third company sponsored by a group of Toronto financiers, named the Electrical Development Company was then formed, and had 50,000 h.p. ready for the city of Toronto by 1907. The Cataract Power Company had also developed 3,000 h.p. and had acquired control of all the available power they could lay hands on in Western Ontario.

The result was that these four companies had a monopoly and prices were high. Service was fed only into the large centres. Much coal was used in generating the power, but a coal strike in 1902 made this too costly. There was no competition in most areas, and a resolution passed at Berlin asked the government to build and operate the transmission lines themselves. The Ross government was favorable to this idea, but was defeated at the poles.

Adam Beck, mayor of London, Ontario, was chief of the organizers seeking government sponsorship of the project. J. P. Whitney became premier and in 1905 an act was passed by the legislature creating the Hydro Electric Power Commission of Ontario. Engineers were engaged and Adam Beck became the first chairman, serving from 1906 to 1925, the first 12 years without pay.

The powers of the Commission were extended by various acts from time to time. Within a year and a half, 300 miles of lines had been erected and in 1910, the first power was delivered to the town of Berlin. In February, 1911, Toronto was served with power and the total load to the city was about 3,500 h.p. In 1916 the Central Ontario System was purchased and this included the plants on the Trent system.

The assets of the H.E.P.C. today are one billion, 71 million dollars. Niagara has grown until it now produces 804,000 h.p. The employees of the Commission number about 25,000. The East Central region, of which this area is a part, includes about 750 employees and has 5,600 miles of distribution and about 2,000 miles of high tension lines. The primary peak load of the Commission is 4,111,000 h.p.

President Frank DeCarroll thanked the speaker for his informative talk.

Results Algae Research To Be Given

Summer Experiments Hope To Find Solution To Algae

Results of research into algae control will be reviewed Thursday at a meeting in Lindsay of the committee set up by the provincial government this spring to find means of dealing with the problem.

Dr. Hector McKay has been doing research all summer at his laboratory in the Lindsay pumphouse and he will be outlining his findings and the results of the experiments he has been carrying out.

In recent years, the green scourge has become steadily worse, polluting the waters of the Kawartha lakes to the point where it was threatening the district's valuable tourist business.

This spring, the provincial government set up a committee made up of representatives of the department of lands and forests, health and public works, and the National Research Council to study the problem.

$20,000 FOR JOB

Hon. Harold Scott, then minister of lands and forests announced at the time that the government was appropriating $20,000 to finance research in order to find methods of overcoming the menace.

So far, those taking part in the research project have declined to comment on their findings.

However, it has been learned from a reliable source that a parasite has been found which thrives on algae and experiments have revealed its effectiveness. Fish are reported to have an appetite for the parasites, which in turn prevents the parasites from becoming a nuisance.

Paradoxically, the algae nuisance which has become increasingly worse every year has been less noticeable in the Kawarthas this year. Only once this summer has it appeared in any quantity, when the level of Sturgeon Lake dropped a few inches. The next week the water level rose and it disappeared.

After hearing reports of research findings, the committee may be accompanied by Premier Leslie Frost on a trip to Sturgeon Lake via the Scugog River to view the results of the algae control experiments.

2 Night Workers Injured At C.G.E.

Two C.G.E. night shift workers were injured, one seriously in two accidents in the plant during the night.

Company officials declined to reveal today how Robert Payne, 21, 638 Park St., north, was injured. His right hand was so badly mangled that he was taken to the operating room as soon as he was admitted to Civic Hospital. It was learned today that Payne's hand may have to be amputated.

Less seriously injured was Frank Coughlin, 20, of Ennismore, who had two of his fingers badly lacerated when he caught them in a punch press.

7 New Polio Cases In Essex County

WINDSOR (CP)—Seven new polio cases reported during the past week have boosted Essex County's polio total this year to 13 cases, Dr. John Howie, medical officer of health, said today.

Ten adults and three children suffered mild polio attacks he said. Last year's mid-August polio total was 40 cases.

Figuring Cost of Living Index

1,600 Grocers and Butchers Provide Monthly Prices

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Co-operation of Canadian commerce is an essential prop of the new consumer price index. It would just be a dream without the help of thousands of business men from coast to coast.

Each month, some 1,600 grocers and butchers, for instance, must provide price quotations before the Bureau of Statistics can assess just which way food prices are going.

Department stores, handling about one-third of Canada's clothing trade, provide figures for about three dozen items before the clothing section can be computed.

Hundreds on hundreds of letters, telegrams and telephone calls are channelled into the bureau's prices section each month as the business man takes time out to help the government man in the public interest.

BIG RESEARCH JOB

Thus the bureau enlists the aid of the Canadian retail trade to let the consumer know how prices change. The bureau, of course, has men of its own on the job, too. A bureau field man is located in each of Canada's 16 major cities. He make the rounds from store to store, pricing shoes and hats, butter and meat; the cost of a hair cut and of pants-pressing, among other items.

The rent index is issued on a quarterly basis, so every three months bureau men go from door to door in selected districts of some 30 cities, finding out what is paid for rent.

In most cases, this vast fund of information is used to build up a single price of selected commodities. Each item is carefully weighed. Food counts more than rent, because food is more basic and more important in the survival of the family. Rent in turn is considered more important than clothing and consequently carries slightly more weight than clothing in compilation of the whole index figure.

The process for the new consumer prices index, to replace the current cost-of-living index, will be about the same as for the old index. But things will be harder for the compilers. The new barometer of retail price fluctuations will cover a lot more ground, reporting the price fluctuations on some 225 items compared with 160 in the current index.

SPENDING HABITS

This expanded list resulted from a survey of buying habits in 1948-49. Bureau men knocked on the doors of average families in some 27 cities. They found these families earning more and spending more.

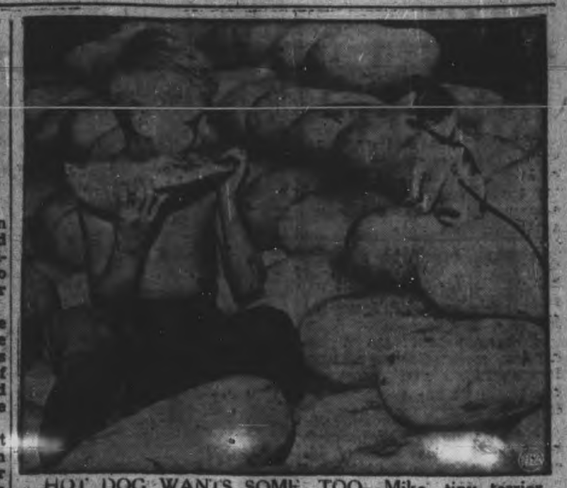
Details of this spending will likely be disclosed when the new index appears later this year, perhaps for October. Meanwhile this is what the last previous survey of typical spending habits in 1938 disclosed:

The average wage-earning family consumed about 10½ quarts of milk every week, 2.8 pounds of butter and less than one-half pound of cheese. It purchased about 10 pounds of meat and fish, 12 pounds of bread, five pounds of sugar and 12 pounds of potatoes.

On a yearly basis at that time the family ran through 21 tubes of tooth paste, 8.7 tooth brushes, five tubes of shaving cream, 25 packages of soap flakes and 24 bars of laundry soap.

The women's side of the same average household bought five pairs of rayon panties a year, one pair of woollen-mixture panties and about two nightgowns.

PRIME MINISTER WINSTON CHURCHILL, a grandpa for the sixth time, hovers in the background as his daughter Mary holds her two-months-old son Bernard Jeremy after a christening ceremony at Westerham, England. The baby's father is Captain Christopher Soames. Viscount Montgomery, godfather of the christened baby, gestures at right as he holds the hand of Christopher Soames, Jr., 4-year-old brother of baby Bernard.



School Sells Ancient Copy Of Magna Carta

WELLS, England (Reuters)—An old English boys' school disclosed yesterday it has sold an authenticated copy of the Magna Carta to the Australian government for £12,500.

Headmaster G. S. Sale said the document was found among the King's School archives 16 years ago—presumably the property of some earlier headmaster. He said the 402-year-old school would use the funds for new buildings.

The unblemished parchment copy, dated 1297, is a confirmation by King Edward I of the charter sealed by King John at Runnymede in 1215. The charter broke the autocratic powers of English sovereigns and formed a legal basis for democratic government.

The document is one of 14 in existence.

HOT DOG WANTS SOME, TOO—Mike, tiny terrier perched on a pile of watermelons, asks "Don't I get some, too?" His eight-year-old master, Robert Fenstermaker, of Allentown, Pa., was ear-deep in melon but took time out to give his pup a big cool piece.

Charge U.S. Pressure Influenced Referees

MOSCOW (AP) — Vladimir Kazantzev, a Russian Olympic steeplechase runner, said yesterday United States pressure caused some referees to reduce performances of Soviet athletes in the last days of the recent Helsinki games.

Writing in Komsomol Pravda, the athlete said sportsmanship in general was "good," but added:

"Undoubtedly the worsening in quality of judging in last days was connected with the pressure of American businessmen on the sport. To satisfy them, some referees forgot the words of the Olympic oath and marked downwards performances of Soviet athletes."

Hail Damage Heavy

DELHI (CP)—Damage estimated at close to $500,000 was caused by a brief hail storm which hit the tobacco crop on some 15 Brant county farms south of Scotland Monday. It was thought 1,000,000 pounds of tobacco was destroyed. Growers said crop damage ranged from 55 to 100 per cent.

$32,207 Writs Served On Man

VANCOUVER (CP)—A man who said he wanted to find two of Canada's 10 most wanted criminals, yesterday was found guilty of possessing narcotics and served with writs suing him for $32,207.

John George Heddy, 34, will be sentenced Monday on the narcotics charge.

The writs were served for two women who say they have notes for $32,207. Mrs. Annie E. Rice claims $30,000 plus $284 interest and Phyllis E. Croft claims $2,823.

During his trial Heddy said he had been cultivating friends in an attempt to find the whereabouts of John and George Mallock, listed by R.C.M.P. in January as two of the country's 10 most wanted criminals. The Mallock brothers are wanted on narcotics selling charges here.

Heddy said he wanted to find the brothers because of his friendship with Mrs. Ricel who put up a $20,000 bond for John Mallock and lost it when he failed to appear in court.

Polio Toll Mounts

EDMONTON (CP)—Western Canada's polio toll this year stood today at 46 deaths and 778 cases. This compares with 32 deaths and 611 cases a week ago. Alberta was the hardest hit yesterday with four deaths compared with one each in Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

Brothers Of St. Andrew Put On Film Show

NORWOOD—About 280 people were entertained to a film show in the town hall, Norwood, Saturday.

The show, which was sponsored by the Norwood Chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, was all in color.

The audience thoroughly enjoyed a program of films from the C.P.R. library entitled "Outside Run," showing a boat trip around Vancouver Island, followed by "High Powder." This film showed skiing in Banff National Park.

The main feature of the evening was the presentation of the "Royal Visit" film. This was loaned by Peterborough Film Council, whose co-operation in putting on the show has enabled the Brotherhood to add a sizeable contribution to the fund for building a new hall for Christ Church (Anglican) in Norwood.

Banks In Victoria Discount U.S. Silver

VICTORIA (CP)—Victoria banks have started discounting larger American silver coins at about seven per cent on the dollar.

Bank managers said yesterday the flow of American coins here has become so large that they have been forced to mark down the larger U.S. silver according to the cost of shipping it south of the border.

Open Macao Border Closed In July

HONG KONG (AP) — The Portuguese Macao-Communist China border, closed since a series of clashes between Red and Portuguese troops in late July, was reopened last night.

A telephone message announcing the reopening said, however, that up to midday no one had crossed the border.

Negotiations for damages over troop injuries suffered in the exchanges of shots still are going on.

United Church Suggests Outlawing Bingo Games

TORONTO (CP)—A department of the United Church of Canada recommends amendments to the Canadian Criminal Code which would outlaw bingo games and "other forms of gambling."

The recommendation of the church's Department of Evangelism and Social Service is contained in a report to be presented to the General Council meeting in Hamilton next month.

The report said support should be given the request of the Alberta Legislature that "present Criminal Code exemptions permitting gambling, such as bingo games at fall fairs, the Canadian National Exhibition and similar events be amended to reduce drastically this kind of gambling."

There was an "alarming" increase the form of sweepstakes and raffles in some fraternal orders, service clubs, community clubs and veterans' organizations.

Firemen Settle Wage Dispute

BROCKVILLE (CP)—Settlement of a long-standing wage contract dispute between the corporation of Brockville and members of the Brockville fire department was announced yesterday.

The joint statement issued by Tom Cossitt, chairman of the council's works committee, and Albert Kelly, president of Local 563, International Association of Fire Fighters (C.I.O.-C.C.L.), ends eight months of negotiations.

The firemen had previously held out for payment of all accumulated sick pay upon retirement. The new contract does not include payment.

The contract provides all statutory holidays plus two weeks holidays for firemen of service under five years. After five years they will get three weeks.

The department operates on a 56-hour week with 18 firemen, three officers and an acting chief.

Baruch Observes His 82nd Birthday

DYERVILLE, Calif. (AP) — The United States' best known park bench philosopher — elder statesman Bernard Baruch — observed his 82nd birthday today on another bench, in the shade of a giant 264-foot redwood tree.

The New York financier and advisor to presidents was guest of honor at ceremonies dedicating the hewn redwood bench to Baruch. It bears the inscription: "His stature is that of the redwoods."

"I have sat upon many benches," the white-haired Baruch said in a brief speech prepared for delivery this morning, "but never one in a setting such as this."

Attracted To Peterborough Sam Marks Open Shoe Store

"Peterborough's pleasant personality" attracted the attention of Sam Marks when he was looking around for a good location in a thriving business centre to open a modern shoe store.

He is very pleased with both the city and the good location he has on George St., for his new store which opens Thursday morning.

Ever since he graduated from high school in Toronto in 1936, Mr. Marks has been in the shoe business, with the exception of a four-year stint in the army.

The idea of locating in Peterborough eventually, first occurred to him several years ago, when he used to come to Peterborough with his wife to visit her cousin, Sidney Goldstone, who built the Centre Theatre and managed it for a number of years.

Since then, Mr. Marks says, "Peterborough has always had a lot of appeal to me."

WORKED FOR CHAIN

Before starting out on his own, Mr. Marks was employed by Movie Lane Shoe Stores which operated a chain of stores in Toronto, Hamilton, London and Windsor. The firm went out of business a couple of years ago when the owner retired.

He was promoted to manager of the London branch and specialized in the fitting of women's footwear.

His new store will carry a wide range of popularly priced lines of men's and women's and children's footwear and there will be an experienced sales staff of three, besides Mr. Marks and his wife, Rita, to provide "correct fitting" service to customers.

FREE NYLONS

On opening day, and all day Friday and Saturday, there will be free nylons for every woman who buys a pair of women's shoes and a variety of free novelties for the kiddies who go shoe shopping with their mothers.

CHILDREN'S SECTION

One feature of the store which is an innovation is the children's section at the back of the store. Steps lead to a platform about three feet high and the children will be able to sit on small stools to be fitted.

This has two advantages according to Mr. Marks. It makes it easier for the sales staff to fit youngsters and at the same time, the children are not so likely to get fidgety or uneasy when they have a section of their own, apart from the adults—it makes them feel more important.

The side walls of the store are attractively decorated with a leaf patterned toned down rose wallpaper and the rear wall is a soft grey shade. Completing the rose-grey color combination, the floor is of mottled grey and rose tile, with a grey broadloom rug running the length of the floor. The natural finish wood panelling at the front of the store adds an effective contrast.

Summer Meetings Enjoyed

Mrs. Elizabeth Hawley, Charlotte St., was hostess Tuesday evening for another very enjoyable summer meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Church, which was well attended. The speaker for this occasion was the Rev. I. G. Pollock who has taken charge of Grace-Stewart Hall pastorate. His talk was all about South Africa where he ministered until coming to Peterborough. He was introduced by president Mrs. A. A. Munro. Mr. Adam Hawley sang two pleasing numbers with piano accompaniment by Mrs. R. Y. Kenny. The School for Leaders at Whitby will be held next week and Mrs. Munro and Mrs. F. W. K. Harris of this organization will attend. It was announced a fall rally will be held October 8 in Trinity Church and Mrs. Gordon Watts, secretary of Christian Stewardship for the Dominion Board will speak. The ladies voted $10 to be sent to Toronto for shipping charges on overseas bales. Mrs. E. F. Reid had the worship period and she explained the United Church crest, after which she read the 23rd Psalm. A lovely lunch was served by Mrs. Reid, Mrs. J. A. McKone, Mrs. Kenny and Mrs. R. M. Hardie. Appreciation of this meeting was voiced by Mrs. H. Tremain at the close.

1st Bride In Free Methodist

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS)—The first wedding to be held in the Free Methodist Church in Campbellford was solemnized Saturday when Joyce Ardyth Elsie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. R. Bright was united in marriage with Percy Leonard Latchford of Belleville. The Rev. D. White of Clarendon, formerly of Campbellford, assisted by the Rev. N. Bosko of Campbellford officiated.

In a pretty setting of multi-colored gladioli and fern, the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white slipper satin with a net overskirt and bodice of Chantilly lace and net with seed pearl trim. A crown of seed pearls held her floor length embroidered veil of English sheer. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Iona Bright and Miss Alma Latchford, youngest sister of the groom. Miss Florence Brown of Toronto was bridesmaid.

The attendants wore ballerina length embossed nylon in pastel shades of blue and pink with matching headdresses of carnations and white nylon gloves. They carried bouquets of roses in contrasting colors.

The groom was attended by his brother-in-law, Mr. Colin Grant. Morley Bright and William Latchford were ushers.

Wedding music was played by Miss Jean Rannie, who played "I Love You Truly" during the signing of the register.

Misses Donna and Annie White sang "A Wedding Prayer" at the beginning of the ceremony.

About 60 guests assembled afterward at Kay's dining hall where the bride's mother received in a white figured gown with white and navy accessories and a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother also received, wearing a gown of navy crepe with navy accessories, accented by a corsage of red roses.

Guests were present from Toronto, Port Credit, Barrie, Lloydminster, Sask., Norwood, Hastings, Belleville, Trenton, Corbyville, Hornby, Jackson's Point, Clarendon and Frankford.

For going away the bride wore a pink-figured nylon dress with navy accessories and a pink whipcord coat with a corsage of white gardenias.

The couple will live near Warkworth.

Urge Federal Aid To Equalize Teachers' Salaries

OTTAWA (CP) — Dr. Marion Grant, dean of women at Acadia University, Wolfville, N.S., said yesterday that women have the "opportunity to strengthen lines of communication" among people through the world.

Dr. Grant, president of the Canadian Federation of University Women, spoke at the first day of the federation's triennial convention.

The federation's committee on education urged federal grants to education to help equalize standards of teaching across the country.

"It does not seem fair that a difference in tax-paying ability should penalize youth," the committee report said.

Margaret Walsh Bride Of Rowan J. Chute

At St. Peter's Cathedral Monday morning, Margaret Mary Walsh, daughter of Mr. John Francis Walsh of Hastings and the late Mrs. Walsh, became the bride of Rowan Joseph Chute, son of Mr. Charles Chute of Toronto and the late Mrs. Chute. The Rev. John F. Coughlin, cousin of the bride, performed the ceremony and celebrated the nuptial mass.

The altar was decorated with pink and white gladioli. Wedding music was played by Mrs. Cyril O'Donnell. Mr. Anthony DeNoble sang during the mass and at the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a frock of Chantilly lace in sapphire blue over matching taffeta, a blue feather hat, and carried a hand cascade of gloria roses and shasta mums.

Miss Mary Walsh attended her sister as bridesmaid wearing a similar frock in dusty rose, pink feather hat, and carried a hand cascade of rubrum lilies. Mr. Allan Chute, brother of the groom, was groomsman. The ushers were Francis Walsh, brother of the bride and James Gallivan.

Dinner was served in the Marine Room at Club Aragon. Later a reception was held at the bride's home at Hastings. Mrs. Neil Clark, sister of the bride, received wearing a navy crepe dress, navy taffeta hat and a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Erle Mitchell, sister of the groom, also received wearing a dress of navy crepe, navy velvet hat and a corsage of red roses.

For travelling the bride wore a coat dress of brown worsted and matching accessories. After a short wedding trip they will live in Sarnia.

Foresters Raise Money For Renovations

BRIDGENORTH — (ENS) — Bridgenorth members of the Canadian Order of Foresters raised sufficient money for planned renovations to the Forester's Hall in the village by holding an entertainment and draws on Monday evening. A crowd of about 200 was welcomed by Mr. Harold Scott, M.P.P. and Brother O. V. Cook, Provincial Forester.

The village resounded in the early evening to the music of Havelock Pipe Band which played in the open bandstand erected in the centre of Bridgenorth. Later the proceedings were moved to The Pines pavilion.

A parade of decorated floats was viewed with interest and first prize was awarded to Court No. 29 of C.O.F. Ernest Scott, Chemong Road, placed second and Harry Grant, Chemong Road, was third.

In lucky draws a mantel radio was won by Earl Nichols, Bridgenorth; wall clock by J. Brundell, 647 Park St.; coffee maker by Stanley Grant, Chemong Road; Turkeys were won by Grace Forsythe, Bridgenorth; I. J. Fawcett, 14 Murray St.; Joan Peters, Bridgenorth; Joan Miles, Chemong Road.

Chickens went to Helen Davis, R.R. 1, Peterborough; John Smith, 596 Weller St.; C. Hamilton, 458 Hunter St.; Al Crowe, Bridgenorth; L. Leary, R.R. 1, Lakefield; Muriel Adams, 531 Aylmer St.; Vern Selkirk, 331 George St.; Stanley Grant, Chemong Road.

Jack Murray of Bridgenorth was M.C. for the program at the pavilion.

The Pipe Band again entertained, playing lively tunes while marching the length of the hall. A Highland dance, "The Argyle Broadsword", was done by Shirley Anderson, Helen Robinson, Shirley Seabrooke and Audrey Newell, the Highland Fling by Shirley Anderson and Helen Robinson, and the Sword Dance by Robert Hill. Showing complete lack of prejudice, Shirley and Helen also did an Irish Reel.

Other talent on the program was a tap dance by June Jones and a duet tap dance by she and Joyce LcFave, solos by Bill Hillis of Omemee with guitar accompaniment and guitar selections and songs by 12-year-old Richard Staples of Peterborough.

One of the pipers played pipes and Jack Higgins assisted on guitar as Bill McDougall "called" a square dance at close of the evening.

P. Romana Seeks To Stress Spiritual Values

TORONTO (CP)—The world congress of Pax Romana—Roman Catholic world youth movement—opened yesterday with students from 47 countries attending.

The triennial conference is to be held in three Canadian cities. After one week's meetings in Toronto, the congress moves to Montreal and winds up the following week in Quebec.

One of the principal speakers is Dr. Hugh S. Taylor, dean of the graduate school at Princeton University, Princeton, N.J. The noted scientist and author is vice-president of Pax Romana.

Dr. Taylor said in an interview yesterday the main problem facing universities today is absorption with material things. "Materialism had gripped the school as it has gripped the rest of life," he said. "At this congress we will seek to find ways to fertilize life with spiritual values again."

WAISTS SOFTLY MOLDED

PARIS—The tightly nipped-in waist is a thing of the past; but does not mean that waists have disappeared. With a few exceptions the idea of the middy blouse has been set aside and a softly molded waist, often slightly lower than last season and frequently curving down at the back of the waist, strikes a happy medium suited to most figures.

World Bitterness Hampering U.N.

OTTAWA (CP)—Dr. Janet Robb, consultant to the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations, said yesterday the U.N. is no ivory tower but is "hopelessly spotted and mottled with the confusions and bitterness of the world we live in."

Dr. Robb, International Federation of University Women's consultant with the U.N. agency, addressed a luncheon during the triennial convention of the Canadian Federation of University Women.

She described some of the difficulties created in U.N. during the last year by the cold war, unfinished business of the Second World War and the problems of economically undeveloped countries.

Serious Emotional Problem Demands Professional Help

DEAR MISS DIX: I'm a lady of 25 and have been dating a man of similar age, background, interests, religion and education. He is industrious, kind and congenial. His weakness is curiosity. Sometimes, I believe I'm in love and other times I think I'm just fond of him. I have dated many young men, but feel that Ricky has meant the most to me. Could I have true love? Is it possible to fight love? I am a deep thinker and have never allowed my heart to guide my emotions. I'm afraid of marriage.

CATHLEEN

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Of course, the crux of your whole problem is contained in the last senence, "I'm afraid of marriage!" In a sense, most girls are probably afraid of marriage, but when the feeling is imbedded so deeply in the emotions that you cannot even face the thought, professional help is indicated. Your family doctor, or your minister, might be able to give concrete and workable advice. If they surrender, a psychiatrist should be consulted.

INTELLECT ISN'T EVERYTHING

No matter how deep a thinker you are, the heart doesn't ask permission to guide or be guided. Sometimes it's a good thing if the intellect can keep some control over the emotions, but woe betide the man or woman who brags that the heart is subjugated at all times. Not for them the thrill of a handclasp, the joy of meeting, the sweet sorrow of parting. For them only the rational relegation of love to its proper place—or what they consider a proper place. Of such material is a neurotic made.

You and Ricky certainly have all the assets of a perfect life together. His one fault can be dismissed without worry; it's insignificant beside his manifold advantages.

Your own emotional immaturity is the stumbling block to a fine future. Invoke the assistance I have suggested, and you'll view Ricky in a much rosier light.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: George and I have been married two years, since I was 19 and he 22. We have no children. I am a good housekeeper and keep everything in good order for him. However, our difficulty is that when I go to see my mother, who lives only two blocks away, he complains Then on Sundays we have to go to spend the day with his mother.

MOLLY

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You are entitled to as much visiting time with your mother as George has with his. In fact, since you have no children tional relegation of love to its and therefore should have spare time during the day, the logical person for you to spend it with is your mother. Stand on your rights in this matter, Molly, or you'll be walked on in other things, too.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Six months ago I broke my engagement to a brilliant, promising young man, because I thought by doing so I could bring him to his senses. He dated many girls in the meantime, though our friends say he still loves me. Recently I was shocked to learn he has become engaged to another girl. He is now very successful in business and I want him back. What can I do?

JANICE T.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You could scarcely expect the man to wait around [illegible] while you decided whether or not to take a chance on his future. Naturally, now that he is well established, the gamble is over, and you're willing to accept him. However, you weren't game enough to stick when the going was tough.

Talking the situation out with him may help, but I'm afraid it's a little late.

What's Right

When you are marketing in a house dress you run into an acquaintance who is so dressed up you feel embarrassed at the way you look.

WRONG: Apologize for your clothes and say that you had hoped you wouldn't see anyone you knew.

RIGHT: Don't apologize. Women who are always apologizing for how they look are never charming.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Offer Fried Chicken Legs On Special-Purpose Menu

A GARDEN MEAL—EPICURE'S DELIGHT (with cost account)
Fried Chicken Legs
Corn on the Cob
Tomatoes Stuffed with Cottage Cheese
Tossed August Salad
Thick Cantaloupe Rings with Blueberries and Honey
Ice Cream for the Adolescents
Coffee

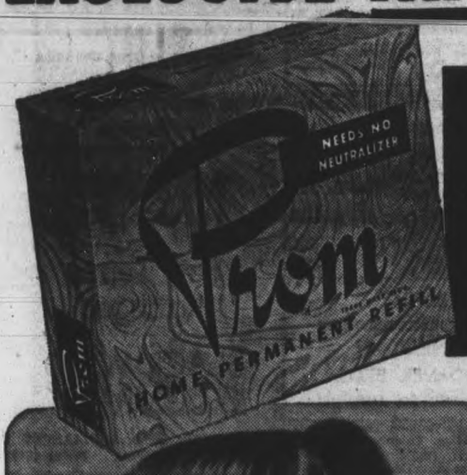
NOTES

I served this meal to twelve people which included my brother's family and two boy friends attached to our daughters. It was served in our garden simply because we all enjoy eating out-of-doors. (The little matter of not having twelve people milling around in the house to clean up after we shan't discuss.)

The chicken legs cost $4.00 for twelve legs with thighs attached. These provided two medium-sized pieces for each guest. Two dozen ears of corn were $1.00. The basket of large tomatoes was 50 cents but I used only half of it, and the one pound cottage cheese was 30 cents. The salad consisted of two large heads lettuce, 4 small cucumbers, 2 green peppers, 1 bunch watercress, 1 large celery heart, about ½ cup each chopped parsley and chives, plus the mayonnaise and French dressing. I figured the lot cost 75 cents.

I used three large chilled cantaloupes, each cut in 4 thick slices which were pared, and the centre was filled with blueberries (nearly 2 quarts) and these were drizzled with strained honey. When my beloved sister-in-law Wyn said "What shall we bring?" I didn't hesitate a minute in saying "Ice cream would be wonderful." —for I knew I would not have time to make a sponge or angel cake and we had four giant-sized athletes in the crowd to fill up. The fruit cost $1.75 because I bought the cantaloupes by the basket. The items I've listed add up to about $7.00. Add the coffee, cream and butter and it is nearly $8.00. The ice cream my brother bought so you see the meal cost about 75 cents per person. You would pay $3.00 at least per person at a restaurant that would serve this quality of food,—and not have the atmosphere and the fun.

DIRECTIONS
FRIED CHICKEN LEGS



To flour 12 drumsticks and 12 thighs shaker each piece in a strong paper bag containing 1½ cups flour, 2 teaspoons salt and ½ teaspoon pepper and 1 teaspoon paprika. Have ready i na large frying pan 1 inch of hot fat. This may be made up of lard or shortening or chicken fat, but should contain ¼ cup butter too. Heat to just below smoking point then fill the pan with 1 layer of floured chicken legs. The fat spatters so be sure to wear a coveral apron. Hover over the pan constantly turning the pieces of chicken as they brown on the bottom, and brown the other side. Lift pieces out onto plate as they are done to make room for more and continue until all of the pieces are browned. Pour off all but ⅛ or ¼ inch of the fat. (Strain the surplus and store it for future chicken fryings.) Replace all chicken in pan, piling it snugly. For this large amount I used 2 frying pans, but changed over to a large shallow baking dish when I transferred them to oven. Bake in oven of 350 deg. Fahr. for 1¼ to 1½ hours or until thighs are tender right to the bone. Chicken gravy was made from the fat and crispy bits in pan by adding 6 tablespoons flour and stirring them in, then adding 3½ cups whole milk and stirring until thick. If you like mashed potatoes with your fried chicken, use the water in which potatoes were boiled in place of some of the milk.

To entertain the young people we had a fire in the barbecue and boiled the corn and coffee over it. It is our family's idea of fun and keeps the young folks off the highways.

Australia Says Meat Sales Disappointing

CANBERRA, Australian (Reuters)—Sales of Australian meat to United States this year have been "extraordinarily disappointing," commerce minister John McEwen said today.

He told the House of Representatives that less than 300 of 1,800 tons of mutton and lamb shipped to the U.S. last March had been sold to date, even though it was offered at from 14 to 18 cents below last year's prices.

"This seems to indicate that the United Kingdom is still our best market for meat in bulk," McEwen said.

The minister explained that Canada had banned Australian meat imports because the outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease there had built up home stocks which could not be sold in the U.S.

Thomas G. Fox Widely Mourned

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS)—Funeral service was conducted here on Wednesday afternoon of Thomas Gordon Fox of 175 Front St., who died at St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, on Sunday night. He was 61.

Mr. Fox was born in Campbellford, where he resided all his life. He was the son of Robert Fox and Mary Jane Little, both deceased. Mr. Fox had been ill about ten days.

Surviving are his wife, the former Edith Maude Copperthwaite, and three daughters, Mrs. Edward C. Everitt (Mary Verabelle) of Peterborough, Mrs. Charles Ayrhart (Helen Catharine) of Campbellford and Miss Edith June Fox of Peterborough; one son, Robert Allan Fox of Campbellford; one brother, John Fox of Toronto; and three sisters, Mrs. William Harriott of Cobourg (Margaret), Mrs. Edison Winn (Rita) and Mrs. Russel Emmons (Ella) of Campbellford.

Mr. Fox was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and of Oddfellows Lodge No. 248 in Campbellford. He joined the lodge in 1916 and had received his 25-year jewel. He served overseas with the sixth Canadian Reserve Infantry Battalion for 13 months in World War I.

Services were conducted from the family residence by the Rev. A. E. Toombs of St. Andrew's. Burial was in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery. Members of the Oddfellows Lodge acted as pallbearers.

Red China Steps Up Export Program

HONG KONG (Reuters)—Communist China is stepping up its export program to the Hong Kong market, influential British business quarters said today.

Though offering more goods for sale, the quarters said, China is not reciprocating by increasing British imports.

British traders hoped that documents published in London yesterday on commerce between the two countries might produce some action. No new move has been made to establish a British trade mission in China as suggested in the alleged Chinese correspondence, they said.

Union Fails To Secure Bargaining For Nurses

TORONTO (CP)—One of the first efforts by a union to secure bargaining rights for nurses in Ontario failed today.

The Ontario Labor Relations Board dismissed an application for certification from the Ottawa and district staff of the Grey Nuns of the Cross at Ottawa General hospital.

A vote was ordered by the board. Of 70 nurses eligible, 56 voted, with 32 desiring to be represented by the union, and 23 against.

BROCKVILLE (CP)—Possibly Canada's oldest resident, Robert Reynolds, today is celebrating his 110th birthday. In failing health and in hospital for the last four months, he still will have a party.

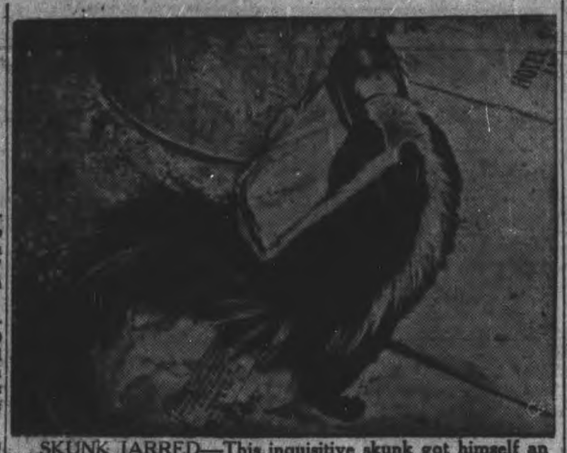
Badly Burned Youth Dies In Hospital



OTTAWA (CP)—William Turner, 18, severely burned yesterday when a lantern ignited a gasoline storage tank, died today.

Meets Wife After 7 Years In Communist Prison Camp

BERLIN (Reuters) — Charles Noble, 60, Detroit camera manufacturer, met his wife here today for the first time after seven years in Communist East German concentration camps and prisons on charges ranging from spying to Nazism.

His wife has been waiting here for him since 1946, a year after he was arrested by the Russians in Dresden.

German-born Noble, who was released yesterday and crossed into West Berlin said he had not been tried until last month, when he was found guilty of smuggling cameras and supporting the Nazis during the war years, which he spent in Germany. He was given a seven-year sentence, counting time served.

Noble said he had not heard from his son, John, since the two were arrested. He believed John had been taken to Russia. Another son, George, lives in Detroit.

While he was imprisoned, the United States and Soviet authorities argued over his nationality.

The U.S. claimed he was a naturalized American citizen. The Russians said he forfeited his U.S. citizenship when he returned to Germany in 1939 and stayed there during the Second World War.

Noble said he emigrated to the U.S. in 1920, returning with his wife and sons for a "health cure" in 1939.

When war broke out, he said, he tried unsuccessfully to leave and then went to Dresden, where he owned a camera factory.

Assaulted Man 73 Fined $60 By Court

Russell White, 25, 639 Stormont St., was fined $60 and $5.50 costs today for assaulting a 73-year-old man occasioning him bodily harm.

White pleaded guilty to assaulting William McNabb on July 30 and if he fails to raise the money for the fine, he will serve 45 days in the county jail, Magistrate W. R. Philp said.

Earl McNabb, the elderly man's son, said he did not see the alleged assault but said his father had received a badly bruised back and two broken ribs and was in the hospital more than two weeks as a result of the injuries. He said Mr. McNabb was still unable to come to court to testify.

White said he had pleaded guilty to the charge but denied striking Mr. McNabb. He said they both had been living at the same house and that an argument developed between the two of them on the stairs. He said Mr. McNabb prevented him from going downstairs, he shoved him and he lost his balance and fell downstairs.

Strike Spreads In Welsh Mines

CARDIFF, Wales (Reuters) — An unofficial strike of supervisors and safety men in the South Wales coalfields of Britain's state - run coal industry spread today to bring 39 mines to a halt.

The pits are unable to work without them and about 24,000 miners, not directly concerned in the dispute, now are idle.

Only about 400 men are actually involved in the dispute, which began Monday over new wage offers.

The Coal Board today threatened to sue the men for breach of contract if they don't get back to work. It said the strike was "unjustified" because negotiations are continuing.

The Board wants to put the supervisors on a straight 14-guinea-a-week wage. The men say that with overtime, they now can earn £16.

Alaska Safe General Says

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Alaska is safe from enemy attack as a result of perfection of the "heartland concept" in the last two years, the acting chief of the United States Air Force told the Anchorage chamber of commerce Monday night.

Gen. Nathan S. Twining said Alaska is too big to plan defences for every mile of the vast interior and extensive shorelines. The heartland concept was adopted to give the military a strong core near Anchorage and Fairbanks from which operations could be extended quickly to the far corners of the territory.

"You can relax now for the first time because you are safe," he said. "Nobody is going to bother the place."

OSAKA, Japan (AP)—Lawyers for two British sailors jailed on robbery charges said today they plan to ask for probation release of the men on Monday.

A lower court convicted Derek Smith and Peter Stinner, from the cruiser Belfast, of beating and robbing a taxi driver and sentenced to 30 months in jail. They appealed.

The British Government contends the sailors should be turned over to the Royal Navy for punishment.

Truck Driver Jailed 7 Days On Drunk Charge

Patrick Mackie, 25, 376 Stewart St., was sentenced to seven days in jail today when he was convicted of drunk driving.

He was stopped on the evening of August 14 on Highway 28, five miles south of Peterborough, by O.P.P. Corporal Aimey Gaudrey and Constable Wallace Mohns.

Both officers said they followed the soft drink truck Mackie was driving toward Peterborough for more than two miles and observed it weaving on the right hand side of the highway.

When he got out of the truck, they said, he staggered, was unsteady on his feet, his eyes were bleary and his speech was thick and incoherent.

Mackie pleaded not guilty to the charge and said he staggered because of driving over the rough road on Highway 28 from Port Hope north. He said he had had two pints of beer in Cobourg a short time before. Mackie said the reason he was unable to remember his correct phone number when he asked Cpl. Gaudrey to phone his wife from O.P.P. headquarters was because he had only had the phone for a week.

He pleaded guilty to a second charge of having liquor in a place other than his residence and was fined $15 and $2.50 costs or one month.

The officers said a second man, William Reid, who was in the cab also, had already pleaded guilty to being drunk. Mackie said the man was his father-in-law and that he did not know that an open case of beer on the floor of the truck had been opened.

The stocky, 98-pound dynamo, now 31 and playing tournament tennis for the last 19 years, has been Philippine champion since 1939. He's seeded sixth among the entries from eight countries but, says Lorne Main of Vancouver, Canadian Davis Cupper, "pound for pound, Felissimo is undoubtedly the world's greatest tennis player."

SCORES EASY WIN

The smiling Filipino, who stretches just four-foot-eleven from court to crown, breezed past Ed Alloo of New York City 6-1, 6-0 in yesterday's third round. He combines hard drives and soft chops in much the same type of play employed by Rochon to defeat Pete Stewart of Toronto 6-1, 6-3, yesterday.

Another match today sees Brendan Macken, Montreal star, pitted against Tony Vincent of Miami, Fla., defending Canadian Open singles champion.

Vincent set lanky Dick Gaines of Edgartown, Mass., down yesterday in a match which left the gallery gaping. In the second set the two went 18½ minutes before deciding one point and the ball cleared the net 666 times before the point was decided.

As expected, Dick Savitt, Orange, N.J., easily defeated Hugh Peamatch. He won 6-1, 6-0.

MACKEN HAS TROUBLE

Macken ran into trouble with Mexico's Rodolfo May before defeating him 2-6, 6-4, 6-2. It was the only one of 16 matches in men's singles that went the full three sets.

Melita Remirez, Mexican women's singles champ, meets Anne Freedhoff of Toronto in today's third round of the women's singles. The dark smiling girl from Central America yesterday defeated the former Austrian finalist, Hilde Doleschell, 6-1, 6-0.

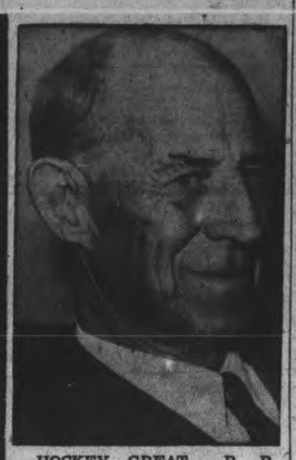
Lucille Davidson of Lees Summit, Mo., defending singles champion, tackles Brendan Macken's sister, Pat. Miss Davidson defeated Pat Cockburn of Ottawa yesterday, 6-2, 6-3.

Filchock Confident Eskimos Will Win

EDMONTON (CP)—Frank Filchock makes his coaching debut in the Western Interprovincial Football Union Saturday, confident his Edmonton Eskimos will do him justice.

Flinging Frankie, last year under study to Annis Stukus and quarterback who led the Esks to the W.I.F.U. final where they lost to Saskatchewan Roughriders, picks up where big Stuke left off—at Regina.

The 35-year-old ex-American import, who coached Hamilton Tigers to the Ontario Rugby Football Union title in 1948 and led Montreal Alouettes to the Grey Cup in 1949, picks Winnipeg Blue Bombers as the western team to beat. But he's not belittling his own Eskimos.



The Eskimo mentor, who came to Edmonton in 1951 from the Als, suffered a rib separation in an exhibition game Saturday, and won't see action in his first league trip.

In a 15-season span, here wearing the uniform of the old New York Americans, he set an all-time National Hockey League scoring record of 324 goals. He played with Montreal Maroons, Boston Bruins and New York Americans. His final season was 1939-40. Stewart, now 50, lives at Port Colborne.

HOCKEY GREAT — R. R. (Dickie) Boon, of Outremont, Que., has been named to hockey's Hall of Fame. He was captain of the Little Men of Iron, the famous MAAA team, that won the Stanley Cup in 1902.

Orioles Clout Royals In Doubleheader

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stormy Weatherly, 37-year-old Baltimore outfielder, is one of the International League's top candidates for the league's most-valuable-player award.

The former Cleveland Indian, New York Yankee and New York Giant tops the circuit in home runs.

Weatherly boosted his home-run output to 26 last night as the Orioles took a pair from the league-leading Montreal Royals, 5-4 and 4-1. Weatherly clouted a three-run homer in the final inning of the first game to feature a four-run rally. He homered again in the fifth of the second game to give the Orioles a 2-0 lead. Winning pitcher Bob Miller accounted for the final two runs with a homer in the eighth.

STILL IN FRONT

Despite the double setback the Royals remained 10 games in front of Syracuse Chiefs, who dropped a twin bill to Buffalo Bisons, 5-3 and 7-0.

Dick Marlowe, making his first start since his perfect game against Baltimore last Friday, went all the way in the opener for Buffalo. Bill Tuttle singled home the deciding runs in the ninth. Left-hander Al Yavlian blanked the Chiefs on five hits in the second.

Third-place Rochester Red Wings crept to within one-half game of the Chiefs by turning back Toronto Maple Leafs 3-2. Little Jackie Collum held the Leafs to four hits, including three in the eighth when they scored all their runs.

Veteran Herm Besse pitched Springfield Cubs to a 2-1 decision over Ottawa Athletics in the remaining game. The Cubs won cut in the ninth when Red McQuillen singled home Emil Verban from second base to break a 1-1 tie.

Here And There In Sports

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

SUDBURY (CP)—Pete Horeck, veteran forward with Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League, is retiring from the game.

"The game has been good to me," he said last night, "and I'd like to get out while I am on top."

Horeck, who now makes his home in Chicago, said he has not made any plans but is working on a business deal which he declined to discuss.

The right-winger on last year's last-place Hawks entered pro hockey with Cleveland Barons in 1942. He was drafted to Chicago in 1944 and was traded to Detroit for Adam Brown two seasons later. In 1949 he went to Boston and last season went back to Chicago.

Last season Horeck, a native of Massey, played 60 games, scoring nine goals and assisting in 11 others.

Jailed Seven Years Before Issue Settled

BERLIN (Reuters) — Charles Noble of Cincinnati spent seven years in East German prisons while Russia and the United States argued over his citizenship, U.S. authorities said today.

German-born Noble, 60, was released yesterday and crossed to West Berlin.

The West German "Fighting Group Against Inhumanity," which gave first news of his release, said Noble was arrested by Communists in Dresden in 1945 and held on charges of spying and smuggling. He was tried last month and sentenced to seven years on charges of having supported the Nazi regime. Time spent in jail counted and he was released yesterday.

They will precede the Canadian amateur championship.

Sauer, Doby Lead Slugging

NEW YORK (AP)—Hank Sauer of Chicago Cubs and Larry Doby of Cleveland Indians, who lead their respective leagues in both home runs and runs batted in, are making runaway races of the major league slugging derbies.

Slugging statistics compiled by The Associated Press today disclose that Sauer tops the National League with a .81 mark, 69 points better than his nearest competitor.

Sauer has amassed 251 total bases in 432 at bats and included among his 125 hits are 27 doubles, three triples and 31 home runs.

Figures include Monday's games.

Doby, the American League pace-setter with a .575 average, owns a 50-point bulge over his closest rival. He has collected 111 hits for 223 total bases in 388 trips. His hit total includes 18 doubles, eight triples and 26 homers.

Trek Into Nahanni Valley

Where One Mistake Can Mean Your Life

EDMONTON (CP)—Legends of death stalking those who brave the wilderness of the far-northern Nahanni Valley may have had some foundation, but the dangers are not from supernatural forces.

That's the firm belief of R. M. (Dick) Shamp, young chemical engineer from Washington, D.C. He and two companions—writer-photographer Norman Thomas of Albuquerque, N.M., and botanist Howie Martin of Yale University—won out against the elements in a gruelling exploration of the famed valley this summer.

"If trappers and prospectors have failed to return from the valley it's because they were not as fortunate as we were," says Shamp. "There is good reason for their failure to return. It's the kind of country where one mistake can mean your life."

PICKED WILD PART

They financed the trip by a commission from the U.S. Defence Department to test a new food ration pack, and an assignment to write scientific reports on their findings.

The trio motored from Washington to Watson Lake in the Yukon, where northern aviator C. C. F. Dalziel picked them up for the 150-mile flight to their base camp at Glacier Lake, some 180 miles upstream from the mouth of the Nahanni River. The river is in the Northwest Territories and about 700 miles northwest of Edmonton.

They started from Glacier Lake because much of the Nahanni Valley had been covered by prospectors and trappers, and they wanted to go through a region less likely to have been seen previously.

When they got going on foot, each carried a 75-pound pack with a rifle and other equipment. Shamp cracked a knee-cap and fractured a shoulder-blade soon after the start, but continued with the others.

A few days later one rifle was damaged on rocks beyond repair, and the two others were put out of commission by continual dampness, leaving them without arms to kill game for good. On the whole trek they saw the sun only three days.

HARD GOING

In 25 days they walked 150 miles through tortuous country, but were only 50 miles from their starting point. With rations getting short, they decided to return to camp as fast as possible. On the way back they built rafts on three occasions, suffered a spill in glacier-fed waters and once were trapped for two hours in a whirlpool.

They got back to base with three meat bars, one pair of shoes among the three, one sleeping bag, a camera and film. The rest of their equipment had been ruined by rain or lost in raft upsets. All had lost a lot of weight—Shamp about 40 pounds and the others about 20 pounds each.

From the base camp they flew to Watson Lake. Shamp went to Anchorage, Alaska, for hospital treatment before coming here to tell the story.

He doesn't believe the legend about a tropical valley in the Nahanni, but says there are some hot springs around which summer growth is luxuriant. They also found some mineral deposits, but not enough to bother about.

Shore will take over the duties formerly handled by Maurice Podoloff, who recently resigned as president of the circuit.

In a business meeting here, Emory D. Jones, president of the St. Louis entry, was named president of the league and John D. Chick of Windsor, Ont., was re-elected vice-president.

Both Shore and Jones will continue their positions with their respective clubs.

Flames Sweep Tavern In $25,000 Fire

WINDSOR (CP) — Flames which started Tuesday in the kitchen of Mario's Tavern swept through a ventilating system to the roof and caused loss which insurance officials said might run as high as $25,000. No one was injured.

The blaze started in a grease duct of a stove and ran through air ducts setting the tavern roof afire. The heated metal of the ducts set a false ceiling of the dining room alight.

Firemen succeeded in extinguishing the blaze by punching holes in the roof and aiming their hoses below the roof and above the false ceiling.

Finishes Last But Wins Race

OTTAWA, Kas. (AP) — Byron Faden finished last in a motorboat race and won.

Faden, making his racing debut at the Eskridge races, was revving up his engine a short distance behind the starting line when the others boats took off.

Faden went after them. He crossed the finish line last.

Later, however, officials announced the winning boat was Faden's. The other boats had jumped the gun and all were disqualified.

To win the race trophy, Faden had to compete in a second heat. Once again he wound up last—and won.

He heard his name called out as the winner because the first and second boats had taken off too quickly and were disqualified.

Danish Author Prefers Arctic Home

MONTREAL (CP)—At least one summer visitor to Montreal would rather be in the Arctic regions. It's not the heat that bothers Mrs. Estrid Ott, Danish author. She simply prefers her Arctic home with her five reindeer and three sleds.

Mrs. Ott, whose books for children and travel stories have been translated into several languages, knows the far north of Europe and America like a native. She has lived in Iceland, shivered in a tent in Lapland, wintered in a remote Greenland village and kept house on Spitsbergen Island.

Her aim now is to travel into the Canadian Arctic to gather material for articles for Scandinavian newspapers and talks over the Danish state radio. First she is travelling through Quebec.

She likes the Arctic because of its quietness. "It's uncrowded," she says.

The only drawback: Her husband whom she met in Hong Kong, prefers a warm climate.

2 Roman Catholic Sisters Teach In New High School

HAWKESBURY (CP)—Two sisters of a Roman Catholic religious order will teach French-speaking students at Hawkesbury's new $700,000 high school which will also house Protestant students.

But, school board chairman Oscar Legault said yesterday, they will not wear religious emblems and will be addressed by their family and not their religious names.

He said the sisters who were not identified, formerly taught French-speaking boys and girls at separate schools now consolidated along with one for English Protestants in the new high school.

In their new posts the sisters will wear religious habits, but religious teaching will be left to priests and ministers of Roman Catholic and Protestant faiths for students who wish to take such instruction.

Of the 460 pupils in the new school, 90 per cent are French-speaking.

Mr. Legault made clear the position of the sisters following inquiries from the Loyal Orange Lodge No. 497. The Lodge said in a letter that the Ontario High School Act forbids teachers to display religious emblems of a denominational nature.

The Lodge emphasized, however, it was merely seeking information and had no intention to criticize action of the school board in consolidating high school instruction in Hawkesbury. It believed the teaching of all pupils in one school would provide them with a wonderful opportunity "to grow up together" and added:

"This is what we want—so that Canada may be one."

Mr. Legault said the sisters had been "carried over" from their former separate school posts and had been hired under a special arrangement with the Ontario Teachers' Federation for a year. If at the end of that time "any of the parents object, we will not re-engage the sisters."

Making Start On "The Robe" After 10 Years

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) Back in 1945 Frank Ross first said he was going to produce "The Robe."

This week in another chat he said it is finally coming about.

"I can hardly believe it is coming true," he confided. "In fact, I still won't believe it until it's all done."

Ross has been awaiting production of "The Robe" for 10 years and has had many false alarms.

"I bought the story 10 years ago," he said. An agent friend of his, Dick Halliday, husband of Mary Martin, told him about an unfinished book he was handling by Lloyd Douglas about the man who crucified Christ.

INTRIGUING IDEA

"At that time, I didn't even know who Lloyd Douglas was. But the idea was so intriguing that I bought the novel when it was only half finished."
